Dr. Kastner said Dr. Hamid, did not find that any conditions such as avoiding the use of a papoose board, for example, one hour after meals should be required. The papoose board would require a lying and prone position to be administered.

Page 61:

[redacted]

Page 62:

Dr. Kastner reviewed the deposition testimony of several people that have been deposed in this case, including Tyler Mattson and Mr. Scow, who was the EMS EMT.

Page 64-65:

Dr. Kastner stated there were two documents which provided the primary evidence for the events that occurred while only Mr. Mattson was present. Those two documents were his written witness statement and his deposition. He relied upon both in painting a picture, if you will, of what transpired while Mr. Mattson was with Mr. Cains during that event.[8]

Page 65:

Mr. Mattson described Mr. Cains as being agitated and aggressive while being seated in a chair, he proceeded to pull papers off of a wall, and then stood up and charged or lunged at Mr. Mattson.

Page 66:

Dr. Kastner stated Mr. Cains asked if he could sit and rest. Mr. Cains was then offered a chair and sat for some time before becoming additionally agitated. He began pulling papers off of a wall. And at some point, he stood up and became aggressive, he either lunged or charged at Mr. Mattson, and made an attempt to grab Mr. Mattson.

Dr. Kastner agreed that the actual dialogue from Mr. Mattson's transcript is reflected in his report. He stated he believed that was important to do because Doctor LeBel did not include any of the testimony offered by Mr. Mattson in describing Mr. Cains' behavior. She limited her description of Mr. Cains' antecedent behavior to only what was in the written witness statement and excluded the evidence in the deposition.[9]

---

[8] Note for context: Although Dr. Kastner's relied on both Mr. Mattson's written statement and deposition testimony, Dr. LeBel relied solely on Mr. Mattson's written statement but ignored the portion of the written statement where Mr. Mattson described that Mr. Cains, after sitting down to calm, "jumped up after [him]."

[9] Note for context: As noted earlier, Dr. LeBel's testimony and opinions also ignored Mr. Mattson's written OLTC Statement where, when describing what happened while Mr. Cains was seated, Mr. Mattson wrote "he [Mr. Cains] then jumped up after me" spitting and attempting to hit me." See Mattson depo. Ex. 9 [DHS Trial Ex. 13]. This is the written statement taken on June 13, 2020. Dr. LeBel never explained why she failed to include this relevant fact in her testimony or opinions.

Page 67-68:

Mr. Kastner stated Dr. LeBel did not mention Mr. Cains as being aggressive. He stated this was an important oversight on her part. Dr. Kastner stated that Mr. Mattson's deposition was very helpful and Mr. Gillispie did an excellent job in helping him see exactly what was happened, in particular when Mr. Gillispie asks Mr. Mattson, "Where were your hands?" Mr. Mattson indicates that he puts his left hand on Mr. Cains' right bicep, and his right hand on Mr. Cains' left bicep. Dr. Kastner explained that indicated to him that Mr. Mattson is attempting to block Mr. Cains from grabbing him, and to deflect the lunge or charge.

Page 68:

Dr. Kastner stated there was no aggressiveness on Mr. Mattson's part. Mr. Mattson' behavior is consistent with his training and understanding of how to manage an aggressive individual.

Page 70:

Dr. Kastner opined on the standard of care stating:

> "We go to the standard of care. The standard of care is going to rely on what a reasonably qualified direct support professional, or RCT in this instance, would have done under the circumstances in which Mr. Mattson found himself." [10]

Dr. Kastner testified he was able to reach an opinion to a reasonable degree of medical certainty as to whether the event described by Mr. Mattson would constitute an emergency situation to [10] Note for context: This point is the epitome of the "foreseeability" requirement for negligence in Arkansas. The Arkansas Supreme Court has stated that "to demonstrate foreseeability, the harm must be 'within the range of probability as viewed by the ordinary man,' and must, therefore, be more than 'merely possible.'" Ethyl Corp. v. Johnson, 345 Ark. 476, 482 (2001) (emphasis added).

.

employ a personal hold and that the circumstances described qualified themselves as an emergency, consistent with both the federal and state guidance in those areas.[11]

Page 71-72:

Dr. Kastner stated he believed that Mr. Mattson's conduct in employing personal restraints in response to Mr. Cains' aggressive behavior was consistent with the standard of care and consistent with CMS guidance, the Appendix "J" interpretive guideline, Arkansas DHS policies and procedures, and with the standard being that of an RCT, who in a similar situation with similar training and experience would employ the same approach.

Page 73:

[redacted]

Page 74:

[redacted]

[11] Note for context: See 42 C.F.R. §483.450(d)(1)(ii), which states restraints may be used as "an emergency measure but only if absolutely necessary to protect the client or others from injury." See also Appendix J – Section W296 which provides that "[p]hysical restraints may be used as an emergency intervention only in situations where the client is exhibiting behaviors which … 3) are harming other people or themselves.

[redacted].[12]

Page 75:

[redacted]

Page 76:

[redacted]

Page 77:

[redacted]

Page 79:

[redacted]

Page 80:

[12] Note for context: [redacted]

[redacted]

Page 81:

[redacted]

Page 82-83:

Dr. Kastner is familiar with Doctor Forestiere's opinions expressed in her deposition regarding a "fight or flight" response. He found her explanation to be confusing because she did not explain whether the she believed the reaction was the result of being placed in restraints, when he vomited, or when he stopped breathing. Dr. Kastner does not believe Mr. Cains was fighting for his life when he was placed in physical holds. He stated even Dr. Forestiere "was unable to describe when that flight or flight reaction did occur."

Page 84:

Dr. Kastner stated Doctor Hamid ascertained that personal restraint, among other treatments, could be safely used with Mr. Cains without any restriction or condition.

Page 85:

Dr. Kastner stated he read Doctor Brown-Forestiere's deposition testimony.

Page 86:

As noted in his report, Dr. Brown-Forestiere could not say with any confidence that Mr. Cains was fighting for his life when he attacked Mr. Mattson, when he was restrained by staff, or after he vomited. Dr. Kastner also noted in his report that Dr. Forestiere acknowledged that "What he thought was a fight for his life, and when it came down to that, I can't say."

Page 87:

Dr. Kastner stated he does not understand what relevance a fight or flight reaction has to the delivery of behavioral services and whether or not they met a standard of care. Mr. Cains had been restrained on at least 120 occasions in the past, and in none of those occasions had he died. His expectation would have been, based on prior experience, that he would survive being restrained, and once calmed down, restraints would have been removed.

Page 89-90:

Dr. Kastner stated he has determined cause of death in hundreds of instances and has testified in court on many occasions on cause of death.

Page 91:

Dr. Kastner stated there is no evidence that any alleged delay in contacting the Booneville Emergency Response System resulted in any harm to Mr. Cains or contributed to his death.

Page 91-92:

[redacted]

Page 93-94:

Dr. Kastner believes that Doctor Brown-Forestiere substituted the standard of care for a physician working in an emergency room or critical care setting for the standard of care for a direct support professional or RCT working at a human developmental center. [13]

Page 94:

The direct care staff at the Booneville Human Development Center, are not physicians. The only standard of care that is applicable to the conduct of an RCT in performing their duties is the standard for what an RCT is expected to know and to do.

Dr. Kastner stated:

> "substituting a physician's judgment for what would be appropriate in a specific setting would be inappropriate, because the training for a physician is so much different than that received by an RCT."

Page 95:

[redacted] [14]

[13] Note for context: This is not a medical malpractice lawsuit. Dr. Brown-Forestiere testified (1) that she received training in medical school or residency related to choking and suffocation (Brown depo. p. 7); (2) [redacted]. She is a medical doctor; Tyler Mattson , Amy Jones, and Ryann Campos are not.

[14] Note for context: Even Dr. Brown-Forestiere admitted, on cross-examination, that it was her opinion that [redacted]

Page 96:

Dr. Kastner opined that Mr. Cains' positioning was appropriate and met the standard of care for what an RCT would have been expected to do and, for that matter, for what anyone would be expected to do. He noted that even Doctor Forestiere agreed that [redacted]

It is his opinion, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, that Mr. Cains' death was not accompanied by severe pain.

Page 97:

Dr. Kastner stated it is his opinion that Mr. Cains' death was not accompanied by severe pain. He explained that a generally accepted definition of what pain actually is has two components, based on a 2020 study by the International Association for the Study of Pain. One component being a sensory or emotional experience, and the second being actual tissue damage. And in order for an individual to experience pain, both conditions need to be met.

Page 98:

Dr. Kastner said Doctor Brown-Forestiere claimed that the two most painful causes of death would be strangulation or suffocation and burning. He testified "he has no idea where that came from." It makes no sense to him in terms of how physicians conceptualize pain because obviously in burning instances there is an extraordinary amount of tissue damage. In suffocation, there is generally much less damage. Going specifically to Mr. Cains, Dr. Kastner opined he does not believe that Mr. Cains experienced any moderate or severe degree of tissue damage prior to his becoming unconscious. He does not believe Mr. Cains met the criteria that were set forth by the International Association for the Study of Pain.

.

Page 99-100:

Dr. Kastner stated in his report, item number 15, that "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains had a life expectancy of only six more years." That is his opinion. Dr. Kastner explained:

> In general, the mortality rate for the general population is about eight per thousand per year. For people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, depending upon where they live and their age and their related medical conditions, the range in mortality rates is anywhere from 16 to 60 deaths per thousand. We all recognize that the life expectancy of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities is shortened simply because of the presence of the intellectual and developmental disability.

[redacted].[15]

In his experience as a researcher, having published in the area of life expectancy, his opinion is that Mr. Cains' life expectancy was only six years more. [redacted][16]

Page 101:

[redacted]

Page 102:

[15] Note for context: [redacted]

[16] Note for context: Dr. Brown-Forestiere did not opine on Mr. Cains' life expectancy.

Dr. Kastner stated it is his opinion that "CMS rules and regulations, ARDDS policies and procedures and BHDC policies and procedures represent the standard of care for delivery of behavioral services at Booneville HDC."

Page 103:

Dr. Kastner agreed he stated "the United Nations, the World Health Organization, SMSSHA and other sources, do not represent the standard of care for delivery of behavioral services at Booneville Human Development Center.[17]

Page 105-106:

Dr. Kastner stated based upon his knowledge of the rules and regulations pertaining to ICF/IID, of those like Booneville Human Development Center, it is CMS regulations, which interpret the federal rules, in addition to the Arkansas and facility specific regulations.

Page 106:

Dr. Kastner stated the United Nations, the World Health Organization, SAMSHA, and other non-CMS or Booneville or Arkansas sources is not the standard to be applied.

Page 107:

Dr. Kastner said Appendix "J" is the interpretive guideline used by CMS to make a determination as to whether a facility complies with rules and regulations that CMS has established.

Page 108:

[17] Note for context: Although Dr. LeBel confirmed, on cross-examination, that the federal regulations and the CMS State Operations Manual are the standards governing restraint use in ICF/IIDs, including BHDC, in her direct questioning by Counsel for Claimant, she suggested and insinuated that it was the United Nations and the World Health Organization that set the standards for restraint use in the United States.

Dr. Kastner stated there is no unqualified right not to be restrained contained within the CFR or CMS rules and regulations or Appendix "J". BHDC is licensed and approved by CMS to operate a clinical treatment model, which incorporates restraint as one of the potential treatment modalities.

Page 109:

Dr. Kastner stated CMS recognizes the use of restraint as an approved treatment modality under certain conditions

> "When Dr. LeBel states that individuals have a right to be free of restraint, she is mistaken, period. There is no right for individuals in an ICFMR to be free of restraints. Restraints may be used subject to certain conditions".

Page 110:

Dr. Kastner found the statement by Dr. LeBel, in that her requirement of imminent danger in the CFR confusing and misleading. He reviewed the CFR [federal regulations] 483.45 and could find no language that specifically identified a condition for the use of restraint related to imminent danger. The language "Imminent danger' did not appear in CFR 483.450.

Page 111:

Dr. Kastner agreed that imminent danger might be some type of reference or standard for some other type of situation, but not for the use in administration of restraints in an ICF/IID. To the extent that she imposed that additional requirement, she would be wrong.

Page 112:

Dr. Kastner stated the testimony of the witnesses indicated that Mr. Cains had not calmed down or achieved control over himself, which would have then allowed the staff to remove the restraints.

Page 115:

Dr. Kastner stated CMS allows restraints to be used in two broad categories of application. The first being what are called program restraints, which would be very much described in the individual's behavior treatment plan. And the second would be emergency restraints.[18]

Page 116:

Dr. Kastner stated we are referring here in this section to the application of restraints in emergency situations, not program restraints, which would be characterized in a very different way. These are restraints which are being used specifically to address more of an emergency situation. Some people would say, "This is a program restraint," but it's not.

Page 117:

Dr. Kastner testified if individuals are engaging in behaviors which can harm other people or can harm themselves, then staff meet the standard of care when they apply emergency safety measures, including the application of restraints.

Page 119:

Dr. Kastner stated [Appendix J], which is applying 42 CFR 483.450 (d)(4), states: "The client, released from the restraint as quickly as possible." The guidance from CMS defines what "quickly

[18] Note for context: See DDS Policy 3011-D which distinguishes between program Category restraints (Category I, Category II, and Category III) in Section 4 and Emergency Procedure restraints in Section 6. See also Mr. Cains 2019 IPP, pp. 9-10, which also distinguishes between the program Category restraints and an Emergency restraints. The 2019 IPP states: "In the event that symptoms persist at a rate that interferes with programming, staff may employ Category I procedure (DDS 3011-D), TACT procedures, or other Center emergency procedures if necessary, to protect from injury to client or others." Mr. Mattson employed emergency retains for safety.

as possible" means. The CMS Manual (Appendix J) states "as quickly as possible" means when the individual is no longer a danger to their self or others as manifested by their becoming calm.[19]

Page 121:

Dr. Kastner stated: referring back to Exhibit 2B, his January 6, 2023, report, on number 17 he states: Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains did not demonstrate a "withdrawal reflex." Dr. LeBel made those references about a withdrawal reflex.

Page 122:

Dr. Kastner said Dr. LeBel characterized "withdrawal reflex" as an autonomic nervous system response, which was primarily defensive. She referred specifically to the reflex as having its origins in the autonomic nervous system, which is completely inconsistent with even the most basic understanding of neuroanatomy and neurophysiology. The autonomic nervous system controls heart rate, blood pressure, breathing rate and sexual arousal. It's inappropriate to characterize a reflex as either defensive or offensive, they are neither. They are simply a reflection of the way the nervous system is wired.

Page 124:

In response to a question that pointed out that Dr. LeBel, says Mr. Cains had a withdrawal reflex, and she is not a physician, but Dr. Brown-Forestiere, who is a physician, says it's a fight or flight response, Dr. Kastner testified they "completely different." He explained that one is related to the anatomy of the spinal cord and the peripheral nervous system and the other is related to the functioning of the adrenal glands sitting on top of the kidney. They are completely different.

[19] Note for context: the CMS State Operations Manual, Section W302 , defines "As quickly as possible" to mean "as soon as the client is no longer a danger to self or others. Documentation should support that the client was released from restraint as soon as they become calm."

Page 127:

In Exhibit 2B, Dr. Kastner states "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the emergency response system at BHDC, does not represent an obstacle for emergency response and life saving intervention." There is a policy that staff needs to call the nursing personnel and allow the nursing personnel to perform an assessment and make a determination as to whether additional treatment is required or not.

Page 127-128:

He does not believe that that policy is an impediment to people receiving appropriate emergency services and life saving intervention. His opinions incorporate his belief that the nursing staff are perfectly qualified to provide lifesaving interventions.

Page 128:

[redacted]

Page 129:

[redacted]

[20] Note for context: [redacted]

Page 130:

[redacted]

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, Bar No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

BEFORE THE STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE McAULIFFE, AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS, CLAIMANT, VS. THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, RESPONDENT.	CLAIM NO. 220374

---o---

DEPOSITION

OF

THEODORE KASTNER, M.D., M.S.

---o---

THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 2023

---o---

VOLUME I

---o---

COURT REPORTER:

DONNA K. PETRE, CCR
P. O. Box 1027
Little Rock, Arkansas 72203

A P E A R A N C E S:

ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANT:

CHAD M. GREEN, ESQUIRE
JOSHUA D. GILLISPIE, ESQUIRE
Green Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS:

RICHARD N. ROSEN, ESQUIRE
Office of Chief Counsel
P. O. Box 1437, Slot S-260
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

---o---

I N D E X

WITNESS:	Page
THEODORE KASTNER, M.D., M.S.
Direct Examination.....	6
Cross Examination.....	132

---o---

E X H I B I T S

DHS Exhibit Number One.....	24
DHS Exhibit Number 2-A.....	37
DHS Exhibit Number 2-B.....	37

--o---

Reporter's Certificate.....	263

---o---

The deposition of Theodore Kastner, M.D., M.S., was taken before me, Donna K. Petre, Certified Court Reporter within and for the County of Pulaski, State of Arkansas, duly commissioned and acting, on Thursday, January 19, 2023, beginning at the hour of 9:00 a.m., all parties present via Zoom.

---o---

THEREUPON, the following proceedings were had, to-wit:

---o---

* * * * * *

P R O C E E D I N G S

* * * * * *

WHEREUPON,

MR. ROSEN: If we are all ready to begin, then let's go ahead and swear in the witness.

(WHEREUPON, the witness was sworn.)

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Good morning everybody. My name is Rich Rosen, and I'm the attorney for the Department of Human Services, as you know. And this is a deposition of Doctor Ted Kastner in the case of Christine McAuliffe, as Special Administrator for the Estate David Cains. It's in the Arkansas Claims Commission, State Claims Commission as claim number 220374. The claim is against the Arkansas Department of Human Services.

We are here today to take the deposition of the Doctor. And several of the exhibits, Exhibit's One, 2-A and 2-B have been provided to counsel, Mr. Gillispie and Mr. Green, those were sent to you about a week or two ago, did you receive -- or a couple of days ago. Did you receive that?

MR. GREEN: We did.

MR. ROSEN: I'm hearing an echo, Mr. Green.

MR. GREEN: Okay. I will try to get that corrected. Let's see, is the echo gone?

MR. ROSEN: Mostly. It's still a little there. We can give a few minutes to fix that.

MR. GREEN: All right. I think it should be good. I'm going to mute unless someone objects.

MR. ROSEN: Yes, I think you are a little better right now. Okay. Great. If everybody is ready to begin, then we will.

WHEREUPON,

THEODORE KASTNER, M.D., M.S., (Via Zoom) having been called for examination, and having been first duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Doctor Kastner, please state your full name.

A My name is Theodore Andrew Kastner.

Q Okay. And spell your last name if you would.
A It's K-A-S-T-N-E-R.
Q Okay. And Doctor Kastner, what is your educational history and background?
A I have a Bachelors of Arts from Colgate University. I have a Doctor of Medicine from the University of Connecticut. And I have a Masters degree from the University of Wisconsin.
Q Okay. So your medical degree, you went to the University of Connecticut School of Medicine?
A Correct.
Q When did you graduate that and get awarded your Doctor of Medicine?
A 1981.
Q And then after that, you also received a Masters of Science, did you say?
A Correct, from the University of Wisconsin.
Q Okay. In what field?
A In population health in general. It was a hybrid MDA/MPH. It was content from both the medical school and the business school, so the MPH side would be population health, the MDA side would be management.
Q All right. So, and that was in a -- the Masters of Science was in a health related field, at least partially?

A Yes. The degree is awarded by the school of medicine at the University of Wisconsin.
Q Okay. Thank you. And after you finished medical school and before you went and got your Masters, did you do any postgraduate training in medicine?
A Yes. I completed an internship and residency in pediatrics at the Bronx Municipal Hospital Center, primarily at Jacobi Hospital, between 1981 and 1984. And then I completed a fellowship in the care of children and adults with developmental disabilities and related conditions at the Rose F. Kennedy Center of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. And the fellowship was between 1984 and 1986.
Q So these are additional years of specialty training in developmental medicine?
A Correct. The last two years, it's true.
Q And when did you complete that fellowship?
A 1986.
Q Okay. And are you a licensed physician?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Where?
A I have been licensed in New Jersey, Arkansas and New York. I'm currently licensed in New York only.

Q Okay. And is that where you principally reside or practice?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And have you been licensed as a physician continuously since the initial date of your licensure?
A Yes. 1981.
Q Okay. And are you board certified in any medical fields?
A I'm board certified in four areas of specialty, pediatrics, developmental and behavioral pediatrics, neurodevelopmental disabilities and medical management.
Q Okay. Let's go through those a little bit in more detail. Tell me what board certification signifies.
A The board certification signifies that an individual has completed a course of work, preparing themselves for an attempt at certification, and subsequently has passed an examination that could be verbal or written, thereby certifying that they have met a certain standard in terms of their ability to practice as a specialist in that field.
Q So it's a certification recognizing a specialty in that field?

A Correct.
Q Okay. And when you mentioned an examination, is that a national board examination?
A Correct.
Q And board certification is done by national boards in that subject area?
A Correct.
Q And as a result of that, you become a specialist in that area or you can call yourself a specialist in that area?
A I believe that that's a fair statement, yes.
Q And so let's go back. You mentioned that you had four board certifications. The first one you had mentioned was pediatrics and something else, I think you said?
A Pediatrics, that was the first I mentioned.
Q Okay. So you are a pediatrician, you are a board certified pediatrician?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And you are also board certified in developmental behavior of pediatrics, is that correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And what is that exactly?
A That's a field of study related to the general development of children and the general management of behavioral disorders.

Q Would that -- okay. And then you also have a board certification from a national board in neurodevelopmental disabilities, you stated?

A Yes.

Q Okay. Tell me what that is, because that I don't know.

A That is a board that is related primarily to the evaluation and diagnosis and treatment of conditions that arise from the development and functioning of the brain and spinal cord, includes genetics, a variety of other topics. It's more --

Q So it's --

A It's more neurology psychiatry based.

Q Okay. And it deals with -- it's a specialty in the area of cognitive disabilities, would that be fair to say?

A It relates to disabilities more broadly rather than simply cognitives.

Q Okay. And would that include individuals with intellectual disabilities?

A Yes.

Q And would it include a study and training, additional training and certification on individuals with developmental disabilities?

A Yes.
Q Okay. And these board specialties that you are certified in, they are over and above your medical training, internship and residency, correct?
A Correct.
Q Not every doctor could be board certified in these areas, can they?
A No, no, not at all. They would have to complete additional training and study.
Q And then they can sit for the board, and if they pass they are board certified?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And that's what you did?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And did you say a fourth area as well?
A Correct. Medical management.
Q Okay. What does that mean?
A The general administrative and management activities related to the practice of medicine. So the curriculum incorporated, as I mentioned earlier, aspects of public health, epidemiology, statistics, things of that type. But also content related to what might typically be considered an MBA, so things like capital finance and budgeting, marketing, strategic planning, data analytics and semantics, things of that type. So it's a very interesting hybrid degree. But that did qualify me for the boards in medical management.

Q Okay. And so when did you initially begin working in the field with people with intellectual and developmental disabilities?

A That would be 1976 when I was employed by the Massachusetts Mission on the Blind to provide services at a summer program that was operated in Scituate, Massachusetts.

Q And what year was this, 1976, did you say?

A Yes, it was.

Q So you were working while you were in college then?

A Well, it was my summer job between my junior and senior in college, yes.

Q And so do you have any -- going back to -- do you have any academic or prior academic appointment to medical colleges?

A Yes. I have been on the faculty of at least three medical schools. Columbia University, the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, and the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. But most recently I was a full professor in both the departments of pediatrics and psychiatry at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine.

Q And is Albert Einstein College of Medicine, that's in New York City?

A Correct. That's in the Bronx.

Q Okay. And so tell me, is there a hierarchy for appointment to be a full professor and what level of achievement that signifies?

A Yes, there is. The academic ladder, if you will, begins with an appointment as an instructor. Generally an instructor can be appointed to the faculty of the medical school upon completion of their postgraduate training. So immediately upon completing my fellowship in developmental disabilities at the Kennedy Center, I was appointed as an instructor. You don't have to publish, you don't have to do a lot of teaching. It's simply a recognition of the fact that you are now a subspecialist in the particular field that you have chosen to study.

So Doctor LeBel, for example, is an instructor in a medical school, and that would be the very entry level. Subsequent to that, there is the assistant level, then there is the associate level, and then there is the unqualified professor level.

Q And so to become a full professor of medicine, what types of achievements do you have to have made over the course of your career to be able to reach that level?

A Generally a medical school wants to see accomplishments in three broad areas that would include service, teaching and research to be appointed at a professor level. But I will have to say that criterias do vary from school to school, but generally they will want to see a national level of recognition in those three areas, an extensive publication record, a lot of experience in teaching. So really the youngest I have ever heard of someone becoming a full professor, you know, would be around the age of 40. But generally it's something that people don't accomplish until their 50s, and often into their 60s.

Q Okay. And I noticed in your resume, which I have provided to counsel and is marked as the Exhibit One to this deposition has been provided, and I know that you have it in front of you. There is an extensive list in there of your various peer reviewed publications, is there not?

A Yes, there is. I have published more than 100 manuscripts, of which 70 would be considered peer reviewed, and the peer review is really the critical element in looking at an individual's qualifications for academic appointment. The committee that recommends appointments generally doesn't put much value on nonpeer reviewed materials, which are included in chapters, editorials, opinion pieces in nonpeer reviewed journals, things of that type. So we separate the articles into both peer reviewed and nonpeer reviewed categories in order to help the committee understand the value of the scholastic record.

Q Okay. And a peer review is what I assume is exactly that, it's reviewed by peers in the field?

A Correct. And usually that's a blind review.

Q So it's anonymous?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And so they are commenting on the quality of the research or the opinions reached before it's published -- before it's published?

A Well, they make a determination as to whether or not it's published or not.

Q Okay.

A So they don't simply offer an opinion. They make a determination as to whether or not the journal should accept and publish a manuscript.

Q Okay. So the peer review process is -- determines whether the work, the article, the publication that a physician has done meets the high qualities of your peers in order to be published in a medical or scientific journal?

A Correct.

Q Okay. Now, did you ultimately -- oh, excuse me. What is the Ruth L. Gottesman Chair in developmental medicine?

A So many medical schools and universities receive funding from benefactors to create endowed chairs. And those chairs are highly prestigious and coveted. While I was at Einstein I had held an endowed chair, meaning that the benefactor in this case, Ruth Gottesman, had donated funding specifically to support the individual that held the chair. So I received a portion of my salary support from that endowment, which gives me latitude to engage in activities that other faculty might not necessarily be able to.

You know, my -- the expectations for my clinical productivity would have been reduced and offset by the fact that I had external funding support from the endowed chair. So it was quite an honor. Ruth Gottesman is the present of the board of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. To hold a chair endowed in her name is quite an honor.

Q Okay. And did you ultimately leave academic medicine recently?

A In 2019 I was invited to become the Commissioner of the New York State Office for people with developmental disabilities.

Q Okay. Let --

A That was a kind of -- excuse me?

Q Let me ask you about that. So what is that office?

A The office is a part of State Government. It is effectively an independent department within the State of New York, and operates at the cabinet level, meaning that commissioners like myself running those levels of departments would report in to the executive chamber, which then reported directly to the governor. So the scope of my work in that area was to operate a $10 billion system that supported 121,000 people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. And we had a staff of 19,000.

We delivered services, we operated about a thousand group homes, several hundred day programs, you know, 40 or 50 clinics, in addition to funding 400 or 500 agencies that delivered services across the State of New York.

Q Okay. And as commissioner, what was your role in that?
A My job was to oversee the operation of that department. So effectively I was the CEO.
Q Okay. So in this state, we could call it the secretary, I would assume, or --
A It's interesting the language changes, it would be equivalent to a secretary.
Q You were the head of this $10 billion agency that provided services to the developmentally disabled and the intellectually disabled, is that correct?
A Right.
Q So you are broad -- you have a broad array of experience from the medical side, the specialty side and from administering and programs providing services to intellectually disabled and physically and mentally disabled individuals, is that correct?
A I wouldn't discount my experience as a direct support professional, which I think in 1976 created a foundation for me in helping to understand the important role of DSPs in service delivery. So that's an experience that has stayed with me throughout my career.

Q So with that, you have a -- you even have a broader array of experience than I anticipated, so -- and I asked you about, including your direct care experience?

A I feel that in the course of my career I have done almost everything that you could do with the training and credentials that I have.

Q Okay. And let me go back to your peer reviewed publications. And I saw some other things I'm going to ask you about in your CV. Did these publications, the peer reviewed publications and other publications include areas of research and medicine that addressed or opined on the care and treatment of individuals with intellectual disabilities and persons with developmental disabilities?

A Yes. Almost my entire, you know, publication record is focused on people with developmental disabilities, and that would be consistent with my practice as a subspecialist in those fields.

Q Okay. And that's listed in your -- those articles are listed and identified in your CV?

A Yes.

Q Okay. You also in your CV identified what you called abstracts which you published. What is an abstract?

A An abstract is usually something that is presented at a scientific meeting, it's more like an introduction or an overview of a project. Generally abstracts reflect work that is in an earlier preliminary type of form which would go on to be explored in more detail and potentially published as a research report in a publication.

Q Now, when you identify abstracts, are these abstracts in which you are one of -- either working on, or one of the people working on, or are they -- are you abstracting what other people have done?

A It's a -- I see where you are coming from. It's not akin to the legal use of the term "abstract". It's an overview of a project that is usually in process. So it might be a preliminary finding or a report about some study that's underway. But usually it's not sufficient to stand on it's own as a peer reviewed or other form of publication.

Q Okay.

A Preliminary.

Q All right. So it's the initial phase perhaps?

A It's usually to -- you know, it's presented at a conference, often as a poster. So it's an opportunity for a researcher to share with colleagues a preliminary finding and invite their input and eventually collaboration. It may lead to other types of projects, grant funding, other kinds of activities. So it's kind of a dance that happens in academia where people network around certain topics.

Q Okay. Now, I also saw in your CV that you are a -- you appear also a guest speaker or lecturer at many -- and have presented at many conferences, is that the case?

A Yes.

Q And those are identified on the CV, are they not?

A That was a requirement of, again, the committee on promotions at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, so my CV is in the required format. It identifies all of the contents areas that the committee on promotions requires candidates to present.

Q Okay. So it's part of the qualifications for a professor and perhaps even maybe an assistant professor, there is a certain level of national recognition that includes not only research and publications in peer reviewed journals, but also presentations at appropriate lectures to other physicians and research, is that correct?

A Yes. But the major criteria would be the peer reviewed contributions, and I think, you know, there is also an interest in ensuring that full professors can generate revenues that support the university, so they do require that contracts, grants and other kinds of funds, generating activities, also be referenced in there.

Q Okay. And I'm going to -- and you list your grants in your CV as well, and I'm going to ask you about that in a second.

A Yes.

Q But these presentations, are these presentations -- are you invited to present?

A Yes, generally. And there are opportunities where I would have volunteered to present, there would be conferences where I might have submitted a potential panel or presentation as part of the, you know, invitation to participate in conference. There are a variety of different ways that you can become -- make a presentation, if you will.

MR. ROSEN: And so at this point in time, I'm going to introduce as DHS Exhibit One, Doctor Kastner's CV, and I'm going to ask counsel if there's any objections to it at this point in time?

MR. GREEN: No objection.

MR. ROSEN: Thank you. So we will move, Ms. Court Reporter, Ms. Petre, we are moving that into evidence and you should have a record, and I send -- I think that the original has already been sent to you to be attached to the original transcript.

COURT REPORTER: Yes, sir. Thank you.

MR. ROSEN: Okay.

(WHEREUPON, DHS Exhibit Number One was marked for identification and received into evidence.)

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Doctor Kastner, what is the Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc.?

A The Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc. was effectively my practice, it was an organization I created in 1996, which eventually operated nine primary care locations across New Jersey and New York State. We had a staff of approximately 70. We provided healthcare, mental health and neurology services to about 4,000 people with intellectual and developmental disabilities across those nine sites. And I believe that is the simplest way to look at that organization.

Q So in addition to what we have already discussed from your academic positions, from your running the New York State office for disabilities, you also at certain points in time were a provider, you were a physician and provided clinical services to the developmentally delayed and intellectually delayed?

A Between 1981 and 2019 I provided healthcare services to people with developmental disabilities. Between 1996 -- I'm sorry, 1986 and 19 -- I'm sorry, 2019, I identified myself as a primary care provider for people with developmental disabilities, and also as a specialty provider in that I provided both mental health and neurological services to people with developmental disabilities. So I have a somewhat unorthodox background for someone who has achieved the level of a full professor, in particular that I was not a full-time academic prior to 2015.

Q So you are quite familiar based upon your medical training, degrees and certifications, your running the office and you are -- and being a direct care provider during college and now as a clinician to the intellectual disability and developmental disability population, is that correct?

A Yes, very much so.

Q Okay. Now, have you ever qualified as an expert in the field of developmental disabilities and intellectual disabilities in any federal courts?

A Yes. I would say somewhere around the order of ten different occasions in Massachusetts, Connecticut, I think Pennsylvania, Texas, Arkansas, Florida, but I can't remember them all.
Q Okay.
A But yes, the answer is yes.
Q So at least let's talk -- so in Arkansas you were recognized as an expert in an Arkansas Federal Court?
A Yes, I was.
Q Okay. And you qualified as the expert by the -- and the Court recognized you as such?
A Yes.
Q In what fields was that, do you remember?
A The qualification was very broad, it related to the general practice of delivery of services, healthcare services, mental health services, behavioral services, rehabilitation and habilitation services, behavioral services. In addition it related to the management and operation of the facilities' systems, the use of data. It was a fairly wide and broad qualification, which allowed me to opine on a wide range of, you know, content areas.

Q Okay. Did that include any -- strike that question. Do you know what an intermediate care facility for the intellectually -- for individuals with intellectual disabilities is?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And we often call it an ICF/IID, do we not?
A Yes.
Q And what are those generally, what are those facilities?
A So when the Medicaid program was established there was one type of long-term care facility that was created, and that was called an ICF. And over time it became clear that the needs of people with developmental disabilities supported through the Medicaid program were not just met in a general ICF or nursing home setting. And as a result a separate unique setting for people with intellectual development disabilities was created, and that became the ICF/IDD. And the ICF/IDD is a unique care setting in which individuals receive a range of habilitative services, which is different from rehabilitative services typically provided in a more traditional ICF.
Q Okay. And what is habilitative services just briefly?

A The habilitation, to be contrasted with rehabilitation. Habitation is the practice of helping individuals gain and acquire new skills versus rehabilitation, which is to help individuals relearn previously gained skills that may have been lost as a result of some trauma or injury by stroke or for things of that type. So bottom line is the educational process continues for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities throughout their lifetime. And the ICF/IDD is seen as the means of implementing that goal.
Q Okay. And that's a facility based program, correct?
A It generally -- I understand in Arkansas that would be the perception. There are what are called community ICFs, which are, you know smaller in size that operates the thin neighborhoods, if you will. Now, in New York they can be up to 30, 40 beds. But generally they all have to comply with the standards that have been set by the federal government for the operation of an ICF/IDD.
Q Okay. Well, let me get a little more specific. And so are you familiar with what we call here in Arkansas human development centers?

A Yes, I am.
Q And are you familiar with specifically the Booneville Human Development Center?
A Yes, I am.
Q Okay. Are they ICF/IIDs?
A Yes, they are.
Q Okay. Have you ever --
A And so it doesn't rate community ICF/IDDs, so it's a mute point outside of Arkansas.
Q And so have you ever been to the Booneville Human Development Center?
A Yes, I have.
Q Okay. So you have been to Arkansas, and obviously you were licensed to practice medicine in Arkansas and testified as an expert in Arkansas. But you -- is that correct?
A Yes that's true.
Q And so approximately how many times do you think you have been to the Booneville Human Development Center over the course of your career?
A Oh, I don't know. Maybe in the order of ten. It's within single digits. I would say ten is a reasonable estimate.
Q And are you -- do you know what we call here, dually diagnosed individuals, what we are referring to?

A Yes. In the DD field, dual diagnosis generally refers to people who have a developmental or intellectual disability, and a co-occurring mental illness.
Q And are you familiar with the restraint use at the Booneville Human Development Center now and as it was in 2020?
A Generally yes. My personal experience at the facility probably the last time I was there was 2010, 2011, maybe 2012. But I am quite familiar with the facility in terms of having reviewed the policies and procedures and practices. They are not particularly -- or substantially different than they were, you know, ten years ago, for example.
Q Okay. And do you know what CMS is or the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And are you familiar with their State Operations Manual with regard to ICF/IID?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And generally what is that, can you describe it?
A So the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services are the primary regulator for the Medicaid and Medicare programs, and specially for the ICF/IDD program. They promulgate rules and regulations for the operation of an ICF/IDD, and they also created a manual to assist surveyors in assessing whether or not the state complies with those rules and regulations, and that's the document you are referring to the Appendix "J" of the State Operations Manual.

Q Okay. And Appendix "J", that's what people commonly in the industry also call the State Operations Manual?

A The State Operations Manual is the Big Book, if you will of the state's Medicaid program. It describes everything that a state does as part of it's Medicaid program. The Appendix "J" focuses solely on the ICF/IDD program.

Q So it --

A Multiple appendices relate to different operations within the state plan.

Q So would you expect somebody who was well-versed and experienced in the ICF/IID industry and programs to recognize what a reference to Appendix "J" would mean?

A If the CMS regs are the content of the course, then the Appendix "J" is really the test that one would need to complete in order to pass the course. The Appendix "J", because it is the instructions to the reviewers or the cite visitors really tells you what you have to do to comply with the federal rules and regulations. And I couldn't imagine going into a test without preparing for a test. The best way to prepare for the test is to use the same questions that will be on the test. So Appendix "J" is something everyone would be familiar with if they had the least amount of experience and familiarity with an ICF/IDD.

Q Okay. And so does Appendix "J", which is the State Operations Manual, cover among other things the CMS guidelines and regulations on restraint use in ICF/IID?

A Yes. The Appendix "J" provides specific guidance to the site visitors to assist them in measuring whether or not the state complies with federal regulations, including those related to behavior services.

Q Does the state -- just jumping ahead a little bit and we will get into this in a little more detail. But if the state complies the federal regulations in Appendix "J" with regard to restraint use, no deficiency in -- strike that question, please. You had mentioned a survey -- or a surveyor uses Appendix "J". And what do they do it for?

A If they -- as I said before, I described it earlier, it's the test that you have to pass in order to become -- and retain your certification to operate an ICF/IDD.
Q Okay.
A Specific questions that the surveyor will ask when onsite in order to determine whether or not you comply with those rules and regs.
Q So if you comply with -- so when a surveyor is out inspecting -- and a survey is an inspection, is it not?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And it's an inspection for compliance with what?
A With the rules and regulations promulgated by CMS for the operation of an ICF/IDD within the CFR.
Q Okay. And that would be what we call Appendix "J", correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. So when a surveyor comes out to inspect or regulate an ICF/IID such as a human development center, they are going to look to see if the facility complied with the regulations in the State Operations

Manual, specifically Section "J"?
A Correct.
Q Is that your understanding?
A Correct. Appendix "J" are the interpretive guidelines used by surveyors to ascertain whether or not a facility complies with relevant rules and regulations promulgated by CMS.
Q And so in your experience, have you -- in your experience, if a -- I'm going to strike that question. Do you have any experience with surveys, compliance surveys?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And so if a facility such as the Booneville Human Development Center is surveyed, at that -- for certain aspects, including, say, restraint use, would that mean that -- and no deficiencies were found, what does that signify?
A That signifies that overall the facility is in compliance with relevant rules and regulations promulgated by CMS and can maintain its certification and funding by the federal government.
Q Okay. Now, based upon your education, medical training, medical degree, Masters of Science, your decades of medical experience, including clinical care for persons with intellectual disabilities and developmental disabilities, running the New York State office, providing services to these people, teaching medicine, doing your lectures, being a full professor and a three or four -- I'm sorry, four board certifications including a specialist in developmental behavioral pediatrics and neurodevelopmental disabilities, do you consider yourself an expert in healthcare and treatment of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities?

A Yes.

Q And as a matter of fact, Courts have treated you as an expert in those fields as well?

A Correct.

Q Okay. At my request, did you review documents and records including various reports pertaining to David Cains, his individual program plans, which we call IPPs?

A Yes.

Q And did you also review -- and for 2018 and 2019?

A Yes, though some documents are older than that, but yes.

Q And maybe even more, but at least those, is that correct?

A Correct.
Q Okay. And did you also review the 2015 and 2016 and 2020 Disability Rights Arkansas, and I will put these in quotes, "reports," unquote, and David Cains' physician's medical clearance for restraint use, the physician orders, the EMS report and several depositions including the depositions of Booneville Human Development Center employees, Tyler Mattson and several others, and Mr. Scow, the EMT who responded?
A I think, yes, that would be the response. If you want to be more specific, you can look at page three of my report and see a list of approximately 20 documents which I specifically made note of having reviewed.
Q Yes. And so they are on -- and you have done two reports on this in this case, have you not?
A Correct. I received the materials related to the consultation provided by Doctor LeBel, after I completed my initial review, and I just felt it was easier to, you know, bifurcate and create a separate report related to her findings.
Q Okay. And so your initial report was dated January 5th, 2023, correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And that we have marked as DHS Exhibit

2-A for the court reporter and for counsel, and they have been provided that. And then, I think you just said that because we had just then received Doctor LeBel's opinions and report, you provided a part two, so to speak, with regard to restraint use in a report dated January 6, 2023?

A Correct.

Q Okay.

MR. ROSEN: And we have marked that and provided it to the counsel and the court reporter as Exhibit 2-B. I just want to make sure. Counsel, have you received that?

MR. GREEN: I have.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. We are going to introduce those reports as DHS Exhibit 2-A and 2-B. Is there any objection?

MR. GREEN: No objection.

MR. ROSEN: Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, DHS Exhibit Numbers 2-A and 2-B were marked for identification and received into evidence.)

THE WITNESS: Can I make a comment on that? I want to apologize from the outset about the second report in particular. As you can imagine, there was a very rapid turnaround, and I think I worked until 4:00 in the morning one night, 1:00 in the morning and 1:00 in the morning the next nights. And there are typographical errors.

In particular there is a specific typographical error related to opinion 21, which appeared on page five. I noted that and pointed that out to Mr. Rosen, but I want everyone to understand, I made a typographical error incorporating that recommendation email.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Okay. I'm going to ask you about that in a second.

A Okay.

Q I just want to -- I had asked you to submit a written report in response to Doctor LeBel, and that -- do you know the reason why it was expedited?

A No. I mean, you have timelines, and my understanding was that I had to complete the review of that document -- I can't remember the date, it was the Friday of that week. It would have been January 6th.

Q Okay. Well, we had just -- would you, in looking at your documents, and I don't think this is disputed, we had just received Doctor LeBel's opinion just a week or two earlier, is that correct?

MR. GREEN: Object to form.

MR. ROSEN: Well, let me ask you this. Counsel, do you stipulate that we received the report in late December, and that's why we needed it quickly in January?

MR. GREEN: Without having the email in front of me, I'm not going to stipulate. But I don't disagree that that's generally accurate.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. I think it was right around, right before the Christmas break that we received it, but somewhere in the late December.

MR. GREEN: Okay.

MR. ROSEN: And we will just move on. Thank you.

MR. GREEN: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: But before you asked, I just -- I wanted to make note of that and apologize for the typographical errors, and particularly that one specific error on page five.

BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Okay. I'm going to ask you, because I wasn't intending here, Doctor, and of course the exhibits are in evidence and they are self-explanatory, and I know you have an executive summary of all your opinions at the beginning of each report and then with the details of the fact and the rationale in support of that, and the rest of the reports are lengthy, totalling approximately 90 pages in total. But if you would just -- you identified it was opinion 21 to which report?
A The LeBel report on page --
Q Okay. That would be page five of the LeBel report, so that's the second report, the January 6th, 2023, which is identified as Exhibit 2-B?
A Correct.
Q Okay. Can you just, since -- since I wasn't going to go through every one of your opinions per se, can you just read what the opinion actually is without the typo?
A If you would just give a moment, because I just want to pull this up.
Q How many --
MR. GREEN: And can you, Rich, again, identify which page and paragraph of that report?

MR. ROSEN: Yes. It's paragraph -- it's opinion 21 on page five of Exhibit 2-A, which is the January 6th, 2023 report.

MR. GREEN: Got it. Thank you.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, it's opinion 20.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q I'm sorry, 20, okay. If you would read it as it should read without the typographical error?

A Yes, I will read. "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, [redacted]

Q Okay. That's the way it should read?

A Correct.

Q Okay. Now, and just for the record, just so that everybody knows what documents and how many pages there were, the January 5th, 2023 report, which is Exhibit 2-A is how many pages?

A You are asking me?

Q Well, would you agree that it's 52 pages long?

A Okay. From memory, I would say that that's probably accurate.

Q And the Exhibit 2-B, which is the January 6th report is 41 pages long. I just want to make sure counsel has all those documents.

A It's probably a reasonable number, yes.

MR. GREEN: We have the complete documents.

MR. ROSEN: Thank you.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Doctor Kastner, do these reports that have been identified as Exhibit 2-A, 2-B, first of all, you prepared those reports, correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And you prepared them based upon your knowledge, experience that you have described here today, and reviewing the documents that are identified in each report, correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And these exhibits contain your expert medical opinions to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, is that correct?

a Correct.

Q And they also opine on the -- do they opine on David Cains' cause of death?

A They do.

[redacted]

A Yes.
Q Okay. And among other things that you have opined on. And the role, if any, that the restraint used, the personal hold, led to David Cains' vomiting?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And does it also include the standard of care for restraint used by the Booneville Human Development Center's direct care team and other staff under the circumstances presented by David Cains on June 13th, 2020?

MR. GREEN: Richard, can you just make sure that you identify which report? Part one can be January 5th, part two can be the January 6th? That way I know which particular report he is testifying about.

THE WITNESS: I will --

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Well, we are going to get in to --

MR. GREEN: I appreciate it.

MR. ROSEN: Like I say, we are going to get into it some more in specific detail. The reports do speak for themselves.

MR. GREEN: Thanks.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q But Doctor, you specifically mention in Exhibit 2-A, which is the January 6th, 2023 report, about the standard of care for restraint use by the facility staff, is that correct?
A Yes.
Q And I believe that there were some references to that in the 2-A report as well?
A I'm confused. I think I made reference to the standard of care for behavioral services in both 2-A and 2-B.
Q Yes, okay. All right. And do these reports also express your opinion to a reasonable degree of medical certainty as to David Cains' life expectancy in the facility?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And do they also express your expert opinion to a reasonable degree of medical certainty of whether the standard of care for restraint use in ICF/IID, such as Booneville Human Development Center is determined by CMS rules and regulations and Booneville policies and not the United Nation's and World Health Organizations as Doctor LeBel articulated?
A Yes.
MR. GREEN: Object to form.

BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Well, let me ask you this, Doctor. What is the standard of care for restraint use in human development centers in the State of Arkansas, who determines that, standard of care?
A The standard of care is determined by the Centers for Medicaid and Medicare -- Medicare and Medicaid Services, and subsequent state and facility based documents.
Q Okay. And so when we talk about the Centers for -- the CMS documents, we are talking about the State Operations Manual, Appendix "J", right?
A We are we talking about CFR and Appendix "J" being used as an interpretive guideline for surveyors to measure compliance with the CFR, the federal regulations.
Q And so those interpretive guidelines of the Code of Federal Regulations, particularly -- well, strike that. Those interpretive guidelines in Appendix "J" of the Code of Federal Regulations is what CMS -- first of all, it was a promulgated document, right?
A Correct.
Q And that's what CMS uses to enforce the regulations, correct?
A That CMS uses to measure compliance with regulations.

Q And so that is -- strike that question. Now, did you also read in preparation for your deposition today the report and deposition of Doctor LeBel?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Are you aware that Doctor LeBel is not a medical doctor?
A Yes.
Q I mean, that was brought out in the deposition, right?
A It was discussed at length. I believe she said she had a medical education, but I found no evidence to support that claim.
Q She, I think, identified herself as Doctorate level, she has a Ph.D. in psychology and a Ph.D. in education, is that at least on her resume?
A To be honest, I'm actually confused about her Doctorate degree or degrees and the source of those degrees. But she does claim to have at a Doctorate level education.
Q Okay. So, but actually the gist of my question is that her not being a doctor, she cannot opine to a reasonable degree of medical certainty on anything, can she?
MR. GREEN: Object to form.

BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Go ahead, Doctor.
A She is, in the broad sense of the term, a doctor given that she has a Doctorate degree. But she is not a medical doctor, nor a physician. And therefore would not be qualified to offer an opinion that fell under the scope of medical practice.
Q And that would include cause of death, would it not?
A Yes, it would.
MR. GREEN: Object to form and the response.
BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Okay. Well, Doctor, what -- as not being a medical doctor, and I think she said she's not a pathologist or a neurologist, would a Ph.D. in psychology and education, in your opinion, give her the credentials and qualifications to opine on a cause of death?
MR. GREEN: Object to form, it exceeds his qualifications as an expert.
THE WITNESS: In my opinion --
BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Go ahead.
A In my opinion, her achievement of a Ph.D. would not qualify her to offer an opinion about causality, medical care, medical practice, or anything related to the practice of medicine. And I think it would be clear in looking at the Arkansas Board of Medicine that she would not be qualified to opine in any of those content areas.

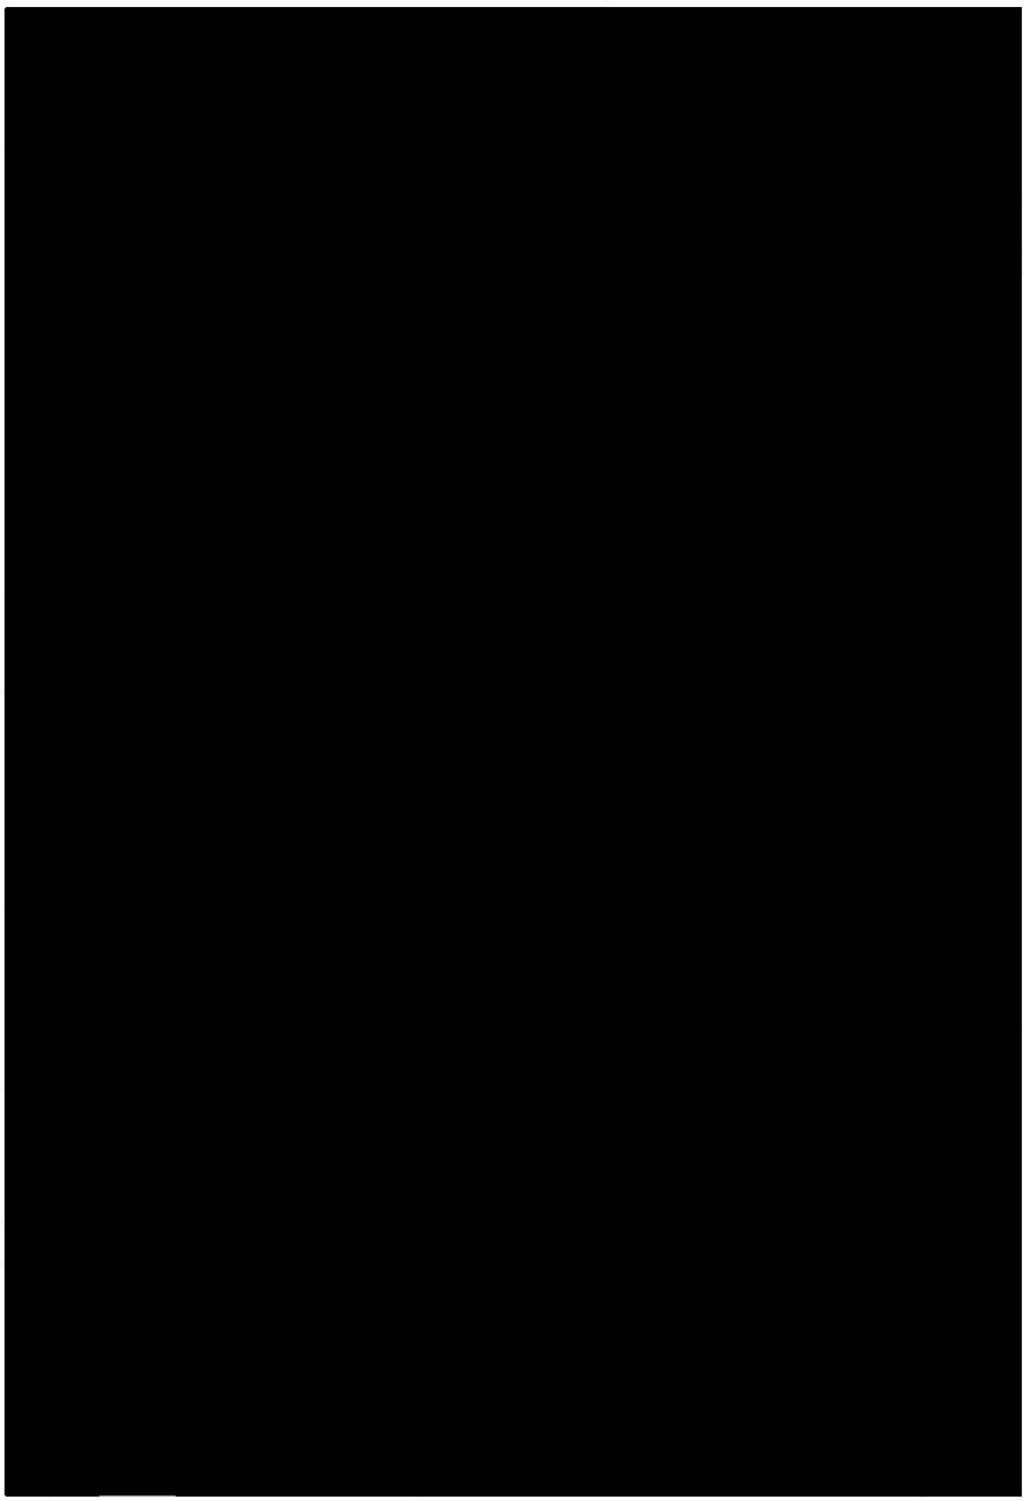
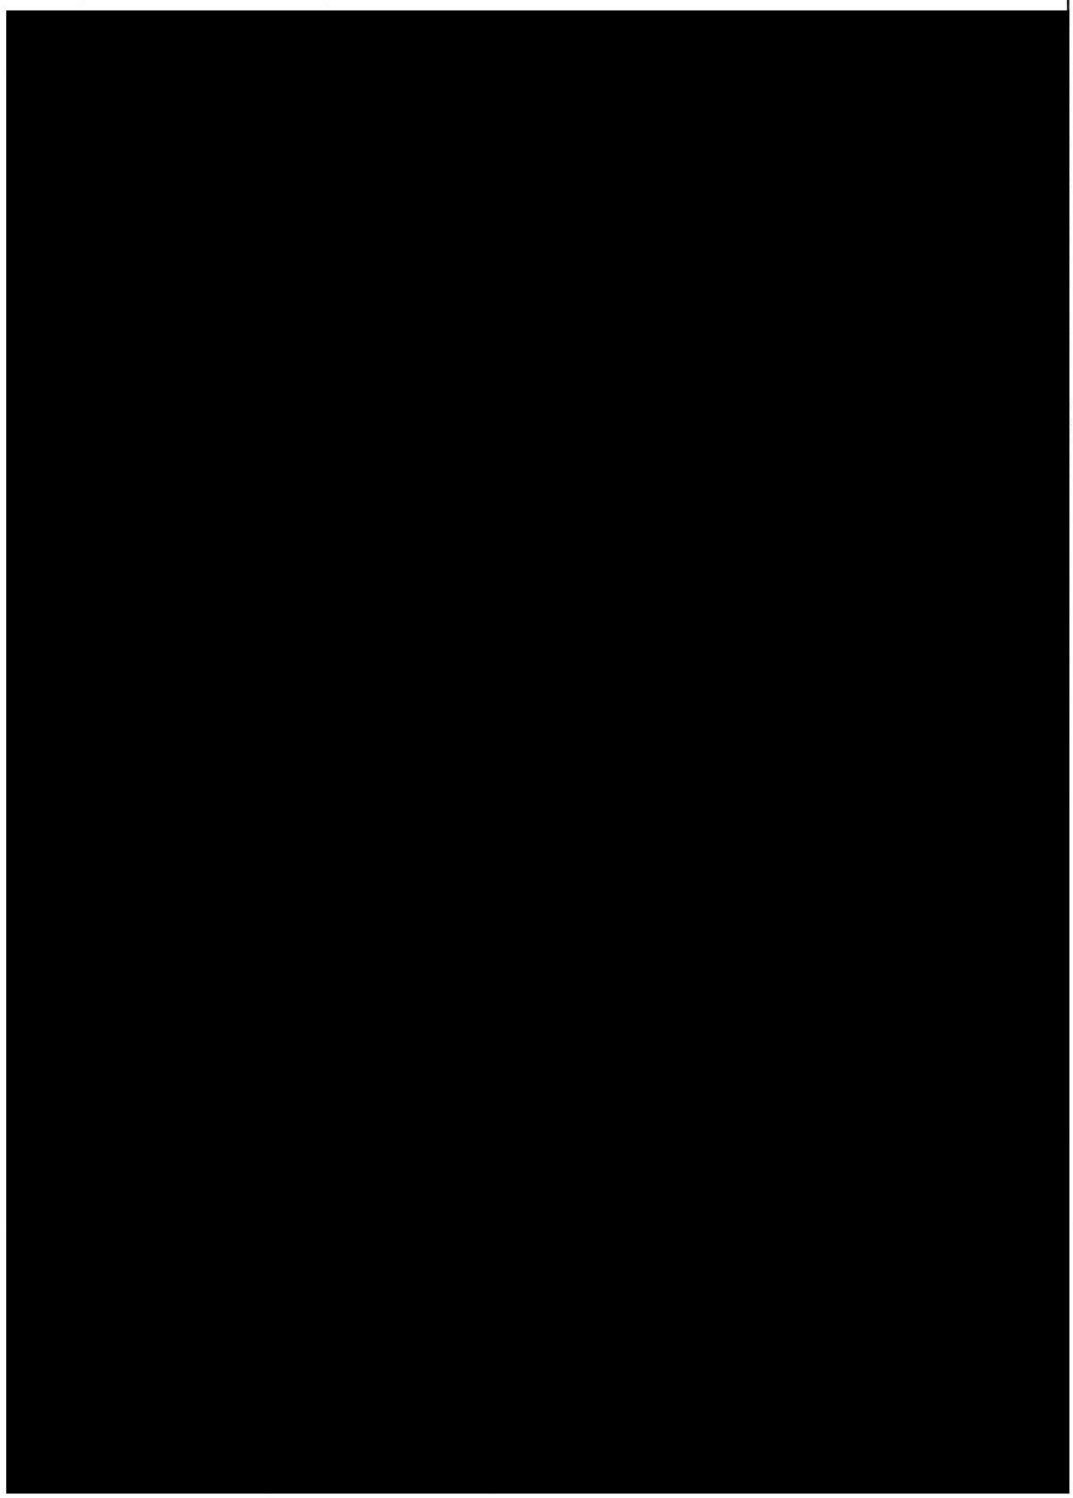
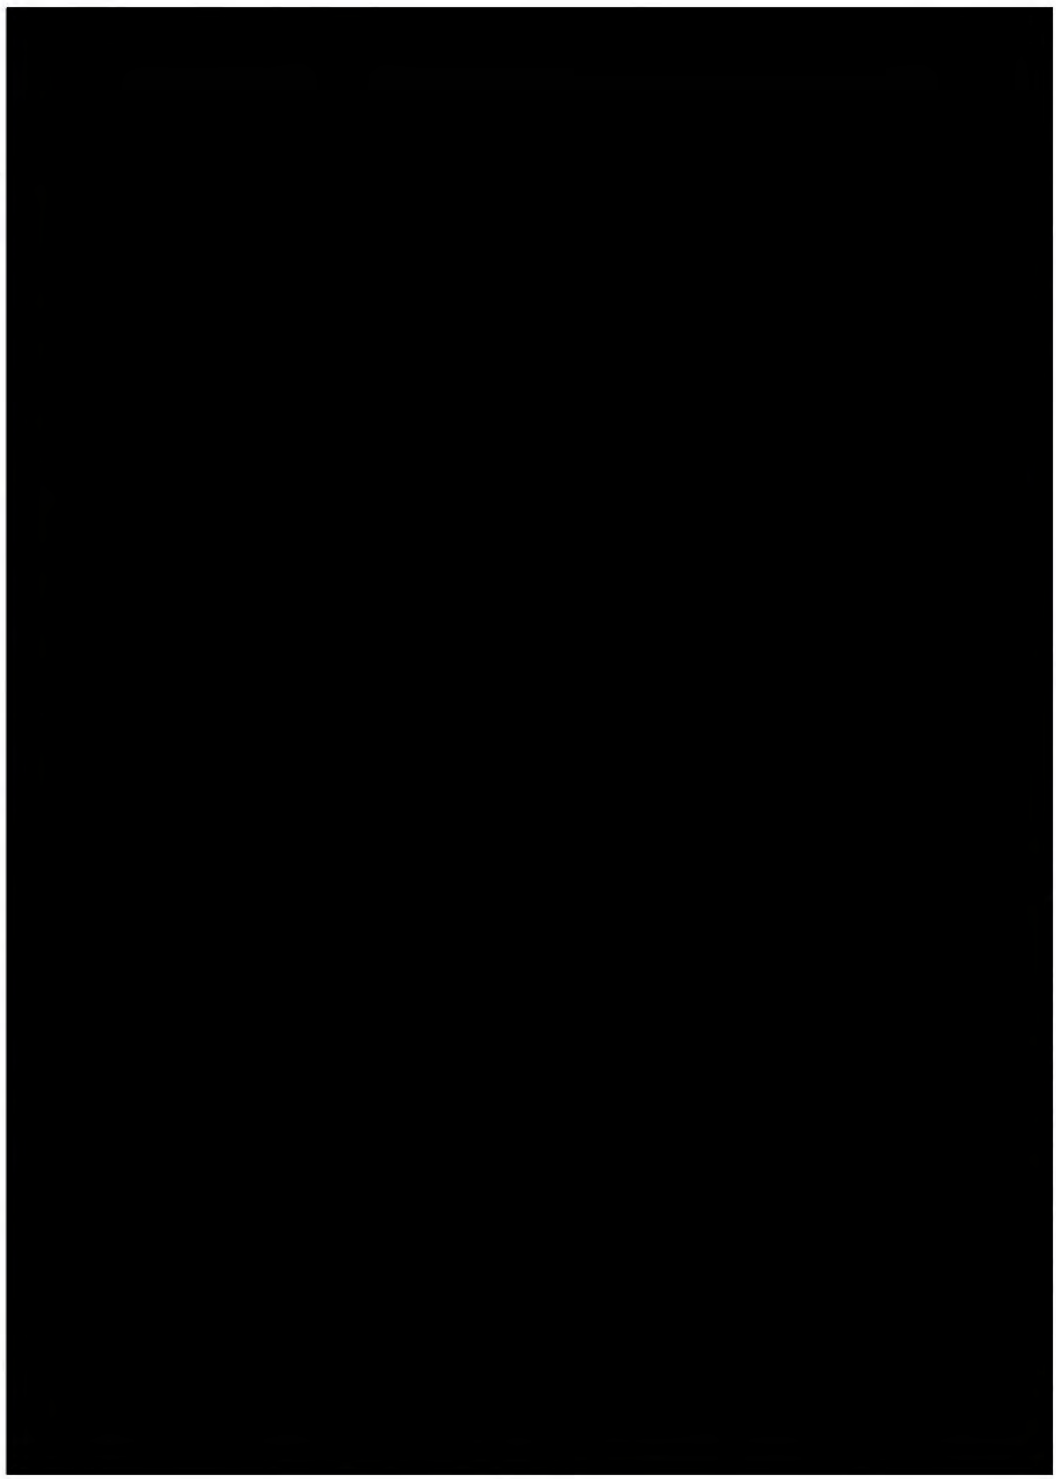
Q Okay. Now, I'm going to -- and you have the Exhibits 2-A and 2-B in front of you, correct?



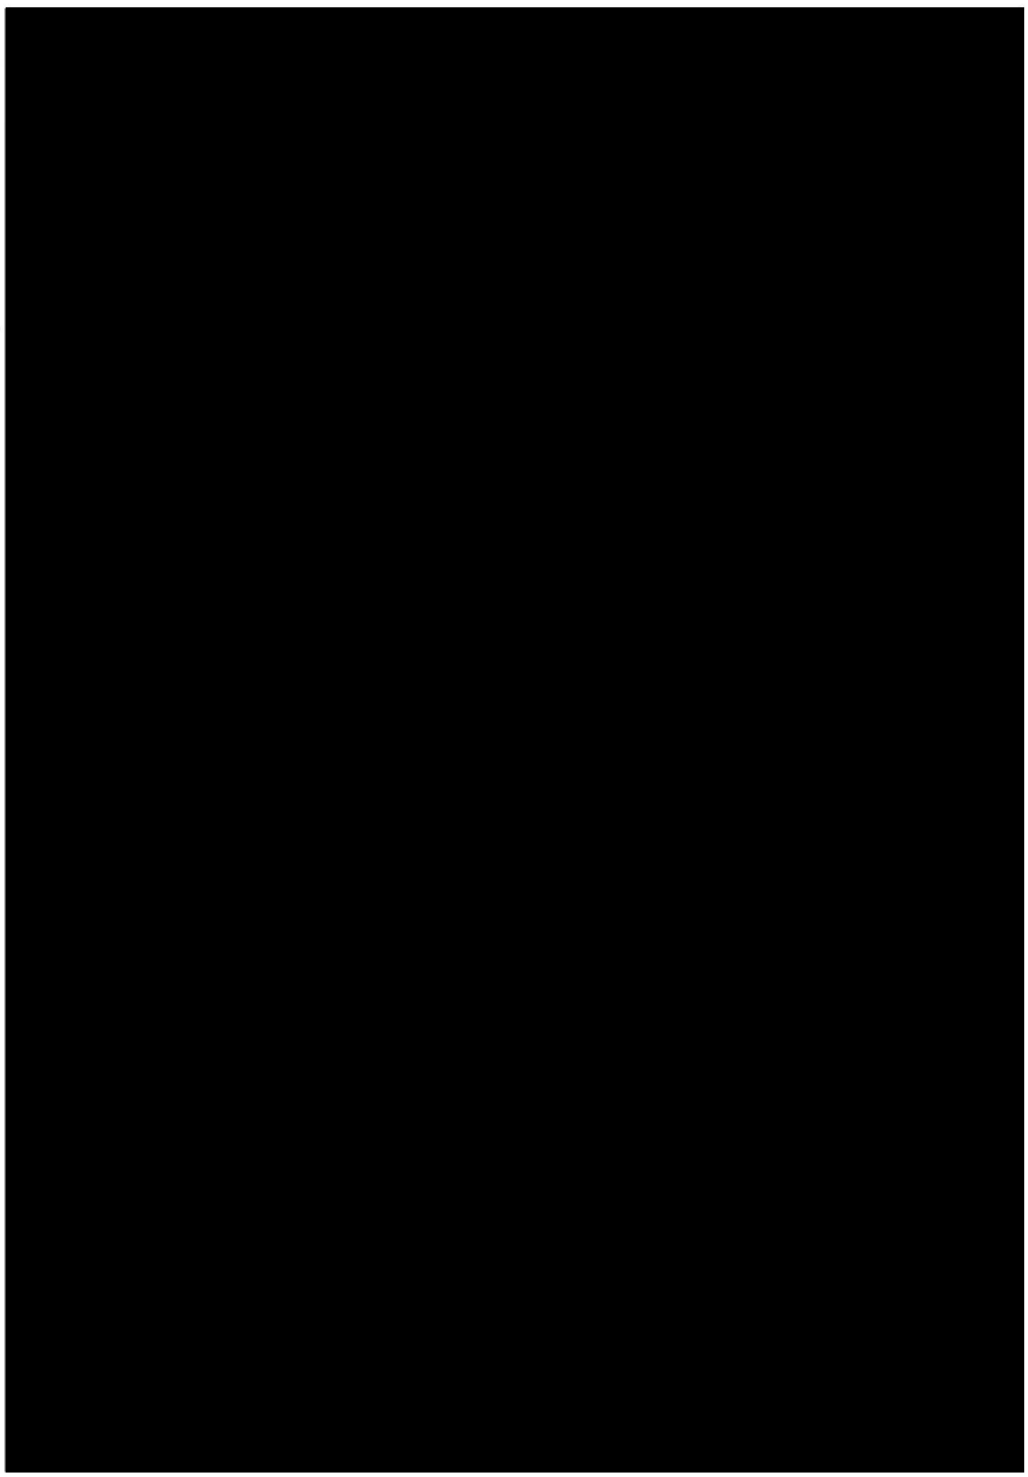
A Yes, I do.



Q Now, because they are self-explanatory, I'm not going to ask you every word to be repeated here, every opinion. But let's discuss all of those opinions -- some of the things in there, okay? So let's turn to page -- Exhibit 2-A, which is the January 5th, 2023 report of yours, and page four.

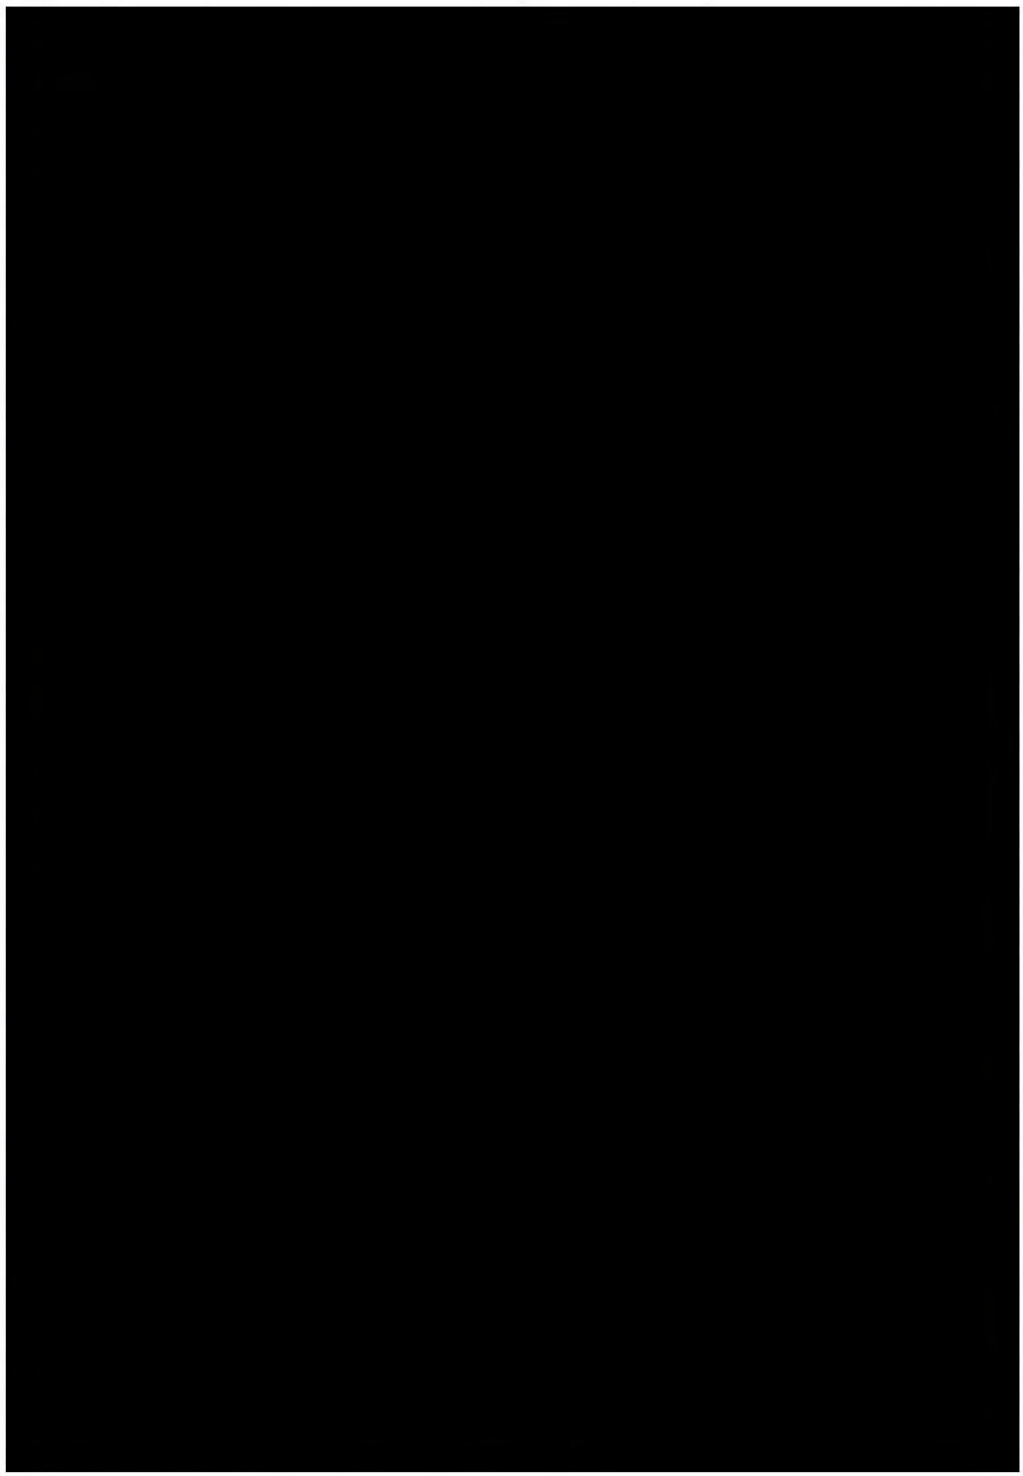


A Yes.

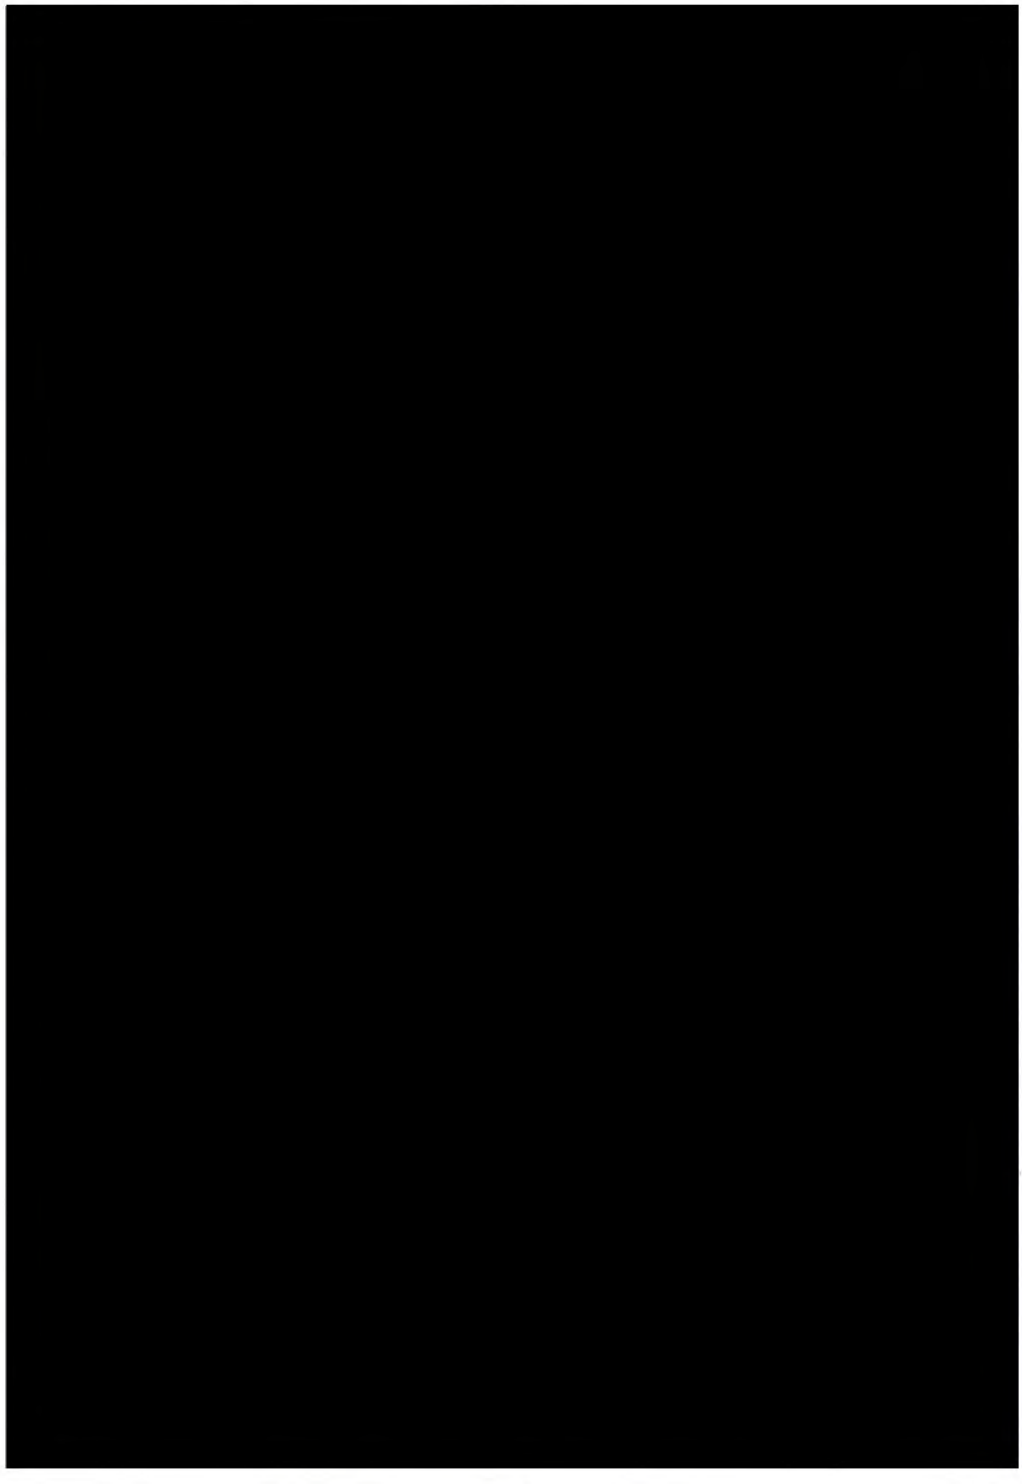


[redacted]

[redacted]



Q Now, you reviewed in the course of your -- the documents, you reviewed the David Cains' 2019 IPP, did you not?

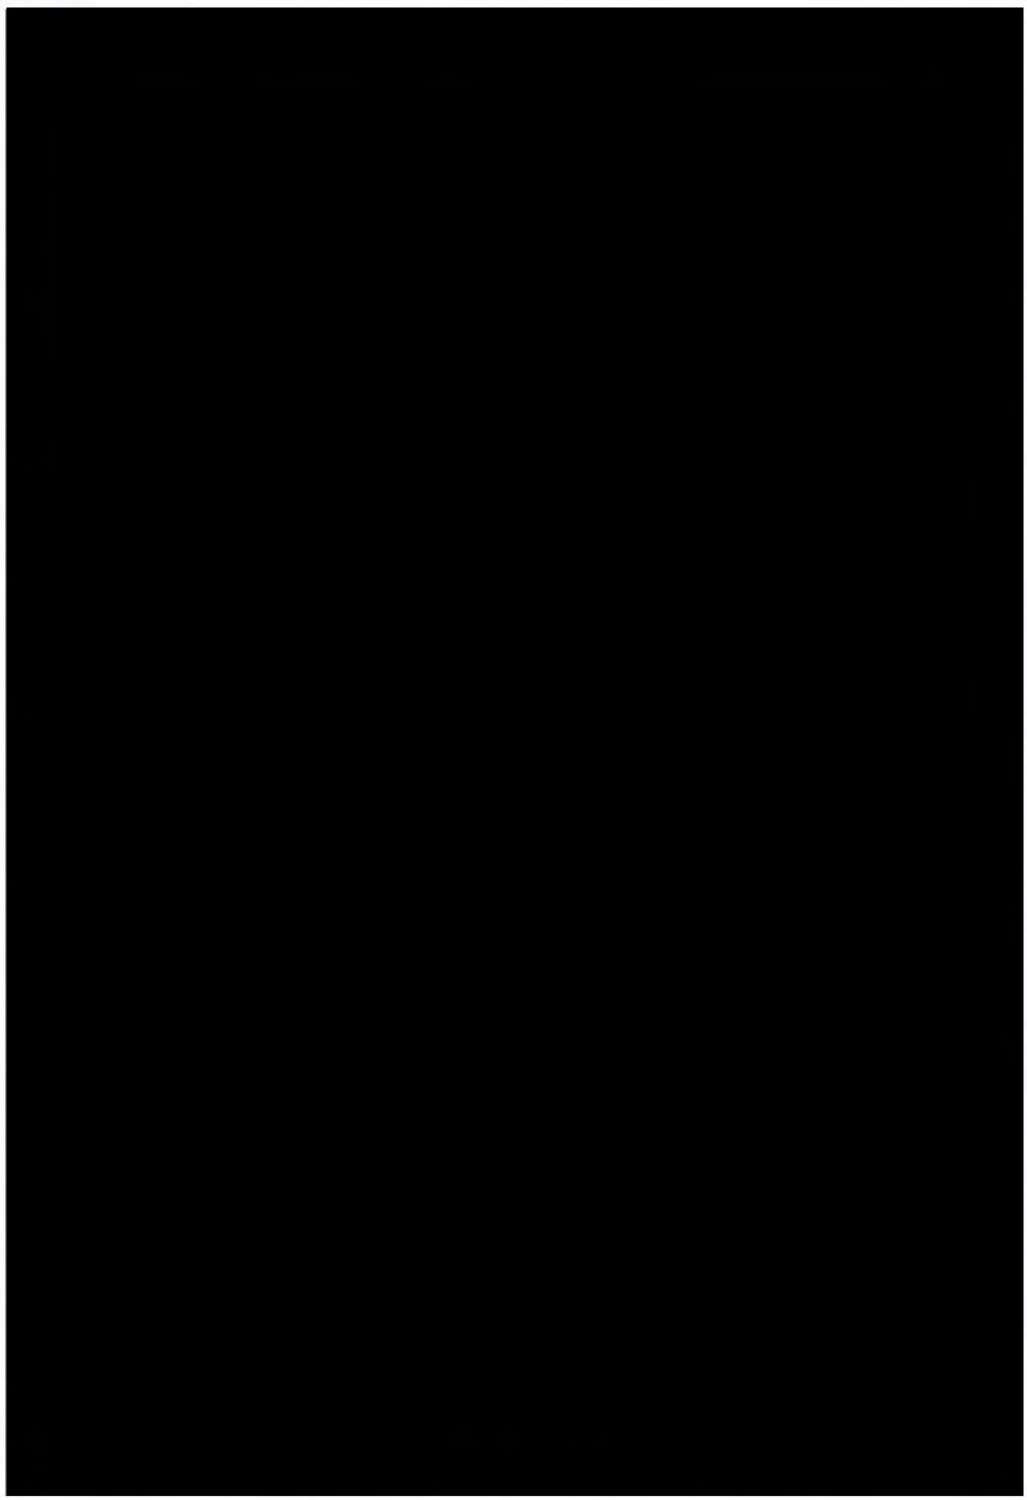


A Yes.

Q And that's noted on your report that you reviewed it, correct?

A Yes.

[redacted]



Q Okay. Did they -- did David Cains -- what, if anything, did David Cains' 2019 IPP address with regard to his behavioral treatment program?
A Mr. Cains was identified as an individual who had a long history of maladaptive behavior, and in particular, a behavior and treatment plan was developed which focused on noncompliance and physical aggression.
Q Okay. And so to what extent, if at all, did David Cain's 2019 IPP define, quote, "physical aggression", unquote?
A I would have to back and look specifically at the document. But it was defined and described, if you will, based on the history of the last ten or 15 years of his having lived at the facility.
Q Okay. And we had talked about it a few minutes earlier, about a medical clearance form. Are you familiar -- did you review that document?
A Yes, I did.
Q And tell me what that was and what that did.
A The medical clearance is a process used by the facility to determine whether or not an individual can safely receive the behavioral services that are recommended for the individual in the IPP. It's simply an attestation by the physician that there is no health concern that contraindicates the use of any of the approved behavioral treatment that might be offered to the individual at the facility.

[redacted]

[redacted]

Q And would a -- and so when you say without qualifications, can you --

A Oh, for an example and, you know, getting to the heart of what we are discussing here, Doctor Hamid made no recommendation that the use of personal restraints or the papoose board should be limited or prohibited after meals, for example.

Q Okay.

A He has an opportunity in the course of defining what modalities can be used safely, to place qualifications on the use of any of these modalities. In his medical opinion, he did not find that any conditions such as avoiding the use of a papoose board, for example, one hour after meals should be required.

Q Okay. And a papoose board, would that be require a lying and prone position to be administered?

A Yes, it would.

Q So the individual, if they were going to -- if a papoose board was used, and it wasn't used here, but if it was going to be used, the person would have to be laying down on the ground?

A Correct. And Doctor Hamid could have placed a qualification on the use of the papoose board, and said that the papoose board could not be used for an hour after meals, if there were a concern for the individual's health or safety related to any underlying issues [redacted]

Q Okay. Now, I think in your report you noted certain physical characteristics of David Cains such as his height, weight and obesity level. What were your determinations there based upon the record, any at all?

A Yes. The social history from 2020 identified [redacted]

Q And so he was a big man, correct?

A He was a big guy, yeah.

Q All right.

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to -- we have been going for about an hour and 20 minutes. I think it might be prudent to take a five minute break. Counsel, do you have any objection to a five or six minute break?

MR. GREEN: Not at all, let's make it ten.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Ten it is.

MR. GREEN: Thanks.

MR. ROSEN: But be back around, Central Time about 10:31 or so. And I'm going to turn off my camera right now and mute. Doctor Kastner, you can get up and stretch and turn off your camera and put yourself on mute as well.

THE WITNESS: You want to reconvene at 10:30, is that correct?

MR. ROSEN: 10:31. Your time would be 11:31.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

MR. ROSEN: All right. Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, there was a short break.)

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Let's go back on the record. We are back on the record.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Doctor Kastner, I see in your reports that you considered or you reviewed the deposition testimony of several people that have been deposed in this case, including Tyler Mattson and Mr. Scow, who was the EMS EMT. Do you recall that?

A Yes.
Q Okay. And you did review their testimony under oath?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And do you consider in -- strike that question. I see in your report, particularly the January 5th report, Exhibit 2-A, extensive reference to testimony of Tyler Mattson and Mr. Scow, the EMT, as well as other testimony too?
A Correct.
Q And so you didn't pick and chose, when you were writing the report and making your medical decisions -- or, excuse me, opinions in this case, you reviewed the evidence that was presented in the deposition, correct?
A I reviewed all of the evidence that I was provided, correct.
Q And you were provided the deposition of Tyler Mattson and Mr. Scow, the EMT provider, correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And you cite in your factual narrative of kind of the factual basis, what the records indicate. You cite a lot of the dialogue between counsel for the claimant and Mr. Scow and Mr. Mattson, correct?
A Yes.

Q Now, and what, if any, significance -- let me ask it this way. You found certain aspects significant enough to put it in your report, correct?
A Correct.
Q And I'm referring, specifically for counsel, to pages seven and eight of the January 5, 2023 report, admitted as Exhibit 2-A. Now, as you note in the report and cite in there, you referenced the deposition of Tyler Mattson with regard to the events that happened immediately preceding the restraint, did you not?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And I think you cited the pages 101 to 103 of Tyler Mattson's deposition testimony?
A Yes, among other --
Q Well, what --
A Among other cites, yes.
Q Okay. What was -- and what was -- strike that question. And in the parts that you describe, Tyler Mattson testified as to kind of the events that immediately happened, and really what happened in the incident, correct?
A There were two documents which provided the primary evidence for the events that occurred while only Mr. Mattson was present. Those two documents were his written witness statement and his deposition. And I relied upon both in painting a picture, if you will, of what transpired while Mr. Mattson was with Mr. Cains during that event.

Q Okay. And as reflected on pages 11 and 12 of your January 5, 2023 report, which is Exhibit 2-A, what did -- how did -- what did you note that how Tyler Mattson described David Cains' activities from the time that he was sitting in a chair and why he was sitting on the chair?

A Mr. Mattson described Mr. Cains as being agitated and aggressive while being seated in a chair, he proceeded to pull papers off of a wall, and then stood up and charged or lunged at Mr. Mattson.

Q And was there any reflection in the testimony or in the witness statements as to why Mr. Cains, David Cains was sitting in that chair?

Q Well, Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains had been discussing how Mr. Cains felt while he was in the dining area. He had experienced and communicated some nonspecific gastrointestinal distress. Mr. Mattson brought Mr. Cains to the restroom, which from what I can gather is outside of the larger cafeteria area. Upon exiting the restroom, Mr. Mattson was -- I'm sorry, Mr. Cains was still in some state of distress. He asked if he could sit and rest, and Mr. Mattson agreed, yes, that would be fine. And Mr. Cains was offered a chair and sat for some time before becoming additionally agitated.

Q Okay. And then according to the deposition testimony and the statements that were reviewed, what did Mr. Cains do while he was -- from the time that he was sitting in the chair?

A Again, as I just mentioned, he continued to be agitated and began pulling papers off of a wall. And at some point he stood up and became aggressive, he either lunged or charged at Mr. Mattson, and made an attempt to grab Mr. Mattson.

Q And this is all reflected on our report, in fact, the actual dialogue from the transcripts is included on page 11 and 12 describing the incident, did it not?

A Yes, it is. And I believed that was important to do. And as it turned out, it's quite important because Doctor LeBel did not include any of the testimony offered by Mr. Mattson in describing Mr. Cains' behavior. She limited her description of Mr. Cains' antecedent behavior to only what was in the written witness statement, and excluded the evidence in the deposition that described Mr. Cains as being aggressive. And I think that was a very important oversight on her part in helping readers understand exactly what transpired between Mr. Cains and Mr. Mattson.

Q Okay. And so in your report, I see that in there on page 12, is it correct that Tyler Mattson, in response to counsel for claimant's questions of him under oath, that he uses the terms "heaving, David Cains charged me and grabbed at me and lunged at me," are those the terminology that you recall from the deposition testimony that you put in the report?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And so then, there's a note here, and particularly in Doctor -- one of the physicians for the claimants mention, about how they ended up on the ground. Were you able to -- does your report address that issue?

A Yes, it does.

Q Okay.

A And I think the deposition was really helpful and Mr. Gillispie did an excellent job in helping me to see exactly what was happening, in particular when Mr. Gillispie asks Mr. Mattson, you know, "Where were your hands?" And Mr. Mattson indicates that he puts his left hand on Mr. Cains' right bicep, and his, Mr. Mattson's right hand, on Mr. Cains' left bicep. That indicates to me that Mr. Mattson is attempting to block Mr. Cains from grabbing him, and to deflect the lunge or charge, which Mr. Cains has engaged in, that Mr. Mattson's placement of his hands, it's purely for blocking and defensive purposes.

There is no aggressiveness on Mr. Mattson's part, and his -- Mr. Mattson's behavior is consistent with his training and understanding of how to manage an aggressive individual.

Q I saw that you noted somewhere in your report about -- in response to counsel's questioning of Mr. Mattson on this issue, counsel being counsel for the claimant, that Mr. Cains landed facing his -- the front part of his body on the floor. What would that tell you about momentum and what happened there?

MR. ROSEN: Object to form, exceeds the scope of his expertise.

THE WITNESS: Mr. Mattson testified that there was some barrier or obstacle behind him that led to him falling, and falling backwards as a result of Mr. Cains' forward momentum. And as he describes it, you know, "our feet got tangled up, we fumbled around, we tripped, it was one big momentum."

And Mr. Mattson was not pushing back, he was not forcing Mr. Cains backwards. They did not fall with Mr. Cains' on his back and Mr. Mattson on top of him. Again, because Mr. Mattson was deploying a blocking technique, he fell backwards. He was not moving forward, he was blocking, and as a result of tripping over this impediment or obstacle, they all fell backwards in as much of a controlled fashion as Mr. Mattson could accomplish at that time.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q And these are all facts that you derived from the records that you were provided, including the depositions, correct?

A As I said earlier, I think the two primary sources of information about what happened while Mr. Mattson was with Mr. Cains alone, prior to the fall, and prior to the use of restraints is particular important in helping us understand what happened, and what Mr. Mattson was thinking at the time that he was with Mr. Cains.

Q Okay.

A There is a --
Q Well, based on --
A We go to the standard of care. The standard of care is going to rely on what a reasonably qualified direct support professional, or RCT in this instance, would have done under the circumstances in which Mr. Mattson found himself. The only reason we can -- the only way that we can understand the situation and the thinking that Mr. Mattson brought to that situation is to have a full understanding of what exactly happened.
Q Okay. And so based upon those facts, as described by Mr. Mattson in both his deposition testimony under oath and his witness statement would -- are you able to reach an opinion to a reasonable degree of medical certainty as to whether this would constitute an emergency situation to employ a personal hold?

MR. GREEN: Object to form.

THE WITNESS: Yes, I believe that the circumstances described by Mr. Mattson qualified themselves as an emergency, you know, consistent with both the federal and state guidance in those areas.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Was Tyler Mattson, and perhaps Mr. Cains' safety at risk, based upon Mr. Cains' conduct as described under oath by Mr. Mattson?
A Yes. Mr. Cains certainly had the potential for harming Mr. Mattson when he engaged in lunging towards him.
Q And based upon the description of Mr. Mattson, as related in your report, the details, the dialogue, and the other documents that you read, was this emergency hold, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, in your opinion --
MR. GREEN: Object to the form.
BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Were you able to form an opinion as to whether this emergency hold was applied by Tyler Mattson under these circumstances as described consistent with the CMS
State Operations Manual, Appendix "J" and DHS policy governing the use of restraints?
A Yes, I was. I --
Q Okay. What was that opinion, what is that opinion?
A I believe that Mr. Mattson's conduct in employing personal restraints in response to Mr. Cains' aggressive behavior was consistent with the standard of care and consistent with CMS guidance, the Appendix "J" interpretive guidelines, Arkansas DHS policies and procedures, and with the standard of care for an RCT, who in a similar situation with similar training and experience would employ the same approach.

Q Okay. Now, let's jump ahead a little bit, because based upon review of the documents, the narratives and the witness statements, there came a point in time where Mr. Cains vomited, is that correct?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And based upon -- and you read more than just Mr. Mattson's deposition, did you not?

A I read every document that's on my -- in my report.

Q Okay.

A In addition to other materials.

Q Okay. And so we know based upon what you have just described what happened. Now they are on the ground. Mr. Cains has vomited and there came a point in time at that time when the staff realized there was a situation here that needed intervention. And were you able to determine what, if anything, the Booneville Human Development staff did after they noticed that Mr. Cains had vomited and stopped breathing?

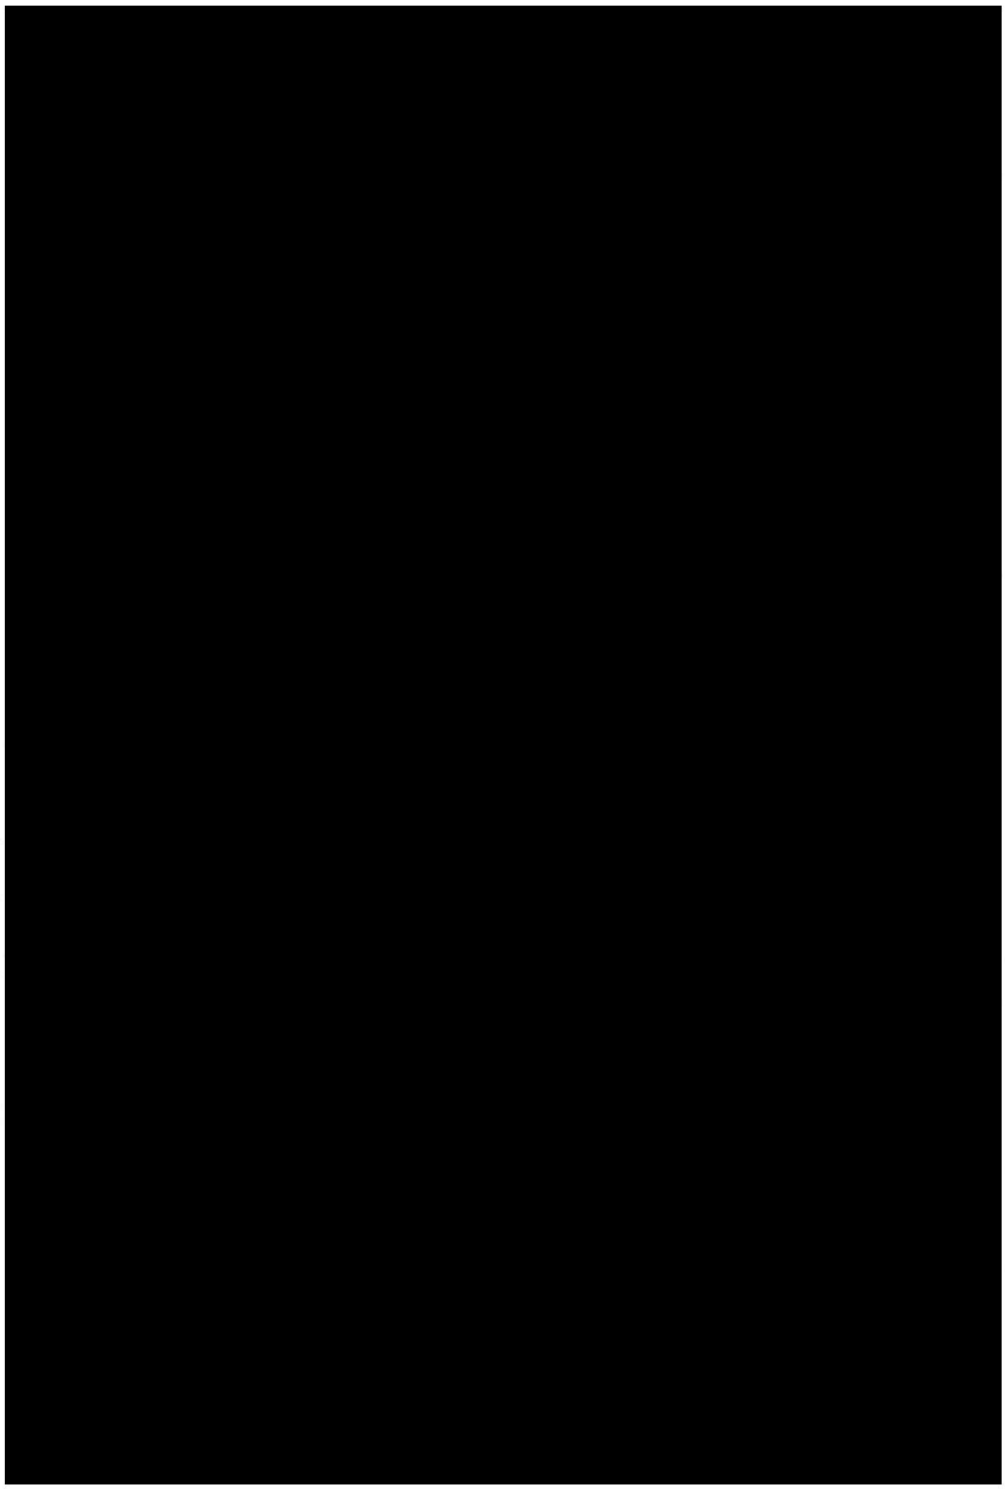
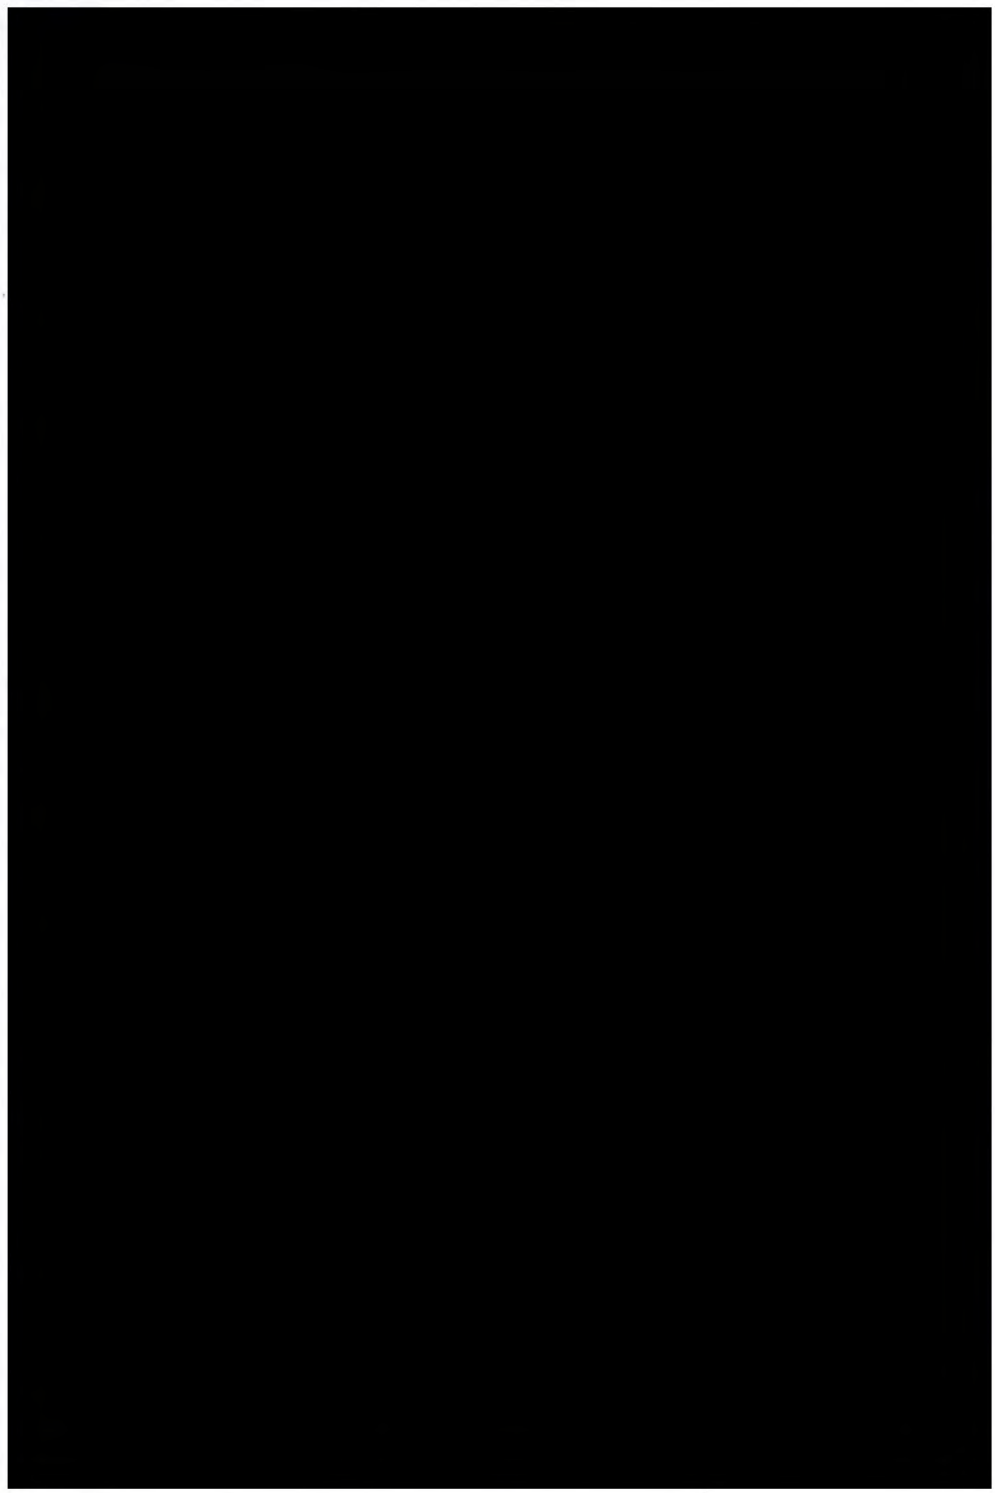
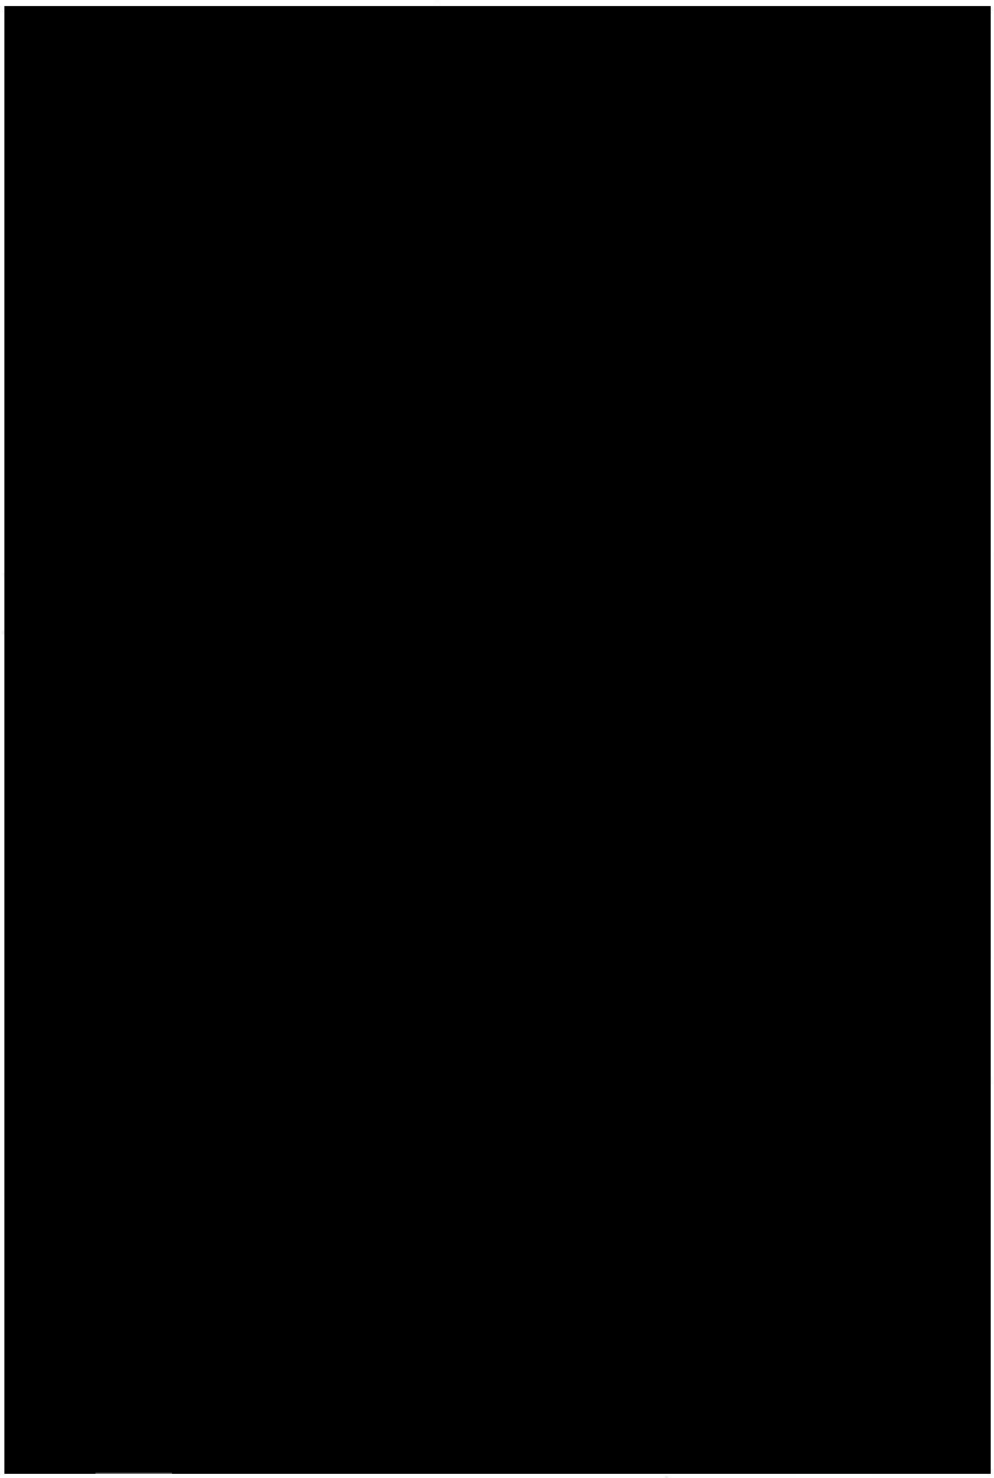
MR. GREEN: Object to the form of the question. I mean, he stated, and he can continue to state what Mr. Mattson testified to, but to characterize it as "we know what happened", I think is improper form.



BY MR. ROSEN:



Q Doctor Kastner, let me reword the question a little bit. Based -- Doctor Kastner, based upon your review of the records including the deposition testimony taken under oath, including the questioning by claimant's counsel of the direct care staff, what, if any, action was taken by Booneville Human Development staff once they were able to ascertain Mr. Cains had vomited and stopped breathing?



A Based upon the documents that I reviewed, the

[redacted]

[redacted]

Q Okay. And so EMT arrived, it took them 13 minutes -- no, strike that question. This is rural Arkansas, correct?

A Yes.

Q I mean, you are familiar with Booneville and where it is, correct?

A Yes, I am.

Q And so the response times are not a quick as perhaps they would be in New York City or in Little Rock, are they?

A I think response times are what they are, it took 13 minutes after the call was placed before Mr. Scow arrived at the scene and saw Mr. Cains.

Q And then, he waited approximately two minutes before he intervened?

A According to his testimony, yes.

Q Okay. That's about 15 minutes now, correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. Now, the EMT, the ambulance people,

Mr. Scow, the ambulance were at the scene for how long?

A Oh, I believe they were there until at least 12:11, 11 minutes after 12:00 --

Q In the --

A I'm sorry, 12:18.

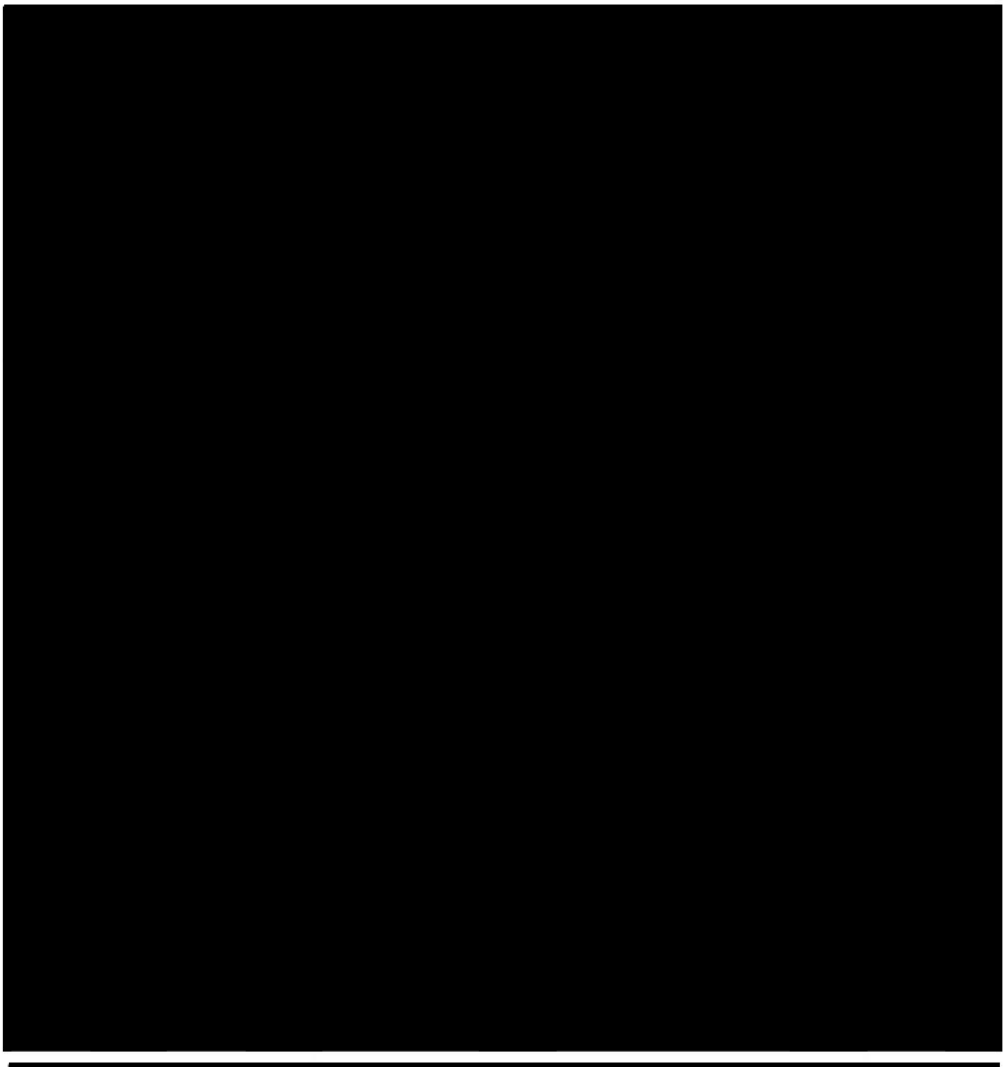
Q Well, 12:18, let me get to the reference about it.

A I'm sorry. 12:10, I'm sorry.

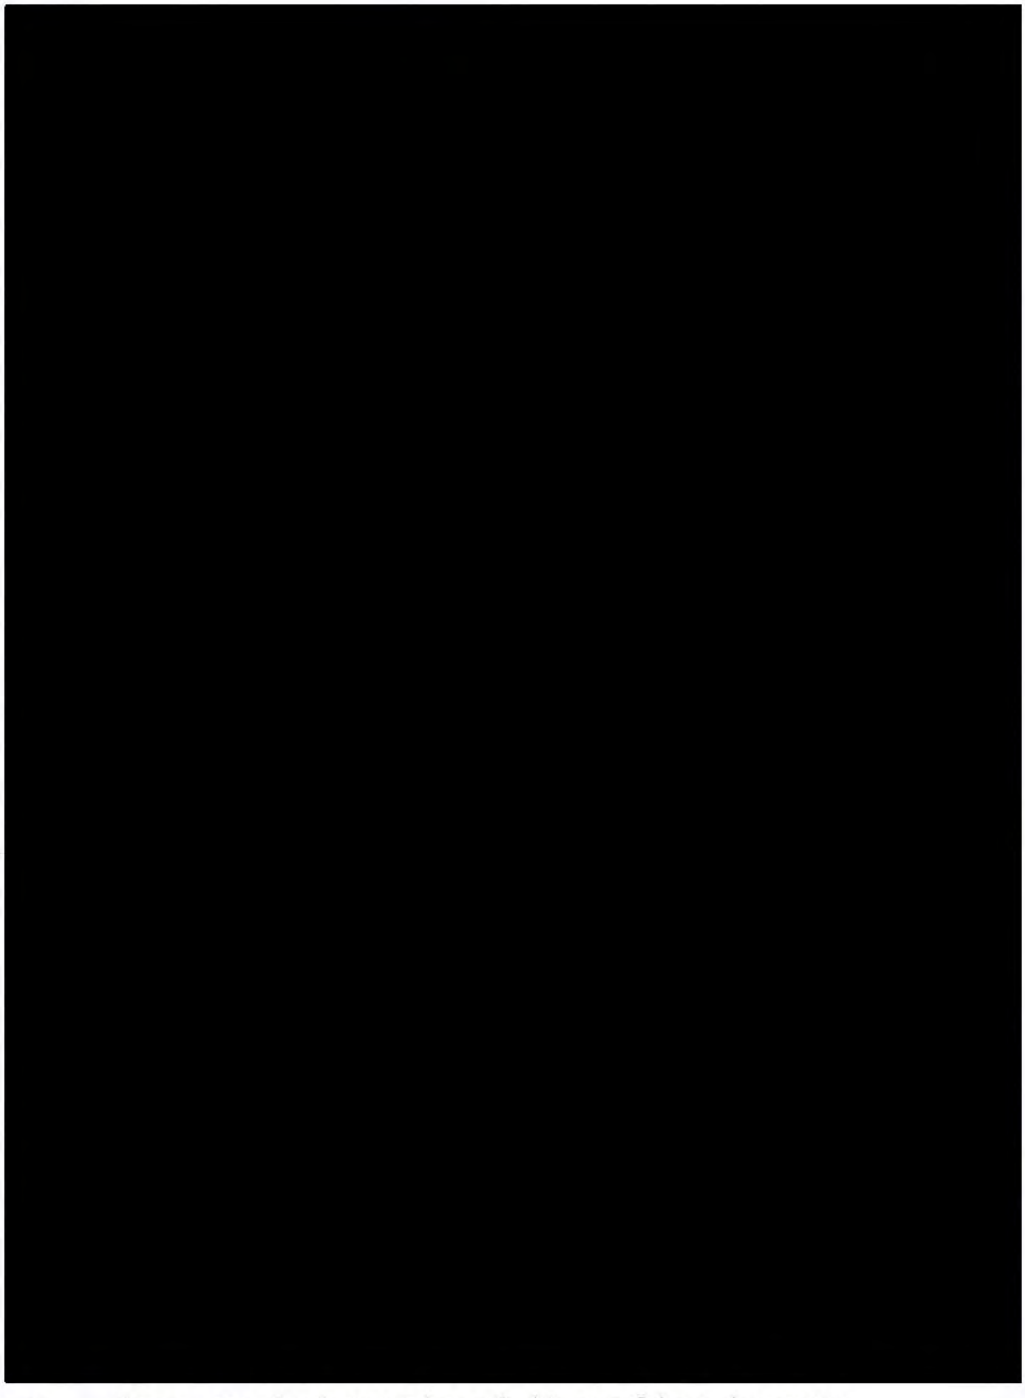
Q Okay. 12:10.

A Yes.

Q So they were there 20 minutes according to their time frame, correct?



A Yes, exactly 20 minutes.



Q And I think you were referencing, as you put in your report, that then, once they Booneville, it took eight minutes to get to the hospital, which would have been 12:18?

A Yes. According to the Logan County EMS record, yes.

Q Now, during the 20 minutes that the EMT was at the Booneville facility on that day, with regard to David Cains, based upon the records that you reviewed

[redacted]

Q Now, you had mentioned it earlier in your testimony, and it's referenced in your report, which is Exhibit 2-A, the January 5, 2023 report. You are familiar with Doctor Brown-Forestiere's opinions as expressed in her deposition, and in her responses to discovery that counsel provided DHS as to what her opinions are. Did you review those documents from the doctor that were provided?

A Yes, I did.

Q Did you review her -- also her deposition testimony?

A Yes, I did.

Q Okay. Now, in there, she spent a portion of her time talking about what she used the word, quote "fight or flight", unquote. Did you see that?

A Yes, I did.

Q As a medical doctor with three or four board certifications in specialty areas, and including a review of the deposition testimony of Tyler Mattson, which she did not rely upon at all in her opinions, were you able to form an opinion, based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, whether David Cains had a fight or flight instinct reaction when he was in a personal hold by Tyler Mattson?

A I found Doctor Forestiere's description of the fight or flight reaction, and it's applicability to this specific set of events to be very confusing. I could not ascertain from her statement whether she was -- whether she believed that a flight or fight reaction occurred when Mr. Cains was placed in restraints, or when Mr. Cains vomited or when Mr. Cains was found to be not breathing.

I also found it odd for her to characterize Mr. Cains' behavior as a quote, unquote, "fight for his life", because I didn't understand where she applied that. I do not believe Mr. Cains was fighting for his life when he was placed in physical holds. I just don't know when that could have been relevant.

Q And I think, as you noted in your reports, and based upon questioning in deposition, even Doctor Brown-Forestiere admitted that she was unable to determine exactly at what point he would have been in a fight or flight situation and what David Cains was thinking, is that not correct?

A That is true. She was unable to describe when that fight or flight reaction did occur.

Q Okay. Now, I think, as you noted in your report, which is 2-A in regard to this, that David Cains had been -- well, let's just say David Cains had, based upon his IPP, he had a behavioral history of physical aggression, correct?

A Correct.
Q And they define physical aggression in that IPP, and we don't have to go to that definition, but it's in there, correct?
A Correct.

Q So, and you reviewed -- did you review any behavioral reports or anything with regard to David Cains?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And so, and I think in your report you actually talk about, do you not, that -- about some numbers that he had been, due to his physical aggression, restrained at various points throughout his recent stay before he passed away, correct?
A Yes.
Q Now, did he ever -- so were you able to ascertain or determine from Doctor Brown's opinions and her rationale for those opinions as to why in this particular event, under these particular circumstances, David Cains would have a quote, "fight or flight", unquote, reaction as opposed to all the other ones that he -- restraints that were employed against him?

A As I said, I found --

MR. GREEN: Object to form, mischaracterizes the doctor's deposition testimony.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Well, let me reword it just to clarify. Doctor Kastner, you read Doctor Brown-Forestiere's deposition testimony, correct?

A Correct.

Q Were you able to form -- or do you have any questions as to the medical basis for Doctor Brown's conclusions of fight or flight in this instance as opposed to all the other times he was restrained for his behavioral outbursts?

A Doctor Brown-Forestiere stated that, quote, "Your body instinctively fights as hard as possible to survive when it feels that it may be dying," end of quote. She goes on to say this is a very intense struggle given your death being the alternative. I don't know how or where that applies in this specific instance.

Q As a matter of fact, I think she admitted it. Did you not see in her deposition that she admitted she didn't know how intense the struggle was?

A Well, she said that "What he thought was a fight for his life, and when it came down to that," comma, "I can't say," end of quotes. I don't think she could say with any confidence that he was fighting for his life when he attacked Mr. Mattson, when he was being restrained by staff, or after he vomited. And I just don't understand it's applicability at all to the scenario that was present.

Q Okay. Hold on. Give me a second right here. So based upon your review of the depositions and the statements of the various people that you were provided, and you have discussed, and the facts that they related, were you able to determine -- do you have an opinion to a reasonable degree of medical certainty whether David Cains would have thought that he was going to die as result of a particular hold, so as to trigger the fight or flight reaction?

MR. GREEN: I object to form, I don't believe that this witness is qualified as an expert in being able to testify as to the internal thoughts of Mr. Cains.

MR. ROSEN: Well --

MR. GREEN: I don't know what scientific basis, also lack of foundation.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Well, those would be the same objections that would be applied to Doctor Brown-Forestiere's testimony on that.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q But I'm going to ask, Doctor Kastner, based upon the facts that you have seen, was -- and as described in the various deposition testimony, was there a fight or flight reaction?

A First of all, I don't understand what relevance a fight or flight reaction has to the delivery of behavioral services and whether or not they met a standard of care.

Q Okay. What's --

A But specifically to respond to your question, Mr. Cains had been restrained on at least 120 occasions in the past, and in none of those occasions had he died. His expectation would have been, based on prior experience, that he would survive being restrained, and once calmed down, restraints would have been removed. I don't understand what evidence he would have relied upon to believe that the simple application of restraints would have represented a life threatening treatment.

Q Okay. Hold on one second. Give me a minute, please. Doctor Kastner, based upon your review of the deposition testimony, the direct care workers and nurses, Mr. Scow, the EMT, based upon the records that you reviewed, and your medical training and expertise and experience, to a reasonable -- do you have an opinion to a reasonable degree of medical certainty as to whether the outcome would have been different if 911 had been called approximately two minutes, anywhere from one to three minutes earlier than it was, knowing that the ambulance took 13 minutes to arrive and another nine minutes to [redacted] after that? Do you have an opinion on that?

A My --

MR. GREEN: I object to form, it exceeds the scope of this witness' expertise, he is not board certified in emergency medicine. So I'm going to object to form.

MR. ROSEN: Okay.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Doctor, first of all, I want you to remember that question, but you are a medical physician that has testified and are able to testify on cause of death, is that correct?
A It's sad, but I have testified --
MR. GREEN: Object to form.
THE WITNESS: -- on cause of death on many, many occasions. And I have completed hundreds of death certificates.
BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Okay. So you are legally and medically qualified to -- and have experience in determining the cause of death, and have determined the cause of death for individuals, is that correct?
MR. GREEN: Object to form. Whether he is medically or legally qualified is not a medical opinion that he can give. It's a legal opinion. The question calls for a legal opinion.
MR. ROSEN: No, it doesn't.
BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Go ahead, Doctor.
A Yes. I have performed that function in hundreds of instances.
Q Okay. And have you ever testified in a court of law as to a cause of death?

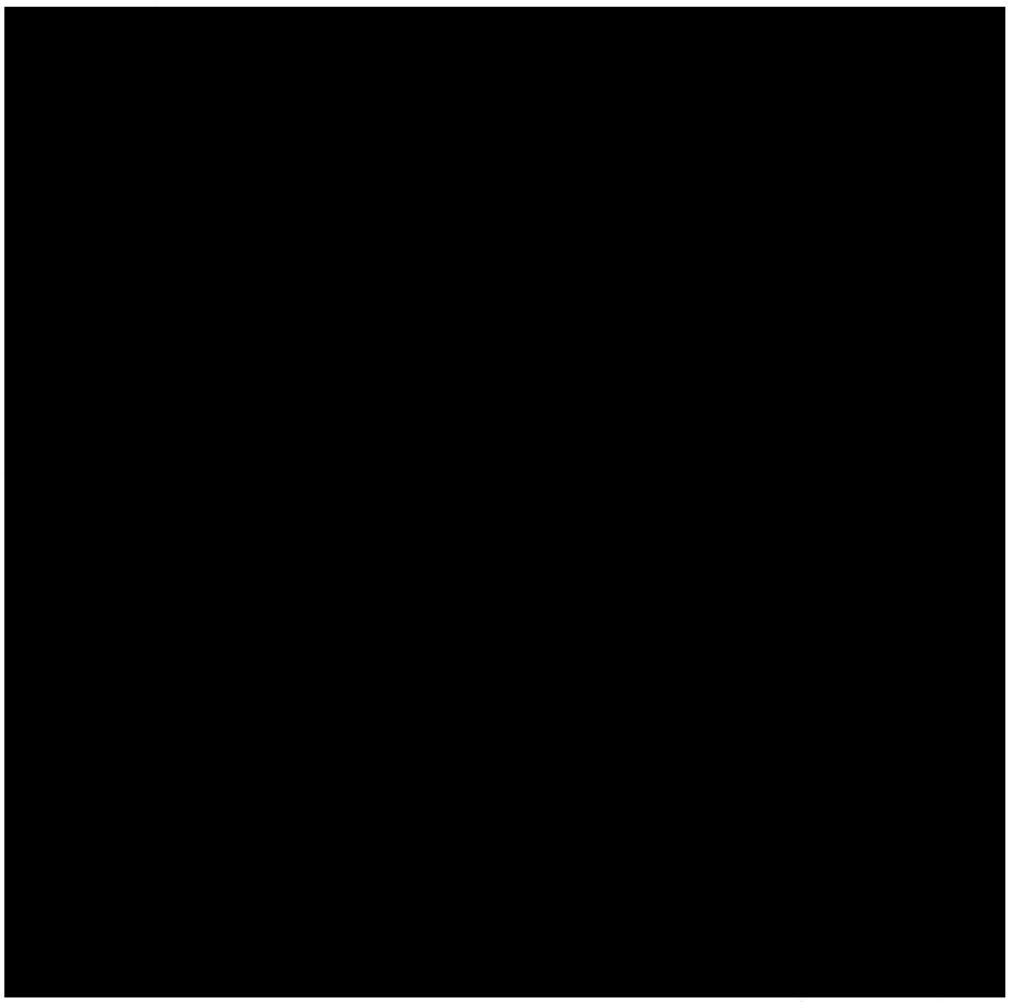
A Yes, on many occasions.
Q And you were qualified as an expert physician with the qualifications of the National Foundation to do so?
A Yes, in particular in the State of Arkansas.
Q Okay. Now, so going back to the question, were you able to, based upon your documentation, your experience, your board certification, your medical degrees, your clinical experience and your working with the IDD and DD population, were you able to form a reasonable -- an opinion as to whether the outcome for Mr. Cains would have been different had 911 been called anywhere from one to three minutes before it was, knowing that the EMT arrived 13 minutes after the call and took another nine minutes to partially clear the airway?

MR. GREEN: Object to the form, again, exceeds the scope of this witness's area of expertise.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Well, I think we have already established that it doesn't.

BY MR. ROSEN:
Q But go ahead, Doctor.
A Any alleged --



MR. GREEN: Well, let me -- it's fine for you to go ahead and move forward with the questioning. But nobody has established anything. There is no judge here, so I would just ask not to declare what had been determined. There is no determining body here. But Doctor, sorry, go ahead and answer.

THE WITNESS: Now I feel free to testify. Thank you for allowing me to continue.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Go ahead.

A There is no evidence that any alleged delay in contacting the Booneville Emergency Response System resulted in any harm to Mr. Cains or contributed to his death. As I noted earlier, at the time Mr. Scow arrived, [redacted]

Q Hold on one moment, Doctor. Now, on page 44 of your January 5, 2023 report, which is Exhibit 2-A, let me get to it, you make a reference to Doctor Brown-Forestiere's opinions on the standard of care, and applying that standard of care for a hospital emergency room to direct care aides in the Booneville Human Development Center in Logan County, Arkansas? Did you see that?

A I'm sorry. Can you just refer me to the page number?
Q Yes, page 44 of Exhibit 2-A.
A I am scrolling down now. Okay, I'm there.
Q And before -- and I guess beginning on page 43, you are referencing and quoting Doctor Brown-Forestiere's deposition testimony with regard to her training as a physician, correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And then, you express an opinion about -- well, strike that question. In her testimony, Doctor Brown-Forestiere seemed to indicate to me as a layperson, and I will ask you about it, that she was applying a hospital emergency room standard of care to the Booneville Human Development Center and direct care aides administering lifesaving procedures. Did she --

MR. GREEN: Object to form, leading.

BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Well, I'm only asking, did you note that in your -- right now, did you note that in your -- on page 43 and 44 of your report, which is Exhibit 2-A?
A Yes, that is true. I believe that Doctor Brown-Forestiere substituted the standard of care for a physician working in an emergency room or critical care setting for the standard of care for a direct support professional or RCT working at a human developmental center. And --

Q Okay. Now, we know that Tyler -- these RCTs, these aides, this direct care staff at the Booneville Human Development Center, they are not physicians, are they?

A Correct, they are not.

Q And they are not in a hospital emergency room, are they?

A Correct.

Q And as a physician, a clinician, an expert in working with -- as an expert in being a medical doctor and working with IID and DD individuals, would that be an appropriate analogy to apply a physician, an emergency room physician standard to aides in a rural county in Arkansas?

A The only standard of care that is applicable to the conduct of an RCT in performing their duties is the standard for what an RCT is expected to know and to do. And that would be based upon their training, their experience and their judgment as to what was the most appropriate course of treatment.

Substituting a physician's judgment for what would be appropriate in a specific setting would be inappropriate, because the training for a physician is so much different than that received by an RCT.

Q Thank you. Hold on one second, Doctor. Let me just review my notes. Now, I'm directing your attention to page 45 of your January 5, 2023 report, which is Exhibit 2-A, you express an opinion there, which is item number 13, and while this is in the record, and we not going to go through every one of your opinions, I do want to ask you about this one in particular. Do you have your report in front of you?

A Yes, I do.

Q And item 13, what was your opinion that you expressed in there?

[redacted]

Q Okay. Now, and then you cite extensively from Doctor Brown-Forestiere's testimony, do you not?

[redacted]

Q Okay.

A I don't think there was any disagreement about that.

Q Okay. And on page 49 of your January 5, 2023 report, Exhibit 2-A, you express an opinion based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty that Mr. Cains' death was not accompanied by severe pain, and you go through and explain that. Can you -- is that your opinion?

A Yes, that is my opinion.

Q Okay. And tell us, based upon your experience and knowledge, how you know this, how you reach that opinion?

MR. GREEN: Sorry, I couldn't get unmuted. I just object to the form, it exceeds the scope of this witness's expertise. I don't believe he is an expert in the mechanisms of pain and pain management.

MR. ROSEN: Well, I don't know that Doctor Brown-Forestiere was, based upon her credentials.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q But Doctor, go ahead and testify. That is your opinion, it has been admitted here. Can you tell us the basis for your opinion?

A My opinion was that Mr. Cains' death was not accompanied by severe pain. And I think the point -- the place to start in that discussion is to begin with a generally accepted definition of what pain actually is. And fortunately there are people who studied this, and in 2020 the International Association for the Study of Pain agreed upon a definition, which included two components. One being a sensory or emotional experience, and the second being actual tissue damage.

And in order for an individual to experience pain, both conditions need to be met. And in particular, actual or potential tissue damage needs to be present. Doctor Brown-Forestiere claimed that the two most painful causes of death would be strangulation or suffocation and burning. I have no idea where that came from. It makes no sense to me in terms of how we, as physicians, conceptualize pain, because obviously in burning there is an extraordinary amount of tissue damage. But in strangulation or suffocation there is generally much less.

And there are other causes of death which have the potential for much greater degrees of tissue damage. Going specifically to Mr. Cains, I don't believe that he experienced any moderate or severe degree of tissue damage prior to his becoming unconscious. And as a result, I don't believe he meets the criteria that were set forth by the International Association for the Study of Pain, or having experienced pain subsequent to his -- or prior to his death.

Q Okay. And in addition to that, Doctor, you have also -- strike that question. I think earlier in your testimony you had testified as to that you have been qualified to talk about in Courts to about life expectancy of individuals in facilities?

A Yes.
Q Okay.
A In or -- within or without facilities, yes.
Q Okay. So life expectancy in general?
A Correct.
Q And on page 51 of your report, you state in item number 15 that, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains had a life expectancy of only six more years." Is that your opinion?
A Yes, that is my opinion.
Q Okay. And tell me how you reached that opinion.
A In general the mortality rate for the general population is about eight per thousand per year. For people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, depending upon where they live and their age and their related medical conditions, the range in mortality rates is anywhere from 16 to 60 deaths per thousand. I have actually been involved with the CareOne facility where the mortality rate was 200 per thousand in a single year.

So in general we all recognize that the life expectancy of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities is shortened simply because of the presence of the intellectual and developmental disability. There are other factors which contribute to a shorter life expectancy, and I referenced a few of them, obesity, epilepsy, serious mental illness.

All of those factors have a secondary impact on shortening the life expectancy. So I simply provided a couple of references, not meant to be exhaustive, but to demonstrate that there is a basis for my opinion in why the life expectancy would be shorter. And in my experience working with people, and in my experience as a researcher, having published in the area of life expectancy, my opinion is that the life expectancy was only six years more.

[redacted]

Q Okay. Thank you, Doctor.

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to move to another subject, but before we do, this is directed towards counsel, Mr. Green, Mr. Gillispie. It is now 11:40 Central Time and 12:40 Eastern Time where Doctor Kastner is, I'm suggesting we take about a 45 minute break. I probably have about another 45 minutes after that, and then we can commence with the cross-examination. I'm asking what your thoughts on that are.

MR. GREEN: I think it's good to go ahead and break. I have got like 11:38.

Why don't we come back at 12:30 Central Time, that's like 50 minutes.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Doctor, I didn't ask you, I should have asked you. Are you okay with that as well?

THE WITNESS: As I said, I am perfectly comfortable working around whatever time frames you both agree on.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Well then, why don't we do this and, Ms. Petre, we will pause the deposition here. I'm going to leave my screen on so I don't have to do the Zoom back in. I will just turn off my -- I will mute it and turn off the video. And we will all meet back here at 12:30 Central, 1:30 Eastern. Okay?

MR. GREEN: See you at 12:30.

MR. ROSEN: Thank you, everybody.

(WHEREUPON, a lunch break was taken.)

MR. ROSEN: We're back to the deposition after a lunch break.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Doctor Kastner, we have already introduced your report, which is Exhibit 2-B, which is the January 6, 2023 report, mostly dealing with Doctor LeBel and the issue of restraints. We are going to switch gears and start talking about that report, and it has already been introduced into this deposition. So I do want to start, and again like the other report. Your report has like a -- like an executive summary of all of the opinions at the beginning and then goes through and explains the rationale and the medical basis, and the basis for your opinion.

But I want to start out on this subject area, asking you to turn to page three of the January 6, 2023 report, which is Exhibit 2-B.

A Yes.

Q Okay. And so in there, your first opinion, based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, you state that, "CMS rules and regulations, ARDDS policies and procedures and BHDC policies and procedures represent the standard of care for delivery of behavioral services at Booneville HDC."

A Yes.

Q Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q Is that your opinion?

A Yes, it is.

Q And when you are talking about CMS rules and regulations, you are talking about the CFRs, the Code of Federal Regulations, and as applied to Booneville Human Development Center, the CMS State Operations Manual, Appendix "J", is that correct?

A For the purposes of interpreting CMS rules and regs, yes.

Q Yes. And including the Booneville policies as well?

A Correct.

Q And so your next opinion, and that's why I ask you this, is that -- number two on page three of Exhibit 2-B, your January 6, 2023 report. You state, "Based upon a reasonable of medical certainty, other documents cited by LeBel," and you are referring to Doctor LeBel, the psychologist, with a Ph.D. in education as well, right?

A Yes, I am referring to Doctor LeBel.

Q That's what you --

A Yes.

Q Yes, to Doctor LeBel. You state that "other documents cited by LeBel, including materials generated by United Nations, the World Health Organization, SAMSHA," which is S-A-M-S-H-A, "and other sources, do not represent the standard of care for delivery of behavioral services at Booneville Human Development Center, Is that your statement?

A Yes.
Q Okay. And is that -- and I think we have established you reviewed Doctor LeBel's deposition and her report, did you not?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And in her report, did she not, at least, argue that the standard -- and her deposition that -- or at least insinuates that the standard of care per the Booneville Human Development Center was determined by the United Nations and the World Health Organization and SAMSHA, and a few other organizations?
A I think her report is difficult to interpret, because she offers her opinions in two different places in the report, and the opinions are not the same. On page one, or the first time she iterates her two opinions is materially different than the second place where she offers her opinion. So it makes it difficult to know exactly what her opinion is.
Q And I think -- so that's why I just want the record to be clear. Based upon your knowledge of the rules and regulations pertaining to ICF/IID, of those like Booneville Human Development Center, is it World Health Organization and United Nations guidelines that apply that determine the standard of care to be applied or is it CMS regulations interpreting the federal rules that apply?

A It is CMS regulations, which interpret the federal rules, in addition to the Arkansas and facility specific regulations, which can exceed the standard -- I will call it the minimal standards set by CMS. So Arkansas and BHDC are not constrained by a CMS if they wish to enact rules and regulations that might exceed in some way this CMS standard. But they at least, from a minimal perspective, need to be in compliance.

Q And that's -- but just to make it clear, my point being, is because of her testimony and reference to the United Nations, the World Health Organization, SAMSHA, and other nonCMS or Booneville or Arkansas sources is not the standard to be applied, correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. But I think it -- have you read -- did you read -- strike that question. Now, we know that, from what you -- well, you have stated and other witnesses stated, that the Appendix "J", the State Operations Manual's standard of care, and that also addresses how and when to perform restraints of residents, does it not?

A Appendix "J" is the interpretive guideline used by CMS to make a determination as to whether a facility complies with rules and regulations that CMS has established.
Q Okay. In Doctor LeBel's report, which you examined, correct, you reviewed?
A Yes.
Q She states that a -- in some places that a resident has the right to be free from abuse and restraint, does she not?
A She specifically states that residents have, quote, "a right to be free from abuse and restraint," end of quote.
Q Okay. And so would you agree with -- I mean, obviously with regard to abuse, I think, would you agree with the abuse, that they have a right to be free of abuse?
A Yes, I would.
Q Okay. And we are not talking about abuse in this case, are we?
A No, we are not.
Q Okay. We are talking about restraints here. Does other CMS regulation, does -- or even the CFR is just why you have a right to be free, a client of an HDC have a right to be free from restraint?

A There is no such unqualified right contained within the CFR or CMS rules and regulations or Appendix "J".
Q So to the extent Doctor LeBel holds an opinion that a resident of an ICF/IID, such as the Booneville Human Development Center, has a right to be free from restraint, would she be incorrect in that opinion?
A It's not simply a matter of her being incorrect in that opinion, it would have bearing upon her continuing to them use that as a standard of care with expectations that it could be met by BHDC. And it's an unrealistic expectation, because BHDC could never be expected to comply with, you know, that requirement that there be an unconditional right to be free from restraint.

BHDC is licensed and approved by CMS to operate a clinical treatment model, which incorporates restraint as one of the potential treatment modalities. It's contradictory to say that they would be approved to use those modalities, and at the same time residents had an unqualified right to be -- to not be subject to restraint.
Q Okay. And so just following up on that to be clear, CMS and the CFRs do authorize, when in compliance with their rules and regulations as interpreted by CMS, restraint of resident under those conditions?

A CMS recognizes the use of restraint as an approved treatment modality under certain conditions.

Q Okay. So in the United States of America and particularly in Arkansas and in Logan County, restraints in an ICF/IID, such as the Booneville Human Development Centers, when performed in compliance with CMS regulations as interpreted and Booneville Human Development Center policy, would be okay?

A It would be consistent with the standard of care.

Q Okay. So anybody, including Doctor LeBel, who said otherwise would be -- what would they be?

A They would be mistaken when Doctor LeBel states that individuals have a right to be free of restraint, she is mistaken, period, you know, there is no right for individuals in an ICFMR to be free of restraints. Restraints may be used subject to certain conditions.

Q Okay. Hold on one second. Now, in your report, which is Exhibit 2-B, your January 6, 2023, on page four you state that, quoting Doctor LeBel's report, quote, "Physical restraint is a potentially lethal procedure of last resort which is used as an emergency circumstance in the event of imminent danger when alternatives have been attempted and/or ruled out," and she was citing 42 CFR Section 483.450. And that's on her report on page four as well. Are you familiar with that?

A Yes, I am.

Q Is she accurate in that her requirement of imminent danger in the CFR, and then -- that's cited?

A No. I found this statement to be extremely confusing and misleading. I went to review CFR 483.45, I could find no language that specifically identified a condition for the use of restraint related to imminent danger.

Q Okay. That's --

A That language, "Imminent danger" did not appear in CFR 483.450.

Q Okay. And have you checked to see whether it appears in the restraint requirements under the Appendix "J" from CMS?

A Imminent danger does not appear anywhere in CFR, Appendix "J" or state or facility specific, you know, following these procedures. I don't know how anyone could have come to believe that language is reflective of the standard of care.

Q And we are talking about the standard of care for restraints if used, correct?
A Correct.
Q So imminent might be different standard, but that's not the one that is applied -- imminent danger might be some type of reference or standard for some other type of situation, but not for the use in administration of restraints in an ICF/IID, is that correct?
A Correct. An assessment of the risk of danger in leading to the use of restraints does not require that assessment of the risk of danger be imminent.
Q And so to the extent that she imposed that additional requirement, would she be wrong?
A She would be wrong, correct.
Q Now, I also want to point out in your report, Exhibit 2-B, which is the January 6, 2023 report on page five of your report, number, your opinion number 11, you state, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, while on the floor, Mr. Cains continued to demonstrate aggressive behavior towards Mr. Mattson and, subsequently, to other staff." Are you familiar with that opinion?
A Yes, yes, I am.

Q And is that based upon your review of the deposition testimony of Mr. Mattson and the other direct care staff who were present?

MR. GREEN: Objection form, exceeds the scope of this witness's areas of expertise.

MR. ROSEN: Well, I would disagree in that I'm asking him whether he reviewed the transcript testimony of those witnesses.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Doctor --

A Yes. I reviewed the transcript testimony of the witnesses, and witnesses indicated that Mr. Cains spat at Mr. Mattson and attempted to hit or strike Mr. Mattson and/or other direct care personnel.

Q And so based upon your review of Mr. Mattson's testimony and statements and the other witnesses who responded, direct care staff who responded, and their statements and testimony that you reviewed, based upon that testimony were you able to ascertain whether Mr. Cains had calmed down during the restraint while on the floor or not?

A The testimony of the witnesses indicated that Mr. Cains had not calmed down or achieved control over himself, which would have then allowed the staff to remove the restraints.

Q Okay. And so by any chance -- so you are familiar with the references in Appendix "J", right?
A Yes.
Q And so Appendix "J" has been provided to counsel in both discovery and it has been admitted to other depositions several times. I'm going to ask you, so in Appendix "J", I'm going to ask you to look at W296, it's a section reference.

MR. GREEN: Rich, I'm sorry. Did you say you were admitting this as an exhibit, Appendix "J"?

MR. ROSEN: I haven't yet. But what I was saying is that that has been provided to you many times.

MR. GREEN: It has. I just wanted to make sure I didn't -- I mean, I don't object to it being admitted, I just wanted to make sure I didn't miss it.

MR. ROSEN: Okay.

BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Doctor Kastner, are you there yet?
A Yes, yes, I'm -- I'm here.
Q And so W296 is interpreting the CFR 483.450(d)(1), and for the lack of better terms, two little (ii)s, correct? That's what it says, does it not?

A Can you give me a page number, would that be possible?
Q Yes, it would be. Hold on.
A I can do a quick search.
Q I don't know that it has page numbers on it.
A The pdf does.
Q It's under the restraint policy.
A Right, I see it, it's page 158. Okay.
Q Okay.
A Yes.
Q And so one -- I'm referring to Appendix "J", section W296, do you see that?
A Yes, I do.
Q Okay. And so this is, as we have -- as you have stated before, this is the Federal Government CMS's interpretation of how to apply the federal rules in facilities, correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. Now, and this is interpreting 42 CFR 483.450(d)(1)(ii)?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And that is -- this is the restraint policy for the use at the Booneville Human Development Center, at least the federal requirement, correct?

A Correct.

Q And so even guidance from CMS as to how it needs to be applied, the standard to be applied, it says, "Physical restraint may be used as emergency intervention only in situations where the client is exhibiting behaviors which:", and it has three, one being "the client has not exhibited before"; two, "were not identified in the functional analysis of behavior; or three, "are harming other people or themselves".

Now, you are familiar with this document and that section, are you not?

A Yes, I am.

Q Okay. And so would people who were familiar with the operation and administration of ICF/IIDs and the administration of restraint use in there be expected to understand these as well?

A Let me provide you with a little bit of context. CMS allows restraints to be used in two broad categories of application. The first being what are called program restraints, which would be very much described in the individual's behavior treatment plan. And the second would be emergency restraints.

And so we are referring here in this section to the application of restraints in emergency situations, not program restraints, which would be characterized in a very different way. These are restraints which are being used specifically to address more of an emergency situation.

Q Okay. And so -- okay.

A That's important, because some people would say, "This is a program restraint," and it's not. And therefore, it won't meet the same standards for documentation as a program restraint.

Q Okay. And so for those people that -- and as a matter of fact, both in the CFR and in the guidance of the CFR, the interpretation of the CFR has to be applied, says, talks about an emergency interventions, is that correct?

A It's an emergency safety measure as is noted here.

Q Okay. And so you are explaining that there is also, I guess, program intended restraint use, but that's not what we are talking about here?

A Correct. And it's important not to confuse the two, because program restraints are more fully described in the behavior support plan. Whereas emergency restraints are employed to address, as it notes here, emergency safety measures to support the health and safety of individuals and the staff at the facility. So these are different, and the criteria for their use and the manner in which they are used is very much different.

Q Okay. And so what I'm asking is, is that, so there is -- for emergency restraint use, it identifies three circumstances, with semicolons, using an "or". Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q Okay. How would you -- how is that applied and interpreted by CMS, how is the "or", what is the -- strike that question. Let me ask you. What is the impact of the disjunctive "or" in interpretation or application of this policy?

MR. GREEN: Object to form, calls for a legal conclusion.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q Go ahead.

A The functional level. If individuals are engaging in behaviors which can harm other people or can harm themselves. Staff meets the standard of care when they apply emergency safety measures, including the application of restraints.

Q Okay. So when you are -- would it be people who are familiar in this industry, would they -- would all three have to be existing at the same time or is it any or all of them, or any of them rather?

A In this instance, if staff are -- I'm sorry. If the individuals being supported at the facility engage in behaviors which are harmful to people or themselves, staff are permitted to use emergency safety measures, including restraint, to address those behaviors.

Q So you don't need one, two and three, because it says "or", you would need one, two or three that are listed, is that correct?

A I think that's a reasonable interpretation. There are some behaviors which may be addressed through, as we described it, the planned behavioral programming. But in this instance, for the purposes of emergency intervention, it is appropriate to use those emergency safety measures when individuals are harming other people or themselves.

Q Okay. So, and you would expect that some, would you -- let me ask it this way. Would you expect somebody familiar with these regulations and interpretations of CMS, as applies to ICF/IIDs to know that not all three of them are required at the same time under emergency intervention?

A Yes.
Q Okay. Now, also, since you have your -- the manual out, the -- excuse me, Appendix "J" out, I'm going to ask you to look at W302, okay? And W302, which is a few pages later states, you know, it's applying 42 CFR 483.450(d)(4), which says, "The client," just says, "released from the restraint as quickly as possible." Okay. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And the guidance from CMS is defining here what "quickly as possible" means?
A Yes, I see this.
Q Okay. And so how does the state -- CMS in their State Operations Manual, Appendix "J" define "release as quickly as possible"?
A CMS and the surveyors want individuals to be able to control themselves, and specifically in regard to how long restraints should be used, "As quickly as possible" means the time at which a determination is made that the individual is no longer a danger to theirself or others as manifested by their becoming calm.
Q In fact, becoming calm is exactly what the interpretation says, correct?
A Correct, yes. That's the observable measure, the behavior that staff would need to observe in order to ascertain that the individual was no longer a danger to themselves or others.

Q Okay. Now, just working our way through these opinions, and again, your opinions. I'm not going to go through every one, because they are in the record. But on number 15 on page five of Exhibit 2-B, you state, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Booneville Human Development Center personnel are not required to demonstrate," quote, "imminent danger," unquote, "before the use of restraint." Is that your opinion?

A Yes, it is.

Q Okay. And that -- and you have explained this a few minutes ago when we were talking about the requirements, or lack of requirements, for imminent danger and the use of restraints, right?

A Correct. The staff need to use the correct language in order to reach a determination as to whether or not restraints should be used, or not, and imminent is not a criteria or a categorization of the risk that occurs within any of relevant guidance.

Q Are you familiar with -- let me ask you this. Do you know what the Booneville Human Development Center maltreatment reporting requirements are?

A I'm familiar with them, yes.
Q Okay. And so there is a -- so is there a difference between employment of restraints and the requirement to report abuse, are they two different things?
A They are very different things,
Q Okay. Now, again referring back to Exhibit 2-B, your January 6, 2023 report, on number 17 you state, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains did not demonstrate a, quote, "withdrawal reflex", period, unquote.
A Correct.
Q And you reviewed, as you said, Doctor LaBel's report and testimony, and she made those references about a withdrawal reflex. Do you recall that?
A Yes, yes, I do, very much so.
Q And that's why you put that in there, to discuss that, correct?
A Yes. I read Doctor LeBel's opinion and her description about what a withdrawal reflex was, and I actually reviewed the citation that was included in her report. Doctor LeBel characterized "withdrawal reflex" as an autonomic nervous system response, which was primarily defensive. She referred specifically to the reflex as having its origins in the autonomic nervous system, which is completely inconsistent with even the most basic understanding of neuroanatomy and neurophysiology.

The autonomic nervous system controls hear rate, blood pressure, breathing rate and sexual arousal. And I don't understand the relevance of any of those systems to a withdrawal reflex. And reflexes, by their nature, are involuntary. It's inappropriate to characterize a reflex as either defensive or offensive, they are neither. They are simply a reflection of the way the nervous system is wired.

Reflexes are observed, not withdrawal reflexes, in particular, observe primarily an individual to have severe brain injury. The article makes it clear that they are talking about things like the withdrawal of the large toe to stimulation on the bottom of the sole of the foot. I have no idea what she is talking about. It's inconsistent with neuroanatomy and physiology.

There is nothing behavioral that she can describe in terms of what a withdrawal reflex would look like. It's just -- it's gratuitous, that's all I can say.

Q Okay. And so you know, as a layperson, she -- and I understand you disagree with her, and you are a physician and she is not, right?

A I am a physician and she is not. That is correct.
Q And so I see here she is talking about a withdrawal reflex, which you have just described what it really -- what that means. Another witness, Doctor Brown-Forestiere said, "fight or flight" reaction. Is that something different than a withdrawal reflex?
A Withdrawal reflex reflects the anatomy of the nervous system. There is a sensory nerve -- let's say we are talking about the bottom of the foot, there is a sensory nerve in the bottom of your foot, it runs all the way from the bottom of the foot to the spinal cord. That is one nerve cell, reaches all the way to three feet in length, connects to a motor neuron in the spinal cord, which goes back down to the muscles of the foot, and activates a withdrawal of the foot when you stimulate the sole of the foot.

That's really -- spinal cord anatomy, the fight or flight reaction is related to a discharge of norepinephrine from the adrenal glands, which sits on top of the kidney. It's -- it involves the nervous system to the degree that, again this is an involuntary function, and they have some -- the nervous system has an impact on the discharge of catecholamine, but they are completely different and unrelated. Again, I don't understand how the fight or flight reaction applied to this specific instance.

Q So each -- in the opinion of each of these doctors, Doctor LeBel, who thinks it's a withdrawal reflex, and she is not a physician, and Doctor Brown-Forestiere, who is a physician says it's a fight or flight. They are talking about two different things, are they not?

A Well, those are completely different.

Q Even if it was --

A One is related to the anatomy of the spinal cord and the peripheral nervous system. And the other is related to the functioning of the adrenal glands sitting on top of the kidney. They are completely different. I have no idea how anyone could possibly connect the two.

Q Now, on page six of your report, which is Exhibit 2-B, the January 6, 2023 report, you state, number 23, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, there is no need to place Mr. Cains on a," quote, "Do Not Restrain List," period, unquote.

A Correct.

Q There was testimony by -- or an opinion expressed by Doctor LeBel that David Cains could have been put on a "Do Not Restrain List", is that correct?

A She did testify to that. And if he had been put on a "Do Not Restrain List", it would have deprived him of treatment, which the staff at BHDC and the guardian both agreed were important to his health and safety. There is an interdisciplinary process that's in place to look at the behavioral programming that he received, that behavioral programming was explained to the guardian, who consented to it. To place Mr. Cains on a Do Not Restrain List would have deprived him of the treatments that the team and the guardian felt were appropriate to meet his needs.

Q Okay. And it's -- because I understand -- are you aware whether there are people at the Booneville Human Development Center who are on the Do Not Restrain List?

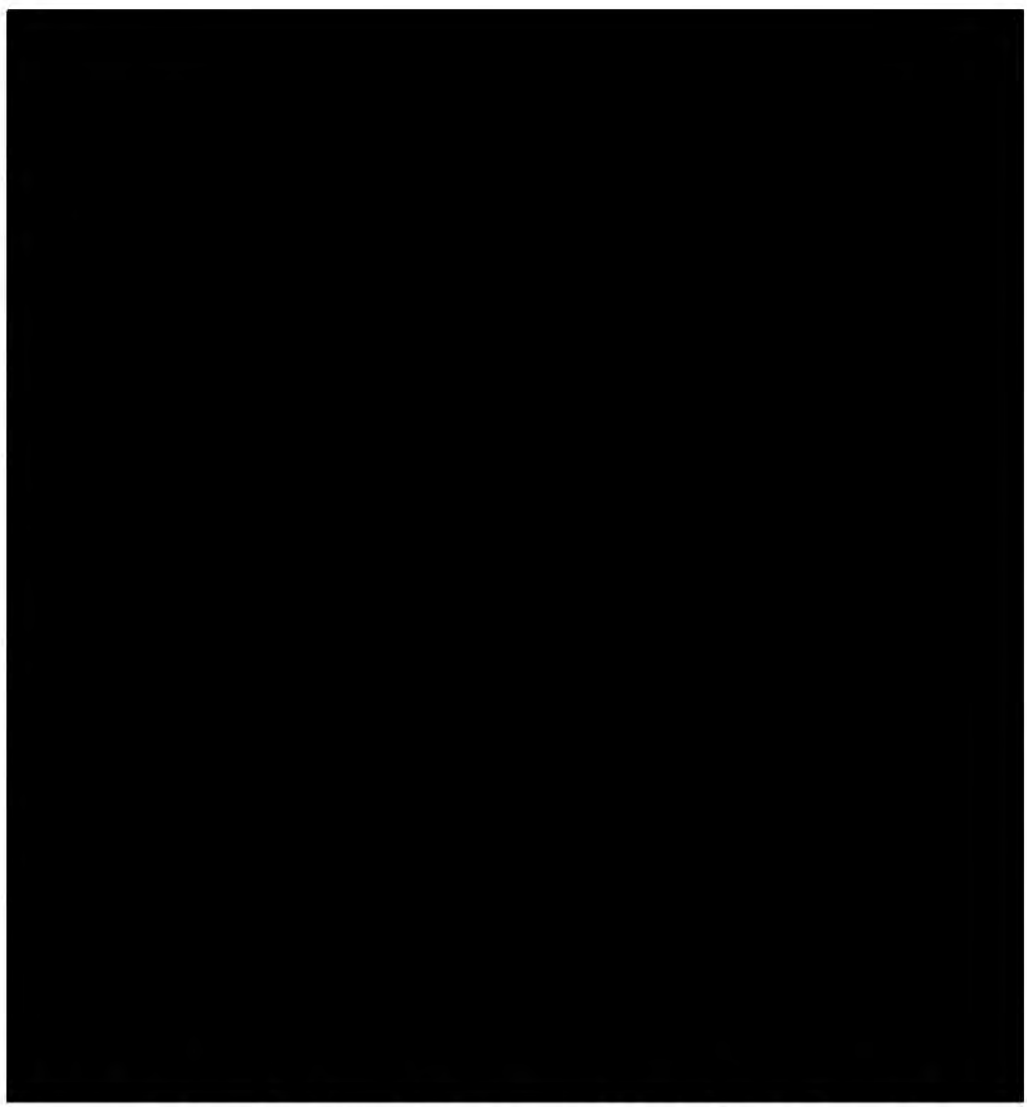
A I didn't review any material that would allow me to reach a conclusion in that regard.

[redacted]

[redacted]

So he doesn't maintain a list. It's really information that he provides to the interdisciplinary process that makes a final determination about which treatments are appropriate.

Q Now, on page six again, your opinion number 25 of Exhibit 2-B states, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the emergency response system at BHDC," which is the Booneville Human Development Center, "does not represent an obstacle for emergency response and life saving intervention", period. And we discussed this a little bit earlier, did we not, about the timing and so on. Can you explain that in a little more detail?



A My opinion in 25 is a general opinion about the emergency response system and how emergency care is rendered to people at the facility in general. There is a policy that staff needs to call the nursing personnel, and allow the nursing personnel to perform an assessment and make a determination as to whether additional treatment is required or not.

I do not believe that that policy is an impediment to people receiving appropriate emergency services and life saving intervention. My opinions incorporate my belief that the nursing staff are perfectly qualified to provide life saving support. And this is a matter of general operation of the facility.

Q Well --

[redacted]

Q And so the fact that they called for the nurse team to respond and provide emergency services, and they responded within, some say one to two minutes, I think somewhere else in the record it said two to three minutes. So around two minutes, in your -- to a reasonable degree of medical certainty based upon what you just testified to and your opinion in your report, would have made a different outcome in this case?

A Absolutely not. If Mr. Scow had been sitting next to Mr. Cains in that hallway at the time Mr. Cains stopped breathing, it would have taken Mr. Scow nine minutes to clear the airway, well beyond the four or five minutes that Doctor Forestiere has testified result in brain injury. The --

Q And the --

A It was not able -- it was not something that could be overcome by appropriate emergency care.

Q Just a few more questions, Doctor. In your report on page seven of Exhibit 2-B, you are restating what Doctor LeBel testified to. And there is a term in there that I don't what it's meaning is, at least I don't remember it, and it's "proximal". She says "The physical restraint used on DC proximal to his death." What does "proximal" mean?

A I can't offer my personal opinion on proximal, because I didn't use the term. But I believe in her deposition there was a discussion about the term, and she used "proximal" to mean occurring at around the same time. So I think she agreed that the physical restraints and vomiting and subsequently death occurring around the same time. But she also clarified that "proximal" did not mean it was a causative, that one did not lead to the other. The restraint in this instance did not lead to vomiting.

Q Okay.

MR. ROSEN: Counsel, it is 1:20. If we could take about a five minute break, I just want to wrap up and make sure I have asked all the questions that I intend to ask, and review my notes.

MR. GREEN: Let's -- can we make it ten since I'm going to be starting after that?

MR. ROSEN: Yes.

MR. GREEN: All right. Thanks.

MR. ROSEN: So for everybody, it's about 1:20 or so. Why don't we come back at 1:30?

MR. GREEN: Sounds good.

(WHEREUPON, there was a brief break.)

MR. ROSEN: We are back on the record after a break. I have completed my questions. Thank you, Doctor Kastner. Counsel?

MR. GREEN: Thank you.

CROSS EXAMINATION

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Good afternoon, Doctor Kastner. How are you?

A Good. How are you, Mr. Green?

Q I'm all right. I'm going to be asking you some questions today. If you can't hear me at any time, will you please let me know right away?

A Yes.

Q And if you don't understand my question, will you let me know right away so that I can rephrase it or clarify it?

A Yes.

Q And if you need to take a break, you know, for any reason, just let me know. This isn't an endurance contest, it's not torture. So any time you need a break, just ask for a break. I just ask that if I have asked a question, you answer before we take a break. Is that okay?

A Yes. Thank you.

Q Doctor, you testified earlier about serving as a commissioner in the State of New York and described that. When did you leave that position?

A I have got my dates straight, just a moment, October 2021.

Q And what was the reason that you left the position?

A Change in leadership in state government.
Q Okay. So was there --
A A new governor came in and wanted to appoint her own cabinet.
Q Got you. All right. And since October 2021, I know you have obviously done consulting on this, but have you been employed by any other agency or institution?
A No.
Q Has, since October 2021, have you been solely self-employed?
A Yes.
Q And I know obviously you have this work you are doing for the State of Arkansas, do you do consulting with other agencies and governmental organizations?
A Yes.
Q Since October 2021, approximately how many other organizations or agencies have you provided consulting services to?
A I don't know offhand. At least one, and possibly a couple of others, but one for certain.
Q Okay. So it is under half a dozen?
A Oh, yes, yes, under half a dozen.

Q I'm going to use the word "client", not in the sense of the people at the human development center, but as the State of Arkansas is your client that you are providing services for. Do you currently have any other client that you are providing consulting services for as of today?
A No.
Q All right. When is the first time that you did work for the State of Arkansas?
A I don't recall exactly. It would have been in the mid-2000s, and I'm thinking is 2005 or '06 --
Q I'm sorry. I did not mean to interrupt you.
A In 2005 or '06, somewhere around there.
Q Okay. And do you remember what you did for the state back then?
A It was in regard to potential litigation at the Conway Human Developmental Center.
Q And did you end up having to testify in any depositions or court proceedings?
A Yes.
Q And do you know for approximately how many years you provided those services for that project?
A I believe the trial occurred in 2010, although again, I could be mistaken. And that would then mean, you know, four or five years of engagement in that activity.

Q And that case was tried in federal court, correct?
A Correct.
Q In providing those services that you just described for that particular case, do you remember approximately how much in total you billed the State of Arkansas and received as payment for your services?
A No.
Q Would approximately $900,000.00 over that period sound accurate to you?
A No, it would not.
Q Do you believe it would be higher or lower?
A Lower.
Q In the mid-2000s, 2005 or '06, I think you said, until around 2010, the date of when you thought the trial was, was the only case that you were working for the State of Arkansas that particular one that you have mentioned involving the Conway Human Development Center?
A To the best of my recollection.
Q And I know your name is Theodore, but I think it was stated early you do go by "Ted", is that correct?

A Correct.
Q I will call you Doctor Kastner, but I just want to make sure, because I think on some documents you are referred as Theodore, some as Ted. After the Conway Human Development Center case, when was the next time that you performed services for the State of Arkansas?
A After that case, I was engaged as a neurology consultant at the Southeast Arkansas Human Developmental Center.
Q And where was it located?
A That's in Warren, Arkansas.
Q And what type of work did you -- or services did you provide in relation to that Center?
A Clinical work.
Q And do you know approximately how long or from what date to what date you did work at that Center in Warren?
A I don't remember the specific dates, it was about three or four years.
Q And was that after the Conway Human Development Center case had resolved?
A To my memory, the best of my memory, yes.
Q After your three to four year time at Warren, what was the next time that you performed services or otherwise did work for the State of Arkansas?

A I don't believe there have been any since then.
Q Until this case?
A I believe that that's correct -- oh, I'm sorry. There was an engagement earlier this year -- last year, I'm sorry, around the development of -- some recommendations for behavioral services. I --
Q Okay. Tell me -- I'm sorry, I didn't mean to interrupt you.
A No, I'm done.
Q And that was the beginning of, I think you said "this year", do you mean 2023, or last year, 2022?
A Last year, 2022.
Q I have still been making the mistake. It usually is mid-February before I get it right.
A Right.
Q So approximately when in 2022 did you start work on these recommendations?
A Oh, February and March 2022. And I think we concluded the work in September of 2022.
Q Okay. Can you just briefly describe for me what type of services you provided during that time period with respect to the recommendations?
A We were asked to partner with an individual who had been referred by Disability Rights Arkansas to provide some recommendations to the state regarding the delivery of behavioral services.

Q All right. When you say "we", did you do this work in conjunction with other people?
A There were three, all together, myself, someone named Kevin Walsh, and Robert Bowen.
Q Can you tell me who those gentlemen are?
A Kevin Walsh is a Ph.D. level psychologist. Robert Bowen is -- I will try to describe him. He is not -- he doesn't have any advance training, but he is utilized in some instances as a behavioral consultant.
Q And you say it concluded in September of last year?
A I believe it concluded in September 2022 with the submission of a final report.
Q That was my next question. So was there a final report that you submitted?
A Yes, on behalf of the three of us.
Q Of the three of you that worked on that, were you the lead essentially on the project? Would that be fair to say?
A No, it wouldn't. I think we approached it as partners, all sharing in the work.
Q Okay. All right. So the report would reflect all, the consensus among all three of you as to the recommendations?

A I believe that's fair to say, yes.

Q Okay. All right. So you did a final report in September. Did you submit any interim reports, monthly reports, email, check-ins with any particular people with the state?

A There was a process of -- that was agreed upon and put into place for disseminating information and collecting information, so there are multiple emails exchanged between the three of us and the state.

Q Did you have a primary contact person at the state?

A Yes. There were multiple contacts, because we were collecting data at each of the HDCs. There was an HDC contact and there were also contacts within the central office. So there are multiple contacts.

Q Who were your main contacts at the central office?

A Tammy Bimbrook.

Q Okay.

A I think there were some contacts with the Director Stone -- I'm sorry, I know that she's married, I don't know her married name. And then contacts with the superintendents at the facilities and also staff who worked at those facilities, in particular, the behavioral specialist.

Q All right. Do you remember who you had contact or communication with at the Booneville center? And when I say "center", you know I "mean human development center", correct?

A Sure, yes. Well, we had multiple contacts, because we were engaged in collecting information from multiple sources within each center. So we would have been in contact with the superintendent, with the head of the psychology department, and others. I don't remember the specific protocol, but there individuals who were responsible for providing us with surveys that were to be completed, who were made available for interviews. So there would be probably five or six people at each facility.

Q You said "surveys to be completed". Did you have the individuals at Booneville center fill out these surveys themselves or did you conduct these surveys or one of the members of your team? And by "team" I mean the three of you that wrote the report. Did y'all conduct the surveys or did the people at the center -- the Booneville center fill them out themselves?

A Both. So there were requests for information around behavioral restraint use data that -- resources from the centers in order to look at their use of restraints. And then there was also a more qualitative survey, which was comprised of interviewing individuals using a structured interview.

Q And did you -- well, let me ask first just about you personally. Did you travel to Arkansas to personally or in person meet with the individuals at the Booneville center, or was it conducted at a distance?

A The entire consultation was conducted remotely.

Q Okay. When you say "entire", do you mean the other two people that worked on the project with you, you all did it remotely?

A Yes.

Q Do you know approximately how much you were compensated for the work on the recommendations?

A I have to -- I know that you are characterizing these as recommendations. I have to back and be sure that that's exactly what the purpose of the consultation was, but to respond to your question, I'm not sure exactly what the compensation was.

Q Okay. And yes, I thought you had said that it involved evaluating and dealing with some, I think you used the word "recommendations", I could be wrong. And certainly, if I use a word while we are in this deposition that's not correct, will you let me know?

A Yes, I will.

Q Do you think that you yourself may have received approximately $12,800.00 for those services? Does that sound about right?

A Sure, it is the right ballpark.

Q And I know you said that you worked at the Warren facility, and then I think you said, between that and work on this particular case involving Mr. Cains, you did the consulting services we just discussed with the other two gentlemen. When were you hired to work specifically on Mr. Cains' case, or related to Mr. Cains' case?

A You broke up a little bit and there was a connection that you were trying to make between work at Warren and this consultation, and I didn't hear that.

Q I wasn't making a connection, I was just trying to get a timeline. My question is, when were you hired to specifically provide services on this case, the case related to Mr. Cains?

A I was engaged, I wouldn't say hired. I don't see myself as their agent. But I was engaged as an expert in probably November of 2022.

Q So November 2022. And I wasn't trying to infer that you are the agent, I just meant that you were retained, hired, agreed to provide services. So, I'm not trying to infer any kind of agency relationship. Do you know how much you have billed for since November 2022 to this particular case?

A No, I haven't billed -- I haven't billed for anything.

Q Do you have a written contract regarding the services that you are providing for this case involving Mr. Cains'?

A No.

Q Is your billing on an hourly basis for this particular case, or is there some other type of structure as far as compensation?

A It's hourly billing.

Q How much are you billing per hour?

A $300.00 per hour for reviewing materials and preparation of reports, and $400.00 per hour for attendance at depositions and testimony.

Q Do you have an idea of approximately how many hours in review and preparation you spent on this particular case?

A Not right now, no.
Q All right. I'm assuming you keep records of those hours, correct?
A Yes.
Q And I'm going to ask questions occasionally that you know I know the answer, that you keep those records, and you know that I know it, and I know you would tell it, and I have to ask it just to get it on the record. So if I ask a question that seems obvious, I'm just trying to make sure we have a clean record, all right?
A Yes.
Q All right. Now, did you perform any work related to the former human development center that was located at Alexander?
A Yes.
Q Do you --
A Excuse me?
Q Do you remember when that was approximately?
A 2008, 2009, 2010, somewhere in there.
Q So I'm trying to -- I have to put my readers back on here. So that would have been during the same time frame that you were providing the services related to the Conway Human Development Center case that was involved in litigation in federal court?

A Yes, they would have overlapped.
Q Okay. So earlier when you said that while you were doing that work on the Conway Human Development Center case, you didn't believe you were doing any other work for the State of Arkansas, you were mistaken, you actually were doing some work related to the Alexander Human Development Center, correct?
A It was to the best of my recollection. And I appreciate the reminder.
Q Yes. And I'm not implying you were intentionally lying, you just forgot about that particular engagement or work, correct.
A It has been 15 years ago, it's not something at the front of mind.
Q I understand. Are there any other times that you have provided work for services for the State of Arkansas, other than those that we have discussed, that you can recall at this time?
A Well, as I recall, the work at the Alexander Human Developmental Center involved depopulating the center and closing it. Some of the individuals who left the center were hospitalized at the Arkansas State Hospital. And we did provide consultation at the State Hospital to a unit that was specifically built for the purposes of supporting people with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

But I don't know if I would consider that a separate engagement or a continuation of the work at Alexander. But we were certainly involved with care at the State Psychiatric Hospital.

Q Would the care that you provided at the State Hospital, did that involve children or adults?

A Children.

Q All right. And when you were -- I'm going to use the word "hired", again, I don't mean to imply anything by it. But when you were engaged, hired to do the work with respect to the Alexander facility or human development center, were you told right from the moment that you were informed about the work they needed, that their goal was to go ahead and shut down that facility, and as you say, depopulate it?

A I don't believe that that was a plan that was in place at the time we were engaged. But it was clear that that became the goal of the consultation while we were engaged. And ultimately we were responsible for the closure of the facility.

Q All right. Can you just give me a little more detail on the Alexander facility, what type of services you provided?

A Well, you --

Q Were they consultant type services -- I'm sorry, or were they administrative type services providing medical care services?

A It was inclusive of both. We had a staffing relationship in that we provided the key clinical staff to oversee the process of simultaneously improving the quality of care at the facility and closing the facility. So we hired and retained the services of an individual to serve as the superintendent.

We provided infrastructure for managing the facility, the morning rounds, the on-calls, you know, the things that are necessary to successfully operate a facility and to try to improve the quality of care while at the same time looking at how we could downsize and ultimately close the facility.

Q Earlier you told me about the consulting work you did last year, and mentioned that there were two gentlemen that you did that work with as a group. The work that you did Alexander, was there a similar group of other people that you worked with, or were you hired or engaged independently?

A There had been an organization that had a staffing relationship with Arkansas to operate the facility, I believe that was Liberty Healthcare. At some point Arkansas made a determination that they no longer wished to continue with Liberty. And our initial engagement, I believe, was to assume the responsibility for providing that staffing resource.

So we worked with multiple individuals who we engaged as contractors to provide services. And I believe there were other agencies involved, though, but -- other organizations involved, though, but I can't recall specifically. One of them may have been a behavioral health provider in New Jersey. But I don't recall the specific details around the contract and --

Q I understand. I guess my question is, as you were just answering, you several times said "We did this, we did that." I guess I'm wondering who the "we" is.

A Well, I don't believe that the contract was between the State of Arkansas and Ted Kastner or T. Kastner, and I don't remember or recall specifically the agent -- agencies that contracted, you know, if it was DDHA or some other. So I'm using the term, because there is some ambiguity which reflects my uncertainty as to who or what, specifically, entered into a contract with Arkansas.

Q Understood. So you said that you -- or "we" did the -- hired a superintendent. So do you recall, did you advertise that position? Do you recall how you recruited the person?

A I'm -- you're probably aware, I know a lot of people, I have been doing this a long time, and I have a network of relationships that I could rely upon to identity an individual to serve as an interim superintendent. So I utilized my personal network to identify someone.

Q And you had hiring authority over that person, is that right?

A It was a staffing relationship, so the -- we provided the staff to the State of Arkansas for the purposes of delivering the services needed to support Alexander in very much the same way that had existed prior, I believe with Liberty Healthcare. There are a --

Q Did you --

A -- number of agencies that do that, so it's a fairly commonly accepted practice within the field.

Q Have you ever been either the sole owner or a partial owner of a business that was incorporated or chartered here in the State of Arkansas?

A Yes.

Q Can you tell me the names of those organizations or entities?

A I believe it was called Arkansas Psychiatric Management Services.
Q Do you recall, were you the sole owner or did you have co-owners?
A I had a co-owner. There were two owners of that corporation.
Q Do you recall when it came into existence and if it's still in existence, or if not, when it ended?
A It came into existence in 2012 or '13. And it was for the purposes of contracting with the State of Arkansas to provide services at the Warren Human Developmental Center. And as I mentioned, I discontinued my provision of services in Warren sometime in the middle of the prior decade, and it was at that point that I ended my relationship with Arkansas Psychiatric Management Services.

I don't know if it continues to exist, what contracts it had or currently has. It has been a number of years since I have had any affiliation with that organization.
Q All right. Are there any other organizations that fit the description that I described earlier when you said that you had been an owner or a partial owner?

A Not that I am aware of, no.
Q Okay.
A Now, you are specifically referring to organizations in Arkansas?
Q Yes. Those corporations or other -- yes, corporations or businesses, licensed, chartered in the State of Arkansas.
A I believe that's the only one.
Q You told me -- not me, told us all that earlier your residency was in pediatrics, is that correct?
A Correct.
Q All right. And I know that you did work with children at the Arkansas State Hospital, as you have testified to. Are you -- before you went to work for the State of New York, were you working more predominantly with children or adults, or was that an equal mix? Can you give me an approximation?
A I think I mentioned earlier that my practice had a total caseload of about 4,000 individuals, and I would say that two/thirds to 75 percent, three/quarters were adults, with the remainder being children.
Q Okay. And I know we testified about a lot of standards, and I will ask you about some specifics later. But in general are there policies and standards regarding the use of restraints as used involving children that are different than those involving adults?

A The answer would depend upon what jurisdiction you would be discussing.

Q Well, let me first ask about federal standards, so federal rules, regulations, statutes. Did those differentiate between -- the use of restraints between children and adults?

A I think the standards are more site specific than age specific. So for example, a facility licensed as an ICFMR or ICF/IDD, which could serve children and adults, would have one set of standards, whereas a facility that was licensed under some different authority would have different standards. So I don't think it's necessarily children versus adults from the federal perspective as much as it is setting to setting.

Q Did the State of New York have different rules and procedures and policies, regulations, with respect to the differentiation between children and adults as regarding restraint use?

A Within the state agency that I had oversight, we served children and adults. Our policies and procedures related to restraint use at the two public ICF/IDDs that we operated were the same. There are other state agencies that provided oversight of services to children and others that provided oversight to children and adults. I can't speak to what they do, because that was not under the scope of my authority.

So for example, the mental health service system provides services to children and adults. If you have had any residential and nonresidential settings, I can't speak to how the system of care is organized for children and adults with mental health services, and nor could I comment on how the state approached restraint in its foster care system.

But I would say in the IDD system, the approach to restraint was more specific to the licensing requirements for the settings in which individuals resided, not so much their age.

Q Understood. And this is going to be my last question about children and adults. Do you know if the State of Arkansas has any different standards, regulations or rules regarding the use of restraints as to differentiate between children and adults?

A Just as in the State of New York, I believe that the human service system in Arkansas is divided into different entities in which the scope varies. So in the DDS system, relative to the operation of human developmental centers, the ICF/IDDs, I do not believe that there are different standards for the care provided to children versus adults.

I believe that the only standards which apply are the CMS standards and Arkansas policy and local facility policy. That doesn't mean that there aren't rules and regs that were applied to children in other types of settings, even perhaps within the DD system. But I don't believe within the ICF/IDD that there is a division, a set of standards that apply to adults versus a set of standards that apply to children.

Q Okay. With respect to the human development centers, I'm going to focus on those for a moment. I know that you have discussed the standard of care that applies and where it comes from. And I think you said it comes from a few different places. One is the federal government, right?

A Correct.

Q And those are what have been referred to as the CMS regulations, correct?

A Yes.

Q And you testified those are a minimum level of standards that must be complied with, correct?

A I chose that word "minimal" because it's a word that Doctor LeBel uses in her publications and in her report. She characterizes the CMS standards as minimal. I characterize them as the standard that needs to be met.

Q As it applies -- the standard that needs to be met with respect to standards established by the federal government, correct?

A No. I'm saying the standard of care.

Q Okay. Well, doesn't the State of Arkansas also set it's own rules and regulations that must be complied with by the human development centers?

A The state -- there must be some consistency between the state and the federal government in terms of state and facility policies. So they should incorporate the federal standards and not create a disagreement. As, I think Doctor LeBel has noted, states can exceed the federal requirement in certain respects, if they so choose to do so. But they can't diminish or, you know, under-perform relative to the federal standards.

Q Good. And that is exactly what I thought you had testified to earlier. And in addition to the state rules and regulations, the individual facility, the Booneville Human Development Center, in this case, sets it's own set of rules and policies and procedures, correct?

A There are policies and procedures that have been promulgated by Booneville Human Development Center, yes.
Q And am I correct in saying that the procedures and policies that are set by the Booneville center cannot go below what CMS dictates as the standards, but they can go above, just like the state can, is that correct?
A Yes, they could.
Q And so am I correct in believing that the overall standard of care is a combination of the CMS rules, the state rules, and the rules of the facility combined? And then, I understand they may all be the same, the state and the facility made, to the exact same as CMS. But if they do more, the standard of care would incorporate the more that they do, correct?
A That could be the case.
Q Well, is there an instance where that would not be the case with --
A I'm not aware --
Q -- respect to the Booneville Human --
A I'm not aware -- I'm sorry. I didn't hear you.
Q That's okay. Could that be the case with respect to the Booneville Human Development Center?

A I can't speculate about what could or could not be the case. I can say I am unaware of any Booneville specific policy that is inconsistent with both the state and federal standards of care.
Q Right. And I'm -- my question wasn't exactly about inconsistencies. My question is this, and I will be very specific with respect to the Booneville Human Development Center, would you agree with me that in June of 2020, the appropriate standard of care would have been the rules and regulations promulgated by CMS, plus anything extra required by the state's rules and regulations, plus anything extra, if at all, that are put in place by the facility?
A I can't comment because of the speculative nature of the question.
Q Well --
A I wasn't asked to opine about speculative, you know, events. My opinions are related to the practices that I observed and the policies and procedures that I reviewed, and I did not find, in my review, an instance that would be described in the manner in which you have just presented your speculative scenario.

Q So you're not aware of any situation where, as of June 2020, the State of Arkansas or the Booneville Human Development Center, provided additional extra rules and regulations above what CMS required?
A In specific to the care provided to Mr. Cains, I would say, yes, I am unaware. But that is not exhaustive of every instance in which BHDC or Arkansas may have policies and procedures in place that have a relationship to the federal regulations.
Q Okay. So part of your work on this case was to give an opinion as to the standard of care that applied to Mr. Cains, correct?
A In part, correct.
Q And is what you are saying, that your testimony is that the standards established by the State of Arkansas and Booneville center are the same as what was established by CMS at the time of this incident?
A I believe that they are consistent.
Q My questions isn't "are they consistent", it's "are they the same"?
A They are not exactly the same, because there are different words that are used. For example, in Booneville policy, the staff are instructed that they can use restraint when there is a potential for harm and a risk to safety. And I believe that word "potential" is used, but I'm not sure that that word appears in the relevant CMS guidance.

CMS clearly indicates that restraint can be used when there is a risk, but doesn't use that word "potential". So there are differences, but I don't believe there are inconsistencies.

Q All right. And I just want to make sure I'm clear. Are you also saying you don't believe there are extra protections or extra regulations that go above and beyond the CMS? And if you don't know what I mean by "extra", let me know.

A I would like you to help me understand what you mean by "extra", if you can give me a --

Q Do you remember --

A -- give me an example -- excuse me. Let me finish, please.

Q I will.

A If you would give me an example, I would appreciate that, because in the materials which I did review, I didn't see anything, quote, unquote, "extra".

Q Okay. Well, I will go through some specific rules and regulations a little bit later, and then I may come back around to this point at that time. All right. But you don't disagree with me that the standard of care that applied to my client at the time of this incident would have been to make sure that there was compliance with the rules and regulations from CMS, the state, and the facility, correct?

A Again, let me just say a couple of things. The first -- the standard of care doesn't apply to Mr. Cains. Mr. Cains was an individual receiving treatment and care from the facility, the standard of care applies to the facility itself, and the professionals rendering care at the facility.

Second, I anticipated that we were going to have a discussion at some point about what exactly a standard means, and that we may have a difference of opinion as to how a standard is defined and implemented. So if regulation, which I agree would represent a standard says that professional staff need to consider something, then my estimation of compliance with that standard would mean that they did consider what would be subsequent in that policy.

Or if a "standard", quote, unquote, represented a policy that was intended to provide a guideline, my assessment would be that a facility and staff would be compliant with that policy, if they accepted the guideline. And in accepting the guideline, you recognize there is just a lot of variation in practice.

So I just want to make it clear, we are talking -- we are potentially talking about different things when you talk about compliance with a standard and I talk about clinical practice.

Q Okay. What do you mean, when you earlier testified about standard of care, what did you mean by "standard"?

A Well, again, I was responding to Doctor LeBel's report, in particular, when she uses that term "standard". I found it really difficult to read her report and see her say that the standard of care was defined by the United Nations or the World Health Organization, or publications that she has written, when I know that they have absolutely no bearing on what is required to happen at a facility.

I realize in providing a consultation to Arkansas I need to be able to discuss a standard of care. And my appraisal of what a standard is, is the expectation of what a reasonably qualified person or facility in this instance, would be expected to do, based upon their education, training and experience. That would be my definition of a standard or the standard of care. You know, what would a comparably qualified reasonable person be expected to do when confronted with these specific circumstances that they are presented with.

Q And I think you said based on their training, experience, and I think there was a third item that you said that I didn't catch. But I may be wrong.

A Their judgment, based upon the particular circumstances in which they find themselves.

Q So that is how -- that is what you mean when you say "standard", correct, in the context of this case?

A Yes, I think for the most part. I view the standard of care as related to a practice in which the anticipated consequences are known or understood, such that they permit a practitioner to act with some idea that's -- of what will be the outcome.

Q Okay. This definition, I'm going to use the word "definition" or "meaning", whatever way you want to characterize it, that you have for a standard as it applies in this case, did you get that from any rule or regulation or any other source?

A The standard of care for a facility, and it is generally agreed upon, to derive from CMS. Both Doctor LeBel and I have agreed on that point.

Q Okay.

A The standard of care in the delivery of individual services is really a clinical practice parameter. And the American College of Physicians defines a standard as a practice policy where the health and economic consequences of an intervention are sufficiently well known to permit decisions.

And if there is virtual unanimity among patients about the desirability of the intervention. Deviations from standards are expected to be rare, other terms for standard include requirements, rules, strict indication or strict contraindications. And that's the definition that I use in my practice. Again, it's the same from the American College of Physicians -- American College of Physicians.

Q American College of Physicians?

A Correct.

Q Okay. But that definition for standard -- let me back up and ask a different question. Your definition of standard, not standard of care, but standard that you articulated a moment ago, that doesn't come from any CMS or federal regulation or rule, correct?

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object. I don't -- I think you are mischaracterizing what he is says. Doctor Kastner, you can go ahead and answer. But I think you already explained that.

THE WITNESS: The standard of care for an ICF/IDD is reflected in the federal, state, and facility specific policies and procedures that would apply. So in regard to BHDC, it would be the ICF/IDD standards, which again, Doctor LeBel has cited, which are incorporated into Appendix "J", plus whatever state and local documents are generated, you know, in addition. That would reflect a standard of care for the facility.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q And I'm not asking --

A The standard --

Q Go ahead.

A The standard of care for the individual practitioner really relates to practice, and specifically to the degree to which the consequences of treatment are fully understood. And they reflect the individual's training, experience and judgment, based upon what is presented to them in that specific instance.

So again, just to be kind of specific and help you with this, when we talk about the standard of care and whether Mr. Mattson met the standard of care, we need to take into account, what would someone with a high school level education, a two week orientation, a brief training in behavioral services, be expected to do when confronted by a 248 pound individual who was lunging at him, and when that staff finds himself in the position of being unable to back away, and topples to the ground as a result of the individual lunging at them.

We need to be able to ask, what would a reasonably qualified DSP do in that setting? You have to be able to think as the DSP in that instance.

Q All right. I want to ask you something else about standard in a moment. But you mentioned something that I want to ask about since you brought up Mr. Mattson. You said "brief training". So is it your opinion that the training that Mr. Mattson and the others that were involved in this incident in June of 2020 was not sufficient?

A I'm trained -- I went through medical school, I did a three year -- that's four years. I did a three year residency. I did a senior fellowship and I did another two years in graduate school. What is that, 11 years. I'm -- my basis of comparison in calling something brief, is something less than 11 years. So with all DSPs, in all settings regulated by CMS, the training is brief compared to the level of training that me or Doctor LeBel or Doctor Forestiere had.

It's in a matter of weeks or a month. They are not expected to be able to meet the standard of care that the three docs should be able to meet in the provision of services. So when I say "brief", I'm measuring that against the training that people with doctorates receive, which is much, much longer. I certainly am not implying that it was inadequate and did not meet the federal standards for a training requirement.

Q Okay. So I think you answered there at the end, it was not inadequate, that's your testimony, correct?

A For the purposes of qualifying staff to work at an ICF/IDD, the federal government sets the standard and Arkansas met that standard at Booneville in providing the training that was afforded the staff prior to their working with individuals.

Q Okay. I want to go back a minute because I appreciate you explaining some of those things, but I am not asking about standard of care. You mentioned earlier that the word "standard" may be a problem, that we may have different conceptions of that, and I asked you what you meant when you used the word "standard". You gave a very specific definition, and then you cited the American College of Physicians.

So I'm only asking you about the word "standard", not standard of care. And my question is, the meaning that you testified that you ascribe to standard, you did not get that definition or meaning from a federal statute or regulation or rule, correct?

A I have used the word "standard" in two different ways. One is to talk about the federal rules and regulations that govern the operation of an ICF/IDD. The federal government calls those standards. Appendix "J" lists those requirements and calls them standards in Appendix "J".

In addition, there are professional practices that occur within an HDC where the practice is defined by professional organizations or not, but they incorporate the idea that the care provided by a professional at a certain level, is only going to reflect their education, training and judgment based upon what they see at that time.

So the federal government uses the word

"standards" when they apply -- when it's discussing the implementation of CFR. Professionals use the word "standard" when we are talking about what we do with our patients, the individuals that we work with. They are used in both senses. And I'm trying to help you understand, there are differences, and they each derive from a different authority.

Q I understand. And my question is, you are testifying in this case about a standard of care. I'm not asking right now about the entire standard of care, but specifically the word "standard" in that phrase. And you have defined it a very specific way. I'm going to be paraphrasing, because I don't have a transcript, but you mentioned the expected practice of what a reasonably qualified person would do, based on their training, experience and judgment when presented with that situation.

I know I'm paraphrasing. That meaning, would you agree with me, that definition or meaning does not appear in any of the CMS Federal Rules and Regulations that apply to the human development centers in Arkansans?

A Definition of standard used by the federal government is contained in Appendix "J", with the interpretive guidelines. The document lists standards that ICF/IDDs have to meet, and that is the second meaning of my term "standard" in this discussion.

So there are standards that relate to compliance, to federal rules and regulations, and there are standards that relate to the practice by individuals in their specific profession, including the profession of being an RCT or direct support professional. They are both applicable at the same time. We are talking -- we are using that word "standards" for two different things.

But the word "standard" is used by the federal government to describe it's rules and regulations throughout Appendix "J".

Q Yes. I understand the use of the word "standard", and it sounds like you are saying you have got at least two different meanings that you could use from two different sources, is that right?

A No. I think there are two different uses, not necessarily meanings. But if we were looking at Webster's Dictionary, Webster's might say, in terms of standards, "One, referring to the State Operations Manual, the criteria for demonstrating compliance with federal rules and regulations; two, the demonstrated competencies that professionals need to evidence in meeting the level of care that should be rendered to patients."

I mean, there's different uses of that word, "standard". So I'm saying this could be confusing. Let's not have any confusion, let's be sure that we are having a discussion and using the right word in the right way when we are talking about standards. And so to a degree that this is helpful to you, you know, I hope it's useful.

But the feds require -- the feds define their expectations as of standards, it's throughout Appendix "J". And professionals define standards as they relate to the specific care that we provide to individuals in the course of their work.

Q I meant to ask you this earlier. What materials did you review before today to prepare for this deposition?

A I have listed the documents that I reviewed at the front of my reports. There was some addition -- and I think it's the same in both, you know, "A" and "B". There were some additional materials that I referenced in terms of Doctor LeBel's report, things that she cited as references in her work. And inside my report there are a couple of other occasional references, for example, a monograph published by someone named Eddie. It was published by the American College of Physicians that relates to, you know, clinical practice parameters, of which standards are considered one form.

In addition, I have to say I'm pretty familiar with the literature, so there are other things that I have looked at and can recall as I formed my opinions and I wouldn't necessarily have a list of those.

Q And I noticed earlier it appeared that you were looking off to read, when you were talking about the meaning of the word "standard" from the American College of Physicians. Do you have other materials available to you, either paper or digital forms that you can look at throughout this deposition?

A So Mr. Rosen asked me to just make sure I had access to at least four things. I see the Appendix "J", some Arkansas policies, and my two reports. And so I borrowed my wife's computer, and I sent -- emailed Appendix "J" and my CV to her so that I could pull those up, simultaneously look at them, and my reports, and be able to be responsive to Mr. Rosen's questions and I hope to yours. So I do have two computer screens open at the same time, that allows me to move back and forth, depending on need.

Q Are you able to access the other materials you listed that you reviewed at the beginning of each of your reports?

A Yes, I can. They are in a file on my computer.

Q Okay. And you testified earlier that the documents that you reviewed for each report are contained in that list, correct?

A It's a partial listing, it's not complete. But I can guarantee that at a minimum I read every one of them in their entirety.

Q Okay. All right. And if something isn't on the list, and you reviewed it, would it be fair to characterize it as not a major basis of your opinion?

A Oh, no, I wouldn't say that at all. I think -- you know, we are having a discussion about standards of care, this is a topic that is dear to me and very, very important, because we as professionals need to be responsible for defining what we believe to be reasonable practice in our field. That's deeply important, and it's philosophical and it kind of undercuts all of, you know, who I -- my professional identity as a physician.

So, you know, I routinely think about the monograph by Eddie. I routinely look at websites to get an idea of what clinical practice parameters are published and recommended in our field. So I don't necessarily cite all that stuff. But I can tell you it's really dear to me.

Q Let me ask you this question. In the two reports that you drafted that we have been talking about today, you list depositions of different people that you may have reviewed. Are there any persons' depositions that you reviewed that didn't make it onto those lists that you know of?

A Not that I can think of offhand, although I wouldn't -- I wouldn't want to testify that it were, you know, I think there is always the possibility they looked at something else and they didn't put it on that list. As I said in particular, in preparing the report for Doctor LeBel, I was constrained by time, and it's reflected in the number of typographical errors I made. I wouldn't be surprised if there were some oversights in particular related to that.

Q Okay. And with respect to your testimony earlier about Doctor LeBel and her mentioning of the UN and World Health Organization, those other agencies or organizations, and I think you essentially testified that the standard of care does not come from that, is that essentially your testimony, that applies to Booneville in this case?

A I don't --
Q Do you want me to repeat the question?
MR. ROSEN: I didn't -- I'm not sure I understood the question. Can you just repeat it, please?
MR. GREEN: Sure.
BY MR. GREEN:
Q You testified earlier that Doctor LeBel was not correct in citing to the UN standards from the United Nations, or World Health Organization, and you said they don't provide standard of care for the human development centers in Arkansas, is that correct?
A Well, I began the discussion by saying I found Doctor LeBel's opinions to be difficult to interpret, because she listed her opinions twice in her report, and they are different in each appearance. So specifically in regard to physical restraint, she said that the physical restraints used fell below the standard of care established by recognized standard setting entities, which I took to mean the World Health Organization, the UN, and later, as she cites, I think four articles that she and her colleagues have written.
In the second iteration of that same opinion, it simply says, "Fell below the standard of care". So,

I don't know whether she truly believes that recognized standard setting entities, including the WHO or UN. And she goes to argue that they have some relevance. But I read the document and I don't understand how they are relevant at all. The federal government maintains the authority to set the standard in regard to how ICFs are written. And when you go back and you read Doctor LeBel's work from 2007, she acknowledges that CMS sets the standards for how these facilities should operate.

She also says that she is deeply dissatisfied with what CMS has done, and that advocates for the elimination and reduction of restraint use should find other ways around the fact that CMS seems to have abandoned -- I think she called it the "high ground", and find other strategies to create facilities when they are either very limited or restricted to the use of restraints all together.

So this is a very troubling issue in regard to her opinions, but what the --

Q I understand --

A -- the standard of care is, and who has the authority to represent that they are setting the standard of care?

Q I understand that it's upsetting to you. My question is, are you not testifying that the UN and World Health Organization, and similar organizations that are not CMS, do not have the authority to state what the standard of care is? Isn't that your testimony?

A They can set whatever standard they want. But those standards do not have any bearing on whether or not an ICF/IDD meets the standards for its operation. The standard for operating an ICF/IDD, Doctor LeBel and I have both agreed, is set by CMS. Doctor LeBel characterized those as minimal standards in both her 2007 article and her 2022 report. She agreed they were minimal standards.

Q Yes. And I'm not -- I'm really not trying to trip you up. I agree with you that CMS sets them. I'm just trying to -- I thought you testified earlier that other outside agencies of CMS, such as the World Health Organization and United Nations do not set the standard of care for the human development centers in Arkansas, that they are required to follow. I thought that was your testimony. I'm just trying to get a yes or a no.

A Well, I'm going to go look for my opinions to be sure that I'm saying exactly what -- responding exactly to what you are saying. In my opinion number two -- number one of the CMS rules, regulations, along with state and BHDC policies represent the standard of care for delivering behavioral services of the HDCs, and two, that the other documents cited by Doctor LeBel, including those materials generated by the UN, World Health Organization, SAMSHA and other sources, do not represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services at BHDC. Those are my opinions.

Q Okay. So, and your reading the record that's the January 6th report, page three, correct?

A Correct, numbers one and two.

Q Okay. And so -- all right. All right. I think you have stated pretty clearly there where they come from and where they don't come from. Would you also agree with me that they do not come the American College of Physicians?

A No. As I described it, the American College of Physicians is talking about the practice of professionals, what we as professionals are expected to do in rendering care to our individuals. So there have been lots of allegations, not simply that the facility didn't meet the standards, but that Mr. Mattson, the nurses, doctors, and whatever, individual practitioners to meet the standard of care in their field in the care that was rendered to Mr. Cains.

And in regard to the specific practice employed by those professionals, my definition of a standard really reflects what we expect to happen at the level of the practitioner. It's different --

Q Let me ask you --

A It's not CMS anymore. That definition applies to what specific professionals are doing with specific patients or individuals.

Q And earlier -- so your answer to my question, would you agree with me, that the American College of Physicians does not set the standards, I think you started out with no, you don't agree with me, correct?

MR. ROSEN: I let -- I think we have been through this at least five or six times. He is talking about two things --

MR. GREEN: No.

MR. ROSEN: We are talking about the standard, one was the -- and the objection is that Doctor Kastner has made it quite clear, by reading his report and by testifying as to what the standard of care -- who sets the standard of care for restraint use in the facility. It's clear.

MR. GREEN: Well, I --

MR. ROSEN: Now, five or six, I don't know how many times we need to go over this --

MR. GREEN: Well, I --

MR. ROSEN: -- for you to understand it.

MR. GREEN: I thought it was clear too. And that's why I thought he would easily agree with me that it's not set by the American College of Physicians, but he did not agree with me.

MR. ROSEN: What standard of care are you talking about? Because that's the question. There's two -- as Doctor Kastner has explained it in three or four times, he uses the terms in two different contexts, the way that it was done in his report is talking about the standard of care for setting the regulations for the facility, including the restraint use. Now, are you talking about that, or are you talking about something else? That's what needs clarification. And Doctor Kastner has said it numerous times.

MR. GREEN: Yes.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q So Doctor Kastner, I will ask it this way. In your reports that you wrote, when you talk about standard of care, are you, in fact, only referring to what you stated on page three of that second report dated January 6th, that -- actually, do you have that in front of you where you can see it? Your January 6th report?

A Yes.

Q It's Exhibit 2-B?

A Yes.

Q And page three up in front of you?

A Yes.

Q Okay. On your opinion number three, I'm going to read what mine says, because I think this may be a typo, but I want to clarify it with you. Paragraph three says, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, suggestions, recommendations or opinions within cited references and other materials, to the degree that they diverge from CMS rules and regulations, Arkansas DDS policies and procedures, and BHDC policies and procedures do not represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services."

Let me make sure I understand. Are you saying that Doctor LeBel's other citations do not represent the standard of care for delivery of behavioral services at BHDC?

A I'm saying that the materials generated by the UN, World Health Organization, SAMSHA, and the other sources that she cited, do not represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services at BHDC.

Q Very good. And your opinion one, which you read earlier, states again, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, CMS rules and regulations, Arkansas DDS policies and procedures and BHDC policies and procedures represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services at BHDC." Did I read that correct?

A Yes. And that represents a partial articulation of my opinions about the standard of care.

Q Okay. And --

A So you need to go to page five, item 14, to see where I have stated that the standard of care also needs to be examined at the level of staff. And staff and the implementation of their professional judgment, the services that they deliver, need to meet the standard of care for, you know, their field. Right? So we have to make a judgment --

Q No. I understand the document.

A -- to understand the standard of care for the entire facility. But in this specific instance, did the staff comport themselves with the standard of care for their relevant field?

Q So when you say that you believe the staff and the facility at Booneville -- at the Booneville center, complied with the applicable standard of care, are you incorporating both those things that are promulgated by CMS, the state and the facility, and the standards imposed by their particular field or profession? Are you combing those when you say "standard of care"?

A No. I'm using them in different ways. So standard of care for the facility, in general, is defined by CMS and the state and BHDC rules and regs. And my opinion is that the facility, as a whole, meets those standards of care. You know, for example, the policy around the use of activating the 911 system, I believe that that policy is appropriate, effective, provides adequate care, and complies with CMS rules and regulations about heath and safety.

And I believe CMS is in agreement, because they find no fault with that policy, or with how BHDC as a facility, chooses to address the activation of the community 911 system. And the second --

Q Can you --

A -- issue around this individual, Mr. Cains, and what staff did to support him, there is a lot of [redacted] Based upon the level of experience, training and skill, and the situation in which they were confronted, I believe that those RCTs behaved admirably. They did everything that they were trained to do, everything that would be reasonably expected of them as RCTs.

They are not M.D.s, they are not Ph.D.s, they are not practicing in an emergency room with access to high technology. These are folks with generally high school educations who generally had weeks or months of training, who are trying to address, as really complex people with emergent needs, and they did a very good job, based upon their training, experience and the judgments that they made. So that use of standards is incorporated in both ways in my recommendations throughout both reports.

Q Okay. So the use of standard, as it applies to their field, is incorporated, is that correct?
A Yes. I think, you know, item 14 page five is an example of how I have applied that word to the professional judgment exercised by staff.
Q Right, right.
A That's completely different than federal rules and regulations.
Q I understand. I understand what you are saying. Let me ask you this. Can you tell me where in any of the CMS rules or regulations, or in Appendix "J", where it states that the standard for standard of care in any way incorporates language similar to the expected practice of what a reasonably qualified person would do, based on their training, experience and judgment in that situation? Is there any language similar to that that you can point me to in Appendix "J" or any of the federal regulations or state regulations?
A Sure. And if you go to the federal regulations, practitioners need to be licensed in order to practice out at the BHDC. Right? I mean, the physicians, you can't just walk on to the facility grounds and say, you know, "I want to be the facility's physician," you have got to be licensed to be a physician.

In order to be licensed, you have to complete a course of training. And that course of training defines what services you will provide within the scope of practice of being a physician. It applies to every discipline for services that are rendered at the facility. It --

Q Where in --

A Where is a requirement for a license within the federal regs?

Q No. I know there is, I believe you. But that is -- that, again, wasn't my question. My question was not, is there a requirement for a license. My question was, does that language itself, that I just recited, about the reasonable or the expectations in practice of what a reasonably qualified person, with two, based on their training, experience and judgment, do those words themselves, can you point me to where in the federal rules and regulations or Appendix "J" where those words or the general gist of those words are used to define what a standard or standard of care is? Can you point me to those words?

A When the federal government delegates the responsibility, making that determination to a state licensing board, they are now subject to the interpretation by that board of what constitutes practice in that discipline. So if the feds say a physician needs to have a license, well, then you have got to go to the state licensing board and determine what it means to be a physician in that state and what it means to practice medicine in that state.

And professional boards incorporate the idea that professionals can only be expected to practice within, you know, what they have been trained to do and what they encounter in their practice. It is contingent upon what state licensing boards have to say about those practitioners.

Q All right. So you can't point me to that specific language, you are telling me you have to refer to what the state boards do, I get it. With respect to the individuals such as Mr. Mattson, what state agency or licensing agency provided a standard for him, acting as a reasonable person?

A The Appendix "J" has numerous requirements for what facilities are supposed to be able to offer individuals, and within those requirements, broadly, there are specific statements about what they call direct support professionals, or QMRPs, qualified mental retardation professionals, or QIDDs, qualified intellectual and developmental disabilities professionals, are supposed to be able to do in the course of their work.

And I am not going to go through Appendix "J" and tease out every one, but there are expectations set within that document for what, broadly are called direct support professionals, are supposed to be able to do. Now, specifically in regard to -- let's talk about behavioral services, because that is what is being discussed here. The feds require that staff be trained in the use of behavioral procedures.

Arkansas provides training to staff regarding behavioral procedures. Now, the feds don't require that a certain level of competency be met. They don't require that staff needs to be able to demonstrate that they can competently provide behavioral services consistent with their training one hundred percent of the time. The feds don't say that. The feds don't say anything about the level of competency.

Now, the state engages a private contractor, CPI, Crisis Prevention Institute, to provide behavioral training or certify their trainers to deliver crisis intervention services, the NCI model.

Now, NCI only requires that staff demonstrate competency 70 percent of the time, which means that you can complete the training and be able to practice with the expectation that you may only deliver the services consistent with your training 70 percent of the time.

The other 30 percent may not be consistent with their training. That is sufficient to meet the standard set by CMS for the training of DSPs. That's a lot of variation. And some might say it's unacceptable, but it is consistent with what the feds require. So there is a -- when you look at what happens at the individual client level, the individual staff level, there is abundant information in the state and federal rules and regs that will describe the fact that there will be variations in outcome and variations in practice amount the direct support professionals employed at a facility. And that's acceptable.

Q All right. Let me ask you about the NCI/CPI training. You would agree with me that that is the training for the State of Arkansas, specifically the Booneville center, that they have implemented, correct?

A Yes.

Q And that was the only authorized training in existence at the time of this incident involving Mr. Cains, for that center, correct?
A Well, that's the only curriculum that's used. I wouldn't say training authorized, because much of the training that this provided to direct support professionals is not curriculum based, it's practical, it occurs in the field with staff working --
Q Yes. I was going to go --
A -- under the supervision of other trained and qualified staff. So the training is much broader than the NCI curriculum.
Q Let me be a little more specific in my question.
A Okay.
Q Would you agree with me that the only authorized training with respect to the use of restraint or the restraints at the Booneville center in June of 2020 was that that is in accordance with the NCI/CPI standards?
A Could you just repeat that question?
Q Sure.
A Because I want to make sure heard exactly what you asked.
Q Would you agree with me that the only training with respect to the use of restraints that was authorized to be used and implemented at the Booneville center in June of 2020, is that that is the NCI/CPI training?

A I would disagree with you, because of your use of one word, and that is "training". As I just discussed, training incorporates not only the curriculum published by PHI -- or CPI, but also the -- that the hands-on supervision and work that is accomplished in the field when trainees are supervised and mentored by other staff. That is a very large part of the training. It's not part of the curriculum, but it is of the training.

Q Sure. I understand that. But on the job training type of experienced, is that kind of what you are talking about a little bit.

A Absolutely.

Q Okay.

A It's an important component of the process for ensuring that the staff are qualified to meet the standard of care for their role, whether it's as an RCT or a QIDD.

Q So you would agree with me, then, I guess, the only approved curriculum to be taught or trained regarding restraint at Booneville center with respect to restraints in June of 2020, the staff that is NCI/CPI?

A I wouldn't necessarily go that far. I would say that the CPI/NCI curriculum is currently used, but it may not be the only one that is approved for you.

Q Are you aware of any other curriculum that was approved for use at the Booneville Human Development Center --

A I can say that --

Q Hold on. I have to finish my question, I'm sorry. As it relates to restraint use at that center as it existed in June of 2020?

A I'm aware that there have been other trainings, I am not aware that there are other curricula.

Q I'm asking about approved curriculum that can be taught and used for training with respect to the use of restraint in June of 2020. Are you aware of any other that was authorized to be used, curriculum that is, at the Booneville center in June of 2020?

A As I said, I'm aware of other training, but not of other curricula.

Q My question wasn't training, it was curriculum. Are you aware of any other curriculum as it applies to restraints in June of 2020 that was approved for use at the Booneville center?

A As I said, I am aware of other training, but not of other curriculum.
Q All right. Yes. Not of other, okay, finally the answer. All right. So is your testimony that the staff at the Booneville Human Development Center in June of 2020, would not be expected to use restraint in accordance with their training? Specifically their training they received based off the NCI/CPI curriculum 30 percent of the time? That it would be okay for them to not follow that up to 30 percent of the time?
A Can you repeat your question, so I can try to --
Q I will try to be more succinct. Earlier you said that the feds don't mandate any competency, generally, I think that's what you said. I'm not trying to lock you in on it, trick there. But basically my question is, are you saying that in June of 2020, the staff at the Booneville center, with respect to the use of restraints, that it was acceptable for them to use methods of restraint, techniques of restraint that were not in accordance with the NCI/CPI curriculum up to 30 percent of the time?
A There are a couple of issues with that question.
Q Okay.

A The first is that NCI is not exhaustive of every restraint procedure that might be employed by staff at the facility? There are eight or six approved behavioral approaches. And NCI does not address all of those approved procedures. So NCI is incomplete as far as a curriculum that would support the implementation of all of the approved procedures at the facility.

For example, the staff are trained to provide restraint to individuals on the ground. But that training does not occur as part of NCI. Mr. Hise testified that he only trains staff to provide restraints in individuals who are seated or upright. But we know that because we are restraints are provided to individuals in the prone position, you know, in particular with the papoose board, and training does occur for those staff when they work with other staff and learn those techniques.

So NCI is not the universe of training or of approved practice at the facility. That's the first point. The second point is that, CPI recognizes that staff will not be able to employ all of its training upon the completion of its training upon the completion of its training program. They set an expectation of 70 percent in terms of completing a test.

Now, if you only expect staff to be able to employ 70 percent of their training, the moment they walk out the door, you can't expect that they are going to be able to provide 80, 90 or 100 percent of that training when they are in the field. It's simply unrealistic. So embedded in the way that CPI has developed the curriculum, and makes whatever representation as to the value of completing that course, embedded in that is the assumption that there will be a significant variation or deviation from those trained practices once individual practitioners are in the field.

Q I like the word you just used there, which was "assumption". That's what you are doing, correct, because the percentage required to pass the NCI training is 70 percent, you are assuming that it's acceptable once in the field, to perform at only a 70 percent proficiency level, correct?

A No, that's not what I'm saying.

Q Okay.

A I'm saying that as a matter of a group of people who are being trained, if the expectation was that there is that group, and those individuals that comprise the group, could pass a test with a 70 percent proficiency level, that as a group, they are not going to be proficient at 100 percent, at 100 percent of the time. It's unrealistic to expect that as a group, if they have only had to demonstrate a 70 percent proficiency, that they are going to implement at 100 percent in the field.

And the further they get away from their training, and the more they encounter content or experiences that fall outside of the NCI curriculum. There will be variations in practice. And I think, you know, Mr. Mattson was confronted by such a situation. He employed a blocking procedure consistent with his NCI training, but because he was charged at by a 248 pound man, he found himself on the ground as a result of that individual.

And at that point he had to rely upon his judgment as to what was the best manner in which to proceed. In particular, what was the least restrictive procedure that he could employ, and weighing the risk of Mr. Cains harming staff or himself against a more restrictive procedure such as a papoose board.

Mr. Mattson made a decision to employ personal holds, which in -- and along the continuum are not as restrictive as a papoose board, but are maybe more restrictive than simply letting the individual up. The question is, did Mr. Mattson employ reasonable judgment in doing that. And he and the staff all testified they did what they thought was best. They tried to protect the individual and the staff, which were consistent with the core recommendations of NCI, to so the least restrictive procedure and protect the health and safety of everyone.

They made a judgment based on their skill and experience, the training and the specific circumstances where Mr. Mattson found himself on the ground with a 248 pound individual. That's not covered by NCI. So there's going to be some variation in practice as it relates to what happens in the real world, and CPI acknowledges that.

Q Do they acknowledge it in their literature?

A No.

Q Is it --

A But in the fact that they accept someone can leave the training room and score 70 percent on the exam, which means that they don't -- they don't have 100 percent -- a grasp of 100 percent of the material.

Q Okay. So you infer they accept it based on their grading percentage, not by any express statement in their policy, correct?

A It's one thing to say something, it's another to do something, to allow people to say they completed their training when they can only answer 70 percent of the questions correctly.
Q Do you recall Mr. Hise's testimony that the only training that is given to the staff at Booneville at the time of this incident with respect to restraining someone on the ground, was restraining them on the ground for the purpose of transitioning to mechanical restraint. Do you recall testimony along those lines?
A Yes, I do.
Q Okay. Great. And you testified earlier that you are board certified in several different specialties, I think four, correct?
A Correct.
Q Do you recall, for instance, the board certification and -- or can you just tell me them again, and I will let you know which one I want to ask you about?
A Pediatrics,
Q Pediatrics.
A Developmental behavioral pediatrics, neurodevelopmental disabilities.

Q The neuro -- the neuromatic physiological disabilities, that one that you just described.
A Neurodevelopmental disabilities.
Q Neurodevelopmental disabilities. Do you recall what the -- did you have to take an actual exam or a series of exams to get that certification?
A Yes, I took an exam in all four of my boards.
Q And they are referred to as boards by people in the industry, correct?
Q And is it one exam for each specialty? And did you --
A Pediatrics had both a written and verbal examination. The other three were written.
Q Okay. Do you recall what the required percentage was that you were required to get correct in order to pass your boards for each of those specialties?
A No. But I can -- I'm certain it's less than 100 percent.
Q Okay. All right. And so if, for instance, the percentage required to pass your boards for pediatrics was 85 percent, would that mean that the agency or the organization that grants you that specialty once you pass your boards has accepted that 15 percent of the time you will be wrong in the real world, like when you come out from passing your boards?

A This is a great question. You are beginning to appreciate what I'm saying. What it says about the field is that the certifying bodies, the organizations that determine the standard of care recognized that there would be variation in practice. And it goes to the fact that we often don't know what is the best or most appropriate practice to offer at a specific time.

That there may be a lack of evidence that, even when there is good evidence, it may not speak to a specific situation or specific resources. And it's directly applicable to the position that Mr. Mattson finds himself in on the -- when he is dealing with Mr. Cains on the ground. As you mentioned, Mr. Hise said the only time we train to put people on the ground is to put them into a physical restraint.

On the other hand, Mr. Hise tells his trainees, "We always employ the least restrictive measure." And here you have Mr. Mattson, a person with a high school education who has had several weeks of training in the implementation of behavioral services. And he finds himself on the ground with a 248 pound individual, and conflicting recommendations.

On the ground, he can go to physical restraints, he could tell the staff, "Let's go to a papoose board, that's the right thing to do." On the other, he could say, "I don't want to restrain this guy unnecessarily, why don't we just use these personal holds and continue in that regard."

And he is conflicted. He could do either one. He makes a professional judgment that they should continue the personal holds and give him a chance to calm down, rather than escalating the restraint and using a more restrictive procedure, like a papoose board. So training doesn't necessarily -- it's not a cookbook, it doesn't tell you what to do in every instance.

And in every profession, whether it's being a DSP or being a physician, or a Ph.D., or an educator. Variation in practice is anticipated, because situations are different, resources are different. And I think Mr. Mattson's judgment that the safest and least restrictive procedure was to continue with personal holds, was a reasonable one. It may not be what I, as a physician, or Doctor Forestiere, as an emergency room physician, or Doctor LeBel, as an expert in restraint reduction, would have recommended.

But it was reasonable for somebody who had several weeks of training and a high school education. That's the point, that's why we tolerate flexibility and variation in practice. It's reflected in the exam that they are not cookbooks, we are not robots.

Q All right. When you were reviewing materials to write your opinions and to testify, do you recall reading any depositions of staff at the Booneville center wherein they testified that their opinion is that the least restrictive practice was not, in fact, used against Mr. Cains?

A No, I don't recall that.

Q Okay. Very good. So you didn't read a deposition where anyone testified to that?

A No, I have read all of the materials that are listed. I don't recall staff, and if you are talking about the three RCT level staff, saying that they did not believe what they did was the reasonable course. I mean, obviously, they were restraining the individual --

Q Well, what -- I think you have changed my question a little bit, because you limited it to the three staff that were involved. And I'll limit it to them for now. But my question is, do you recall reading any of their depositions where any of them stated that they believe that the least restrictive means of restraint was not used on Mr. Cains? I think you said you don't recall that? I'm just trying to clarify that you don't recall seeing that in any of their depositions?

A I recall all three staff saying that they were trying to protect Mr. Cains and other staff from harm. And they believed that the form of restraint that they employed was the most appropriate, based upon their training and experience. And I can't recall specific language as to least restrictive, but their judgments were that it was the most appropriate and consistent with what they had been trained to do.

Q And that's how you recall their testimony, correct?

A No. I believe I quoted them in my first report, and I would welcome an opportunity to go back and look at that, because they were adamant about trying to do the right thing and realizing that this was a really complicated issue.

Q All right. And other than those three, do you recall reading any other depositions from anyone employed by the State of Arkansas that their opinion was the least restrictive means of restraint was not used on Mr. Cains?

A Mr. Hise may have said something to that effect, but I would not have focused on that, because I am not certain that he was referring to the standard of care for the RCTs. I think he might have been referring to, you know, what he trains staff to do. So I can't recall specifically, although there may have been some discussion about that.
Q With respect to Mr. Hise?
A I can't remember -- I can't remember exactly, so I don't --
Q All right. Let's go turn to the State Operations Manual. I do want to ask you some questions about it.
A Okay.
MR. ROSEN: Counsel, if --
MR. GREEN: Do y'all need a break?
MR. ROSEN: Yes. I was going to say, before we switch subjects, why don't we take a few minutes?
MR. GREEN: That's good.
MR. ROSEN: We have been going for quite awhile.
MR. GREEN: Do y'all want to do -- it's

3:20. Do you want to come back at 3:30?

MR. ROSEN: Yes.

MR. GREEN: Okay.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Thanks.

(WHEREUPON, a short break was taken.)

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor Kastner, you understand you are still under oath, correct?

A Correct.

Q All right. I'm going to ask you some questions from Appendix "J". I'm not going to have you look at every page, I'm just going to ask you some questions as it relates to it. You are free, of course, to look at it, if you want. Would you agree with me that -- and I'm going to be asking about human development centers, and how Appendix "J" applies to Booneville Human Development Center, specifically back in June of 2020, and these series of questions as they relate to Appendix "J". Do you understand what I'm saying?

A I believe so.

Q Okay. And if you don't, you will let me know, correct?

A Yes.

Q All right. Would you agree with me that the Booneville center was required to ensure that clients are not subjected to physical, verbal, sexual or psychological abuse for punishment?

A Are you referring to a specific standard or guidance or tag in -- Q Sure. I don't -- I can refer either by the "W" numbers or the 483. What do you prefer?
A Like the "W", that will be easier.
Q Okay.
A If we are going to look at Appendix "J", yes, that will be easy.
Q All right. I'm going to make it easy. Let's go to W127. I think it's the third page in. They are not numbered on my copy.
A Okay. 127, I've been there. It's --
Q And I understand that -- well, let me first ask you, you are looking at that page, correct?
A Not quite yet, but I'm going to be there in a second.
Q Let me know when you get there.
A I'm there, okay.
Q Okay. Do you see where it says "W127"?
A Correct, yes.
Q That underneath it, it says, "Rev. 135", and there's some additional language past that?

A Yes.
Q And then, underneath that it says, "483" -- well, it doesn't say it. If I use the word "say", I don't mean "speak". Do you understand, I'm just saying what the document contains, all right?
A If I were to read it, I would understand, yes.
Q Okay. So does this document state that 483.420, subsection "a", subsection "5", "Ensure the clients are not subjected to physical, verbal, sexual or psychological abuse or punishment."
A So we are in the abuse and neglect section of Appendix "J", is that correct? Because it comes in different sections. There is healthcare services, behavioral services. There is other kinds of things. But I don't think we are in the behavioral services section of Appendix "J" anymore, are we? These -- like, again, my point is that these are in the context of a broader category of thinking.

So I want to make sure that we set -- so "Condition of Participation". Let's go up to 483.420, "Condition of Participation. Client protections." And the standard is, "Protection of client rights." This is what we are looking at, correct?
Q Well, I'm not trying to be rude, but I don't --

I'm not here to answer questions. But we are looking at the same thing, I believe, based on how you have represented it.

A Okay. So I just wanted to make sure that we had the proper context. We are not talking about behavioral services any longer. Now we are talking about the general standard for protection of client rights.

Q Okay. My question is, did I read -- I haven't even gotten to does it apply or anything yet. Just simply, did I read it correctly, the 483.420(a)(5), "Ensure that clients are not subjected to physical, verbal, sexual or psychological abuse or punishment"?

A I've got to go back to where we were. It was W127?

Q Right.

A So do you want me to engage with you in an exercise in verifying the accuracy of your ability to read, or to interpret something, because --

Q You can --

A And you can read as well as I can and probably read legalese even better. I don't understand the point in walking me through a tag related to client protection of rights when my consultation and the scope of what I was asked to do was to look at behavioral services and clinical services, not the overall operation of the facility, state regulations and rules regarding client protections and rights, or even the CMS regs about protection rights.

So is -- you want to go through this exercise of you reading and me confirming that you read accurately?

Q Well, I don't really care how you characterize my questioning. I just simply want to ask questions that I believe are relevant, or could lead to relevant information and just have you simply answer the question. That's all I'm asking. That's all I'm asking.

And I think I do need to ask some of these, because I think you just said that you were not engaged to give your opinion on the facility, did I hear it, what did you mean by that?

A No. On the scope of -- the entire scope of Appendix "J" with my engagement, I don't believe, was to review every tag or standard or a condition of participation for the facility, relative to its certification by CMS.

I believe we could agree that the facility has been surveyed by the federal government, and meets the standards that the federal government has established for continued participation in the ICF/IDD program. So knowing that, I wonder now why we are confirming your ability --

Q Can I --

A -- to read.

Q Can I -- I appreciate your curiosity, but frankly I just need you to answer the question, it's not really ultimately important whether you understand why I'm asking it or not.

A No. And I completely --

Q And I don't mean it rudely, it's just one of my --

A I'm not -- let me -- if I could please finish my response?

Q Okay.

A I'm not -- I was not engaged to confirm your ability to read. My opinions have nothing to do with your ability to read. My engagement was not for the purposes of reviewing tags related to client protections or other sections of the ICFMR standards. So I have no opinion as to whether or not you can adequately read or whether or not these have any bearing.

Q Okay.

A So I'm going to respond that I offered no opinion on any of these. And this may turn out to be a waste of your time, but --

Q It may be. But I am --

A That's your -- that's your choice.

Q You know, I think it's important I understand what you were engaged to do. So I guess I will just ask you that. What is your understanding of what you were engaged to do, specifically with respect to Mr. Cains' case?

A I think my engagement is characterized fully in the opinions I have to offer. So as you read through the opinions, you will see that I was engaged to provide opinions about whether BHDC meets federal standards of care. I was engaged to provide an opinion as to whether or not staff at BHDC met their respective standards of care. I was engaged to offer an estimate of life expectancy for Mr. Cains, to opine as to whether or not his death was painful.

My opinions are reflective of the engagement that was made. So I think if I could read my opinions into the record, and we can go at it that way, and I can tell you how it reflects my understanding of the engagement. But I think we decided at the beginning not to do that.

Q I don't need you to read your full opinion. And I'm not asking you to confirm my reading ability cued for some other purpose. Opposing counsel asked you to read specific things from your report. Sometimes I need to get you to confirm with me that I'm not misrepresenting what a particular item says.

I just want it to be clear on the record that I'm not misrepresenting what something says. So it's not about whether I can read it, it's about am I accurately stating what it says?

A Well, I'm telling you right now, I have no opinion on what you are reading.

Q Okay.

A That it was not within the scope of the engagement. I was not asked to comment on all of these standards within Appendix "J" to comment on tags which don't have any relationship to the specific incidents that we are here to discuss.

MR. ROSEN: And counsel, I want to raise an objection to the relevancy of, you know, of the initial question that you were -- that started this conversation. I mean, how is that relevant to this --

MR. GREEN: Did I read this correctly?

MR. ROSEN: Well, I don't know whether --

MR. GREEN: But that's the question.

MR. ROSEN: Well, I mean the question is -- I mean, as I agree with Doctor Kastner, is like why are we sitting here -- ask the question, not whether you read it correctly, but ask the question, and if it's within his scope then he can answer it or I will object to the relevance. But right now, the question that you asked is not relevant, whether you read it correctly. And second is, this has nothing to do with -- as Doctor Kastner testified to the behavioral health or restraint services requirements. But go ahead. Ask the question and then I will object or Doctor Kastner will answer the question if he can.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q All right. So Doctor Kastner, am I understanding you that your testimony is, you are not going to offer an opinion as to whether I read, while that purported to be the language of Section 483.240(a)(5) as it appears in Appendix "J"? You have no -- you're not offering --

A As to whether or not you are reading accurately?

Q Correct.

A And I said to you, that exceeds the scope of my engagement with the State of Arkansas.
Q Okay. All right. Whether I read it exceeds the scope. That's good. Does that regulation that I just cited 483.420(a)(5) apply -- did it apply to the Booneville center in June of 2020?
A As I have stated, the CMS rules and regulations, and in particular as they are interpreted by Appendix "J", were applicable to BHDC.
Q Okay. I will take that as a yes. But you were not engaged to give an opinion on the application of 483.420(a)(5) at this --
A CMS -- CMS has already offered an opinion, which is that BHDC satisfies the requirements contained in Appendix "J", including W127, and thereby can continue to participate in the program as an ICF/IDD. And CMS has the authority to do that, and has done so. There is no point in me going back and investigating whether or not BHDC met that standard when CMS has provided an authoritative opinion in that regard.
Q Okay. My question just simply was, are you saying that it was not part of your engagement to assess that particular regulation that I have cited, as it applies to Booneville in June of 2020, in this incident?

A As I said, the scope of my engagement is embodied in my opinions. And I'll be happy to walk you through the opinions and help you understand the breadth of the scope. But I have no opinions as to whether or not the HDC complied with W127, because CMS has already offered an authoritative opinion that the facility is in compliance with that standard.

There is no point to me reviewing that if we agree that the feds have that -- you know, defined the standard and the means of measuring compliance with that standard.

MR. GREEN: Well, I was going to make it very clear for the record. I'm not agreeing to any proposition that you are stating if you say "We can agree."

BY MR. GREEN:
Q All right. So in not --
A I think that we agreed that the feds set the standard, we agree that the feds use Appendix "J" for the purposes of measuring compliance with the standards. And I think we can agree that the feds determined that BHDC meets the standards that they define, using the instrument that they produce as a result of the survey. So there is no point in my going back and looking at tags in Appendix "J" and trying to reference it back into the CMS standards when it's a moot issue.

The facility is compliant with W127, and the standards around client protections.

Q All right. I'm simply just trying to ask you questions. I am not tasking you to give an opinion as to the mootness or relevance of my question. A very simple, "I'm not offering an opinion on it, because CMS has made a determination and I accept that," would have been fine. We don't have to have the round and round. We can, though, as long as you want. But it would be a little quicker if you would just answer my question.

MR. ROSEN: I think he did.

MR. GREEN: He did there at the end, yes.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Okay. Let me ask you about W128. If you will let me know when you get to that page, I would appreciate it, or if you want me to ask you about it beforehand, I will.

A (Witness reviews documents.) I'm there now.

Q Okay. Section 483.420(a)(6), are you going to be giving an opinion as whether or not that applied to Booneville in June of 2020?

A Yes.
Q Did it apply to them in June of 2020?
A Yes. And the facility met that standard according to CMS.
Q I understand that --
A The reason I looked at this specifically in regard to Mr. Cains, I will also confirm, and I think my opinions do confirm that they have appropriate behavioral treatments for individuals that address the elimination of restraints and the management of drugs to the extent possible. The interdisciplinary process addresses this concern.
Q That wasn't my question. But I'm going to ask you a different question. You said earlier that you reviewed Appendix "J" before this deposition, correct?
A Correct.
Q And so are you familiar with it?
A Yes, I am.
Q Are there any of the federal regulations listed in Appendix "J" that began with 483 that did not apply to Booneville Human Development Center in June 2020?
MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object. In what respects, in what aspect of application? Are you saying -- are you alleging that they violated that, or are you just asking does 483 or Appendix "J" in general apply, whether it applies specifically or was relevant specifically on a different date or not.

MR. GREEN: If I want your -- the doctor's opinion on whether they violated it, I will ask that. I'm just simply trying to get his testimony as to whether they applied in the first instance.

MR. ROSEN: Well, be a little more specific.

MR. GREEN: I just --

MR. ROSEN: Applied to what, in general are you talking about or --

MR. GREEN: Okay. We'll go one by one, that's fine.

MR. ROSEN: Okay.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q So 128 applies. W129, let me know when you get there. It's 483 --

MR. ROSEN: Counsel, let me just be clear. What I'm saying is, you are saying, does it apply, you know. And I think the Doctor has testified as to what Appendix "J" applies to. The questions I think that you're asking is whether -- what you are really asking, without saying, is whether it applies in a specific date at a specific time to the factual circumstances. And that -- you know, you need to be specific if you are going to ask the question, as opposed to a general just vague question. That's my objection.

BY MR GREEN:

Q Doctor, I'm going to ask you a question. The federal regulations contained in Appendix "J", they begin with 483. Do you know what I'm talking about when I state those regulations, do you know which collection of regulations I am referring to?

A I am familiar with Appendix "J".

Q Did those sections of the federal regulations apply to the Booneville Human Development Center on June 13th of 2020?

A As I said, the Appendix "J" is used to evaluate the compliance of the facility at the time of the survey. And Appendix "J" applies in its entirety, just to -- we can abbreviate this process, I am --

Q Okay. It's --
A I would say these regulations apply.
Q Very good. Thank you.
A But they are beyond the scope of my work relative to the instance of Mr. Cains. And they are not intended to be applied to specific instances of care. These are facility-wide standards that are looked at and examined. They are not defining the standard of care for an individual practitioner in an individual circumstance with a specific person.
Q Okay.
A In those instances it falls to the standard of care for the practitioner within the scope of their practice.
Q Okay. Can you point me to the federal statute or regulation that says exactly what you just said, that these do not apply to a specific individual in a specific instance, and instead it falls to the standards for the professional's practice? Can you cite me the federal law that states that, not an inference, but just states what you just said?
A That's a question that I was not -- that I don't have an opinion on. I have discussed this earlier about the professionals requiring a license in order to practice within the scope of their discipline.

And I believe that in doing so, the federal government requires that state defer to those licensing standards.

There are multiple citations within Appendix "J". I think there are 42 when you type in a search for the word "license". I would have to look at each one of those to try to be responsive. But I think in general my comments are accurate and reflect the intent of the CMS survey process.

So for example, professional program staff under W170 must be licensed, certified or registered as applicable to provide services in which the state -- in the state in which they practice. And then there are other qualifications, W171 that are in addition to licensure requirements for OTs in particular, OT assistants. My guess is the section of 170s are going to be around licensure.

We can walk through them if you would like, you know, 173 is PT, 174 PT aides, and 175 is a psychologist. The standards for training and licensure are embedded in Appendix "J". I think -- you know, it could take some time to go through them, but I think that that's responsive to your question.

Q Okay. All right. So that's your response. Let me ask you to jump off of "J" for just a moment. Did Tyler Mattson possess -- was he required to possess any license issued by the state on June 13, 2020 to hold the position that he held with the Booneville center?

A No. I don't believe he was required to have a license.

Q Okay.

A I believe his education was at the level of a high school graduate. I don't remember if he graduated or completed a GED, or some college work. But generally he was about the level of a high school graduate.

Q Would our answer be the same with respect to Amy Jones and Ryann Campos? I may be pronouncing her first name wrong. But Ms. Campos and Ms. Amy Jones, that neither of them was required to have a license on June 13 of 2020?

A I can't recall. I don't believe that any of the three were required to have a license. I recall Ms. Jones had a higher level of training, and had some supervisory responsibility, but I don't remember any specific detail.

Q Okay. Thank you. All right. Give me just a minute to flip through this document. We are probably going to move on to something else here in a moment. Let me ask you about W278. If you will let me know when you are on the page that contains W278, I will ask my question.

A (Witness reviews documents.) Okay. It's going to take me a while just to scroll down.

Q Sure.

A Okay.

Q All right.

A I'm on 278.

Q Okay. Section 483.450(b)(1)(iii). Do you see that section?

A Yes.

Q And by the way, the formatting of this document, when it cites to the 483, that language that follows it is in bold type. Is that right?

A Correct.

Q And does the bold type that follows 483 represent the actual wording of the regulation or do you know?

A I don't know offhand. I would check before offering an opinion.

Q Okay. All right. Very good. 483 point -- I'm just going to refer to it as W278, but I'm referring to 483.450(b)(1)(iii). Do you understand if I say W278 I'm using it interchangeably?

A Yes.
Q Okay. Were you engaged to give an opinion with respect to W278, and it's application to Mr. Cains in June 13, 2020?
A Well, as I discussed with you previously, there are, in broad terms, two type of restraint procedures that are used at a facility. One, are programmed restraints, and the other are emergency restraints. W278 applies to program restraints. The restraints that were employed with Mr. Cains in this specific instance were not program restraints, they were emergency restraints.

278, I don't believe would apply to the conditions under which restraint was utilized, and therefore, I would not offer an opinion about the programmed restraints in Mr. Cains' IPPs.
Q Okay. Do know whether he had any program restraints in his IPP?
A He had a behavior support plan to address -- I know I said this at the beginning of my testimony, aggressive behavior and some other maladaptive behavior. But again, the specific instance that I was asked to look at didn't fall within the program restraints, it fell within the emergency restraints.

Q Okay. Let me ask you, though, W278, I just want to make sure I understood something you said earlier. I think what you said, and I may have misunderstood, is that the regulations contained in Appendix "J" apply to the facility, but not to a specific individual's treatment in a particular situation, is that correct?

A In broad terms. But that's not -- it's not absolutely true. There are many of the tags which surveyors can go in and look at the specific individuals and reach a conclusion based on what they see for a specific individual. So as a broad rule, the tags are meant for the facility. But surveyors certainly do and can look at individuals in reaching a conclusion about facility-wide practices. And that's clear in the guidance to surveyors.

Q Okey-doke. With respect to 278, and then I'm going to move on.

A So 278 is, I think, a good example of where Mr. Mattson finds himself conflicted between the use of a restraint, which is more restrictive -- you know, a mechanical restraint, which is more restrictive than a physical hold versus letting Mr. Cains up, which poses a danger to Mr. Cains and others.

And Mr. Mattson, based upon his training and professional judgment determined that the balance between more restrictive procedure papoose board versus the risk of harm to individuals in letting Mr. Cains up. His death balanced with the use of ongoing physical holds. And that's just the way things are in real life practice settings.

Q All right. I thought just a moment ago, you said W278 did not apply to the situation involving Mr. Cains because it was not a program restraint. But it seemed like you were just then giving -- or at least somehow giving an opinion or testifying in some way that it did connect with the incident of Mr. Cains?

A Well, as you can see, the 278 are at the bottom, the last sentence is that in emergency situations where an unanticipated behavior requires immediate protection of the client or others, the technique chosen is the least restrictive appropriate technique possible. And that sentence, I think is really important, because it implies that a judgment needs to be made by a professional as to what is the least restrictive appropriate technique possible.

And Mr. Mattson made such a determination in the context of an emergency situation where he deemed it not necessary, not the least restrictive to employ in mechanical restraint, but that ongoing restraint was appropriate, given the risk of harm to individuals. So it's this kind of language which isn't prescriptive, it allows professionals to make judgments about what is the appropriate technique.

But for the most part, the bold and the tag from CFR relates to programs which are the approved behavior support plans, and not to emergency restraints.

Q So the actual text of 483.450(B)(1)(iii) does not fly in Mr. Cains' specific incident, but the guidance of it does, is that right, am I hearing correct?

A This issue of emergency situations is addressed in both, 278 in one sentence, but also in other portions of the guidance. And I think it's consistent throughout, it's used in terms of the guidance. But generally this tag 278, I believe, is around programmed restraints, not emergency restraints.

Q Okay. All right. So let me ask you this question, based on the answers you have given, if an emergency situation where there is an unanticipated behavior requires immediate protection to client and others, technique chosen is the least restrictive appropriate technique. That is this -- that is guidance given from CMS, is that right?

A I'm sorry. Can you just repeat that question?

Q Is that guidance given by CMS?

MR. ROSEN: You faded out for a second in your original question.

MR. GREEN: All right.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Okay. The language that you read earlier that says "in emergency situations where an unanticipated behavior", do you see that language?

A Yes, the last sentence under 278.

Q Yes. Is that the guidance from CMS?

A Appendix "J" are the interpretive guidelines used by surveyors to determine compliance with federal regulations. So this is a document prepared by CMS for use in the field as a measurement tool to determine compliance.

Q And right above that last paragraph I'm asking you about, there's two paragraphs above it, correct?

A What's the first word in the paragraph just so I know what you are talking about?

Q "Policies must be implemented".

A Correct.
Q And right above that it says "Guidance", correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. So those three paragraphs that follow are the guidance given by CMS, is that right?
A Those are a guidance, they are not regulations.
Q Okay.
A They are an interpretive guidance that's used by a surveyor to determine whether or not a facility is in compliance with those federal standards.
Q So they are the guidance, they are not the actual regulation, I understand. My question is, that third paragraph that you read, if there were an emergency situation and they were -- it involved unanticipated behavior that required immediate protection of the client or others, the technique chosen is the least restrictive appropriate technique possible.

If a person within a human development center in a state where the human development center had a -- the state or the center had a written policy that no papoose boards shall be used, but the person with the unanticipated behavior that required the immediate protection chose to use that technique, would the person be in violation of their state regulations and facility ones, but not this one, is that -- am I reading that right?

MR. ROSEN: First of all, before Doctor Kastner answers, I'm going to object. That's not relevant here in this situation.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Well, it's a hypothetical that, Doctor, if you have an answer you can give it.

A I can't respond. It's outside of the scope of my engagement.

Q Very good.

A BHDC does permit the use of papoose boards.

Q And do you have an opinion as to whether the Booneville Human Development Center should continue or discontinue the use of papoose boards?

A I am not --

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object on that on the grounds of relevancy here, that we are talking about a time period two years ago, in June of 2020. And a papoose board wasn't even used. So it wouldn't be relevant to any aspect that the Claims Commission is going to decide or not. So I object.

MR. GREEN: Okay.

MR. ROSEN: Irrelevant.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q All right. But Doctor, you still can answer. So do you have an opinion as to whether or not a papoose board should be used or not used at the Booneville Human Development Center?

A That opinion would fall outside the scope of this consultation.

Q So you won't tell me whether you have an opinion because you believe it falls outside of the scope of your engagement?

A In this specific engagement, absolutely. I was not asked to opine, and I offer no opinion as to the merits of any specific behavioral approach.

Q You offer no opinion today under oath in this testimony or at all about the use, continued use of papoose boards?

MR. ROSEN: Okay. I mean, counsel, a papoose board was not used here. So what's the relevance of any testimony as to, particularly now, two years later? Are you asking back then or are you asking about right now? Actually I need that clarification, for my objection.

MR. GREEN: You know, it's --

MR. ROSEN: Because if you are asking about back then, perhaps, you know, the doctor could, if he knows the answer. But if you are asking about now, in January of 2023, how is that relevant? Please tell me how that's relevant to anything related to this case that happened in June of 2020.

MR. GREEN: Well, I believe the doctor testified that the testimony of Mr. Hise was that the only curriculum based training that was given at the facility at the time with respect to restraints while a person is on the ground is for the purpose to transfer into a mechanical restraint, which would include a papoose board.

MR. ROSEN: Agreed.

MR. GREEN: And so it's relevant in that manner. In --

MR. ROSEN: In 2020? So if your time frame is June of 2020, I would withdraw my objection. But if your time frame is 2023, two and a half years later, what is the relevance of that with regard to any issue the Claims Commission is going to have to decide in this case?

MR. GREEN: Well, I will ask for --

MR. ROSEN: If we limit it to that, then it's fine.

MR. GREEN: Well, I'm going to ask about now, too, but I'm going -- because the doctor stated something that I want ask him about to see with respect to potential impeachment material, and credibility is always relevant.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q But I'm going to go back to 2020, Doctor. So in June of 2020, did you have an opinion as to whether or not a papoose board was an appropriate method for a restraint that should be used at Booneville center?

A I offered no opinion about papoose boards.

Q Okay. So your answer is, "I offer no opinion as to papoose boards"?

A No, no. My answer is that in my report, I offered no opinion about papoose boards.

Q But I'm asking, did you have one, that's a different question.

A Did I ever have an opinion, or do I have an opinion or --

Q I will ask --

A I would respond by saying that my personal opinions or other opinions about papoose boards are outside of the scope of this consultation. And I have no opinion to offer about papoose boards regarding the care provided to Mr. Cains.

Q Okay. Well, you know, respectfully, I'm not constrained in the scope of my questions by the scope of your engagement with the state. And my question is, as an expert, with your qualifications that you testified to earlier, in June, specifically June of 2020, did you have an opinion as to whether or not papoose boards should be used at the Booneville center? That's my first question.

MR. ROSEN: Objection, relevancy.

MR. GREEN: That's not the point.

MR. ROSEN: A papoose board wasn't used.

MR. GREEN: Well --

MR. ROSEN: Are you talking about a specific date in June of 2020 when they were used on Mr. Cains and that something was a result?

MR. GREEN: I think my question was clear, and you have objected to relevance, and we have talked about it. The doctor needs to answer my question.

THE WITNESS: I have answered your question. And I will answer it in the same manner, which is that I did not offer an opinion about papoose boards in my consultation regarding the care provided to Mr. Cains.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Okay. I understand that you did not offer an opinion. But I'm asking if you had one? Do you understand my question?

A I understand your question quite well. I hope you understand my answer, which is that I did not offer an opinion about papoose boards in regard to the consultation in this specific matter.

Q Okay. So you will not answer, did you have one, because you didn't give one in your report? Is that --

A My opinions are contained within my report. We can read them if you would like, if that would help to clarify this issue. But I offer no opinions about the use of papoose boards in regard to the care provided to Mr. Cains.

Q And your reports, somewhere early in each report states something -- well, let's not say what it -- let me look at the exact language that you put in your report. And by the way, these two reports, you drafted each of these reports yourself, correct?

A Yes. Unfortunately I have to admit to that given all the typographical errors. I have no one to blame but myself.
Q All right. So I just wanted to make sure we were on the same page there. All right. Let's just look at your first report from January 5th of this year, page three. You can flip to it, but at the bottom it says, "I reserve the right to amend this report and my opinions based upon any information I subsequently acquire, or any other issue," and it also says "This report does not contain every opinion which I may offer during testimony." So the report doesn't necessarily contain all of your opinions with respect this matter, correct?
A It does not contain every opinion which I may offer during testimony.
Q Okay. And -- all right. Well, I think the record is clear that you are going to be nonresponsive to my question whether you had an opinion, so we will move on. Let me ask you about restraints in general. Because I do believe that you have given opinions in this case about restraints. Would you agree with me that a goal of the human development center should be to reduce the number of restraints that are used?

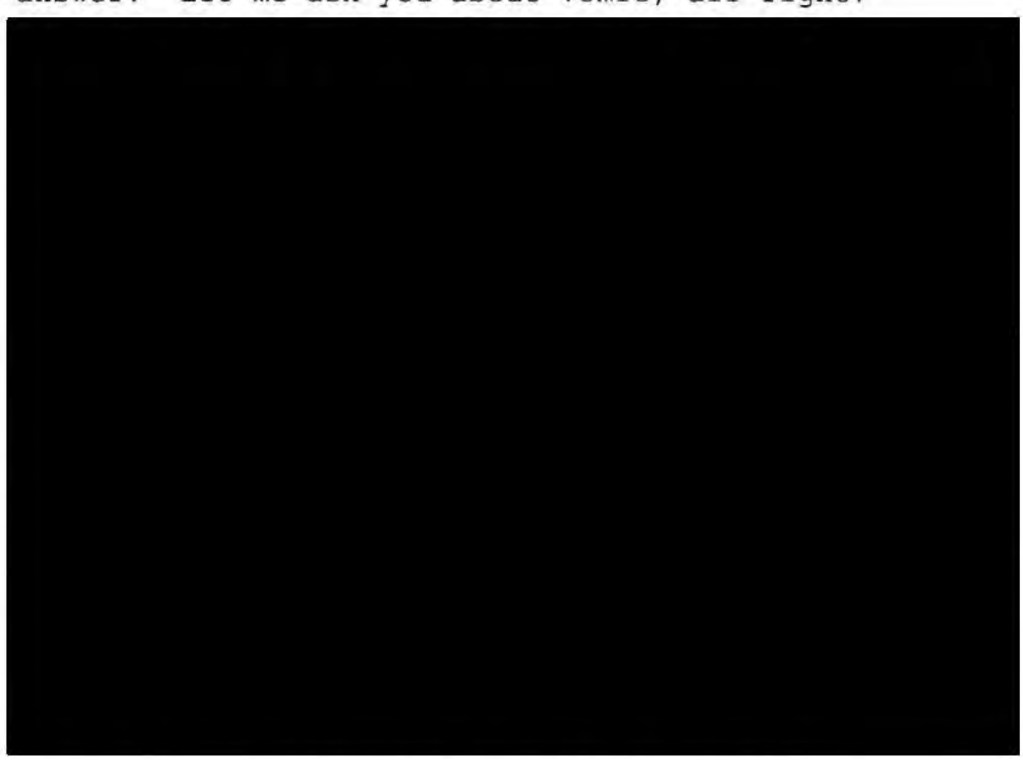
A What do you mean by "number of restraints"?

Q Okay. What, in the phrase "number of restraints", do you not understand?

A Well, like are you talking about the number of forms of restraint, you know, the five or six restraint procedures that are incorporated in policy that were subject to the medical review, are you talking about --

Q Okay. I understand, I understand. I will clarify it.

A -- the number of minutes of restraint, the number of episodes of restraint? What is it that you are trying to get at?



Q Here, let me clear it up. Do you agree with me that it should -- that the Booneville center, and all of the human development centers in the State of Arkansas, should have as a goal to reduce the number of restraints used in a given time period, say per year, that that should be a goal, to reduce the number of restraints used? And by that, I mean, incidents that it's used, not the types, but the incidents. Do you understand that question?

A The numbers of times that --
Q The numbers of times of the incidents, yes. Do you agree with me that reducing that is a goal that human development centers should strive for?
A I think that that's a kind of simplistic way of looking at restraint. It's helpful to look at that as an objective. But I think, you know, in broader terms, a goal would be to create a safe and healthy environment in which people can learn and develop as humans. So reducing restraints in and of itself, may or may not necessarily to be conducive to meeting those broader goals.
Q So you didn't like my use of the word "goals". Should it be an objective of the centers to reduce the number of times restraints are used?
A I think everyone would agree that restraints should be used, and reserved for those episodes in which it is clinically appropriate, and that the goal of minimizing restraint is a desirable goal, but it should not necessarily be at the expense of other outcomes.

So for example, again, and going to Mr. Mattson, there is a balance that needs to be struck in that specific incident of care about the use of a restraint and creating a more restrictive environment versus the health and safety goals of the facility. I mean, if you said to Booneville today that they could not implement restraint, one of the potential outcomes would be that it would become a less safe environment, because staff would not be able to employ something which does protect individuals from harm. So it's something that needs to be looked at in a broader context, not simply as a stand alone goal, if you will.

Q Okay. All right. I think I understand your answer. Let me ask you about vomit, all right?

A That's really outside of the scope of the complication I was asked to provide. I would --

Q Is that the --

[redacted]

Q All right. Doctor, I understand your answer. Again, respectfully, the scope of your engagement with the state does not limit the scope of my questions.

A Well, then, I can't answer your question if I'm not prepared. And I'm telling you I'm not prepared, because I didn't do the literature search that I would typically do to answer your specific question.

[redacted]

[redacted]

Q Okay.

A Contained -- those findings are contained in my opinion.

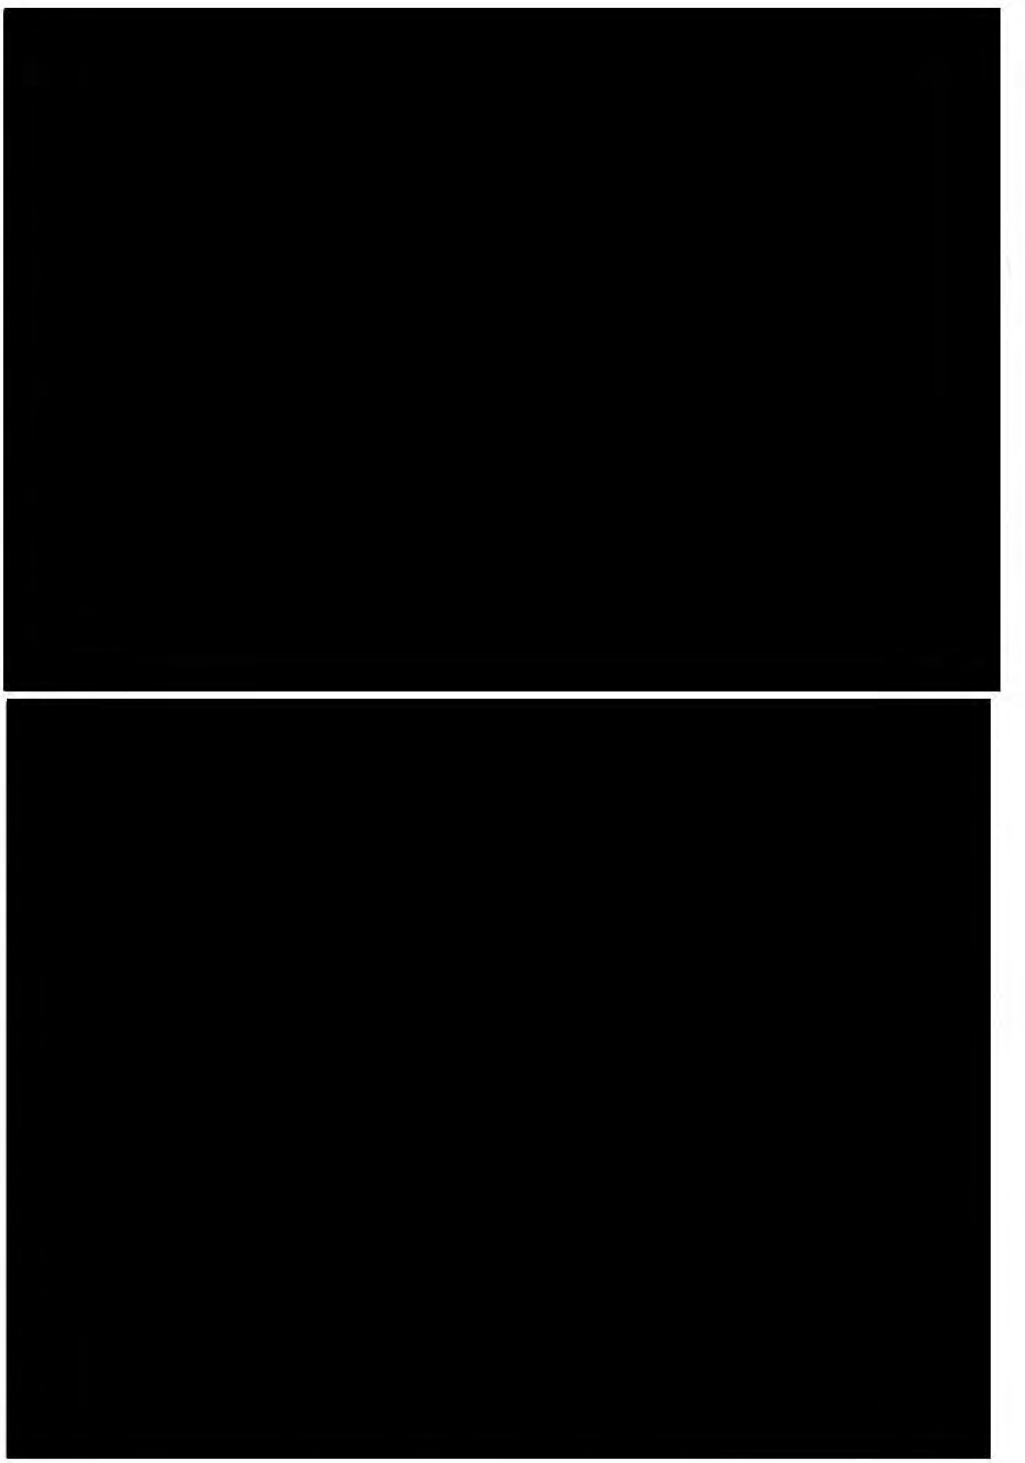
[redacted]

[redacted]

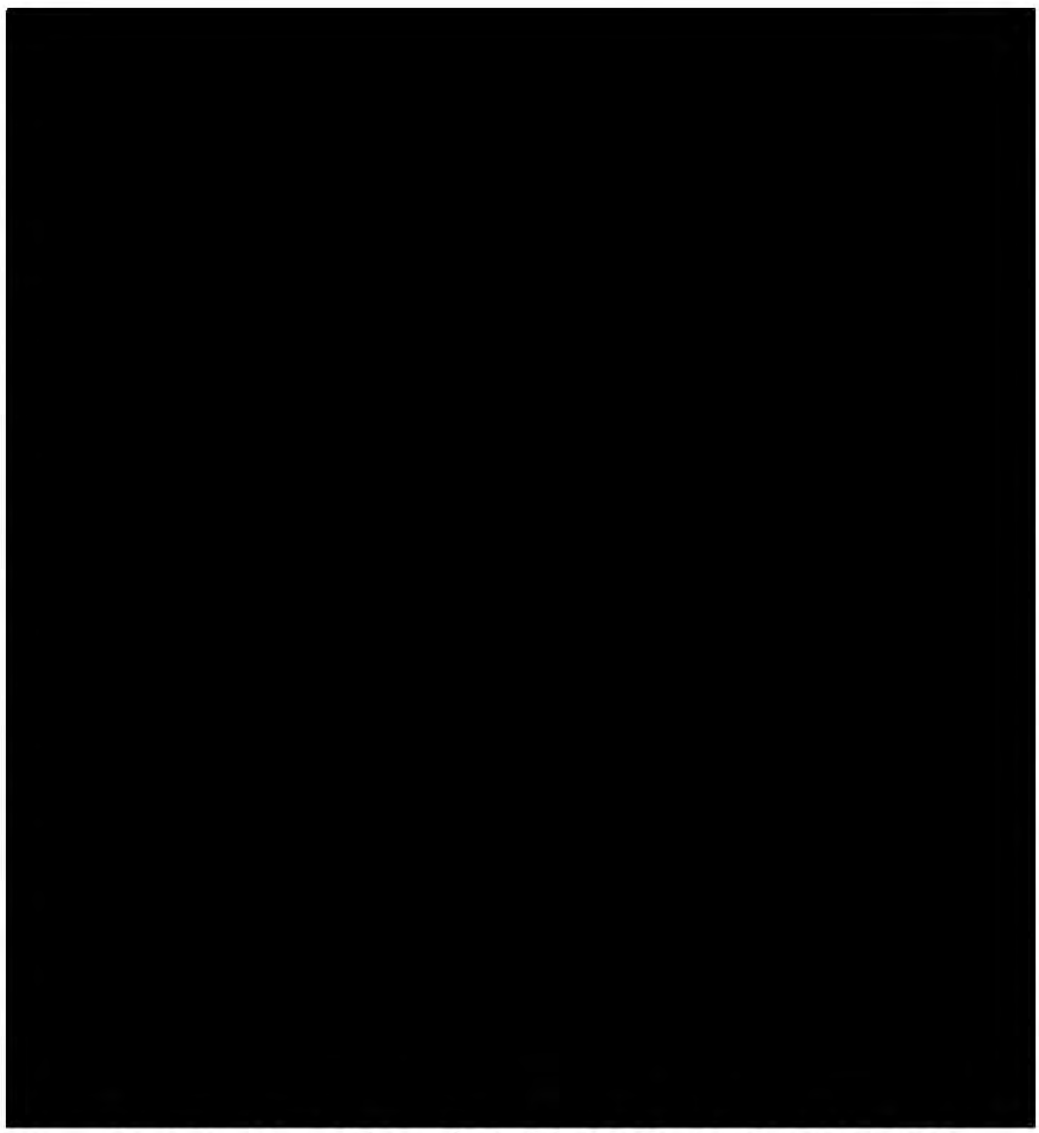
A Well, as I have demonstrated in my report, I like to cite evidence. So when I talked about the life expectancy, I incorporated four references that would help someone understand that my opinion was founded and based in the evidence and data. I'm not prepared to discuss any alleged associations between one thing or another or causality without the benefit of being able to cite literature.

Q Okay. Now, I understand your answer. You are not prepared and able to answer it. That's fine. My next question is, you said that Mr. Cains had [redacted] is that correct?

[redacted]



Q Okay.



[redacted]

[redacted]

Q Okay.

[redacted]

Q So you are saying that if there is an emergency, the staff are authorized to operate outside of the behavior treatment program?

A CMS allows for two separate approaches to the management of individual's behavior. We have discussed this and reviewed actually the applicable rules and regs. Programmed restraints are described in a behavior support plan and reviewed by the IDT with consent given by the guardian. Emergency restraints are different. They fall outside of the behavior support plan. There are different regulations that apply to them. And again, we have looked at those.

[redacted]

Q Okay. My question is, are you testifying under oath that if there was an emergency situation involving Mr. Cains, that the staff was authorized to operate outside of the written behavior treatment program for Mr. Cains?

A What I have said, and I think I'm saying the same thing I have said before, which is that there are two separate approaches to the management of maladaptive behavior at any ICF/IDD. The first are programmed restraints that are implemented as part of the comprehensive behavior support plan reviewed by an IDT and consented to by a guardian. There are -- the second set of behavioral strategies are employed in emergency situations.

[redacted]

But that is separate than emergency restraints. The emergency restraints fall outside of the scope of the behavior support plan. And there were no limitations or restraints placed -- or conditions placed on staff's ability to use any one of these five treatments or techniques.

Q All right. So I have asked you a couple of times if your testimony is they can operate outside of his behavior treatment program in an emergency. I haven't heard a yes or a no, given a couple of explanations. We will just have to leave it at that, I suppose.

[redacted]

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object. Whatever -- and the testimony will speak for itself. I don't that's appropriate to paraphrase and characterize testimony. If you have a transcript of the record, let's take a look at it. But it's clear what Doctor Kastner is saying now. I don't think it's appropriate to -- unless you have a transcript, to tell him what he said. And he is testifying now, he is telling you three times already.

MR. GREEN: Well, I can certainly ask him if he recalls his prior testimony. But I think that he has already answered my question sufficiently, frankly.

THE WITNESS: I will just -- I will tell you, I -- in absolutely no way do I believe that [redacted]

If you go to, you know, page five of my LeBel report, item number 20, I disclosed this at the very beginning. My opinion is that, based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, [redacted]

I mean, I said that before we even got started, because I wanted to correct the error in my report. [redacted]

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Now, I understand that's your opinion. And I think you have answered --

A Okay. So there is no confusion, what I said at the very beginning, what I said in the middle, and what I'm saying now has been consistent. [redacted]

Q Okay. Were you aware that Doctor Hamid has testified that the use of ground restraints were not approved for Mr. Cains on June 13th of 2020?

A I don't recall that. Again, that would be outside of the scope of Mister -- or Doctor Hamid, the approval of restraints, as I said earlier, rests with the interdisciplinary team, not with the physician. The physician's role is to offer an opinion about whether restraint techniques could be used safely. His role is not to approve or disapprove of the use of specific restraints other than chemical interventions which, of course, require a license by a prescriber. But -- Q I may have --
A But it makes no sense that that would be the case. It's inconsistent with the way they run the teams.
Q Well, I may have misspoke. But I thought I stated that his testimony was that the use of ground restraints for David on June 13th, 2020 was not approved, not necessarily that he was the one who had not approved it, but that they simply were not approved, that that was a fact he had testified to. Were you aware of that?
MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object. I'm not aware that -- unless you can give me a quote. I mean, you have asked him to comment on whether he thinks it should have been approved or what. But I mean, you know, if Doctor Hamid said what he said, that's what he said. But I don't know that that can be a fact or a paraphrase or a misquote.

MR. GREEN: I understand.

MR. ROSEN: So whether this doctor is aware of that, unless that would change his testimony, it would be irrelevant. And Doctor --

MR. GREEN: All right.

MR. ROSEN: You have Doctor Hamid's testimony, so it is what it is.

MR. GREEN: It is. You are absolutely right.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Do you recall reviewing Doctor Hamid's deposition in your engagement in this case?

A Yes.

Q Do you recall him testifying that ground restraints for any purpose other than transitioning to mechanicals is not allowed -- was not allowed at Booneville center on June 13th, 2020?

A Could you refer me to a specific statement that he made so that I can understand exactly what you are referring to?

Q So without a referral to a specific cite, you don't recall at this point?

A No, I --

MR. ROSEN: Well, I'm going to object to this context. I mean, you can pull a statement out, I don't know. Let's look at the transcript. But I don't even know why you are asking this witness to comment on what Doctor Hamid has -- what you are saying he has determined. You can ask Doctor Kastner what he thinks and what his opinion is, but --

THE WITNESS: I think it was unclear.

MR. GREEN: I can explore --

THE WITNESS: -- Doctor Hamid was --

MR. GREEN: -- facts that formed the basis of his opinion some -- whether he was aware of other things that have been testified to as facts by other people involved with this matter. Certainly I can probe the factual basis of his opinions.

MR. ROSEN: The point --

THE WITNESS: I think --

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Just a minute, Doctor, I know you were wanting to offer something up. But I'm going to -- I didn't mean to interrupt you.

A If Doctor Hamid, like many of the witnesses in this matter, was subjected to a variety of very leading questions in which a portion of the question may have been accurate, but another portion of the question may not. I think there was a discussion about whether or not he agreed that that training was put into place around the use of restraints on the ground, and asked to comment on whether that was approved or not.

If it -- I think that there is some confusion in the record as to exactly what he was speaking to. But again, Doctor Hamid wouldn't have a role in approving or disapproving the use of a behavioral technique. It's outside of the scope of his independent practice --

Q Wait a minute.

A To talk to a group --

Q Let me ask you a question. He wouldn't have a role, but you're relying -- your opinion is based on his role in determining that these could be safely used. Is that not a role, in the determination of whether they can be used? Do you really want to stand by the statement under oath that he had no role?

A If you would allow me to finish --

Q Please.

A -- my answer, then I can respond to this new question. But as I was in the midst of saying, the process for determining the appropriateness of behavioral treatment falls to an interdisciplinary process in which Doctor Hamid participates. But he doesn't have the unilateral ability to approve or disapprove of specific behavioral techniques. That is part of a bigger process that involves all of the members of the team, particularly in developing a behavior support plan.

He has a very specific role in defining whether or not specific behavioral techniques can be implemented safely. But he doesn't have a unilateral role in determining or deciding which behavioral strategy should be employed. So I hope that answers the question clearly so you understand my understanding of what Doctor Hamid's role is.

But going back to your point, I don't believe he would have said that physical restraints or ground restraints, as you are describing them, were prohibited.

Q For Mr. Cains? Is that the rest of your answer, or do you want to leave it as just "prohibited", and that's the end of your answer?
A Oh, no, in terms of Mr. Cains, in particular.
Q Okay.
A But I just don't know where that would come from, it's -- it would be an odd position for him to take. It would really fall within the scope of the broader interdisciplinary process. And then I can also say there was some confusion in many of the depositions around how deponents responded to ambiguous questions.
Q All right. So let me move on to the issue --

MR. GREEN: Do y'all want to take a quick ten minute break?

MR. ROSEN: Well, it's five of 5:00 here. It's five to 6:00 in New York.

MR. GREEN: Oh, yes, it's 6:00.

MR. ROSEN: About how long do you anticipate to continue?

MR. GREEN: I don't think, Rich, there is realistically any way we are going to finish today, unfortunately. So my suggestion would be, you know, we can adjourn this to be completed on another day.

MR. ROSEN: Well, I mean, if you think you are going to go for several more hours, then I would -- depending on Doctor Kastner, and I guess the Court Reporter has a say in this too. I'm sure she's tired. I don't know when we would do this. Why don't we take a five minute break and -- well, what are you proposing? What are you saying?

COURT REPORTER: Me?

MR. GREEN: Oh, me?

MR. ROSEN: What are you proposing, I don't know about tomorrow morning, but --

MR. GREEN: Yes, I can't be here to do this tomorrow morning. But yes, I mean, I think we can adjourn it to be completed on another day.

MR. ROSEN: Doctor Kastner, what is your schedule like, and what is your position on this?

THE WITNESS: I'm going to make myself available to you to continue and complete this. I can't tell you what my schedule or my availability would be right now.

MR. ROSEN: Well --

THE WITNESS: I won't be available until next week, at the earliest.

MR. ROSEN: Counsel, if you are saying that you anticipate it will take more than an hour or so --

MR. GREEN: Yes, that's right.

MR. ROSEN: Okay.

MR. GREEN: And if people don't have schedules, you know, we don't have to pick the exact date as of this moment. But we can get in touch with everyone tomorrow to arrange schedules to get it completed as soon as possible.

COURT REPORTER: Do y'all want this part on the record?

MR. ROSEN: And Donna, you are -- and I know that, you know, we could have a different Court Reporter. But I assume that you are pretty exhausted, are you not?

COURT REPORTER: Yes. But I will do whatever.

MR. ROSEN: Doctor Kastner, if it's going to take several more hours, I'm going to -- why don't we take a five minute break.

MR. GREEN: Okay.

MR. ROSEN: And what time is it? Five of 5:00, so we will come back around 5:01 and make a decision.

MR. GREEN: Sounds good.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. Off the record.

(WHEREUPON, there was a brief break.)

MR. ROSEN: All right. So we are adjourned then, Donna. And I will contact your office and let you know what date and all that stuff.

COURT REPORTER: Just let me know when, and I will be ready.

MR. ROSEN: All right. Mark that we are off the record.

(WHEREUPON, at 5:05 p.m., the taking of the above-entitled deposition was adjourned.)

---o---

DHS EXHIBIT ONE:

DHS EXHIBIT 2-A:

DHS EXHIBIT 2-B:

C E R T I F I C A T E

STATE OF ARKANSAS)
)
COUNTY OF PULASKI)

I, DONNA K. PETRE, Certified Court Reporter in and for the County of Pulaski, State of Arkansas, duly commissioned and acting, do hereby certify that the above-entitled proceedings were taken by me in Stenotype, and were thereafter reduced to print by means of computer-assisted transcription, and the same fully, truly, and correctly reflects the proceedings had, with portions dependent on the quality of the Zoom audio or video taken.

I FURTHER CERTIFY that I am not attorney or counsel of any of the parties, nor am I relative or employee of any attorney or counsel or party connected with the action, and have no interest in the outcome or results of this proceeding.

WHEREFORE, I have subscribed my signature and seal as such Court Reporter in the City of Little Rock, County of Pulaski, State of Arkansas, this the 9th day of February, 2023.

Donna K. Petre

DONNA K. PETRE, CCR #125
COURT REPORTER IN AND FOR PULASKI COUNTY, ARKANSAS

---o---

BEFORE THE STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE McAULIFFE, AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS, CLAIMANT,
VS.	CLAIM NO. 220374
THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, RESPONDENT.

---o---

CONTINUED DEPOSITION

OF

THEODORE KASTNER, M.D., M.S.

---o---

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2023

---o---

VOLUME II

---o---

COURT REPORTER:

DEBBYE L. PETRE, CCR
P. O. Box 1027
Little Rock, Arkansas 72203

PETRE'S STENOGRAPH SERVICE
(501) 376-1411

A P E A R A N C E S:

ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANT:

CHAD M. GREEN, ESQUIRE
JOSHUA D. GILLISPIE, ESQUIRE
Green Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS:

RICHARD N. ROSEN, ESQUIRE
Office of Chief Counsel
P. O. Box 1437, Slot S-260
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

---o---

I N D E X

WITNESS:	Page
THEODORE KASTNER, M.D., M.S.
Cross Examination..(Continued).....	268
Redirect Examination.....	362
Recross Examination.....	365

---o---

E X H I B I T S

(None marked.)

--o---

Reporter's Certificate..... 371

---o---

The Continuation of the Deposition of Theodore Kastner, M.D., M.S., was taken before me, Debbye L. Petre, Certified Court Reporter within and for the County of Pulaski, State of Arkansas, duly commissioned and acting, on Thursday, February 2, 2023, beginning at the hour of 9:00 a.m., all parties present via Zoom.

---o---

THEREUPON, the following proceedings were had, to-wit:

---o---

* * * * * *

P R O C E E D I N G S

* * * * * *

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2023

* * * * * *

MR. ROSEN: We are back on the record. It is Thursday, February 2nd, about 9:10 or so. And this is the continuation of Doctor Kastner's cross examination. Everybody is ready. Counsel?

MR. GREEN: We are ready.

MR. ROSEN: Okay.

WHEREUPON,

THEODORE KASTNER, M.D., M.S., (Via Zoom) having been called for examination, and having been previously duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

CROSS EXAMINATION (Continued)

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Good morning, Doctor Kastner. Can you hear me all right?

A Yes. Good morning.

Q If you can't hear me at any time, will you let me know?

A I will.

Q And if you don't understand one of my questions, will you let me know?
A Yes.
Q And I know it was said earlier, but you are under oath. You understand that?
A Yes.
Q Okay. When we spoke a couple of weeks ago, I had asked you about what agencies or governments you were providing professional services or consultation to, and I think you said, as of right now the State of Arkansas was the only one that you had such a contract with for services. Is that right?
A You are referring to currently?
Q Currently.
A Yes.
Q Okay. Since we talked last a couple of weeks ago, have you obtained any new clients or anyone else who you are providing professional services consultation to?
A I mentioned there are other activities, but none related to litigation, depositions, expert reports, things of that type.
Q Okay. All right. Have you obtained new employment?
A No, no.

Q Okay. All right. Very well. Doctor, I wanted to go through some of your reports. You generated two reports, as you recall, in this case, at least two I have been provided. Do you remember us discussing those?

A Yes.

Q And one is dated January 5th of this year, and the other one is dated January 6th of this year.

A Yes.

Q For ease of reference, I'm going to refer to the January 5th report as your first report and the January 6th report as your second report. Is that okay with you?

A Yes.

Q Okay. In your January 5th report, you have lots of opinions. And one of the -- at the beginning of your report, you have listed on page three of that report your standard for opinion. And you say, throughout this report, you will use the standard, quote, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty," end quote, to express your opinions. What do you mean when you say, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty"?

A That based upon my training and experience, I make these judgments.

Q Okay. So, is it safe to assume that when you say "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty" that it relates to you giving an opinion as it relates to the medical field?

A No. I'm sure, as a lawyer, you are familiar with the fact that this idea of the "reasonable degree of medical certainty" is somewhat ambiguous. I'm not absolutely certain that courts, lawyers have applied it in the same fashion in every instance. But in my reading of, you know, health law and issues around professional practice, the "degree of medical certainty" term is meant to describe the opinions based upon my training and experience. But they are not limited to those of the practice of medicine, for example. They are related to other issues, for example, life expectancy, cause of death, things of that nature.

Q Okay. Well, life expectancy and cause of death is medical in nature, to some degree. You would agree?

A It has relevance to medicine, yes.

Q Right. In other words, my question is, when you say "Based upon a degree of reasonable medical certainty", your opinion you are giving in using that standard is going to be related to the field of medicine in some way; correct?

A No, not necessarily.
Q Okay. Well, give me an example of something that would not be in the field of medicine that you are giving that opinion based on that standard for.
A Well, I will give you an example and you make a judgment as to whether or not you feel it relates to medicine. For example, I opined that, I believe, the RCTs met the standard of care in the services they provided to Mr. Cains. I believe I'm qualified to make that determination and offer that opinion. But you would have to tell me whether you think that's consistent with the language that you are citing, "reasonable degree of medical certainty".
Q Okay.
A My understanding about the language is it's fairly vague and ambiguous, but I certainly feel comfortable opining about whether or not the RCTs met the standard of care in this regard.
Q And the RCTs aren't providing medical care; correct?
A It's a matter of how you define "medical care". They certainly provided CPR. They are implementing a Treatment Plan that was developed by an interdisciplinary team, which included the input of health care providers. They are billing Medicaid for their services. It is easy to make the case that RCTs are providing medical care in the course of their duties at the HDC.

Q And if they were, they would have to be providing it in accordance with a Physician's Orders; correct?

A No, not necessarily.

Q Okay.

A The process of providing care and authorizing care at an HDC is driven through an interdisciplinary process, and is reflected in the individual's Program Plan, or IHP or IPP, whatever the term of art is.

Q Are you saying that an RCT is authorized to provide medical care that is something not in accordance with a medical doctor's directives and orders?

A Not at all.

Q No?

A I'm not saying that medical orders are inconsistent with IPPs. But you asked me if -- and my understanding of your question was, that RCTs were limited in what they could do to what appeared on a Physician's Orders, for example. But my understanding of an RCT's scope is much broader than that.

Q And I'm not asking about their entire scope. I'm asking very specifically, because I asked you if they provide medical care. So, my question is very specific. Are you saying that an RCT is authorized to provide medical care that is not in accordance with a Physician's Orders?
A The RCTs are responsible for implementing a program plan, which is developed by the interdisciplinary team and identifies a wide range of activities, which I'm going to argue for the purpose of this discussion are medical in nature. They bill Medicaid, they are under the supervision of licensed professionals, et cetera.
Q Okay. Again, my question is, are the RCTs free to take the actions they deem necessary with respect to medical care for someone at a facility like Booneville, or are they required to follow the Physician's Orders?
A RCTs are professionals, and as a result, they are responsible for implementing the Treatment Plan at the facility. They, as trained professionals, have the ability to exercise judgment in terms of how they deploy their skills and implement that Treatment Plan.

Q All right. So, my question, I will ask it for the last time. Are they free to not follow a Physician's Orders?

A No, they are not free to not follow a Physician's Orders.

Q Okay. Thank you. Thank you. All right. On your first report, the one that we discussed that you wrote, on page nine you have a list of findings and expert opinions. Now, your opinion number two says, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty,

[redacted]

Q And what do you base that opinion on?

A Mr. Cains initiated an interaction with Mr. Mattson which resulted in the two of them landing on the floor and Mr. Cains being in a horizontal position as opposed to a vertical position. Because of Mr. Cains' activity directed toward Mr. Mattson,

[redacted]

Q One question I have -- well, first of all, that opinion and most of your opinions you base on statements made by Tyler; correct?

A Mr. Mattson, I think you are referring to, is the only person, other than Mr. Cains, who was present in the room at the time that Mr. Mattson states he was attacked by Mr. Cains. So, those are the only two primary sources that can be used.
Q Right. And, of course, our client is dead, so he can't talk. But in making your opinions, you assume that Mr. Mattson is telling the truth when he describes what happened in his different accounts; correct?
A There were two accounts offered by Mr. Mattson. One was his witness statement and the second was his testimony at deposition. I have no reason to believe that Mr. Mattson made false statements in either of those instances.
Q I'm not asking you to give an opinion as to his truthfulness or veracity. My question is, you assume he is telling the truth when you are forming these opinions; correct?
A As I said, I have no reason to believe that Mr. Mattson offered any false statement in either one of those regards.
Q Okay. So, I'm going to ask it for a third time, and if you don't want to answer, fine. You assume he is telling --

MR. ROSEN: Objection. I'm just going to object to the characterization, because, counsel, as you just heard, Doctor Kastner did answer it.

MR. GREEN: Respectfully disagree.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q My question is very simple, Doctor Kastner. In forming your opinions, you assume, or take the statements made by Mr. Mattson as truthful; correct?

A I have no evidence upon which to have an opinion that Mr. Mattson was not fully truthful in both his written witness statement and his deposition.

Q So, if you have no reason, you take them as truthful; correct?

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object. That's argumentative. You are arguing with the witness. He just said it for the third time.

MR. GREEN: Okay.

MR. ROSEN: And I think you can reach your own conclusions and argue what you want on that. But Doctor Kastner has now said it three times.

MR. GREEN: No, he will not answer my question. He gives a statement.

MR. ROSEN: He just answered it.

MR. GREEN: Doctor Kastner --

MR. ROSEN: You just don't like the answer, the way he answered it. But Doctor Kastner has answered the question three times. I have heard it, same thing three times.

MR. GREEN: I have heard that he has explained why he thinks there may or may not be honesty, but he will not just simply answer the question of he takes his statements as truthful.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor Kastner, is that what I'm hearing you say, that you have no reason to think he is not, so therefore, you take them as truthful?

A I have no reason to believe that Mr. Mattson offered any statements that were not truthful.

Q Okay. So, I'm going to take that as you are basing all of your opinions on Mr. Mattson being truthful. That's how I'm going to take your answer and proceed forward.

MR. ROSEN: Objection, because he didn't say all of his opinions. But --

MR. GREEN: Well, did he answer my question or did he not answer my question --

MR. ROSEN: He answered your question about --

MR. GREEN: -- because you objected that he answered it, but he is not answering my question.

MR. ROSEN: Okay.

MR. GREEN: He is giving speeches. And we can come back for a round three. Because this can take all day if we have to do this. It is a very simple, "Yes, I take it as truthful."

MR. ROSEN: Counsel, you can reach your own conclusions and you can argue what you wish. The fact is he has said it now four times. And you can put your characterization on it all you want. What I was objecting to is you said "all opinions". There are 20-something opinions on this, and not all of them are probably based upon Tyler Mattson's statements in his deposition or written statements. That was what my objection went to, the characterization.

MR. GREEN: All right.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Mr. Kastner, let's go back to, again --

MR. ROSEN: And that would be Doctor Kastner.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Okay. Well, Doctor Kastner, number two, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, [redacted] When you say, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty", what medical standards are you applying to come up with that opinion?

A I'm using my training and experience to reach a conclusion that that outcome occurred as a result of -- the outcome being that Mr. Cains was placed in a horizontal position resulted from Mr. Cains attacking Mr. Mattson.

Q Right. So, if Mr. Cains attacks Mr. Mattson and then was held horizontally, I guess my question is, how is that a medical opinion that you are giving? Isn't that just an opinion as to what occurred as opposed to a medical opinion?

A Well, medical certainty isn't necessarily limited to medical opinions. It can apply to activities which, when viewed from the perspective of a physician, reflect an agreement among physicians that it would be reasonable to reach a specific conclusion. So, in this instance, if a group of physicians were asked to look at the events that transpired, I believe there would be agreement among those physicians that it was Mr. Cains who initiated the contact that led to both Mr. Cains and Mr. Mattson falling to the ground, and as a result, Mr. Cains resting in a horizontal position.

Q So, when you say, "In your opinion, based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty," you may not be using that in a context of a medical opinion or an opinion related to something medical; correct?

A I believe it's much broader than something, quote, "medical", end of quote.

Q Okay. So, you use that standard for things other than medical opinions?

A No, no, I'm not saying that at all. That physicians, in looking at specific events, will reach conclusions. And that if my thinking is consistent with the thinking of the larger group, I feel I am appropriate in using the term, you know, "reasonable degree of medical certainty", because that reflects what my peers would also believe to be true. I think if you ask 50 doctors to look -- physicians to look at the events that are described in both Mr.

Mattson's witness statement and in his testimony, they would all agree that -- well, the majority would agree, or the consensus would be that Mr. Mattson initiated contact -- I'm sorry, Mr. Cains initiated contact with Mr. Mattson that resulted in Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains falling to the ground and Mr. Cains resting in a horizontal position.

Q And early in your report, you say that "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty" is a standard. And then, I think you later said it's kind of vague. Is did you -- there any particular source on which you derive that standard?

A I think you could probably go to something like Black's Law Dictionary or -- I looked at other documents in my profession related to malpractice and testimony at trials. There is some ambiguity in terms of how the legal profession views that term. I think it has to do with prior case law and assumptions in terms of how it has been used subsequently. But you are asking me for a legal opinion that's not necessarily my strength.

Q No, I'm not asking for a legal opinion. You, yourself, said it was a standard, and you put it in quotes. So, I'm just asking the source of the standard.

A Can you refer me back to my report, just so that --
Q Sure.
A -- I'm aware of it?
Q Sure. It's on page -- the first report, page three at the bottom, it says," quote, "Throughout this report, I will use the standard," quote,"'based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty'," end quote, "to express my medical opinions."
A Okay. Got it. Thank you.
Q So, based on that, using the standard "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty", in your report you say you are using that to express your opinions; correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. But you can't tell me specifically where you derived that standard from?

MR. ROSEN: Counsel, I'm going to object, because I agree with Doctor Kastner that you are asking him a legal issue. He has said that he -- the "reasonable degree of medical certainty" is based upon his training and experience and education, so on, as counsel well knows. So, to the extent that you are asking for a legal opinion, we certainly object. Ask a lawyer. You are a lawyer. But Doctor Kastner has explained what it was based upon and what information he utilized. It's in his report and he just testified to it.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Okay. So, Doctor Kastner, when you say you used the standard, you are not aware of any particular standard, it's just based on what you have testified to earlier as far as experience and training?

A No, it's not necessarily what I'm saying. I'm saying that as I reviewed the literature to try to understand exactly what that term meant, I found it to be ambiguous. It's defined differently in, for example, like Black's Law Dictionary versus some of the case law that I looked at around the origin of that term and its application in various, you know, courtroom settings or depositions. It's not clear to me, as a nonlawyer without expertise in the law, that there is a consistent and agreed-upon definition. So, I use a definition which I think is widely used, which is that my opinions reflect my belief as to what other physicians would say when they look at these same materials. I believe that there is a consensus that would be reached by a group of physicians around each of the opinions and would be consistent with my opinions. So, my opinions are intended to reflect the broader thinking of physicians as they look at the questions which I examined in this consultation.

Q Doctor, I want to ask you, on page nine of your first opinion, one of the opinions that you gave is number six, where you state, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, [redacted]

Q Okay. So, he asked to go to the restroom. Were you aware that he, in that trip to the restroom, just urinated, that he didn't defecate while he was in the bathroom?

A I believe that that was a statement that Mr. Mattson made during his deposition.
Q And are you also aware that Mr. Cains didn't complain of any stomach pain or stomach upset prior to this episode?
A Yes.
Q Okay.
A But, on the other hand, I would also note that many of my patients who have the same communication skills as Mr. Cains fail to report symptoms of illness because it's just not something that they are -- they unfortunately have the skills to do. So I discount the fact that Mr. Cains didn't offer a specific history prior to asking to use the bathroom. It doesn't rule out the presence of a gastrointestinal virus or gastrointestinal symptoms.
Q Okay. But you say you discount. Do you think he didn't have the ability to say if his stomach hurt or if he needed to go use the bathroom?
A Well, he did indicate that he wanted to use the bathroom. But the fact that he did not indicate any stomach pain does not necessarily mean that he did not have stomach pain.
Q Okay. And a gastrointestinal virus, a virus is something that can be detected through a test or other examination; correct?

A Not necessarily.
Q Okay. So, if a person had a gastrointestinal virus, you are saying that you don't believe that that could be detected through examination or testing of any kind?
A There are very few gastrointestinal viruses which are the subject of a test. Rotavirus, for example, cannot be identified through a test. Most viruses that cause gastrointestinal symptoms are not identified through a test. Most gastrointestinal symptoms are -- which are attributed to a virus are based upon the presumption that a virus is present but there is not a confirmatory test to indicate in most instances that a virus is actually present.
Q When you say "there is not a confirmatory test", do you mean a test on a patient that you are treating?
A Well, you used that term "test", and I take that to mean some form of diagnostic evaluation, generally involving a laboratory, which would be used to confirm the presence of a virus. So, unless you had some other meaning, that's how I took your question.
Q Okay. Well, for instance, if there had been an autopsy performed -- and you are not certified as a forensic pathologist; correct?

A Correct.
Q Okay. Are you aware that during an autopsy that, by its nature, because the body is cut open, that there are tests that can be performed of stool, stomach contents, stomach linings, intestinal linings, to determine what types of bacteria or viruses may be present?
MR. ROSEN: Objection, irrelevant.
MR. GREEN: Okay.
BY MR. GREEN:
Q You can answer, Doctor.
A There are a number of tests that can be employed post-mortem depending upon the discretion of the pathologist or other physician performing the autopsy.
Q Okay. Thank you.
COURT REPORTER: Could I stop for a second? Doctor, what did you say was the virus you couldn't test for? I didn't understand what you said.
THE WITNESS: Rotavirus.
COURT REPORTER: Rotavirus. Thank you. I apologize.
THE WITNESS: Sure. No problem.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, one of the questions I have for you is on page ten of your first report, opinion 13, you state, "Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains was positioned appropriately on his side when he was vomiting, and later on his back [redacted]" Do you recall that opinion?

A Yes, I do.

Q You would agree with me that if a person is lying down and begins to vomit, that the appropriate response and care is to position the person on their side; correct?

A Correct.

Q And why is that?

A Well, because the first thing to ensuring that the airway stays open is to allow gravity to remove fluid from the mouth and oral pharynx, out of the mouth and to maintain an open airway.

Q Okay. And so, a person positioned on their side vomiting, it should be able to maintain an open airway, and that's the position they should be kept in to maximize the safety of the person vomiting; correct?

A Not necessarily. I heard your sentence as including a statement of fact which I would disagree with. You stated that, "By lying on one's side, they should be able to keep their airway open." And I don't accept that premise. It's not necessarily true.

Q Okay. Well, I'm sure there are some exceptions to everything that you do in medicine. But most of the time a person on their side who is vomiting is -- you have them on their side to maintain an open airway; correct?

A Lying on one's side is recommended in order to try to maintain an open airway.

Q Correct. All right. And would you agree with me if someone were lying down and began vomiting, you would not want to immediately roll them onto their back while they still had vomitus coming out of their mouth?

A You can't -- I think that's too general. There are considerations that need to be examined in each instance.

Q Okay. So, there might be a situation where someone lying down begins to vomit that you would want to immediately roll them onto their back?

A As you said earlier, there are many instances in which things occur which may not necessarily be consistent with other instances. I forget how you phrased it.

Q If a person were lying down, say, in a bed and began vomiting and you instantly rolled them onto their back, you mentioned something about gravity, wouldn't the vomitus most likely go down the -- I'm going to use a nonmedical word -- down the throat, down the windpipe, not out of the mouth most of the time?
A In the management of young infants, the recommendation is for those infants to sleep on their back, because infants do regurgitate or ruminate stomach contents. When they lie on their back, the contents are in the back of the pharynx, which is proximate to the esophagus and allows the infant to swallow that material and return it back to the stomach. Placing an infant on their stomach, when they were to vomit, would then allow, because of gravity, that material to be proximate to the larynx and potentially be aspirated during breathing. So, you know, with infants, we recommend that they sleep on their back so that they minimize the risk of choking due to any vomitus or aspiration.
Q That's right. You are a pediatrician; correct?
A Yes, among other things.
Q All right. But in my questions, understanding there might be a difference with respect to an infant or a child, if I don't ask specifically about that, would you assume that I'm -- I will be asking about adults. All right?

A (Indicated yes.)

Q So, my question is -- I want to talk a little bit about your testimony you gave before about pain and the pain that would not have been experienced by Mr. Cains. Can you just tell me a little bit more about how you came to that conclusion?

A If you give me a moment, I would like to refer to my report.

Q Okay. If you will let me know which report and which page so I can take a look, as well.

A So, it's my first report, and I think it's page 50 -- it's page 50. Sorry. Are you with me?

Q Sure.

A Okay. So, I think when discussing pain, it's important to have a definition which is agreed upon. And Doctor Forestiere did not offer a definition of pain. And as a result, again, I found her testimony somewhat confusing and difficult to interpret.

The International Association for the Study of Pain has an approved definition that incorporates two separate components. One is the emotional or sensory experience associated with an event, and the other is actual or potential tissue damage. In order for an individual to experience pain, both conditions need to be met, according to this national -- or international group. So --

Q And let me ask you -- you just said there is -- one component is emotional? And what else, emotional and what kind of pain?

A So, page 50 at the top --

Q Sensory?

A -- I quoted the definition used by the International Association for the Study of Pain. And their definition is, quote, "An unpleasant sensory and emotional experience associated with, or resembling that associated with, actual or potential tissue damage," end of quote.

Q Okay. And --

A And so, I believe that's a really important foundation in having a discussion about pain, to be sure that we all agree on the definition of what pain actually is.

Q Okay. And you would agree with me that contents, in general, of a person's stomach are acidic?

A Yes, they generally are acidic.

Q Quite acidic; correct?
A I would not say "quite acidic". I kind of know what you mean by that.
Q All right.
A But I wouldn't consider overly acidic. They are simply acidic.
Q Okay. And would you agree with me that stomach contents, if vomited, the acidity of that will cause some tissue damage, even if just at the cellular level, to other tissues it comes into contact with that are not the stomach?
A No, I would not necessarily agree with that.
Q Okay.

[redacted]

Q Okay. [redacted] Let me ask you this. If a person vomits up acidic stomach contents, are you saying that the acidity of those stomach contents will not cause some level of tissue or cellular damage in the mouth or tongue of that person?
A The surfaces of the gastrointestinal tract, which include the mouth, esophagus, have a protective layer of mucus and other body fluids, and those offer protection to the body in the instance in which gastrointestinal contents may be refluxed, whether [redacted] I have seen thousands of patients with vomiting. And individuals who have intermittent or episodic vomiting, I have never seen or documented in my records that they were injured by the vomit, itself. Now, the caveat is, I have seen folks with vomiting, you know, a hundred, 200 times a day, and in those instances, yes, they can experience tissue injury. [redacted]

I have never, ever encountered a patient who had tissue injury following a single episode of vomiting as a result of acidic contents of the stomach. I think that's just an implausible hypothesis.

Q Well, with respect to those patients that you are discussing, I'm assuming you did not take any cultures or samples to have the tissues examined under a microscope after those vomiting incidents, because that normally wouldn't be done; is that right?

A Well, first of all, cultures are not -- they don't correlate with tissue injury, they are completely different. Cultures are for the purposes of identifying a pathogen, whether it's a virus or bacteria. So, no one would ever do cultures in order to ascertain any degree of tissue injury. Second, after a single episode of vomiting, I'm not aware of any practitioner who would recommend a biopsy or assessment of tissue integrity, as most physicians would probably agree that a biopsy was more invasive than whatever amount of tissue injury could possibly have occurred as a result of a single episode of vomiting.

Q Correct.

A That it's not good standard of care to ascertain the amount of tissue injury, because it's believed to be negligible after a single episode of vomiting.

Q Correct. Understood. And you would agree with me, though, that during an autopsy, the pathologist would be able to perform additional tests such as -- I won't use the word biopsy, but taking tissue samples, evaluating those, looking at those microscopically, that you would never do on a live patient after an incident of vomiting? In other words, during an autopsy there would be the opportunity for a more in-depth examination of a person; correct?

A I have looked at hundreds of autopsy studies and I have never seen a pathologist conduct an assessment for the potential of tissue injury associated with a single episode of vomiting.

Q Okay. But they would have the ability to do so; correct?

A There are -- pathologists have the ability to do many things. But most of what they do is based upon a reasonable suspicion or concern for a specific pathophysiology or etiology. The pathologists generally would not pursue a biopsy of tissue if they had no reason to believe that there was any tissue injury present. As I'm saying, as a physician, a single episode of vomiting is -- there is no evidence anywhere, in any literature that there is any tissue injury associated with a single episode of vomiting. As a result, I don't believe a reasonably qualified pathologist or physician would recommend any other testing, whether it be a biopsy or microscopic examination or anything to evaluate the potential for tissue injury following a single episode of vomiting. The pathologists in an autopsy are trying to determine the cause of death.

Q Well --

A And whether or not the mucosa are intact on some organ would have little bearing on that.

Q Well, it would have bearing on pain experience, according to your testimony; correct?

A Absolutely. But not cause of death.

Q Right. I understand.

A The pathologists are not --

Q Are you aware --

A -- pursuing their examinations for the purposes of opining or reaching a conclusion about the amount of pain.

Q Right.

A That's not what pathologists do. I have never seen an autopsy result -- and again, I have seen hundreds -- where a pathologist said, "This occurred and it was painful." They don't offer opinions about pain.

Q But they --

A It's not within the scope of what they do.
Q But you would agree with me that they document, to the extent they can, any noted injury or damage to a body, internal and external, in general?
A To the extent that it is used to.
Q Exactly.
A And a lot of them --
Q And are you aware that there was no autopsy conducted in this situation with Mr. Cains?
A Yes, I am aware.
Q And are you aware that the coroner stated that if he had known restraints or a restraint hold had been used prior to the vomiting episode that he would have most likely wanted to have an autopsy conducted?

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object. One is, that's hearsay and it's not a quote, and "most likely" is not a determination. He could have had an autopsy conducted at any time, as the family saw it. I object to that. But go ahead.

THE WITNESS: I'm not aware of that, no.

BY MR. GREEN:
Q Okay. Would you agree with me that if a person aspirated acidic stomach contents into their airway, into their lungs, that that acidic stomach content would cause some level of damage to the tissue in the lungs and airway?

A Can you define what you mean by "aspiration"?

Q Yes. I will say it in just laymen's terms. Would you agree --

A I think it's very important that it be in precise terms. So, can you define what you mean by "aspiration"?

Q If a person vomited acidic stomach contents and those contents went into the airway, including bronchi and/or lungs, that that stomach contents would cause some level of tissue or cellular damage?

A So, you are asking me a hypothetical, you are not asking me what occurred in this instance?

Q Exactly.

A Because there is no evidence that Mr. Cains aspirated.

Q Well, we don't have an autopsy, you are right. But my question is what I just posed to you. So, could you please answer?

A Well, it may or may not. Stomach contents, when they are in the stomach, are generally -- when it's just the stomach secretions are generally acidic. Depending upon what a person eats and the amount in which they have eaten, they neutralize those stomach secretions and reduce the level of acidity. So, when stomach contents are regurgitated they may or may not be acidic.

Q Okay. So, are you testifying that stomach contents that make their way into the lungs of a person or the airway of a person sometimes will not cause any tissue or cellular damage?

A No. You asked me about whether the acidity of stomach contents --

Q Right. And you gave an answer. And now I'm asking a different question, which is --

A And my answer -- just to clarify and be certain I understand your question. The first question had to do with whether stomach contents, which were assumed to be acidic, would cause an injury. And I'm saying there is no evidence to support whether or not the vomitus in Mr. Cains' instance was acidic or not. Having eaten, the food could very well have neutralized that acid.

Q Right. So, again, my question was, acidic contents. And instead of answering that, you have said, "Mr. Cains may not have been acidic." So I'm just trying to clarify. Are you saying that a person whose stomach contents make their way into their airway -- do you know what I mean when I say "airway"?

A I'm assuming that you are saying that the contents reached below the vocal cords.

Q Correct. Are you saying that there are instances where stomach contents can enter the airway and not cause any cellular or tissue damage?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And what kinds of circumstances would that occur where there is no damage?

A Well, that happens all the time when we eat and we cough. The reason we cough is because material has presented itself at the level of the vocal cords or below. We cough in order to expel that foreign material. And generally there is, I think, a consensus among medical professionals that there is no tissue injury or permanent injury as a result of that event.

Q And I'm not asking about permanent injury. But you are saying there is no cellular injury or damage?

A As I said, there are certainly conditions when there will be no cellular or tissue injury, tissue damage.

Q Okay.

A And I spoke to the instance of people coughing as a result of material passing into their airway. And again, there is no evidence that there is a permanent or even temporary injury --

COURT REPORTER: Wait, wait. Coughing as a result of what, Doctor?

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, I can't remember. Coughing as a result of material passing through the larynx into the airway.

COURT REPORTER: Okay. The screen just froze up. Thank you.

THE WITNESS: There is no evidence of any permanent or even temporary injury in those instances, tissue injury.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q And is that based on your experience or do you have a particular study that you can cite to?

A I think it's a trivial issue. I can't imagine that physicians would invest the time and resources to conduct a study of individuals who have coughed as a result of material moving into their airway, and to determine whether or not there was a permanent or even temporary injury as a result of that incident.

Q Well, you can have pain without a permanent injury; correct?

A I will be happy to switch to a discussion about pain, if you would like. We can go back.

Q No, just a general question. You testified earlier about pain and that there is tissue damage. I'm just asking, you can have pain without it being permanent tissue damage; correct?
A Oh, yes, absolutely.
Q Okay. That's all. I want to go to your opinion that Mr. Cains had a life expectancy of only six more years. How did you come up with six more years? Walk me through that process. And did you use any equations, calculations? How did you come up with that number?
A So, my opinion is found on page 51 of my report. It says that the current life expectancy in the United States is about 77 years. It's well known that people with intellectual/developmental disabilities have a shortened life expectancy. And I cited Lauer and McCallion and their study, which indicated that the average age of death for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities that are participating in state systems was in their 50s, 58, 59 years. So, it's clear. And again, this wasn't intended to be an exhaustive literature search, but simply to just support my opinion in general. But it is clear that the age at which people with intellectual and developmental disabilities die is much lower than that of the general population.

In addition, it's well known that people with certain health risks have a shortened life expectancy. And in this regard, in terms of Mr. Cains in particular, [redacted] So, I just cited some references to, again, be supportive of my opinion.

[redacted]

Q And I would imagine that that is hard to -- in the example you are using with Ms. Kersee, that that is hard to quantify because it is such a sudden, unexpected episode; correct?

A I'm not sure what you mean by "quantify".

Q Well, I think in your report you say that the presence of epilepsy alone reduces life expectancy by about 12 years in a male. So, if a person had one episode of epilepsy when they were 20 and they are 45, they still have that 12 years less of a life expectancy as opposed to if they had had an epileptic episode every single year for ten years leading up to that; is that what you are saying?

A No. I'm not in a position to opine about the subdividing or parsing the risks of a shortened life expectancy based upon clinical characteristics. I didn't conduct that type of analysis for this purpose.

Q Okay. And I'm looking at page 51. You start out saying that estimate of life expectancy in the U.S. is 77.2 years. You used the World Bank as a source for that. And then, you mentioned that the average age at death for people in state intellectual and developmental disabilities systems was 50.4 to 58.7 years. And then, you state for obese and severely obese, the loss in life expectancy was 5.6 to 7.6 and then 8.1 to 10.3 for men and women aged 20 to 29 years. And by the way, how old was Mr. Cains?

A [redacted]

Q Okay. So, this statistic of 8.1 to 10.3 for men and women aged 20 to 29 years wouldn't be relevant to him; correct?

A My point in citing these articles was not to conduct an exhaustive analysis of the relative risk of each of these conditions, but simply to indicate that my thinking was consistent with the broader consensus among physicians that illnesses or conditions, [redacted]

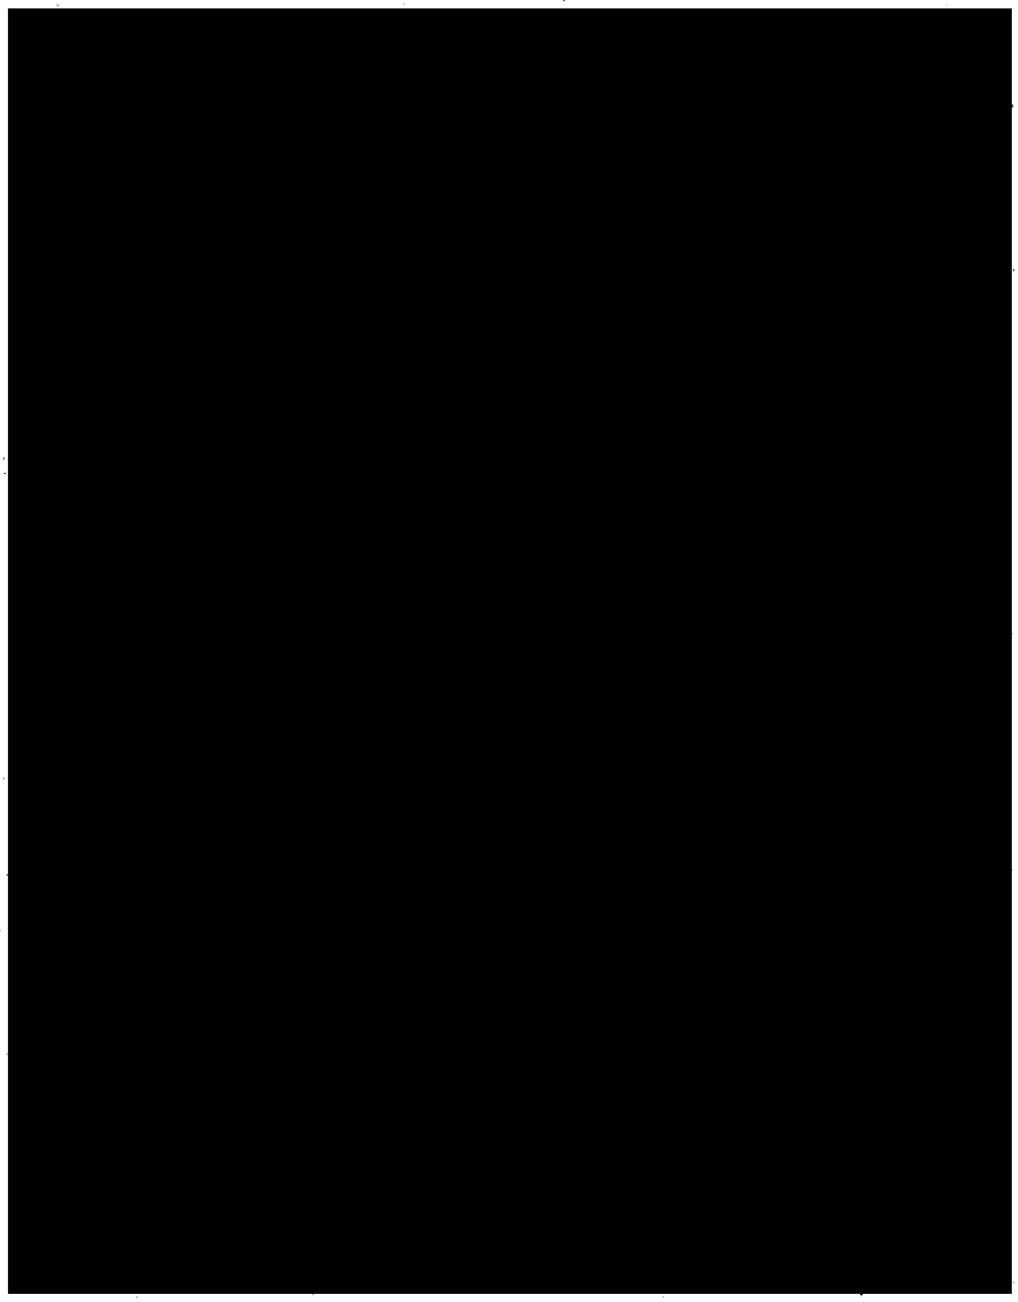
Q Sure. And I don't disagree with you.

A Not trying to be exhaustive or to be specific or to go in and criticize specific articles, that's not my intent, certainly.

Q Okay. But my question just is simply, when you cite to this 8.1 to 10.3 years for men and women aged 20 to 29, that wouldn't apply to Mr. Cains, that portion that you cited; correct?

A I would have to go back and look at the study. Again, I don't recall all of the details.

Q All right.



A I believe it was a bigger study, and you are simply taking my quote, which I took to be illustrative and not specific. And my point was to say, [redacted]

Q Totally understand. But I'm only asking because you did cite specific figures. So, I'm trying to understand those figures. And I understand some of those figures, but then where it says it applies to age 20 to 29, you have already testified Mr. Cains was outside of -- he was older than 29; correct?

A Sure.

Q Okay.

[redacted]

Q Did you start out with the average of 77.2 and then subtract amounts off for these different characteristics?

A No.
Q Okay. So, it's just your opinion based on what you have just testified to?
A If I were to start with a base, I would have started with a number more consistent with the McCallion article rather than the WHO estimate for the general population.
Q All right. But just so I'm clear, this will be the last question on this, you don't have any sort of equation or mathematical calculations you performed to calculate six more years; correct?
A No.
Q Okay. All right. And same with last time, any time you need a break, let me know. I'm bad sometimes to not pay attention to the clock and take breaks. I will probably take one here in a moment. But just feel free to ask for one if you need one.
A Thank you.
Q Doctor, I asked you last time about some of your compensation from the State of Arkansas in the past. Let me back up, let me ask you a different question.
Since our last part of this deposition a week or two, or however long it was, until today, have you reviewed any additional materials to prepare for today?

A No.
Q And I think you told me that you at one point were hired, retained, whatever word you want to use, to have involvement with the human development facility that was in Alexander, Arkansas in the past; correct?
A So, I need to get some clarification. So, I have performed services on behalf of Arkansas specifically, for example, at the Alexander Human Developmental Center. But I was not retained by the State of Arkansas to do so. I was retained by a company called Developmental Disabilities Health Management to provide services through their contract with the State of Arkansas. So, in much of my work around the country over the last 35 to 40 years, I have worked for many similar intermediary organizations or companies, and in very few instances have I been retained personally. And I wouldn't characterize payments to those companies as my compensation, as you kind of suggested.
Q Okay. Who owns or owned Developmental Disabilities Health Management, Incorporated?
A I was the sole proprietor.
Q So, solely owned by you; correct?
A Correct.

Q And that was -- did that have an address based out of New Jersey?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And was the total compensation paid to Developmental Disabilities Health Management, Incorporated in connection with the services provided for the Alexander Center approximately $900,000.00?
MR. ROSEN: Objection, irrelevant to this case.
BY MR. GREEN:
Q You may answer, Doctor.
A I have no idea.
Q Okay. Do you recall -- so, by you saying you have no idea, I take it you mean you have no idea whether it was $900,000.00 or $10.00 or anything in between; correct?
A As I said to you at the last deposition, you quoted a figure of $900,000.00, and you were, I think, quoting that in regard to my compensation, and it was a number that exceeded my best guess as to what my compensation would have been in relationship to any work performed at the Alexander Human Developmental Center.
Q Sure. Yes. I do remember asking you about that in the past. And I think I actually was asking about it in terms of your previous work to the Conway Human Development Center, which I think was mistaken in my part. So, that's why I'm asking today to be clear. Isn't it true that Developmental Disabilities Health Management, Inc., which you were the sole proprietor of, entered into a contract with the State of Arkansas and was compensated somewhere in the neighborhood of approximately $900,000.00 for those services in 2010, approximately?

A As I said, I have no idea. That was 13 years ago.

Q Okay.

A The company was dissolved ten years ago -- roughly ten years ago. I have no recollection at all.

Q Okay. And last year, how much were you paid by the State of Arkansas for services rendered last year, whether it's related to this case or your other consulting, any services rendered to the State of Arkansas for 2022?

A I do not have a specific recollection of a specific amount. I think you asked me if my compensation was $12,600.00, and I thought that was closer than the $900,000.00 that had been previously suggested. I mean, $12,600.00 seemed to be in the ballpark of what my compensation would have been, but I can't testify with certainty.

Q Got you. And to be clear, the $900,000.00 I'm asking about would have been during the time period of the work at Alexander, which was approximately 2010; correct?

A 2009, 2010, I believe, could have been 2008. I'm not sure.

Q So, with respect to last year, 2022, do you believe that you -- is it true that you may have been paid, or that you were paid approximately $11,500.00 for work you performed January 1 through June 30th of last year, and then an additional $12,875.00 for work performed July 1st through October of last year by the State of Arkansas? So, that would be two amounts, one for approximately $11,500.00, and one for approximately $12,800.00? Does that sound right?

A It could be. I would have to look at specific invoices to be able to confirm the accuracy of those numbers. But I do recall the consultation extended over two different state fiscal years, and as a result, my invoices were split with a portion reflecting time and effort in the prior state fiscal year and a portion reflecting time and effort in this state fiscal year. So, you know, that could very well be true. I mean, I think the ballpark is fine. I don't have any concern about the general amount.

Q And you still have to be compensated for the services you have performed since October, at least with respect to this case; correct?

A Correct. I have received no compensation for this case.

Q Okay. All right. We have been kind of going almost an hour and a half. Are y'all okay with maybe a ten-minute break?

MR. ROSEN: Sure.

MR. GREEN: Okay. All right. 10:30, is that all right?

MR. ROSEN: Yes.

MR. GREEN: All right. Thanks.

MR. ROSEN: Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, a break was taken.)

MR. ROSEN: Go back on the record.

MR. GREEN: All right. Are y'all ready?

COURT REPORTER: Yes.

MR. GREEN: All right.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, can you hear me?

A Yes.

Q The last time we talked in our previous deposition, you had talked a little bit about your familiarity with the human development centers in the State of Arkansas; correct?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And part of that familiarity is knowing the ways that the different centers operate, and especially with respect to restraints and their restraint usage or policies; correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And isn't it true that in 2018 through 2020 the Booneville Center had a much higher rate of usage of personal restraints than any of the other facilities?

A Can you refer me to a source for that?

COURT REPORTER: Wait. You said in 2018 the Booneville Center had what?

BY MR. GREEN:

Q From 2018 to 2020 the Booneville Center employed personal restraints on their clients at a much higher rate than the other facilities?

A And I was going to say, can you refer me to a source for that? I think you are describing some of the findings in the consultation that I participated in during the previous year. It would be helpful for me to look at exactly what it is you are describing.

Q Well, I guess I'm wondering, was that part of your consultation last year?
A We did look at restraint use at the five HDCs. I believe there were some tables that were created in our report.
Q And you can't recall whether or not during the time period of 2018 to 2020 the Booneville Center employed personal restraints at a much higher rate than the others?
A So, define for me what you mean by "rate".
Q The amount of restraints used per person per year.
A I think we had this discussion last time. Are you referring to incidents of use or types of restraints used or --
Q Incidents of use.
A -- other restraints?
Q Incidents of use.
A So, the total number of incidents in which restraints are used at the HDC was higher than the rate at other HDCs; that's what you are asking me? You asked me a question, and I'm trying to understand exactly what the question was. So your question was, am I aware that at the HDC the number of restraints per person per year was higher than at other HDCs?

Q Correct.
A And I said, I know that we looked at that data last year as part of the consultation, but I don't recall the specific findings.
Q Okay.
COURT REPORTER: I'm sorry. I have missed some of that. My Zoom went down.
(WHEREUPON, a discussion was held off the record to provide the Zoom recording to the Court Reporter to capture any lost audio.)
(WHEREUPON, a break was taken.)
BY MR. GREEN:
Q All right, Doctor. So, you know, my question is about the number of incidents that we discussed. Isn't it true that the rate of those incidents from 2018 to 2020 were significantly higher at the Booneville facility as compared to the other human development centers in Arkansas?
A Okay. So, just to kind of be transparent, I pulled up a copy of the final report that we submitted on that consultation just so I can use it as a reference for this discussion, my assumption being that that is the source of whatever data you are relying upon to form that opinion. And I can't confirm or deny it. I haven't had a chance to look at that report.

Q Okay.

A So, I have no opinion currently.

Q Okay.

A I haven't had a chance to read the report.

Q Okay. So, no opinion on whether or not it was a higher rate. That's good enough.

A I was going to tell you, if you are relying on our report for the purposes of making comparisons between HDCs, we specifically did not do that, because there is no evidence that the populations at each HDC are comparable. They are comprised of different ages, sexes, different forms of disabilities, different co-occurring illnesses, including mental illness. We did not encourage or perform any comparison between facilities or make any recommendations of one facility versus the other, because there is no comparability between the populations.

Q Well --

A And we also noted in the report that the large -- the biggest contributors to the frequency of restraint use at all the HDCs were very small numbers of people. So, you know, five, ten people who were restrained at a very high level or very high frequency rate accounted for most of the restraint use at HDCs. And if those individuals were to move from one HDC to another would significantly affect rates. So, again, we didn't perform a comparison because the populations weren't comparable, and we didn't derive into the contribution made by a small number of people to these overall rates.

Q Well, and certainly there are some variances in the population. But you are not saying that -- well, I will back off of that. Let me ask you this. When you did this report, you did not have data available to you with respect to Booneville as to the number of restraints per individual; isn't that correct?

A Can you refer me to the specific page in the report, and I would be happy to talk about it? Because, as I said, I just pulled it up in the last two or three minutes, haven't had a chance to read it. If you are citing the report and something specifically in it, I would prefer the opportunity to review that.

Q Okay. My question is -- look at page 28 of your report. And we were not provided this in discovery, but we have obtained it. So, go ahead and look at

page 28.

MR. ROSEN: And, counsel, do you have a -- I do not have a copy of the report. I don't know what you are referring to.

MR. GREEN: I don't have one to share. I mean, I don't have to refer to the page number. If not, it's a report that was provided to Arkansas DDS by Doctor Kastner. He apparently has it. We were able to get it, although it wasn't provided in discovery.

THE WITNESS: It was not provided by me to Arkansas --

MR. ROSEN: I didn't have it. I'm simply saying, I don't have it. But go ahead and ask your questions. But, you know, I will just get a copy.

MR. GREEN: Right.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, my question is very simply, on page 28, right above -- do you see where it says, "See Conway Restraint Data"?

A Yes.

Q And in the paragraph above that, it is discussing the data at Booneville; correct?

A Correct.
Q And the last sentence there, it says, "In the future, it would be a useful statistic to report the number of restraints per individual. This is the practice at the other HDCs"; correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. So, all the other human development centers kept data as to the amount -- the number of restraints per individual, but Booneville did not keep that data; correct?
A So what? I mean, we have all the restraint data that we need for Mr. Cains.
Q Sir, I'm not asking -- sir, some of my questions will be specific to Mr. Cains and some will not. My question is not this time about Mr. Cains, specifically. It is very simply, in the 2018 to 2020 time period, Booneville did not keep data as to the number of restraints used per individual. You already said that was correct; right?
A No, no, I didn't say that. Booneville has data. They collect reams of data.
Q Let's go back to page 28.
A They collect the --
MR. ROSEN: Counsel, let him answer the question.

MR. GREEN: Well, he is not answering the question. He's trying to --

MR. ROSEN: Well, he is.

THE WITNESS: What you just stated was not true.

MR. GREEN: It's unresponsive.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Let's look back at 28. "In the future, it would be a useful statistic to report the number of restraints per individual. This is the practice at the other HDCs." That's what is written in your report; correct?

A Correct.

Q And that means that the Booneville facility at the time of this report was not keeping the statistic that indicated the number of restraints per individual; correct?

MR. ROSEN: Objection, irrelevant. This whole line is irrelevant. But he can answer, if he knows.

THE WITNESS: Booneville collects the data that can be used to calculate that statistic, but it does not calculate that statistic.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Okay. I will just let your report stand for itself. And with respect to the different populations at the different human development centers, you would agree with me that there is a variety of types of clients at each center; correct?

A Correct.

Q And some of the centers have -- well, let me back up to a different topic, because I don't want us to have to go into a day three, that's for sure. So, let me go through some of my notes from when we last visited.

Would you agree that a person who begins to vomit while lying horizontally is more at risk of aspirating and dying from that vomit than a person that is vertical, such as standing or sitting up?

A Hypothetically, yes.

Q Okay. And would you agree with me that for a

[redacted]

[redacted]

MR. ROSEN: Objection, speculation.

[redacted]

BY MR. GREEN:

[redacted]

[redacted]

[redacted]

MR. ROSEN: Objection.

THE WITNESS: Can you --

(Zoom interruption. Unintelligible.)

COURT REPORTER: Everyone, remember where you were on that question for when we come back.

(WHEREUPON, a break was taken.)

MR. ROSEN: We are back on the record.

BY MR. GREEN:

[redacted]

[redacted]

Q Well, if you don't know them offhand, that's fine, I will just move on to something else.

[redacted]

Q Okay. Doctor, what is your understanding of emergency restraint policy at the Booneville Center?

Arkansas
State Claims Commission
329
FEB 27 2023
RECEIVED

Do you have an understanding of their emergency restraint policies?
A Yes, I do have an understanding of the emergency restraint policies.
Q And those emergency restraints are not designed to be used on a regular basis; correct?
A They are designed to be used in emergency circumstances.
Q Correct. Isn't there a policy that if there are three or more of the usage of those restraints in a certain time period, there is supposed to be a re-evaluation of the client's plan to see how their Behavioral Plan might need to be altered or changed?
A I believe there is something along those lines, although I can't recall specifically.
Q Okay. And when you did an evaluation of Mr. Cains' case, I think last time when we talked you said that you did not review, or you did not recall reviewing the prior incidents where Mr. Mattson had restrained Mr. Cains; is that correct?
A No. I reviewed every behavioral report for something like a 13, 14-year period, 12 or 13 years.
Q Okay. And that would have been in the list of materials that you reviewed in your reports?
A Correct.

Q Okay. And just so I'm clear, I'm assuming you have not revised or updated or changed your reports as they have previously been provided to us, you haven't updated them or added an addendum?

MR. ROSEN: Counsel, there was one change, if you remember, at the beginning of Doctor Kastner's report where there was a typo that left off a "not" in a particular opinion that was corrected. And I don't have it directly in front of me. But I think it was on the January 5th report. It was one of those.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q I do recall the testimony to that effect. Has it actually been corrected and a new one generated, Doctor?

A Yes, I provided Mr. Rosen with a new page with that reflected.

MR. ROSEN: It's sitting here on my desk and I will send it -- e-mail it to you today.

MR. GREEN: No problem. I just wanted to make sure there wasn't any other changes or additions before I moved on.

MR. ROSEN: Is that a question or was that a comment?

MR. GREEN: No, I'm -- no, that wasn't a question. I was just saying, I wanted to make sure before I moved on. I think he said there wasn't. So, I'm going back through my 20 some-odd pages of notes from our prior time to make sure I'm covering all of the things that I want to make sure I cover. So, there may be a few moments of silence.

MR. ROSEN: I fully understand, counsel. I didn't know if you were expecting a question or not. So, that's just fine.

MR. GREEN: No, I understand.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, I did want to ask you, because I know that in this particular case, there is the NCI CPI training that has been discussed. Do you recall that?

A Yes.

Q And you are not a certified instructor in those methods; is that right?

A Correct.

MR. ROSEN: Actually, just for the record, Mr. Green, and correct me if I'm wrong, Doctor, the one change was to the January 6th report, not the January 5th report. And it was to number 20, about GERD. So, I just wanted to make that correction, because I don't know, counsel, if you were asking about -- which report you were talking about, but just in case, I just wanted to make it clear.

MR. GREEN: Yes, I was asking about either one. But I think you have clarified it.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, I believe at the last time that we spoke, there was a little bit of discussion on the policy at the time at Booneville that required staff to, in the event of an emergency, call the nursing staff. Do you recall that conversation?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And then, the nursing staff would make an evaluation as to whether or not to call an ambulance. Do you remember that policy?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And I believe you testified that you thought that was a completely appropriate policy. Is that still your testimony?

A In regard to the care provided to Mr. Cains, yes.
Q Okay. Do you believe -- has your opinion as to whether or not staff should be allowed to directly call for an ambulance changed since Mr. Cains?
A I don't believe I opined as to whether or not they should be allowed to, as a general rule or not.
Q So, you don't think -- I'm sorry. Go ahead.
A There may be other considerations which I am not aware of which have some bearing on the matter of policy for the facility in its entirety. So, I really can't opine as to whether or not that policy is appropriate or not. I did not conduct any assessment of issues that would be relevant to that specific policy.
Q You have never conducted an evaluation as to that policy?
A No, no, no. For the purposes of developing that policy, information would need to be considered. In particular, the capacity of the local emergency management system to provide response, and at what cost that would be to not just the county, but the people who live in the county. If, for example, the county did not have adequate staffing and did not feel that they could support both the HDC and the general population of the county, that would be relevant to a decision about whether or not the BHDC policy should be different than what it currently is. And I have no information upon which to provide additional information that would be relevant to that broader policy discussion. So, I can't evaluate whether in this specific instance at BHDC, given the needs of the local community and the resources of the local community and the needs and resources of the BHDC, whether or not that is the appropriate policy or not.

Q The Booneville Human Development Center is an intermediate care facility; correct?

A Correct.

Q Would you agree with me that a policy -- let me rephrase it. Would you agree with me that staff at an intermediate care facility should be empowered to directly call for an ambulance themselves if they come upon a client without a pulse and who is not breathing?

A We are specifically talking about ICF/IDDs, not ICFs in general?

A If your opinion is different for each, then please give me your opinion as to each.

A I have no opinion about ICFs. I think that is well beyond what I was retained to look at. I make no claim about my expertise in looking at general nursing homes, for example. So, I really can't comment on --

Q Well, then, let's go with ICF/IDDs.

A Can you rephrase your question, or repeat your question?

Q Sure. Would you agree with me that staff at the -- let me just say, staff at the ICF/IDDs should be empowered to directly call 911 or similar service for an ambulance themselves directly if they come upon a client without a pulse and who is not breathing?

MR. ROSEN: Objection, irrelevant.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q You can answer.

A I said there are -- you are talking about policy. And there are considerations around the development of policy at specific ICF/IDDs that I lack information on. And, therefore, I can't opine broadly about your question as a matter of policy.

Q So, you can envision an instance where a person who is a staff member at an ICF/IDD might not -- should not be empowered to directly call 911 if they come upon a person without a pulse and is not breathing?

A Well, I believe that is currently the case at the HDC where staff are instructed to contact the nursing staff for the purposes of obtaining emergency medical care and are advised not to contact the local emergency management system for that support.
Q And you think that's an appropriate procedure for someone who is not -- for someone who does not have a pulse and is not breathing?
A As I said, as a matter of policy, I'm not in a position to evaluate whether that is appropriate or not. I am not privy to the data and information that would be necessary to render such an opinion. What I can say is, the HDC does have an appropriate system of responding to medical emergencies which relies upon qualified medical personnel being called at the moment such a medical emergency may exist and rendering care and making a determination as to whether additional support is required. I believe that the practices are consistent with CMS regulations, and that the CMS surveyors agree because they have never identified this as a concern.
Q Okay. All right. So, you can't categorically say that all staff should be empowered to call 911 if someone is not breathing and doesn't have a pulse? I think that's what I hear you saying, I just want to make sure I understand.

A No. I'm saying I don't have sufficient information upon which to offer an opinion about a policy --

Q That's good enough. You don't have an opinion. Got it. One of the questions I had about previous opinions -- well, let me move on to something else, because I don't want to take the rest of the day, and I also don't want us to have any more technical issues. So, I want to make sure I cover the most important things that I want to discuss.

There was some testimony about fight or flight. And I don't want to go into that too horribly much. You testified about it before, and something about having to have a fear of death. But you would agree with me that the body going into a, quote, "fight or flight" response doesn't require a conscious fear of death; correct?

A I believe it was Doctor Forestiere, that's the name of the doctor, who opined that, in one instance, the occurrence of a fight or flight reaction would be based upon the individual's perception of their impending death. So, it was not my opinion, that was hers.

Q I understand that. And my question to you is, you would agree with me that it does not require an impending conscious fear of death for the body to have the, quote, "fight or flight" response?
A Again, I found her testimony and the whole narrative around a fight or flight reaction to be very confusing. So I don't want to offer an opinion about her opinion --
Q I'm not asking about her opinion, I'm asking about your opinion. Are you aware of what we refer to as the fight or flight response?
A Yes.
Q You have knowledge about it, I presume?
A Yes.
Q And you would agree with me that it does not require a person to have a conscious belief that they are about to die in order for that fight or flight reaction to occur; correct?
A That is possible.
Q Okay. And would you agree with me that when a person experiences the fight or flight response, it generally is going to increase anxiety in that person?
A No, not necessarily.
Q Okay. All right. Does it generally increase their heart rate?

A My understanding of the fight or flight response is that there is a discharge of catecholamines, and catecholamines cause an increase in the heart rate.
Q And you also understand that it is, by its nature, a stress response that the body has to some stimuli; correct?
A Generally, yes.
Q Okay.
A Although there is no evidence that Mr. Cains suffered a fight or flight --
Q And Doctor, I understand --
A -- response in this specific --
Q I understand that -- your position on Mr. Cains. But if I don't ask specifically about Mr. Cains, I would ask you to just please answer my question. Opposing counsel is competent, will do a good job on redirect of asking you that if he needs to. It just prolongs the questioning, because then I have to follow up with more specific questions to Mr. Cains. But I'm not going to with this particular question.
MR. ROSEN: And just for the record, Doctor Kastner can answer the question as he deems fit as a physician.
MR. GREEN: And the record will show whether he is being responsive or not.

BY MR. GREEN:
Q One quick question, Doctor. Back to the life expectancy. And I know that you cited in your report what you referred to. I take it, by seeing what you referred to, you didn't refer to any specific mortality tables that are specific to the State of Arkansas, did you?
A I don't believe that mortality tables for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities for the State of Arkansas exist.
Q Okay. So, that would be a "no"?
A I don't believe that relevant life tables exist for the population under consideration, so I could not have referred to them.
Q Okay. So, you are saying "no" because you don't believe they exist; correct?
A General tables for the general population do exist, but they would not be applicable to this specific population.
Q Okay. All right. One of the things, Doctor, I know you had testified before about, and these are my words, I'm paraphrasing, but essentially that Mr. Cains couldn't have been saved given the circumstances, due to travel time for the ambulance to get there and then travel time to get back and the time they were on the scene. And again, those are my words. I'm not holding you to that exact phrasing. But do you recall us talking about that a little bit before?

A I can recall being fairly specific in saying that Doctor Forestiere opined that the brain begins to die and suffer irreparable damage after four or five minutes of lacking oxygen. And I agree with her opinion in that regard. And that also [redacted]

[redacted]

Q You had never heard that in medical training or amongst doctors that you have worked with that --

A Yes.

[redacted]

Q Okay. Okay. Very good. And you would agree with me that emergency situations where a person has stopped breathing, they have died, they are dynamic; correct?

A Yes. I'm not sure what you mean by "dynamic", but --

Q Changing, they change from moment to moment?

A They can.

[redacted]

[redacted]

Q Okay.

A So, there is no evidence of that being a, quote, unquote, "dynamic process". He was stable, his care was consistent, it did not appear that there was anything that changed during that interval.

Q What do you mean by "stable"? How was he stable?

[redacted]

MR. ROSEN: Objection. That's not an accurate characterization of other people's testimony. But go ahead.

THE WITNESS: I do recall that [redacted]

BY MR. GREEN:

[redacted]

Q Okay. But you would agree with me that the circumstances could have been different had Mr. Scow arrived earlier, either way? I'm not saying they could have been different to have made it easy, for sure, [redacted] but that certainly the circumstances would have been different on some level?

MR. ROSEN: Objection, that's speculation. And we know the time that it took for the EMS to respond was 13 minutes, as the doctor has said. So, the question is -- I don't know how it could be answered.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Okay. You can answer, Doctor, if you can.

A I'm not going to offer a guess.

Q Okay. You won't offer a guess on that.
A I'm not going to offer a guess.
Q All right. Very good. And part of your opinion as to whether or not it would have been effective to have summoned an ambulance sooner you have based on the time it took for the ambulance to get there, among other things; correct?
A We are specifically talking about Mr. Cains?
Q Yes.
A Yes, that's true.
Q Okay.
A It took 13 minutes for the ambulance to arrive after they were called.
Q After they were called. And, of course, we have no idea if they had been called five minutes earlier whether they would have been closer to the facility or further away from the facility; correct?

MR. ROSEN: Objection. Because based upon what has been established through other testimony outside this witness, but I'm sure he reviewed, five minutes earlier he was -- it appears that Mr. Cains was breathing. So I don't know how you can answer that speculative hypothetical question. And perhaps we need to -- well, I object to it because it's argumentative and assumes facts that are not only not in evidence, but don't exist.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, you can answer my question. If I need to rephrase it, I will.

A If you could, I would appreciate it.

Q Okay. It's very simple. If an ambulance was called for Mr. Cains, would you agree with me that if an ambulance had been called sometime earlier, one minute, two minutes, three minutes, four minutes earlier, that it is possible that the ambulance might have been closer to the facility and able to have arrived earlier, or there could have been less traffic, any number of things could have affected the speed at which the ambulance arrived?

MR. ROSEN: Objection. EMT Scow testified where the ambulance was and that -- what the response time was. The rest of it is just mere speculation and guess as to the traffic in rural Booneville. But Mr. Scow responded to that. He answered all those questions. So, it's inappropriate to ask this witness on something so speculative and hypothetical.

MR. GREEN: It's a perfectly fine question to ask. He doesn't have to answer it.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q My question is simply this: If you call for an ambulance at one point in time, if you had called a few minutes earlier, the ambulance may have been at a different location and the response time may have been different, "yes" or "no"?

MR. ROSEN: Objection, because that's not what EMT Scow testified.

MR. GREEN: Are you instructing him to not answer it or not?

MR. ROSEN: No, he's not my -- I don't represent him.

MR. GREEN: Okay.

MR. ROSEN: But you are asking a question that is absurd because -- and you already know the answer to it, because we know -- we know where the ambulance was through Mr. Scow and how they responded and how long it took. And it's not appropriate to ask such a speculative question to another witness when you know the answer.

MR. GREEN: Let me ask an absurd question and you can point out to the Commission how absurd and ridiculous my question is. That is perfectly fine, if you believe it's an absurd question.

MR. ROSEN: Yes.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q My question is simply -- we do know where the ambulance was at the time of the call. My question is, isn't it possible, Doctor, the ambulance would have been at a different location at a time of a prior call, "yes" or "no"? It's not a complicated question. It's not a trick question.

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object. How long beforehand are you speculating?

MR. GREEN: At any time prior, one minute to three minutes.

THE WITNESS: I'm not in a position to offer a guess.

MR. GREEN: Okay. All right. So, I will leave that alone. We will save that for argument to the Commission. But it's not appropriate to not answer a question because you think it's ridiculous. I'm sure I will ask a ridiculous question or something you think is absurd, but the witness is still obligated to answer the question unless there's some kind of a privilege.

THE WITNESS: Are you speaking to me?

MR. GREEN: I'm not speaking to you, Doctor, I'm speaking to opposing counsel.

MR. ROSEN: Well, I'm not --

THE WITNESS: Well, I have offered an opinion answer, so I think we can probably just move on.

MR. GREEN: Yes, I'm moving on to something else here.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q And just so I'm clear, again, Doctor, you were the -- the Commissioner, I think is what you called it, not Director, of the Office of People with Developmental Disabilities for the State of New York until fairly recently; correct?

A Correct.

Q And would you agree with me that for persons who have developmental disabilities -- and I'm not asking about Mr. Cains specifically here. But in general, okay, would you agree with me that persons who have

[redacted]

A So, rephrase your question.

Q Sure. I'm going to ask you a question, and what I'm going to do is, I'm going to read you a portion of something I found from the Office of People With Developmental Disabilities New York training materials, because that may help you to better conceptualize the meaning of what I'm asking, and I don't want to mess up a definition. But there is a discussion about prevention of choking and aspiration in these materials.

MR. ROSEN: Can you identify the materials?

MR. GREEN: I can tell you what they are.

MR. ROSEN: What is the title of it?

MR. GREEN: Sure. It's available on the "Office of People With Developmental Disabilities New York State of Opportunity", is what it says, "Prevention of Choking and Aspiration, Stop Choking Hazards".

MR. ROSEN: And who is it produced by?

MR. GREEN: The Office for People With Dis -- the Office for People With Developmental Disabilities, the OPWDD for the State of Arkansas (sic). That is the Department -- I'm going to call it a Department --

BY MR. GREEN:

Q What did you call it, the Office -- Division? How did you refer to it when you ran it?

A It's an office.

Q The office. So I'm going to refer to it as the office. It is a publication -- training publication available on their website as of today, and prior, according to the way-back machine, and it says, "Common issues: For people with developmental disabilities, common issues exist that place a person at risk for choking and aspiration." There are lots of things that don't really apply to our case that I'm not going to discuss, such as decreased muscle tone, I don't think that's a factor here. One of the common issues it says is, quote, "A person has been diagnosed with [redacted]

So, do you agree with that statement that people with developmental disabilities have a greater risk for choking and aspiration if they have been [redacted] "yes" or "no"?

A I'm still -- can you point me to look at that document? Because I'm confused in how it's being represented?

Q I'm not --

A I didn't hear in your representation that a comparison was made between the general population and people with developmental disabilities. I would like to be able to see that that's exactly what was the case in that document. I mean, I can do the search as easily as you, or I could wait for you to send it to me. But I don't want to comment on a document based solely on your representation of it.

Q Okay. That's fine. All right. So, let me ask you, then, the way it is phrased in this training document is that people with developmental disabilities, there are common issues that exist that place a person at risk for choking and aspiration, [redacted] Do you disagree with that?

MR. ROSEN: Objection. This is irrelevant as to general populations, because David Cains, we know what his risks were. It's in the IPP, it's in the evidence. So, asking about people in New York State and a generalized risk, when we know what the risk is for David Cains, would be a little misleading and certainly not relevant.

MR. GREEN: Well, I object as to what we know. The Commission will determine the facts.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q But do you want to answer my question or not, Doctor?

A I can't comment on it --

Q Okay.

A -- a document without looking at it.

Q All right. We will just let the document speak for itself.

MR. ROSEN: Well, if you would provide it to him, he might be able to look at it and compare it in context. But until then, it's out of context.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Well, I think -- Doctor, you have testified that you are an expert in dealing with people with developmental disabilities; correct?

A Correct.

Q And so, you have a wide range of knowledge of risk factors that they may have as it pertains to choking or aspiration; correct?

A Correct.

Q And isn't it true that -- and I'm not talking about Mr. Cains. But isn't it true that, in general, [redacted] "yes" or "no"?

MR. ROSEN: I'm going to object, because just a general diagnosis -- are you [redacted] are you talking with active symptoms? What are you talking about? These generalized statements, you know, when we --

MR. GREEN: My question was clear --

MR. ROSEN: Hold on, I'm making an objection, counsel. Because somebody with [redacted]who does not -- the question is, are [redacted]

[redacted] which? Which are you talking about, so that we can put that in the hypothetical to ask the physician?

MR. GREEN: I have asked my question.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, if you don't remember it, we can have the court reporter read it back.

MR. ROSEN: I object to the question simply because it's nonsensical.

MR. GREEN: Okay. Well, that's fine, it can be nonsensical. But that's not a valid reason for the witness not to answer it.

BY MR. GREEN:

Q Doctor, do you have an opinion on that or not?

[redacted]

Q Okay.

A And that's a well established fact.

Q And I understand you have testified before that you didn't believe Mr. Cains was having [redacted] I get all that. I'm not trying to rehash that.

A Okay.

Q I appreciate your direct answer just then.

Thank you. Doctor, in preparing your reports, did you review the report written by Sandy Evans where she found there was no maltreatment? Do you recall reviewing that report?

A I don't necessarily recall that.

Q Okay. I'm almost done. Just let me check a couple of notes here. Would you agree with me, Doctor, that in giving your opinions, that if any of the factual assumptions that you have used to form those opinions turned out not to be correct, that might change your overall opinion?

A I'm not sure what you mean by "factual assumptions". There are facts and there are assumptions.

Q Okay.

A I have tried not to assume facts when they were not present.

Q Well, for instance, if Tyler said something happened, I wasn't there, you weren't there, really no one else knows whether it is true or not, I would say my wording would be that you assume that to be a fact because you assume him to tell the truth, and he may be telling the truth, but it's not a fact that you observed. So, my question is, if things that you have read in reports that you don't have personal knowledge of that you have assumed to be true, if it turns out some of those things are not true, those could potentially change your opinions; correct?

A I make no representations about any first person facts that I was party to. Everything that I looked at relies upon the testimony of people or their reporting or other, you know, documents. I have no firsthand information.

Q Perfect. Perfect. And if any of their testimony or statements turned out not to be accurate as it was reported to you, that could potentially have changed your opinion; correct?

A It would depend upon what that specific concern were.

Q Sure. Understood.

A But this is the position that all of the experts find themselves in. None of the experts have any firsthand information because none of us were there at the time. We rely upon the materials that we receive to form our opinions.

Q Understood. Understood. And that's why we have fact-finders. Usually it's a court or a jury. Here it's going to be the Claims Commission, they will ultimately determine what did or did not happen based on all of these statements. And I wasn't accusing you of doing anything inappropriate, just establishing that you have to rely on what is reported to you to form your opinions.

A Just as all the experts do in this regard.

Q I don't disagree. I understand that's the case.

MR. GREEN: Can we take five minutes? I may be completely done. Give me just a moment.

MR. ROSEN: Make it about seven minutes, seven or eight.

MR. GREEN: Seven. Okay. Thanks.

(WHEREUPON, a break was taken.)

BY MR. GREEN:

Q All right. Doctor, just a couple more questions. You had testified before that you have given testimony in many other legal proceedings. Specifically, I think you testified that you had testified as to the cause of death in some legal proceedings. Is that right?

A Yes.

Q Okay. Can you tell me in what proceedings you testified as to the cause of death for any person?

A I apologize. I can't cite any specific case. I have worked on probably 30 medical malpractice cases in which that's a component. The last one would be ten or 15 years ago, and honestly, I can't remember.

Q So, just so I'm clear, your testimony related to cause of death would have been primarily in the context of medical malpractice cases?
A No, no. It was also in the context of the larger consultations that I have done at facilities, federal litigation. I just don't remember specific instances. But I know that it's common, and I have published a fair amount in the area. So, it's an area of expertise that I have.
Q So, you have published articles in journals about cause of death?
A Yes. And actuarial studies and all types of things related to cause of death, life expectancy, the content which we have been discussing today.
Q And those are all listed in your CV; correct?
A Yes.
Q Let me ask you, though -- and when I say "testimony in a legal proceeding", I mean either testimony during a deposition, or testimony during a court hearing, or other trial court proceeding, not like you writing a report for someone that wasn't used in a deposition or at a hearing. Does that make sense?
A Yes.

Q Okay. So, can you remember, is the last time you gave oral testimony, whether in a hearing or deposition related to cause of death, ten to 15 years ago?
A I don't recall offering any oral or written testimony in the last ten years. I mean, I could be wrong, but I just don't remember anything.
Q Okay. Do you recall if these were all federal cases or was it a mixture of federal and state cases?
A I would assume a mixture of federal and state.
Q Okay.
A And obviously the medical malpractice cases are different than I think what you are describing.
Q Sure. Do you recall what states you would have provided testimony in? And when I say "in", obviously right now we are doing this via Zoom, so I presume you are in New York right now. I'm in Arkansas. But I would say that this case is an Arkansas case. So, my question is, can you recall what states the cases originated in where you provided testimony related to cause of death? And I'm not expecting you to have an exhaustive, complete, perfect list. But can you tell me states that you do recall that having occurred in?
A I think, in our last session, I identified states where I had provided testimony. Off the top of my head, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Florida, Texas. I'm sure there are others. Nebraska. But I can't recall specifically in what state I would have opined about a cause of death.

Q Okay. So, in all those states you mentioned, that would have been testimony, but you can't remember which ones were cause of death, which ones were not; correct?

A Correct. They are generally large, complicated projects that require looking at many, many components of the system of care. And so, I can't be specific.

Q Okay.

A I do remember in Nebraska an individual who passed away and there were questions about that individual's specific care and whether it met the standard of care. And, yeah, I can recall those details. I don't know how that helps you. But I do recall those details in that one instance.

Q Okay. All right, Doctor. Did you understand my questions today?

A I believe so.

Q Were you able to hear me?

A Yes, I could hear you.
Q Do you want to change any of your answers to any of the questions I asked today or that I asked in our previous session?
A Not without the benefit of having the opportunity to look at the transcript.
Q Right. And I will ask you to take a look at that, and then if you need to correct something, you will be able to do that. And the other attorney will explain that to you.

MR. GREEN: All right. I will pass the witness.

MR. ROSEN: All right. Very brief.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. ROSEN:
Q Doctor Kastner, just a few minutes ago, a little bit ago, counsel was asking you about a document that counsel says is from New York State. Do you remember that conversation?
A Yes.
Q And counsel asked you -- he asked you about people with developmental disabilities and GERD in general. Do you remember that conversation?
A Yes.
Q About a general population, nobody in specific;

right?

A Correct.

Q Okay. But he didn't ask you specifically about David Cains, or if he did, I don't recall. But I'm going to ask you about David Cains. Okay? And did

MR. GREEN: Objection, asked and answered. He went over that last time. But feel free to go over it again.

MR. ROSEN: Well, you raised that in your -- and I just want to make the record clear. Because you were talking about people in general, and I want to be more specific, because we have the information with David Cains.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q So, I'm going to ask you, Doctor --

MR. GREEN: And that's fine. That's why I said, "Go ahead." I'm not throwing a fit over it.

MR. ROSEN: All right.

BY MR. ROSEN:

Q So, Doctor, what was -- first of all, there was -- in 2019, which is the year -- or for the 2019 IPP, which was the year of the IPP in effect at the time

[redacted]

[redacted]

MR. ROSEN: I have no other questions. Thank you.

MR. GREEN: Just real quick.

RECROSS EXAMINATION

BY MR. GREEN:

[redacted] with respect to whether a person is being held and pinned down against the ground; correct?

A I don't believe that you are characterizing the circumstances in which Mr. Cains --

Q I'm not asking about whether that -- I'm just asking about, they do not test to see whether or not a person in a certain position held on the ground would have a greater risk; correct?

A Risks are based upon evidence and data. For example, there is a small risk of a person living in the United States being attacked by a shark. But for those people who don't swim in the ocean, we know the risk is zero because we are not going to encounter sharks unless we swim in the ocean. In the case of Mr. Cains, [redacted]

[redacted]

Q Okay. I understand what you feel about Mr. Cains. I think it is very clear. My simple question is this: When they perform an assessment for a person's risk of choking or aspiration, they do not test to see whether or not the person is at an increased risk of choking or aspiration if they are being held on the floor and cannot get up; correct?

A You would have to go and speak to them about how they performed that assessment.

Q Okay. So, you are not familiar with how they performed the assessment?

A I'm quite familiar with the tool, and I would believe they rely upon the evidence in the collective medical record. But I don't want to opine about their specific practice. I think they are in a better position to do that than I am.

Q And this will be one last thing, and I don't mean to be silly by it. Your analogy was about being attacked by sharks and that you wouldn't be attacked by a shark if you swam in the ocean; right?

A Excuse me. I think I said you would only be attacked by a shark if you swam in the ocean.

Q In the ocean. Okay.

A And so your risk of being attacked by the shark would be zero if you never swam in the ocean, unless you believe in the Sharknado nonsense.

Q My only point in asking that is, you presume that sharks only exist in the ocean. Were you aware that sharks have been found in the Mississippi River as far north as above St. Louis?

A Sure. They are called bull sharks. I'm familiar with it. And you could also be attacked in an aquarium.

Q Right.

A So, but the bigger point is, if you have never vomited [redacted] based upon your specific health and the evidence that is available to make decisions. So, a clinician has to rely on data, they rely on that data which says, [redacted] and they act upon it. That was my point. So, the risk is zero.

Q Right. According to your opinion.

MR. GREEN: All right. Well, thank you. I don't think I have any further questions.

MR. ROSEN: And I have no questions. Thank you, Doctor. Well, I guess as counsel raised it, under our rules you have a right to review your deposition. I'm not your attorney, so I can't advise you. You have a right to review it and make any changes on an errata sheet or you can waive that. That's up to you, since counsel raised that. I can't advise you on that, I'm not your attorney.

MR. GREEN: I would request that he review it and make any corrections, or just simply note that he has no corrections.

MR. ROSEN: Well, that's up to the doctor to decide whether you want to read it completely first. And then, that would take up to -- either of the Ms. Petres, how long does the deponent have to review a deposition? And I assume that you have to type it up first.

COURT REPORTER: Thirty days after he gets it, normally, unless you ask him to do it sooner.

MR. ROSEN: Well, since counsel wants that, it's 30 days from the time that you type it up. So, that would put us past the deadline for the briefing. But if that's what counsel is requesting, then that's what counsel is requesting.

MR. GREEN: Well, unless he does not -- if he wants to waive it, I'm okay with him waiving it. I just want to make sure it's clear one way or the other that he either takes the opportunity to correct it or waives it.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. So, I thought you -- well, anyway. So, Doctor Kastner, that would be your call since counsel raised it and has given you the opportunity. If you want to read it or you can waive it under the anticipation that the Petres, both Donna and Debbye, accurately got your testimony correct, and with the proviso that there was a gap for a minute or two that caused us to change the process of court reporter.

THE WITNESS: I don't feel like I need to respond right now. So, unless you are asking me or requiring me.

MR. ROSEN: The only reason I'm asking you is because counsel raised it. I wouldn't have raised it. So, would you prefer to read it or would you prefer to waive?

THE WITNESS: I would prefer to read.

MR. ROSEN: Okay. All right. Since counsel raised it, we're going to have to do that, and I will have to address the briefing issue, then. Okay. Thank you, everybody.

(WHEREUPON, at 12:30 p.m., the taking of the above-entitled deposition was concluded.)

---o---

CURRICULUM VITAE

DATE OF PREPARATION: February 1, 2022

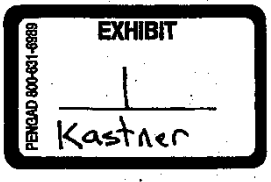
NAME: Theodore Andrew Kastner, M.D., M.S.

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION:

Colgate University Hamilton, NY	1973-1977	B.A.
University of Connecticut School of Medicine Farmington, CT	1977-1981	M.D.
University of Wisconsin School of Preventive Health Madison, Wisconsin	1995-1997	M.S.

POST-GRADUATE TRAINING:

Intern	Bronx Municipal Hospital Center	7/1981-6/1982
Resident	Bronx Municipal Hospital Center	7/1982-6/1984
Fellowship	Developmental Medicine	7/1984-6/1986



PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYMENT, HOSPITAL AND ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS:

Employment:

Morristown Memorial Hospital, Medical Director, Developmental Disabilities Center	7/1986-12/1998
Morristown Memorial Hospital, Medical Director, Center for Human Development and Rehabilitation	7/1986-7/1989
Morristown Memorial Hospital, Director, Center for Human Development	7/1989-1/1998
Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc., President,	1/1998 to Present
Co-Director Rose F. Kennedy Center (Albert Einstein)	4/2015 to 1/2019
Director Children's Evaluation and Rehabilitation Center (Montefiore)	4/2015 to 1/2019
Commissioner, NYS Office for Persons with Developmental Disabilities (OPWDD)	1/2019 to 10/2021

Hospital Appointments:

2013-2019	Montefiore Medical Center, Attending Physician
2001-2018	Mountainside Hospital, Consultant

1998-2018	Robert Wood Johnson Hospital at Hamilton, Consultant
1995-1999	Mountainside Hospital, Attending Physician
1995-1999	Morristown Memorial Hospital, Attending Physician
1989-1993	Morristown Memorial Hospital, Associate Attending Physician
1986-1989	Morristown Memorial Hospital, Assistant Attending Physician
1984-1986	Bronx Municipal Hospital Center, Assistant Attending Physician

Academic Appointments:

2015-2019	Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Professor of Pediatrics, Department of Pediatrics Professor of Psychiatry, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences
2015-2019	Ruth L. Gottesman Chair in Developmental Pediatrics
2015-2019	Chief, Division of Developmental Medicine, Department of Pediatrics
2004-2016	University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, Clinical Associate Professor of Medicine
1999-2014	University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, New Jersey Medical School Clinical Associate Professor of Pediatrics
1992-1999	University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, New Jersey Medical School Associate Professor of Pediatrics
1988-2004	Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons Assistant Professor of Clinical Pediatrics
1986-1988	Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons Instructor in Clinical Pediatrics

BOARD CERTIFICATION:

Pediatrics, American Board of Pediatrics, 1986
Medical Management, 1998, American Board of Medical Management
Certified Physician Executive, 1998, American College of Physician Executives Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics, 2022, American Board of Pediatrics
Neurodevelopmental Disabilities, 2024, American Board of Pediatrics

ADDITIONAL OPTIONAL INFORMATION:

Professional Society Membership:

-American Academy of Pediatrics New Jersey Chapter

Treasurer (2012-2014)
Secretary (2010-2012)

Nominating Committee (2008-2010)
Councilor (At-large) (1999 to 2003)
Councilor (District 3) (1993-1998)

-American Association on Mental Retardation (American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities) (1986-2016)

President, New Jersey Board of Directors (1996-1998)
Fellow (1996)
National Board of Directors (Term 1994-1996)
National Legislative and Social Issues Committee (1993- 1996)
National President Medicine Division (1992-1994)
New Jersey Board of Directors (Medicine) (1987-1998)
Region IX Board of Directors (Medicine) (1988- 1992)

-American College of Physician Executives (1992- present)

-American Epilepsy Society (1992-1998)

-New Jersey Medical Society (1986-1996, 2000-2006)

-New Jersey Academy of Medicine (1990-2002)

-Northwest New Jersey Pediatric Society (1986-1998)

-Pediatric Council on Research and Education (2002-2006)

Founding Board Member (2000 to 2007)

-Society for Behavioral Pediatrics (1988-2005)

-Society for Developmental Pediatrics (1991-2000)

Other Boards of Directors:

- Developmental Disabilities Health Partners

Founding Board Member (2013-2020)

Northwest New Jersey Early Intervention Collaborative

Founding Board Member (1993-1994)

-Community Health Law Project Board of Directors (1989-1992)

-Academy on Mental Retardation (1986-2005)

-American Academy of Cerebral Palsy and Developmental Medicine (1986-2012)

Committees:

-American Academy of Pediatrics (1986-Present)

-Co-Chair, New Jersey Chapter, Committee on Firearms Prevention (2001-2006)

-New Jersey Chapter Committee on Children With Disabilities (1986-2015)

-National Committee on Children With Disabilities (1997-2003)

-AAP Workgroup on Transition to Adult Health Care (September 2001)

(Member of Invitational Conference Planning Committee) Proceedings published as a supplement Pediatrics December 2002, Volume 110, Number 6 Part 2 of 2.

-AAP Medical Necessity Meeting (February 2002)

-AAP Task Force on Medication Administration (April 2000)

-AAP Representative to Planning Committee for Surgeon General's Conference on Health Disparities and Mental Retardation (December 2001); Proceedings Published as "Closing the Gap: A National Blueprint to Improve the Health of Persons With Mental Retardation." US Department of Health and Human Services. 2002

-American Association on Mental Retardation (American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities) (1986-2015)

-National Legislative and Social Issues Committee (1993- 1996)

-Association for Retarded Citizens (New Jersey) (1986-2015)

Chairperson, Mainstreaming Medical Care Advisory Committee (1988-1998)

Mainstreaming Medical Care Advisory Committee (1988-2018)

Network on Prevention of Mental Retardation (1986-1998)

Member, New Jersey State Health Care Project Advisory Committee 1987

Professional Advisory Committee (Morris Unit) (1987-1993)

-Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey (1992-2002)

Professional Advisory Board (1993-1998)

-Other National and Regional Committees

New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Advisory Committee (1998-2003)

New Jersey Department of Human Services Advisory Committee on Developmental Disabilities and Medicaid Managed Care (1995-2004)

NY United Cerebral Palsy Medicaid Managed Care Advisory Committee (1994-2000)

New Jersey Department of Human Services Advisory Committee on Medicaid Managed Care (1994-2003)

State of New Jersey Interagency Coordinating Council (1992-1998)

American Association of University Affiliated Programs Task Force on HIV and Developmental Disabilities (1988- 1998)

New Jersey Department of Health Pediatric AIDS Advisory Group (1988-1998)

Research Committee of the Governor's Council on the Prevention of Mental Retardation & Developmental Disabilities (1989-2000)
State of New Jersey Consortium on Disability (1987-1998)
Matheny School, Member, Medical Committee, Peapack, NJ (1986-1989)
-New York City Mayor's Ad Hoc Committee on Zika Virus (2015-2017)

Awards and Honors:

2008 American Medical Association Leadership Award, American Medical Association
2007 Ann Klein Advocate Award, Community Health Law Project
2007 Health Care Professional of the Year Award (Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance) Bergen Passaic (New Jersey) Arc
2006 Volunteer Excellence Award, Brain Injury Association of New Jersey
2000 Enable Incorporated, Special Recognition Award
1999 St. John's Community Services, Community Service Award
1999 Arc of Bergen and Passaic Counties, Health Care Professional of the Year Award
1998 Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey, Distinguished Service Award
1993 Morris County Office for the Disabled, Advocate of the Year Award
1993 Union County Arc, Physician of the Year Award
1992 Special Recognition Award, New Jersey Center for Outreach and Services for the Autism Community
1991 United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New Jersey, Elizabeth M. Boggs Citizenship Award
1990 New Jersey Association for Retarded Citizens, Health Care Professional of the Year
1990 Morris County Association for Retarded Citizens, Physician of the Year Award
1984-1986 United Cerebral Palsy Fellowship Award
1980 Joseph Goldberger Scholar in Clinical Nutrition

Other Professional Activities:

Editorial Positions:

2002-2003 Consulting Editor: Archives of Pediatrics and Adolescent Medicine
2001-2002 Consulting Editor: Milbank Quarterly
2000-2003 Consulting Editor: Pediatrics
1999-2009 Associate Editor: Mental Health Aspects of Developmental Disabilities
1993-2012 Associate Editor: Mental Retardation/ Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities
1993-2012 Consulting Editor: American Journal on Mental Retardation/American

	Journal on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities
1993-2012	Consulting Editor: Mental Retardation/ Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities

National Grant Review Panels, Study Sections, Committees

1995 US Department of Health and Human Services, Administration on Developmental Disabilities, Projects of National Significance

2012 US Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Chairperson Review Panel

Grant Support:

2019:

Administration on Community Living. "University Center of Excellence on Developmental Disabilities (UCEDD)." 7/1/2017-6/30/2022. $2,700,000.

New York City. "RFK CERC Early Childhood Center." (Co-PI) 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $1,275,000.

New York City. "Developmental Disabilities Clinic Services." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $555,678.

New York City. "Socialization and Recreation Services for Children with Autism." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $360,000.

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Developmental Behavioral Pediatric Fellowship Training Program 7/1/2018-6/30/2022. $785,000.

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND)." 7/1/2016-6/30/2021. $3,527,225.

Heath Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND) Audiology Supplement." 7/1/2016-6/30/2021. $400,000.

"Statewide Community Integration and Preservation Program (SCIPP)." New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/17-12/31/17: $1,200,000

2018:

Administration on Community Living. "University Center of Excellence on Developmental Disabilities (UCEDD)." 7/1/2017-6/30/2022. $2,700,000.

New York City. "RFK CERC Early Childhood Center." (Co-PI) 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $1,275,000.

New York City. "Developmental Disabilities Clinic Services." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $555,678.

New York City. "Socialization and Recreation Services for Children with Autism." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $360,000.

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Developmental Behavioral Pediatric Fellowship Training Program 7/1/2018-6/30/2022. $785,000.

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND)." 7/1/2016-6/30/2021. $3,527,225.

Heath Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND) Audiology Supplement." 7/1/2016-6/30/2021. $400,000.

"Statewide Community Integration and Preservation Program (SCIPP)." New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/18-12/31/18: $1,200,000

2017:

Administration on Community Living. "University Center of Excellence on Developmental Disabilities (UCEDD)." 7/1/2017-6/30/2022. $2,700,000.

New York City Administration on Children's Services. "GABI Replication." (Co-PI) 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $8,400,000.

Bronxworks. "GABI Replication." (Co-PI) 9/1/2016-8/30/2017. $384,000.

Brooklyn Catholic Charities. "GABI Replication." (Co-PI) 9/1/2016-8/30/2017. $384,000.

New York City. "RFK CERC Early Childhood Center." (Co-PI) 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $1,275,000.

New York City. "Developmental Disabilities Clinic Services." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $555,678.

New York City. "Socialization and Recreation Services for Children with Autism." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $360,000.

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND)." 7/1/2016-6/30/2021. $3,527,225.

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND) Audiology Supplement." 7/1/2016-6/30/2021. $400,000.

"Statewide Community Integration and Preservation Program (SCIPP)." New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/17-12/31/17: $1,200,000

2016:

New York City Administration on Children's Services. "GABI Replication." (Co-PI) 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $8,400,000.

Bronxworks. "GABI Replication." (Co-PI) 9/1/2016-8/30/2017. $384,000.

Brooklyn Catholic Charities. "GABI Replication." (Co-PI) 9/1/2016-8/30/2017. $384,000.

New York City. "RFK CERC Early Childhood Center." (Co-PI) 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $1,275,000.

New York City. "Developmental Disabilities Clinic Services." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $555,678.

New York City. "Socialization and Recreation Services for Children with Autism." 7/1/2016-6/30/2019. $360,000.

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND)." 7/1/2016-6/30/2021. $3,527,225.

Special Hope Foundation."Evaluation of the Developmental Disabilities Health Home." 1/1/2016-12/31/2016: $50,000.

"Statewide Community Integration and Preservation Program (SCIPP)." New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/16-12/31/16: $1,200,000

2015:

Health Resources Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. "Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities (LEND)." 7/1/2015-6/30/2016. $669,789

Centers for Disease Control. "A Training Curriculum for Parents of Children with ADHD." 9/1/2015-6/30/2015. $300,000.

Administration on Community Living. "University Center of Excellence on Developmental Disabilities (UCEDD)." 7/1/2015-6/30/2016. $545,000.

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS): "Health Home for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." July 1, 2014 – December 31, 2015. $900,000.

"Integrated Service Delivery Team." New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/15-12/31/15: $1,200,000

2014:

New York State Department of Health: "Enhancing the Developmental Disabilities Health Home: DDHA Subcontract." Balancing Incentive Program." 8/1/2014-3/31/2016. $850,000.

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS): "Health Home for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." July 1, 2013 – June 30, 2014. $1,800,000.

"Arkansas Best Practices in Developmental Disabilities." State of Arkansas: July 1, 2013 – June 30, 2014; $450,000

Care Management Contracts with HealthFirst of New Jersey Inc. 1/1/14-12/31/14: $720,000.

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/14-12/31/14: $550,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/14-12/31/14: $470,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/14-12/31/14; $150,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/14-12/31/14; $190,000

2013:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS): "Health Home for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." July 1, 2013 – June 30, 2014. $1,000,000.

"Arkansas Best Practices in Developmental Disabilities." State of Arkansas: July 1, 2013 – June 30, 2014; $450,000

Care Management Contracts with HealthFirst of New Jersey Inc. 1/1/13-12/31/13: $720,000.

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/13-12/31/13: $550,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/13-12/31/13: $470,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/13-12/31/13; $150,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/13-12/31/13; $190,000

2012:

Care Management Demonstration Program. NJ Council on Developmental Disabilities. 10/1/12-9/30/13: $48,000.

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS): "Health Home for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." July 1, 2012 – June 30, 2013. $1,700,000.

"Arkansas Best Practices in Developmental Disabilities." State of Arkansas: 10/1/2011-6/30/2012; $450,000

"Clinical Improvements Arkansas State Hospital II." State of Arkansas: 12/15/2011-3/15/2012; $220,000

Care Management Contracts with HealthFirst of New Jersey Inc. 1/1/12-12/31/12: $720,000.

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/12-12/31/12: $550,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/12-12/31/12: $470,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/12-12/31/12; $150,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/12-12/31/12; $190,000

2011:

"Clinical Improvements Arkansas State Hospital I." State of Arkansas: 7/1/2011-9/30/2011; $394,668

Care Management Contracts with HealthFirst of New Jersey Inc. 1/1/11-12/31/11: $720,000.

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/11-12/31/11: $550,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/11-12/31/11: $470,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/11-12/31/11; $150,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/11-12/31/11; $190,000

2010:

"Clinical Improvements Alexander Human Development Center." State of Arkansas: 5/1/2010-6/6/2011; $2,150,000.

Care Management Contracts with Americhoice Inc. 1/1/10-12/31/10: $2,125,000.

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/10-12/31/10: $550,000

"Community Program of Support and Training (CPEP)," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/10-12/31/10: $165,100

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/10-12/31/10: $470,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/10-12/31/10; $150,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/10-12/31/10; $190,000

2009:

"IPP Development." State of Nebraska: 1/1/2009-8/30/2009; $750.000

Care Management Contracts with Americhoice Inc. 1/1/09-12/312/09: $2,125,000.

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/09-12/31/09: $550,000

"Family Support Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/09-12/31/09: $150,000

"Community Program of Support and Training (CPEP)," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/09-12/31/09: $165,100

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/09-12/31/09: $470,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/09-12/31/09; $150,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/09-12/31/09; $190,000

2008: $3,565,000

Care Management Contracts with University Health Plan and Americhoice Inc. 1/1/08-12/31/08: $2,125,000.

Olmstead Plan Behavioral Services: Statewide, New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/08-12/31/08: $50,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/08-12/31/08: $450,000

"Family Support Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/08-12/31/08: $50,000

"Community Program of Support and Training (CPST)," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/08-12/31/08: $80,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/08-12/31/08: $470,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/08-12/31/08; $150,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/08-12/31/08; $190,000

2007: $4,570,000

"Care Management Subcontracts: University Health Plan and Americhoice Inc." Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. 1/1/07-12/31/07: $1,567,000.

"Statewide Clinical Consultation and Training Program," New Jersey Division of Mental Health Services/Trinitas Hospital: 1/1/07-12/31/07; $20,000

"Community Program of Support and Training (CPST)," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/07-12/31/07: $240,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/07-12/31/07: $460,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/07-12/31/07: $350,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/07-12/31/07; $140,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/07-12/31/07; $190,000

2006:

"Care Management Subcontracts: University Health Plan and Americhoice Inc." Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. 1/1/06-12/31/06; $1,515,000.

"Statewide Clinical Consultation and Training Program," New Jersey Division of Mental Health Services/Trinitas Hospital, 1/1/06-12/30/06; $255,000

"Community Program of Support and Training (CPST)," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/06-12/31/06; $1,700,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/06-12/31/06; $450,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/06-12/31/06 $340,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/06-12/31/06; $130,000

"Integrated Service Delivery Team: Lower Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/06-12/31/06; $180,000

2005:

"Care Management Subcontracts: University Health Plan and Americhoice Inc." Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. 1/1/05-12/31/05; $1,300,000.

"Statewide Clinical Consultation and Training Program," New Jersey Division of Mental Health Services/Trinitas Hospital, 1/1/05-12/30/05; $240,000

"Integrated Therapeutic Network," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/05-6/30/05; $420,000

"Mental Health Consultation Team Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/05-12/30/05; $435,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/05-12/31/05; $340,000

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/05-12/31/05; $125,000

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/05-12/31/05; $165,000

2004

"Care Management Subcontracts: University Health Plan." Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. 1/1/04-12/312/04; $800,000.

"Statewide Clinical Consultation and Training Program," New Jersey Division of Mental Health Services/Trinitas Hospital, 1/1/04-12/30/04; $233,793

"Integrated Therapeutic Network," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/04-12/31/04; $700,000

"Mental Health Consultation Team Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/04-12/31/04; $421,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/04-12/31/04; $325,000

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/04-12/31/04; $118,224

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/04-12/31/04; $159,335

2003

"Care Management Subcontracts: University Health Plan." Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. 1/1/03-12/31/03; $246,000.

"Statewide Clinical Consultation and Training Program," New Jersey Division of Mental Health Services/Trinitas Hospital, 1/1/03-12/31/03; $241,500

"Integrated Therapeutic Network," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/03-12/31/03; $700,000

"Mental Health Consultation Team Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/03-12/30/03; $421,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/03-12/31/03; $420,000

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/03-12/31/03; $118,224

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital at Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/03-12/31/03; $159,335

2002

"Care Management Subcontracts: University Health Plan and Horizon/Mercy Health Plan." Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. 1/1/02-12/31/02; $158,000.

"Statewide Clinical Consultation and Training Program," New Jersey Division of Mental Health Services/Trinitas Hospital, 1/1/02-12/31/02; $237,906

"Integrated Therapeutic Network," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/02-12/31/02; $700,000

"Mental Health Consultation Team Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/02-12/30/02; $413,876

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/02-12/31/02; $300,000

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/02-12/31/02; $116,568

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital at Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/02-12/31/02; $157,879

2001

"Care Management Subcontracts: University Health Plan and Horizon/Mercy Health Plan." Robert Wood Johnson Health Network. 1/1/01-12/31/01; $82,000.

"Integrated Therapeutic Network," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 7/1/01-6/30/04; $1,500,000

"Mental Health Consultation Team Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/01-12/31/01; $407,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/01-12/31/01; $300,000

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/01-12/31/01; $114,808

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital at Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/01-12/31/01; $155,464

2000

"Statewide Clinical Consultation and Training Program," New Jersey Division of Mental Health Services/Trinitas Hospital, 7/1/00-12/31/01; $339,000

"Integrated Therapeutic Network," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 7/1/00-6/30/01; $400,000

"Mental Health Consultation Team Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/00-12/31/00; $400,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/00-12/31/00; $131,500

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/00-12/31/00; $113,000

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital at Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 1/1/00-12/31/00; $152,600

1999

"Integrated Therapeutic Network," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 7/1/99-6/30/00; $300,000

"Care Management Demonstration Program," Robert Wood Johnson Health Network; 9/1/99-6/30/2001; $330,000

"Care Management Demonstration Program," New Jersey Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services; 9/1/99-6/30/2001; $648,000

"Mental Health Consultation Team Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 7/1/99-12/31/00; $300,000

"Family Support Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 4/1/99-12/31/99; $26,500

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Upper Central Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 11/1/99-12/31/00; $87,500

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital at Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities;1/1/99-12/31/99; $152,600

1998

"Mental Health Consultation Services: Northern Region," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 11/1/98-6/30/99; $75,000

"Case Management in Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities," Center for Health Care Strategies; 7/1/98-12/31/98; $10,000

"A Retrospective Analysis of the Effects of Risperidone on Tardive Dyskinesia in People With Mental Retardation." Janssen Pharmaceutical Research Foundation; 1/1/98-6/30/98; $55,000

"Quality Measurement in Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities," Center for Health Care Strategies; 2/1/98-6/30/98; $10,000

"Technical Assistance to the New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Regarding Managed Care: Case Management and Behavioral Programming," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 2/1/98-12/31/98; $27,900

"Developmental Disabilities Center at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital Hamilton," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities; 2/1/98-12/31/98; $150,000

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities, Contract #06PX6N; 1/1/98-12/31/98; $1,672,064

1997

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities, Contract #06PX6N; 1/1/97-12/31/97; $1,672,064

"Morris County Special Child Health Services Case Management Program," New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services Special Child Health Services, 7/196-6/30/97; $60,456.

"Service Coordination," New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services Early Intervention Program, 7/196-6/30/97; $166,700.

"Morris County Case Management Program," Morris County Board of Chosen Freeholders, 1/1/96-12/31/96. $89,144

"Comprehensive Child Evaluation Center," New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services Special Child Health Services, 7/1/96 - 6/30/97, $75,000.

"Child Sex Abuse," New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services Contract;1/1/96-12/31/96: $21,219.

"Early Intervention Program", New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services Early Intervention Program, 7/1/96 - 9/30/97; $167,820

"Parent Infant Specialist in Behavioral Issues", Northwest New Jersey Regional Early Intervention Collaborative, 10/1/96 - 6/30/97; $21,000

"Morris/Dover Expansion of Early Intervention Services", Northwest New Jersey Regional Early Intervention Collaborative, 10/1/96 - 6/30/97; $66,700

"Prevention of Cerebral Palsy With Prenatal Magnesium Sulfate," New Jersey Office of Prevention; 1/1/97-12/31/97: $10,000.

1996

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #06PX5N; 1/1/95-12/31/95. ($1,161,071)

"Comprehensive Child Evaluation Center", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/95 - 6/30/96, ($75,000).

"Early Intervention Program", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/95 - 9/30/96, Ted Kastner, Principal Investigator.

"Child Sex Abuse," New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services Contract; 1/1/96-12/31/96. ($20,910)

1995

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #06PX5N; 1/1/95-12/31/95. ($1,161,071)

"Child Sex Abuse," New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services Contract; 1/1/95-12/31/95. ($20,910)

"Morris County Case Management Program," Morris County Board of Chosen Freeholders, 1/1/95-12/31/95. ($162,056)

1994

"Morris County Case Management Program," New Jersey Department of Health, 7/1/94-6/31/95. ($162,056)

"Comprehensive Child Evaluation Center", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/94 - 6/30/95. ($75,000)

"Early Intervention Program", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/94 - 6/30/95, ($160,800)

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #06PX4N; 1/1/94-12/31/94, ($1,127,245)

"Child Sex Abuse," New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services Contract;1/1/95-12/31/95. ($19710)

"Morris County Case Management Program," Morris County Board of Chosen Freeholders, 1/1/94-12/31/94. ($89,144)

1993

"Morris County Case Management Program," New Jersey Department of Health, 7/1/93-6/31/94. ($105,862)

"Comprehensive Child Evaluation Center", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/93 - 6/30/94. ($75,000)

"Early Intervention Program", New Jersey Department of Health 10/1/93 - 6/30/94, ($123,135)

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #06PX3N; 1/1/93-12/31/93. ($1,054,909)

"Morris County Case Management Program," Morris County Board of Chosen Freeholders, 1/1/93-12/31/93. ($89,144)

1992

"Morris County Case Management Program," New Jersey Department of Health, 1/1/92-6/31/93. ($73,692)

"Comprehensive Child Evaluation Center", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/92 - 6/30/93. ($75,000)

"Early Intervention Program", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/92 - 9/30/93, ($192,579)

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #06PX2N; 1/1/92-12/31/92. ($1,020,374)

"Comprehensive Child Evaluation Center", New Jersey Department of Health 7/1/92 - 6/30/93. ($75,000)

1991

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #06PX1N; 1/1/91-12/31/91. ($976,261)

"Morris County Case Management Program," New Jersey Department of Health, 1/1/92-12/31/92. ($29,700)

"Morris County Case Management Program," Morris County Board of Chosen Freeholders, 1/1/93-12/31/93. ($83,610)

"Morris County Case Management Program," New Jersey Department of Health, 1/1/91-12/31/91. ($29,700)

1990

"An Educational Program to Reduce the Incidence of Fragile X Syndrome in New Jersey," New Jersey Office of Prevention, 3/1/90-2/28/91. ($15,000)

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #06PX0N; 1/1/90-12/31/90. ($914,003)

"Morris County Case Management Program," Morris County Board of Chosen Freeholders, 1/1/90-12/31/90. ($81,175)

"Morris County Case Management Program," New Jersey Department of Health, 1/1/90-12/31/90. ($47,140)

1989

"An Educational Program to Reduce the Incidence of Fragile X Syndrome in New Jersey," New Jersey Office of Prevention, 3/1/89-2/28/90. ($15,000)

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #EP069PC; 1/1/89-12/31/89. ($931,691)

1989

"Develop Curricula and Training Materials for HIV and AIDS," Administration on Developmental Disabilities, Department of Health and Human Services (Office of Human Developmental Services), 12/1/89-11/30/90; Allen Crocker, Principal Investigator; T. Kastner, Project Director, Component on Implementing Service Guidelines in New Jersey. ($20,000)

1988

"Develop Curricula and Training Materials for HIV and AIDS," Administration on Developmental Disabilities, Department of Health and Human Services (Office of Human Developmental Services), 12/1/88-11/30/89; Allen Crocker, Principal Investigator; T. Kastner, Project Director, Component on Implementing Service Guidelines in New Jersey. ($20,000)

"Developmental Disabilities Center Program and Components," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities Contract #E8P0903; 1/1/88-12/31/88. ($855,593)

PUBLICATIONS

Peer-reviewed original articles in journals:

70. Kastner, TA, Walsh, KK, Shulman L, Alam F, Flood S. "Ketamine and the core symptoms of autism." International Journal on Disability and Human Development. 2015:15(1):121–123.

69. Kastner, T. A., & Walsh, K. K. (2012). Health Care for Individuals with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities: An Integrated Developmental Disabilities Health Home Model. In: R. M. Hodapp (Ed.), International Review of Research in Developmental Disabilities (pp. 1–45). Elsevier Inc.: Academic Press.

68. Kastner T and Walsh K. "Diagnostic Manual – Intellectual Disability." Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities. 2009:47(4): 323-327.

67. Kastner T and Walsh K. "Divided We Stand, United We Fall: Personal Budgets vs. Universal Coverage." Mental Retardation. 2008:46(3): 239-242.

66. Walsh K and Kastner T. "On the need for a procedure for expulsion of manuscripts that do not meet the peer-review standard." Mental Retardation. 2007:45(6): 408-411.

65. Walsh K and Kastner T. "The Hissom Closure in Oklahoma: Errors and Interpretation Problems in Conroy, et al. (2003)." Mental Retardation. 2006:44(5);353-369.

64. Kastner T and Walsh K. "Medicaid Managed Care Model of Primary Care and Health Care Management for Individuals With Developmental Disabilities. Mental Retardation. 2006:44(1);41-55.

63. Kastner T. "Comment on the Use of Risperidone in Developmentally Disabled Children." Pediatrics. 2005:115(4);1447-1448.

62. CP Johnson, TA Kastner and the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee/Section on Children With Disabilities. "Helping Families Raise Children With Special Health Care Needs at Home." Pediatrics. 2005;115(2);507-511.

61. T. A. Kastner and the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Children With Disabilities. "Managed Care and Children With Special Health Care Needs." Pediatrics. 2004;114(6);1693-1707.

60. Kastner T, Walsh K. " A Retrospective Analysis of the Efficacy of Risperidone in People With Developmental Disabilities Living in Institutions." Mental Health Aspects of Developmental Disabilities. 2004; 7(1); 10-20.

59. Walsh K, Kastner T, Green R. "Cost Comparisons of Community and Institutional Residential Settings: Historical Review of Selected Research." Mental Retardation. 2003;41(2):103-122.

58. Blum R, Hirsch D, Kastner T, Quint R, Sandler A. "A Consensus Statement on Health Care Transitions for Young Adults With Special Health Care Needs." Pediatrics. 2002;110(6); 1304-1305.

57. Kastner T, Walsh K, Fraser M. "Undiagnosed Medical Conditions and Medication Side Effects Presenting as Behavioral/Psychiatric Problems Among People With Mental Retardation." Mental Health Aspects of Developmental Disabilities. 2001; 4(3); 101-108.

56. Kastner T. "On the Need for Policy Requiring Data Sharing Among Researchers Who Publish in AAMR Journals: A Critique of Conroy and Adler's, 'Mortality Among Pennhurst Class Members, 1979 to 1989." Mental Retardation. 2000;38(6):519-529.

55. American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Children With Disabilities. "Care Coordination: Integrating Health and Related Systems of Care for Children With Special Health Care Needs," Pediatrics. 1999; 104: 978 - 981. Page 5

54. Kastner T and Walsh K. "Cost of Care Coordination for Children With Special Health Care Needs." Archives of Pediatrics and Adolescent Medicine.1999;153:1003-1004.

53. Ronder R, Kastner T, Parker S, Walsh K. "Serving People With Developmental Disabilities in Medicaid Managed Care." Managed Care Quarterly. 1999;7(2):23-30.

52. Walsh K and Kastner T. "Quality of Health Care for People With Developmental Disabilities: The Challenge of Managed Care." Mental Retardation. 1999;37(1):1-15.

51. American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Children With Disabilities. "Learning Disabilities, Dyslexia, and Vision: A Subject Review." Pediatrics. 1998;102:1217-1219.

50. Strauss D, Kastner T, Shavelle R. " Mortality of Adults With Developmental Disabilities Living in California Institutions and Community Care, 1985-1994." Mental Retardation. 1998;360-371.

49. American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Children With Disabilities. "Managed Care and Children With Special Health Care Needs: A Subject Review." Pediatrics. 1998;102:657-660.

48. Strauss D, Kastner T, Chaney R. "Tubefeeding." Pediatrics. 1998;100:160.

47. Kastner T. "Cost-Effectiveness of Evaluating the New Technologies." Mental Retardation. 1997;35(6):475-476

46. Kastner T, Walsh K, Criscione T. "Medicaid Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities Part I: Overview and Implications," Mental Retardation. 1997;35:257-269.

45. Kastner T, Walsh K, Criscione T. "Medicaid Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities Part II: Models, Demonstration Projects and Technical Elements," Mental Retardation. 1997;35:270-285.

44. Walsh K, Kastner T, Criscione T. "Characteristics of Hospitalizations for People With Developmental Disabilities." American Journal on Mental Retardation. 1997;101:505-520.

43. Strauss D, Kastner T, Chaney R. "Tubefeeding and Mortality in Severely Disabled Children With Mental Retardation." Pediatrics. 1997;99:358-362.

42. Kastner T, Walsh K, Criscione T. "Access to Preventive Clinical Services," in Access to Preventive Clinical Services for People With Disabilities: A Guide to Healthy Persons 2000, Silver Spring MD. American Association of University Affiliated Programs. 1996.

41. Kastner T. "Consumer Behavior in the Health Care Marketplace." Journal of the American Medical Association. 1996;275:1083-1084.

40. Strauss D & Kastner T. "Comparative Mortality in Institutions and the Community of People With Developmental Disabilities." American Journal on Mental Retardation. 1996;101:26-40.

39. Walsh K, Kastner T, Huron R. "Further Comment on Crack Cocaine Study." Developmental And Behavioral Pediatrics. 1996,17:107-109.

38. Kastner T. "The Medical Outcomes Study." Journal of the American Medical Society. 1996:2775;1084.

37. Kastner T, Walsh K. "Are Gastric Emptying Procedures Effective in Treating Gastresophageal Reflux in Children?" Journal of The American College of Surgeons, 1995;181:383-384.

36. Criscione T, Walsh K, Kastner T. "An Evaluation of Care Coordination in Controlling Inpatient Hospital Utilization of People With Developmental Disabilities." Mental Retardation. 1995;33:364-373.

35. Kastner T, Haller K, Shenouda N, Walsh K. "Sleep-Wake Schedule Disorders?" Journal of The American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, 1995;34:1557-1558.

34. Selvaggi Fadden K & Kastner T. "Common Behavioral and Emotional Problems in Children With Developmental Disabilities." Pediatric Annals. 1995;24:1-4.

33. Philips M, O'Chesky S, Kastner T. "Defining Nurse Practitioner and Nursing Roles." Nurse Practitioner. 1995;20:10-12.

32. Kastner T, Walsh K. "Interdisciplinary Team Review of Psychotropic Drug Use in Community Settings," Mental Retardation, 1994;32;243-245.

31. Kastner T, Walsh K, Criscione T. "The Role of Tube Feeding in the Mortality of Profoundly Retarded People With Severe Mental Retardation,"Archives of Pediatric and Adolescent Medicine, 1994;148;537-538.

30. Criscione T, Kastner T, O'Brien D, Nathanson. "Replication of a Managed Health Care Initiative for People With Mental Retardation Living in the Community." Mental Retardation, 1994;32:43-52.

29. Kastner T, Walsh K, Criscione T. "Policy Issues in Health Care Reform for People With Mental Retardation," Washington D.C.. President's Committee on Mental Retardation, 1994.

28. Kastner T, Walsh K, Finesmith R. "Long-Term Administration of Valproic Acid in the Treatment of Affective Symptoms in People With Mental Retardation," Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology, 1993;13:448-451

27. Criscione T, Kastner T, Walsh K, Nathanson R. "Managed Health Care Services for People With Mental Retardation: Impact on Inpatient Parameters." Mental Retardation, 1993:31;297-306.

26. Kastner T, Nathanson R, Friedman D. "Mortality in Persons with Mental Retardation Living in the Community." American Journal on Mental Retardation, 1993;98:285-292.

25. Keenan J, Kastner T, Nathanson R, Richardson N, Hinton J, Cress D A. "A Statewide Public and Professional Education Program on Fragile X Syndrome." Mental Retardation, 1992;30:355-361.

24. Kastner T. "Does Gastrostomy and Fundoplication Prevent Aspiration Pneumonia in Mentally Retarded Persons?" American Journal on Mental Retardation, 1992;97:351-353.

23. Kastner T, Selvaggi K. "Pinworm Eradication in Community Residential Settings for People With Developmental Disabilities ." Mental Retardation, 1992; 30:237-240.

22. Kastner T, Berkner P, DeSouza T, Wight D, Waran S. "Rett Syndrome and Elevated Urinary Dolichols." J Am Acad Child Adol Psychiatry, 1992;31:567-568.

21. Friedman D, Kastner T, Plummer A, Ruiz M, Henning D. "Adverse Behavioral Effects in Individuals With Mental Retardation and Mood Disorders Treated With Carbamazepine." American Journal on Mental Retardation, 1992;96:541-546.

20. Kastner T, Friedman D, Pond,W. "Carbamazepine-Induced Hyponatremia in Patients with Mental Retardation." American Journal on Mental Retardation, 1992;96534-540.

19. Kastner T, Friedman D. "Verapamil and Valproic Acid Treatment of Prolonged Mania" J Am Acad Child Adol Psychiatry, 1992; 31:271-275.

18. Kastner T. "Who Cares For The Young Adult With Mental Retardation?" J Developmental Behavioral Pediatrics, 1991;12:196-198.

17. Kastner T, Ruiz P, Nathanson R. "Immunization Patterns of High Risk Infants with Pertussis Vaccine." J Developmental Behavioral Pediatrics, 1991;12:38-41.

16. Kastner T, Luckhardt J. "Medical Services for the Developmentally Disabled." New Jersey Medicine,1990;87:819-822.

15. Kastner T, Friedman D, Burlingham K. "Metoprolol for Control of Aggressive Behavior in Individuals with Mental Retardation." American Family Practice, 1990;42:1585-1588.

14. Kastner T, Friedman D, Plummer A, Ruiz M, Henning D. "Use of Valproic Acid in the Treatment of Children with Mental Retardation and Mood Disorders." Pediatrics,1990;86:467-472.

13. Kastner T, DeLotto P, Scagnelli B. "Proposed Guidelines for Agencies Serving Persons with Developmental Disabilities and Infection with HIV." Mental Retardation, 1990;28:138-145.

12. Marchetti A, Nathanson R, Kastner T, Owen R. "AIDS and State Developmental Disability Agencies: A National Survey." American Journal of Public Health 1990;80:54-56.

11. Friedman D, Kastner T, Pond W, O'Brien D. "Thyroid Dysfunction in Individuals with Down Syndrome." Archives of Internal Medicine 1989;149:1990-1993.

10. Kastner T, Nathanson R, Marchetti A, Pincus S. "HIV and Developmental Services for Adults." Mental Retardation 1989;27:229-232.

9. Kastner T, Hickman M, Bellehumier D. "The Provision of Services to People with Mental Retardation and Subsequent Infection with HIV." American Journal of Public Health 1989;79:491-495.

8. Kastner T, Friedman D, O'Brien D, Albrecht K. "Child Life Services and Persons with Mental Retardation.: Journal of Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics 1989: 10:198-200.

7. Kastner T, Berkner P, Skolnick L. "Chronic Ipecac Poisoning in Infancy: A Case Report." Pediatrics 1988;82(3):384-385.

6. Kastner T. "Medical Decision Making for the Mentally Impaired." New England Journal of Medicine 1988;318:1400.

5. Ziring P, Kastner T, Friedman D, Pond W, Barnett M, Sonnenberg E. "Provision of Health Care for Persons with Developmental Disabilities Living in the Community: The Morristown Model." Journal of the American Medical Association 1988;260(10):1439-1444.

4. Barnett M, Friedman D, Kastner T. "The Prevalence of Mitral Valve Prolapse in Patients with Down Syndrome: Implications for Dental Management." Oral Surgery, Oral Medicine, Oral-pathology 1988:66:445-447.

3. Kastner T, Friedman D. "Pediatric Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome and the Prevention of Mental Retardation." Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics 1988;9(1):47-48.

2. Crain E, Gerschel J, Kadar A, Kastner T. "Dose Related Effects of Nebulized Metaproterenol in Asthmatic Children." Pediatric Emergency Care 1987;3(3):143-146.

1. Kastner T. "The Twin Paradox." Colgate Journal of the Sciences, Hamilton, New York, 1975.

Abstracts:

9. Kastner T. "Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance/Robert Wood Johnson Health Network Care Management Program for People With Developmental Disabilities in New Jersey, USA." Journal of Intellectual Disability Research, 2000;44:342.

8. Burns C, Liptak G, Birenbaum A, Kastner T. "Health Care for Children With Disabilities in the New Millennium." Journal of Intellectual Disability Research, 2000;44:225.

7. Kastner T, Friedman D, Plummer A, Ruiz M, Henning D. "Valproic Acid in the Treatment of Children with Mental Retardation and Mood Symptomatology." Pediatric Digest, 1991;2:8-9

6. Szymanski L, Zeanak C, Lourie I, Kastner T, Prizant B, Feinstein O. "Mental Health Issues with Developmentally Handicapped Infants and Toddlers." Scientific Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. 1989 Vol. V, S14-A, P. 41.

5. Kastner T, Ruiz M, Hill P, Harris N, Hurd K, Blanton C, Vayianos M. "Medical and Developmental Aspects of High Risk Follow-up." Scientific Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry 1989 Vol. V, S-14E, P. 42.

4. Kastner T. "Juvenile Delinquency and Developmental Disabilities: Failure of the Multisystem Approach. Presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Association on Mental Deficiency, May 1986.

3. Kastner T, Carlson-Perez B, Brier N. "Juvenile Delinquency and Developmental Disabilities." Ambulatory Pediatric Association, May 1986.

2. Kastner T, Carlson-Perez B, Brier N. "Viability of Self-Reporting Measures in Developmentally Disabled Adolescents." American Pediatric Society, May, 1986.

1. Crain E, Gerschel J, Kadar A, Kastner T. "An Evaluation of Dosing Schedules of Metaproterenol in Ambulatory Pediatric Patients with Asthma." American Journal of Disease of Children 1986; 140 (April):320.

Invited Articles:

42. Murphy A, Steele H, Steele M, Allman B, Kastner T, Dube SR. "The Clinical Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) Questionnaire: Implications for Trauma Informed Behavioral Health Care." In Integrated Early Childhood Behavioral Health in Primary Care: A Guide to Implementation and Evaluation. Briggs R. (Ed). Springer. 2016.

41. Kastner T, Walsh K. "Medical Care for Children With Mental Retardation," Marilyn Augustyn, Barry Zuckerman, and Elizabeth Caronna (eds.) Behavioral and Developmental Pediatrics: A Handbook for Primary Care, Third Edition, Boston, MA: Little Brown and Co., 2010.

40. Walsh K, Kastner T. "The Medical Home for Persons With Developmental Disabilities." Healthy Times. The Arc of New Jersey. Winter, 2009.

39. Walsh K, Kastner T, Savage, T. "Service, Legal and Ethical Issues Pertaining to the Continuum of Needs of Adolescents With Special Health Care Needs and Disabilities." In Promoting Health Care Transitions for Adolescents With Special Health Care Needs and Developmental Disabilities. Betz, Cecily PhD, RN, FAAN, Nehring WM. RN, PhD, FAAN, FAAMR (Ed). Paul H. Brooks Publishing Co. 2007.

38. Kastner T, Johnson C, Sandler A, Lipkin P. "Placing children with special needs in congregate care vs. home care: Family-based alternatives." AAP News. 2005; 26:37-a.

37. Walsh K, and Kastner T. "Economic and Policy Issues." In Core Curriculum for Specializing in Intellectual and Developmental Disability: A Resource for Nursing and Other Health Care Professionals. Nehring W. RN, PhD, FAAN, FAAMR (Ed). Jones and Bartlett (Sudbury, MA). 2005.

36. Kastner T, Walsh K. "Medical Care for Children With Mental Retardation, " in Parker S, Zuckerman B. (ed.) Behavioral and Developmental Pediatrics: A Handbook for Primary Care, Boston, MA: Little Brown and Co. ,2003

35. Walsh K, Kastner T. "Linking Personal Outcomes with Systems Outcomes in Quality Management: Lessons for Health Care and Beyond." The Digest. The Association of Public Developmental Disabilities Administrators. Fall, 2002.

34. Editor and publisher of Exceptional Health Care, a monthly newsletter on the health care needs of people with developmental disabilities published January 1990 to June 1999.

33. Kastner T. "The American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Children With Disabilities." Exceptional Parent. September 1999.

32. Kastner T. "Update on Atypical Neuroleptics." Mainstreaming Medical Care Newsletter. New Jersey Arc: New Brunswick. 1999.

31. Kastner T, Walsh K, Drainoni ML. Case Management in Medicaid Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities: Models, Costs and Outcomes. Center for Health Care Strategies. Princeton. 1999.

30. Walsh K and Kastner T. Case Management for People With Developmental Disabilities: Challenges for the Future. New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities. Trenton, New Jersey. 1999.

29. Walsh K and Kastner T. Behavioral Networks for People With Developmental Disabilities. New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities. Trenton, New Jersey. 1999.

28. Kalachnick J, Leventhal B, James D, Sovner R, Kastner T, Walsh K, Weisblatt S, Klitze M. "Guidelines for the Use of Psychotropic Medication." in International Consensus Handbook on Psychotropic Medications and Developmental Disabilities. Nisonger Center. Columbus, Ohio. 1998.

27. Walsh K, Kastner T. Quality of Health Care for People With Developmental Disabilities: The Challenge of Managed Care. Center for Health Care Strategies. Princeton. 1997.

26. Kastner T. "Managed Care: Obstacles to Implementation." Families. 1997.

25. Kastner T. "Medicaid Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities in New Jersey." Families. 1996.

24. Kastner T. "Developmental Disabilities in Adolescence." In: Friedman S,Fischer M, Schonberg K, Alderman EM (eds.) Comprehensive Adolescent Health Care, Second Edition St. Louis, Mo: Mosby., 1996

23. Kastner T. "Primary Health Care for People With Down Syndrome: Adapting to Managed Care." Down Syndrome News. 1995.

22. Kastner T & Criscione T. "Managed Care for People With Mental Retardation and Other Developmental Disabilities." Memogram. Morristown Memorial Hospital. 1995.

21. Kastner T. "Health Care Services: Comparisons Between The Community and Institutions in New Jersey." Families. 1995.

20. Selvaggi-Fadden K, Kastner T. "Nutritional Aspects of Developmental Disabilities" in Rickert (ed) Adolescent Nutrition: Assessment and Management., Boston MA, Little Brown and Co., 1995

19. Selvaggi Fadden K & Kastner T. "Common Behavioral and Emotional Problems in Children With Developmental Disabilities." Pediatric Annals. 1995;24:1-4.

18. Kastner T. "Down Syndrome." in Barkley (ed.):Caring for Individuals With Down Syndrome and Their Families. Report of the Third Ross Roundtable on Critical Issues in Family Medicine. Columbus Ohio, Ross Products Division, Abbott Laboratories. (1995)

17. Selvaggi-Fadden K, Kastner T. "Nutritional Aspects of Developmental Disabilities" in Rickert (ed) Adolescent Nutrition: Assessment and Management., Boston MA, Little Brown and Co.,1995

16. Kastner T, Walsh K. "Medical Care for Children With Mental Retardation, " in Parker S, Zuckerman B. (ed.) Behavioral and Developmental Pediatrics: A Handbook for Primary Care, Boston, MA: Little Brown and Co. ,1995

15. Kastner T. "Prospects for Health Care Reform." Mental Retardation, 1992;30: v-viii.

14. Crocker A, Cohen H, Kastner T, eds. HIV and Developmental Disabilities: A Resource for Service Providers Baltimore, Md: Brooks Publishing Co., 1992

13. Kastner T, Nathanson R, Marchetti A. "The Epidemiology of HIV Infection in Adults With Developmental Disabilities" In: Crocker A, Cohen H, Kastner T, eds. HIV and Developmental Disabilities Baltimore, Md: Brooks Publishing Co., 1992

12. Nathanson R, Kastner T,Marchetti A. "A Review of State HIV Guidelines and Policies" In: Crocker A, Cohen H, Kastner T, eds. HIV and Developmental Disabilities Baltimore, Md: Brooks Publishing Co., 1992

11. Kastner T. "Developmental Disabilities in Adolescence." In: Friedman S,Fischer M, Schonberg K, eds. Comprehensive Adolescent Health Care St. Louis, Mo: Quality Medical Publishing Inc., 1992

Arkansas
State Claims Commission
FEB 27 2023
RECEIVED

10. Kastner T. "Specialized Services. "In: Health Care for Youth and Adults with Developmental Disabilities: Policies and Partnerships" American Association of University Affiliated Programs for Persons with Developmental Disabilities. Silver Spring Md 1992.

9. Kastner T. "Fragile X Syndrome and Sensory Integration Therapy: A Dissenting Opinion." Fragile X: In Focus 1991;1:3-4.

8. Kastner T, Nathanson R, Rudigier A, Harvey D, Grosz J, Hopkins K, Murphy A. "Human Immunodeficiency Virus and Developmental Disabilities: A Leader's Guide for a Workshop." American Association of University Affiliated Programs for Persons with Developmental Disabilities. Silver Spring, Md 1991.

7. Kastner T, Nathanson R. "Technical Report on Developmental Disabilities and HIV Infection: HIV Infection in Adults with Developmental Disabilities." American Association of University Affiliated Programs for Persons with Developmental Disabilities. Silver Spring Md. January 1990

6. Kastner T, Friedman D, O'Brien D, Pond W. "Health Care and Mental Illness in Persons with Mental Retardation." The Habilitative Mental Healthcare Newsletter. March 1990

5. Crocker A, Cohen H, Diamond G, Seibert J, Sulkes S, Levinson W, Kastner T, Rudigier A. "Guide-lines on Developmental Services for Children and Adults with HIV Infection." American Association of University Affiliated Programs for Person with Developmental Disabilities, Silver Spring MD, August 1988.

4. Kastner, T. "AIDS and Mental Retardation." News and Notes, The National Newsletter of the American Association on Mental Retardation, June 1988.

3. Kastner T. "Emergency Management of Parasitic Infections." In: Crain E, Gerschel J, eds. A Clinical Manual of Emergency Pediatrics. Norwalk , CT: Appleton-Century Crofts, 1986.

2. Kastner T. "Hand Injuries." In:Crain E, Gerschel J, eds. A Clinical Manual of Emergency Pediatrics. Norwalk, CT: Appleton-Century Crofts, 1986.

1. Kastner T. "HIV and Developmental Disabilities." AAMR New Jersey Chapter Newsletter, May 1988.

PRESENTATIONS:

182: May 2021: "Overview of NYS OPWDD." Albert Einstein College of Medicine, RFK CERC Faculty. Bronx, NY.

181: October 2018: "Introduction to Disability." Albert Einstein College of Medicine, 2nd Year Medical Students. Bronx, NY.

180: October 2018: "Transformation of RFK CERC: October 15, 2018." Bronx, New York.

179: October 2018: "Introduction to RFK CERC." Bronx, New York.

178: June 2018: "The Transition from Medicaid Service Coordination to Care Coordination Organizations." Bronx Developmental Disabilities Planning Council. Bronx, NY.

177: April 2018: "Transformation of RFK CERC: April 9, 2018." Bronx, New York.

176: January 2018: "Proposal to Create a CCO/HH." Bronx, New York.

175: October 2017: "Transformation of RFK CERC: October 16, 2017." Bronx, New York.

174: July 2017: "Health Care Reform." Roundtable at Autism Care Conference. AUCD, Bethesda Md.

173: July 2017: "Integrated Primary Care/Mental Health Services." Department of Family Medicine. Montefiore Medical Center. Bronx, New York.

172: November 2016: "Health Care Reform." Roundtable at AUCD Conference. Washington DC.

171: November 2016: "The Developmental Disabilities Health Home." AUCD, Washington DC.

170: November 2015: "The Developmental Disabilities Health Home." Keynote Presentation. Bronx DD Council. Bronx, New York.

169: November 2015: "Outcomes of the Developmental Disabilities Health Home." Association of University Centers of Excellence in Disability. Washington DC.

168: November 2015: "Integrated Primary Care/Mental Health Services for Children and Adults with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities." Barnett Lecture Keynote Presentation. Montefiore Medical Center. Bronx, New York.

167. September 2015 "Update on CERC Integration with Montefiore." Rose F, Kennedy Center Children's Evaluation and Rehabilitation Center. Bronx, NY.

166. June 2015 "An Overview of the Children's Health Home." Rose F, Kennedy Center Children's Evaluation and Rehabilitation Center. Bronx, NY.

165. April 2015 "Financing Children's Services in the New York State Developmental Disabilities System." Rose F, Kennedy Center Children's Evaluation and Rehabilitation Center. Bronx, NY.

164. January 2014 "Financing of the New York State Developmental Disabilities System." Bronx DDSO Support Coordination Training. Bronx, NY.

163. January 2014 "An Overview of the Health Home for People with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities." Bronx DDSO Support Coordination Training. Bronx, NY.

162. November 2013 "An Overview of the Financing of the New York State Developmental Disabilities System." Bronx DD Planning Council 2013 Health Conference. Bronx, NY.

161. May 2013 "An Overview of the Children's System of Care." Mainstreaming Medical Care 2013 Conference. New Brunswick, NJ.

160. May 2013 "Health Home Services for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." HealthFirst 2013 Spring Health Home Symposium. NY, NY.

159. November 2012 "The Developmental Disabilities Health Home." Bronx DD Planning Council 2012 Health Conference. Bronx, NY

158. October 2012 "Integrating Physical and Mental Health Services for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." HealthFirst 2012 Fall Symposium, Managing Long-Term Services and Supports. New Brunswick, NJ.

157. August 2012 "The Developmental Disabilities Health Home." Arkansas State Providers Association, Hot Springs Arkansas.

156. June 2012 "The Developmental Disabilities Health Home." ICNY. New York, New York

155. March 2012 "Mental Health Services for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." Arkansas State Hospital. Little Rock, Arkansas

154. March 2011 "Mental Health Services for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." Open Horizons Conference. Warren, Arkansas

153. March 2010 "Adequate Insurance to Pay for Needed Services." Community Care Consortium for Children and Youth With Special Health Care Needs Summit. Freehold, New Jersey

152. January 2010 "Financing the Medical Home," Pediatric Council on Research and Education, Trenton, New Jersey

151. June 2008 "Medical Home for Persons With Developmental Disabilities," Mainstreaming Medical Care Arc of New Jersey, Princeton, New Jersey

150. April 2007 "Diagnosis and Treatment of Children with Autism," Linden, New Jersey

149. February 2005 "Medicaid Managed Care for Persons With Developmental Disabilities" US Surgeon General's National Conference on Health Disparities, Atlanta, Georgia

148. November 2004 "Diagnosis of Psychiatric Disorders in People With Developmental Disabilities," Trinitas Hospital, SCCAT, West Windsor, New Jersey

147. June 2004 "Diagnosis of Psychiatric Disorders in People With Developmental Disabilities," Mainstreaming Medical Care Arc of New Jersey, Princeton, New Jersey

146. September 2002 "A Comprehensive Model of Care Management and Primary Care for Persons with Developmental Disabilities in Managed Care: Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc." Healthcare Financial Management Association. Woodbridge, New Jersey.

145. June 2002 "Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc: A Business Model for Managed Care for Persons with Developmental Disabilities." Center for Health Care Strategies. Denver, Colorado.

144. May 2002 "A Model of Comprehensive Primary Care in Managed Care." Mainstreaming Medical Care, Princeton, New Jersey.

143. May 2002 "Business Opportunities for Mental Health Providers in Medicaid Managed Care." New Jersey Association of Mental Health Agencies. Princeton, New Jersey.

142. April 2002 "National Medical Management Forum." Blue Cross Blue Shield Association. Chicago, Illinois.

141. April 2002 "The Child With Chronic Illness." Childrens Health Initiative. Newark, New Jersey.

140. January 2002 "Behavioral Aspects of Epilepsy in Persons With Developmental Disabilities." Exceptional Parent Conference. Woodcliff Lakes, New Jersey.

139. September 2001"Aging and Developmental Disabilities." Vineland Developmental Center, Vineland, New Jersey.

138. May 2001 "Continuing Medical Education in Developmental Disabilities." Mainstreaming Medical Care, Princeton, New Jersey.

137. December 2000 "Practice Pattern Profiling and Risk Assessment in Developmental Disabilities Community Services." State of Illinois Department of Human Services, Chicago, Illinois.

136. May 2000 "Health Care for People With Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Retardation 2000 National Conference, New Orleans.

135. September 1999 "Integration in Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities," American Academy of Cerebral Palsy and Developmental Medicine, 1999 National Conference, Washington DC.

134. May 1999 "Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Retardation 1999 National Conference, New Orleans.

133. May 1999 "Community Mental Health Services for People With Developmental Disabilities. Mainstreaming Medical Care, Princeton, New Jersey.

132. October 1998 "Health Care Outcomes for People With Developmental Disabilities," United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New York 1998 National Conference, Albany New York.

131. October 1998 "Managed Care for Persons With Developmental Disabilities," New Jersey Family Support Awareness Day. Lawrenceville, New Jersey.

130. September 1998 "Quality Management for Children With Special Health care Needs in Medicaid Managed Care," Society for Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics 1998 National Conference, Cleveland, Ohio.

129. June 1998 "Disease Management for People With Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Retardation 1998 National Conference, San Diego.

128. November 1997 "Medicaid Managed Care for Persons With Developmental Disabilities," Pediatric Grand Rounds. New York Medical College, Valhalla, New York.

127. June 1997 "Disease Management and Persons With Developmental Disabilities," Making Managed Care Work for People With Disabilities New Jersey Law Center, New Brunswick, New Jersey

126. May 1997 "Strategic Planning for Managed Care and Persons With Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Retardation 1997 National Conference, New York.

125. April 1997 "Managed Care and Persons With Developmental Disabilities," Laurie Lecture, Robert Wood Johnson School of Medicine, Piscataway, New Jersey

124. April 1997 "Measuring Quality of Care in Developmental Disabilities," Ohio Department of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities, Columbus, Ohio

123. March 1997 "Managed Care and Persons With Developmental Disabilities," Young Adult Institute 1997 National Conference, New York, New York

122. June 1996 "Managed Care and Persons With Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Retardation 1996 National Conference, San Antonio, Texas

121. June 1996 "Effects of the DRG Payment System on Hospitalization Outcomes for People With Developmental Disabilities." American Association on Mental Retardation 1996 Conference, San Antonio, Texas.

120. June 1996 "An Overview of Psychiatric Disorders in People With Developmental Disabilities," Independent Care, Milwaukee, Wisconsin

119. May 1996 "Developing Capitation Rates for People With Developmental Disabilities" Mainstreaming Medical Care, Princeton, New Jersey

118. May 1996 "An Overview of New Jersey's Managed Care Program for People With Developmental Disabilities" Mainstreaming Medical Care, Princeton, New Jersey

117. April 1996 "An Overview of Psychiatric Disorders in People With Developmental Disabilities," New Jersey AAME, Princeton, New Jersey

116. February 1996 "An Overview of Treatments in Autism," Morris/Union Jointure Commission

115. June 1995 "Health Care Reform and Persons With Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Retardation 1995 National Conference, San Francisco, California.

114. June 1995 "Quality of Life Outcomes for People With Mental Retardation and Epilepsy Treated With Felbatol," American Association on Mental Retardation 1995 National Conference, San Francisco, California.

113. June 1995 "An Overview of Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities," Association Court Monitors and Special Masters, San Francisco, California.

112. May 1995 "Health Care Reform" Mainstreaming Medical Care, Princeton, New Jersey

111. May 1994 "The President's Committee on Mental Retardation: Health Care Reform Proposals" American Association on Mental Retardation, Boston, MA

110. May 1994 "Health Care Reform Proposals" Mainstreaming Medical Care, New Brunswick, New Jersey

109. April 1994 "Health Care Reform", President's Committee on Mental Retardation, Alexandria Virginia

108. April 1994 "Shared Responsibilities: Mental Illness and Developmental Disabilities", Morristown Memorial Hospital, Morristown, New Jersey

107. March 1994 "Standards of Care in Developmental Disabilities", Children's Evaluation and Rehabilitation Center, Bronx, NY

106. February 1994 "Primary Care for People with Down Syndrome Across the Lifespan", Hunterdon Developmental Center, Clinton, New Jersey

105. December 1993 "Managed Care for People With Developmental Disabilities," New Jersey Division of Developmental Disabilities, Budd Lake, NJ

104. December 1993 "Health Care Reform and Persons With Developmental Disabilities", National Association of Superintendents of Facilities for Persons With Mental Retardation, 1993 National Conference, Washington, D.C.

103. November 1993 "Standards of Care in Developmental Disabilities", National Physician's Conference on Developmental Disabilities Medicine, New Orleans, LA

102. November 1993 "What's New in Developmental Disabilities Medicine: The 10 Best Articles of 1991", National Physician's Conference on Developmental Disabilities Medicine, New Orleans, LA

101. November 1993 "The Relationship Between Epilepsy and Mental Illness", Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey, Somerset, New Jersey

100. October 1993 "The Impact of Managed Care on Inpatient Utilization by Persons With Developmental Disabilities", American Association of University Affiliated Programs National Conference, Bethesda, Maryland

99. June 1993 "Health Care Reform and Persons With Developmental Disabilities", American Association on Mental Retardation 1993 National Conference, Washington, D.C.

98. June 1993 "Mortality and Advanced Directives for People With Developmental Disabilities", American Association on Mental Retardation 1993 National Conference, Washington, D.C.

97. November 1992 "Medical and Psychiatric Management for People With Developmental Disabilities", New Jersey Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics, Jamesburg, New Jersey

96. October 1992 "AIDS and Developmental Disabilities: Where Are We Now? Were Should We Go?" National Physician's Conference on Developmental Disabilities Medicine New Orleans, LA

95. October 1992 "What's New in Developmental Disabilities Medicine: The 10 Best Articles of 1991", National Physician's Conference on Developmental Disabilities Medicine New Orleans, LA

94. July 1992 "HIV and Developmental Disabilities: An Overview", New Jersey Association of Community Residential Providers, Trenton, New Jersey

93. June 1992 " Infectious Disease Concerns", Warren Day Training, Washington Township New Jersey

92. May 1992 "An Introduction to Managed Care for Persons With Developmental Disabilities", American Association on Mental Retardation 1992 National Conference, New Orleans, LA.

91. May 1992 "Transdisciplinary Evaluation of Behavioral Symptoms in People With Developmental Disabilities", American Association on Mental Retardation 1992 National Conference, New Orleans, LA.

90. May 1992 "Health Care Services for Children and Adults With Developmental Disabilities: The Morristown Model", American Association on Mental Retardation 1992 National Conference, New Orleans, LA.

89. May 1992 "AIDS: The Facts", American Association on Mental Retardation 1992 National Conference, New Orleans, LA.

88. March 1992 "AIDS: Myths and Reality", Tri-State Camping Conference, E. Brunswick, New Jersey

87. March 1992 "Ethical Concerns in Caring for People With Special Needs", University of Iowa, Iowa Hospital School, Iowa City, Iowa

86. February 1992 "Ethical Concerns in Caring for People With Special Needs", Phoenix Association for Retarded Citizens, Phoenix, AZ.

76-85. "Primary Care for People with Down Syndrome Across the Lifespan", A 12/1991 - 5/1992 series of lectures at 10 New Jersey Family Practice Residency Training Programs. Sponsored by the NJ Association for Retarded Citizens and the New Jersey Academy of Medicine.

75. November 1991 "HIV and Adults With Developmental Disabilities", American Association on Mental Retardation Training Institute on HIV and Developmental Disabilities, Philadelphia, PA

74. November 1991 "Recent Advances in Medication Use", Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey, Middlesex, New Jersey

73. October 1991 "Transdisciplinary Evaluation of People With Developmental Disabilities and Behavioral Complaints", American Association of University Based Programs, Austin, Texas

72. October 1991 "A Statewide Public and Professional Education Program on Fragile X Syndrome", American Association of University Based Programs, Austin, Texas

71. October 1991 "HIV and Developmental Disabilities", N.J. Association for Retarded Citizens, New Brunswick, N.J.

70. October 1991 "Epilepsy, Mood Disorders and Anticonvulsant Medication", Region IX, American Association on Mental Retardation, Princeton, New Jersey

69. October 1991 "An Overview of Managed Care", Region IX, American Association on Mental Retardation, Princeton, New Jersey

68. August 1991 "HIV and Developmental Disabilities: A National Teleconference", In Collaboration With the ARC of the United States

67. June 1991 "Update on Immunizations" St. Joseph School for the Blind, Jersey City

66. May 1991 "Infectious Disease Concems for Community Health Care Providers", American Association on Mental Retardation 1991 National Conference, Washington D.C.

65. May 1991 "Valproate Therapy for People With Developmental Disabilities and Mood Symptoms", 1991 American Association on Mental Retardation National Conference, Washington D.C.

64. April 1991 "Epilepsy, Mood Disorders, and Anticonvulsant Medication", Association for Retarded Citizens, New Brunswick, New Jersey

63. April 1991 "People With Developmental Disabilities and Mental Illness", Community Health Law Project Lecture Series, New Brunswick, New Jersey

62. March 1991 "Adults With Developmental Disabilities and HIV Infection", Third National HIV Infection and Developmental Disabilities Conference, Alexandria Virginia

61. March 1991 "Specialized Services", Health Care for Youth and Adults with Developmental Disabilities: Policies and Partnerships, Rockville Maryland

60. January 1991 "Down Syndrome and The Primary Care Physician", Family Practice Grand Rounds,UMDNJ-RWJ, New Brunswick, NJ

50-59. "Health Care Problems of People With Developmental Disabilities - 12/1990 - 5/1991 Epilepsy, Mood Disorders, and Anticonvulsant Medication", A series of lectures at 10 New Jersey Family Practice Residency Training Programs. Sponsored by the NJ Association for Retarded Citizens and the New Jersey Academy of Medicine.

49. November 1990 "An Overview of HIV and Developmental Disabilities", United States Association for Retarded Citizens 40th Annual Conference, Tampa Florida

48. November 1990 "Agency Preparedness in Serving People With HIV and Developmental Disabilities", United States Association for Retarded Citizens 40th Annual Conference, Tampa Florida

47. October 1990 "A Comparison of National Surveys on HIV and Developmental Disabilities 1987 vs. 1990", American Association of University Based Programs, Madison Wisconsin

46. October 1990 "The Morristown Model: A Managed Health Care Inititative For Adults With Developmental Disabilties", American Association of University Based Programs, Madison Wisconsin

45. October 1990 "Epilepsy, Mood Disorders, And Anticonvulsant Medication", N.J. Association for Retarded Citizens, New Brunswick, N.J.

44. October 1990 "HIV and Developmental Disabilities", Region IX, American Association on Mental Retardation, Wilmington, Delaware

43. October 1990 "The Ethical Function Of The Interdisciplinary Team", Region IX, American Association on Mental Retardation, Wilmington, Delaware

42. October 1990 "Obsessive Compulsive Disorder in People With Developmental Disabilities", Region IX, American Association on Mental Retardation, Wilmington, Delaware

41. September 1990 "Principles of Health Care For People With Developmental Disabilities" NJ Chapter, American Association on Mental Retardation, Piscataway, N.J.

40. June 1990 "The Relationship Between Mood Disorders And Epilepsy" Children's Evaluation And Rehabilitation Center, Bronx, N.Y

39. June 1990 "Perinatal Causes of Developmental Disabilities" The New Jersey Coalition for the Prevention Of Developmental Disabilities, Morris, N.J.

38. May 1990 "A National Survey of Developmental Disabilities and HIV: Policy and Epidemiology" American Association on Mental Retardation 1990 National Conference, Atlanta, Georgia

37. May 1990 "Exceptional Health Care: Health Care Abstracts for Physicians Serving People With Developmental Disabilities" American Association on Mental Retardation 1990 National Conference, Atlanta, Georgia

36. May 1990 "Valproate Therapy of People With Mood Symptoms And Developmental Disabilities" American Association on Mental Retardation 1990 National Conference, Atlanta, Georgia

35. May 1990 "Three Models of Health Care Delivery: The Morristown Model" New Jersey A.R.C. Mainstreaming Medical Care Conference, New Brunswick, N.J.

34. May 1990 "The Relationship Between Undiagnosed Medical Disorders and Behavioral Outbursts." New Jersey A.R.C. Mainstreaming Medical Care Conference, New Brunswick, N.J.

33. April 1990 "Psychopharmacologic Treatment of Psychiatric Illness in People With Developmental Disabilities" Hunterdon Developmental Center, Clinton N.J.

32. January 1990 "Recent Advances in Down Syndrome" Grand Rounds, Pediatric Department, Morristown Memorial Hospital, Morristown, N.J.

31. January 1990 "Psychopharmacologic Treatment of Psychiatric Illness in People With Developmental Disabilities" Woodbine Developmental Center, Woodbine N.J

30. November 1989 "HIV and Adults with Developmental Disabilities," A National Conference on Developmental Disabilities and HIV: Accessing the System, Bethesda, MD.

29. October 1989 "Mortality in Community Settings," AAMR Region IX Conference Williamsburg, VA

28. October 1989 "Planning Services for Persons with HIV and Developmental Disabilities," NJ ARC Annual Conference. Princeton, NJ.

27. October 1989 "Mental Health Issues with Developmentally Handicapped Infants and Toddlers: Medical Issues," Thirty-sixth Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. New York, NY.

26. September 1989 "Planning Services for Persons with HIV and Developmental Disabilities," Maryland AAMR Annual conference. Timonium, MD.

25. September 1989 "Mental Illness and Mental Retardation," NJ AAMR Annual Conference. Piscataway, NJ.

24. September 1989 "HIV and Developmental Disabilities: A New Jersey Perspective," NJ ARC Annual Leadership Conference. Princeton NJ.

23. June 1989 "Adults with Developmental Disabilities and HIV," at Children, AIDS and Developmental Disabilities: Challenge for the 1990's, sponsored by the Rose F. Kennedy Center of Albert Einstein College of Medicine, New York, NY.

22. June 1989 "AIDS and Institutions for Persons with Developmental Disabilities and Mental Illness," Twelfth Annual Conference of the National Association of Protection and Advocacy Systems, Bethesda, MD.

21. June 1989 "Pediatric AIDS: Legal and Service Issues," Twelfth Annual Conference of the National Association of Protection and Advocacy Systems, Bethesda, MD.

20. May 1989 "HIV and Developmental Services," American Association of Mental Retardation, 1989 National Conference, Chicago IL.

19. May 1989 "Mortality in Persons with Mental Retardation Living in the Community," American Association on Mental Retardation, 1989 National Conference, Chicago, IL.

18. May 1989 "Immunization of High Risk Infants with Pertussis Vaccine," American Association on Mental Retardation, 1989 National Conference, Chicago, IL.

17. May 1989 "Health Care Coordination and Its Effects on Inpatient Parameters for Persons with Mental Retardation," American Association on Mental Retardation, 1989 National Conference, Chicago, IL.

16. November 1988 "HIV and Developmental Services for Adults," First National HIV and Developmental Disabilities Conference, Administration on Developmental Disabilities, Bethesda, MD.

15. September 1988 "AIDS and Developmental Disabilities: Guidelines for Service Agencies," Association for the Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped, 1988 Board Meeting, Elizabeth, NJ.

14. July 1988 "AIDS and Developmental Disabilities: Issues for Service Providers," New Jersey Association of Community Residential Providers. Trenton, NJ.

13. May 1988 "Impact of AIDS on Mental Retardation/Developmental Disabilities Services," American Association on Mental Retardation 1988 National Conference, Washington, DC.

12. May 1988 "Ethical Considerations in Medical Decision Making: AIDS and Persons with Mental Retardation," American Association on Mental Retardation 1988 National Conference, Washington DC.

11. May 1988 "Bioethical Frontiers in Mental Retardation: The Impact of the AIDS Epidemic on Persons with Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Retardation 1988 National Conference, Washington DC.

10. May 1988 "Models for Community Based Services to Persons with Developmental Disabilities and Mental Illness," American Association on Mental Retardation 1988 National Conference, Washington DC.

9. October 1987 "AIDS and Developmental Disabilities," American Association on Mental Deficiency, 1987 Region IX Annual Meeting. Martinsville, WV.

8. September 1987 "Communicable Diseases," United Cerebral Palsy Staff Training Institute. New York, NY

7. June 1987 "A System for the Provision of Comprehensive Health Care for Persons with Developmental Disabilities Living in the Community," Rose F. Kennedy Center Annual Alumni Meeting. Bronx, NY.

6. May 1987 "Managing Clients with Mental Retardation and AIDS: Medical Aspects," American Association on Mental Deficiency 1987 Annual Meeting. Los Angeles, CA.

5. April 1987 "Delivering Coordinated and Comprehensive Health Care Services to Children and Adults with Mental Retardation," Young Adult Institute 8th Annual National Conference. New York, NY.

4. April 1987 "Implications of Public Law 99-457," Keynote Speech, Tri-County Resource Symposium. Morristown, NJ.

3. November 1985 "The Relationship Between Learning Disabilities and Juvenile Delinquency," Straight Talk, WOR-TV.

2. October 1985 "Developmental Disabilities and Juvenile Delinquency," Third Annual Juvenile Health Care Conference, American Correctional Health Services Association. New York, NY.

1. September 1985 "Spina Bifida," Ithaca College School of Physical Therapy.

DHS EXHIBIT 2-A:

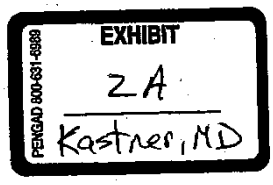
Expert Report in the Matter of

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special
Administrator of the ESTATE OF
DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT
V CLAIM NO. 220374
THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

Prepared by

Theodore Kastner MD, MS

January 5, 2023



Professional Background:

I began work in the field of Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (IDD) in 1976 when I was employed as a direct service professional (DSP) by the Massachusetts Association for the Blind. I graduated from Colgate University in 1977 and from the University of Connecticut School of Medicine in 1981. I completed my residency in Pediatrics in 1984 at the Jacobi Hospital. I completed my training in the care of children and adults with developmental disabilities and handicapping conditions at the Rose F. Kennedy Center of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in 1986. In addition, in 1997 I received a Master of Science in population health from the University of Wisconsin.

I am triple-boarded in Pediatrics, Developmental Behavioral Pediatrics and Neurodevelopmental Disabilities. I also hold Board Certification from the American Board of Medical Management. Until 2019, I held an appointment at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine where I was Professor of Pediatrics and Professor of Psychiatry. I also held the Ruth L. Gottesman Chair in Developmental Medicine. My primary responsibilities involved my role as Co-Director of the Rose F. Kennedy Center at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine where he was the Principal Investigator on four federally-funded training programs and half a dozen state and local contracts.

In 2019 I left academia to serve as the Commissioner NYS Office for Persons With Developmental Disabilities where I lead an organization with a budget of $10B and 19,000 employees serving 140,000 individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD). I led the NYS response to COVID-19 in support of persons with I/DD.

I am a leading authority on the health care concerns of people with I/DD. For more than 25 years I served as the President of Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc.

(DDHA), at one time the largest provider of health care services to persons with I/DD in New Jersey. DDHA is nationally recognized for its health care programs for persons with I/DD having received an award a CMS Health Care Innovations Challenge Award. We served approximately 4,000 people with IDD at 9 locations across New Jersey and New York City.

I have been a member of many professional groups in the field of developmental disabilities including the National Board of Directors of the American Association on Mental Retardation (AAMR), the New Jersey State Interagency Coordinating Council (SICC), and the NJ Department of Human Services Medicaid Managed Care Task Force. I have been a recipient of more than a dozen awards and honors including the Health Care Professional of the Year Award by the New Jersey Association for Retarded Citizens (now The Arc) and the Elizabeth M. Boggs Citizenship Award from the United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New Jersey.

I have presented at over 200 conferences and training workshops and authored more than 100 publications in the field, of which approximately 70 were peer-reviewed. I have served as a consultant to the US Department of Justice, The Province of Ontario, and dozens of States in regard to various matters related to IDD including the operation of more than 50 ICF IDDs. I have consulted in general and medical malpractice matters. I have consulted to private corporations and foundations.

I have been admitted as an expert witness in approximately 10 Federal District Courts. I have been qualified as an expert witness in dozens of cases and testified in regard to all matters related to the IDD field including: the clinical management of health, behavioral and psychiatric conditions; organizational management and compliance; cause of death, life expectancy, and economic damages: standards of care including federal, state and professional standards; and other topics.

I have been retained by the State of Arkansas Department of Human Services to serve as an expert witness in the above-referenced matter. I will testify about the applicable standards of care, the medical management of Mr. Cains, the behavioral management of Mr. Cains, the timelines and other facts related to his demise, the cause of death, life expectancy, damages and whatever other topics are relevant to the matter. I will base my opinions upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty.

Document Review:

The following materials were reviewed:

2015 Psychology Report 001
2016 Psychology Report 001
2017 Psychology Report 001
2018 Psychology Report 001
2018_IPP_001
2019_IPP_001
2017 - 2019 Physician's Orders_001
AmyJones_PDFTran (8)
BHDC Maltreatment Report 5-2020 (BHDC IRIS 87707)
BHDC Policy I-D-2_001
Cains David Behavior Reports for PA VA 04062007-05292020
CainsDavid Psychological Evaluation 05282020
CainsDavidIPP 07182019
Claimant's_3rd_Suppl_Responses_to_Discovery_001 (2)
Claim-Ex1-DRA-2015report
Claim-Ex2-DRA-Jan2016report
Claim-Ex3-DRA-Oct2020letter
EMS Report_001
Hamid (2)
I-D-4 2018 Policy
Medical_Clearance_Restraint_Use_001
NCI-training-instructor-guidance-resource
Physician's Orders 6-2020_001
Ryann_Campos_5-12-22 (2)
Samuel_Scow_5-5-22 (2)
Social History
State Operations Manual Appendix J - Guidance to Surveyors: Intermediate Care Facilities for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities
Tyler_Mattson_Depo_001 (Compressed)

Standard for Opinions:

Throughout this report I will use the standard, "based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty," to express my opinions. This report does not contain every opinion which I may offer during testimony. I reserve the right to amend this report and my opinions based upon any information that I subsequently acquire or any other issue.

Background and History

[redacted]

According to the Social History:

> In 1991 at the age of fourteen, David was standing and looking out the door and witnessed someone come out of the bushes and shoot and kill his father. Understandably, David began to have problems after this and subsequently his mother sought assistance through Friendship Services, Inc. in Russellville as she was unable to handle him alone.

Further,

[redacted]

[redacted]

Mr. Cains' guardian, his mother Charlene Robinson, had been very pleased with the care provided at BHDC. Ms. Robinson was offered the option of community services and continued to want HDC placement for David. She was opposed to Community Placement.

[redacted]

[redacted]

Mr. Cains had a Behavior Treatment Program which targeted Noncompliance and Physical Aggression. He was extremely difficult to manage from a behavioral perspective. Between 4/6/2007 and 5/29/2020, Mr. Cains engaged in 187 aggressive incidents, usually in the form of aggressive behavior towards staff. Staff were well aware of this risk and generally took precautions to protect themselves, Mr. Cains and other individuals. Staff responded to these 187 incidents with personal or mechanical restraints in 120 instances. This included Mr. Cains being restrained on a Papoose Board on 77 occasions or being placed in personal holds on 43 occasions. In 67 instances staff were able to use procedures other than restraint including counseling, redirection, graduated guidance or other techniques. There was one episode of vomiting associated with use of personal holds on 5/11/2012.

[redacted]

On June 13, 2020, Mr. Cains experience some type of GI distress and was taken to the rest room. Upon exiting the rest room Mr. Cains became agitated and aggressive. After pulling papers off of the wall, he turned his attention to his staff, Tyler Mattson. He charged Mr. Mattson, attacking him with his hands.

O. And then you said he --- he came after you?
A. Yes. He charged me.
O. Charged you.
A. Yes
O. Okay. Does --- describe that for me as best you
A. He just went to grab me. I mean
O. How far away from him were you?
A. Maybe from here to that pole. Maybe a little bit shorter.
O. This pole?
A. Yeah, about there. Maybe to the chair.
O. My chair?
A. Between there.
O. Okay.
A. Yeah.
O. So about 6, 7 feet?
A. Maybe.
O. Okay. And when you say "charge, " was he running at you?
A. Lunging, running. Yeah, just --- he went after me. He didn't really have room to necessarily run.
(Mattson Deposition, Pages 101-103)

Mr. Cains' large mass and speed combined to led both Mr. Cains and Mr. Mattson to fall to the floor.

O. How did he fall? What caused him --
A. We
O. to fall?
A. We just kind of tripped up on each other. It was all one big motion, like I had said.
O. Okay. And why did you not attempt to do the blocking technique where you block and kind of get out of his way?
A. I wouldn't have had room. I was against a ledge.
O. You were against a ledge?
A. Yes.
O. Why would a ledge prevent you from being able to do like this?
A. Because I would have fell over be- if he had put enough momentum into me.

O. Okay. So you guys fall- over.
(Mattson Deposition, Pages 105)

At that time, Mr. Mattson, consistent with BDSC policy, employed personal holds to address "dangerous behavior" in an "emergency situation." A short-time later he was assisted by two staff. Mr. Cains was lying on his side while staff held his wrists and legs to prevent injury to themselves, Mr. Cains or other individuals.

The exact timelines of what occurred are not known since there was no clock in the location where Mr. Cains fell. According to Disability Rights Arkansas, "All times are estimates as there are not any clocks visible in the area..." (DRA October 2020 Page 2)

Findings and Expert Opinions

The following is a list of the opinions offered in this report. As noted, the opinions in this report are not considered exhaustive and I reserve the right to amend this report and my opinions based upon any information that I subsequently acquire.

1. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains [redacted] 11)

2. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains is entirely responsible for th[redacted] Page 11)

3. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13 at approximately 11:30AM was [redacted] (Page 14)

4. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13, 2020 at approximately 11:30AM was not the use of restraints in [redacted] because there is no reasonable theory to support the claim that the use of restraints could lead to vomiting in general. (Page 15)

5. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13, 2020 at approximately 11:30AM was not the use of restraints in [redacted] ecause there is insufficient empirical evidence to support the claim that the use of restraints, [redacted] led to Mr. Cains vomiting on June 13, 2020. (Page 18)

6. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13, 2020 at approximately 11:30AM was [redacted]

7a. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Mattson and other BHDC staff met and/or exceeded the standard of care for a Residential Care Technician (RCT) staff when they applied personal holds to Mr. Cains. (Page 22)

7b. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Mattson and other BHDC staff complied with all applicable BHDC policies and procedures when engaged in applying personal holds to Mr. Cains. (Page 22)

8. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, inconsistencies in the recording of the timing of the events was so frequent that all time notations, with the exception of when EMS was notified and the team dispatched, should be considered approximate. (Page 28)

9. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, BHDC staff met the standard of care for providing emergency medical services to Mr. Cains. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, there were no unreasonable delays in calling 911. (Page 33)

10. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, BHDC medical staff could [redacted] (Page 35)

11. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains would have died even if BHDC contacted EMS at the moment when Mr. Cains was noted to have stopped breathing. Any alleged delay in contacting EMS, even a delay associated with staff performing their assessment, was inconsequential. (Page 36)

12a. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, at all times, the BHDC operated within the standard of care for a publicly-funded ICF IDD. (Page 39)

12b Further, based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, at all times, the staff of BHDC provided care consistent with the standard of care for their training and scope of practice. (Page 39)

13. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains was positioned appropriately – on his side when he was vomiting and, later, on his back when he needed CPR. (Page 45)

14. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains death was not accompanied by severe pain. (Page 50)

15. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains had a life expectancy of only 6 more years. (Page 51)

Findings and Expert Opinions

1. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cain [redacted]

2. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains is entirely responsible for the fact that [redacted]

As the events were described by Mr. Mattson, it was Mr. Cain who initiated the process which led to both Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains to fall onto the floor. Mr. Cains lunged and charged at Mr. Mattson. Given Mr. Cains' size, this assault caused Mr. Mattson to fall backward and Mr. Cains to land on top of or adjacent to him.

Mr. Mattson, the only eyewitness, describes the events as follows:

> O. Okay. What's he doing as he's sitting there?
> A. Just sitting. He was just sitting look- staring out.
> O. All right. And then what happens?
> A. He grabs a paper and goes after me.
> O. Where does he grab paper from?
> A. There was a flyer on the wall.
> O. Does he stand up to grab it?
> A. He grabbed it and then went after me. He was sitting down and then went after me to attack me.
> O. What --- what kind of paper was it? Just---
> A. It was just it was just a printout paper, just a flyer.
> O. What did he do with it after grabs it?
> A. He was throwing it and then went after me. He threw it down and then went after me.
> O. He threw it down and then went after you. Did he say anything?
> A. No. He just screamed "bitch."
> O. He screamed "bitch"?
> A. Yes. That I recall.
> O. Anything else that you recall him saying?
> A. No.
> O. And then you said he --- he came after you?

A. Yes. He charged me.
O. Charged you.
A. Yes
O. Okay. Does --- describe that for me as best you
A. He just went to grab me. I mean
O. How far away from him were you?
A. Maybe from here to that pole. Maybe a little bit shorter.
O. This pole?
A. Yeah, about there. Maybe to the chair.
O. My chair?
A. Between there.
O. Okay.
A. Yeah.
O. So about 6, 7 feet?
A. Maybe.
O. Okay. And when you say "charge, " was he running at you?
A. Lunging, running. Yeah, just --- he went after me. He didn't really have room to necessarily run.
O. Can you --- do you mind standing up and showing me?
A. I -- as best as I can. Like, he just --- it was like just a classic --- like, he went to grab at me.
O. Okay. Went to grab at you?
A. Yes.
O. So not swing at you but grab at you?
A. Grab at me.
But, like he had --- like --- like I said, that distressed face.
O. Okay.
A. Like he was agitated and --- yeah.
O. All right. And --- okay. And then what --- what did you do?
A. I tried to hold him and we kind of just fell.
O. How did you try to hold him? Stand up and show us, please.
A. Like, I was --- like, I just kind of grabbed him by the shoulders the best as I could, you know, with him -- momentum --
O. Yeah.
A. and we just kind of stumbled over, you know.
O. Okay. So he's coming at you arms raised like this?
A. It --- yeah.
O. Like this?

A. Outwards, yeah.
And I just kind of grabbed, like, here and here. I didn't, like, grab by the wrist. You know, but, like we kind of just awkwardly fell.
O. Did he get a --- did he get a grip around you?
A No, he didn't get a grip around me.
O. Okay. Sorry.
A. No, that's all right.
O. This won't take long.
So he's coming at you. Show me and slowly so --- so I can really see it: What --- what do --- show me what you do as he's coming at he's lunging at you.
What do you do? What do your hands do? Where do they go?
A. I'm just like --- biceps, like, arms.
O. Okay. So you would have your --- your right hand on his left bicep and your left hand on his right bicep?
A. Yeah.
O. Pretty much?
A. Pretty much, yeah.
O. Okay. And --- and do you stay there locked like ---
A. No.
Like we tripped. Like --- like, we lust kind of fumbled around. Because it was, like, all in one biq momentum, you know.
O. Uh-huh. And you fall to the ground, and he hits his face on the ground?
A. No, he didn't hit his face on the ground.
It wasn't a fast f all. It was a controlled fall as much as I could control it. (Mattson Deposition Pages 100-103)

Mr. Mattson's description indicates that he attempted appropriate blocking technique (engaging the inside of the arms at the biceps) but was unable to prevent the fall as he was moving backwards. Mr. Cains landed with his front side towards the ground, indicating that it was Mr. Cains' momentum which carried them to the ground.

In reviewing his Written Statement, Mr. Mattson offered the same description:
O. And it says I -- and it says that you "Applied personals by grabbing his arms. He ended up falling over. I did not land on him. "
So that's a little different than what you're describing now. What you're kind of describing now is that he lunged at you, and you grabbed him by the biceps; and then the force caused you guys to tumble over.

That's what you're describing now, but that's different. than what you wrote here. So how -- I mean, how can you .?
A. He fell and I just kind of went with him, as far as I can recall.
O. How did he fall? What caused him --
A. We
O. to fall?
A. We just kind of tripped up on each other. It was all one big motion, like I had said.
O. Okay. And why did you not attempt to do the blocking technique where you block and kind of get out of his way?
A. I wouldn't have had room. I was against a ledge.
O. You were against a ledge?
A. Yes.
O. Why would a ledge prevent you from being able to do like this?
A. Because I would have fell over be- if he had put enough momentum into me. (Mattson Deposition, Pages 104-105)

Mr. Cains was fully responsible for aggressively moving toward Mr. Mattson and causing them both to land on the ground, an outcome which was contraindicated by the [redacted] here is no evidence that Mr. Mattson initiated any action which would have led to a fall to the ground. The responsibility for violating the medical order to remain upright after his meal rests entirely on Mr. Cains.

3. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13 at approximately 11:30AM was [redacted]
Nowhere in the medical record, including the IPP and Nutritional Evaluation, is there any evidence that Mr. Cains was reported to have vomiting [redacted]
Therefore, it seems unlikely that the only time that vomiting, [redacted] would occur would be during the use of restraints on June 13, 2020.
Dr. Brown-Forestiere agreed with this opinion when she opined that the additional risk of [redacted]

According to Dr. Brown-Forestiere, Mr. Cains was only [redacted] Therefore, Dr. Brown-Forestiere's testimony suggests that the primary reason for Mr. Cains vomiting on June 13, 2020 was the use of restraints.

4. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13, 2020 at approximately 11:30AM was not the use of restraints in [redacted] because there is no reasonable theory to support the claim that the use of restraints could lead to vomiting in general.

Dr. Brown-Forestiere offered a theory to support her allegation that restraint use caused Mr. Cains to vomit when he was restrained on June 13, 2020. As Dr. Brown-Forestiere explained it, with Mr. Cains in the prone position, pressure on the chest and abdomen would force stomach contents into the esophagus in the form of vomiting. This pressure would occur as a result of muscular contraction associated with a fight or flight reaction and from external pressure applied to the abdomen/chest. As she described it:

> Okay.
> And, Dr. Brown, are you also able to say within a reasonable degree of medical certainty what caused Mr. Cains to vomit?
> A Yeah. I -- I think that I can. So there's a lot of physics to this. I'll try -- I'll do my best to make it in easy to understand terms.
> So, when someone is struggling in this scenario that's been described by all the participants, someone who is struggling has what's called a fight or flight response, meaning they're -- have adrenaline surges and they are fight -- essentially fighting for their life.
> Their muscles constrict to fend off what they feel is an attack. They -- so their muscles constrict, their breathing increases, (interference) set of physiological (interference) leads to increased (interference) pressure which is the pressure in your chest.
> And it also constricts the abdomen which increases the intra-abdominal pressure. Both of these are cavities in the body where the stomach is.
> The inferior or superior aspect on top of the stomach is the diaphragm in the chest above that, and just below it, the abdomen. And increased pressure on both of these does place increased pressure on the stomach and from the sides.
> Obviously, there's a definitive end to the body and how far it can stretch. And also his left side being on the floor is another definitive mechanical block as to where it can expand.
> So, if you think of the stomach as a cube, it's having pressure from all different angles for -- because of the struggle and the position and the increased pressures. And it caused him to vomit.

Additionally, [redacted] made him a little more at risk than normal for being under pressure for causing vomiting.
[redacted]
So the struggle with being restrained on the floor definitely led to him fighting that. And there's pressure coming from multiple different reasons, regions, and it caused vomiting.
Q Okay. So if I'm hearing you correctly, Dr. Brown, and in my very nonmedical layman's terms, intense struggle that produces a fight or flight reflex and adrenaline can, is itself, increases the likelihood of triggering vomiting; is that correct?
A In this scenario, it would, yes, due to gravity.
Q And being on his left side increased the likelihood that the pressure, intrathoracic pressure and gravity, would --
A Yeah.
Q -- trigger vomiting?
A Yeah. Unfortunately, the stomach -- and the stomach's on the left. So it means everything in the body and all the pressures above him were pressing down onto the stomach; which was butting up against the ground, essentially.
Q Okay.
And the fact that he had -- if I'm hearing you correctly, [redacted] that also increased the likelihood that he would vomit?
A Correct.

(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Pages 12-15)

Dr. Brown's theory relies upon several claims for which supporting facts do not exist.

First, Dr. Brown-Forestiere claimed that Mr. Cains experienced a "fight or flight reaction" because he believed that he was "essentially fighting for (their) life" when he was placed in restraints.

> Q And so what -- how do you know or do you -- did you form an opinion on the intensity of this, quote/unquote, struggle, unquote?
> A I mean, form an opinion, I don't know if it's a direct opinion or just a typical instinctual reaction. Your body instinctually fights as hard as it possibly can to survive when it feels that it may be dying. Regardless of your mental state, your body fights, so --
> Q Are you --
> A -- I would assume that it would be a very intense struggle, given your death being the alternative.
> (Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 66)

However, there is no reason to suggest that Mr. Cains would have thought that he would die as a result of being restrained. Mr. Cains had been restrained approximately 120 times during a 13-year period and had learned that if he was able to calm himself, he would be released from restraints. Indeed, in every one of the 120 instances when restraints were previously used, he was removed from restraints without harm. Mr. Cains had no reason to fear that anything different would occur on June 13, 2020.

Second, Dr. Brown-Forestiere later admitted that she did not know when during the course of a restraint, Mr. Cains would have experienced such a fight or flight reaction or whether he would have experienced such a reaction at all:

> Well, I mean, so when the -- when the restraint started, there was a behavioral episode. Was he fighting for his life then?
> A What he thought was a fight for his life and when it came down to that, I can't say.
> (Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 75-76)

The "fight or flight" reaction, if it occurred at all, could have occurred after the restraint were removed.

Third, Dr. Brown-Forestiere alleged that:

> "pressures above him were pressing down onto the stomach; which was butting up against the ground, essentially."

However, staff statements indicate that they exerted no pressure on the abdomen or chest during the period of restraint prior to the onset of vomiting. They restrained his arms and legs. They did not employ holds that put pressure on the body. Dr. Brown-Forestiere later admitted to this fact during her testimony:

> Q And so they were just -- if they were holding his arms and his feet, what -- is it your opinion that somebody was on top of him?
> A I -- no. I didn't say that either.
> Q So he wasn't pinned to the floor --
> A I believe that --
> Q -- (inaudible)?
> A -- Tyler had his hand on his waist holding him on the ground. He said he was holding him there but did not place his weight on him.
> (Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 77)

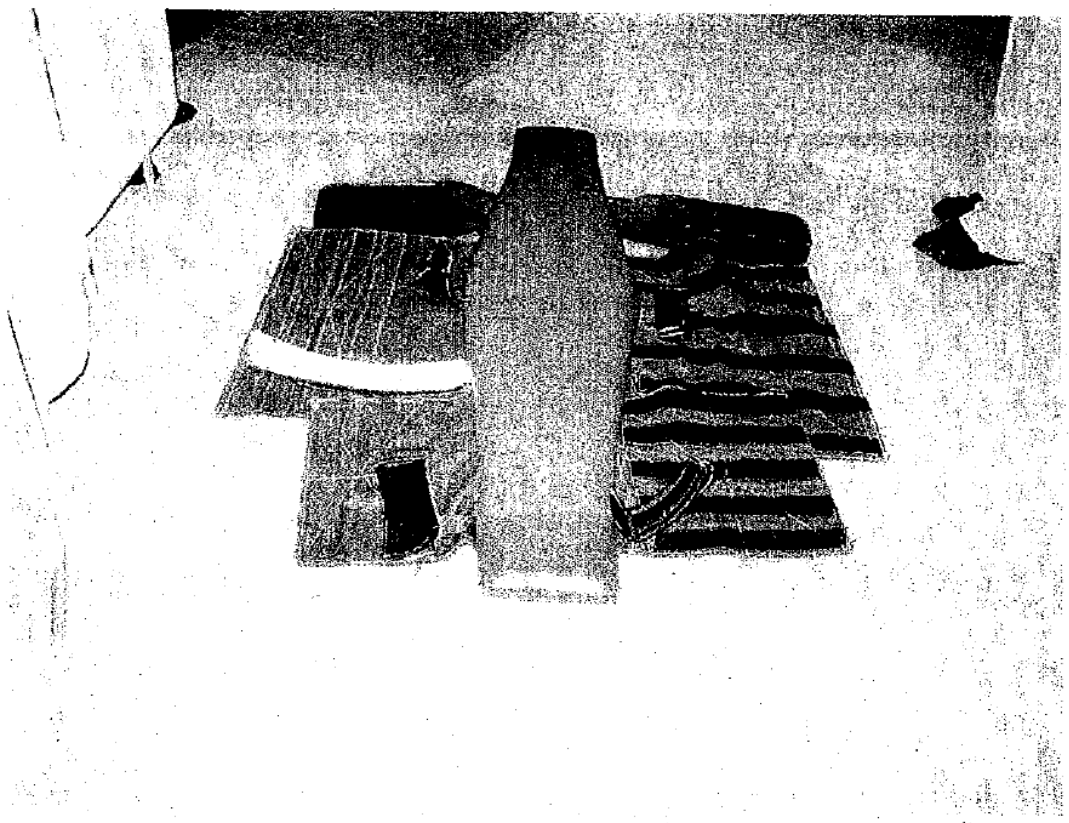
5. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13, 2020 at approximately 11:30AM was not the use of restraints in [redacted] because there is insufficient empirical evidence to support the claim that the use of restraints, in the presence of a diagnosis of GERD, led to Mr. Cains vomiting on June 13, 2020.

In explaining her theory, Dr. Brown-Forestiere opined that the struggle associated with being placed in restraints "often induces vomiting."

> Q Okay.
> A The only thing I can rule in is that a struggle often induces vomiting.
> Q Okay. You don't know how intense the struggle here was?
> A If you're fighting for your life, I think it's without question that it's going to be --
> Q Well --
> A -- an intense fight.
> (Brown-Forestiere Deposition, Page 75)

Her use of the word "often" implies causality - when one thing occurs, a second "often" follows. However, the evidence does not support her opinion that being placed in restraints "often" induces vomiting.

I reviewed the 515-page document titled, "Cains David Behavior Reports for PA VA 04062007-05292020." The document includes notes describing 193 sperate instances over 13 years, between 4/6/2007 and 5/29/2020, when Mr. Cains presented with challenging behavior. The materials document 187 aggressive incidents, usually in the form of aggressive behavior towards staff.



Clearly, Mr. Cains was extremely difficult to manage from a behavioral perspective. Staff were well aware of this risk and generally took precautions to protect themselves, Mr. Cains and other individuals. Staff responded to these 187 incidents with personal or mechanical restraints in 120 instances. This included Mr. Cains being restrained on a Papoose Board on 77 occasions or being placed in personal holds on 43 occasions. In 67 instances staff were able to use procedures other than restraint including counseling, redirection, graduated guidance or other techniques. There was one episode of vomiting associated with use of personal holds on 5/11/2012.

The occurrence of one instance of vomiting during 120 episodes of mechanical restraint is insufficient to demonstrate causality between restraint use and vomiting. Even if the incident of 6/13/2020 was included, 2 episodes of vomiting occurring in 121 incidents of restraint use is far fewer than the number that would be needed to demonstrate causality. As Dr. Brown-Forestiere implies, proof of causality suggests the expectation of vomiting occurring "often" when restraints are used.

Vomiting did not occur in 119 of the 121 incidents of restraint use. In other words, if restraints caused Mr. Cains to vomit, why is it that 98% of restraint use was not accompanied by vomiting? The answer to that question is that restraints did not cause Mr. Cains to vomit.

Further, if Dr. Brown-Forestiere's theory were correct, forms of restraint associated with high body pressures should be associated with higher rates of vomiting. The pressures applied to the chest and abdomen during the use of a full-body restraint, such as a Papoose Board, are much greater than those that are generated by personal holds. Based upon Dr. Brown-Forestiere's theory, the use of a Papoose Board should be associated with rates of vomiting that are higher than the rates of vomiting observed when using low pressure restraints such as personal holds.

The attached picture is a Papoose Board currently in use by Arkansas DHS. You will see that the individual is placed on the Board and that he/she is then wrapped with three bands of fabric which cover the lower extremities, the torso, and the head. There are 15 separate Velcro straps which are used to attach the bands of fabric together, creating a snug fit and pressure across the entire body.

Dr. Brown-Forestiere's theory predicts that vomiting should be more common when using a Papoose Board in comparison to low-pressure physical holds of the extremities.

However, the evidence does not support her theory. At no time, during 77 instances in which the Papoose Board was used, did Mr. Cains vomit. In spite of the fact that the intraabdominal pressures generated during use of the Papoose Board are much higher than those generated during the use of personal holds on the extremities, there was never an instance of vomiting associated with the use of a Papoose Board. This lack of empirical evidence disproves her theory that possible increases in chest/abdominal pressure associated with physical restraint were associated with Mr. Cains' vomiting.

6. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the cause of Mr. Cains' vomiting on June 13, 2020 at approximately 11:30AM was [redacted]

[redacted]

Second, just prior to the behavioral outburst on June 13, 2020, Mr. Cains wanted to use the restroom. Further, Mr. Cains was noted to have had a bowel movement at approximately the same time that he began vomiting. There is one prior episode when Mr. Cains was noted to have soiled himself just prior to a behavioral outburst. (8/22/2012.) There are no other episodes of restraint associated with the occurrence of a bowel movement during the restraint. It is quite possible that Mr. Cains had [redacted] This type of explanation is consistent with the lack of a pattern of vomiting or diarrhea during previous episodes of restraint. Indeed, Dr. Brown Forestiere could not rule out the possibility of a gastrointestinal illness.

[redacted]

(Brown Forestiere Deposition Page 74)

[redacted]

[redacted]

(Brown Forestiere Deposition Page 74)

7a. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Mattson and other BHDC staff met and/or exceeded the standard of care for a Residential Care Technician (RCT) staff when they applied personal holds to Mr. Cains.

7b. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Mattson and other BHDC staff complied with all applicable BHDC policies and procedures when engaged in applying personal holds to Mr. Cains.

Staff exercised reasonable judgment in keeping Mr. Cains on the floor because he exhibited behaviors which, according to definitions contained within BHDC policies, were maladaptive.

BHDC Policy defines Maladaptive Behaviors as follows:

> "Maladaptive behaviors include, but are not limited to, behaviors that result in, or have the potential to result in, injury to self or others, of the destruction of property." DDS Policy 3011-D

It is important to note that that the definition contained within DDS Policy 3011 does not distinguish between behaviors that result in injury or behaviors that have the potential for causing injury. Both types of behavior are considered maladaptive behaviors and subject to staff intervention. BHDC policy permits the use of personal holds in either situation.

> Personal Restraint: In order to prevent personal injury or serious property damage, the individual or a portion of an individual's body is immobilized by another person or persons in order to prevent personal injury or serious property damage. (DDS Policy 3011)

Mr. Mattson noted (above) that he was attacked by Mr. Cains and that this led them both to fall to the ground. Ryann Campos wrote in her statement that Mr. Cains spat at Mr. Mattson:

> I, Ryann Campos, arrived at commons for lunch. I noticed David Cains on his left side fighting Tyler in the lobby, Tyler on his left side holding both wrists. I saw David Cains look up at Tyler and spit." Ryann Campos Witness Statement

Mr. Cains harmed staff and attempted to further harm them but was prevented from doing so by staff use of personal holds. DDS policy allows the use of restraints in such emergency situations. According to DDS Policy 3011:

> Emergency Procedures. Nothing in this policy prohibits the use of emergency restraint (mechanical or personal), confiscation of any item used in a threatening manner, or removal from the environment for the purpose of protecting the individual and others around him/her. (DDS Policy 3011-D)

Staff testified repeatedly that they used personal holds only for the purpose of protecting themselves and Mr. Cains and that the holds would have been removed once Mr. Cains calmed down. Again, this is consistent with BHDC policy and their training.

> The goal of restraint use is to keep the client and/or others safe until control of the client's behavior can be returned safely to the client (i.e., when the client has calmed). Clients shall be released from physical restraint immediately upon calming. "Calm" for a client is defined by the Interdisciplinary Team ("IDT"). The typical definition of calm is below, but the IDT may identify client-specific indicators in the client's IPP and/or Safety Plan:
> i. The client's behavior indicates that the dangerous behavior has ceased; > ii. The client is quiet and responding to staff in their normal tone of voice or other way of communicating; and > iii. The client demonstrates cooperation by accepting direction from staff (BHDC Policy I-D-4 Documentation and Response to Maladaptive Behaviors.)

It would be absurd to expect an RTC, as has been suggested (Mattson Deposition, Page 117), that Mr. Cains be released from a personal hold, allow staff or Mr. Cains to be injured, and, then reapply a personal hold. Staff need to be able to use professional judgment when providing services which incorporates regard to their own personal safety. Injured staff cannot provide care.

Mr. Mattson. Ms. Jones and Ms. Campos all testified that they felt they were acting within the scope of their training and practice in applying personal holds in order to protect Mr. Cains and themselves.

Ms. Campos stated:

> A. All I remember was he was trying to kick. And I was trying to help him from hurting himself or others.
> (Campos Deposition Page 61)

And:

> Q You don't know if, after you got there, there was an attempt made to de-escalate the situation without --
> A I mean, we were --

Q -- without grabbing him?
A All I seen when I got there was him kicking, him on his side and still trying to kick.
I mean -- and I tried to refrain anybody get hurt or him hurting himself. And I know I keep repeating myself and repeating myself. But I don't know -- I -- I can't talk for them. And I don't know how else to word it.
(Campos Deposition, Page 80)

Ms. Jones stated:

Okay. But yet you -- you, for at least a minute, participated in a restraint with him on the ground?
A Yes. If we had been able to get him up off the ground we would've.
Q Well, I haven't heard that you tried.
Nowhere in any of this, nowhere in anything you've said, has it been suggested that any of you attempted just to get him back on his feet at any point before he started choking.
A He hadn't calmed down at any point until he started choking.
Q Okay. And you made the determination then that the threat of him spitting or the threat of him slapping behind himself at Tyler was a greater risk than his doctor's orders to not put him on the ground after meals because he might literally aspirate and die just like he did? That was the decision y'all made?
A We didn't make that decision. It --
Q But you did. You did make that decision. And he's dead.
A We made the decision to try to keep from harming himself or someone else. No one asked for what happened. No one wanted that --
Q He didn't harm himself. He didn't harm himself. You three harmed him.
A Had he gotten up -- we did not harm him. We -- we did not harm him.
Q All right.

(Jones Deposition Page 111-112)

As noted in Mr. Mattson's direct testimony, once on the ground, staff demonstrated appropriate judgment in continuing to try to get Mr. Cains to calm down while providing "personal holds."

Q. How is that violent?
A. He was trying to resist and fight me.
Q. Why didn't you just get up and give him some space, since he's already on the ground?
A. Because he was still very agitated.
Q. Well, so. Let him calm down. Why didn't you do that ?
A. That's not how it works immediately.
Q. How does it work?
A. He would still be agitated afterwards, very agitated.
Q. So you thought it was best to turn him on his side and pin him on the ground?
A. I was wanting him to calm down. I was trying to get him to calm down.
Q. And in order to get
A. And I was talking f was talking to him.
Q. And, in order to get what you wanted, you turned him over, held him down?
A. I—I guess.
Q. Well, you guess. You were there.
Did you --- is that what happened or isn't it?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And is he talking to you at that point?
A. No. He was just still insulting me, calling me names and screaming.
Q. Okay.
A. That was another semblance that I knew he was still agitated.
Q. Yep, still- agitated. Still needed to be controlled. I understand.
About how long --- and where are your hands on him?
A. On, like, his upper body. Not, like, on his head but, like, controlling his arms. Like, not on his wrists but just --- generally his arms, upper area.
Q. Okay. And you didn't have one hand on his --- on his --- kind of his waist, one on his shoulder area?
A. No.
I just had, like, his arms controlled. Because that's --- he was infamous for, like, kind of winging back and swinging at you.
Q. Well, you said he's never hit you before. He's never made contact with you before.

So how can you tell me he's infamous for that?
A. Because I have seen him do it. I have --- and just from hearsay.

(Mattson Deposition Pages 109-111)

As is evident in the tone of this exchange, Mr. Mattson may have been intimidated by Plaintiff's Counsel. This had an impact on his ability to offer consistent testimony about the facts of the matter. For example, in the testimony above, Mr. Mattson responded to a leading question which could be used to infer that he restrained Mr. Cains for the purpose of holding Mr. Cains to the ground:

Q. So you thought it was best to turn him on his side and pin him on the ground?
A. I was wanting him to calm down. I was trying to get him to calm down.
Q. And in order to get
A. And I was talking I was talking to him.
Q. And, in order to get what you wanted, you turned him over, held him down?
A. I—I guess.
Q. Well, you guess. You were there.
Did you --- is that what happened or isn't it?
A. Yes.
B. (Mattson Deposition Pages 109-111)

However, after an objection by Respondent's Counsel, Mr. Mattson was able to collect himself and clarify his earlier testimony. Mr. Mattson did not "pin" Mr. Cains to the ground as was implied during his questioning. Rather Mr. Mattson was restraining one arm from striking staff – consistent with BHDC policy and the training and scope of practice for an RCT.

Q. Okay.
A. I wasn't really necessarily restraining. I was more holding. But -- there was --- like, I was actively restraining the right arm because he was like ---
Q. Okay.
A. --- that's whenever he was, like, most flailing.
Q. Okay. And I know you weren't holding his head. That's not what. I'm -- what I'm suggesting. I just want to make sure I understand where your hands were.
A. Right.
Q. How long did this go on before Mandy Jones arrived on the scene?

A. That f can remember a couple of minutes. It wasn't shortly after because her area ---
Q. Okay. (Mattson Deposition Pages 112-113)

In spite of this testimony, leading questions, incorporating the allegation that Mr. Cains was "pinned" to the floor, continued to be used.

Q. Well, I mean, you know, I have two-year-old twin toddlers. They get aggressive sometimes. I tell you what I don't do. I don't pin them to the ground until --
MR. COLLINS: Are you testifying now?
Q. -- until they say what I want to them to say. Okay. So how long are you three pinning him to the ground now that Ryann's arrived before he starts changing colors and defecating on himself and throwing up and dying?
A. As best I remember, maybe a minute or two. But it Wasn't very it wasn't a long time.

(Mattson Deposition Pages 116)

(8) Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, inconsistencies in the recording of the timing of the events was so frequent that all time notations, with the exception of when EMS was notified and the team dispatched, should be considered approximate.

The estimated timeframes contained within the EMS Report are internally inconsistent and unreliable. Witnesses appeared to pick and choose whatever "facts" were contained within the EMS Report to support their opinions. However, because of the internal consistencies, the EMS Report cannot reliably be used to create a timeline at all.

The EMS Report (Page 3) identifies the alleged timing of events which transpired. The following timelines are asserted in the document:

[redacted]

Depending on how they are interpreted, the relative timing of these separate events can be used to create timelines which suggest that the "collapse" or the "arrest" and the initiation of CPR and call to 911 occurred at 11:22, 11:29, 11:30. 11:35, 11:37 or 11:38. Several examples are described below.

[redacted]

(Scow Deposition Page 10-11)

Dr. Brown-Forestiere also alleged that there was an 8-minute delay between the respiratory obstruction and calling 911. Following a very leading question from Mr. Gillespie, Dr. Brown-Forestiere agrees – 8 minutes.

And again

Later in her testimony, Dr, Brown-Forestiere indicates that she is not sure whether the 8 minute period refers to the time between Mr. Cains falling to the floor and 911 being called or the time between the onset of choking and the call to 911.

Q Is that what you would conclude?
A I conclude the same thing I've concluded 12 times.
It's my understanding it was eight minutes from the --
Q But I --
A -- initial onset of the situation to when the phone call was made.

Q Okay.
A And how they concluded that timeline is not up to me. I just read it.
Q Okay. And, when you say from the beginning of the, of the incident, you talking from the time that he choked or from the time that the incident started?
A You would have to ask the people involved. I was not there.
Q Okay. So fair enough. Fair enough. You don't know?
A I -- I was given the information, same as you, that it took eight minutes.

(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 96)

However, the timeframes present in the EMS Report contradict the testimony of both Mr. Scow and Dr. Brown-Forestiere. [redacted] Both Mr. Scow and Dr. Brown-Forestiere are incorrect. From their testimony, I cannot determine why they both make the same error. It is a remarkable coincidence that two witnesses, independent of esach other, make the same obvious mistake.

This may be explained by Dr. Brown-Forestiere when she suggests that she did not reach an independent conclusion that there was an 8-minute delay. She acknowledged that this opinion was provided to her:

> Q Okay. So fair enough. Fair enough. You don't know?
> A I -- I was given the information, same as you, that it took eight minutes.
> (Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 96)

The source of this "information" is not disclosed.

[redacted]

However, there are additional internal inconsistencies.

[redacted]

The lack of accurate timekeeping in the EMS Report is obvious. Staff acknowledge in their depositions that they are making guesses as to when the event may have begun and how much time was required for each step in the response. DRA noted that there were no clocks in the area and as a result, they recommended that all time notations should be considered estimates. The 2020DRA Report stated that:

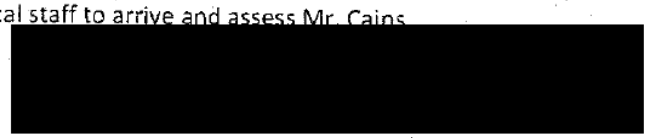
> All times are estimates as there are not any clocks visible in the area..." (DRA October 2020 Page 2)

The best explanation for these inconsistencies is that the report is erroneous. Mr. Scow acknowledged that errors can occur when he is taking the history and simultaneously rendering care:

> On scene, when we're doing patient care, if it's a hectic environment, you take what information you can get and you try to get as clear as -- clearest picture of what you can get when you're asking questions and interviewing while you're doing your work at the same time, so -- yeah.
> It's -- it's not always the most accurate but – (Scow Deposition Page 36)

9. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, BHDC staff met the standard of care for providing emergency medical services to Mr. Cains. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, there were no unreasonable delays in calling 911

BHDC staff testified that Mr. Cains was [redacted]



(Jones Deposition, Page 75)

And again:

(Jones Deposition Page 83)

Medical staff were called. Ms. Jones believed that it took one to two minutes for medical staff to arrive and assess Mr. Cains.

[redacted]

Ms. Jones agreed that the call to medical for assistance was made at approximately 11:33.

> According to the documents I was provided, the nurse
> -- medical says it received the call at 11:33.
> Do you have any reason to think that that's wrong?
> A It's probably pretty close.
> Q Okay.
> A I don't remember the exact time. But I'd – (Jones Deposition, Page 85)

However, there is no assurance that the clock in the nurses office at BHDC was actually correct.

In total, it appears that whatever the clocks said, the BHDC staff worked to support Mr. Cains for only 2 to 4 minutes before calling 911.

[redacted]

This timeline created from staff testimony indicates that there was no inordinate delay in BHDC staff providing emergency care to Mr. Cains and in seeking additional assistance. [redacted]

10. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, BHDC medical staff could not have effected a partial clearing of the airway as they lacked access to the training, skill and equipment needed by Mr. Scow to achieve a partial clearing of the airway. [redacted]

[redacted]

Use of these devices exceeds the standard of care available at BDHC at the time.

11. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains would have died even if BHDC contacted EMS at the moment when Mr. Cains was noted to have stopped breathing. Any alleged delay in contacting EMS, even a delay associated with staff performing their assessment, was inconsequential.

[redacted]

[redacted]

(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 21)

Later, Dr. Brown-Forestiere appeared to disagree with her own conclusions. She stated that indeed an 8 minute delay "could" have had an impact because a paramedic "could" have applied advanced techniques.

> So, yes, it is very unfortunate. Those eight minutes, honestly, in my opinion, I think that it could have had a very large impact.
>
> (Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 21-22)

However, Dr. Brown-Forestiere did not assert that an 8-minute delay did have any impact in this specific case. She also did not comment on the fact that after Mr. Scow arrived it took him 9 minutes to partially clear the airway. She also did not conduct an analysis of the timelines noted above.

In addition, Mr. Scow stated that he could not be certain that any delay on the part of BHDC staff affected the outcome:

> Q Is it possible that, had 9-1-1 been called immediately, is it possible at least that you could have -- that the outcome here could have been different?
> A I can't give any specific like certainty.
> (Scow Deposition Pages 14- 15)

[redacted]

Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 22)

12a. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, at all times, the BHDC operated within the standard of care for a publicly-funded ICF IDD.

12b. Further, based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, at all times, the staff of BHDC provided care consistent with the standard of care for their training and scope of practice.

An assessment of the care rendered by the BHDC and its staff to Mr. Cains turns on the question of whether each provided care consistent with the "standard of care." The care provided by BHDC overall and its staff in this particular matter does meet the standard of care.

The matter of whether or not BHDC meets the standard of care is easily resolved. Since the facility is regulated by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), one need only look at whether or not the facility is certified. Indeed, BHDC is certified by CMS, indicating that the facility meets all applicable Conditions of Participation. This exercise may seem overly simplistic, however, it is generally accepted. LeBel notes that "Regulations are minimum standards." (See LeBel J. Regulatory change: a pathway to eliminating seclusion and restraint or "regulatory scotoma"? Psychiatr Serv. 2008 Feb; 59(2):194-6. PMID: .) While States may do more than meet minimum standards, there is no requirement for them to do so. In regard to this matter, the fact that BHDC meets minimal standards is sufficient to dispel any concern that the care practices embodied in the training, rules, regulations, policies, procedures or other facility-wide instruments is not sufficient.

For example, the State Operations Manual (SOM) Appendix J 42 CFR 483.450 Client and Facility Practices (W266) contains five Key Standards (W268; W278: W285: W295; W310) and 35 additional standards corresponding to the Key Standards, which delineate the expectations for the provision of behavioral services within an ICF IDD. Contrary to what some may claims, these are the only "standards" which are applicable to the BHDC.

In regard to the use of personal holds to address dangerous behavior in an emergency situation, the SOM Appendix J states that restraints may be used:

> As an emergency measure, but only if absolutely necessary to protect client or others from injury (W296 (Rev. 135, Issued: 02-27-15, Effective: 04-27-15, Implementation: 04-27-15) §483.450(d)(1)(ii))

Given that BHDC is certified, the certifying body, CMS in this instance, represents that BHDC meets all applicable Conditions of Participation and their Key Standards.

In regard to the care provided by BHDC staff, the standard of care is based upon the question, "What care could the staff be reasonably expected to deliver based upon their training and experience," or "What would a reasonably qualified RCT do when confronted by the same situation?"

As has been previously noted, BHDC staff provided care in a manner that was consistent with all BHDC policies and procedures. In addition, staff provided care that was consistent with their training and scope of practice. Given the tools and resources at their disposal, they did the best they could.

> A. Oh, yeah, absolutely. I would do my best to try to just deescalate as best I can. Like, I did not want to put hands on anyone
> (Mattson Deposition Page 46)

And:

> A. So I didn't want to it to escalate further and other clients get involved, so I would try my best to kind of remove them and maybe then walk away. Like, move take them to their room –
> (Mattson Deposition Page 48)

And:

> We didn't put him on his stomach; we didn't put him face like, we didn't roll him face down or anything. We were using what I thought was our best judgment.
> (Mattson Deposition Page 117)

And:

> That's what we thought would be the best course of action at the time.
> (Mattson Deposition Page 118)

And:

> At it was my best judgment at the time. It was a traumatic moment that I was -- > (Mattson Deposition Page 118)

And:

[redacted]

[redacted]

(Mattson Deposition Page 118)

And:

Q. Okay. So, ds you sit here today, is it is it your testimony that what -- what you and Mandy and Ryann did complies with this policy?
A. As best as we could in the situation.
(Mattson Deposition Page 122)

And:

A. Like I said, he was flailing; he was whipping around. I was doing the best I could for my only person.
(Mattson Deposition Page 132)

And

A. That's why we attempted to just at least put him at some sort of an angle. We didn't just lay him completely flat. Maybe the angle was wrong, but we were just -- we were using our best judgment in the moment.
(Mattson Deposition Page 136)

Thought is the precursor to action. In order to evaluate what staff did during the medical/behavioral emergency, Plaintiff's would need to have a basic understanding of what staff were thinking at the time. However, Plaintiff's expert dismisses this as irrelevant and does not seem concerned:

[redacted]

(Deposition of Brown-Forestiere, Page 61)

If Dr. Brown-Forestiere cannot comment on what staff were thinking – what they had been taught and how they employed their knowledge - she cannot assess whether or not BHDC staff met the standard of care.

Dr. Brown-Foresteire acknowledged that she had no interest in the behavioral management of Mr. Cains:

> So, no, actually, my medical opinion has absolutely nothing to do with his personal -- whether he had personal aggression or not.
> My interest in the forums of his medical records and IPP was much more so to his physical, any physical conditions, in regards to if he had any diet specifics that made -- would have made him more of a choking risk and -- which he didn't, and if he had any special considerations and conditions in regards to eating; which was GERD and needing to be upright.
> Outside of that, my opinion is purely medical and scientifically driven and does not take into account whether he was a violent person or not. It has no bearing on whether he died from suffocation from choking.
>
> (Deposition of Brown-Forestiere, Page 52)

Dr. Brown-Forestiere also acknowledged that she was not familiar with Mr. Cains' specific plan of care:

> Are you familiar with the training on restraints and what authority there is to restrain David Cains in the Human Development Center?
> A In the Human Development Center, I do not believe I read specifics on --
> Q Okay.
> A -- their particular protocols.
> I recall them talking about it, but I don't see -- I did not see a specific protocol.
>
> (Deposition of Brown-Forestiere, Pages 52-53)

Dr. Brown-Forestiere also acknowledged that she was not familiar with any rules or regulations governing the operation of ICF IDDs or the Plan of Care, called the Individual Program Plan (IPP.)

Q Okay. All right. Well, are you -- so but you're not aware of what -- are you aware of what the laws are or the policies or rules regarding restraints in Human Development Centers in 2020?
A I am not.
Q Okay. Fair enough. So your opinion has nothing to do with whatever was authorized in the IPP or allowed in Arkansas in HDCs at that time?
A Correct. It is not.

(Deposition of Brown-Forestiere, Page 54)

In the matter of Mr. Cains' death and the applicable standard of care, Dr. Brown-Forestiere substituted the standard of care for the physician expert for that of the BHDC staff and suggests that BHDC staff should be able to meet this higher standard. This is an impossible expectation. No one other than an expert in the provision of emergency care in a hospital setting could possibly meet such a standard.

In terms of training and the specifics of this situation, multiple different areas are of importance. Initially, I would say the most important is that we are experts in resuscitation; meaning, people in their most emergent and critical settings, that is where we are experts to take care of these patients. So we see people in all different settings.
But, in this scenario, [redacted] something that we do on a daily basis. And we're highly trained and we're definitely the experts for that. We're called in all over the hospitals for our expertise on that.
In addition, in regards to restraints, we have extensive training in how to use chemical and physical restraints safely; as we, you know, occasionally need to use those in the emergency department.
And we also have extensive training in how to deal with situations that come from physical restraints not being done properly and when we need to take care of someone for that.

(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Pages 5-6)

And again:

Okay.
A I do know, that in our training, the first thing to do is verbal de-escalation so that you can avoid restraints. And it does not appear that that happened.
Q It didn't appear to you that they tried to de-escalate it?
A I heard that he was given a chance to go to the bathroom and sit down.
Q And was the sit down a calming mechanism?
A I don't know.
Q As a matter of fact, the reason he sat down was to calm down, was it not?
A That might have been what it was directly --
Q So, in other words, there was a de-escalation or a calming before this outburst?
A Not what I would call the traditional, but potentially the way they thought of it, maybe.
Q Okay.
A It's not my training in de-escalation for -- to use those particular methods.

(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Pages 78-79)

It is readily transparent, Dr. Brown-Forestiere substituted her standard of care (people in emergency room and critical care settings) for that of the direct support professionals working at BHDC.

This problem with is approach, applying the physician standard of care to a professional who has received lesser or different training for application in a different setting, is illustrated by the following anecdote in which Dr. Brown-Forestiere describes her decision to become a physician:

I was a PA. I had just completed my training had just completed my training, which at a very high level surgical field, was four weeks of training on the job. I had just completed that and was on my own as first call at a Level 1 Trauma Center caring for adult and pediatric patients and I had my very first patient was a two year old who sustained extensive injuries and was left by myself, walking into a room. I looked at this child and the tubes going in and out of her I couldn't even name. I was presented with a scan I could not interpret. I was terrified and time mattered. This child's life was in my hands and I needed to make a quick decision I didn't know how to make. It was late at night. I had to call my physician. I remember him just being angry that I didn't know the answer and that I couldn't handle it myself. And I just remember in that moment thinking, 'I'm never doing this again. I don't have the information of the training to do the job I'm being asked to do. This is dangerous. And it matters. And this child's life is in my hands and I'm not walking into another situation without a chance to know what I need to know to make these decisions.' So that was the, actually that night. Only four weeks out of school that I decided that I was going back to be a physician."

Accessed at

It is clear that Dr. Brown-Forestiere, working as a newly graduated Physician's Assistant at the time, was presented with a case that exceeded her level of training and experience. She acknowledged that she did not have the tools to do what was asked of her and that only a physician had the level of training needed to do what was necessary. She even described the situation as "dangerous." However, did she violate the standard of care for a PA? Based upon the evidence present in the anecdote, I don't believe so. A PA cannot meet the standard of care for a physician. In regard to the management of Mr. Cains challenging behavior, an RCT cannot meet the standard of care for a physician.

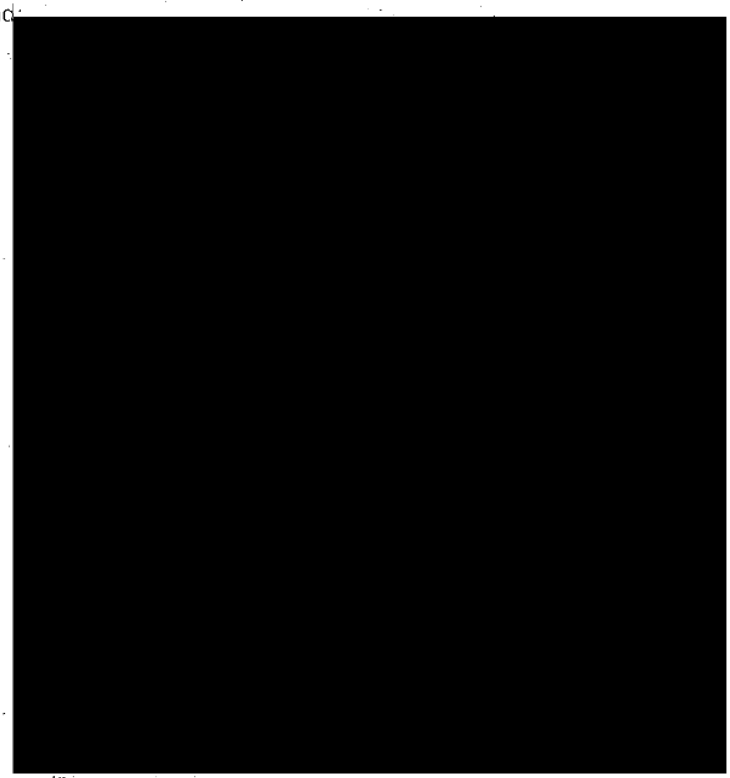
Based upon her acknowledged lack of understanding about ICF IDD rules and regulations, her lack of familiarity with basic treatment planning and IPP processes, her indifference to the behavioral training received by staff at BHDC, her inability to appreciate what BHDC staff were thinking at the time they were engaged to provide care to Mr. Cains, and her substitution of the medical standard of care for the direct support professional standard of care, Dr. Brown-Forestiere is completely unqualified to offer an opinion about the quality of care provided at BHDC or by BHDC staff.

13. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains was positioned appropriately – on his side when he was vomiting and, later, on his back when he [redacted]

Dr. Brown-Forestiere testified that Mr. Cains was on his left side while being restrained. She also testified that this was the proper position for someone who was vomiting.'

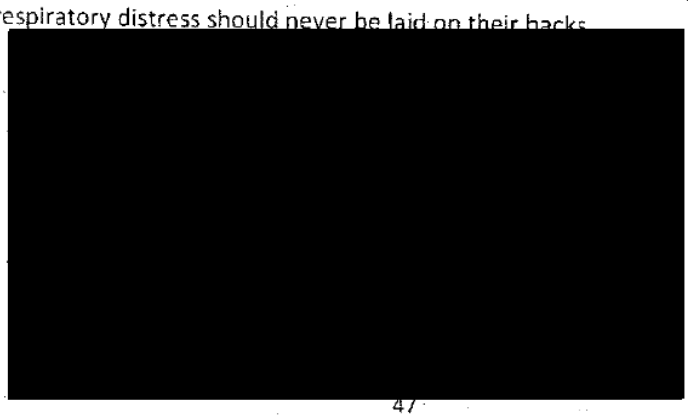
[redacted]

[redacted]



(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 61)

[redacted]

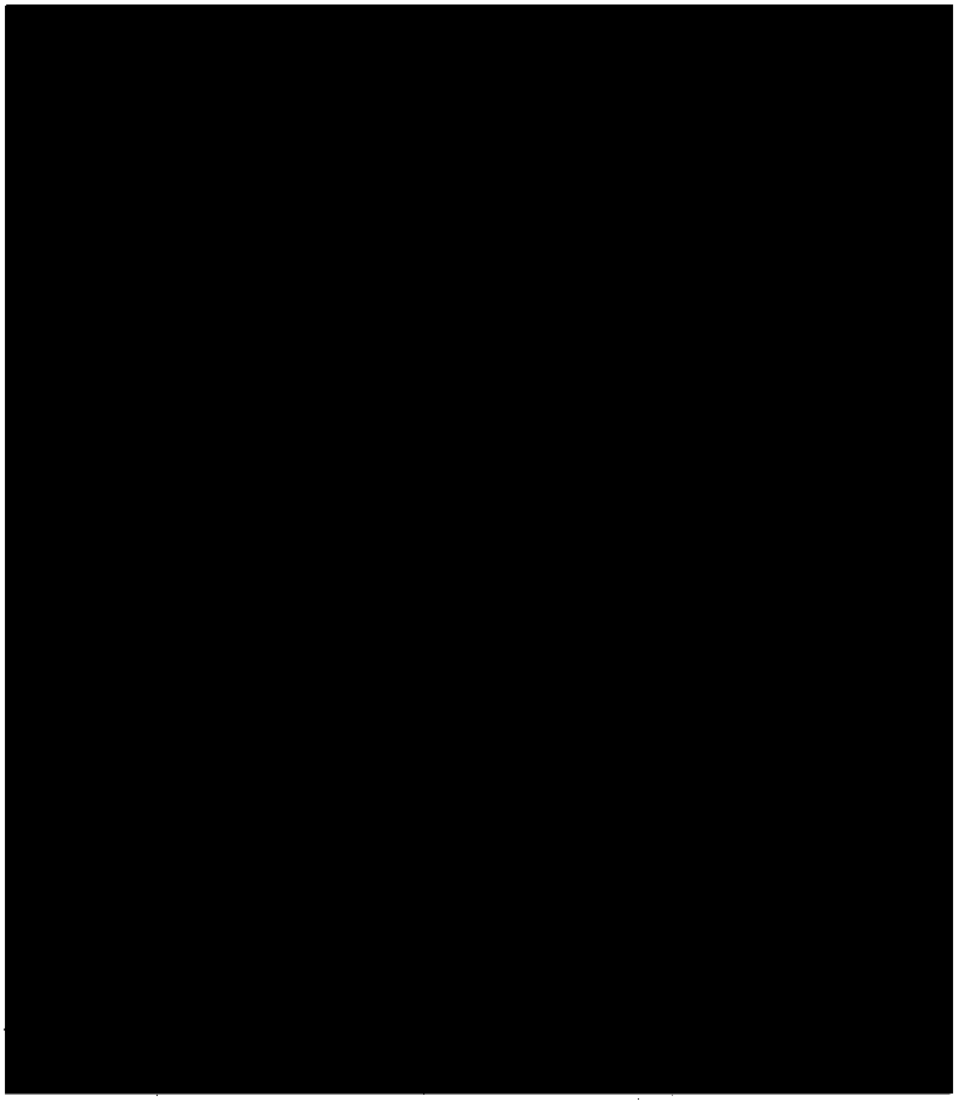


(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 16)

And:

(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Page 16)

Later in her testimony, Dr. Brown-Forestiere contradicts herself claiming that individuals in respiratory distress should never be laid on their backs.



47

[redacted]

(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Pages 62-63)

[redacted]

Brown-Forestiere Deposition Pages 82-83)

(Scow Deposition Page 28)

The evidence indicates that BHDC staff complied with the standard of care in providing emergency behavioral services to address dangerous behavior and provide appropriate emergency medical care, consistent with their level of training and scope of practice, to Mr. Cains during the event.

14. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains death was not accompanied by severe pain.

The definition of pain has long challenged clinicians. In 2020, the International Association for the Study of Pain (IASP) approved a definition of pain that not only coupled the sensory and emotional dimensions of the experience, but also recognized the association between tissue injury and pain:

> "An unpleasant sensory and emotional experience associated with, or resembling that associated with, actual or potential tissue damage".
>
> Raja SN, Carr DB, Cohen M, et al. "The revised International Association for the Study of Pain definition of pain: concepts, challenges, and compromises. Pain 000;

In order to feel pain, this definition requires that there be actual or potential tissue damage.

There is no professional agreement in regard to the amount or degree of pain associated with specific causes of death. Pain associated with a cause of death is proportionate to the degree of tissue damage, not the mechanism of death. However, Dr. Brown-Forestiere opined that:

> ...when someone chokes and their airway is closed off, obviously, they can no longer receive oxygen or expel CO2.
> This quickly induces kind of what we would call a terror fight or flight response, similar to a drowning victim. They start fighting with everything they can. Unfortunately, as the airway is blocked, CO2 which is -- turns into a toxic substance, which is an acid, builds up in their body, their muscles fighting against and are unable to expel the lactic acid they build up. So, essentially, you're not only suffocating, but it's a feeling of burning. Your lungs begin burning, your whole body, because of the acid build up. And the struggle -- and eventually you become unconscious and -- and your body continues to struggle until it no longer can.
> Q Is it a painful death?
> A It's probably the -- one of the most painful deaths there could be. That and I assume burning to death. But strangulation or suffocation and burning are the

-- are known as the two most awful ways to die.
(Brown-Forestiere Deposition Pages 18-19)

The basis for her opinion, that "strangulation or suffocation and burning are known as the two most awful ways to die" is pure speculation.

Dr. Brown-Forestiere is also incorrect in her description of the impact of anoxia on lactic acidosis and anaerobic metabolism. Mr. Cains lost consciousness after a brief period – a matter of seconds. This occurs well before the onset of anaerobic metabolism leading to the build-up of lactic acid in the muscles. Further, people who are resuscitated do not recall a feeling of being burned or burning prior to losing consciousness.

The consensus statement states that the experience of pain requires actual or potential tissue damage. Traumatic injuries cause severe tissue damage and include falls, motor vehicle accidents, gunshot wounds, stabbings, burns, and other mechanisms associated with severe tissue injury. These could all be associated with severe pain under specific circumstances. Diseases such as cancer or sickle cell crisis can cause severe tissue injury. Illnesses of this type could also be associated with severe pain. However, suffocation and drowning are associated with much lower amounts of tissue injury and, therefore, would be associated with lower levels of pain. Of course, each event is unique and the circumstances would vary from individual to individual death.

[redacted]However, based upon my reasonable medical judgment, and predicated upon my understanding of the definition of death and the pathophysiology of this choking episode, I do not believe that Mr. Cains suffered a painful death.

15. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains had a life expectancy of only 6 more years.

The current estimate of life expectancy in the United Sates is about 77.2 years. (Source: World Bank.) However, chronic illness, mental illness, obesity, and severe intellectual/developmental disabilities each have a specific and independent impact on the individual which reduces life expectancy. Mr. Cains had several risk factors which are well known to reduce life expectancy including [redacted]

[redacted]

Given that the average age of death for a person served in a State system is 50.4-58.7 years and combined with the separate risks [redacted] estimate the life expectancy for Mr. Cains to have been significantly reduced at the time of his death. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains had a life expectancy of only 6 more years.

DHS EXHIBIT 2-B:

Expert Report: Findings and Expert Opinions

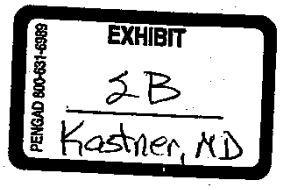
in regard to the Report of Janice LeBel

in the Matter of

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special
Administrator of the ESTATE OF
DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT
V CLAIM NO. 220374
THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

Prepared by

Theodore Kastner MD, MS



January 6, 2023

Purpose: Dr. LeBel was engaged by Plaintiffs to offer expert opinions on (1) behavioral services offered at BHC in general and to Mr. Cains specifically and (2) the system of health care services at the BHDC. Based upon her review of materials, Dr. LeBel offered two opinions in a letter to Joshua D. Gillispie dated December 28, 2022 (hereafter called the Report.) A review was undertaken to understand the specific opinions which were offered and the basis for these opinions. My opinions are summarized at the beginning of this report and justified through the discussion which subsequently occurs.

Document Review:

The following materials were reviewed:

2015 Psychology Report 001
2016 Psychology Report 001
2017 Psychology Report 001
2018 Psychology Report 001
2018_IPP_001
2019_IPP_001
2017 - 2019 Physician's Orders_001
AmyJones_PDFTran (8)
BHDC Maltreatment Report 5-2020 (BHDC IRIS 87707)
BHDC Policy I-D-2_001
Cains David Behavior Reports for PA VA 04062007-05292020

CainsDavid Psychological Evaluation 05282020
CainsDavidIPP 07182019
Claimant's_3rd_Suppl_Responses_to_Discovery_001 (2)
Claim-Ex1-DRA-2015report
Claim-Ex2-DRA-Jan2016report
Claim-Ex3-DRA-Oct2020letter
EMS Report_001
Hamid (2)
I-D-4 2018 Policy
Medical_Clearance_Restraint_Use_001
NCI-training-instructor-guidance-resource
Physician's Orders 6-2020_001
Ryann_Campos_5-12-22 (2)
Samuel_Scow_5-5-22 (2)
Social History
State Operations Manual Appendix J - Guidance to Surveyors: Intermediate Care Facilities for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities
Tyler_Mattson_Depo_001 (Compressed)

In addition, the following materials cited by Dr. LeBel in her Report, were also reviewed.

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) (2018). Psychiatric Hospitals. Retrieved on June 2, 2018, from https://www.cms.gov/Medicare/Provider-Enrollment-and-Certification/CertificationandComplianc/PsychHospitals.html

Clarke RW, Harris J. The organization of motor responses to noxious stimuli. Brain Res Brain Res Rev. 2004 Oct;46(2):163-72. doi: 10.1016/j.brainresrev.2004.07.005. PMID: 15464205.

Evans, S. (2022, May 5). Zoom deposition transcript of Sandy Evans.

Hise, M. (2022, May 12). Zoom deposition transcript of Mark Hise.

UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (2006). Department of Economic and Social Affairs Disability. Available at: Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) | United Nations Enable (accessed 22 November 2022).

World Health Organization (2019). Strategies to end seclusion and restraint. WHO Quality Rights Specialized training. Course guide. Geneva: World Health Organization; 2019. License: CC BY-NC-SA 3.0 IGO. Retrieved on November 12, 2022, from https://www.who.int/publications/i/item/9789241516754

In order to understand the foundational assumptions of Dr. LeBel in regard to her understanding of the standard of care and the appropriateness of restraint use, the following document was also reviewed.

LeBel J. Regulatory change: a pathway to eliminating seclusion and restraint or "regulatory scotoma"? Psychiatr Serv. 2008 Feb; 59(2):194-6. PMID: 18245163.

Standard for Opinions:

Throughout this report I will use the standard, "based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty," to express my opinions. This report does not contain every opinion which I may offer during testimony. I reserve the right to amend this report and my opinions based upon any information that I subsequently acquire or any other issue.

Opinions:

The following is a list of the opinions offered in this report. As noted, the opinions in this report are not considered exhaustive and I reserve the right to amend this report and my opinions based upon any information that I subsequently acquire.

1. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, CMS rules and regulations, ARDDS policies and procedures, and BHDC policies and procedures represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services at BHDC.

2. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, other documents cited by LeBel, including materials generated by the United Nations, the World Health Organization, SAMSHA and other sources, do not represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services at BHDC.

3. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the suggestions, recommendations or opinions contained within cited references and other materials, to the degree that they diverge from CMS rules and regulations, AR DDS policies and procedures, and BHDC policies and procedures, do not represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services at BHDC at BHDC

4. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, I agree with Dr. LeBel that the CMS regulations are "centrist."

5. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Dr. LeBel does not recognize the authority of CMS, AR DDS and BHDC documents as representing the standard of care. Dr. LeBel has characterized the current CMS regulations as a "retreat from the standard-setting high ground." Dr. LeBel suggests that BHDC be required to deliver "low/no restraint services for people with developmental disabilities."

6. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Dr. LeBel regularly attributed statements to CMS which are not contained within CMS regulations in an effort to misrepresent the standard of care.

   For example, Dr. LeBel claimed that:

   > "the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS 483.12; CMS 483.420) mandate that patients/residents of facilities have the right to be free from abuse and neglect..." (Report, Page 4, Bold in original)

   However, there is no such right articulated by CMS in the citation.

   In addition, Dr. LeBel also claimed that:

   > "Physical restraint is a potentially lethal procedure of last resort which is used in an emergency circumstance in the event of imminent danger when alternatives have been attempted and/or ruled out (42 C.F.R. § 483.450)." (Report, Page 4)

   However, there is no such right articulated by CMS in the citation.

7. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Dr. LeBel considers herself a "legal advocate" and stated that "states and facilities must not rely on national standard-setting entities to lead change toward preventing and even eliminating seclusion and restraint." This opinion led Dr. LeBel to state that BHDC should be "compelled" "to action to change their use of restraint with persons-served creating a safer environment of care for staff and patients alike."

8. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains, who weighed approximately 244 pounds at the time of the event, "charged at" or "lunged" at his staff, Mr. Mattson, and thereby initiated the process which led to physical contact between the two.

9. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Mattson employed appropriate blocking techniques in an effort to protect himself, Mr. Cains and avoid escalation.

10. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains's assault upon Mr. Mattson led Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains to fall to the floor.

11. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, while on the floor, Mr. Cains continued to demonstrate aggressive behavior towards Mr. Mattson and, subsequently, to other staff.

12. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, while on the floor, Mr. Mattson and other staff applied personal holds for the purpose of protecting Mr. Cains, staff and other individuals.

13. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, while on the floor, staff made no effort to hold or "pin" Mr. Cains to the floor. The application of personal holds was solely for the purpose of protecting Mr. Cains, staff and other individuals from Mr. Cains's aggressive behavior.

14. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, at all times, staff exercised their professional judgment in order to meet the standard of care including the use of less restrictive procedures, "time and space," and other appropriate means.

15. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, BHDC personnel are not required to demonstrate "imminent danger" before the use of restraint.

16. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, BHDC staff did not apply "lethal restraints."

17. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains did not demonstrate a "withdrawal reflex."

18. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, [redacted] did not contribute to Mr. Cains vomiting.

19. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, Mr. Cains being restrained while on the ground did not contribute to Mr. Cains vomiting.

20. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, [redacted] id complicate or represent a contraindication to the use of restraints with Mr. Cains.

21. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, there were no medical contraindications to the use of restrictive behavioral procedures. Dr. Hamid provided medical clearance to BHDC staff to employ restrictive procedures, when indicated, without condition or limitation.

22. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, there was no history of swallowing disorder or risk of choking or aspiration which might have increased the risk of a poor outcome as a result of the use of restrictive procedures.

23. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, there is no need to place Mr. Cains on a "Do Not Restrain List."

24. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the emergency response system at BHDC is effective and appropriate to meet the needs of residents who require emergency treatment.

25. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, the emergency response system at BHDC does not represent an obstacle to emergency response and life-saving intervention.

26. Based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty, activation of the county-level emergency response system by staff at BHDC and by passing the current requirement to first contact BHDC medical staff, would have had no impact on the quality of care provided to Mr. Cains or the outcome resulting from the care he received.

Expert Report: Findings and Expert Opinions

in regard to the Report of Janice LeBel

Opinions Offered by Dr. LeBel:
Dr. LeBel offers the following opinions at the beginning of her Report (Page 2):

> 1) The physical restraint used on DC proximal to his death fell below the standard of care established by recognized standard setting entities. In addition, the physical restraint used on DC fell below the standard of care established by BHDC.
>
> 2) The BHDC emergency response policy, whereby direct care staff were prohibited from calling 911, fell below the standard of care and created a dangerous situation for DC and other clients and resulted in a delay in emergency service response and intervention.

In the body of the Report, the two Opinions are highlighted in bold. I have copied out each Opinion and note that the Opinions within the body of the Report are subtly but substantively different that the Opinions listed at the top of the report.

> Opinion One: The physical restraint used on DC proximal to his death fell below the standard of care, including BHDC's standard of care. (Page 2)

and

> Opinion Two: The respondent facility's emergency response policy fell below the standard of care. (Page 11)

The difference in the Opinions, appearing literally on the same page of the Report (Opinion One Page 2), complicates the review of the Opinions.

In my analysis of the Report, I have copied each of the Opinions contained within the body of the Report and followed them with a Response. In addition, there are six arguments made by Dr. LeBel in support of Opinion 1. The arguments are highlighted in bold/italic and followed by a Response.

Opinion One: The physical restraint used on DC proximal to his death fell below the standard of care, including BHDC's standard of care (Page 2-3).
Dr. LeBel stated that:

The standard of care required the Respondent to comply with federal CMS/ICF Regulations found at 42 C.F.R. § 483.00 et seq.; Arkansas DDS policies and procedures; and BHDC's own policies and procedures. These policies establish that: a) only the least restrictive approved form of physical restraint can be used, b) for only the least amount of time necessary, c) only to prevent imminent and serious harm in emergency situations, d) only as a last resort after nonviolent techniques have been exhausted, e) the form of physical restraint used must be an authorized method clearly stated in the client's IPP, f) the form of physical restraint must be clearly identified in the facility's policies, and g) the authorized form of physical restraint must be taught to staff. The Respondent failed to meet the standard of care in this case.

Specifically, the Respondent failed in the following ways:

- The physical restraint was not necessary or justified and violated DC's right to be free from abuse and restraint;
- The physical restraint was not implemented in response to a life-threatening emergency or behavior that presented a risk of serious injury/harm;
- The physical restraint was not the least restrictive option;
- The physical restraint did not follow a reasonable effort at nonviolent de-escalation;
- The physical restraint was in violation of the attending physician's standing order for GERD precautions;
- The physical restraint method used by staff was not an approved, authorized or instructed technique recognized by BHDC or documented in DC's IPP.

Response

(1) On page 2 of her Report, Dr. Lebel states that the "standard of care" requires that BHDC comply with the following documents:

Federal CMS/ICF Regulations found at 42 C.F.R. § 483.00 et seq.;
Arkansas DDS policies and procedures; and BHDC policies and procedures

While she implied in the first iteration of Opinion One (Page 2), that BHDC should comply with "recognized standard-setting entities," that requirement was no longer applied to the second iteration of Opinion One (Page 2). The reason for her excluding these references in her discussion is unclear and should be explored. Are the "standards" established by the UN and WHO applicable to the US? Do they supersede the "standards" published by CMS? Do CMS "standards" meet the standards set by WHO and UN? If not, are the CMS standards valid?

(2) The reference to 42 C.F.R. § 483.00 as a standard of care for ICF IDDs is overly broad. Federal CMS ICF IDD regulations are found within 42 C.F.R. § 483.00 but limited to Part I. Other portions of CMS 42 C.F.R. § 483.00 reference other facility types including Psychiatric Residential Treatment Facilities and other skilled nursing facilities which have no bearing in this discussion. The regulatory citations should generally be limited to those contained in Part I. The fact that Dr. LeBel chose to do otherwise created confusion when attempting to identify the source documents which she alleged represented the "standard of care."

(3) Dr. LeBel also states that compliance with "standards" must be reflected in the following manner:

> These policies establish that: a) only the least restrictive approved form of physical restraint can be used, b) for only the least amount of time necessary, c) only to prevent imminent and serious harm in emergency situations, d) only as a last resort after nonviolent techniques have been exhausted, e) the form of physical restraint used must be an authorized method clearly stated in the client's IPP, f) the form of physical restraint must be clearly identified in the facility's policies, and g) the authorized form of physical restraint must be taught to staff.

I have reviewed the CMS documents cited by Dr. LeBel and cannot identify all of these specific requirements. Specifically, I conducted a cross-reference of the 7 components (a through g) which she states must be met in order for BHDC to meet federal and State standards. However, I could not find evidence to support her claim that all 7 conditions must be met in order to determine that a facility such as BHDC meets CMS "standards." Indeed, State Operations Manual Appendix J - Guidance to Surveyors: Intermediate Care Facilities for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities makes no such reference to these 7 specific requirements. As a result, they appear to derive from Dr. LeBel's ideological bias against the use of restraints and her interest in applying her ideological beliefs to BHDC rather than to actual Federal standards.

In order to verify that Dr. Lebel's opinion has a sufficient legal and regulatory basis, Dr. Lebel should be asked to walk through each item (a through g) and reference the specific Federal. AR DHS or BHDC standard which makes the component a requirement for meeting the "standard of care."

Dr. LeBel made allegations that the BHDC did not meet the standard of care in 6 specific respects. Dr, LeBel alleged that:

> Specifically, the Respondent failed in the following ways:
>
> • The physical restraint was not necessary or justified and violated DC's right to be free from abuse and restraint;
>
> • The physical restraint was not implemented in response to a life-threatening emergency or behavior that presented a risk of serious injury/harm;
>
> • The physical restraint was not the least restrictive option;
>
> • The physical restraint did not follow a reasonable effort at nonviolent de-escalation;
>
> • The physical restraint was in violation of the attending physician's standing order for GERD precautions;
>
> • The physical restraint method used by staff was not an approved, authorized or instructed technique recognized by BHDC or documented in DC's IPP.
> (LeBel Report, Page 2)

In the early portions of her Report (Pages 1 and 2) Dr. LeBel offered little specific evidence to support these 6 claims. To the extent that these general concerns are offered with specific supporting evidence, they are addressed in the subsequent narrative. However, for the sake of completeness, a general rebuttal is provided here.

• The physical restraint was not necessary or justified and violated DC's right to be free from abuse and restraint;

> Response: The use of personal holds was justified as staff sought to prevent Mr. Cains from harming himself, staff or others. As noted below, Mr. Cains had no unqualified "right to be free from abuse and restraint." Standards of care allow for restraint use so long as it meets the conditions set forth within CMS regulations. As is evident in the following discussion, BHDC complied with all applicable Federal regulations governing the use of restraints in this specific instance.

• The physical restraint was not implemented in response to a life-threatening emergency or behavior that presented a risk of serious injury/harm;

Response: In making this claim, Dr. LeBel does not appear to be referencing a specific Federal regulation. CMS regulations permit the use of restraint in response to behaviors which have the potential to cause harm to an individual, to staff or to others.

> As an emergency measure, but only if absolutely necessary to protect the client or others from injury. 42 C.F.R. § 483.450(d)(1)(i)

Mr. Cains's behavior (spitting) was harmful to the staff. In addition, his aggressive behavior towards Mr. Mattson certainly had the potential to cause additional harm. Mr. Cains weighed approximately 244 pounds at the time of his death and attacked Mr. Mattson, "charging" at him. Allowing Mr. Cains to charge unimpeded to Mr. Mattson or any other individual would have been reckless and inconsistent with both the standard of care and staff training.

CMS does not require that the potential harm rise to the level of "life threatening." In addition, CMS does not require that the level of harm be deemed "serious."

- The physical restraint was not the least restrictive option;

  Response: The personal holds used in this instance were part of a hierarchy of responses which included less restrictive measures. Prior to the use of personal holds, Mr. Cains was offered the less restrictive opportunity to relocate to a different area and to take his time to gain control over his feeling. However, less restrictive procedures were ineffective, After Mr. Cains attacked Mr. Mattson, physical restraint was necessary to protect Mr. Cains, his staff and others from harm.

- The physical restraint did not follow a reasonable effort at nonviolent de-escalation;

  Response: BHDC staff attempted to implement least restrictive behavioral interventions along a hierarchy consistent with their training and experience. This included the non-violent "time and space" to allow Mr. Cains to gain control over his behavior. Unfortunately, despite the use of less restrictive alternatives, Mr. Cains's behavior escalated and staff were compelled to use personal holds in order to protect themselves, Mr. Cains and others.

- The physical restraint was in violation of the attending physician's standing order for [redacted]

Response: Dr. LeBel lacks any qualifications which would allow her to testify in this regard. That being said, as a matter of general health, the physician made recommendations concerning [redacted] which could be perceived as being in conflict with the need to provide appropriate behavioral services. However, the attending physician testified that he does not believe that there exists any association between restraint use and vomiting. Therefore, he did not place any limitation on restraint use, in particular, in response to Mr. Cains's [redacted]

• The physical restraint method used by staff was not an approved, authorized or instructed technique recognized by BHDC or documented in DC's IPP.

Response: Staff employed "personal restraint," an emergency procedure limiting movement by the holding of a hand or limb," which is identified in "Boonville HDC Policy I-D-4 Documentation and Response to Maladaptive Behaviors" as an Approved Restraint Procedure, Technique or Device. Staff also receive instruction in the use of "personal holds."

The content of the behavioral services curriculum (NCI) does not represent BHDC policy. In addition, the content of the curriculum is not exhaustive of every application of the Approved Restraint Procedure, Technique or Device. Staff are trained in the application of personal holds in the standing and seated positions. They are not trained in the application of personal holds while an individual is on the ground. However, that fact does not represent a prohibition against the use of restraints when an individual is on the ground. In addition, staff are instructed in the principles of behavior management including the need to provide restraint in the least restrictive manner. Based upon their training and experience, staff may use their professional judgment to determine that the application of personal holds while an individual is on the ground is less restrictive than transitioning an individual to a more restrictive mechanical restraint such as a papoose board.

The use of restraints is reviewed and approved for each individual through an interdisciplinary process and reflected in the IPP. Consent to the use of restraints is always obtained. In regard to Mr. Cains, a member of his family was aware of the clinical need for restraints, participated in the interdisciplinary process, and gave consent for restraint use.

Right to be Abuse and From Restraint (Pages 3-4)

On Page 4, Dr. LeBel articulates her interpretation of the "standard of care." To that end, she states:

> "The Respondent's use of restraint in this case was a violation of patient/resident rights and a violation of the facility's obligation to uphold the patient's right to be free from abuse and restraint use. Physical restraint is defined by the federal government (Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services [CMS]) as: Any manual method, physical or mechanical device, material, or equipment that immobilizes or reduces the ability of a patient to move his or her arms, legs, body, or head freely 42 C.F.R. § 482.13 and C.F.R. § 483.420. Physical restraint is a potentially lethal procedure of last resort which is used in an emergency circumstance in the event of imminent danger when alternatives have been attempted and/or ruled out (42 C.F.R. § 483.450)." (Page 4)
>
> Patients/residents in health care settings have a right to be free from restraint. To affirm this position and prevent the risk of serious harm associated with restraint use, standard setting organizations such as the United Nations(UN) (2006), World Health Organization (WHO) (2019), and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS 483.12; CMS 483.420) mandate that patients/residents of facilities have the right to be free from abuse and neglect including but not limited to ...any physical or chemical restraint ... (emphasis added) imposed for purposes of discipline or convenience. When physical restraints are used, the facility is obligated to use the least restrictive alternative for the least amount of time and ensure that staff have and demonstrate needed competencies to effectively and appropriately interact with clients; monitor and take immediate action to address circumstances where possible abuse, neglect or mistreatment has occurred and prevent reoccurrence of abuse (CMS 483.12; Halverson et al., 2023; Huckshorn et al., 2021; AR DDS 3011-D; UN, 2006; & WHO, 2019)."

Response:

There are several errors in Dr. LeBel's interpretation of CMS regulations and the standard of care:

(1) The only standard which applies to BHDC are those standards established by CMS for the operation of ICF IDDs, in addition to AR DDS and BHDC policies and procedures which derive from these requirements. Dr, LeBel has previously acknowledged that CMS regulations represent the standard of care. As Dr. Lebel has noted, "Regulations are minimum standards." (See LeBel J. Regulatory change: a pathway to eliminating seclusion and restraint or "regulatory scotoma"? Psychiatr Serv. 2008 Feb; 59(2):194-6. PMID: 18245163.)

(2) Although Dr. Lebel suggests that Halverson et al., 2023 and Huckshorn et al., 2021 are standards of care, they are not. Even if they were, their publication date, after the death of Mr. Cains, disqualifies them from being relevant to the events under discussion.

(3) Although Dr. LeBel states that the WHO is a "standard-setting organization," in regard to the standard of care for the implementation of behavioral services at BHDC, it is not.

(4) Although Dr. Lebel implies that WHO, 2019 is a standard, it is not. WHO, 2019 is a "course guide" to a curriculum developed by a third-party for general use. The WHO makes no warranty as to its specific applicability in any setting. Un the section, General disclaimers, WHO notes:

> All reasonable precautions have been taken by WHO to verify the information contained in this publication. However, the published material is being distributed without warranty of any kind, either expressed or implied. The responsibility for the interpretation and use of the material lies with the reader. In no event shall WHO be liable for damages arising from its use. WHO, 2019)

(5) Although Dr. LeBel states that the UN is a "standard-setting organization," in regard to the standard of care for the implementation of behavioral services at BHDC, it is not.

(6) Although Dr. Lebel implies that UN, 2006 is a standard, it is not. UN, 2006 is a document intended to drive social change recognizing that people with disabilities have the same rights as others, including the right to provide consent to treatment either themselves, or appropriately designated proxies – rights which are already reflected in the CMS ICF IDD regulations. As UN, 2006 notes:

> The Convention follows decades of work by the United Nations to change attitudes and approaches to persons with disabilities. It takes to a new height the movement from viewing persons with disabilities as "objects" of charity, medical treatment and social protection towards viewing persons with disabilities as "subjects" with rights, who are capable of claiming those rights and making decisions for their lives based on their free and informed consent as well as being active members of society.
>
> The Convention is intended as a human rights instrument with an explicit, social development dimension. It adopts a broad categorization of persons with disabilities and reaffirms that all persons with all types of disabilities must enjoy all human rights and fundamental freedoms. It clarifies and qualifies how all categories of rights apply to persons with disabilities and identifies areas where adaptations have to be made for persons with disabilities to effectively exercise their rights and areas where their rights have been violated, and where protection of rights must be reinforced.

(7) Dr. LeBel states that:

> Physical restraint is a potentially lethal procedure of last resort which is used in an emergency circumstance in the event of imminent danger when alternatives have been attempted and/or ruled out (42 C.F.R. § 483.450).

I reviewed 42 C.F.R. § 483.450 and cannot find this language. The full text of the standard, as it relates to physical restraint use is as follows:

> (d) Standard: Physical restraints.
>
> (1) The facility may employ physical restraint only -
>
> (i) As an integral part of an individual program plan that is intended to lead to less restrictive means of managing and eliminating the behavior for which the restraint is applied;
>
> (ii) As an emergency measure, but only if absolutely necessary to protect the client or others from injury; or
>
> (iii) As a health-related protection prescribed by a physician, but only if absolutely necessary during the conduct of a specific medical or surgical procedure, or only if absolutely necessary for client protection during the time that a medical condition exists.
>
> (2) Authorizations to use or extend restraints as an emergency must be:
>
> (i) In effect no longer than 12 consecutive hours; and
>
> (ii) Obtained as soon as the client is restrained or stable.
>
> (3) The facility must not issue orders for restraint on a standing or as needed basis.
>
> (4) A client placed in restraint must be checked at least every 30 minutes by staff trained in the use of restraints, released from the restraint as quickly as possible, and a record of these checks and usage must be kept.

(5) Restraints must be designed and used so as not to cause physical injury to the client and so as to cause the least possible discomfort.

(6) Opportunity for motion and exercise must be provided for a period of not less than 10 minutes during each two hour period in which restraint is employed, and a record of such activity must be kept.

(7) Barred enclosures must not be more than three feet in height and must not have tops.

Specifically, CMS does not characterize restraint as a "potentially lethal procedure of last resort." In addition, CMS does not limit restraint use to "in the event of imminent danger." Restraint use is permitted "to protect the client or others from injury." Such a determination can only be made by staff at the time the restraint is needed and based upon the specific circumstances present.

Dr. LeBel's opinion about the conditions under which restraint use may occur align with her personal beliefs. However, there is no evidence that CMS is in agreement with Dr. LeBel's personal opinions about restraint use. As a result, Dr. LeBel's interpretation of the standard of care and CMS regulations should not be relied upon when contemplating the standard of care for behavioral restraints at settings like BHDC.

(8) Dr. LeBel states "Patients/residents in health care settings have a right to be free from restraint." This is not true. There is no instance do CMS regulations offer an unqualified right to be free from restraint. Restraint is an approved medical/behavioral procedure which is designed to protect staff, the individual, and others from harm. To suggest that such a right exists would be to imply that facilities, such as BHDC, be prohibited from taking action to prevent harm to staff, individuals and others, especially in emergency situations. This would be contrary to CMS regulations as it could create an unsafe environment. CMS determined that there is a role for restraint use in settings such as BHDC and this opinion is reflected in CMS regulations.

(9) That being said, residents of facilities such as BHDC must be protected from unwarranted and inappropriate use of restraint. For example, as noted in §483.12(a)(2)

The facility must:
Ensure that the resident is free from physical or chemical restraints imposed for purposes of discipline or convenience and that are not required to treat the resident's medical symptoms. When the use of restraints is indicated, the facility must use the least restrictive alternative for the least amount of time and document ongoing re-evaluation of the need for restraints.

The resident has the right to be free from abuse, neglect, misappropriation of resident property, and exploitation as defined in this subpart. This includes but is not limited to freedom from corporal punishment, involuntary seclusion and any physical or chemical restraint not required to treat the resident's medical symptoms.

Contrary to Dr. LeBel's opinion, CMS, through the use of surveyors and its survey instrument (State Operations Manual Appendix J - Guidance to Surveyors: Intermediate Care Facilities for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities Rev. 178, 04-13-18), has determined that Arkansas DDS and BHDC comply with all aspects of §483.12 and §483.420.

Threshold for Restraint use was not Met (Page 4)

Dr. LeBel argues that the standard of care includes an "imminent danger" threshold which must be met before the application of restraints:

"In health care settings, physical restraint is an emergency procedure of last resort and should only be used in the event of imminent danger to the patient/resident or others."

As noted earlier, no such "imminent danger" standard exists in CMS regulations.
In addition, Dr. LeBel generated a list of the behaviors demonstrated by Mr. Cains while in the dining area and the lobby near the restrooms. Her Report states the following:

BHDC staff documented and described DC's behavior as:

1. "yelling" (Jones, deposition testimony, p. 67); "screaming" (Jones OLTC Witness statement, labeled exhibit 4, p. 1)
2. "slightly agitated ...became aggressive in common area" (IRIS report)
3. "irritated...screaming and cussing...ripped paper off the wall... jumped up ... spitting and attempting to hit..." (Mattson, OLTC Witness statement, labeled exhibit 9, p. 1-2)

She goes on to state that this behavior was "not lethal or life threatening, nor does it pose a risk of serious injury." (Report, Page 5) LeBel concluded that since these behaviors were not lethal or life threating nor posed a risk of serious injury, they did "not require the use of force or a hands-on containment procedure." (Report, Page 5).

Dr. LeBel reiterates her "imminent danger" standard, which has already been demonstrated to fall outside the CMS standard of care. She states that:

> "The antecedent actions described in the various documents do not meet the BHDC threshold of imminent danger requiring the implementation of physical restraint."

Knowing that the "Imminent danger" standard falls outside of the CMS standard of care, Dr. LeBel cites Halverson et al., 2023; Huckshorn et al., 2021; Huckshorn & LeBel, 2015; Ridley & Leitch, 2019) as "restraint standards of practice."

Response:

(1) The publications cited by LeBel are not "restraint standards of practice." LeBel has noted that federal regulations are standards. (See LeBel J. Regulatory change: a pathway to eliminating seclusion and restraint or "regulatory scotoma"? Psychiatr Serv. 2008 Feb; 59(2):194-6. PMID: 18245163.) The federal regulations supersede any proposed standard of care which LeBel attempts to install in this instance.

(2) LeBel created an ad hoc standard, the "imminent danger standard," as a condition for the use of restraint:

> "The antecedent actions described in the various documents do not meet the BHDC threshold of imminent danger requiring the implementation of physical restraint." (Report, Page 5)

This substitution of her desired "standard" for the generally accepted "standard" is inappropriate and inconsistent with CMS regulations §483.12 and reflects her continued desire to use the consultation to eliminate restraint use at BHDC.

(3) The standards which LeBel identified for the use of restraint are at odds with BHDC Policy. "BHDC Policy 1-D-4 Documentation and Response to Maladaptive Behaviors" allows for the use of restraints when maladaptive behaviors occur. The document defines maladaptive behavior, noting:

> "Maladaptive behaviors include, but are not limited to, behaviors that result in, or have the potential to result in, injury to self or others, or the destruction of property."

In no instance does CMS or BHDC policy limit the application of restraints to only situations where there is imminent danger. CMS allows that restraint be utilized when behaviors arise which could "potentially" result in injury or harm.

(4) The Policy also requires that a hierarchy of behavioral interventions be used, with least restrictive procedures preceding more restrictive restraints:

> Personal restraint of a client is used when the behavior is such that verbal control has been lost and other less restrictive measures have failed to control the behavior.

(5) Dr. LeBel provided an incomplete listing of the behavioral strategies used by Mr. Matson to address Mr. Cains's maladaptive behavior. Specifically, Mr. Matson spoke softly to Mr. Cains, then took Mr. Cains to the bathroom, then, at Mr. Cains's request, relocated Mr. Cain to a quiet location. Finally, Mr. Mattson used defensive blocking techniques to address Mr. Cains' aggressive behavior – all prior to the use of restraints. Mr. Matson clearly employed the hierarchy of behavioral interventions, beginning with less restrictive procedures, consistent with his training and CMS regulations. As noted by Mr. Mattson in his witness statement:

> I was at lunch with David. He had finished eating his sandwich and cucumber and put his tray up. He sat down and seemed fine. Shortly after he asked if he could go to the restroom. I followed him inside the bathroom because he seemed irritated beforehand. While in there I heard no abnormal sounds such as vomiting due to his history of intentional vomiting when he is upset. We went out and he asked if he could sit in the lobby to calm down. I said that's fine. Shortly after, he began screaming and cussing and ripped paper off of the wall to throw. He then jumped up after me and attempting to hit me. I applied personals by grabbing his arms and he ended up falling over. I did not land on him. He continued fighting and I rolled him on his left side as to not put any pressure on his stomach because he had just ate. At that time he was still fighting and Mandy joined to assist me, grabbing his hands, all while I was squatted over him, not putting any weight on him during any of this, holding his shoulder and sides. He was still continuously fighting and Ryann Campos showed up and held his legs down. Still fighting, We had him in personals for approx. 1

[redacted]

(6) Further, Dr. LeBel provided an incomplete listing of maladaptive behaviors which Mr. Cains demonstrated prior to the use of restraints. Most noteworthy, she failed to accurately report that Mr. Cains "charged" at Mr. Mattson. The event is described more fully in the Deposition of Mr. Matson. In his deposition, he noted

> O. And then you said he --- he came after you?
> A. Yes. He charged me.
> O. Charged you.
> A. Yes
> (Mattson Deposition, Pages 101-103)..

Consistent with his training, Mr. Matson employed blocking techniques, including placing his hands on the inside of Mr. Cains' extended arms in an effort to prevent himself from being harmed by Mr. Cains. Unfortunately, Mr. Cains, a very large man with a weight of 244 pounds, caused both himself and Mr. Matson to fall to the ground. Having employed less restrictive behavioral strategies and subsequently being the subject of Mr. Cains's physical assault, Mr. Matson appropriately used personal holds – the least restrictive intervention that would protect himself, Mr. Cains and others from Mr. Cains's escalating behaviors.

Finally, Dr. LeBel implies that Mr. Mattson inappropriately took Mr. Cains to the ground. Mr. Mattson contradicts this opinion in his deposition. Mr. Cains' large mass and speed combined to lead both Mr. Cains and Mr. Mattson to fall to the floor.

> O. How did he fall? What caused him --
> A. We
> O. to fall?
> A. We just kind of tripped up on each other. It was > all one big motion, like I had said.
> O. Okay. And why did you not attempt to do the > blocking technique where you block and kind of get out of his way?

A. I wouldn't have had room. I was against a ledge.
O. You were against a ledge?
A. Yes.
O. Why would a ledge prevent you from being able to do like this?
A. Because I would have fell over be- if he had put enough momentum into me.
O. Okay. So you guys fall- over.
(Mattson Deposition, Pages 1)

(7) Dr. LeBel turns the events completely on their head when she alleges that it was Mr. Matson who initiated contact with Mr. Cains:

> "In addition, it does not appear that DC initiated physical contact with staff or physically harmed anyone (emphasis added). Per Mattson's OLTC Witness Statement (labeled exhibit 9, p. 2), he (Mattson) initiated physical contact with DC ("I applied personal by grabbing his arms"). Mattson grabbed DC's arms. Mattson activated an autonomic, defensive physical response from DC referred to as the "Withdrawal Reflex" (Clarke & Harris, 2004). Mattson initiated the physical interaction with DC; he did so without first utilizing required supported stance and blocking techniques or any other form of nonviolent de-escalation required to be exhausted prior to physical restraint. (Pages 5-6)

Dr. LeBel did not consider the evidence in Mr. Mattson's deposition which more fully describes the event. According to the description of events offered by Mr. Mattson during his deposition, it was Mr. Cain who charged Mr. Mattson, initiating the process which led to both Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains to fall onto the floor. Mr. Cains lunged and charged at Mr. Mattson. Given Mr. Cains' weight of 244 pounds, this assault caused Mr. Mattson to fall backward or on his side and Mr. Cains to land on top of or adjacent to him.

Mr. Mattson, the only eyewitness, describes the events as follows:

O. Okay. What's he doing as he's sitting there?
A. Just sitting. He was just sitting look- staring out.
O. All right. And then what happens?
A. He grabs a paper and goes after me.

Q. Where does he grab paper from?
A. There was a flyer on the wall.
Q. Does he stand up to grab it?
A. He grabbed it and then went after me. He was sitting down and then went after me to attack me.
Q. What --- what kind of paper was it? Just---
A. It was just it was just a printout paper, just a flyer.
Q. What did he do with it after grabs it?
A. He was throwing it and then went after me. He threw it down and then went after me.
Q. He threw it down and then went after you. Did he say anything?
A. No. He just screamed "bitch."
Q. He screamed "bitch"?
A. Yes. That I recall.
Q. Anything else that you recall him saying?
A. No.
Q. And then you said he --- he came after you?
A. Yes. He charged me.
Q. Charged you.
A. Yes
Q. Okay. Does --- describe that for me as best you
A. He just went to grab me. I mean
Q. How far away from him were you?
A. Maybe from here to that pole. Maybe a little bit shorter.
Q. This pole?
A. Yeah, about there. Maybe to the chair.
Q. My chair?
A. Between there.
Q. Okay.
A. Yeah.
Q. So about 6, 7 feet?
A. Maybe.
Q. Okay. And when you say "charge, " was he running at you?
A. Lunging, running. Yeah, just --- he went after me.

He didn't really have room to necessarily run.
O. Can you --- do you mind standing up and showing me?
A. I -- as best as I can. Like, he just --- it was like just a classic --- like, he went to grab at me.
O. Okay. Went to grab at you?
A. Yes.
O. So not swing at you but grab at you?
A. Grab at me.
But, like he had --- like --- like I said, that distressed face.
O. Okay.
A. Like he was agitated and --- yeah.
O. All right. And --- okay. And then what --- what did you do?
A. I tried to hold him and we kind of just fell.
O. How did you try to hold him? Stand up and show us, please.
A. Like, I was --- like, I just kind of grabbed him by the shoulders the best as I could, you know, with him -- momentum --
O. Yeah.
A. and we just kind of stumbled over, you know.
O. Okay. So he's coming at you arms raised like this?
A. It --- yeah.
O. Like this?
A. Outwards, yeah.
And I just kind of grabbed, like, here and here. I didn't, like, grab by the wrist. You know, but, like we kind of just awkwardly fell.
O. Did he get a --- did he get a grip around you?
A. No, he didn't get a grip around me.
O. Okay. Sorry.
A. No, that's all right.
O. This won't take long.
So he's coming at you. Show me and slowly so --- so I can really see it: What --- what do --- show me what you do as he's coming at he's lunging at you.
What do you do? What do your hands do? Where do they go?

A. I'm just like --- biceps, like, arms.
O. Okay. So you would have your --- your right hand on his left bicep and your left hand on his right bicep?
A. Yeah.
O. Pretty much?
A. Pretty much, yeah.
O. Okay. And --- and do you stay there locked like ---
A. No.
Like we tripped. Like --- like, we lust kind of fumbled around. Because it was, like, all in one big momentum, you know.
O. Uh-huh. And you fall to the ground, and he hits his face on the ground?
A. No, he didn't hit his face on the ground.
It wasn't a fast f all. It was a controlled fall as much as I could control it. (Mattson Deposition Pages 100-103)

It is inconceivable that Dr. Lebel would allege that Mr. Mattson initiated the physical interaction when it was Mr. Cains who attacked him. Mr. Mattson's description indicates that he attempted appropriate blocking technique (engaging the inside of the arms at the biceps) but was unable to stop the attack. It was Mr. Cains' momentum which carried them to the ground.

Having employed defensive blocking techniques which included grabbing the inside of Mr. Cains's arms in an effort to avoid being attacked, Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains fell to the floor. They "awkwardly fell" or "tripped." There was no effort on Mr. Mattson's part to place Mr. Cains on the ground. The fall to the ground occurred as a result of Mr. Cains' unprovoked attack.

(8) Finally, Dr. LeBel offers the highly unlikely theory that Mattson "grabbed DC's arms," and that:

> "Mattson activated an autonomic, defensive physical response from DC referred to as the 'Withdrawal Reflex' (Clarke & Harris, 2004)."

Dr. LeBel's theory that Mr. Cains demonstrated a "withdrawal reflex" as a result of Mr. Mattson's use of blocking techniques is inconsistent with our knowledge of neurology, neuroanatomy, and neurophysiology.

Clarke & Harris is a review of the spinal cord responses to noxious stimuli, with a particular focus on the response to painful stimuli following spinal cord injury. The intent of the authors was to assist researchers in improving the quality of studies aiming to understand the body's response to painful stimuli. The authors state:

> The article was published as a guide to researchers designing studies to investigate the body's response to noctious stimuli.

Dr. LeBel is incorrect when she describes the "withdrawal reflex" as "an autonomic, defensive physical response." The "withdrawal reflex" is neither an autonomic response nor defensive in nature.

The autonomic nervous system is a component of the peripheral nervous system that regulates involuntary physiologic processes including heart rate, blood pressure, respiration, digestion, and sexual arousal. It contains three anatomically distinct divisions: sympathetic, parasympathetic, and enteric. The autonomic nervous system is not involved in withdrawal reflexes. Withdrawal reflexes are generated through afferent and efferent fibers in the spinal cord.

In addition, the reflex is not defensive. Defense suggests a determination by the cortex to discriminate between those stimuli which are aggressive vs those which are not. In regard to spinal reflexes, the cortex is not involved.

The authors note that the utility of "withdrawal reflexes" is most often observed in the clinical assessment of individuals with brain or spinal cord injury:

> ...although these data indicate that differentiation of withdrawal reflexes is most readily seen from stimuli applied to the plantar surface of the foot.

Dr. LeBel's opinion appears to be purely speculative. Dr. LeBel does not offer any opinion as to how such an "autonomic, defensive response" would have been manifest in Mr. Cains's behavior. What would a "withdrawal reflex" have looked like? Would any observed "withdrawal reflex" have been sudden or slow? Would he have withdrawn his arms from his attempt to grab Mr. Matson? Would such a reflex have stopped Mr. Cains's forward motion? Would he have fallen backwards?

Further, the issue of the role of "higher centres" is important in understanding human motor behavior. In Dr. Lebel's view, simply blocking the biceps would be sufficient to cause Mr. Cains to stop his "charge" and retreat. To a degree of medical certainty, it is not likely that a "withdrawal reflex" occurred as a result of Mr. Mattson grabbing an arm or employing a blocking technique. The reasons that Mr. Cains charged at Mr. Mattson, although unknown, more than likely involved cognitive centers located above the spinal cord and would have been overcome by simply pressing on his biceps.

No Reasonable Effort at Least Restrictive Intervention and Non-violent De-escalation Intervention (Page 6)

Dr. LeBel stated that:

> "The documentation provided does not identify any reasonable effort to de-escalate DC's distress. The most basic de-escalation strategies (time and physical space) were not apparent in the direct care staff OLTC witness statements (Campos & Jones). Mattson appears to be the only staff member with DC at the time the problem started. Mattson's written OLTC witness statement (p. 1-2) regarding the sequence of actions is disjointed. Mattson describes DC as: 'sitting, then screaming and cussing, then ripping paper off the wall to throw'. It is unclear how ripping paper off a wall occurs in a seated position. Mattson says DC then "jumped up ... spitting and attempting to hit me." If DC was holding paper and attempting to throw it, one of DC's arms was likely elevated and rotated. It is not clear how quickly DC could rise to a standing position and attempt to hit Mattson. DC's physical actions were likely to have been slow, given his physical limitations. Mattson offers no detail about any verbal attempts he made to aid in calming DC, redirecting him, asking him to stop, offering DC any form of support, or utilizing the "supported stance" training.

Response:

(1) Mr. Mattson's written Witness Statement may appear somewhat disjointed. It was taken within a short time of the incident and, no doubt, Mr. Mattson was upset by Mr. Cains's death.

(2) In spite of this shortcoming, the Witness Statement indicates that Mr. Mattson did make reasonable efforts to employ the least restrictive intervention and non-violent de-escalation intervention. Mr. Mattson wrote:

> We went out and he asked if he could sit in the lobby to calm down. I said that's fine.

(3) Dr. LeBel relies exclusively on the Witness Statement of Campos & Jones to conclude that "the most basic de-escalation strategies (time and physical space) were not apparent in the direct care staff OLTC witness statements." However, neither of these witnesses were present at any time before Mr. Cains charged Mr. Mattson resulting in the two men falling to the floor. Neither witness was in a position to comment on this issue at all.

However, if Dr. LeBel had relied upon Mr. Mattson's Witness Statement, she would have been compelled to reach the opposite conclusion: Mr. Mattson did make reasonable efforts to employ the least restrictive intervention and non-violent de-escalation intervention..

(4) Dr. LeBel materially misrepresents the actual conduct of BHDC staff. As noted previously, a more detailed description of the staff response to the event is contained within Mr. Mattson's deposition, a document which Dr. LeBel has cited at various points in her Report but ignores in this discussion. Mr. Mattson's deposition indicates that the incident began in the dining area and was addressed with both "time and physical space" – Mr. Cains was permitted to use the bathroom, relocate to the lobby and given as much time as he needed to compose himself. However, the use of "time and physical space" was unsuccessful in helping Mr. Cains to control himself.

Use of Restraint Violated BHDC Attending Physician's Order

Dr. LeBel stated that:

> Staff could have and should have taken DC's medical risks into consideration (Evans, 58) and used another approach to help DC manage his distress. Moreover, Dr. Hamid did not approve of the use of floor/ground restraint for DC (77) nor was any restraint method identified in the IPP (483.450(d)(1)(i); Evans, 29, 35). Given the medical risk of restraint use with DC, BHDC could have put DC on their Do Not Restrain List but did not.

Response:

(1) Direct care staff, including Mr. Mattson, neither could have nor should have taken DC's medical risks into consideration and used another approach to help Mr. Cains manage his distress. A determination as to "another approach" would have required direct care personnel to make a medical determination – something which exceeded their training, experience or scope of practice. Only a health care provider could reasonably be excepted "to take DC's medical risks into consideration" and "devise another approach."

(2) Dr. LeBel does not appear to understand the role played by health care professionals in the delivery of behavioral services. As a matter of general practice, Dr. Hamid does not "approve" the use of any specific restraint. In executing the document, his review is performed solely for the purpose of proving medical clearance indicating that restraints can or cannot be safely used. In completing the Form "Medical Clearance for Restraint Use" he makes a determination that specific types of restraints can be safely used with or without conditions. Dr. LeBel has no qualifications which would support her ability to offer an opinion in this area.

(3) In regard to the care provided to Mr. Cains, Dr. Hamid did review the relevant documents and identified which restraint techniques could be safely used. His report states:

[redacted]

(4) Dr. Hamid did not identify any medical basis to restrict the use of restraints. In particular, he did not identify any medical contraindications to restraint use or any modification of restraint procedures which might be necessary to address any medical condition [redacted]

(5) [redacted]

[redacted]

(6) Dr, Hamid confirms this opinion in his deposition when he noted no evidence to support an association between restraint use and vomiting/aspiration:

> Q But to be clear, you do not think that a physical restraint of this sort -- are you saying you don't think the physical restraint had any causal effect on him vomiting and going into cardiac arrest?
> A I was not there, so I don't know how much strength Was used, but in real world, again, physical, if somebody is restrained and he chokes to death, you know, does not happen. So I don't think so physical restraint -- there's no way for me to tell because I'm not there at that particular point in time and how much strength was used. No.
> Q I don't think I quite understand something you just said.
> MR. GILLISPIE: Hey, Kristi, could you read back his passage just there for me?
> (WHEREUPON, the court reporter read back the previous answer.)
> BY MR. GILLISPIE:
> Q If you could, finish your thought for me about in the real world. In the real world, what? I don't quite understand what you meant there.
> A I mean, I have not come across any case studies that the patient who was physically restrained ended up choking to death because of that physical restraint. I have not seen any case reports. It has not come in my practice, you know, even working at BHDC here and other facilities.
> (Hamid Deposition, Pages 37-38)

(7) Dr. Lebel claims that "Given the medical risk of restraint use with DC, BHDC could have put DC on their Do Not Restrain List but did not." However, as noted above, Dr. Hamid is a medical practitioner and did not believe that such a risk existed. Dr. LeBel, lacking any medical training, experience or licensure, has no standing upon which to contradict Dr. Hamid's opinion.

Use of Restraint Violated Policy Standards

Dr. LeBel alleged that:

> The use of restraint was not consistent with BHDC policies (BATES: 4342). According to the deposition testimony of S. Evans, Residential Services Director, restraint is to be used, "Only as an emergency measure but only if absolutely necessary to protect client or others from injury" (p.30); per ICF/CMS regulation 483.450(d)(5) and Evans (2022, p.32), "restraints must be designed and used so as not to cause physical injury to the client" (emphasis added) and implementation of behavior management policy and practices is done when an individual's actions are aggressive, disruptive, and/or present a danger to the individual or others, are managed with the least restrictive method (emphasis added)." In this case, less restrictive interventions were not documented and the client (DC) was not protected. The client (DC) was fatally injured as a result of unwarranted restraint. No injury to staff was documented and no threat of serious injury was documented. Furthermore, the unwarranted restraint used was not described, addressed or documented in the facility's policies or in DC's IPP, as required by federal regulation (483.450(b)(1)(IV)); it was, in fact, unauthorized. This use of restraint was not justified per BHDC policy.

Response: Dr. LeBel is incorrect on several points.
First, Dr. LeBel notes that "restraint is to be used, 'Only as an emergency measure but only if absolutely necessary to protect client or others from injury.'" Staff did not violate this directive. Based upon their training and experience, staff made a clinical judgment based upon the existing conditions. The need to protect themselves, Mr. Cains and others was met at the time that restraint was utilized.

Second, as noted above, Dr. LeBel has made a medical determination that the use of restraints caused harm. She is not qualified to offer such an opinion.
Third, a causal relationship between the use of restraint and vomiting, in this specific instance, has not been proven. The evidence indicates only that Mr. Cains vomited while restraints were applied. This association does not mean that a causal relationship exists. Dr. LeBel is not qualified to reach a conclusion about medical causality.

Third, Mr. Cains indicated that it was his intent to harm Mr. Mattson when Mr. Cains spat at Mr. Mattson and attempted to strike Mr. Mattson. These behaviors represented a potential for harm and were justifiably addressed by physical restraint. Mr. Mattson and other staff were fully compliant with BHDC policies when they used physical restraints in this emergency situation and attempted to prevent Mr. Cains from engaging in these behaviors.

Fourth, the deposition of Mr. Mattson indicates that he took specific steps to de-escalate the behavior and employ less restrictive procedures including blocking Mr. Cains attempt to physically harm.

Fifth, as noted above, Mr. Cains was not "fatally injured as a result of unwarranted restraint." Dr. LeBel failed to establish any causality in regard to the relationship between restraint use and vomiting.

Sixth. Dr. LeBel does not recognize that CMS allows the use of restraints for two general purposes. CMS states:

> The facility may employ physical restraint only -
>
> (i) As an integral part of an individual program plan that is intended to lead to less restrictive means of managing and eliminating the behavior for which the restraint is applied;
>
> (ii) As an emergency measure, but only if absolutely necessary to protect the client or others from injury; ((483.450(d)(1)(i-ii))

The conduct of staff in regard to this specific incident was in response to an emergency, In such an emergency, staff are not required to meet the conditions of (483.450(d)(1)(i). Emergency use of restraints is addressed in (483.450(d)(2)(i)

> Authorizations to use or extend restraints as an emergency must be:
>
> (i) In effect no longer than 12 consecutive hours; and
>
> (ii) Obtained as soon as the client is restrained or stable

In such emergency situations, the documentation occurs after the restraint procedure, rather than preceding it.

It is important to note that CMS has determined, through its survey procedure, that BHDC is compliant with all required aspects of behavioral service. Dr. LeBel's unilateral determination that BHDC is in violation of CMS standards is contradicted by CMS itself.

Use of Restraint Violated BHDC Staff Training and Practice Standards

Dr. LeBel alleged that:

> DC died as a result of being physically restrained by staff on the floor/ground. According to the deposition of BHDC Staff Development Coordinator and Non-Violent Crisis Intervention Restraint Trainer (Hise, 2022):• (p. 21, 18-20): "The only reason that they would use the transition to the ground is putting a resident in mechanical restraint." • (p. 22, 8-9): "I do not teach staff to hold a resident on the ground." • (p. 22,19-21): "The training that we teach in NCI is a standing personal hold and a seated personal hold. There is no on-the-ground personal hold." • (p. 24, 20+): "... use verbal strategies to de-escalate and redirection also teach blocking, stepping back..."• (p. 25): "In the supported stance, if a resident was coming at you, you would put your hands up and deflect and step away." • (p. 28, 6) "No, sir; do not restrain by yourself, use a supported stance to prevent falling over, if restraint on the ground, then prepare for mechanical restraint."• (p. 34*) So Booneville Human Development Center does not authorize the use or train staff in the use of restraining clients on the ground except when doing so for the specific purpose of transitioning to a mechanical restraint; correct? Hise's Answer: "Correct."* BHDC Staff Development Coordinator and Restraint Trainer Mark Hise affirms that the fatal restraint used on DC was not authorized, that the facility did not adhere to relevant restraint-related policies, and BHDC direct care staff did not follow the training they were provided.

There are several steps the Respondent should have taken to prevent this situation including but not limited to:

1) Adhering to international, federal, state, and facility standards identified above,
2) Adhering to AR DDS policy 311-D,
3) Adhering to BDHC relevant policies,
4) Using only BHDC approved and taught restraint methods,
[redacted]
6) Not laying hands on and grabbing DC's arms,
7) Attempting non-violent de-escalation techniques, both before initiating the restraint and after DC was taken to the ground, when staff could have simply given DC space as opposed to forcefully holding him on the ground,
8) Per Hise (2022), following BHDC restraint training and NCI protocol and using supportive stance blocking and/or a pivoting technique, particularly if there was a location/position concern,
9) Adopting an organized approach to preventing the use of restraint such as the Six Core Strategies© or Ukeru which was developed with a DD population,
10) Allocating resources to train, retrain, and support/maintain staff competence in restraint prevention and establishing a culture of non-violence,
11) Teaching staff to not restrain any patient with a comorbidity that compromises digestion, respiration, cardiac functioning, etc.,

12) Obtaining external consultation to more effectively respond to DC's distress without hands-on procedures, e.g., considered safety circles, Ukeru approach (blocking pads and ensuring soft

[redacted]

16) Emphasizing restraint prevention and implementing effective alternatives to restraint use such as sensory-based approaches and other methods for staff to support clients in distress without hands-on procedures,
17) Ensuring greater medical oversight of the use of restraint including nursing presence for initiating, monitoring, and determination of earliest possible release,
18) Explicitly prohibiting ground restraint unless medically contraindicated,
19) Developing an organizational action plan of restraint prevention/reduction with a committee representing leadership, staff and families/persons-served.

In short, the Respondent should know the standard of care is rising. In an era of evidenced-based practice, accountability to the persons-served and others is owed. Exemplar programs and organizations serving a similar population have done significant work in creating low/no restraint services for people with developmental disabilities. This information should have compelled the organization to action to change their use of restraint with persons-served creating a safer environment of care for staff and patients alike.

Response:

This section of Dr. LeBel's report, perhaps the most important in the entire document, must be placed in the context of Dr. LeBel's ideological beliefs in order to be fully understood.

In January 2007, CMS's Final Rule governing patients' rights went into effect. The revisions to CMS standards were viewed as a setback in the opinion of some professionals, including Dr. LeBel, who have advocated for the elimination of seclusion and restraint in federally-funded facilities. In 2008, Dr. LeBel published a manuscript denouncing the regulatory change abd calling for an alternative approach to standard setting – one which would rely upon local quality improvement practices (LeBel. 2008):

> However, a new challenge to the national effort has emerged. In January 2007 CMS's Final Rule governing patients' rights went into effect (7). The Final Rule appears to move to a centrist position, dilute previous protections, focus on "safe" seclusion and restraint practices despite identifying their risks, and ultimately retreat from the standard-setting high ground claimed during the seven years the Interim Final Rule was in place. (LeBel 2008, Page 195)

In spite of her acknowledgement that the new regulations were more "centrist," Dr. LeBel called out mainstream advocacy and professional groups for their support of the revisions:

> It appears that CMS ultimately yielded to some of the most influential stakeholders who were among the 4,200 Interim Final Rule commenters, including the American Medical Association, the American Psychiatric Association, the American Hospital Association, and the National Association of Psychiatric Health Systems. These provider groups ... lobbied against the Interim Final Rule. (LeBel 2008, Page 195)

Dr. LeBel and her colleagues, most notably Kevin Ann Huckshorn who was cited as a contributor to the 2008 critique, were undaunted. Dr. LeBel proposed that advocates for the elimination of seclusion and restraint focus their efforts on States and specific facilities. She noted that these jurisdictions could implement policies and procedures which exceeded the "minimal standards" contained in the new CMS regulations:

> Ultimately, advancing seclusion and restraint standards is in the hands of facility and agency administrators. (LeBel 2008, Page 195)

However, Dr. LeBel went further, calling for a more activist role on the part of professionals seeking to in achieve the changes to clinical practice which she advocates. She stated that standard-setting entities, most likely including States, facilities, legislators and the Courts, should challenge this regulatory retreat:

> The failure to recognize these advances and incorporate this knowledge into the new standards not only threatens practice gains but also has spurred legal advocates to analyze the impact of this change, examine federal statutory language, and consider challenging this regulatory retreat (Huckshorn K, personal communication, March 19, 2007). In a quality improvement model, states and facilities must not rely on national standard-setting entities to lead change toward preventing and even eliminating seclusion and restraint. (Page 196)

It is worth noting that while Dr. LeBel incorporates 13 references in support of her opinions, her beliefs are not widely supported and the references provide only the thinnest of justifications for her opinions. In many respects, she is merely referencing her own thinking. For example, Kevin Ann Huckshorn, noted as a contributor to LeBel (2008), is the lead author of 3 of the references in the Cains Report. (Dr. LeBel's CV indicates that she served as a member of Dr.

Huckshorn's Doctoral Dissertation Committee or Doctoral Dissertation Discussant. In addition, Dr. LeBel is a co-author of all three of the citations.) Four references are to depositions collected in this matter. Documents prepared by the United Nations (UN) and World Health organization (WHO) and a British charity are also included. The list of references also includes one basic science article (Clark and Harris, 2004). Finally, there is one reference to CMS and that applies only to psychiatric hospitals.

It is self-evident that Dr, LeBel's opinions fall outside of the mainstream of thinking on the current standard of care for facilities such as BHDC. Dr. LeBel's dissatisfaction with the "centrist" opinion of CMS indicates that her opinions cannot be considered to be representative of the majority opinion of her peers regarding the standard of care for the use of seclusion and restraint. Further, given her non-centrist position on these issues, it is reasonable to question whether she can describe the standard of care for the use of seclusion or restraint at all. Having broadly rejected the appropriateness of seclusion and restraint in general, how could she define their appropriate use in the specific instance of Mr. Cains? Therefore, she does not appear to be qualified to offer an opinion that would reasonably reflect the current standard of care in the field.

In addition, Dr. LeBel likely sees her consultation as an opportunity to practice the same "legal advocacy" that she called for in 2008. As she noted,

> In a quality improvement model, states and facilities must not rely on national standard-setting entities to lead change toward preventing and even eliminating seclusion and restraint. (LeBel 2008, Page 196)

This language ties closely to the specific critique offered of care at BHDC:

> In an era of evidenced-based practice, accountability to the persons-served and others is owed. (LeBel Report, Page 10.)

Quality improvement is an approach to practice which involves constant revisions to practice parameters. As noted by CMS:

> Quality is defined by the National Academy of Medicine as the degree to which health services for individuals and populations increase the likelihood of desired health outcomes and are consistent with current professional knowledge.
>
> Quality improvement is the framework used to systematically improve care. Quality improvement seeks to standardize processes and structure to reduce variation, achieve predictable results, and improve outcomes for patients, healthcare systems, and organizations. (accessed on 1/5/2023 at https://www.cms.gov/Medicare/Quality-Initiatives-Patient-Assessment-Instruments/MMS/Quality-Measure-and-Quality-Improvement-

#:~:text-Quality%20improvement%20is%20the%20framework,%2C%20healthcare%20systems%2C%20and%20organizations.)

Quality improvement is a dynamic process which can result in changes to care practices, However, quality improvement outcomes do not represent the standard of care. The results of quality improvement are highly variable depending upon the area of study, the target population, local resources and other factors and conditions, proposed interventions, and the types of data collected and their analysis. To suggest, as does Dr. LeBel, that quality improvement approaches supersede the existing standard of care is inappropriate.

However, this philosophy explains Dr. LeBel's opinions in the Cains matter. Having implied that quality improvement represents the standard of care, Dr. LeBel gives herself the latitude to specify what "improvements" "should" be made at BHDC in order to meet this new standard. This approach results in her making recommendations for 19 specific changes to practice at BHDC. In Dr. LeBel's thinking, BHDC cannot meet the "standard of care": without implementation of these requirements. She sees herself, and her role in the Cains matter, in heroic terms:

> Without forthright, consistent leadership to elevate practice standards, the possibility of seclusion and restraint "regulatory scotoma" looms large— (Lebel 2008, Page 196)

Dr. LeBel's use of this consultation as an opportunity to "elevate practice standards" rather than function in a more "centrist" role as an arbiter of the current standard of care is readily transparent. She states:

> Exemplar programs and organizations serving a similar population have done significant work in creating low/no restraint services for people with developmental disabilities. This information should have compelled the organization to action to change their use of restraint with persons-served creating a safer environment of care for staff and patients alike. (LeBel Report, Pages 10-11)

At this point, Dr. LeBel is no longer discussing the standard of care. She is advocating for the elimination of restraints at BHDC – a position which is inconsistent with the standard of care. In regard to specific claims made by Dr. LeBel in this section, Dr. LeBel claims that:

> "DC died as a result of being physically restrained by staff on the floor/ground."

However, reaching such a conclusion would require Dr. LeBel to make a medical judgment, something which she is not qualified to do. Dr. LeBel assumes that since Mr. Cains vomited while he was being restraint, the restraints caused him to vomit. The simultaneous occurrence of two events does not determine causality. No evidence has been presented to establish causality. Indeed, BHDC staff dny any knowledge that such an association may exist. As noted by Mr. Hise:

> Q Uh-huh. Okay.
> A I personally never heard of a death due to a restraint incident and choking together.
> Q I'm sorry. Say that again.
> A In my career, I haven't experienced a choking death with a resident during a restraint procedure. (Hise Deposition, Page 41)

This perspective was shared by Dr. Hamid:

> Q If you could, finish your thought for me about in the real world. In the real world, what? I don't quite understand what you meant there.
> A I mean, I have not come across any case studies that the patient who was physically restrained ended up choking to death because of that physical restraint. I have not seen any case reports. It has not come in my practice, you know, even working at BHDC here and other facilities.
> (Hamid Deposition, Page 38)

In addition, Dr, LeBel stated that:

> BHDC Staff Development Coordinator and Restraint Trainer Mark Hise affirms that the fatal restraint used on DC was not authorized, that the facility did not adhere to relevant restraint-related policies, and BHDC direct care staff did not follow the training they were provided.

This was not the case. Mr. Hise repeatedly stated that he was unaware of the specific circumstances around the restraint and death of Mr. Cains and could not render an opinion about the quality of care that was rendered.

> So if a staff member, if a direct care staff member, were to hold a client on the ground because that client is having a behavior episode and that staff member were to hold that client on the ground, restrain that client while they're on the ground for several minutes, hoping the client will calm down, would that be an improper restraint?
> A I really don't have enough information to speculate on that. That's -- you know, I don't know the details of the situation. (Hise Deposition, Page 21)

And:

> But, assuming he's telling the truth about being close to that ledge, couldn't he still have sidestepped away? Couldn't he have sidestepped away to avoid the client and the ledge?
> A It's kind of hard to say, I mean, unless you're in that situation yourself. I mean, I can't -- I don't want to say that he did the wrong thing or did the right thing. I can't really say. (Hise Deposition, Page 54)

Dr. Lebel mistakenly implies that the NCI curriculum used to train staff on behavioral management techniques represents actual BHDC policy. It does not. The curriculum cited by Dr. LeBel is used for educational not regulatory purposes. Although they were not specifically asked, staff could have reasonably believed that the application of personal holds on the ground was less restrictive than the application of personal holds followed by the use of a mechanical restraint (Papoose Board).

As is evident from the results of regular CMS surveys, BHDC demonstrates a high level of compliance with CMS policy. In contrast, there is no expectation that staff will master and consistently apply every element of the NCI curriculum. After all, staff are deemed to be proficient in behavioral techniques if they achieve a test score of 70%.

> Q And my understanding is, in order to pass, each person has to get 70 percent or better, at least 70 percent of the answers correct; is that right?
> A Correct.
> Q And that's both for the restraint portion of the test but then also just the overall score of their test as well?
> A Correct. (Hise Deposition, Page 15)

Effectively, the NCI curriculum represents a practice parameter in which substantial deviation from the curriculum is anticipated. (See Eddy D. A Manual for Assessing Health Practices and Designing Practice Policies: The Explicit Approach. American College of Physicians. 1992) As a result, Mr. Hise would expect a high degree of variation in the application of skills acquired as a result of the training he provides.

In regard to certification, the Crisis Prevention Institute (CPI) only certifies Trainers. CPI does not certify users or others who receive training in NCI. As noted by CPI:

> Nonviolent Crisis Intervention® Trainings previously concluded with a post-test and evaluation which measured that growth and learning goals were met.
> Now CPI Nonviolent Crisis Intervention® 2nd Edition Training concludes > with a classroom test to measure staff growth and determine if learning goals are met. The culmination of the program is also an opportunity for staff to take steps towards developing an action plan to implement the strategies learned in the program into everyday practice. (CPI Nonviolent Crisis Intervention® 2nd Edition Training Instructor Guidance Resource.)

Finally, Dr. LeBel includes a list of 19 specific actions which she states that BHDC "should have taken to prevent this situation." However, most of these recommendations are not contained within the standard of care embodied in CMS, AR DDS and BHDC regulations. Dr. LeBel justifies her recommendation that these 19 additional requirements are incorporated within the standard of care by stating:

> In short, the Respondent should know the standard of care is rising. In an era of evidenced-based practice, accountability to the persons-served and others is owed. Exemplar programs and organizations serving a similar population have done significant work in creating low/no restraint services for people with developmental disabilities. This information should have compelled the organization to action to change their use of restraint with persons-served creating a safer environment of care for staff and patients alike. (LeBel Report, Pages 10-11)

As noted previously, this paragraph represents Dr. LeBel's philosophy about restraint use. Her statement does not reflect the standard of care. However, Dr. LeBel's statement clearly demonstrates the underlying bias she holds against the role of CMS in setting the standard of care. In recommending that 19 additional requirements be met in order for BHDC to meet the standard of care, Dr. LeBel denies the validity of the role of CMS in setting standards of care. She suggests that the standard of care is "rising" but offers no definition of what she means or why this should.d be the case. To suggest that BHDC is required by the standard of care to be "an exemplar program or organization" and deliver "low/no restraint services for people with developmental disabilities" is simply an exercise in advocacy, mirroring what she has articulated in her publications – that having moved to a "centrist" position, CMS should not be relied upon to define the standard of care. She has called for "legal advocates" should focus their efforts on effecting change at the State and facility level. In regard to the matter of evaluating whether or not BJHDC met the standard of care in rendering care to Mr. Cains, these opinions, and the burden of additional requirements needed to meet the standard of care, are simply not relevant.

Opinion Two: The respondent facility's emergency response policy fell below the standard of care.

Dr. LeBel stated that:

The Respondent facility's policy, which prevented non-medical staff from calling 911, created an unnecessary obstacle to emergency response and life-saving intervention. The artificial layer of on-site communication created a dangerous circumstance for DC and all residents and likely contributed to DC's death. This approach to emergency intervention no longer occurs in other DDS state systems, such as Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Washington. Massachusetts DDS policies have required staff working in DDS settings to report events that they have reason to believe are harmful, including calling 911, since 1999 (#1999-4). New Jersey DDS enacted Danielle's Law in 2003 requiring staff working in services for people with intellectual/developmental or traumatic brain injury to call 911 when there is a life-threatening emergency to prevent delayed medical response Division of Developmental Disabilities | Danielle's Law (nj.gov). Washington state encourages staff and caretakers serving people with developmental disabilities to dial 911 and reach out online in the event of emergency circumstances (Report Concerns Involving Vulnerable Adults | DSHS (wa.gov)).

Recognizing the importance of unimpeded 911 access, broad federal legislation (Kari's Law) enacted in 2020 establishes that employers have a duty of care and a legal responsibility to help protect anyone using their phone system. When an emergency call takes place from within an organizations' network and the caller cannot connect to 9-1-1, or if dispatchers cannot pinpoint the caller's location, the employer can be liable in the event of an unfavorable outcome due to a delayed response. New legislation has also introduced penalties for any business or organization that does not comply.

Response:

(1) As previously noted, Dr. LeBel has no standing as a medical expert and has no basis for offering an opinion as to the standard of care for the delivery of medical services, including emergency medical services, at a facility such as BHDC.

(2) As previously noted, Dr. LeBel has stated that CMS regulations are the standard of care for the delivery of health care services at ICF IDDs including BHDC. CMS conducts surveys of BHDC and has determined that the system of emergency response services at BHDC is reasonable and consistent with the standard of care for settings like BHDC which exist in rural, medically-understaffed areas. Dr. LeBel's opinion is inconsistent with that of CMS.

(3) As previously noted, Dr. LeBel has stated that CMS regulations are the standard of care for the delivery of health care services at ICF IDDs including BHDC. She has also noted that jurisdictions are permitted to provide additional services which may exceed the standard of care but that there is no Federal requirement for them to do so. Dr. LeBel has publicly expressed her frustration that CMS does not do more to restrict the use of restraints at publicly funded facilities. These opinions have no merit. The State of Arkansas is not obligated to implement the service system modifications described as currently in place in Massachusetts, New Jersey, or Washington nor is the State of Arkansas compelled to respond to Kari's Law or some other, irrelevant corporate mandate.

(4) Finally, Dr. LeBel claims that "the artificial layer of on-site communication created a dangerous circumstance for DC and all residents and likely contributed to DC's death." Based upon the available evidence (summarized in my general report), I most strongly disagree. In using its own staff, BHDC was able to provide emergency care to Mr. Cains within one to two minutes of the call for assistance. In contrast, it took 13 minutes after the 911 call for emergency medical services to arrive on campus and begin to provide care to Mr. Cains. Further, it took an additional 9 minutes for emergency medical personnel to achieve a partial reopening of the airway. There is no reason to believe that the outcome would have been any different if the partial opening of the airway occurred at 22 minutes rather than 24 minutes after the onset of the event.

C E R T I F I C A T E

STATE OF ARKANSAS)
)
COUNTY OF PULASKI)

I, DEBBYE L. PETRE, Certified Court Reporter in and for the County of Pulaski, State of Arkansas, duly commissioned and acting, do hereby certify that the above-entitled proceedings were taken by me in Stenotype, and were thereafter reduced to print by means of computer-assisted transcription, and the same fully, truly, and correctly reflects the proceedings had, with portions dependent on the quality of the Zoom audio.

I FURTHER CERTIFY that I am not attorney or counsel of any of the parties, nor am I relative or employee of any attorney or counsel or party connected with the action, and have no interest in the outcome or results of this proceeding.

WHEREFORE, I have subscribed my signature and seal as such court reporter in the City of Little Rock, County of Pulaski, State of Arkansas, this the 9th day of February, 2023.

DEBBYE L. PETRE, CCR #118
COURT REPORTER IN AND FOR PULASKI COUNTY, ARKANSAS

---o---

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFEE, AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS — CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of Deposition of Dian Elliott
(Taken January 23, 2023)

Direct Examination by DHS

Page 6:

Ms. Elliott works for the Department of Human Services, Office of Long Term Care. The Office of Long Term Care regulates nursing homes, ICFs, PRTFs. She has been with DHS for twelve years. She has an Associate degree in Medical Assisting, an Associate degree, RN, and a certificate for Legal Nurse Consulting. She has served as a certified nurse assistant and as a DON in a nursing home.

Page 7:

Ms. Elliott stated a DON is the Director of Nursing Services. She is familiar with Intermediate Care Facilities for individuals with Intellectual Disabilities. She said OLTC regulates ICF/IIDs, but it's really for CMS as they go in and survey to make sure the facility is following CMS regulations. She stated she did that at Booneville Human Development Center in June of 2020. She has performed close to 700 surveys in total.

Page 8:

Ms. Elliott stated she is a state employee but contracted through the CMS. CMS is the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. CMS is the federal government.

Surveyors must be certified by passing the CMS "State Minimum Qualification Testing." It is a national test. Ms. Elliott was first certified as nursing home surveyor and then she was certified to survey ICF/IIDs.

Page 8-9:

Ms. Elliott stated a survey is where you go in and you do regular reviews, observations and interviews, for compliance with the regulations. A survey is an inspection.
Ms. Elliott has been certified by CMS since 2001. She is trained by CMS for ICF/IIDs.

Page 10:

For ICF/IIDs there are annual surveys, which are the recertification surveys, and then there are complaint surveys. In each survey you make sure that the facility is following the regulations. The [ICF/IID] regulations are called Appendix J. That's the State Operations Manual. This is for the ICF facilities. [Appendix J is DHS Ex. 3].

Page 11:

Ms. Elliott stated she does surveys for ICF/IIDs. She estimated that she has done probably 400 or 500 surveys since she was certified in ICF/IIDs. A complaint survey is where either the facility, family, or anonymous caller complains about something regarding the facility. They then go out and investigate it.

Page 12:

> Q: When you go out to the facility, I think you has said earlier, you are looking for compliance?
> A: Yes.
> Q: Compliance with what?
> A: The CMS regulations.
> Q: And that would be Appendix J?
> A; Yes.

Page 13:

Ms. Elliott stated, during the survey, they do record reviews and interviews. They look at medical records and anything else that would have to do with the complaint including the master records and care plan. The purpose of the investigation is to determine compliance.

Page 14:

Ms. Elliott stated once they are done with the investigation, then they write up report and the [form] 2567, which is a Statement of Deficiencies, if there are any. The possible outcomes from a survey are :

- "Unsubstantiated" means that the event could have happened but at the time of the event and how the facility responded there was not any deficient practices that were identified.

- "Substantiated" means that the way the facility responded or what happened, that the event happened and that they were not in compliance with the federal regulations.

The federal regulations are Appendix J.

Page 15:

Q: All right. And so, the form that you use, that is called a 2567?

A: Yes.

Looking at the 2567 sent to the BHDC, Ms. Elliott testified the survey was completed 6-30-20. Per the back page, they conducted an infection control survey for COVID and a complaint survey.

Page 16:

Ms. Elliott stated the complaints are identified on the back page. She conducted this survey. All three complaints investigated were "unsubstantiated." Complaint number 26043 is related to David Cains. The others were unrelated to David Cains.[1]

Page 17:

Ms. Elliott identified DHS Exhibit 1 as the Form 2567. Form 2567 never has resident names on it. Her office determines whether there were any deficiencies found based upon her investigation.

[1] Note for context: It was later clarified that there were two complaints which Ms. Elliott surveyed and reported on the Form 2567 which were related to David Cains: Complaint number 26043 and Complaint number 25996. Elliott depo pp. 39-40. Elliott depo Exhibits 2 and 3 [DHS Trial Ex. 5B, 5C]. They both were unsubstantiated. See Elliott depo. Ex. 1 -Form 2567 [DHS Trial Ex. 5A].

Q: And what was the outcome of that determination?
A: That there were no deficient practices.

Page 18:

Ms. Elliott identified deposition Exhibit 2 as the "Complaint Investigation Report" which was completed on July 1, 2020 for the BHDC [DHS Trial Ex. 5B]. Its reflects that she exited BHDC on 6-30-20 at 3:07 p.m.

Page 19-20:

Ms. Elliott stated she reviewed all the documents listed under Section 4 and conducted staff interviews of an LPN and three RCTs. She testified as to which the regulations looked at for the investigation, including W127.

Page 21-22:

Ms. Elliott stated W127 references federal regulations in Appendix J. Ms. Elliott stated 127 is "To ensure that clients are not subjected to physical, verbal, sexual, or psychological abuse or punishment." That is what she was determining in her investigation as to whether the facility, Booneville Human Development Center complied with. She found BHDC was compliance with this regulation.

Page 23-24:

The next regulation Ms. Elliott look at was W128 which provides "Ensure that clients are free from unnecessary drugs and physical restraints and are provided active treatment to reduce dependency on drugs and physical restraints."

Q: Okay. And so, you know that during the course of this incident with regard to David Cains that you were investigating there was a restraint utilized; correct?
A: Yes.
Q: Now, under this [W128] and from the Office of Long Term Care policy, are restraints allowed?
A: Yes.
* * *
Q: What were you looking for in 128?

A: To make sure there was adequate reason to apply physical restraint.

Q: Okay. With regard to this particular regulation, W128, what was your determination as to whether the facility complied?
A: They were in compliance with this regulation.

In relation to David Cains, W153 would be to make sure that the required notifications were made.

Page 25:

Ms. Elliott stated W154 requires "The facility must have evidence that all alleged violations are thoroughly investigated." She testified she determined the facility investigated the incident and reviewed the facility's investigative report, which included the incident, who was involved, when it happened., what the facility did to protect any other clients and that staff responded correctly. She found that the facility was in compliance with the regulations.

Page 26:

Ms. Elliott stated W285 is to "make sure that everything was done correctly to try to ensure that there was no harm to the client." She stated that W285 allows interventions to manage inappropriate client activity and behaviors.

Page 26-28:

She stated W285 says: "Interventions to manage inappropriate client behavior must be employed with sufficient safeguards and supervision to ensure that the safety, welfare and civil and human rights of clients are adequately protected."

Q: And so, were you able to – based upon your investigation, observations, and interviews, were you able to determine whether there was compliance with that section [W285]?
A: I was.
Q: Okay. Was there?
A: Yes.

Ms. Elliott testified that W286 provides "No intervention was – physical restraint cannot be applied for disciplinary actions." With regard to the complaint of the death of David Cains, she testified the physical restraint was not applied for disciplinary purposes.

> Q: -- were you able to determine whether the physical restraint applied prior to the incident was for disciplinary purposes?
> A: It was not.
> Q: What was it for?
> A: It was a safety for the client and for the staff.
> * * *
> Q: Okay. They were compliant?
> A: Yes.

Page 28:

Ms. Elliott stated W331 says: "The facility must provide clients with nursing services in accordance with their needs." She determined "[t]he facility was in compliance based upon her investigation.

Cross-examination by Claimant

Page 30:

Ms. Elliott stated she reviewed notes, the 2567, the complaint report, and Mr. Cains IPP in preparation for the deposition.

Page 31:

The investigation at the facility took one day. It was from 8:40 a.m. until 3:07 p.m.

Page 33:

The reason there can be more than one complaint is if more than one person calls in a complaint. It could be the facility, family or staff.

Page 39-40

 At this point, a clarification was made that DHS deposition Exhibit 2 pertains to Complaint No. 26043 and deposition Exhibit 3 was introduced by DHS with regard Complaint No. 25996. [2]

[2] Note for context: These are DHS Trial Exhibits 5B and 5C.

Pages 40-42

Ms. Elliott was questioned by counsel for claimant about the various categories labelled and boxes checked on the Complaint Investigation Form by Ms. Elliott during the survey.

Page 43-44:

Ms. Elliott testified that although there is a separate category for noncompliance for abuse and neglect, she testified:

- "And I don't make the categories that they are listed under."
- "Whatever the complaint is, I will investigate what it is.
- "I do not just stick with these categories. This is just something that the office lists them under." [3]

Ms. Elliott states they [the office] chooses the category. She testified she does not choose the category listed.

> Q: Would that suggest that there was no complaint related to restraint usage?
> A: No, that's not what that suggests. What it is, is that they put it underneath that category. When I investigate it, I look at the whole complaint. And because it had to do with a restraint, I also looked at that, also. [4] [3] Note for context: Counsel is questioning Ms. Elliott only on how the complaint allegations were characterized by the office as reflected deposition Exhibits 2 and 3, which identifies the category of the complaint allegations. It is questioning on how the office identified the what the category the category allegations fell under. Counsel is not questioning Ms. Elliott on the actual regulations investigated or the facility's compliance with those regulations. While both complaints pertained to David Cains, despoition Ex. 2 listed "Quality of Care/Treatment" as the category based on Complaint 26043 and "Accidents/Supervision" as the category based on Complaint 24996.

Page 46:

---

[4] Note for context: Ms. Elliott already testified she (1) was aware a restraint was utilized during the behavior, and (2) and investigated the complaint under, among other regulations, W128 which pertains to whether the restraint was unnecessary.

Ms. Elliott testified that Mr. Cains had been restrained on either his left or right side and then vomited. The nurses responded but were not able to clear the airway. EMS responded, transported him to the hospital where Mr. Cains died. She stated "I know that it was just a hold to keep him from hurting himself."

Page 55:

> Q: In reviewing your notes, does anything stick out to you as particularly relevant to this case that you wanted to tell one of us?
> A: Just that as far as the staff was concerned, they responded the way they needed to.

Page 58:

> Q: Okay. And for purposes of this investigation, which client care areas were part of your survey?
> A: The abuse, neglect, and restraints.

Page 59:

> A: But, no, I mean, it – you know but I looked at the – I looked at the circumstances around his death."

Page 63-65

Ms. Berry stated she investigates facility compliance with the regulations. If a staff member violated the regulations' it would be on the facility, yes." For a facility to be in compliance o noncompliance it would be based on what the people working there do or not do. If a staff member did something in violation of the regulations, she would cite the facility.

Page 68-69:

If staff were to commit physical or verbal abuse, sexual, psychological abuse, the facility must take steps to ensure that it does not happen again and clients are protected. "I look at the staff's actions, and then I look at the response the facility took related to the staff's actions."

Page 71:

Appendix J is the only set of policies she uses as a surveyor to determine facility compliance.

Page 72:

Appendix J covers restraint use.

Page 73:
She is aware the facility also has it own policies.

Page 75-77:
She reviewed Exhibit #3. [5]

Page 77-80:
There were two complaints because the facility could have reported the incident to OLTC and somebody else may have reported it such as family. It is for the same client. Exhibit 3 states it was reported by the facility because it says "IRIS Generated Complaint."

Page 82:
She interviewed the same LPN and the three RCTs for this complaint as she did for Exhibit 2.[6]

Page 85:
In response to a question for Counsel for Complaint, again, about the category of the allegation noted on the narrative form, Ms. Elliott testified:

> A: That's correct because that is not the category the office listed. Though restraints were --- the restraint categories was looked at on both of them [complaints]. But when we write our – under Decision-Making and Closing Remarks, we use the category that the office decided to put on the intake form.

---

[5] Note for context: Counsel is again questioning Ms. Elliott only on how the complaint allegations were characterized by the office as reflected deposition Exhibit 3, which identifies the category of the complaint allegations. It is questioning on how the office identified what the category the category allegations fell under. Counsel is not questioning Ms. Elliott on the actual regulations investigated or the facility's compliance with those regulations. While both complaints pertained to David Cains, despoition Ex. 2 listed "Quality of Care/Treatment" as the category based on Complaint 26043 and "Accidents/Supervision" as the category based on Complaint 24996.

[6] Note for context: Although there were two complaints regarding David Cains, Ms. Elliott had already testified that survey on these was conducted on June 30, 2020. See Elliott depo. p. 31.

Page 88-89:

A: I determined that the facility did not violate [W]127.
Q: Okay. Do you think perhaps the individual staff members abused Mr. Cains?
A: Not according to the investigation that I did.
Q: Okay. And specifically, what is the basis for your opinion that staff members did not physically abuse Mr. Cains?
A: Because during my investigation I could not – I did not determine that there was any abuse or neglect by the staff."
Q: Would you agree with me that unnecessary – unnecessary physical restraint is a form of abuse?
A: Unnecessary?
Q: Unnecessary.
A: Yes.
Q: Look at 128, tag 128.
Q: What does this regulation require?
A: That there is a reason to place a client in a physical restraint or give them drugs that would alter their mental state.
Q: This is a prohibition on unnecessary physical restraint; correct?
A: It's a regulation on unnecessary physical restraint. [7]

Page 90-93:

Ms. Elliott testified the incident was "thoroughly" investigated by the facility in their internal maltreatment investigation, which was reported to OLTC within the five days as required, because the facility conducted their interviews. She makes sure the interviews were conducted. She further testified she does her own investigation and does not reply on what the facility had done. She stated:

> "I determine myself whether they are in compliance with it [federal regulations] So I do not rely on their investigation, I completely do my own from step one."

Part of the compliance with the regulation is that the facility conducted an investigation.

Page 96:

[7] Note for context: The restraint on David Cains during his behavioral episode was necessary and, as a result, she found no abuse or neglect.

Counsel then asked about Appendix J 276 which she stated required the facility to develop and implement written policies governing inappropriate client behavior.[8]

Page 100:

> Q: All interventions – I'm going to read this. "All interventions for management of inappropriate client behaviors which are approved for use in the facility are clearly stated and described in its policy." Did I read that correctly?
> A: Yes.

Page 104:

Counsel the Claimant then asked the witness about the regulations on the least restrictive technique used. Ms. Elliott testified that "The specific techniques that have been determined through assessment have been to be least restrictive for each client." [9]

[8] Note for context: This line of questioning is misleading for two reasons. First, this is not one of the regulations listed by Ms. Elliott. Second it is undisputed that the facility had written policies governing inappropriate client behavior. See DHS Trial Ex. 4 - DDS Policy 3011-D "Behavior Management." Moreover, Mr. Cains 2019 IPP addressed his "physical aggression" behaviors on pp. 9-10. See 2019 IPP – DHS Trial Ex. 10. The IPP authorized both Category I procedures (3011-D) and emergency procedures.

[9] Note for context: The CMS State Operations Manual, W278 – DHS Ex. 3 – states: "In emergency situations where unanticipated behavior requires immediate protection of the client or others, the technique chosen is the least restrictive appropriate technique possible." (emphasis added). It is unclear why counsel is inquiring about this regulation as the restraint employed was (1) authorized in the 2019 IPP (DHS Ex. 10, pp. 9-10), (2) authorized in DDS Policy 3011-D (DHS Ex. 4), and (3) is deemed the least restrictive pursuant to CMS State Operations Manual W278 (DHS Ex. 3, Section W278).

Page 108-109:

Ms. Elliott explained that under the federal regulations, the IPP says the IPP should state the type of restraint but the IPP does not have to describe them. [10]

Page 115:

> Q: For example, if a facility allowed clients to be physically restrained in a seated position, you would agree that would need to addressed in the facility's policies and procedures.
> A: No. [11]

Page 118:

She testified she looked at tag 280.

Page 121:

---

[10] Note for context*: See* Note 7 above. The 2019 IPP (DHS Ex. 10) states: In the event that symptoms persist at a rate that interferes with programming, staff may employ Category I procedures (DDS 3011-D) , TACT, or other Center emergency procedures if necessary, to protect from injury to client or others." DDS 3011-D is the "Behavioral Management" policy which identifies the types of physical restraints authorized including, for Mr. Cains, the Category I restraints and emergency restraints identified in the 2019 IPP on pp. 9-10. The type of restraints authorized are identified. David Cains was on the floor because he and Mr. Mattson toppled over when Mr. Cains "charged" or "went after" Mr. Mattson and made physical contact with him. See Counsel for Claimant's factually representation, on the record, that Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains toppled over. Hamid depo. pp. 26-27; see also Mattson OLTC statement, DHS Trial Ex. 13.

[11] Note for context: David Cains' IPP authorized emergency restraints for safety of the client and others without qualification or restriction. Neither the IPP nor federal regulation distinguish, as counsel is attempting to do, whether the restraint for safety may be employed on the floor, seated, or standing. Emergency mechanical restraints take place while the client is on the floor being physically restrained.

> Q: Hypothetically, if you learned in your investigation that this was an unauthorized restraint that was used on David on the ground, could that have changed the outcome of your survey?
> A: It's possible that it could have as far as the use of an unauthorized restraint, yes. As far as the facility being responsible for his death, probably not*.*

Pages 126-134:

Counsel asked a series of questions regarding the least restrictive technique to be used to restrain, when necessary, for safety. Ms. Elliott replied "yes." [12]

Page 139:

Ms. Elliott, again, testified "I do my own investigation" and "I do not go by what their facility has investigated."

Page 141:

> Q: Ms. Elliott, what if [hypothetically] one of the three staff members involved in the restraint on David Cains on this day also told you that the restraint used was not the least restrictive option available, would that have been important information to your survey?
> Mr. Rosen: Objection. W278 Guidance tells us what the least restrictive is in an emergency situation.
> A: I would have had to decide myself whether the least restrictive was used, because staff will say whatever about other staff if they don't like them. So, I use my evidence. [13]

---

[12] Note for context: Counsel for Claimant never actually asked the witness whether the physical restraint used was, in fact, the least restrictive. Factually, Ms. Elliott never stated that the physical restraint for safety was not the least restrictive. More restrictive restraints would have included mechanical restraints and chemical restraints; neither of which were utilized that day. Per CMS Appendix J, W278 (DHS Ex. 3), "In emergency situations where unanticipated behavior requires immediate protection of the client or others, the technique chosen is the least restrictive appropriate technique possible." (emphasis added).

[13] Note for context. See Notes 5 and 11 above regarding what Appendix J, W278, states about what is deemed the least restrictive" technique in an emergency situation.

Redirect Examination by DHS

Q: But under W296, which counsel, I believe asked you about earlier, are restraints allowed as an emergency measure to protect the client from harm or others from injury?

A: Yes.

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, BAR No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
PO Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES
(BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of Deposition of SYED HAMID, M.D.
(Taken May 26, 2022)

Page 5:

Dr. Hamid was David Cains' doctor.

Page 6:

Dr. Hamid is the medical physician in the BHDC. He an internist and hospitalist. Dr. Hamid started working at Booneville in 2007. He was there at least three days a week, including clinics. Dr. Hamid is hospitalist at Mercy Hospital.

Page 7:

Dr. Hamid stated he would see David Cains in the clinic for medical evaluations and yearly physicals but that is all the recollection that he has of him. He stated there are other physicians that come there including a psychiatrist and neurologist.

Page 8:

Dr. Hamid said whatever is discussed in IPP meeting is brought to his attention

Page 9:

Dr. Hamid testified that BHDC clients sometimes need early chemical intervention. Dr. Hamid said he does not recall ever being approached or ever being asked to approve a physical restraint on David Cains he would be restrained on the ground.[1]

[1] Note for context: [redacted] Later in Dr. Hamid's deposition, on page 28, lines 1-4, Counsel for Claimant represented to Dr. Hamid that that "there was a struggle of some sort and the sort of topple over onto the ground. And I'll represent to you that that's how he got to the ground."

Page 10:

[redacted]

Page 11:

Dr. Hamid said he does not recall it ever coming across his radar that a particular client was being restrained in an improper way physically, specifically on the ground. [redacted][2]

Page 13:

[redacted]

Page 14:

[redacted]

Page 15-16:

[redacted]

[2] Note for context: As noted by counsel, the order was unsigned and bears a print date on June 15, 2020; two days after Mr. Cains died. As Dr. Hamid testified, it appears this document was prepared to be an update for Mr. Cains but he had already passed away by the date it was printed for review and signature.

[redacted]

Page 17:

[redacted]

Page 18:

[redacted]

Page 20:

Dr. Hamid gave an example [when asked] of the type of resident who would be placed on the do not restrain list stating when you have a client with bad back problems, he would not put that client on a restraint.

Page 24:

Dr. Hamid stated he had not spoken with any other staff members about what happened on that day. [redacted] He said this is what he read and that's all he knows about it.

Page 25:

His understanding of what happened from the records he reviewed is that after lunch David Cains started kicking, yelling, biting and the staff attempted to settle him. He then vomited [redacted]

Page 27-28:

> Mr. Gillispie: I'll also represent to you that a behavior occurred. David and a staff member named Tyler Matson end up on the ground. How exactly David landed on the ground, whether he landed on his face, on his back, it's not crystal clear at this point, but he -- according to Mr. Matson, there was a struggle of some sort and they sort of topple over onto the ground. And I'll represent to you that that's how he got to the ground. Are you with me so far?
>
> Dr. Hamid: Yes, I am.

Page 31:

> Q: My question to you is, given your knowledge of David's history and your years of treating David, given the medical conditions that he suffered from, are you able to – do you have any opinion as to what might have triggered that vomiting that led to his choking and his death from a medical standpoint?
>
> A: It is impossible to be definite about what happened.

Page 32:

> Mr. Gillespie: I'll represent to you that the paramedic who responded to the scene claims that he was given faulty information, specifically says that I think a female nurse told him that David had choked on his food while eating his food and omitted the part about the ground restraint. Frankly, I don't really care about that part. It's not important to my case.

[redacted]

Page 34:

[redacted]

Page 35-36:

[redacted]

Page 37:

Dr. Hamid testified:

> I have not come across any case studies that the patient who was physically restrained ended up choking to death because of that physical restraint. I have not seen any case reports. It has not come in my practice, you know, even working at BHDC and other facilities.

Page 39:

Dr. Hamid said he doesn't disagree about the danger of physical restraints but explained, if there is no time for a chemical intervention, you have to hold this client because he is [behaving in a manner] which is a danger to himself or others. Dr. Hamid said a risk with restraining a client on the ground is the physical assault of putting him on the ground, breaking a bone, or asphyxiation depending on how much physical strength is being used.[3]

Page 40:

[redacted]

Page 41:

> Q: Is it your opinion that the physical restraint likely had nothing to do with his death"
> A: I have no way to confirm on that, but I don't think so.

Page 42:

Dr. Hamid said extreme agitation can trigger a heart attack and can trigger a stroke but testified "I don't know if it can" trigger vomiting. It's a possibility..

Page 43:

[redacted]

[3] Note for context: Per Tyler Matteson and as represented by Counsel on pp. 27-28 above, David Cains was not taken to the ground but, instead, "toppled over" after making physical contact with Tyler Mattson during a struggle.

[4] Note for context: [redacted]

Page 44:

> Q: Is vomiting more likely to lead to choking if a person is on the ground as opposed to if they're standing upright?
> A: It can, you know, but, again, if you are in a left lateral position, then less chance, you know.[5]

Page 47:

Dr. Hamid explained it is a standard precaution if somebody is aspirating to put them in left lateral position so that the secretions are not going to the throat. Instead, he explained, they will just drool out through the angle of the mouth.

> Q: …but it's your opinion or your belief that most likely this physical restraint whereby David was taken to the ground and held on the ground did not have anything to do with his death.
> A: I don't think so.[6]

Page 48-49:

> Q: … is it your position that most likely that restraint event did not in any way lead to David's death? Did I state your position correctly? Is that you position, yes, no, or ---
> A: Its unlikely, but I cannot promise.

Dr. Hamid explained that he was not present and does not know how much force was used but reiterated that it was "unlikely."

Page 50:

Dr. Hamid further explained that, looking of the medical records, it does not look likely that that amount of force was used that led to his choking episode or event.

---

[5] Note for context: David Cains was in a left lateral position.

[6] Note for context: Although counsel repeatedly uses the term "taken to the ground" in his questioning, such characterization is inaccurate and even counsel has acknowledged and represented earlier that they simply "toppled over" during the struggle. See above - Hamid depo pp. 27-28.

Page 61:

Dr. Hamid said this patient had an episode of vomiting on which he aspirated. He testified in looking at the records, what he sees does not seem to him that excessive force was applied. Then [redacted] [redacted] If one were overly sedated then anybody can aspirate if loaded up with medications that interfere with swallowing and too drowsy to swallow.

Page 63-64:

Page 67:

Dr. Hamid said aspiration is more of a risk in patients who are sedated and drowsy.

[redacted]

Dr. Hamid said David was in the left lateral position as required from what he sees in the documents.

Page 68:

[redacted]

Page 69:

[redacted]

[7] Note for context: [redacted]

[redacted]

Page 73:

[redacted]

Page 74:

Q: Again, he died because – he died after aspirating and choking. And your [redacted]

Page 76:

When (again) asked about aspiration, Dr. Hamid testified that, based on the documentation, it does not seem like there was any excessive force used. He testified Mr. Cains was in the left lateral position and that [redacted] So, again, that's my observation and that's – I cannot say it with certainty so that's why I said unlikely.

Page 78:

Dr. Hamid said he was aware that restraining clients on the ground for purposes other than transitioning to the mechanical restraints is disallowed.[9]

Page 79:

Dr. Hamid testified that, at that point in time, the restraint "was the only option." There was not time for chemical intervention. Dr. Hamid said they had to control him, and he never got that far

---

[8] Note for Context: Throughout the deposition Dr. Hamid often prefaces his testimony with "Again." Counsel for Claimant also periodically states "again" in his question to Dr. Hamid. The reason is because counsel repeatedly asks Dr. Hamid the same questions which elicits the same response from Dr. Hamid.

[9] Note for context: Mr. Cains was not transitioned to the ground. Both he and Mr. Mattson "toppled over" during the struggle when Mr. Cains made physical contact with Mr. Mattson. See above, pp. 27-28 for the chemical intervention because things happened so quickly. The documentation says he was kicking and hitting other people.

Page 80:

A: Again, I'm not there at this point in time.

Q: Well, why give me the opinion if you don't want to – you know, if you can't tell me –

A: Well, you kept asking me for my opinion.

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE,
as Special Administrator of the ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS — CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES
(BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of Deposition of Samuel Scow
(Taken May 5, 2022)

Direct Examination by Josh Gillispie

Page 5:

Samuel Scow is a paramedic for Logan County EMS. The difference between an EMT and a paramedic is the standard of care, level of care.

Page 6:

A paramedic is a higher level of care. Mr. Scow stated he responded to an emergency call at the Booneville Human Development Center on June 13, 2020.

Page 7:

On page three of exhibit 1, it shows the 9-1-1 call came in at 11:37 a.m. and the dispatch received the call at 11:37 a.m. The responders got in route at 11:38.

(Exhibit 1 is introduced - Logan County EMS patient care record)

Page 8:

[redacted]

Page 9:

[1] Note for context: Although Mr. Scow initially testified did not know with whom he spoke, he later confirmed he spoke with [redacted] Mr. Scow may have been told it happened at 11:30,but verified that there were no clocks in the lobby of the Commons building for any accurate time reference.

David Cains was in the hallway which was in the lobby. No one told him David had been restrained by staff members. Mr. Scow said he was never told about any sort of behavior incident or emergency incident that required David to be restrained.[2]

Mr. Scow stated he was told that the patient was found on the floor in hallway and he had choked on his lunch. Mr. Scow [initially] testified he did not know who he specifically talked to because "it was a pretty hectic scene and I just kind of interviewed as I am trying to do my interventions. He stated, "I do not always get to look at who's speaking in the eye or get their name."

Page 10:

Mr. Scow recalled there were three women there and one man who was "kind of a gofer to get things they needed.[3] He spoke with the women. He did not speak to the man. Mr. Scow stated he completed the report. [redacted] [redacted] Mr. Scow stated he relayed to the hospital the same things he was told by ones he spoke with at the scene. the folks he spoke to at the scene. Mr. Scow also stated said he was told that Mr. Cains collapsed in the hallway choking on his lunch.

Page 11-12:

---

[2] Note for context: Mr. Scow spoke to the nurses who were not present during the behavior episode. The BHDC nurses arrived after being called to the scene when David Cains became unresponsive.

[3] Note for context: Mr. Scow later confirmed he spoke with the nurse. The man acting as gofer was likely Tyler Mattson, with whom he did not speak.

[4] Note for context: On page 3 of Ex. 1, [redacted]

Page 13:

Mr. Scow state he was not told about a physical restraint and didn't see any restraints on the patient.

Mr. Scow said he was told David appeared to have choked on his lunch.

Page 14:

[redacted]

Page 15:

Mr. Scow stated he can't give any certainty as to whether the outcome would have been different.

He stated he was not able to achieve ROSC which is the return of spontaneous circulation.

Page 16-17:

[redacted]

Page 19:

[redacted]

Page 20:

[redacted]

Page 22:

[redacted]

[5] Note for context: [redacted]

Page 26:

Due to the Mr. Cains weight and the steps from the second floor lobby, Mr. Scow said they went through the cafeteria and used a ramp in order to leave, which required moving the ambulance. They determined there was no physical way to move that patient safely down those steps. Mr. Scow said getting in there took more time because of the steps.

Page 27-28:

[redacted]

Page 29:

[redacted]

Page 30-31:

Mr. Scow said when arrived at the scene there were three women working the patient. [redacted]

Page 32:

> Q: And this facility waited eight minutes from the time they knew he wasn't breathing to 9-1-1 was called, according to what you were told?
> A: Yes. [6]

[6] Note for context: This question and response is misleading and incorrect. Mr. Scow testified he was told it happened at 11:30 which, per his report and this testimony, was an estimated time. Per Mr. Scow, the call to 911 was recorded as 11:37 but did not start his response until 11:38. Nurse Amanda Schmidt testified she and the BHDC medical team arrived 1-2 minutes after the call for assistance (Schmidt depo. pp. 57-58). Nurse Deborah Noah testified it took 2-3 minutes after the call to respond (Noah depo. pp. 27-28). One to three minutes before the 11:37 call to 911 puts the actual time at 11:34 or 11:35.

Cross Examination by DHS

Page 33:

Mr. Scow said they have three stations in the county, two in Paris, one in Booneville. They had to be in Booneville with a 13-minute scene time.

Page 34:

Mr. Scow said his partner handles finding the buildings, because he's driving.

Page 36:

When asked, Mr. Scow stated no, they aren't always given the most accurate information. He stated "[r]adio reports aren't always reliable whether it's from a skilled professional at a nursing home or this facility or someone's cousin who found grandma." "Nothing's ever set in stone or specific and he takes it all with a grain of skepticism." Mr. Scow said if it's a hectic environment, he takes what information he can get and he tries to get the clearest picture. It's not always the most accurate. Mr. Scow said he can't identify who was present at the scene but she spoke to the women because, as he recalls, the man was sent off to do something."

Page 38:

Mr. Scow stated that the exhibit [introduced by Claimant's counsel] had a different narrative than the one Mr. Scow got from work. [redacted]

Page 40:

[redacted] Although he later changed the narrative from nurse to staff, he confirmed that the staff he spoke with were the nurses.[7]

Page 41:

[redacted] He speculated that he asked his usual questions such as how did he [patient] get here,

[7] Note for context: Mr. Scow spoke with the nurses who arrived after Mr. Cains choked and stopped breathing. In their BHDC emergency response, the nurses were not aware of the behavior episode or emergency restraint needed. Nurse Deborah Noah testified the call for assistance came in stating a resident was not breathing and did not state what happened. (Noah depo. 15-16). Nurse Amanda Schmitt, who was with Nurse Noah when the call came in, testified she immediately responded when told a resident was choking and not breathing (Schmitt depo. pp. 38, 40). Whichever nurse Mr. Scow spoke with during the emergency could only relate what she knew and what she observed.

how long has he been down or in this condition, what have you done, any patient history? Mr. Scow stated he didn't notice any clocks in the room.

Page 42-43:

Mr. Scow testified the only clock available was his watch. He did not see any [mechanical] restraints on this person. [redacted] If he had seen a restraint on David, he would have asked clarification. [redacted] Instead, he testified:

> A: And the knowledge just helps me to pass that on or paint a picture when I go to the hospital. And for my narrative.
>
> But, otherwise, like if he was restrained, that all has an issue with what led up to the problem and I'm dealing with what's after the problem. The problem after, so it just paints a picture

Page 44:

[redacted] He said he has gotten ROSC [on other patients after 30 minutes] but he can't say that patient had a positive outcome and walked out of the hospital.

Page 45:

[redacted]

Page 46:

[redacted]

Page 47:

[redacted]

[redacted]

Page 48:

[redacted]

Redirect Examination by Josh Gillispie

Page 49-50:

Mr. Scow [reviewing page 4 of the report] testified he was on the scene at 11:49 a.m. which means he was right in front of the building at 11:49. He was at patient at 11:50 which means to visualize and start the assessment.

Page 51-52:

[redacted]

Page 53:

[redacted]

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS — CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESPONDENT

DHS Deposition Summary of Tyler Mattson
(Taken March 31, 2022)

Page 8-9

Mr. Mattson graduated from the Booneville High School in 2013. He started college byt dropped out. Before working at Booneville, he worked at Rockline, which made baby wipes, and Walmart.

Page 11

Mr. Mattson started working at BHDC in February 2017. His title is RCA. It stands for residential care assistant.

Page 12

At the time of David Cain's death, Mr. Mattson's title was RCT, which is a residential care technician. After six months, he went from a RCA to a RCT, which is a six-month probation period. He left Booneville about six and a half months ago [early fall of 2021], he does not know specific dates. He left by his own choice. He stated that trauma was an issue for why he left BHDC. He stated "The David situation."

Page 13

Mr. Mattson stated the David situation ate at him. After four and a half years working there he needed a break. Mr. Mattson agreed it can be a difficult job. He then went to work at BOST, which is similar [to an HDC], but on a smaller scale. He stated BOST has facilities where individuals live such as group homes but he went to a person's apartment and watched them on the weekends.

Page 14

Mr. Mattson stated he left BOST and went to Walmart for a short time; and it was not for him. He missed the clients, is what it really boiled down to. He enjoys the work.

Page 15

Mr. Mattson said residential care techs are now required to have CNA training. Mr. Mattson stated that requirement came up about a year and a half ago. He stated he did CPR in his Phase class whenever he first came there, four and a half years ago.

Page 16

Ms. Mattson he has never been terminated from a job. [redacted]
He stated he has not had any other job that would have involved having to intervene in behavioral incidents with a client other than at Booneville.

Page 17

Mr. Mattson stated the BOST clients were not behavioral risks, they were living in an apartment for a reason, because they could be trusted to live in the community. [redacted]

Page 18-21

[redacted]

Page 22-23

Mr. Mattson testified as a residential care technician, he would get the clients ready for their work, clean their rooms and bathrooms. He would do their showers or prompt them to do their showers. He stated at the time of David Cain's death he worked from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. He stated he worked five days a week.

Page 24

Mr. Mattson testified it was a one RCT for every eight residents. Mr. Mattson testified his job was to supervise the clients.

Page 25

Mr. Mattson stated to him it was kind of a glorified babysitter at times with extra steps such as showering, cleaning residents after accidents happen.

Page 26

Mr. Mattson said if there were eight individuals on the floor, he could be there alone. Otherwise, there would be two staff. He stated on June 13, 2020, he and one other person were responsible for the regular 10.[1]

Page 27

Mr. Mattson said there were two RCT's. He stated the other RCT was Eileen Helms. He stated she was in the lunchroom; she was not with him during the episode as she was with other clients.

Page 30

[1] Note for context: Mr. Cains' behavioral episode occurred in the lobby of the Commons Building, directly outside the cafeteria at lunchtime. It did not happen in the dorm. There were many other direct staff in close proximity, some of whom responded to Mr. Cains' behavior. BHDC met and exceeded all legal staffing levels on June 13, 2020 which are mandated by state and federal regulations. See Jennifer Berry depo, pp. 91-99, where she explains the staffing level requirements mandated in the CMS State Operations Manual- ICF/IID regulations -- and identified the actual staffing levels at BHDC for the period of June 1, 2020 – June 13, 2020. See also Berry Ex. 10 (ICF Regulations) and Ex. 11. (actual BHDC staffing ratios). Ms. Berry is the Assistant Superintendent of the BHDC.

Mr. Mattson testified what he remembers about training in 2017 was there were different levels of training. He stated it depended on the severity of the case. He stated it would just be basically walking hip to hip and walking them to sit down per se. Mr. Mattson stated it was called the "basket technique." He stated it is basically holding the elbow and holding the arm and then walking. He said typically you would want another person with that if they were being more aggressive. Mr. Mattson stated Phase 1 is the title of the initial training.

Page 31

He stated in Phase 1 they teach basic psychology and understanding of the different disabilities and how they could possibly respond to them and the techniques they could use to deescalate the situation. Included in the technique is removing them from what could be agitating them.[2]

Page 32

Mr. Mattson said positive reinforcements, removing them from what could be agitating them if there is a physical thing agitating them. He stated it was also in Phase 1 where they learned personal restraint maneuvers.

Page 35

Mr. Mattson stated to him middle-level type aggression is more verbal threats, you could see just them getting more clearly aggravated. He stated there is a little aggression. He said there is a little physical aggression, but there is not enough to apply anything else necessarily.

Page 37

Mr. Mattson testified he would use the "hip to hip" as a removal technique, to get them away from whatever the issue is and separation. He agreed that is for the lowest form of aggression. Mr. Mattson stated the basket is whenever they are kind of resisting, it is a step process. He stated the basket needs two people, it makes it easier.

[2] Note for context: As he explains later in his deposition, Mr. Mattson noticed Mr. Cains becoming agitated in the lunchroom, removed him, and took him to the bathroom, after which, Mr. Cains asked to sit in a lobby chair to calm himself before the behavioral episode began. See Mattson depo. pp. 99, 100.

Page 38

Mr. Mattson stated if there is a higher level of aggression, then one person would be behind who you are transitioning so you can lower them to the ground safely. He stated you would put them on the ground if they were in a full blown out of control, basically. Mr. Mattson stated taking them to the ground is more of a control mechanism.[3]

Page 39

Mr. Mattson stated putting the resident on the ground is the easiest way to proceed to mechanical if you need to. He stated there are lots of times where it is necessary to get them on the ground.

Page 40

Mr. Mattson stated the first two maneuvers they just talked about were taught in Phase 1. He does not know about the third one.

Page 42

Mr. Mattson stated the second week of Phase 1 was on-the-job training, and that is when they would give you an assignment of a particular client. Phase 1 lasted three weeks total.

---

[3] Note for context: As explained later in this deposition and acknowledged by Counsel for Claimant in his representations made during Dr. Hamid's deposition, Mr. Cains was not put on the ground intentionally but, instead, both Mr. Cains and Mr. Mattson toppled over after Mr. Cains charged at and made physical contact with Mr. Mattson. See Mattson depo. pp. 77, 102. See also Hamid depo. pp. 27-28:

> Mr. Gillispie: I'll also represent to you that a behavior occurred. David and a staff member named Tyler Matson end up on the ground. How exactly David landed on the ground, whether he landed on his face, on his back, it's not crystal clear at this point, but he -- according to Mr. Matson, there was a struggle of some sort and they sort of topple over onto the ground. And I'll represent to you that that's how he got to the ground. Are you with me so far?
>
> Dr. Hamid: Yes, I am.

Page 43

Mr. Mattson stated Phase 2 is six months after your Phase 1 training. He completed Phase 2 and that is how became a RCT. He stated he does not remember much about Phase 2.

Page 44

He stated after completion of the phase training, BHDC held CPR refreshers which, he believes, were held once a year.

Page 45

Mr. Mattson stated training was given by Mark Hise and Sandra Shipley. Mr. Mattson testified the basket, and the hip-to-hip training is called Noncrisis nonviolent crisis intervention. He stated the NCI was incorporated into the Phase 1.

Page 46

Mr. Mattson stated they were taught to use physical restraint when the resident is "being a threat to objects, to themselves, or to other clients or staff." He testified staff step in whenever the resident starts "getting real physical and actually trying to harm themselves or other people." Mr. Mattson would do his best to deescalate the situation as best as he could. Mr. Mattson stated he did not want to put hands on anyone.

Page 47

Mr. Mattson stated what he would first try to just talk to them. He said because most of the people he worked with were higher functioning, so they understood what they were doing wrong. He stated he could remove them by saying, "hey, let's go over here" and "let's you know, do this." [4]

[4] Note for context: [redacted]

Page 48

Mr. Mattson stated getting up, walking away, and giving the resident some space would be good for some of them, but generally when they were aggravated, they were in a crowded area.[5]

Page 49

Mr. Mattson stated if there was physical aggression to another person, he would lay a hand on the client. He said whether the physical aggression was to him or to another client or to another staff.

Page 53

Mr. Mattson testified he was taught to physically restrain clients on the floor if need be. He stated if he remembered correctly, you could hold a person on the floor for 15-minute check in period. He stated you would have to call back and get reauthorization by a Q [supervisor], that is what they were called.[6]

Page 54-55

He agreed if a client is just really out of control and he had to, he could restrain them on the ground for up to 15 minutes. He stated in his experience it is not going to last 15 minutes because, if they are still fighting, they will be placed into a mechanical intervention.

Page 56

[5] Note for context: Just before the behavioral episode, Mr. Cains had been in the cafeteria with the other BHDC residents and staff eating lunch. Amanda Schmitt, a BHDC nurse, testified that David Cains sometimes would get "overwhelmed" in the Commons Building while eating, and she would remove him and place him back in his dorm. See Schmitt depo. pp 7-8. Mr. Mattson testified he removed Mr. Cains from the lunchroom when he noticed Mr. Cains appeared to be getting agitated and took him to the bathroom and then allowed him to sit in the lobby outside the cafeteria to calm himself. See Mattson depo. pp. 95, 96, 99,100.

[6] Note for context: Recall that Mr. Cains and Mr. Mattson fell to the floor after Mr. Cains charged or lunged on Mr. Mattson.

Mr. Mattson testified they were taught about behavior patterns, but it was just a time learned. He stated it was a situational thing, you would learn your clients and learn what would trigger them and learn what they would do whenever they were about to have a behavior.

Page 57

Mr. Mattson testified he recognized Exhibit 1 from his annual training, which he said was taught for diffusing or avoiding a violent behavior. He stated that was a form of de-escalation.

Page 58

Mr. Mattson stated he was taught to pay attention to the distance between himself and the client. He agreed if the client is upset you are taught to stand if they stand, sit if they sit. He stated they were taught not to argue, threaten, or raise their voice or become judgmental. He said to keep your face passive and neutral as opposed to frowning and scowling or laughing. Mr. Mattson stated you are to stay relaxed and reassure the individual that you were there to help, and basically just be calm and nonthreatening as possible.

Page 60

Mr. Mattson stated the job is to not overreact to things. He stated "planned ignoring" is the term.

Page 61

When asked, Mr. Mattson testified that David Cains had "the wherewithal" "most of the time." Mr. Cains would tell him, "I love you," "but that David Cains had his demons and sometimes, "would just explode." He stated David would get upset and become physically aggressive.

Page 62

He stated he did not notice David having a problem with any staff members. David Cains was one of Mr. Mattson's assigned clients and was around him a lot. He was familiar with him.

Page 64

Mr. Mattson stated at 9:00 a.m. David Cains would be waiting for mobile [the van] to take him to work where he did recycling. He stated David was social with staff.

Page 65 Mr. Mattson stated he cared deeply about David Cains.

Page 66

Mr. Mattson testified he is not aware of David having caused injury to staff members or other clients. He stated he did not consider David a dangerous or violent client.

Page 71

Mr. Mattson stated the most common personal hold he would use for one minute would be hip to hip. He stated because of his knowledge of David Cains, that would be when there not a full-blown situation that would need more. He stated the next usual personal restraint would be "basket". [7]

Page 72-73

Mr. Mattson the described a different behavioral episode of Mr. Cains when asked by Counsel for Claimant. David Cains started screaming at nurse Kelly King and threatening to throw a thermometer at her. Mr. Cains was placed in personal hold for about three minutes and he calmed down.

Page 74

When asked by Counsel for Claimant, Mr. Mattson testified David Cains also had a behavioral episode on March 20, 2020 where he was threatening some of his own personal property.

Page 75

Mr. Mattson David had a tendency to go after smaller people and he did not want the nurse to possibly get hurt whenever he was going to be already agitated. Mr. Mattson stated he made the decision to intervene and lay hands on him physically and hold him for three minutes before he attempted to physically strike the nurse [on March 20, 2020].

[7] Note for context: Recall that the behavioral episode on June 13, 2020 began with a de-escalation by removal of Mr. Cains from the cafeteria, taking he to the bathroom, and then allowing he to sit in the lobby to calm. Mr. Cains then stood-up and charged at and made physical contact with Mr. Mattson. See Mattson depo pp. 99, 100. As a result, Mr. Mattson could not employ the "hip-to-hip" and other procedures described in response to counsel's questions about the common restraints used in other more graduated circumstances.

Page 76

Mr. Mattson described another behavior where he heard a banging noise and saw Mr. Cains kicking his laundry basket. When he inquired what was wrong and that he need to calm, Mr. Cains replied "no, bitch" and tried to spit on Mr. Mattson.. Mr. Cains continued to fight him but then calm down and apologized.

Page 78

Mr. Mattson testified that at the time of David's death, Booneville policy was only medical staff could call for an ambulance.[8]

Page 79

He stated the facility was short-staffed right before COVID, but not too terribly short staffed. He stated it does not stick out in his memory that short staffing being a factor in his David Cains' death. [9]

Page 80

Mr. Mattson testified that if David's IPP specifically only allows for Category I procedures he would not know what was being talked about. Mr. Mattson was handed Exhibit 4 referred to as [8] Note for context: BHDC's first aid policy actually informed staff that the first call should be to the medical team- BHDC nurses. It did not state that only medical staff may call for an ambulance.

[9] Note for context: BHDC was not legally or factually short staffed on any day in June, 2020. Staffing levels are determined by federal regulations and BHDC met and exceed the legally required staffing levels every day in June, 2020. See Berry Deposition, pp. 91-99.

Policy 3011-D. He stated he does not remember this policy but maybe he saw it in his early Phase 1. [10]

Page 83

Mr. Mattson stated he does not recall it being conveyed to him by a supervisor or anyone else that David's IPP provided for only Category I.

Page 84

Mr. Mattson testified he was questioned by Sandy Evans [the BHBC investigator] concerning David Cains' death.

Page 85

Mr. Mattson stated the incident was explained in the witness report and she questioned him immediately after the death. He stated the meeting lasted 15 to 20 minutes.

Page 86 Mr. Mattson stated she asked him what happened, but she did not interrogate him.

Page 87 Mr. Mattson testified Exhibit 5 is Client Rights and it is from the training materials.

Page 88 Mr. Mattson stated his role is to care for the residents.

Page 89

Mr. Mattson said he agreed the clients have a right to be free from physical restraint, except when specifically provided for a specific behavior or to protect them from injury or causing injury.

[10] Note for context: The question by Counsel for Claimant is misleading as Category 1 restraints are different from the emergency restraint procedures authorized in the IPP. See 2019 IPP pp. 9-10 which state "…staff may employ Category I procedures … or other Center emergency procedures if necessary , to protect from injury to client or others." BHDC Policy 3011-D, likewise, distinguishes between Category one restraints and emergency restraints addressing each in different sections of the policy. It is unclear why Counsel for Claimant is asking Mr. Mattson about Category 1. See Policy 3011-D.

Page 92-93

Mr. Mattson stated nothing happened on the way to lunch or during lunch that upset Mr. Cains but, from Mr. Cains' facial expression, he could tell, Mr. Cains was getting agitated. That is why Mr. Mattson said "Hey, let's go to the bathroom and get away."

Page 95

The bathroom is just off the lobby. Mr. Mattson testified David Cains was not happy, but he did not argue about being escorted from the cafeteria to the restroom. He stated he went into the bathroom with Mr. Cains.

Page 96

When specifically asked by Counsel for Claimant Mr. Mattson stated David Cains used the bathroom and urinated.

Page 98-99

Mr. Mattson stated David Cains asked "[c]an we stay out here in the lobby" and sat down in a chair.. Mr. Mattson said he "I have no idea" when asked what might have upset Mr. Cains. Mr. Mattson stated David was sitting in a chair and he [Mattson] was standing nearby but not towering over him.

Page 100

Mr. Mattson testified that Mr. Cains was sitting there and then grabbed a paper and went after him. "He grabbed it and then went after me. He was sitting down and then went after me to attack me." He stated "[h]e threw it down and then went after me" screaming "bitch." "He charged me ."

Page 101

Mr. Mattson testified he was about 6-7 feet away. Mr. Mattson explained that when David Cains charged him, he "was running after me" and grabbed me."

Page 102-103

Q: And then what – what did you do?

A: I tried to hold him and we kind of just fell.

Q: How did you try to hold him? Stand up and show us, please.

Like, I was – like, I just kind of grabbed him by the shoulders the best as I could , you know, with him – momentum –

Q: Yeah.

A: -- and we just kind of stumbled over, you know.

* * *

A: Like we tripped. Like – like, we just kind of fumbled around. Because it was, like, all in one big momentum, you know.

Page 104

When Counsel for Claimant asked about Mr. Mattson's written statement about Mr. Cains trying to hit him, he stated he does not remember what was in his statement as that was two years ago. "That is just what I remember." [11]

Page 105

Mr. Mattson testified "He [Mr. Cains] fell and I kind of went with him, as far as I can recall."

[11] Note for context: Counsel for Claimant misstated to Mr. Mattson what Mr. Mattson wrote in his written statement. Counsel for Claimant incorrectly represented to Mr. Mattson that in his written statement he only said that Mr. Cains "attempted to hit [him]" and made no mention that Mr. Cains lunged at him, as he had just testified. Mr. Mattson's written statement, which was attached to his deposition as "Mattson Ex. 9," actually included a statement that said "… shortly after he began screaming and cussing and ripped paper off the wall to throw he then jumped up after me* , spitting and attempted to hit me." It is unclear why Counsel for Claimant's representation to Mr. Mattson failed to include this key statement which is consistent with his description at deposition (two years later) that Mr. Cains charged or lunged at him during the behavior. Even Dr. Lebel, who stated she only relied on Mr. Mattson's written statement, omitted that point when testifying and opining that it was Mr. Mattson who was the aggressor.

Mr. Cains testified he could not just use a blocking technique because "I wouldn't have had room. I was against a ledge."[12]

Page 106-107

Mr. Mattson testified he vaguely remembers giving a statement to Disability Rights Arkansas on July 29, 2020. He stated he has never seen the report. He stated the report says David landed on his face, but he did not hit his face. Mr. Cains landed face down. He stated they possibly misquoted him. Mr. Mattson stated the report made it sound like he smacked his face, he didn't. He landed towards his face but he did not hit his face.[13]

Page 108 Mr. Mattson stated he immediately turned David Cains on his left and Mr. Cains was resisting him.

Page 109

Mr. Mattson stated Mr. Cains was still resisting and fighting. He was still agitated. Mr. Mattson was wanting him to calm down. And was talking to him.

Page 112

David Cains was on his left side and Mr. Mattson was hold the left side and actively restraining the right arm because he was flailing.

Page 113

[12] Note for context: As described by Jennifer Berry, the lunchroom is on the second floor of the Commons Building and the behavioral episode transpired in the second floor lobby which is open to the first floor. See Berry depo. pp. 39-40. See also Berry Ex. 4B, 4C, 4H, 4I – photos of the second floor Commons Building lobby outside the cafeteria showing the half wall (which is similar to a balcony wall).

[13] Note for context: This forward facing direction of Mr. Cains face towards the floor is consistent with Mr. Mattson's testimony that Mr. Cains charged him and the "momentum" from Mr. Cains caused them to topple over. Mattson depo. pp. 102-103.

Mr. Mattson testified he believes this went on for a couple of minutes. He said When Mandy Jones arrived she was holding one side because Mr. Mattson was getting worn out. She was coming up to the lunchroom to monitor lunch. He stated he did not recall Ms. Jones holding Mr. Cains' head.

Page 114

Mr. Mattson stated Mr. Cains was still flailing and he is on his knees. Mr. Cains was still resisting, and screaming.

Page 115

Mr. Mattson stated David was screaming "Bitch, I hate you." He testified was going to let him up whenever he was calm.[14]

Page 116-117

[redacted]

Page 118

[redacted]

[14] Note for context: This is consistent with 42 U.S.C 483.450(d)(4) which directs that the client should be "released from restraint as quickly as possible." The CMS State Operations defines "as quickly as possible" to mean "as soon as the client is no longer a danger to self or others" and that "[d]ocumentation should support that the client was released from restraint as soon as they became calm." See 42 U.S.C. §483.450(d)(4); CMS State Operations Manual §W302. (emphasis added)

[redacted]

Mr. Mattson stated it was his best judgment at the time and "[i]t was a traumatic moment."

Page 119

[redacted]

Page 120

[redacted]

Page 121

[redacted]

Page 122 [redacted]

Page 123

[redacted]

---

[15] Note for context: Although Claimant's narrative attempts to misstate the sequence of events about when Mr. Cains was rolled from his side to his back, Mr. Mattson clears up any question; [redacted]. See Mattson depo. 118, lines 7-11.

[16] Note for context: [redacted].

[17] Note for context: Dr. Brown-Forestiere, Claimant's expert witness, testified "[m]ost likely, it would be futile to try [redacted] See Brown-Forestiere depo. p. 83.

Page 124

Mr. Mattson did not speak to paramedics or the police. He stated he did not know what the paramedics were told.

Page 125

[redacted].

Page 128-129

Exhibit 8 is Booneville HDC Policy, Policy I-D-4. He stated he has been instructed on the policy in his Phase I class. It states that "Emergency restraint is defined as the least restrictive procedure and for the least amount of time to control severely aggressive or destructive behaviors." He described Mr. Cains behavior as severely aggressive stating "he went straight for me" and "had intent of attacking me."

Page 130

Mr. Mattson stated he was the only one there at the time [in the lobby] and there was not "a whole lot of build-up time." Mr. Cains not a little boy. Physically, he was a big guy and "he was very explosive."

Page 131

Mr. Mattson, in his direct work with David Cain, it was his experience Mr. Cains was very explosive and unpredictable.

Page 132

Mr. Mattson stated he did not let David up because David was still flailing and being aggressive, he was being violent.

Page 133

Counsel for claimant then asked if you could go back in a time machine, is there anything you would do differently? Mr. Mattson responds he didn't want to put hands on Mr. Mattson but he was being violent at the time; still agitated, still screaming, still squirming. Mr. Mattson asked him to calm down.

Page 135

[redacted]

Page 136 [redacted]

[redacted].[19]

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, Bar No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

---

[18] Note for context: The question is misleading and it appears that counsel for claimant does not understand the difference between therapeutic services and an emergency restraint for safety authorized by federal regulation, CMS guidance, and BHDC policy. Emergency restraints for safety are not therapeutic treatments.

[19] Note for context: That is incorrect. [redacted] See Hamid depo. p. 15-16.

BEFORE THE CLAIMS COMMISION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFEE, As Special Administrator of the Estate Of David Cains — CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

The Arkansas Department of Human Services (Booneville Human Development Center) — RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of Deposition of Mark Hise
(Taken May 12, 2002)

Direct Examination by Josh Gillispie

Page 6:

Mark Hise is the staff development coordinator for the Booneville Human Development Center (BHDC).

Page 7:

Mr. Hise has worked at the BHDC for almost 27 years. He has been in staff development since 2016. He started out as a life skills trainer working directly with the residents.

Page 8:

As coordinator, Mr. Hise trains new employees on policies and procedures, including CPR certification and nonviolent crisis intervention training.

Page 9:

Mr. Hise is responsible for teaching the residential service staff and nursing staff CPR, first aid, and AED operations. AED stands for Automated external defibrillator. He also teaches nursing staff BLS, which is basic life support. He also teaches all new-hire staff the nonviolent crisis intervention techniques and emergency procedures. New staff go through a two-week classroom training which is referred to as Phase One.

Page 11:

Phase One includes training on personal restraints which are called personal holds. Personal holds are only used in emergency situations. Mr. Hise is not a supervisor. He just coordinates training.

Page 12:

Mr. Hise is a certified nonviolent crisis intervention instructor. The personal holds taught are all based on nonviolent crisis intervention techniques. The training techniques changed over the years.

Page 13:

BHDC used aggression management training (AMT) when he first started. Later, BHDC switched to another aggression type training called TACT. BHDC later changed to NCI training.

Page 14 -15

Training is for three weeks, including the on-the-job. Personal holds are taught in Phase One, then a refresher on it before new staff are sent on the floor. There are written tests that new hires have to pass by achieving a score of 70 percent or higher.

Page 16:

Staff are recertified every two years.

Page 20:

There is no other form of training provided to staff on personal holds.

Page 21:

There is a video demonstrating how to transition a client to the ground for purpose of putting them in a mechanical restraint. The only reason that staff would transition to the ground is to put a resident in mechanical restraint. No other purpose is taught for transiting a client to the ground.[1]

Page 21-22:

Mr. Hise testified he did not have enough information to speculate whether it would be improper for staff to hold a client on the ground during a behavior episode for several minutes hoping the client would calm down. He stated that he does not teach staff to hold a resident on the ground [as part of NCI]. He stated it is correct that clients are only to be taken to the ground [under NCI] in emergency situations where they're needing to be transitioned to a papoose board or a mechanical restraint.[2] The NCI training is for a standing or seated personal hold. There is no training for on-the-ground personal holds. If a staff member were to be using an on-the-ground personal hold, that would be outside of NCI.

[1] Note for context: Mr. Cains was not transitioned to the ground but, instead, he and Tyler Matson toppled or fell to the ground during the behavior incident. See 05/26/22 deposition of Syed Hamid, M.D., p. 27, lines 17 - p. 28, line 5:

> Mr. Gillispie: I'll also represent to you that a behavior occurred. David and a staff member named Tyler Matson end up on the ground. How exactly David landed on the ground, whether he landed on his face, on his back, it's not crystal clear at this point, but he -- according to Mr. Matson, there was a struggle of some sort and they sort of topple over onto the ground. And I'll represent to you that that's how he got to the ground. Are you with me so far?

See also Tyler Mattson deposition.

Page 23:

Mr. Hise teaches staff to use de-escalation techniques in response to a client who is slapping at them or acting like they're going to hit them or even swinging at them. He teaches verbal control and redirection.[3]

Page 24-25:

We teach our staff to only put hands on when all other measures have been exhausted. Counsel then asks:

> Q: And, in the situation where a client swings at a staff member, does that allow the staff to deem that an emergency situation and immediately use physical force:
>
> A: [Yes] If they can't gain verbal control of the situation or redirect the resident.
>
> Q: Okay. But, if they're being swung on, how do they try to use verbal control or other de-escalations without using force when a client, you know, slaps at them? [4]

Mr. Hise responded by identifying several de-escalation techniques - supported stance, redirection, and blocking.

Page 26-29:

Mr. Hise did not look at any documents to prepare for this deposition and stated he does not have any knowledge about the incident of David Cains' death. Counsel then stated to the witness:

---

[2] See footnote 1 for context.

[3] Note for context: Factually, Tyler Mattson testified that David Cains, who was first seated in a lobby chair in order to calm down, then stood up and lunged at Mr. Matson after which the two fell to the floor. Counsel's question to Mr. Hise, who was not present during the behavioral episode, did not include this de-escalation technique in his question to Mr. Hise.

[4] Note for context: The question by counsel is premised on a hypothetical situation where a resident merely swings at or slaps at a staff member which is not what happened here as David Cains made actual physical contact with Tyler Mattson during his behavioral episode.

Q: So what I am going to do is, as best I can, I'm going to tell you what they said happened. When I deposed Mr. Mattson, Mr. Mattson says Mr. Cains became upset and charged him. And originally, he said he swung at him, And then, when I deposed him, Mr. Mattson said that he thought that maybe David was trying to wrap his arms around him. But what was consistent in his story was that he and Mr. Cains both ended up falling over onto the ground in the lobby of the Commons building outside of the cafeteria….

But for purposes of my question, just know that David ended up on his left side and Tyler then knelt behind him and placed his arms on various parts of his body to kind of hold him there….

A couple of minutes later, Ms. Jones hears the commotion, she comes in and kneels down and either holds David by the hands or by the head, depending on who you are asking. If you ask her she says by the hands; if you ask Ms. Campos, she'll say by the head.

A few minutes later, Ms. Campos … holds David by the legs because he's – they're saying he's kicking and flailing and spitting….

So my question would be, in that situation where Tyler or other staff member and David Cains or any other client were to fall over together, would NCI say that the staff members should immediately get up and give the client some space?

A: No. But that's the main reason why we use a supported stance.[5]

Page 30-31:

An emergency situation is "[o]ne you would have to put hands on them [residents]" We like to use the terminology crisis situation. Trying to hit a staff member is not necessarily an emergency situation but it could be an escalation.[6]

Q: I know you weren't there. But assuming that my description of that is accurate, would you agree with me that that was an unnecessary physical contact they were making with him?

[5] Note for context: The facts represented by counsel to Mr. Hise failed to inform him that Mr. Cains was actually seated in a lobby chair to in order to calm down but then stood up and lunged at and made physical contact with Mr. Mattson which caused them both to fall to the ground. He responded without being apprised of all the actual facts.

[6] Note for context: David Cains did more than just try to hit staff.

A: You know, I can't really speculate. I don't know the – it's hard to say without being in that situation.

Page 34:

Although testifying about transitioning [on the floor] to mechanical restraints, Mr. Hise testified "[a]nd, if they're calm and not fighting no more, we don't carry on with the restraint procedure.[7] He stated "I just wanted to make that clear."

Page 35-36:

Mr. Hise stated in response to the question from counsel whether there are many de-escalation options that not only could but have to be tried first [before restraint], right.

It would be fair to say it would be unnecessary for a staff member to make that physical contact with the client on the ground in the way that was described.[8]

In response to a question from counsel whether Mr. Hise is familiar with whether ground restraints are dangerous because they can lead to things like asphyxiation, Mr. Hise replied: "Sure. I have a definition… restraint related position asphyxia." [9]

Page 37-38:

Mr. Hise testified he had never seen the restraint related positional asphyxia page in my instructor manual. The definition from his workbook for restraints says: a fatal condition that occurs when the position of a person's body interferes with respiration and results in asphyxia or suffocation. He testified that the manual does not address how ground scenarios will lead to positional asphyxia.

---

[7] Note for context: Per 42 CFR §483.450(d)(4), the resident should be "released from restraint as quickly as possible" which, per the federal CMS State Operations Manual, Appendix J, § W302 guidance on §483.450(d)(4), means "as soon as they become calm." David Cains did not become calm until it was noticed that he choked.

[8] Note for context: Recall that the way counsel described it to Mr. Hise did not include any factual representation that Mr. Cains was seated in a lobby chair to in order to calm down but lunged at and made physical contact with Mr. Mattson which caused them to fall to the ground.

[9] Note for context: This line of questioning is misleading because there was no "restraint related positional asphyxia" here nor is any alleged. [redacted]; not because of any positional asphyxia.

Page 40:

Q: Would you say that choking is the most likely bad outcome from a personal hold?

A: No, I couldn't say that. That is not what I am saying.

Page 41:

Mr. Hise testified he never heard of a death due to a restraint incident and choking together. In my career, I haven't experienced a choking death with a resident during a restraint procedure. I have heard of bumps and bruises, cuts and scrapes to clients during restraints.

Cross Examination by DHS:

Page 43-44:

Q: Okay. I believe Tyler testified to a ledge that was behind him that, had he backed away or moved behind, he would have fell over anyways; so that why he chose not to back away. So, in that instance, what would he have done if he assessed the situation and decided not to back away?
A: It would be hard for me to speculate on that.
Q: They don't teach them what to do in that situation?
A: Like when you're backed against a ledge?
Q: uh-huh.
A: I personally have never, you know, been put in that type of situation.

When informed that David Cains was around 6'2" and weighed 250 pounds, Mr. Hise replied "Wow, okay."

Page 45:

Q: And, if you had a ledge behind you and were contemplating the fact that you were going to get knocked over, would that possibly change how you would react to the situation?
A: Possibly.

Page 46-47:

Mr. Hise testified that "It sounds like a heightened stage of a crisis situation" when you state the additional facts that (1) David Cains stood up and charged Tyler Mattson, (2) swinging at him or attempting to wrap up Mr. Mattson while simultaneously attempting to kick and punch, and (3) spitting while yelling at them. "That would be at the high end of a crisis situation"[10]

Page 49:

Staff is allowed to physically intervene even if they've not been literally hit.

Redirect Examination by Josh Gillispie

Page 50:

Mr. Hise never really knew David to be physically aggressive. He recalled one time, whenever he was a program supervisor, that he got a call from the sheriff's department and had to send staff to go get David from his hometown because he had become aggressive toward his mother.

Page 51:

Mr. Hise did not remember the details. That's been a long time ago but he knew that the incident was serious enough to where he got a call from the sheriff's department to send staff to go get him.

Page 52-53:

Mr. Hise testified that for 27 years he has had "black eyes and bloody noses" from certain clients and was even "stabbed with a piece of glass one time." He states "it's the nature of the profession." Mr. Hise never directly worked with David Cains but previously supervised the unit where David Cains lived for a while. He stated David Cains would "have his, you know, typical bad days to where … he'd throw and break things." He added "[t]hat's just typical."

Page 53-54:

Mr. Hise testified he knows the lobby in the Commons building as it is right outside his office door. He stated there is a ledge in the lobby and a retaining wall to keep somebody from walking off the ledge.[11]

[10] Note for context: This is the first time that Mr. Hise was informed that David Cains stood up and charged Mr. Mattson, and continued kicking, punching, yelling and spitting.

[11] Note for context: The building lobby on the second floor overlooks the floor below. The reference to the retaining wall is to a short (half) wall similar to a railing on a balcony.

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFEEAAs Special
Administrator of the Estate Of DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPT. OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of Amy Jones Deposition
(Taken March 3, 2022)

Direct Examination by Josh Gillispie

Page 6-7:

Ms. Jones stated she dropped out of high school in 9th grade and got married.

Page 9:

Ms. Jones started working at Booneville when she was 21. She worked as an LST at the tim; life skills trainer. She helped the individuals learn everyday life skills, so that they may be able to live in the community.

Page 10:

Ms. Jones kept that job around three months and then left BHDC. .

Page 14-16:

Ms. Jones returned to BHDC as a residential care technician in 2017 and has worked there ever since. She goes by the name Mandy.

Page 18:

Ms. Jones' current title at Booneville is Residential Operations Manager.

Page 19:

Ms. Jones' title in June of 2020 was Care Shift Supervisor. Her title prior to that was Residential Care Supervisor. She was promoted from Residential Care Supervisor to Residential Care Shift Supervisor.

Page 21:

Sandy Evans was Ms. Jones' direct supervisor in June of 2020.

Ms. Evans was the Director of Residential Services. Sandy Evans was her direct supervisor in June of 2020. They didn't have a program supervisor assigned at that time. If there'd been a program supervisor, the program supervisor would be above Ms. Jones.

Page 22:

Ms. Jones stated they were short staffed in June of 2020, at the time of David's death.[1]

Page 23:

Ms. Jones clarified we she meant stating "It was bare minimum. I mean, we had enough, but we didn't have any extra at all at that point." [2]

Page 24-25:

Ms. Jones stated they were not allowed to run without adequate staff coverage some, sometimes, staff would work another shift or the they would call others to come in to work that shift.

> Q: Had there ever been a time where you had to run a little while with less than whatever that minimum number of people is?
> A: Not while I've been up there, no.[3]

Page 26:

Ms. Jones stated she is not an LPN.

Page 28:

She stated she enjoyed her job most of the time.

Page 29:

The two-week course is part of the training, it's not the whole class. NCI course takes a day. Ms. Jones said she went through phase two. Phase two is about six months after phase one. Ms. Jones

---

[1] Note for context: Ms. Jones is incorrect. BHDC met and exceeded all legal staffing levels on June 13, 2020, which are mandated by state and federal regulations. See Jennifer Berry depo, pp. 91-99, where she explains the staffing level requirements mandated in the CMS State Operations Manual (Appendix J) - ICF/IID regulations -- and identified the actual staffing levels at BHDC for the period of June 1, 2020 – June 13, 2020. See also Berry Ex. 10 (ICF Regulations) and Ex. 11. (actual BHDC staffing ratios). Ms. Berry is the Assistant Superintendent of the BHDC.

[2] Note for context: Although Ms. Jones may perceive she BHDC may be short staffed, BHDC met and exceeded all legal staffing levels on June 13, 2020, which are mandated by state and federal regulations.

[3] Note for context: Ms. Jones has been at the BHDC since 2017.

thinks phase two is a week. She learned how to properly help people with developmental disabilities and their training and everyday life skills. Nonviolent crisis intervention is just for that particular part of the class.

Page 30:

She testified that nonviolent crisis intervention teaches "[h]ow to intervene when a client is having a behavior that could possibly hurt themselves or someone else." "They teach you techniques to put them in personal restraints without causing harm." For example, is if someone is about to hit you, they teach people how to grab that person's hand or arm and maneuver it to where they're not able to hit someone or hurt themselves. Ms. Jones said you grab their arm and push it back away from their body.

Page 31:

Ms. Jones stated they usually grab their wrist. They also teach people how to interlock their legs in front of the individuals so that they can't kick. It depends on the situation.

Page 34:

If someone is by themself, they are taught techniques to maneuver away from that client so the client can't hit them.

Page 35:

Ms. Jones stated NCI does not teach anything about restraining clients while they're on the ground. Ms. Jones said NCI does not teach to put a client on the ground. [4]

Ms. Jones stated they are expressly prohibited from putting a client on the ground[5]

---

[4] Note for context: Recall that Mr. Cains was not put on the floor but, instead, the momentum from his charge at and physical contact with Tyler Mattson caused them both to topple onto the floor. See Mattson depo. p. 103; see also Hamid depo. pp. 27-28 where Counsel for Claimant represented to Dr. Hamid that "… there was a struggle of some sort and they sort of topple over onto the ground. And I'll represent to you that that's how he got to the ground. " Hamid depo. pp. 27-28. .

[5] Note for Context: This is misleading. Although NCI, per se, does not teach to intentionally restrain a client on the grounds, NCI is a de-escalation protocol. However, as Ms. Jone states on p. 36, some clients (including Mr. Cains) were medically cleared for mechanical restraints which require the client to on the ground to employ. A papoose board is one form of mechanical restraint. As noted above, Mr. Cains was not "put" on the ground but, instead, fell or toppled to the ground.

Page 36-37:

Ms. Jones testified they are allowed to do standing to ground technique if they are having to use a papoose board. If we have to use one, yes, they do teach that. Counsel for Claimant then acknowledged "I know that you have other training other than the NCI. It's just that my understanding of NCI was that they're firmly against anything like that." Ms. Jones replied "It's the last measure we use."

Page 42:

When asked about other training related to physical restraints, Ms. Jones stated "[w]e're taught that transitioning to the ground.

Page 43:

The purpose of transitioning to the ground is if they are going to have to put them in mechanical restraints.

Page 44:

> Q: And, if fact, you're not authorized --- as far as you know, you're authorized to do that [restraining on the ground other than for mechanical restraints] , are you?
> A: Not unless it can't be helped. In a lot of cases, our clients… they become violent, and a lot of times they go to the ground. Like they put themselves in – onto the floor.

Page 45:

When asked by counsel, about authorization to keep them "pinned" to the ground, Ms. Jones replied you keep them on the ground long enough to get them to he papoose board. If a client is hurting or causing harm to themselves or anyone else, they can restrain them on the ground.

Page 46-47:

The longest she has restrained them on the ground is maybe one minute. You should first try to de-escalate the situation before using a restraint, by offering choices and talking clamly to client.

Page 49:

Ms. Jones testified that Mr. Cains would become violent in his work area. She testified she personally witnessed Mr. Cains becoming violent prior to the date of his death. She testified she remembered Mr. Cains "breaking a window at his training area" and "throwing books and trying to hit his staff."

Page 50:

Ms. Jones testified she saw Mr. Cains vomit:

> Q: Anything else you saw?
> A: I have seen him on a couple of different occasions throw up and …
> Q: Vomit
> A: Yes.

Page 51:

> Q: Have you ever heard of him [David Cains] causing injury to someone that required medical attention?
> A: I believe she – there was girl that had worked with him that was pregnant that he pushed down and hit:
> * * *
> Q: She told you?
> A: Yes.

Page 52-53:

Ms. Jones remembers there were times when David Cains threw his tray in the lunchroom. She saw him throw it.

Page 55-56:

Ms. Jones testified "it has happened a lot" when counsel for Claimant asked her if she knows if any client has actually caused an injury to staff. She testified "I've had to go to the doctor twice because of injuries" and stated "I got my fingers bit." She also testified she had to get x-rays when a client tried to hit her and ended up falling on her.

Page 57:

The policy at the time of David's death was the medical staff could call 9-1-1. Everyone else was supposed to call medical staff. "It makes sense that our medical staff could get there before EMS could."

Page 60:

Ms. Jones stated they were all given some form of CPR training and training in Heimlich maneuver.

Page 61:

Ms. Jones said she was given the same training again as a refresher which she believes is once a year.

Page 64:

Ms. Jones stated her normal shift is 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. She first saw David Cains on June 13, 2020 when she went into the lobby. Mr. Cains was on his left side and Mr. Mattson was behind him trying to gain control. Ms. Jones stated she did not see how David Cains got to the ground. She walked into the lobby because she heard a commotion. She heard yelling coming from the lobby.

Page 65-66:

Ms. Jones stated Mr. Mattson was trying to gain control of Mr. Cains' arms because Mr. Cains was to hit him. Tyler was on his knees. He was holding Mr. Cains' shoulder and wrist. Mr. Cains was yelling that he wanted to kill Mr. Mattson.

Page 67:

Ms. Jones held David Cains' arms, held his arms in front of him with his elbows slightly bent. She had him right above his wrists. Mr. Cains' arms were in front of him. Ms. Jones asked David Cains to calm down but he didn't react to her. He kept telling Mr. Mattson he was going to kill Mr. Mattson.

Page 68:

Ms. Jones testified "I asked David to calm down."

Page 70:

Ms. Jones held Mr. Cains' wrists from above his head.

Page 71:

Ms. Jones stated that about 20 seconds, maybe, had passed from the time she first heard screaming in the cafeteria before Ryann Capos came through the door.

Page 72-73:

She stated Ms. Campos held Mr. Cains' legs because he was kicking. She was kneeling.

Page 74:

Ms. Jones said she thinks Mr. Cains vomited about 20 seconds after Ms. Campos started holding his legs.

Page 75:

[redacted]

Page 76-77:

[redacted]

Page 78:

[redacted]

Page 79:

[redacted]

Page 80:

[redacted]

Page 83-84:

Ms. Jones stated it didn't take a minute to realize that he wasn't breathing after he started vomiting.

"Maybe 20 or 30 seconds. It wasn't long."

Page 85:

[redacted]

[6] Note for context: [redacted]

[7] Note for context: Dr. Brown-Forestiere, Claimant's expert witness, testified "[m]ost likely, it would be futile to try [redacted] See Brown-Forestiere depo. p. 83.

"At that point, all I was thinking about was trying to help him."

Page 86:

[redacted]

Page 87:

The next people to arrive were the medical, meaning nurses.

Page 88:

She stated that, once the nurses arrived, they backed off and let the nurses take over.

> Q: I'm sure you're pretty upset at this point; right?
> A: Yes.

Page 89-92:

[redacted] Ms. Jones then returned to the dining room as she was responsible for monitoring clients and staff inside. She was trying to get the residents through lunch and get them out so that they wouldn't see the paramedics. She was not questioned by the paramedics, law enforcement, the coroner, or the hospital staff. She was upset and it made her feel sad.

Page 93-94:

She testified she did not hold Mr. Cains but, instead, was leaning over his head. The only time she touched his head was [redacted]

Page 97

Ms. Campos was mistaken in her statement about what she saw.[9]

Page 100:

[8] Note for context: The times stated are not synchronized times between EMS and the BHDC medical team.

[9] Note for context: Ms. Campos timing may be off as to when she saw Ms. Jones holding Mr. Cains' head due to the emergent situation. [redacted].

[redacted] I was guessing about how long it took medical to get there when I said one to two minutes. It wasn't a minute after he started vomiting. It was a lot quicker than that.

Page 101:

Ms. Jones asked Mr. Cains to calm down.

> A: I did ask him to calm down when I knelt down and I had his arms, his writs.
> Q: You did? Do you did speak to him then?
> A: I –
> Q: [Counsel for Claimant interrupts] Because I asked you that specifically earlier and you said no, you --- you didn't say anything.
> A: I told you that I asked him to calm down.[10]

Page 102:

I did not try anything before touching Mr. Cains as it had already escalated before I even arrived in. He was trying to hit Mr. Mattson

Page 105-106:

Sandy Evans took my statement after it had happened. It was shortly after the incident. I did not witness anyone speaking to the paramedics. I was not aware of David Cains's [redacted] as we have 120 clients. I didn't work with David often at all. I arrived at the job that day approximately five minutes before the behavioral incident happened.[11]

Page 111:

Ms. Jones testified "Yes. If we had been able to get him up off the ground we would have" "He hadn't calmed down at any point until he started choking."

Page 113-114:

---

[10] Note for context: Counsel for Claimant is simply wrong as Ms. Jones earlier testified earlier "I asked David to calm down." Jones depo p. 68, lines 19-20. See p. 6 above.

[11] Note for context: Recall that Ms. Jones happened to be in the lunchroom and came to into the lobby because she heard a commotion and yelling. See Jones depo. p. 64; summary p. 6 above. It would not be expected that she would know [redacted] See Hamid depo. p. pp. 15-17; Hamid depo. summary, pp. 2-3.

Counsel had Ms. Jones read, aloud, certain parts of Booneville Policy Roman Numeral I-D-4 and she did. She read: "Emergency restraint is defined as the use of the least restrictive procedure and for the least time necessary to control a severely aggressive or disruptive behavior."

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, BAR No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
PO Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE
CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

v. Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of Deposition LPN Amanda Schmitt
(Taken March 17, 2022)

Page 5-8:

Ms. Schmitt is now employed at Legacy Health and Rehab. She stopped working at BHDC about a month ago [February 2022]. She did not agree with many of the viewpoints of the Director of Nursing and the Assistant Director of Nursing and the [organizational] separation of the medical department and living area department. She also had some personal issues with the Assistant Director of Nursing. When asked whether any of that had to do with David Cains, she stated she did not believe it played a role.[1]

Ms. Schmitt said, from a medical perspective, she had [on other days] removed Mr. Cains from his schedule a few times because she felt he was too overwhelmed to go to class that day or to his work area or to go to Commons to eat, and placed him back at the dorm. She said she was not allowed to make that decision because it has to be made by his team.

Ms. Schmitt said she did not see Mr. Cains the day he died and does not know what type of mood he was in. She was not his nurse that morning.

Page 9:

Ms. Schmitt worked at Booneville for five years. She was an LPN.

[1] Note for context: LPN Schmitt stopped working at the BHDC approximately 17 months after Mr. Cains' died.

Page 12:

Ms. Schmitt stated she worked four or five years in a nursing home in Booneville and then at Mercy Fort Smith in the ER Department, then in-patient hospice, and then she came to work at BHDC.

Page 13:

Ms. Schmitt did not provide direct care to residents.

Page 15:

Ms. Schmitt said she would get to work at the Judge Hill building and then they would go to the dorms to give medications and then go back to the Judge Hill building when the clients would go on for their various schedules. She usually would not see the residents until lunchtime unless called to an area for a problem.

Page 16-17:

Ms. Schmitt had an office in the Judge Hill building and was in that building most of the time. The Davidson House was her normal dorm.

Page 18-20:

Ms. Schmitt said her role was different than that of the direct care providers. She was there for medical purposes and for emergencies, when needed. She did not have the NCI non-violent crisis intervention training but received training on how to get loose when resident got ahold of them or if a resident came up and grabbed them around the chest, from behind, how to wiggle, to scoot down to get loose. Or, how to get your arm loose when a resident grabs you by the wrist. She said she does not have any knowledge of what kind of training the residential staff would have had in restraints.

Page 21:

Ms. Schmitt testified she doesn't know what they're taught in those classes and doesn't know what those techniques are.

Page 22:

Ms. Schmitt testified that although Mr. Cains was a really fun guy, he did have behaviors, would get overwhelmed, and "lash out" and "lose control sometimes." Ms. Schmitt said she didn't consider Mr. Cains to be particularly violent or aggressive but stated "he lashed out a lot when he got overwhelmed: and usually would "throw a fire extinguisher or a stack or cups."

Page 23:

Ms. Schmitt testified sometimes Mr. Cains grab a stack of cups off her med cart and throw them across the room. She testified "[h]e threw a fire extinguisher at my head one time.

Page 24:

Ms. Schmitt testified David could have hurt somebody very easily.

Page 26:

Ms. Schmitt stated she witnessed David throw a fire extinguisher and throw things at people. Ms. Schmitt said David pulls his hand back [as if he is about to hit]. She stated she has seen him pull his hand back several times but not actually saw him hit somebody.

Page 27:

> Q: To your knowledge, has any staff member ever had to go to the hospital or get any kind of medical treatment because of something a client has done to them?
> A: Yes.

Ms. Schmitt testified several staff members have needed the nurse for "deep scratches, for bite marks."

Page 28:

Ms. Schmitt testified they have had some sexual assaults on campus from residents. There are clients there that are capable of serious things like that. She said there are some residents they really wouldn't want to be left alone with in a room but Mr. Cains was not one of them.

Page 29-30:

> Q: --he's [David Cains] nothing to be afraid of?
> A: They're all – you should be afraid of all of them. You should really be concerned that any of them, at any point, could hurt you.

Ms. Schmitt has had to administer chemical restraints at times.

When asked approximately how often she administered a chemical intervention to Mr. Cains, Ms. Schmitt could not recall as it had been quite a while. Ms. Schmitt stated "It seems like it was getting more frequently" and was [by her] needed "[a]tleast once every couple of months."

Page 31:

Ms. Schmitt testified nurses don't normally put somebody in mechanical restraints. She said they do check them after they've been in the mechanical restraints. She said she doesn't recall David Cains in mechanical restraints.

Page 32:

Ms. Schmitt stated when she has been called for a chemical restraint on David Cains, he is crying when she gets there and not in any type of restraint. She said she would ask him, "David, do you need something to help you calm down" and he would very happily, say yes, and he'd take his coat off, he'd pull his sleeve up.[2]

Page 33:

Ms. Schmitt testified she does not recall ever seeing David restrained on the ground. She knows Tyler Mattson. She said he wasn't always one of the staff at her dorm. He also worked at other dorms. She stated she does not recall Tyler Mattson having any personal issues with David Cains and does not recall any reactions that David Cains had with staff.

Page 34:

Ms. Schmitt said if David was somewhere where things were very loud, if there was a lot going on, or somebody was having an outburst around him, that would really affect him. She said he did not like to go to class. She said she has had to go to Mr. Cains' training area several times because he was upset and either needed to return to the dorm or needed a chemical intervention.

Page 35:

Ms. Schmitt testified she does not recall when Booneville wasn't short staffed but explained that, in such instance, staff from a prior shift would stay over to work another shift. She stated that there were times when they had less staff than *she felt was necessary.[3]

Page 36:

Ms. Schmitt felt staff was exhausted and "I assume" that made their days more difficult and stressful.

---

[2] Note for context: A chemical restraint for David Cains was for early chemical intervention before his behaviors escalated further.

[3] Note for context: Factually and legally, Ms. Schmitt is incorrect on this point. These are her personal opinions. Factually and legally, BHDC meet and exceeded all direct care staffing requirements for each and every shift on each any every day in June, 2020, including June 13, 2020. See deposition transcripts Jennifer Berry, pp. 96-99 and DHS Exhibit 12 to the deposition in which Ms. Berry explained the actual staffing levels for each shift in June through June 13, 2020, and the state and federal regulatory staffing level requirements which are based on the number of residents present each day. BHDC exceeded those staffing levels every day in June. In addition, this line of questioning is misleading because there were numerous direct care staff present in and around the cafeteria and lobby areas at the time of David Cains' behavior episode.

Page 37:

Ms. Schmitt stated the direct care staff called the emergency number that day. She said Debbie [Noah] took the call and said they had a patient choking. She grabbed the emergency bag, the AED, and ran to her car.

Page 38:

Ms. Schmitt said Debbie Noah received the emergency call. She said she was with Debbie Noah in the Judge Hill building when she got that call. Ms. Schmitt said then Ryann Campos made a call directly to her stating I need you to get here and bring an AED. Ms. Schmitt stated she was pulling up to the building right then.

Page 39:

Ms. Schmitt said the AED will deliver a shock, if necessary. It is an Automated defibrillator. She did not know what time Debbie Noah got the [first] call.

Page 40:

Ms. Schmitt testified Debbie got the call; she hung up and said that a client was not breathing in the Commons building. Ms. Schmitt said she was getting the emergency bag.

Page 41:

Ms. Schmitt grabbed the AED and they jumped into the car which was parked directly in front of the Judge Hill building. They stated they ran in the building and David Cains was laying on his right side. [redacted]

Page 42:

[redacted]

Page 43:

[redacted]

[redacted]

Page 44:

[redacted]

Page 45:

Ms. Schmitt stated when they got on scene, [redacted]

Page 46:

[redacted]

Page 47:

[redacted]

Page 48:

Ms. Schmitt testified as soon as they got on scene, 9-1-1 was notified. She stated she does not believe that there's a policy that said you cannot call 9-1-1. She said they are supposed to call medical. She said you call medical and you can call 9-1-1 for staff or clients who need it.

Page 49:

Exhibit 2 , BHDC Policy 4-B-10, was introduced.

Page 50:

Ms. Schmitt stated it was her understanding that, as a nurse she can make a determination to call 9-1-1.

Page 51:

Ms. Schmitt stated she cannot speak as to what somebody else would read into that situation. She said she does know that, regardless of what the policy is, if somebody is obviously fixing to die in front of her, she is going to call 9-1-1. She said she doesn't think aides knew that he did not have a pulse and were dealing with somebody who was choking. She said she believes, per policy, they have to call medical first.[4]

Page 52:

Ms. Schmitt said it was her understanding this went from having a behavior to him being on the floor very quickly.

Page 53:

Ms. Schmitt's understanding was that David got upset inside of the dining room, started having a behavior, that they were taking him into the hallway, and he vomited and choked.

> Q: What about how he got to the ground? Do you know anything about that?
> A: I don't.

Ms. Schmitt was not there for the restraint and was not told of the details.[5]

Page 55:

Ms. Schmitt said in a hospital setting is where they can do advance life support. She said inside of a long-term care facility, they are not able to do advanced lifesaving. She said they have what is called basic life support.

Page 56-57:

> Q: And about how long do you think it took you to get to the scene after the call was made to Debbie Noah?
> A: It didn't take long at all. I was parked directly in front of the building… [The] Commons [building] is just up the road from where we were.
>
> * * *
>
> Q: Approximately how long do you think it took from the time Debbie Noah got this call to the time you got to your car?
> A: Until the time I got to my car?

---

[4] Note for context: BHDC is in rural Logan County. The BHDC nurses can (and did) respond in just minutes whereas it took EMS 13 minutes to arrive at the scene per EMT Scow's testimony and the EMS Report. Jennifer Berry, the Assistant Superintendent, explained that in her experience, it has taken up to 45 to 60 minutes for the ambulance to arrive after calling 9-1-1. See Berry deposition transcript at pp 103-104.

[5] Note for context: Per EMT Scow, he spoke only with the nurses who arrived just after the behavior episode ended in order to provide emergency assistance.

Q: Yeah. Thirty seconds?
A: Thirty second. Forty-Five seconds.

Page 58:

Q: --- about how many seconds or minutes did it take to drive from Judge Hill to the Commons building?
A: Its going to be less than a minute or maybe right at a minute.

She explained "I'm overshooting the amount of time it would take…" They were running as "[t]hese are people that we deeply care about. This is not just a job."

Page 60:

Q: I understand you did absolutely everything you could do. But do you know – do you feel like staff, direct care staff, messed up in an way here?
A: I feel like they responded to a behavior the same way that they would respond to any behavior.

* * *

A: -- if they are in a situation where they feel that somebody is going to harm themselves or harm other people, they are going to restrain them. That is what they are taught to do; and that is what they do every day, is to try to stop somebody from harming themselves or harming somebody else.

Page 61:

Ms. Schmitt testified: "[a]nd when David would have a behavior, he would often vomit."

Page 62:

[redacted]

Page 63:

[redacted]

Page 64:

[redacted]

Page 65:

[redacted]

Page 66:

[redacted]

Page 67:

Ms. Schmitt testified: "I would trust the staff that was with him [Mr. Cains] with my special-needs child.

Page 69:

[redacted]

Page 71:

Ms. Schmitt testified she thought everybody spoke to the paramedics.[7]

Page 72:

Ms. Schmitt said she does not know who said what to them. She said there was a lot of emotion in the room at the time.

Page 75:

She testified that she does recall David vomiting when he was upset but not having any issues from that.

Page 76

[redacted]

---

[6] Note for context: As explained by Dr. Hamid, Mr. Cains physician, although Mr. Cains had a [redacted]

[7] Note for context: EMT Scow testified that he only spoke with the women nurses about what happened. See Scow deposition p. 40-41.

Respectfully Submitted,
Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, Bar No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS — CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of Janice LeBel's Deposition

Direct Examination by Claimant

Page 5-6

Dr. LeBel is employed by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health. She is the Director of Systems Transformation and has been employed by the state for 38 years. She is also "a consultant on the use of a curriculum called the six core strategies, on which she is the "co-principal investigator" and does "significant teaching and training."[1]

She states she is the agency lead for restraint and seclusion prevention and lead interagency effort that endorsed by seven Massachusetts State agencies.[2]

Page 9

Dr. LeBel developed a training curriculum based on these six core strategies.

[1] Note for context: Dr. LeBel holds a Ph.D. in psychology. She is not a medical doctor. Although the "Six Core Strategies" is not per se, a business for her, Dr. LeBel testified she receives compensation for lecturing on her curriculum. See LeBel depo. pp.163, line 25- page 164, line 12 ("I'm given compensation to speak about the six core strategies.")

[2] Note for context: Apparently the Massachusetts Department of Developmental Disabilities is not one of them as Dr. LeBel conceded, on cross-examination, that the Department of Developmental Disabilities in her own state stills allows restraints to be used in its Human Development Centers. See LeBel depo. pp. 119-120. She did not offer that significant fact in her direct examination.

Page 12

Restraint reduction has been her key focus for 38 years at the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health.

Pages 15-25

Dr. Lebel generally explains her six core strategies curriculum as an organizational framework, her work and the work of her colleagues, how to generally organize leadership committees in order to adopt basic core strategies, teaching staff, training, and her work with other states, including instances where certain hospital have eliminated restraints.[3]

Pages 26 –28

Dr. Lebel reviews the benefits of adopting her curriculum in Massachusetts where, beginning in 1999, she studied the use of restraints in her home state of Massachusetts. She reviewed the cost benefits resulting in shorter length of facility stays, greater staff retention.[4]

Pages 29-32

Dr. Lebel opined that the standard of care at the BHDC was breached "when you look at international standards from the United Nations and the Convention on Rights of Persons with Disabilities, [and] the World Health Organization."

[3] Note for context: Dr. Lebel's testimony about her six core strategies curriculum and her work preventing restraint in other types of facilities aspirational and contrary to the provisions of 42 U.S.C. 483.450 which expressly allows restraint use for the safety of the individual and others until the individual is calm in ICF/IIDs such as BHDC. Oddly, this testimony is contrary to the testimony of Dr. Brown-Forstiere, Claimant's other expert witness, who testified that her facility regularly employs restraints for safety. See Dr. Brown-Forestirere's depo. p. 6.

[4] Note for context: Despite Dr. Lebel's claims and insinuations otherwise about her level of success teaching her curriculum, Dr. Lebel concedes that that state-run ICF/IID in Massachusetts still use restraints for safety, just like the BHDC, as authorized by federal regulation and CMS guidance.

Page 33:

Dr. Lebel states "We've got an international standard. We've got a federal standard. We've got a state standard" and opines that BHDC did not follow the CMS standard because "There was no emergency" because there "was no imminent danger." [5]

Page 37:

She stated that she was confused by statements she read and, as she reads it, David Cains did not hit Mr. Mattson. She stated Mr. Cains was spitting and attempted to hit Mr. Mattson. She stated that spitting, screaming cussing, does not "require" a hands-on procedure to touch David Caisn against his will.[6]

She stated that David Cains had a "withdrawal reflex" to "noxious stimuli," such as a hand being placed on you.

Page 43

Dr. Lebel states that the "standard of the emergency, you know, would have to be something in which there was sever aggression, with a "level of lethality attached to it." [7] [5] Note for context: There is no international standard applied in the United States and Dr. Lebel is simply wrong. She later conceded on cross-examination that the standard for restraint use in an HDC is the Code of Federal Regulations and the CMS State Operations Manual – Appendix J. Lebel depo p. 91-92.

---

[6] Note for context: Dr. LeBel selects certain facts to support Claimant's narrative but ignores the rest. Mr. Mattson testified, under questioning from Claimant's counsel, that Mr, Cains went after him from the seated position, charged him, and grabbed him. See Mattson depo. pp. 100-102. She also fails to consider Mr. Mattson's written statement that Mr. Cains "jumped up after him." See Mattson depo. Ex. 9 – written OLTC Statement. Dr. Lebel later asserts insinuates that Mr. Mattson was the aggressor.

It is also apparent that, despite her claims otherwise, Dr. Lebel is unfamiliar with David Cains' 2019 IPP which stated that he has a history of "physical aggression" (IPP p.6) which the IPP defines as the attempted or actual striking, hitting, of kicking other people or objects with the intent to cause injury or damage (IPP. 9).

[7] Note for context: Dr. Lebel is wrong about the "standard of emergency" and conceded, when questioned on cross-examination, that lethality is not a precondition of to the use of restraints

Cross-Examination by DHS

Page 73-74

Dr. LeBel is a psychologist. She is not a neurologist, a pathologist, or a medical doctor. She is not a medical examiner.

Page 75

Dr. LeBel stated her "opinions are based on a reasonable degree of expertise in the area of restraint reduction and prevention." She is a board-certified psychologist.

Page 76

She stated "I consider myself an expert" She is not a physician. She is not a medical expert.

Page 77

She stated "I would say I am a restraint reduction prevention expert." She has a doctorate in psychology.[8]

Page 79-80

Dr. LeBel has been an adjunct instructor at the University of Massachusetts Medical School for 14 years. She is not on a tenure path at the university. The instructor level is the lowest level of teaching in a university system. Although she is a psychologist, she last practiced clinical psychology in about 1990.

Page 81-82

Dr. LeBel has never been to the Booneville Human Development Center, to Logan County, or to Arkansas. She knows it's a rural environment but does not know how many ambulances Logan County had in 2020. She performed no research on and does not know the typical response time for Logan County EMS to respond to BHDC calls. She stated she was not aware it can sometimes under 42 U.S.C. 483.450 or the CMS State Operations Manual – Appendix J, which she begrudgingly admitted set the standards applied to the BHDC.

---

[8] Note for context: Dr. LeBel acknowledges she was retained to be "a restraint prevention expert. Not a restraint expert." See LeBel deposition page 118.

take 45-60 minutes after a 911 call for EMS to respond. [9] She stated there are nurses on-site at BHDC and read that it took EMS 13 minutes to arrive after the 9-1-1 call was made for David Cains.

Page 82-83

When asked if she knew how long it took BHDC nurses to arrive at the Commons Building where the incident happened, Dr. LeBel stated: "More than a minute, less than two minutes."

Page 84

Q: Tell me, do you have any medical training to determine the cause of death?

A: No.

Q: Have you previously been allowed to testify by any court of law to opine on an individual's cause of death?

A: No.

Q: Have you previously been allowed by any court to opine on factors, whether directly or indirectly, contributing to a cause of death?

A: No.

Page 87

Q: But the question is do you profess, or do you claim to be an expert in restraint policy?

A: I don't know what the qualifications would be for being an expert in restraint policy. She stated she has expertise in the reduction and prevention of restraints.

Page 90-91

A: I consider myself to be an expert in restraint reduction and prevention. I teach people not to use restraints.

[9] Note for context: See deposition of Jennifer Berry, pp. 103-104, who testified it has taken up to 45-60 minutes for ambulances to arrive at BHDC. Jennifer Berry is the Assistant Superintendent of the BHDC.

A: I'm against restraint use when there is no imminent harm or imminent danger. Restraint has its place as a life-saving method of last resort.[10]

Page 90-91

Dr. LeBel knows the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. It is referred to a CMS. She also knows what is the Code of Federal Regulation, often referred to as CFRs. CMS also promulgates a state operations manual which includes restraint use.

Q: And so that CMS manual those code of regulations promulgated, those are the standards that facilities such as Booneville Human Development Center comply with, right?

A: Conceptually, they should be applied.

Q: Okay. Well, I don't know conceptually. Are they the standard or are they not the standard?

A: They're the standard.

Page 92

A: My view on standards of care is that they're minimal standards. They're not aspirational.

Q: Okay. But I'm just saying this is what the standard of care for restraint is in the United States in what we call an intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities, which is what Booneville Human Development Center is licensed as; correct?

A: Correct.

Q: And those are the standards that they had to follow, at least the minimal standards?

A: Correct.

[10] Note for context: Neither Federal regulation nor BHDC policy requires imminent harm, imminent danger, or lifesaving as a condition for use of restraints in an ICF/IID, such as BHDC.

Page 93

Q: Because if CMS state operations manual and the promulgated Code of Federal Regulations is the standard, then that's all that needs to be met legally; correct?

A: All that needs to be met legally. But, in Booneville's case, they failed to meet that standard.[11]

Page 94

She stated the UN convention, and The World Health Organizations are an international perspective.

Q: But, just to make it clear, because I don't want the Claims Commission to be confused, the standard of care for restraint use is the Code of Federal Regulations governing restraint use for intermediate care facilities for individuals with intellectual disabilities and the CMS State Operations Manual that enforces that against such licensed facilities; correct?

A: Correct.

Page 96-98

She agreed that page six of Mr. Cains' IPP, under background information, stated David had a history of physical aggression including destroying personal property, TV, radios, DVD player, and breaking windows.

Q: Now, as a psychologist, people who are aggressive aren't necessarily physically aggressive 100 percent of the time, are they…

A: Presumable not.

She stated "I have seen people from - - go from calm to disruptive or destructive. I've seen that, yes."

[11] Note for context: Recall, Dr. LeBel stated she is not an expert in use of restraints. Instead, she states she is an expert in restraint prevention. She testified "I was contacted about being a restraint prevention expert. Not a restraint expert." LeBel deposition page 118. Yet, she now opines on restraint use.

Page 104

She agreed her report [which was not introduced] made no mention of Tyler Mattson's testimony, under oath to questioning from Mr. Gillispie that describes David Cains' lunging or making contact with Tyler Mattson from a seated position.[12]

Page 106

She stated she saw the description of Mr. Cains being seated and starting to tear paper off the wall and that Mr. Mattson made a statement that Mr. Cains lunged at him.

Page 112-113

She stated Mr. Cains was alive and functional until the restraint but agreed there were other factors that happened; he vomited.

Q: Okay. But there were other factors that happened. He vomited correct?

A: Correct.

Page 117

She was aware Mr. Cains overturned a table at BHDC the day after Christmas but does not recall reading he hit his mother.[13] Dr. LeBel saw in IPP that Mr. Cains destroyed his television set in his room, several radios, and a DVD player, and had broken glass.

Page 118 A: I was contacted about being a restraint prevention expert. Not a restraint expert.

---

[12] Note for context: Dr. LeBel also ignores the portion of Mr. Mattson OLTC written statement where, describing what happened, he wrote on June 13, 2020, "… shortly after he began screaming and cussing and ripped paper off the wall to throw he then jumped up after me, spitting and attempting to hit me…" See Mattson 06/13/2020 OLTC written statement, attached to Mattson's deposition as Mattson Ex. 9. Dr. LeBel never explained why she omitted reliance on that portion of Mr. Mattson's written statement when formulating her opinion or when testifying.

[13] Note for context*: See* Jennifer Berry's deposition deposition p. 71, lines 3-11 describing that, during a visit to the BHDC by Mrs. Robinson, David Cains mother, "[s]taff haerd a lound commotion, went into the kitchen, and David had hit his mom and flipped over the kitchen table." Mr. Cains was also heard calling his mother a "F Bitch." Mrs. Robinson then mother then left and did not return. See Ex. 8A to Berry deposition – Behavioral Report.

Page 119 She stated she read that the 2019 IPP, on page 10, allowed "center emergency procedures when necessary."

Page 120

Dr. LeBel did not read that Mr. Cains bit a staff member twice. She read Mr. Cains threw a fire extinguisher and punched his sister.

Page 119-120

Dr. Lebel explained that, in Massachusetts, the Developmental Disability Services Department has been its own state agency since the early 1990s; about 30 years.

Page 119-120

Dr. Lebel works for the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health [not the Developmental Disability Services department].

Q: So, does Massachusetts have ICF/IIDs, which are intermediate care facilities for individuals with intellectual disabilities, which is what an HDC is, do they run those?

A: They run those.

Q: Okay. So, they – you have them in Massachusetts?

A: Yes.

Q: Okay. State run?

A: State run or contracted.

Q: Okay, and so they don't use restraints at all?

A: They use some restraint.

Q: Oh, okay. So, even in your own state, restraints are used in the equivalent of human development centers, ICF/IIDS; correct?

A: I believe so.

Page 122 She stated Mr. Cains vomited because he was being restrained.

"I make that observation on reading the CPI/NCI training, that they describe the sequela of restraint, they describe the possibility of positional asphyxia, they describe the possibility of choking aspiration, they describe the possibility of cardiac arrest.[14]

Page 123

Dr. LeBel conceded "during the course of restraint, a series of medical events happened, and he died."

Page 124

> Q: So, are you saying to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, in your medical opinion, that the restraint caused, Mr. Cains to vomit and choke? Is that what you're saying?
>
> A: Yes.[15]

Page 125-127

> Q: So, if there is a connection between the restraint and vomiting, that means that every time a restraint is used, there would be vomiting, is that your opinion?
>
> A: No, that's not my opinion.
>
> Q: Okay. Okay. So, how often, when a restraint is used, would there be vomiting?
>
> A: I have no capacity to respond to your question.

Page 125-127

> Q: Dr. LeBel, are you aware that Mr. Cains frequently vomited?

---

[14] Note for context: Dr. LeBel is a psychologist not a medical doctor. As she noted, these are her mere observations. Dr. LeBel merely states what is possible. Her reference to positional asphyxia is misleading, at best, as even she admits that Mr. Cains choked on vomit which, by definition, rules out positional asphyxia.

[15] Note for context: Dr. LeBel has a Ph.D. in psychology and is not a medical doctor. She considers herself a "restraint prevention expert." She previously conceded her opinions are to a reasonable degree of expertise in the area of restraint reduction and prevention. See LeBel's deposition pages 75, 77. Yet, she now opines to a reasonable degree of medical certainty.

A: I'm aware Mr. Mattson made reference to that.

Q: Okay. Are you aware that his sister made reference to that?

A: No.

Q: Okay. Would that change your opinion, if sister, if Mr. Cains' sister mentioned that he frequently vomited?

A: Possibly.

Q: Okay. But you weren't provided that information, were you?

A: No.[16]

Page 128

Q: As so, just to be clear, would you agree that physical restraints may be employed in an ICF/IID like Booneville Human Development Center as an emergency measure but only if absolutely necessary to protect others from injury? The client and others from injury, would you agree with that?

A: I would agree with that.

Page 129

Q: So, you're not - - are you familiar with Appendix J from CMS? The State Operations Manual?

A: I don't know. I don't believe that I've reviewed Appendix J.

---

[16] Note for context: Christine McAuliffe testified:

Q: Did you ever notice that he would vomit at times?
A: when he was upset, or just in general?
Q: Anytime?
A: Yeah. I mean his whole life he dealt - - you know he had stomach issues. Like if he ate certain things his stomach would get upset and when he got anxious, his stomach would get upset.
Q: So, he would vomit often?
A: I wouldn't say he vomited often, no.

McAuliffe deposition page 29, line 21 to page 30, line 3.

Page 132

It is her opinion that the emergency situation that would allow restraints must have a potential consequence of lethality without the restraint intervention.[17]

Page 136 It is her testimony that DDS 3004 requires imminent danger or harm.[18]

Page 141 She states that imminent danger "implies something of significant risk posing a potential loss of life."

Page 142-143 Dr. LeBel relied on 42 CFR 483.450 and DDS Policy 3011-D as part of her opinion on imminent or serious bodily harm before using a restraint.

Page 144 In Dr. LeBel's written report, she stated "physical restraint is a potentially lethal procedure of last resort which is used in an emergency circumstance in the event of imminent danger when alternatives have been attempted and/or rule out." She agreed she cited 42CFR 483.

Q: Tell me where in 42 CFR 483.450 does it say, use the word imminent?

A: I don't see the word imminent.

Page 146-147

Q: And so, the guidance, the CMS guidance to state regulators and Federal regulators is that physical restraints may be used as an emergency intervention only in situations where the client is exhibiting behaviors which - - and it lists three things; correct?

A: Correct.

Q: And so, any one of those things would be reason for emergency, employment of emergency conditions for restraints; right?

---

[17] Note for context: Neither the CFR nor the CMS State Operations manual imposes such requirement.

[18] Note for context: DDS 3004 is not the restraint policy. DDS 3004 is the maltreatment prohibition prevention and reporting policy.

A: Presumably so.

Page 150

A: To me, when I read the word in this list of three conditions (of when emergency restraints are allowed), I read that number one and number two are rolled up as requirements or number three.

Q: So, does that mean - - in your interpretation would - - physical restraint may be used as an emergency intervention when the client exhibits behaviors which are harming other people or themselves? Would that be sufficient?

A: It could be.

Q: Okay. So, you don't need one and two, you just need [number] three, if that's the facts.

A: Possibly.[19]

Page 151

Dr. LeBel testified: "I'm opposed to the use of restraints in the human development center when it is used for nonlethal non dangerous circumstance." She further stated restraints are intended "as a lifesaving measure of last resort."[20]

Page 156

Dr. LeBel didn't know whether [redacted].

Page 157

[redacted]

[19] Note for comment: The referenced condition #3 identified in the CMS State Operations Manual, § W296, allows for the use of restraints when then client's behaviors "3) are harming other people or themselves."

[20] Note for context: CMS, CFR, and Arkansas DDS rules provide otherwise.

[redacted]

Page 158 Dr. LeBel said "I do not know" when asked if Dr. Hamid, Mr. Cains doctor, "prohibited ground restraints.

Page 159-160 She agreed that if a papoose board is to be used, you have to be on the ground.

She stated that "withdrawal reflex" is a fight or flight response.

Q: But at what point did David Cains, in your opinion, withdrawal?

A: I have no way of knowing when David Cains withdrew.

Page 161-162

Dr. LeBel states it is "my assumption" that Tyler Mattson was the aggressor.

Q: So, at what point in time did David Cains calm while on the ground?

A: I have no way of knowing.

Q: Okay. So, would you agree or disagree with the statement, that in the State Operations manual, under W-302 that says documentation should support that the that the client was release from the restraint as soon as they become calm.

Q: So, I'm asking you, at what point in time did David Cains become calm?

A: I don't know.

Page 163-164

She stated she "traveled extensively" teaching and training on the use of the (six) core strategies. There is no business associated with that, but she stated, "I'm given compensation to speak about the six core strategies."

Page 165 She stated she would define herself as someone who works tirelessly to try to prevent, avoid, the use of restraints.

Redirect by Claimant

Page 167-168

Dr. LeBel stated she relied on 483.450 (d)(i) which provides "The facility may employ physical restraint only - - and then we move down to Roman Numeral Two, as an emergency measure only if absolutely necessary to protect the client or others from injury."[21]

Page 170: Claimant's Exhibit 1 is the CMS State Operations Manual – Appendix J.

Page 172-173 Claimant's Exhibit 2 is two pages from LPN Schmitt's deposition that it took her 45 seconds, after being called when David Cains choked, to get to her car and another 45-60 seconds to arrive at the scene.

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, Bar No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

[21] Note for context: Recall Dr. LeBel agreed the federal regulation allows restraints to protect the client or others.

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE
CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS — CLAIMANT

V. — CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESPONDENT

DHS Summary of the Deposition of Rickie Brown-Forestiere, M.D.
(Taken October 21, 2022)

Direct Examination by Josh Gillispie

Page 5

Dr. Brown-Forestiere ("Dr. Brown") is a board-certified emergency physician. She went to medical school and had a three-year emergency medicine residency, passed the qualifying boards and became a board-certified physician. She stated that she was trained in different areas of importance but that they are experts in resuscitation.

Page 6

Dr. Brown stated, in this scenario, cardiac arrest, which is what the patient suffered, is something that we do on a daily basis and we're highly trained and we're the experts for that. "People have natural choking where they choke on their food."

Page 7

These are all different forms of suffocation leading to cardiac arrest. Dr. Brown stated she received training in medical school or residency related to choking and suffocation.[1]

Page 8

Dr. Brown explained that choking is pretty common describing it as "one of most common" traumas.

[1] Note for context: Neither Tyler Mattson, Ryann Campos, nor Amanda Jones went to medical school or received the level of medical training of Dr. Brown.

Page 9

Dr. Brown reviewed [redacted]. These are all part of his IPP. She also reviewed his physician orders and his diet orders. She then reviewed the depositions of Tyler Mattson, Ryann Campos, Amy Jones, and the LPNs, Kelly, Amanda, and Debbie. She also looked through the OLTC statements "from Jones, Mattson, and Campos." She reviewed the paramedic's deposition and looked at his paramedic reports, the coroner's report, ER records, and the deposition of Dr. Hamid. She also reviewed a DRA report.

Page 10

Mr. Gillispie: Are you able to say within a reasonable degree of medical certainty what caused his death on this day?

Mr. Rosen: Objection. In the information provided to us in the first, second, or third supplemental responses to DHS, there was no opinion stated as to a reasonable degree of medical certainty. That opinion has not been submitted to us in the reports. I'm specifically looking at the report of what Dr. Brown would be testifying to, which was provided to DHS in Claimant's third supplemental responses to discovery. So, we're going to make an objection to that, because that is not an opinion that was provided to us, despite numerous requests for updates.

Page 11

> Mr. Gillispie: I may have neglected to include that actual language in the response. By the very fact that she's, you know, my expert tells you that she's going to be testifying within a reasonable degree of medical certainty.
>
> Mr. Rosen: I would disagree with that. It was not provided to us. And that's an essential part of the opinion.
>
> Mr. Gillispie: Well, that's noted.

Page 12

[redacted]

Page 13: Dr. Brown stated that when someone is struggling in the scenario that's been described, someone who is struggling has what's called a fight or flight response, meaning they have adrenaline surges, and they are fighting for their life. Their muscles constrict to fend off what they feel is an attack. Their breathing increases, set of physiological leads to increased pressure which is the pressure which in your chest. It also constricts the abdomen which increases the intra-abdominal pressure. And increased pressure on both of these does place increased pressure on the stomach and from the sides.

Page 14

She stated being on his left side, the floor is another definitive mechanical block as to where it can expand. She stated that the struggle caused Mr. Cains to vomit. She stated he had [redacted]

She stated the struggle with being restrained on the floor definitely led to Mr. Cains to fight and caused pressure from multiple different regions which, she stated caused vomiting.[3]

Page 15-16:

[redacted]

[2] Note for context: Dr. Hamid, David Cains' physician, testified that although Mr. Cains had a [redacted] Hamid depo. p. 18.

[3] Note for context: Dr. Brown later admitted that she did not actually know the intensity of the struggle stating when asked about the intensity of the struggle, "But, no, of course, I have no way of knowing exactly how intense it was. Brown depo. p. 69.

[4] Note for context: Dr. Brown is confused about the sequence here and is testifying inconsistently. [redacted]

Page 17:

Dr. Brown testified that the first thing that is taught is to turn them onto their side if there's any sign of vomiting.[5]

Page 19:

Dr. Brown opined because Mr. Cains was choking, his lungs began burning and he became unconscious. She opined "[i]t's probably the - - one of the most painful deaths there could be. That and I assume burning to death.[6]

Page 20-21:

When asked if she had an opinion with regards to whether the outcome for Mr. Cains could have been different had paramedics arrived eight minutes sooner than they did, Dr. Brown stated "Without any intervention, someone who suffocates will likely die within five minutes." She then acknowledged that "It did take the paramedics 13 minutes to get there."[7] [5] Note for context: Dr. Brown is further confused as, just minutes earlier, [redacted].

---

[6] Note for context: Factually, [redacted] Dr. Brown did not explain how, if what she is saying is medically correct, it would be painful to an unconscious, unresponsive individual. Significantly, her comment was not to a reasonable degree of medical certainty and insinuates it may only be an assumption of her part as she compared the pain level to that of a person burning to death which, she also "assume[s]" is painful.

[7] Note for context: While Dr. Brown assumed there was an eight-minute delay in calling 9-1-1 because question posed to her (by counsel for the claimant) assumed the EMT could've arrived eight minutes earlier. The question is factually misleading as 9-1-1 was called immediately upon the arrival of the BHDC nurses to the location in the lobby of the Commons Building which, by all accounts, was approximately 1-2 minutes after Mr. Cains stopped breathing. The call to 9-1-1 was made immediately when the BHDC nurses arrived. As the call to 9-1-1 was documented by EMS at 11:37, this places the call to the BHDC nurses at 11:35 a.m., plus or minus one minute. CPR was administered while waiting the 13 minutes for EMS to arrive.

Page 22:

[redacted]

Page 23:

Dr. Brown stated, "I can't say for sure if it would have changed whether he died or not, but I can definitely tell you that there would have been a much better chance had it been done earlier."

Page 24:

Dr. Brown stated she cannot imagine a scenario where someone who's fighting for their life would have the wherewithal to intentionally vomit.

Page 25:

She stated I cannot give you a 100 percent certainty, and no one can, but I think that it is probably one of the least possible things that I could imagine.

Page 27:

She stated, Mr. Cains was on the floor being restrained by three people in three different locations of his body. There was a struggle, fight or flight, patient just struggling, adrenaline pumping, causing a lot of constriction of muscles and things of that nature.

---

[8] Note for context: Dr. Brown's use of the word "may" indicates only mere possibility but not a likelihood or probability and certainly does not rise to medical standard used by physicians "to a reasonable degree of medical certainty. Per the Logan County EMS Report, EMT Scow was only able to obtain a partial clearing of the airway at 11:59 a.m., which is 9 minutes after EMS arrival, and 22 minutes after the call to Ems at 11:37 a.m. Thus, even after calling 9-1-1 it took EMS 22 minutes before even partially clearing the blocked airway. Based on Dr. Brown's medical opinion that death ensues after approximately five (5) minutes then, if Dr. Brown is correct, then there could be no medical impact on the outcome even if 9-1-1 was called a few minutes sooner.

[9] Note for context: [redacted] It is unclear whether or not EMTs in Arkansas even have such legal authority. Recall Dr. Brown is not licensed in Arkansas.

Cross Examination by DHS

Page 30-31:

Dr. Brown read that David Cains was on his side when he started vomiting stating "[s]ounds like what I read. Dr. Brown agreed that David Cains was then turned over after they noticed he had vomited and stopped breathing.

Dr. Brown stated she went to medical school in the West Indies. The name of the school is University of Science, Arts, and Technology, USAT. It is an accredited medical school.

Page 33:

She started the school in 2014.

Page 35:

Dr. Brown stated "I have no idea" when asked if the school is currently accredited. She stated she was not aware that the school's website at USAT.edu/aboutus/under "listing and accreditations," states "we are currently in the process of applying for accreditation."

Page 40-41:

Dr. Brown testified she has never been to Booneville, Arkansas or to Logan County, Arkansas. She stated she did not know the population mix at the Booneville Human Development Center and did not review the differences in the population mixes from the other Human Development Centers in Arkansas.

Page 43:

She is employed at two hospitals in Florida. They are Brandon and Lakeland which are located between Tampa and Orlando.

Page 46:

She did not recall how much money she had been paid in this case and stated she would have to review her records. This was her first deposition.

Page 48:

Dr. Brown testified that she reviewed David Cains' IPP and did not see anything about his violence.

Page 49:

She testified "I heard (he had) irritable behaviors that were to be handled with care, but not aggressive behaviors and his care plan for how to handle aggressive behavior. Mr. Gillispie then objected and notified his own expert witness that "The word aggressive is used in his care plan."

Page 50:

She stated she read "things about him ripping a paper off a wall which are not violent. And that was about it." I heard things "that he did have word outbursts which are not violent. And that was about it." She did not recall anything about a fire extinguisher being thrown by Mr. Cains or him attacking people or trying to hit people. She stated "he was not known to have ever attacked anyone."[10]

Page 52:

Dr. Brown stated her "medical opinion has absolutely nothing to do with his personal - - whether he had personal aggression or not." She stated "my opinion is purely medical and scientifically driven and does not take into account whether he was a violent person or not. It has no bearing on whether he dies from suffocation from choking."

Page 53:

Dr. Brown stated she has extensive training in chemical and physical restraint.

Page 54:

> Q: So, your opinion [on restraints] has nothing to do with whatever was authorized in the IPP or allowed in Arkansas in HDCs at that time?
>
> A: Correct. It is not.

Page 56:

She agreed when Mr. Cains was restrained, he was on his left side.

Page 57:

---

[10] Note for context: It is apparent that Dr. Brown was unfamiliar with David Cains' 2019 IPP which expressly addressed Mr. Cains history of "physical aggression," defined the term, and identified several instances of violence when Mr. Cains destroyed his television, radio, DVD player, and broke glass. Dr. Brown is also unfamiliar with the dozens of behavioral incident reports identified by Jennifer Berry, the BHDC Assistant Superintendent, which were introduced at her deposition which included instances of where, for example, Mr. Cains hit is mother while she was visiting, repeatedly threw fire extinguishers at staff, bit staff, hit and attempted to hit other residents.

Dr. Brown testified that she would want somebody who is vomiting to be placed on their side and not on their back. She agreed that when David Cains started vomiting, he was placed on his side.

Page 58:

Dr. Brown had concerns [redacted]

Page 59:

[redacted]

Page 60:

[redacted]

Page 61-62:

My opinion is that he choked from vomiting when he was on his left side.

She stated her typical training [physician training] would be not to turn him over on his back and do abdominal thrusts, but, instead, to perform back thrusts. She stated the proper way at that point is to lean him over a chair.[11]

Page 65-66:

When asked about the intensity of the struggle [between Mr. Cains and Mr. Mattson] Dr. Brown testified "I would assume that it would be a very intense struggle, given your death being the alternative."

[11] Note for context: Recall Mr. Cains was 6'2", weighed approximately 250 pounds, and was unresponsive. Dr. Brown's opinion that he could have been lifted up and leaned over a chair is unrealistic. [redacted]

Page 69:

Dr. Brown testified "I - - I would assume that it was an intense struggle. But, no, of course, I have not way of knowing exactly how intense it was."[12]

Page 72:

[redacted]

Page 74:

[redacted]

Page 75:

She stated that no one can rule out any of this. The only thing she can rule in is that a struggle often induces vomiting.

Page 76:

Dr. Brown stated she could not say what David Cains thought was a fight for life or when it came down to that.[13]

Page 77:

When asked, she testified it was "[h]ard to say" if Mr. Cains was pinned to the floor. It was her understanding that Tyler Mattson was holding Mr. Cains there but did not place his weight on him.

---

[12] Note for context: Because Dr. Brown assumes struggle was "intense" but admits that she does not know how intense it was, her testimony on this is purely speculative and does not raises to the standard of a reasonable degree of medical certainty.

[13] Note for context: Dr. Brown's testimony confirms the theoretical and speculative nature of her opinion. If she cannot say what Mr. Cains thought and when he thought it, then her testimony is simply conjecture and speculation because, she admits she does not know.

Page 77-79

Dr. Brown uses restraints in her emergency room to protect the individual from hurting him/her self and to protect staff. They restrain for the individual's own protection. When asked if it appeared that BHDC staff tried to de-escalate Mr. Cains behavior, she testified "I heard he was given a chance to go to the bathroom and sit down." She was then asked:

Q: And was the sit down a calming mechanism?

A: I don't know.

Q: As a matter of fact, the reason he sat down was to calm down, was it not?

A: That might have been what it was directly.

Q: So, in other words, there was a de-escalation or a calming before the outburst?

A: Not what I would call the traditional, but potentially the way they thought of it, maybe.

Page 81:

[redacted]

Page 83:

[redacted]

Page 85-86:

Dr. Brown agreed that the BHDC nurses arrival at the scene within 1-2 minutes was faster than any ambulance would be there even in a city.

Page 88:

Dr. Brown recalled that when the BHDC nurses arrived, someone directed one of the aides to call 9-1-1.

Page 92:

She confirmed that there is a clock on the wall in the emergency room. She stated she would have no idea when somebody has a car accident and they're injured and somebody says it happened at 12:30, whether that is an accurate time or if that is an estimated time.

Page 93:

Dr. Brown testified she did not know one way or another, whether the lobby of the Commons Building where this choking incident happened on June 13, 2020 had a clock.

Page 94:

She testified: If they don't have an exact time that they did it, then we would have to assume it's an approximation. She recalled that the times [in the lobby] were an approximation because there was no clock and nobody looked at a watch.

Page 96:

Although Dr. Brown stated that it was her understanding it was eight minutes from the initial onset of the "situation" to when the phone call was made to 9-1-1, she did not know whether that was from the time of the onset of the behavior or from when Mr. Cains choked testifying "you would have to ask the people involved. I was not there."[14]

Page 97:

[redacted]

Page 97-98:

[redacted]. Although that is her understanding of the timeline, it does not change her opinion as far as the timeline of events.

Page 99:

[redacted]

[14] Note for context: [redacted]

Page 100:

She read the Logan EMS records and they departed the scene at 12:10 and arrived at their destination at 12:18.

Page 105:

Dr. Brown testified that, "however minimal his physical pressure was, if he was restraining him, there was at least some pressure from his arm. She stated, though, she does not know what level of pressure there was. There was pressure on Mr. Cains stomach from the restraint.

Page 106-107:

Dr. Brown stated she did not examine David Cains' body, see any photographs, or see any report addressing any damage to the internal organs. She did not view any x-rays, MRI, or blood samples. She is not a forensic pathologist. She did not treat David Cains.

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, BAR No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
PO Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

Arkansas
State Claims Commission

FEB 16 2023

RECEIVED

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS — CLAIMANT

V. — CLAIM NO: 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESONDENT

DHS WITNESS AND EXHIBIT LIST

Comes now, the Respondent, The State of Arkansas, Department of Human Services ("DHS"), by its Attorney, Richard N. Rosen, and for its Witness and Exhibit List states:

A. Witness List

DHS may call the following witnesses at the hearing as indicated below:

1.	Jennifer Berry	in person and by deposition
2.	Dian Elliott	by deposition
3.	Dr. Ted Kastner	in person and by deposition
4.	LPN Schmitt	by deposition
5.	Tyler Mattson	by deposition
6.	Amy Jones	by deposition
7.	EMT Scow	by deposition
8.	Dr. Syed Hamid	in person and by deposition

B. Exhibit List

DHS will present the following exhibits:

DHS Trial Exhibit No:		Admitted as:
1	Dr. Kastner's Curriculum Vitae	Dr. Kastner's depo exhibit 1
2A	Dr. Kastner's Report dated 1/5/23	Dr. Kastner's depo exhibit 2A
2B	Dr. Kastner's Report dated 1/6/23	Dr. Kastner's depo exhibit 2B
3	CMS State Operations Manual Appendix J	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 10
4	DDS Policy 3011-D
5A	CMS Form 2567 Survey	Dian Elliot's depo exhibit 1
5B	Survey Investigation Report	Dian Elliot's depo exhibit 2
5C	Survey Investigation Report	Dian Elliot's depo exhibit 3

6A-6E	Photos of new construction	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 2A-2E
7	Commons Building Floor Plan	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 3A-3B
8A-8I	Photos Lobby Area	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 4A-4I
9A	BHDC Staffing Levels 6/2020 Facility wide	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 11
9B	BHDC Staffing Levels 6/2020 Davidson House	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 12
10	2019 IPP	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 13
11A	12/29/19 Behavior Report	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 8A
11B	2019 Behavior Reports	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 8B
11C	2020 Behavior Reports	Jennifer Berry's depo exhibit 9
12	EMS Report	Scott Scow's depo exhibit 1
13	Mattson OLTC Statement	Tyler Mattson's depo exhibit 9
14A	Jennifer Berry Deposition Summary
14B	Jennifer Berry Deposition and Exhibits
15A	Ted Kastner, M.D. M.S. Deposition Summary
15B	Ted Kastner, M.D. M.S. Deposition and Exhibits
16A	Dian Elliott Deposition Summary
16B	Dian Elliott Deposition with Exhibits
17A	Syed Hamid, M.D. Deposition Summary
17B	Syed Hamid, M.D. Deposition
18	Scott Scow Deposition Summary
19	Tyler Mattson Deposition Summary
20	Mark Hise Deposition Summary
21	Amy Jones Deposition Summary
22	Amanda Schmitt Deposition Summary
23	Janice LeBel, Ph.D. Deposition Summary
24	Rickie Brown-Forestiere, M.D. Deposition Summary

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED:

/s/ Richard Rosen

Richard N. Rosen (AR Bar No 97-164)
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
PO Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
(501) 320-6334 telephone
(501) 682-6720 facsimile
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I, Richard Rosen, do hereby certify that on February 16, 2023, a true and correct copy of the foregoing document was served on the named individual by way of:

Via Email
Joshua Gillispie
Attorney for Claimant
josh@greenandgillispie.com

/s/Richard Rosen
Attorney for DHS

From: Dana Henderson
To: ASCC Pleadings
Cc: Joshua Gillispie
Subject: Claim No. 22037
Date: Friday, February 17, 2023 10:36:13 AM
Attachments: Kris Stewart Subpoena.pdf

Claims Commission:

Please issue the attached Subpoena regarding the above-referenced claim.

Thank you for your time and assistance with this matter.

Sincerely,

Dana Henderson
Senior Paralegal/Office Manager

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
501.244.0700 (p); 501.244.2020 (f)
www.greenandgillispie.com

This email may contain material that is confidential and protected by attorney-client privilege. If you received this message by mistake or are not the intended recipient of this message, please destroy and notify the sender.
This message does not create an attorney-client relationship.

Issued by the
ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINA MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains, Claimant

SUBPOENA

V.

CLAIM NO. 220374

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, Respondent

TO: Kris Stewart
c/o Thomas Nichols
400 W Capitol Ave., #1200
Little Rock, AR 72201

_____ YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear at the Arkansas State Claims Commission at the place, date, and time specified below to testify in the above case.

March 9, 2023 at 9:00 a.m.; 101 E Capitol Ave., # 410, Little Rock, AR 72201

____ YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear at the place, date, and time specified below to testify in the taking of a deposition in the above case.

_____ YOU ARE COMMANDED, at the time of trial, hearing, or deposition described above, to produce and permit inspection and copying of the following documents or objects (list documents or objects):

_____ YOU ARE COMMANDED, no more than 3 business days after receiving this subpoena, to produce and permit inspection and copying of the following documents or objects (list documents of objects):

_____
Kathryn Irby, Director
Arkansas State Claims Commission
101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

_____
Date

PROOF OF SERVICE

_____
SERVED ON (Print Name)

_____ _____
DATE PLACE

_____
MANNER OF SERVICE

_____ _____
SERVED BY (Print Name) TITLE

DECLARATION OF SERVER

I declare, under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Arkansas, that the foregoing information contained in the Proof of Service is true and correct.

Executed on _____ _____
DATE SIGNATURE OF SERVER

_____
ADDRESS OF SERVER

NOTICE TO PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS

Regardless of his or her county of residence, a witness subpoenaed for examination at a trial or hearing must be properly served with a subpoena at least two days prior to the hearing, or within a shorter time if the court so orders. The subpoena must be accompanied by a witness fee calculated at the rate of $30.00 per day for attendance and $0.25 per mile for travel from the witness' residence to the place of the trial or hearing. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(d), Claims Commission Rule 3.2(d).

A witness subpoenaed in connection with a deposition must be properly served with a subpoena at least five business days prior to a deposition, or within a shorter time if the court so orders. The witness is required to attend a deposition at any place within 100 miles of where he or she resides, is employed, or transacts business in person, or at such other convenient place set by court order. The subpoena must be accompanied by a witness fee calculated at the rate of $30.00 per day for attendance and $0.25 per mile for travel from the witness' residence to the place of the deposition. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(e), Claims Commission Rule 3.3.

A subpoena may command the person to whom it is directed to produce for inspection any books, papers, documents, or tangible things designated in the subpoena. The person subpoenaed may ask the court to quash or modify the subpoena if it is unreasonable or oppressive or to require that the person on whose behalf the subpoena is issued pay the reasonable cost of such production. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(b). The person subpoenaed may also object in writing to inspection or copying of any or all of the designated materials or seek a protective order from the Claims Commission. If a written objection is made within ten days of service of the subpoena or on or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than ten days, the party causing the subpoena to be issued is not entitled to inspect the materials unless the court so orders. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(e). When a witness fails to attend in obedience to a subpoena or intentionally evades the service of a subpoena by concealment or otherwise, the Claims Commission may enforce the subpoena pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-207(d).

From: Kathryn Irby
To: dana@greenandgillispie.com; Joshua Gillispie
Subject: SUBPOENA: Claim No. 220374
Date: Friday, February 17, 2023 4:22:00 PM
Attachments: Kris Stewart Subpoena.pdf

Please see attached subpoena.

Thanks,
Kathryn

From: Misty Scott <Misty.Scott@arkansas.gov> On Behalf Of ASCC Pleadings
Sent: Friday, February 17, 2023 3:05 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Subject: FW: Claim No. 220374

From: Dana Henderson <dana@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Friday, February 17, 2023 10:36 AM
To: ASCC Pleadings <asccpleadings@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Subject: Claim No. 22037

Claims Commission:

Please issue the attached Subpoena regarding the above-referenced claim.

Thank you for your time and assistance with this matter.

Sincerely,

Dana Henderson
Senior Paralegal/Office Manager

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
501.244.0700 (p); 501.244.2020 (f)

www.greenandgillispie.com

This email may contain material that is confidential and protected by attorney-client privilege. If you received this message by mistake or are not the intended recipient of this message, please destroy and notify the sender.

This message does not create an attorney-client relationship.

Issued by the
ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINA MCAULIFFE, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains, Claimant

SUBPOENA

V.

CLAIM NO. 220374

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, Respondent

TO: Kris Stewart
c/o Thomas Nichols
400 W Capitol Ave., #1200
Little Rock, AR 72201

__X__ YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear at the Arkansas State Claims Commission at the place, date, and time specified below to testify in the above case.

March 9, 2023 at 9:00 a.m.; 101 E Capitol Ave., # 410, Little Rock, AR 72201

____ YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear at the place, date, and time specified below to testify in the taking of a deposition in the above case.

_____ YOU ARE COMMANDED, at the time of trial, hearing, or deposition described above, to produce and permit inspection and copying of the following documents or objects (list documents or objects):

_____ YOU ARE COMMANDED, no more than 3 business days after receiving this subpoena, to produce and permit inspection and copying of the following documents or objects (list documents of objects):

Kathryn Irby, Director
Arkansas State Claims Commission
101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

February 17, 2023
Date

PROOF OF SERVICE

_____
SERVED ON (Print Name)

_____ _____
DATE PLACE

_____
MANNER OF SERVICE

_____ _____
SERVED BY (Print Name) TITLE

DECLARATION OF SERVER

I declare, under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Arkansas, that the foregoing information contained in the Proof of Service is true and correct.

Executed on _____ _____
DATE SIGNATURE OF SERVER

_____
ADDRESS OF SERVER

NOTICE TO PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS

Regardless of his or her county of residence, a witness subpoenaed for examination at a trial or hearing must be properly served with a subpoena at least two days prior to the hearing, or within a shorter time if the court so orders. The subpoena must be accompanied by a witness fee calculated at the rate of $30.00 per day for attendance and $0.25 per mile for travel from the witness' residence to the place of the trial or hearing. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(d), Claims Commission Rule 3.2(d).

A witness subpoenaed in connection with a deposition must be properly served with a subpoena at least five business days prior to a deposition, or within a shorter time if the court so orders. The witness is required to attend a deposition at any place within 100 miles of where he or she resides, is employed, or transacts business in person, or at such other convenient place set by court order. The subpoena must be accompanied by a witness fee calculated at the rate of $30.00 per day for attendance and $0.25 per mile for travel from the witness' residence to the place of the deposition. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(e), Claims Commission Rule 3.3.

A subpoena may command the person to whom it is directed to produce for inspection any books, papers, documents, or tangible things designated in the subpoena. The person subpoenaed may ask the court to quash or modify the subpoena if it is unreasonable or oppressive or to require that the person on whose behalf the subpoena is issued pay the reasonable cost of such production. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(b). The person subpoenaed may also object in writing to inspection or copying of any or all of the designated materials or seek a protective order from the Claims Commission. If a written objection is made within ten days of service of the subpoena or on or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than ten days, the party causing the subpoena to be issued is not entitled to inspect the materials unless the court so orders. Ark. R. Civ. Proc. 45(e). When a witness fails to attend in obedience to a subpoena or intentionally evades the service of a subpoena by concealment or otherwise, the Claims Commission may enforce the subpoena pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-207(d).

Arkansas
State Claims Commission

FEB 21 2023

RECEIVED

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe,
as Special Administrator of the Estate
of David Cains — CLAIMANT

V. — Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESPONDENT

PRE-HEARING BRIEF

COMES NOW Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Pre-hearing Brief submits the following.

FACTS

The evidence in this case tells the following story:

David "Davie" Cains, a severely developmentally disabled resident of the Booneville Human Development Center (BHDC), died on June 13, 2020, while being physically restrained on the ground by three BHDC staff members – Tyler Mattson, Amy Jones, and Ryann Campos. "This entire event took place on the floor while three people were holding David by his legs, torso, and head. A fact that was omitted in reports to EMS, the hospital, the coroner, and the family." Exhibit 1, "DRA - Final Report on Cains Death." Disability Rights Arkansas (DRA), the federally mandated and funded nonprofit organization designated by the state of Arkansas to protect the rights of Arkansans with disabilities, investigated Davie's death and concluded that "this restraint likely, either directly or indirectly, led to David's death." Exhibit 1, "DRA - Final Report on Cains Death."

Davie had finished lunch shortly before being restrained and pinned down to the floor by staff using a method not authorized by the facility. Staff ignored Davie's physician orders to remain upright for one hour after eating due to [redacted] While he was being held down on his side by three BHDC staff members trained in first aid and CPR, he began to choke and vomit. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones p. 74. Davie appeared to be in respiratory distress and the staff turned him over onto his back within "a couple seconds" and attempted "upward thrusts." Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones p. 7: 13-16. [redacted]

Davie, as he was known to his loved ones, was 42 years old. A longtime resident of the facility, he was well-liked by staff. Davie was close with his family, particularly his sister and mother, who were very involved in his life. Davie loved his family, he loved his friends at BHDC, and he hated being alone. Davie loved to socialize, to talk, laugh, and tease, to sing and dance. Davie loved music; more specifically, Davie loved The Monkees – their music was a big part of Davie's life. He did not like silence. Davie did not like it when his friends were sad; he cried when they cried. Exhibit 45, Photos of Davie.

Davie died needlessly. The restraint staff used was unnecessary. Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 35: 14-17. Staff are only allowed to physically restrain residents in emergency situations; restraint is to be used only as an emergency measure at BHDC. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 27, p. 42, p. 44, p. 48; Exhibit 4, BHDC Policy I-D-4 (1); Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 11. The facility may employ physical restraint "as an emergency measure, but only if absolutely necessary to protect client or others from injury." Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(d)(1)(ii), [W296], Bates 1764; Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 32; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 30.

An emergency situation is one in which there is "imminent danger to the health or safety" of staff or clients. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 48: 12-15. Respondent defines "Imminent danger to health or safety" as a situation in which "death or severe bodily injury could reasonably be expected to occur without intervention." Exhibit 7, DDS 3004-I-Appendix A (6A), Bates 2052. This was the definition of "imminent danger" in use at BHDC at the time of Davie's death. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 62: 23-25, p. 63: 1-9. There was no emergency, nothing that could ever have remotely posed a risk of severe bodily injury or death. "[Davie] began screaming and cussing and ripped paper off of the wall to throw [sic] he then jumped up after me, spitting and attempting to hit me." Exhibit 8, Tyler Mattson OLTC Witness Statement. The evidence shows there was not even a risk of minor injury to staff.

Mattson testified at deposition to a different version of events than he gave in his OLTC Witness Statement and in his statement to DRA investigators, which were substantially the same. Almost two years after the event, he provided a very different version of the events leading up to the deadly ground restraint: in this version, Davie did not try to hit him, but rather "grabbed" at him, or perhaps charged at him, but not a running charge because there wasn't enough space between them for momentum, and he added, for the very first time ever in any of his official statements, that he thought he was near a ledge, which he said made it an emergency situation for him. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 100: 24-25, p. 101: 1-25, 102: 1-25, p. 105, 14-23, p. 107: 5-17.

Again, in his written OLTC Witness Statement, completed near the time of Davie's death, Mattson said that Davie tried to hit him, omitting all mention of grabbing, charging, lunging, and omitting all mention of a ledge. Exhibit 8, Tyler Mattson OLTC Witness Statement. Mattson also omitted all mention of the ledge in his statement to DRA investigators, which was conducted within a few months of the event; he never mentioned a ledge, mentioned Davie charging at him, and never mentioned Davie trying to grab him or wrap him up. Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 63; Exhibit 1, "DRA - Final Report on Cains Death." Dian Elliot, the Office of Long-Term Care (OLTC) Surveyor who also interviewed Mattson, approximately two weeks after the event, also reported zero mention whatsoever of a ledge during her deposition, and also zero mention of lunging or charging. See Exhibit 21, OLTC Surveyor Dian Elliot.

Mattson's OLTC Witness Statement says he grabbed Davie by both of his arms, causing Davie to fall to the ground. Exhibit 8, Tyler Mattson OLTC Witness Statement. At deposition Mattson first testified he grabbed Davie by his shoulders, then moments later said it was actually both of Davie's arms that he grabbed, and that this somehow caused them to lose their balance and fall over together. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 102, p. 103. Either way, one significant constant is that Davie never laid a finger on Mattson; Mattson grabbed Davie by either his shoulders or by both of his arms, a restraint violation in itself[1], and caused Davie to go to the ground.

Respondent will make much of Davie's size in the hopes of showing he was a threat, because he was over six-feet-tall and supposedly 250 pounds at the time of his death. However, Tyler Mattson was a very large man himself, at least average height if not tall and probably around 250 pounds or more, based on photos and based on his appearance at deposition. Exhibit 31, Photos of Tyler Mattson. See also the Videographer Footage of Mattson at his Deposition, which shows Mattson standing with Claimant's counsel during a demonstration.

---

[1] Staff are not supposed to grab both arms or both wrists of a resident simultaneously. BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 54; Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 52.

This provides a good comparison, as Claimant's counsel is 6'3 and weighs approximately 220 pounds; Mattson is clearly significantly heavier.

Davie was not dangerous. Davie never caused injury to anyone at BHDC. Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 50, p. 52; Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 66; Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 49; Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p. 7, p. 10; Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 22, p. 24, p. 28; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 8; Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 59; Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker Caleb Murry, p. 28; Exhibit 16, Claimant Christine McAuliffe, p. 21, 22.

At times Davie didn't know what to do with his emotions. His IQ was 36 and his intellectual functioning was believed to be similar to that of a four-year-old. Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 24, p. 29: 20-25, p. 30: 1-10. He was capable of temper tantrums, like any four-year-old: throwing objects that happened to be nearby, spitting, yelling, and even swinging his arms or faux-swatting with his hands. Davie never actually hit anyone, though, at least not anyone that the approximately twenty BHDC staff members deposed could identify. This is because Davie lacked the physical capabilities, like coordination, strength, and dexterity, to do so, even if he had desired to, which he did not. Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 15, 16 (not physically capable of intentionally causing harm to a grown man); Exhibit 16, Claimant Christine McAuliffe, p. 98: 9-16, p. 110: 7-25, p. 115: 6-25, p. 116: 1-6.

Even if this had been an emergency situation, staff were required to use only the "least restrictive" approved method possible. Exhibit 17, DDS 3011-D (3); Exhibit 5, Federal ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(iii), [W278], Bates 1754 (the least restrictive appropriate technique possible); Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(4), [W289], Bates 1760; Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(ii), [W277], Bates 1753; Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 30, p. 37: 5-9; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 26: 24-25, p. 27: 1-3, p. 34; Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 113: 3-17; Exhibit 19, BHDC Residential Services Manager Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 43: 17-25, p. 44: 1-4; Exhibit 20, BHDC QIDP/Program Manager Justin Jobb Part II, p. 49, p. 50; Exhibit 21, OLTC Surveyor Dian Elliot, p. 123: 5-12, p. 133: 23-25, p. 134: 1-4; Exhibit 22, Dr. Janice LeBel – Summary of Expert Opinions; Exhibit 37, Dr. Janice LeBel – CV; Exhibit 23, Dr. Janice LeBel Deposition Transcript. BHDC's written policy states: "Emergency Restraint is defined as the use of the least restrictive procedure and for the least time necessary to control severely aggressive or destructive behaviors" [emphasis added]. Exhibit 4, BHDC Policy I-D-4 (2)(a).

The evidence revealed a certain amount of disregard within Respondent's ranks for this most primary of Respondent's written policies on restraint usage. For example, Melissa Weatherton, Director of the Division of Developmental Services since 2016, actually testified she was not aware of a requirement that staff at BHDC use only the least restrictive method available when applying restraint. Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 14: 24-24, p. 15: 1-8. This is concerning, given this is surely the most oft repeated and foundational safety rule for restraint use within the very division she heads. Exhibit 17, DDS 3011-D (3); Exhibit 5, Federal ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(iii), [W278], Bates 1754 (the least restrictive appropriate technique possible); Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(4), [W289], Bates 1760; Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(ii), [W277], Bates 1753; Exhibit 4, BHDC Policy I-D-4 (2)(a).

Sandy Evans was the Residential Services Director at the time of Davie's death, in charge of all direct care staff; she was also who Superintendent Gonyea appointed to conduct the facility's maltreatment investigation of Tyler Mattson, Amy Jones, and Ryann Campos, all three Evans' subordinates and coworkers. Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 19, p. 59, p. 60; Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 56. Gonyea, in determining the three staff members did nothing wrong, claims he relied almost entirely on Evans' investigation. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 76: 23-25, p. 77: 1-2. Gonyea confirmed that, aside from the three staff members actually involved in the restraint, Sandy Evans possesses the most direct knowledge of anyone concerning the restraint incident on the day of Davie's death. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 77: 3-8.

Sandy Evans admitted at deposition that the restraint used on Davie at the time of his death was not the least restrictive option available. Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 50: 1-7, p. 47: 5-25 (they never gave Davie a chance to calm down and collect himself on the ground unrestrained), p. 48: 1-13, p. 49: 11-25 (it was an inappropriate use in violation of policy, requiring retraining, but in her opinion did not rise to the level of maltreatment). Amy Jones and Ryann Campos, the two staff members who helped Tyler Mattson perform the restraint, made similar admissions at deposition. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 115: 5-17 (acknowledging she probably should have made Tyler let Davie up right away); Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 80: 17-21, 81: 2-6 ("there were less restrictive ways that the situation could have been handled").

DRA's investigation also specifically concluded it was a violation of DDS 3011-D (the "least restrictive" mandate) for staff to continue to restrain Davie after he was on the ground, as opposed to giving him space and time to calm himself, which would have been a less restrictive option readily available to staff. Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 79: 6-16; Exhibit 1, "DRA - Final Report on Cains Death."

Davie certainly posed no danger once Tyler got him on the ground. Amy Jones testified Davie posed no significant danger to Tyler Mattson when she arrived at the scene and joined in the restraint. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 102: 4-13. When asked why Tyler did not simply back off to give Davie some space since he was neutralized on the ground, Jones said, "I don't know." Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 66: 12-15. Tyler had Davie on his left side while he knelt behind him holding him down with his left hand on Davie's shoulder and right hand on Davie's waist; only Davie's right arm was free, but he never once hit Tyler with it. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 66: 1-15. Tyler never asked her for help, but instead of ordering Tyler to release Davie, Jones testified she knelt down, grabbed both of Davie's arms to hold them in front of him near his face[2]. Later, Ryann Campos joined the ground restraint by kneeling down and grabbing both of Davie's legs by the ankles. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 67, p. 68, p. 72.

At no point throughout the ordeal did Davie strike any of them; he never hit one of them, kicked one of them, or spit at one of them. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 77: 1-7; Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 56: 9-11, p. 98: 15-17; Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 56: 1-3, p. 59: 14-16, p. 63: 7-18, p. 64: 14-25. DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, one of the investigators in Davie's case, illustrated well the needlessness of the ground restraint in her deposition:

> A He said that they -- let's go back and see exactly what Tyler told me. He applied personals by grabbing his arms. So, Tyler grabs him, okay, and he says they end up falling over. David lands on his face but, then, Tyler is still able to roll him onto his side. So, my point is, if you're able to get up and gain physical whatever over this guy and roll him on his side, you're probably just as able to be able to walk away and give him some space to see if he calms down [emphasis added].

[2] Ryann Campos stated in her OLTC Witness Statement that Amy Jones was holding Davie by the head, not the arms. Exhibit 36, Ryann Campos OLTC Witness Statement. She then repeated this to the DRA investigators. Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 67, 10-23.

Q What if he didn't calm down?
A Well, he didn't get a chance to.

Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 99: 2-12.

Even there been a real emergency, the ground restraint used on Davie was not even an approved method of restraint at BHDC, much less the least restrictive option. Obviously, an unauthorized restraint technique could never be the least restrictive option. Only "authorized" forms of restraint can be used BHDC. Exhibit 33, BHDC Client Rights (17).

It was done in direct violation of training and facility policy. It was disallowed. Mark Hise is the Staff Development Coordinator at BHDC. Staff development is responsible for training staff in emergency procedures, which includes personal (physical) restraints[3]; staff development does "all the training" on the use of personal restraints. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 70, p. 71; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 20. Hise, who has worked at BHDC for 27 years, is NCI certified. He is responsible for showing the staff how to use personal holds or personal restraints in cases of emergencies. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 71, p. 72; Exhibit 24, BHDC Assistant Superintendent Jennifer Berry, p. 124. As a Staff Development Coordinator, Hise would have the most knowledge or expertise concerning the use of personal restraints and personal holds in emergency situations at the facility. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 73: 12-17. Hise is BHDC's expert in the use of personal restraints. He is the CPI/NCI expert for the BHDC facility, the only training curriculum used for personal restraints at the facility. Exhibit 24, BHDC Assistant Superintendent Jennifer Berry, p. 127: 9-11, p. 128: 5-19.

[3] BHDC employs the use of chemical restraints, mechanical restraint using a papoose board, and simple physical restraints - which they call "personal restraints" or "personal holds." Exhibit 24, BHDC Assistant Superintendent Jennifer Berry, p. 107. The mechanical restraint was the only approved method at BHDC that was not from the CPI/NCI curriculum. Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 12: 1-22.

According to Mark Hise, the ground restraint used on Davie was not allowed.

Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 12: 1-22, p. 21: 8-25, p. 22: 1-25 ("The training that we teach in NCI is a standing personal hold and a seated personal hold. There is no on-the-ground personal hold."), p. 23: 1-8, p. 27: 16-25, p. 28: 1-6, p. 32: 9-22, p. 35: 5-17, p. 42: 5-10. Other staff members, including even restraint participant Amy Jones, agreed the ground restraint used on Davie was not allowed. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 35: 14-23 (expressly prohibited from putting a client on the ground for personal restraint); p. 43: 8-18, p. 44: 9-17; Exhibit 25, Dr. Syed Hamid, p. 78: 12-24; Exhibit 20, BHDC QIDP/Program Manager Justin Jobb Part II, p. 8. Staff are not authorized to hold a client on the ground even where a client puts himself on the ground during an aggressive episode. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 45: 1-9. Tyler Mattson testified he does not remember what personal restraint techniques he was taught to use in response to severe aggression prior to Davie's death. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 37: 25, p. 38: 1-3. There are good reasons ground restraints are not supposed to be used at BHDC. Ground restraints, particularly side restraints on the ground, are extremely dangerous. Exhibit 35, "An Investigation into the Physiological and Psychological Impact of Supine and Side Lying Physical Restraint Techniques."[4] See also Exhibit 39, CPI Risks of Physical Restraint - Part of BHDC Annual Training.

[4] "The SLR [side laying restraint] position was found to impose the greatest pressure to the thorax, the greatest ventilatory restriction, and was perceived to be the most anxiety inducing, the least comfortable and the most limiting to breathing when compared to the two supine positions.... In this current study SLR exerted greater pressure on the thorax (116.1 ±17.5) than did unsupported or supported prone restraint, and reduced FVC by 14.6% compared to 16% for unsupported prone, and 11% for supported prone, therefore the recommendation for

The fact that ground restraint was not described anywhere in BHDC's policies and procedures and not identified or even mentioned as an approved restraint in Davie's Individual Placement Plan (IPP) also made its use a violation of federal regulations.

Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(i), [W276], Bates 1753 (all specific interventions for the management of inappropriate client behaviors which are approved for use in the facility are to be clearly stated and described in its policy). BHDC had a duty to comply with this policy. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 21; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 24. See also Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(iv)(B), [W280], Bates 1755 (policies and procedures of a facility must address the types of physical restraint allowed at the facility*, the persons who can use the restraints,* and the specific training required for staff allowed to use them), with which BHDC had a duty to comply. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 23, p. 24. See also Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(d)(1)(i), [W295], Bates 1764 (facility required to specify, within a client's IPP, the physical restraints that can be used, addressing "the type of physical restraint" and the "specific type of client behavior" for which the physical restraints described in the IPP can be used), with which BHDC had a duty to comply. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 25; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 29, p. 35.

There was only one definition for personal (physical) restraint at BHDC: "an emergency procedure limiting movement by the holding of a hand or limb." Exhibit 4, BHDC Policy I-D-4 (6)(a); Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 40: 1-25; Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 45, p. 46; Exhibit 19, BHDC Residential Services Manager Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 66. It in no way encompassed ground restraints. Exhibit 2, the use of SLR as a safer alternative to both prone and supine restraint to minimize the risk of adverse restraint-related outcomes [14] should be challenged."

---

BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 12: 1-22, p. 21: 8-25, p. 22: 1-25 ("The training that we teach in NCI is a standing personal hold and a seated personal hold. There is no on-the-ground personal hold."), p. 23: 1-8, p. 27: 16-25, p. 28: 1-6, p. 32: 9-22, p. 35: 5-17, p. 42: 5-10.

The OLTC Survery's testimony is further confirmation that what staff did was a violation of federal regulations:

> Q Staff can't use methods that aren't approved by the facility, can they?
> A No.
> Q They can't use methods that aren't taught to them by the facility, can they?
> A No.
> Q Those would be violations of Appendix J, wouldn't they?
> A Yes. Dian Elliot,.

Exhibit 21, OLTC Surveyor Dian Elliot p. 110: 18-25, p. 111: 1. Mark Hise's testimony proves that staff violated Appendix J. Had Elliot interviewed Hise she would have known this:

> Q Okay.
> A So, if he told me -- then at that point, if he looked at me and I would have said, "Was that theleast restrictive that they could have used," and he looked at me and said, "No," that would have been in my investigation, that's part of my evidence. So, it would have been after I did my investigation if I would have asked her that. But she is just the investigator. I would go to the CPI person.
> Q And if the CPI person told you that the restraint used was something he did not teach, something that was not part of CPI, and not the least restrictive option, that would have been a big deal to you?
> A That would --
> Q That would have been a big deal to you?
> A I would have considered that strongly in my investigation, yes.

Exhibit 21, OLTC Surveyor Dian Elliot p. 140.

Tyler Mattson, who described his job caring for Davie and other developmentally disabled residents as "glorified babysitter," is the direct care staff member who initiated the restraint. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 25. Prior to Davie's death another staff member named Jonathan McCutcheon witnessed Mattson physically abusing another resident; he reported it to administration. Exhibit 26, Former Staff Jonathan McCutcheon, p. 6: 7-23, p. 7: 1-21, p. 8: 4-25, p. 9: 1-25. McCutcheon believes he reported it directly to BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea. Exhibit 26, Former Staff Jonathan McCutcheon, p. 10: 1-25. Nothing was done. Exhibit 26, Former Staff Jonathan McCutcheon, p. 11: 1-11.

Just two weeks prior to Davie's death, Mattson employed unnecessary and unauthorized physical restraints on Davie twice in the same day. Had BHDC disciplined him, or even provided him additional training, Davie would very likely still be alive. The first one was in violation of policy because there was clearly no emergency to justify physical restraint, as Mattson himself acknowledged. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 71: 4-15 ("wasn't, like, a full-blown situation"); Exhibit 27, 5/29/20 Behavior Incident Report No. 1. At BHDC, staff can lay hands on residents only in full-blown situations – emergency situations likely to result in serious physical harm or death. Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(d)(1)(ii), [W296], Bates 1764; Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 32; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 30. Later this same day Mattson applied physical restraints to Davie again, this time for three minutes, because Davie threatened to throw a thermometer. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 73: 4-20; Exhibit 28, 5/29/20 Behavior Incident Report No. 2. Mattson incurred no consequences for either violation. The administrator who reviewed and signed her approval of Mattson's use of physical restraint for this second 5/29/20 incident admitted at her deposition that the situation did not in fact meet the definition of emergency that would justify physical force, and further, based on what is contained in the report, Mattson was not justified in his use of physical restraint and she should have flagged Tyler for this rather than approving it and moving on. Exhibit 19, BHDC Residential Services Manager Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 53: 1-17, p. 54: 3-16. Davie would likely be alive if she had. This was only two weeks before he died.

Mattson also did this to Davie in March of 2020, less than three months before his death. On 3/20/20, Mattson restrained him on the ground for four minutes; he said Davie "tried to spit and swing on me," but acknowledged Davie never laid a finger on him; he only let him up once Davie apologized. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 77: 1-14; Exhibit 29, 3/20/20 Behavior Incident Report. This clear violation of restraint policy, notably the obvious use of an unauthorized ground restraint, was also approved by Carrie Johnson-Miller, whose testimony revealed she also required retraining on the fact that take-downs of clients to the ground for personal restraint on the ground were not allowed. Exhibit 19, BHDC Residential Services Manager Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 13, p. 14, p. 22: 11-20, p. 62: 9-13. BHDC squandered this opportunity to retrain Mattson on ground restraints, which could have saved Davie's life.

By holding Davie down on the ground just after his lunch, BHDC staff ignored Davie's known [redacted]risk and the physician orders that [redacted] Exhibit 46, Physician Orders at Discharge 6.19.20; Exhibit 47, Physician Orders 6.1.20; Exhibit 48 Physician Orders 3.1.19. [redacted]. Tyler Mattson, who testified he was aware of Davie's [redacted], initiated the ground restraint right after Davie finished lunch. [redacted] See Exhibit 43,

"Prevention of Choking and Aspiration" – New York Office of People with Developmental Disabilities, pgs. 3-4. This is noteworthy because Respondent's expert witness, Dr. Kastner, was recently the head of this office in New York, under former Governor Andrew Cuomo; some of Dr. Kastner's expert opinions in this case are in direct conflict with the contents of this document as it relates to [redacted]

Davie was a known [redacted] BHDC staff knew Davie was [redacted] See Exhibit 49, BHDC Prevocational Trainer Rhonda Harris, p. 10, p. 11, p. 13, p. 14. He should have never been taken to the ground under any circumstances, particularly after lunch.

The ground restraint caused Davie to vomit, as explained by Claimant's expert witness, Emergency Room physician Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere:

> So, when someone is struggling in this scenario that's been described by all the participants, someone who is struggling has what's called a fight or flight response, meaning they're -- have adrenaline surges and they are fight -- essentially fighting for their life. Their muscles constrict to fend off what they feel is an attack. They -- so their muscles constrict, their breathing increases, (interference) set of physiological (interference) leads to increased intrathoracic pressure which is the pressure in your chest. And it also constricts the abdomen which increases the intra-abdominal pressure. Both of these are cavities in the body where the stomach is. The inferior or superior aspect on top of the stomach is the diaphragm in the chest above that, and just below it, the abdomen. And increased pressure on both of these does place increased pressure on the stomach and from the sides. Obviously, there's a definitive end to the body and how far it can stretch. And also his left side being on the floor is another definitive mechanical block as to where it can expand. So, if you think of the stomach as a cube, it's having pressure from all different angles for – because of the struggle and the position and the increased pressures. And it caused him to [redacted]

Exhibit 42, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, p. 13, p. 14; Exhibit 44, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere CV. Dr. Brown-Forestiere further testified:

> Q Okay. So if I'm hearing you correctly, Dr. Brown, and in my very nonmedical layman's terms, intense struggle that produces a fight or flight reflex and adrenaline can, in itself, increases the likelihood of triggering vomiting; is that correct?
>
> A In this scenario, it would, yes, due to gravity.
>
> Q And being on his left side increased the likelihood that the pressure, intrathoracic pressure and gravity, would --
>
> A Yeah.
>
> Q -- trigger vomiting?
>
> A Yeah. Unfortunately, the stomach -- and the stomach's on the left. So it means everything in the body and all the pressures above him were pressing down onto the stomach; which was butting up against the ground, essentially.
>
> Q Okay. And the fact that he had -- if I'm hearing you correctly, the fact that he [redacted]
>
> A Correct.

Exhibit 42, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, p. 14, p. 15. Respondent's expert witness, Dr. Ted Kastner, similarly opines that anxiety played a role in Davie vomiting during the restraint. Respondent's Exhibit, Dr. Kastner Report, Pt.. 1, p. 21. Intense anxiety would certainly be an element to the "fight or flight" response described by Dr. Brown-Forestiere.

Because Davie was horizontal on the ground, gravity caused him to [redacted]

Q And do you have any opinion as to after he began vomiting while he was on his left side, do you have any opinion or does what happened next, what staff did next, play into your opinion at all?

A Yes. So, unfortunately, [redacted]

Exhibit 42, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, p. 15, p. 16. Dr. Brown-Forestiere opined further on the role [redacted] might have played:

A So Mr. Cains was on the floor being restrained by three people in three different locations of his body. There was a struggle, fight or flight, patient just struggling, adrenaline pumping, causing a lot of constriction of muscles and things of that nature. If you think -- in simpler terms, if you think of the stomach as a water balloon, essentially, it had pressure coming from every single direction; and the water balloon, eventually the tie at the top, broke. That would be the lower esophageal I was talking about. The tie at the top broke and all the water was released and, unfortunately, the water was a solid substance and it then --

Q And his balloon tie is weaker than most because of his [redacted] correct?

A Correct. Yeah, so balloon, weaker tie, breaking, everything coming up. Those are solid substances. He was on his left. They then turn them [him] on his back, allowing the vomit to rest in his throat closing off his air pipe and closing off gas exchange [redacted]

[redacted]

Exhibit 42, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, p. 27, p. 28, p. 29.

Neither Mattson nor the other two called 911, not after Davie began vomiting, not after he [redacted] BHDC policy forbade them from doing so; at BHDC, only medical staff are authorized to call for emergency medical help, while all other staff are only allowed to alert the facility's medical department. Exhibit 34, BHDC First Aid Guidelines – Policy IV-B-10; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 51: 7-25, p. 52: 1-25; Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 78: 22-25, p. 79: 1-11 ("I would have like to" been able to call 911 for David); p. 123: 8-17 ("We're not allowed to" call 911); Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 57: 9-25 (...it don't really make sense that we couldn't call them [medical department] and then call 9-1-1 as well."), p. 115: 5-17 (wishes she had violated the policy and called 911 right away for Davie); Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p.20: 16-19; Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker Caleb Murry, p. 56; Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 54: 14-18, p. 65: 22-25, p. 66: 1-22 (everyone she interviewed at BHDC confirmed there was a policy forbidding nonmedical staff from calling 911 in the event a resident has a medical emergency) (Gonyea told her they did not trust staff to recognize a medical emergency, feared 911 might be called unnecessarily), p. 67: 1-10 ; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 22: 16-23, p. 23: 9-22 (There were "no exceptions" to the rule), p. 26: 11-25.

> Q Do you have any idea why that was the rule?
> A Yes. It was to control a situation. To be blunt with you, BHDC administration wanted to present their narrative in the documentation in an event like an emergency.
> Q What do you mean?

A They wanted total control of what was – would appear in the documentation. Any emergency event would have been documented. And they just presented an attitude where they wanted complete control.
Q Do you know why that was so important to them?
A It was just – they had had problems in the past where things leaked out that was not in their interest.

Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 24: 18-25, p. 25: 1-6.

Among many other violations, including basic common sense, BHDC's 911 policy violated its own stated Client Rights policy, which provides residents the "right to receive medical care." Exhibit 33, BHDC Client Rights (8).[5] DRA Advocate Kris Stewart testified that in her 27 years of working with and on behalf of developmental disability populations, she has never seen a similar 911policy. Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 66: 19-22. DRA also documented this glaring deficiency in its report. Exhibit 1, "DRA - Final Report on Cains Death." The facility didn't believe direct care staff possessed the ability to recognize a medical emergency, yet it was these same staff in whom they entrusted the daily care of Davie and other residents, in whom they entrusted the task of performing dangerous restraints on Davie and other residents. If these staff truly were not equipped to know when to call 911, they could not possibly have been equipped to react to an emergency situation with appropriate care.

So, they called the nursing station instead, located in another building on the BHDC campus; they informed the three LPNs on duty Davie was not breathing. Exhibit 11, BHDC

[5] This is not the first time a reckless policy instituted by BHDC deprived a resident of their right to medical care and contributed directly to that resident's death; this resident also choked to death on her own vomit. Specifically, BHDC implemented a Behavior Treatment Program for a female client that "emphasized ignoring any behavior that resembled a seizure because it was believed that Jane was deliberately engaging in the seizure-like episodes to garner attention," which is exactly what staff did – ignored her as she suffocated to death on her own vomit on the ground right in front of them. Exhibit 38, DRA Investigation Report - BHDC Death - 2016.

LPN Kelly King, p.16: 10-15; Exhibit 39, Nurses Notes – Amanda Schmitt; Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 40: 17-19. Despite being told this in no uncertain terms, these three LPNs did not call 911 for an ambulance; rather, two of them, Kelly King and Amanda Schmitt, got in a car and drove across campus to the Commons building where Davie wasn't breathing, because they felt they needed to see if for themselves.

> Q Right. Because 9-1-1 -- everybody that I've talked to tells me that 9-1-1 has equipment and capabilities superior, life-saving equipment and capabilities. You know, they have EpiPens, they can do intubation, they can do deep suctioning, they can, you know, communicate. You know, they have superior life-saving skills. So I'm just asking, you know, why didn't you or Ms. Noah or Ms. Schmitt or somebody else, anybody else, call 9-1-1 the second you heard that a patient --
> A I don't --
> Q -- was literally not breathing?
> A Well, because, I mean, I didn't really know what was going on and a lot of --
> Q But you were told he wasn't breathing. Did you not believe the person?
> A Well --
> Q Did you need to see it for yourself?
> A Yes. Actually, I did.

Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p.22: 7-25 (emphasis added). King testified further that they cannot rely on direct care staff's word, that they sometimes experience false alarms:

> A Actually, I have had a couple of phone calls where a client is not breathing within the last year; and, when we got there, they were, in fact, breathing.
> Q Okay. And, because of that, you guys just don't take staff's word for it? You have to see – medical needs to see for themselves that somebody's dead or not breathing before you call 9-1-1? And that seems like a safe policy to you?
> A I -- you know, I don't even know how to answer that, to be honest with you.

Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p. 23: 25, p. 24: 1-11.

Q So that's two questions, actually. The first question, Nurse King, is do you have to see it for yourself? That's question one. The second question is, does that seem like a good, safe policy to you? So you can go ahead and answer now.
A You know, I'm going to say no for both those questions.

Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p. 25, 1-8. See also Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 48 (they did not call 911 for emergency help after they received the initial call because they get a lot of calls from staff saying a client is choking and that most of the time the client ends up being okay).

The three nurses' decision to "see it for themselves" squandered precious minutes for Davie. According to King and Schmitt it took them almost three minutes to reach Davie. Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 57, p. 58; Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p. 17. According to Don Carter, whose job for four and a half years was literally to drive from building-to-building picking up recycling, says that it would not have been possible for the nurses to make the trip in less than five minutes. Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 35: 6-24, p. 36: 1-3 ("But, even on a Saturday, I would say, for me to do that in a hurry would be five minutes"). According to Ryann Campos, the nurses did not authorize someone to call 911 for several minutes *after reaching Davie. Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 46: 1-8.

The three LPNs did this despite being well aware that paramedics have superior life-saving capabilities and superior life-saving equipment; they have deep-suctioning devices, can intubate; can do chemical codes, and were only a 911 call away. Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 54, p. 55; Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p. 25. They knew the paramedics could have provided better life-saving care. Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 56: 7-11. These LPNs did not have the equipment, tools, or training to save Davie's life. The paramedics who responded after nursing staff eventually authorized calling 911 had all these things. Exhibit 40, Paramedic Samuel Scow, p. 45: 1-9 (Scow was actually able to clear Davie's airway using a Magill forceps, one of many tools BHDC did not have available); Exhibit 41, Logan County EMS Report. Dr. Brown agreed with this:

> Q Okay. And am I correct that a paramedic such as Mr.Scow, the training and the equipment that they brought to the scene, is much greater than what your typical LPN would be able to provide?
> A Oh, absolutely. An LPN is the -- one of the very lowest medical certifications in regards in the nursing world it -- as the lower end. And, even an RN, which is above an LPN, would not have been able to have the tools or administer the type of treatments or procedures that a paramedic can. They're very highly trained. So they -- they have quite a few tools at their disposal and knowledge to use them.

Exhibit 42, Dr. Ricki Brown, p. 23: 6-18. Unfortunately, Scow arrived too late to save Davie's life.

The evidence strongly suggests at least five and maybe as many as ten minutes elapsed between the time Davie began choking and when BHDC called 911. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 120: 1-5; Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 46: 1-8; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 35: 6-24, p. 36: 1-3; Exhibit 40, Paramedic Samuel Scow, p. 8: 14-21, p. 10: 19-25 (determined, based on the 911 call coming in at 11:37 am, that it was eight minutes from the time Davie stopped breathing and when the facility called 911); Exhibit 41, Logan County EMS Report. Respondent will argue that these five to ten minutes would not have made a difference, but Paramedic Scow disagrees: "I can't give any specific like certainty. But I can say that, yeah, time is tissue. So it doesn't matter what the patient condition is, whether it's asphyxiation, cardiac arrest, stroke, heart attack, you know, the longer you go without oxygen circulation gas exchange, so -- and I can't say that he would have lived. But I may or may not have been able to get ROSC. And that's just based on -- and that ROSC is return of spontaneous circulation, for those who don't know." Exhibit 40, Paramedic Samuel Scow, p. 15. Dr. Brown testified that "those eight minutes, honestly, in my opinion, I think that it could have had a very large impact." Exhibit 42, Dr. Ricki Brown, p. 21.

Respondent will argue that because it took Paramedic Scow approximately nine minutes [redacted]hat the paramedics arrival sooner could not have made a difference. However, there is no way for Respondent to know how long it would have taken Scow to clear the airway at an earlier time. Meaning, [redacted] was not static or fixed; Davie's condition was changing by the moment in those precious minutes wasted by BHDC, and it is entirely possible Davie's condition was more favorable for [redacted]at any time prior to Scow's arrival. Further, it is possible the ambulance could have arrived sooner if called for at an earlier time – traffic conditions might have been different, traffic lights might have been different, or the ambulance, if already mobile, might have happened to be nearer to the facility at any earlier time. All that can be said with absolute certainty is that every second counts in a medical emergency; that is inarguable. For Respondent to suggest that it would not have increased Davie's odds if the paramedics arrived five to ten minutes sooner is nonsensical. It is more likely than, by a preponderance of the evidence, Davie would have had at least a slightly better chance at survival.

BHDC provided false information on the cause and circumstances of Davie's death to the paramedics, to the emergency room, to the Logan County Coroner, and to Davie's family, who were not told that a restraint even occurred until ten days after Davie's death and three days after his burial; BHDC's deceit successfully prevented an autopsy, foreclosing the possibility of criminal charges. Exhibit 52, BHDC's Timeline of Events (this was the facility's official version of events that was provided to DRA and other interested parties; it intentionally omits that there was a restraint); Exhibit 53, Facility Case Notes 6.13.20 – Documents False Info Provided Davie's Mother (reflects BHDC gave Davie's mother false information about her son's death, telling her only that he choked on his food at lunch; all mention of the restraint was omitted). Gonyea identified this document as a case note from the day of David's death reflecting Booneville's communication with and notification to David's mother, Charlene Robinson, about Davie's death and what happened. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 92. See also Exhibit 60 Final Synopsis Provided to Charlene Robinson (the first and only notification the family ever received notifying them there had been a restraint, received three days after Davie's funeral, and it offered no explanation beyond stating that the staff who had restrained Davie at the time of his death had been cleared of all wrong doing and the case was closed, this despite the fact that this was the very first mention of a restraint Davie's family have heard).

Paramedic Samuel Scow testified that he was never once informed there had been a restraint; rather, he was told Davie choked on his lunch and was simply found lying on the floor by himself. Exhibit 40, Paramedic Samuel Scow, p. 9: 1-17. This lie caused false information to be related to the emergency room and then to the coroner, Michael Chrisman, who told DRA investigators that had he known of the restraint he would have likely ordered an autopsy. Exhibit 1, "DRA - Final Report on Cains Death."

Davie's sister, Christine "Chrissy" McAuliffe, and his mother, Charlene Robinson, reasonably believed BHDC was the best place for Davie, who required 24-hour care. Both were heavily involved in Davie's life. Davie's mother and sister were very involved in his life; his was one of the most involved families at BHDC, according to Caleb Murry, whose job it was to be the liaison between clients and their families. Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker Caleb Murry, p. 22, 23. Murry had regular contact with both his mother and sister: "It wasn't uncommon for his sister to call and say, you know, I'm going to be sending him a birthday cake for his birthday or, you know, we're going to come get him." Murry says he talked to DC's mom even more: "me and his mom talked pretty frequently." Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker , p. 22, 23.

> Q And they were pretty involved?
> A Oh, absolutely. Yes, they were.
> Q More so than the average family member?
> A Yeah. I would say, as far as family involvement, they were probably one of the top, top ones as far as being involved with any other. They were very close to him.

Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker , p. 23. However, they were never told that dangerous and unauthorized forms of physical restraint would be used on Davie. They were never told that nobody would call for an ambulance were Davie to suffer a medical emergency.

It was not until after Davie's death that they learned improper and excessive restraint use was pervasive at BHDC. It was not until after Davie's death that they learned BHDC administration often turned a blind eye to these violations. Following Davie's death, Chrissy and Charlene learned that in 2019 BHDC staff broke one resident's arm during a restraint and choked another resident unconscious during a restraint. Exhibit 50, 1.31.21 Dem-Gaz Article. They learned that Disability Rights Arkansas had issued a report in January of 2016 entitled "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraint at the Booneville Human Development Center," which revealed, among other things, that restraint use at BHDC was "approximately twenty-five times higher" than at the other four Human Development Centers in Arkansas. Exhibit 51, DRA 2016 Report - Booneville's Excessive Use of Restraints.

NEGLIGENCE

Respondent, the Arkansas Department of Human Services (DHS), and more specifically its Division of Developmental Services (DDS), which oversees operation of the Booneville Human Development Center (BHDC), is vicariously liable for the negligent acts of its agents and employees at BHDC.

The essential elements of a negligence claim are "(1) the existence of a duty on the part of the defendant to conform to a specific standard of conduct to protect the plaintiff; (2) breach of that duty by the defendant; (3) injury to the plaintiff actually and proximately caused by the defendant's breach; and (4) resulting damages to the plaintiff or his property." Cross v. Western Waste Industries, 2015 Ark. App. 476, 7, 469 S.W.3d 820, 825 (2015).

While negligence requires an appreciable risk of harm to others that a reasonably careful person would recognize, "it is not necessary that the actor foresee the particular injury which occurred, only that the actor reasonably foresee an appreciable risk of harm to others" [emphasis added]. Wallace v. Broyles, 331 Ark. 58, 961 S.W.2d 712, 715 (1998). Proximate cause in a negligence action may be shown from circumstantial evidence, and such evidence is sufficient to show proximate cause if the facts proved are of such a nature and are so connected and related to each other that the conclusion therefrom may be fairly inferred. Id.

Under the doctrine of respondeat superior, an employer may be held vicariously liable for the tortious conduct of an employee or agent if the evidence shows that such conduct was committed within the scope of the agent's employment. St. Joseph's Reg'l Health Ctr. v. Munos, 326 Ark. 605, 612, 934 S.W.2d 192, 195 (1996). The test for whether an employee is acting within the scope of his employment is whether the individual is carrying out the "object and purpose of the enterprise," as opposed to acting exclusively in his own interest. Porter v. Harshfield, 329 Ark. 130, 137, 948 S.W.2d 83 (1997). A principal may be liable for an agent's unauthorized, and even intentional conduct if the conduct was something that might be expected in view of the agent's duties. Life & Cas. Ins. Co. of Tenn. v. Padgett, 241 Ark. 353, 355, 407 S.W.2d 728, 729 (1966).

RESPONDENT OWED DAVID CAINS A DUTY OF CARE.

BHDC owed David Cains a duty of care. In agreeing to accept the custody, care, and control of Davie, Respondent expressly assumed a duty of care for David Cains. The relationship between BHDC and Cains imposed a duty in this case. Duty can be assumed or created through actions, and "where a person undertakes to act, they must do so carefully or they will be liable for negligence." Yanmar Co., Ltd. v. Slater, 2012 Ark. 36, 16, 386 S.W.3d 439, 449 (2012). The moment Respondent agreed to take care, custody, and control of David, a duty was created. The Arkansas enabling statute for the creation of BHDC makes this clear: "There are created and there shall be maintained institutions for the care, custody, treatment, and training of individuals with intellectual and other developmental disabilities to be known as 'human development centers.'" A.C.A. § 20-48-403. And: "For the purposes of the institutions, the Board of Developmental Disabilities Services is charged with the care and training of individuals with intellectual and other developmental disabilities." A.C.A. § 20-48-403.

More importantly, BHDC was required to comply with federal regulations governing its operation. These federal regulations are referred throughout testimony interchangeably as the CMS regulations, Appendix J, the State Operations Manual, and ICF-IID regulations – all terms referring to the same federal regulations found at 42 C.F.R. § 483.00 et seq. Additionally, BHDC was required to adhere to state DDS policies, as well as its own policies and procedures. These federal, state, and facility policies constitute specific duties owed by BHDC to Davie Cains: See the Policies and Regulations Summary attached with this brief.

RESPONDENT BREACHED ITS DUTIES OF CARE

Respondent breached its duties of care to Davie as specifically described in the preceding FACTS section of this brief, as well reflected in the deposition transcripts and Deposition Summaries, attached hereto.

AN APPRECIABLE RISK OF HARM WAS A FORESEEABLE CONSEQUENCE OF RESPONDENT'S BREACHES

While negligence requires an appreciable risk of harm to others that a reasonably careful person would recognize, "it is not necessary that the actor foresee the particular injury which occurred, only that the actor reasonably foresee an appreciable risk of harm to others" [emphasis added]. Wallace v. Broyles, 331 Ark. 58, 961 S.W.2d 712, 715 (1998).

As described in the preceding FACTS section of this brief, as well reflected in the deposition transcripts and Deposition Summaries, attached hereto, not only was an appreciable harm to Davie foreseeable, but this particular harm was highly foreseeable. Respondent knew full well that restraints posed a significant risk of injury to Davie, as reflected in BHDC's own Restraint Incident Debriefing Form:

> "The Booneville Human Development Center is dedicated to the reduction of restraint use at the facility. The use of restraints is proven to be dangerous for both staff and clients, with the occurrence of injuries dramatically increasing when restraint is used. All efforts must be made to deescalate behavioral situations so that they do not result in restraint. All restraint at the facility is to be for emergency use only (even when part of a behavior treatment program) when a very real risk of personal injury or severe property damage is imminent."

Exhibit 61, BHDC Restraint Incident Debriefing Form. This written directive was in use at BHDC at the time of Davie's death. Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 65.

RESPONDENT'S BREACHES DIRECTLY AND PROXIMATELY CAUSED DAVIE'S DEATH

Respondent caused Davie's death, as specifically described in the preceding FACTS section of this brief, as well reflected in the deposition transcripts and Deposition Summaries, attached hereto.

If Davie had been standing or seated when he vomited, he would not [redacted] regardless of what caused the vomiting; he was on the ground when he vomited because staff were holding him on the ground, regardless of how he got to the ground. Staff were not authorized to hold clients on the ground, not trained to do so, and were in violation of policy in doing so.

THE DAMAGES ARE SIGNIFICANT

Please see the deposition transcripts of Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, Charlene Robinson, and Sarah Ashley Cains.

Damages of the Estate of David Cains

- Loss of life of David Cains, commencing at death and ending at life expectancy. "Loss of life" damages are recoverable by the estate as an independent element of damage. These are the damages that would compensate a decedent for the loss of the value that a decedent would have placed on his or her own life. Durham v. Marberry, 356 Ark. 481, 156 S.W.3d 242 (2004).

- Conscious pain and suffering of David Cains prior to death. For cases involving conscious pain and suffering prior to death, see New Prospect Drilling Co. v. First Commercial Trust, N.A., 332 Ark. 466, 966 S.W.2d 233 (1998); Chambliss v. Brinton, 229 Ark. 526, 317 S.W.2d 143 (1958). Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere testified that Davie's death would have been particularly painful:

  A So, when someone chokes and their airway is closed off, obviously, they can no longer receive oxygen or expel CO2. This quickly induces kind of what we would call a terror fight or flight response, similar to a drowning victim. They start fighting with everything they can. Unfortunately, as the airway is blocked, CO2 which is -- turns into a toxic substance, which is an acid, builds up in their body, their muscles fighting against and are unable to expel the lactic acid they build up. So, essentially, you're not only suffocating, but it's a feeling of burning. Your lungs begin burning, your whole body, because of the acid build up. And the struggle -- and eventually you become unconscious and -- and your body continues to struggle until it no longer can.

Exhibit 42, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, p. 19.

- Funeral expenses incurred because of David Cains' death
- Medical bills incurred, which here includes only the Ambulance bill

Damages of Cains' Statutory Beneficiaries (which include Claimant, David's sister, and Charlene Robinson, David's mother, and David's half-sister Sarah Ashley Cains)

- Mental anguish and emotional distress, including grief and despair, suffered up to the present time; and

- Mental anguish and emotional distress, including grief and despair, that will continue for the remainder of each of their lives. "Future mental anguish is recoverable." Knoles v. Salazar, 298 Ark. 281, 766 S.W.2d 613 (1989).

CONCLUSION

If there are no repercussions for misconduct, likelihood that the offense will be repeated increases. If there are not consequences for this event, the roughly 900 developmentally disabled Arkansas currently residing in Arkansas HDCs will be more likely to meet the same fate as Davie.

Only significant consequences can force the change that is needed to protect this most vulnerable population of Arkansans.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
Green & Gillispie Law Firm
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 facsimile
jdgillispie@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was filed via email with the Arkansas Claims Commission on this 16th day of February, 2023, and service shall be accomplished via email to counsel of record.

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

Dr. Kastner's opinions should be given little weight, if any.

Dr. Kastner prepared two expert reports for DHS regarding this matter. One report is dated January 5, 2023 (part one), and another dated January 6, 2023 (part two). He also provided testimony via deposition. Many of Dr. Kastner's opinions are based on mistaken assumptions, incorrect representations of testimony and/or statements, his own contradictory statements, and shifting definitions and standards.

Dr. Kastner offers some of his opinions "based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty" on matters that aren't medical. Dr. Kastner's puffery in attaching this phrase to non-medical conclusions is obvious on its face, and should be considered when judging his credibility and the weight (if any) that his opinions should carry. For example, Dr Kastner offers the following opinions "based upon a reasonable degree of medical certainty":

- "While on the floor, Mr. Cains continued to demonstrate aggressive behavior towards Mr. Mattson and, subsequently, to other staff." Kastner Part Two, p. 5.
- "While on the floor, Mr. Mattson and other staff applied personal holds for the purpose of protecting Mr. Cains, staff and other individuals." Kastner Part Two, p. 5.
- "While on the floor, staff made no effort to hold or "pin" Mr. Cains to the floor. The application of personal holds was solely for the purpose of protecting Mr. Cains, staff and other individuals from Mr. Cains's aggressive behavior." Kastner Part Two, p. 5.
- "I agree with Dr. LeBel that the CMS regulations are "centrist." Kastner Part Two, p. 3.
- "Mr. Cains, who [redacted] at the time of the event, "charged at" or "lunged" at his staff, Mr. Mattson, and thereby initiated the process which led to physical contact between the two." Kastner Part Two, p. 4.

- "Mr. Cains is entirely responsible for the fact that the medical order [redacted] was violated." Kastner Part One, p. 9.
- "Inconsistencies in the recording of the timing of the events was so frequent that all time notations, with the exception of when EMS was notified and the team dispatched, should be considered approximate." Kastner Part One, p. 10.

These opinions aren't medical in nature, but fall more along the lines of making assertions of non-medical facts (i.e., aggressive behavior. Mr. Cains charged at and lunged); discerning the intent and purpose of staff (i.e. applied personal holds for the purpose of protecting. the application of personal holds was solely for the purpose of protecting); ideological and political opinions (the CMS regulations are centrist); assigning liability, fault and blame (Mr. Cains is "entirely" responsible); and setting his standard for how this Commission should weigh the facts and evidence in this matter (Inconsistencies in the recording of the timing of events, with one exception, should be considered approximate).

Dr. Kastner testified during his deposition that the standard of care he was applying consisted of government and facility regulations, plus what a reasonably qualified direct support professional would have done under the circumstances. Kastner Deposition, p. 70. He testified that he derives this reasonable professional standard from the fact that professionals have to comply with licensing entities who set standards for the licensure of certain professionals. Kastner Deposition, p. 186. However, he admitted that the three staff members who held Davie down did not have any such licenses, or that they were even required to have a license. Kastner Deposition, p. 221. Additionally, in both of his written reports he never references that he is applying a reasonable licensed professional standard or definition in evaluating whether staff in this matter met the standard of care. It was during his deposition that he first made this distinction.

But Dr. Kastner contradicts himself. His report states "CMS rules and regulations, ARDDS policies and procedures, and BHDC policies and procedures represent the standard of care for the delivery of behavioral services at BHDC." Kastner Part Two, p. 3. He does explain later that "staff exercised their professional judgment in order to meet the standard of care including the use of less restrictive procedures, "time and space," and other appropriate means." Kastner Part Two, p. 5. But this brief statement that they exercised professional judgment hardly advises the reader that the licensing requirements of professionals (which didn't apply to these staff members) was part of his definition of the standard of care set out earlier in his report. Additionally, Dr. Kastner was unable to cite any federal, state, or BHDC regulation, rule or policy that applied the licensing requirements of professionals as part of the standards applied to staff members such as those in this case.

Dr. Kastner actually contradicted his licensed professional standard during his direct examination by DHS counsel. When asked "what is the standard of care for restraint use in human development centers in the State of Arkansas, who determines that, standard of care?", he testified under oath that "the standard of care is determined by the Centers for Medicaid and Medicare—Medicare and Medicaid Services, and subsequent state and facility-based documents." Kastner Deposition, p. 49. Dr. Kastner did not include his reasonable licensed professional definition in this response to the question from DHS's counsel. Dr. Kastner at one point even excluded the governmental and facility regulations from his standard of care when attacking the Claimant's expert: "the only standard of care that is applicable to the conduct of an RCT in performing their duties is the standard for what an RCT is expected to know and to do.

And that would be based upon their training, their experience and their judgment as to what was the most appropriate course of treatment." Kastner Deposition, p. 94.

In offering his opinions, Dr. Kastner ignores inconsistencies in different statements (oral or written) given by BHDC staff, and assumes every statement they made was true and accurate. Also, Dr. Kastner just simply gets some of the facts wrong. In his deposition he stated that "Mr. Mattson and Mr. Cains had been discussing how Mr. Cains felt while he was in the dining area. He had experienced and communicated some nonspecific gastrointestinal distress." Kastner Deposition, p. 65. However, Tyler Mattson testified that Davie asked to go to the bathroom immediately after finishing lunch, and that Davie was getting agitated, but he did not know what caused the agitation. Staff Tyler Mattson Deposition, p. 93. Mattson further testified that he went into the bathroom with Davie, that Davie only urinated, and took "less than a minute." Staff Tyler Mattson Deposition, p. 96. At no time during his deposition testimony, or in any other statements did Mattson say that Davie discussed how he felt regarding gastrointestinal distress.

Dr. Kastner also provides an extremely specific prediction as to Davie's life expectancy at the time of his death without any semblance of a scientific basis or methodology. He cited some figures regarding obesity in his reports; however, he admitted under oath that they only applied to individuals between the ages of twenty and twenty-nine, and that Davie was older than twenty-nine. Kastner Deposition, p. 306-308. Dr. Kastner uses inapplicable studies, statistics, and standards to support some of his opinions. He also offers opinions that defy common sense. He testified that the BHDC policy requiring direct care staff to call medical first, and prohibited them from calling 911 for an ambulance, even when a person has no pulse and isn't breathing, was a completely appropriate policy with respect to the care provided to Davie. Kastner Deposition, p. 332-333. It is shocking that any medical professional would every justify a policy that instructs staff to disregard their CPR training by prohibiting them for immediately calling 911 or directing someone else to immediately call 911 when a person is without a pulse and not breathing. Dr. Kastner opines that Davie did not suffer severe pain when he was suffocated with his own vomit and food debris. Kastner Part One, p. 49-51. And while he attacks Dr. Brown and claims she didn't support her opinion regarding pain, he does not support his assertion other than to say the sensation of pain requires tissue damage. It is obvious the acidic contents of a person's stomach will burn and damage tissue in the airway and lungs.

From:	Kathryn Irby
To:	Joshua Gillispie
Cc:	Misty Scott
Subject:	RE: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374
Date:	Tuesday, February 21, 2023 3:13:00 PM

Josh, thanks for this information.

Misty, will you replace the old binders with the new ones that Mr. Gillispie dropped off?

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Tuesday, February 21, 2023 2:37 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Subject: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374

Kathryn-

I just wanted to let you know that I stopped by your office today to drop of four flash drives containing everything that we filed in physical form on Thursday - including the Brief, Witness List, Exhibit List, Kastner Section, Deposition Summaries, Deposition Transcripts, and other Exhibits. It occurred to me that, while you only required physical copies, these might make things more convenient for your staff.

Additionally, I dropped off four additional physical copies of just the Pre-hearing Brief. The reason for this is that Exhibit citations in the copies provided on Thursday (in Volume 1 of the binders) printed in a very light ink that is a strain on the eyes. By Exhibit citations, I mean the words identifying what each exhibit is. This was the result of me using the color green for these descriptions when I was writing it on word; somehow that caused it to print funny. I want to make clear that absolutely nothing was changed, corrected or altered in any way, other than removing the color green and reprinting, causing the Exhibit citations to appear in normal ink. A quick comparison of the documents will bear that out. I just didn't want the Commissioners to have to struggle when reading.

I explained all of this to Kaitlyn in your office and she was very nice and helpful, but I thought it necessitated a follow up email to you.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

From: Daiquiri Carter
To: ASCC Pleadings; Joshua Gillispie; Rich Rosen
Cc: Daiquiri Carter
Subject: CC # 220374
Date: Monday, February 27, 2023 10:37:29 AM Attachments: DHS" Motion to Exclude Witness and Exhibits_001.pdf
image001.png
image002.png

Please find attached DHS' Motion to Exclude Witness and Exhibits. I have copied Claimant's attorney on this email.

Thank you,

Daiquiri D. Carter, M.Ed.
Legal Services Specialist
Office of Chief Counsel
PO Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203-1437
501-320-6338 phone
501-682-6720 fax
Daiquiri.carter@dhs.arkansas.gov

NOTE - This email may contain sensitive or confidential information.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: The information contained in this email message and any attachment(s) is the property of the State of Arkansas and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to which this email is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying or distribution this transmission is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. The sender has not waived any applicable privilege by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES RESPONDENT

DHS's Motion to Exclude Claimant's Expert Witness- Bob Bowen- Who Was Untimely Identified, Via Email, After Business Hours on February 13 at 6:27 p.m.

COMES NOW Respondent, DHS, by counsel, who moves to exclude Plaintiff's newly named "expert" rebuttal witness as untimely identified to DHS, via email to counsel, just days before the deposition summaries, exhibits, and trial briefs were due and whose opinions, to date, still have not yet been identified to DHS; and as grounds therefore, states as follows:

1. In December, 2021, DHS propounded Interrogatory No. 1 to Claimant requesting identification of Claimant's expert witnesses to be called at trial and for each such expert, to state:

- The subject matter on which he or she is expected to testify; and
- To state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testified; and
- To give a summary of each such opinion.

2. On January 20, 2022, Claimant identified Janice LeBel, Ph.D as her expert but failed to provide DHS with either the substance of the facts and opinions of Janice LeBel's opinions or any summary of her opinions, as requested. See Claimant's First Supplemental Response to Discovery, DHS Ex. 1.

3. On July 1, 2022, Claimant also identified Ricki Brown-Forestiere, M.D. as her expert but, just the identification of Janice LeBel, Ph.D., again failed to provide DHS with either the substance of the facts and opinions of Dr. Brown-Forestiere's opinions or any summary of her opinions, as required. Claimant did provide the Doctor's C.V. See Claimant's Second Supplemental Response to Discovery, DHS Ex. 2.

4. Due to Claimant's 7-8 month delay in providing the substance of the facts and opinions of Claimant's previously name expert witnesses, DHS sent Counsel a good-faith letter seeking disclosure of the requested information by September 9, 2022. See DHS letter and email to Claimant, dated August 30, 2022 – DHS Ex. 3.

5. In response to DHS' good-faith letter of August 30, 2022, Claimant forwarded DHS its Third Supplemental Responses to DHS Discovery, via email on September 7, 2022, identifying the substance of the facts and opinions of Dr. Brown-Forestiere's opinions and a summary of her opinions, but still not yet providing DHS with the actual substance of the facts and opinions of Janice LeBel, Ph.D or a summary of her opinions. See Claimant's Third Supplemental Response to Discovery, DHS Ex. 4.

6. On Friday, December 30, 2022, Claimant emailed DHS a copy of the facts and opinions of Janice LeBel and formally supplemented he discovery on January 3, 2023. See DHS Ex. 5A, 5B, respectively.

7. By email to DHS after the close of business on Monday, February 13, 2023, at 6:27 p.m., Claimant identified a new, previously undisclosed rebuttal "expert" witness named Bob Bowen and provided DHS with a C.V. showing Mr. Bowen is neither a physician nor a holder any advanced educational degrees. See email- DHS Ex. 6A. In her identification of Mr. Bowen as an expert, Claimant informed DHS only that (1) "[t]he substance of and grounds for his testimony will be dependent upon Dr. Kastner's live testimony" and (2) "[t]he subject matter is expected to be federal CMS regulations, also known as ICF/IID regulations within Appendix J of the state Operations Manual (the federal regulations) and whether the Booneville Human Development Center violated those regulations in the case of David Cains." See Claimant's Sixth Supplemental Response to Discovery, DHS Ex. 6B. None of Mr. Bowen's actual opinions, were provided nor were the facts upon which he based those undisclosed opinions.

8. Per the Commission's June 28. 2022 letter to counsel, the Commission directed that the parties' witness lists, exhibits lists, exhibits and trial briefs, be submitted on February 16, 2023.

9. Because Claimant first identified Bob Bowen as her expert witness after the close of business in Monday, February 13, 2023, just days before the exhibits and trial briefs were to be filed, DHS had no opportunity to depose Mr. Bowen and, to date, is still unaware of his "expert" opinions or the facts upon which he will base those purported opinions.

10. Consequently, due to the untimely and incomplete identification of the Mr. Bowen as a purported "expert" witness, due process and fundamental fairness requires that he be excluded from being allowed to testify. Mr. Bowen is not a fact witness and was identified by Claimant as an expert witness. Because of Claimant's disregard of the discovery rules, particularly those pertaining to expert witness, Mr. Bowen's testimony should not be allowed.

WHEREFORE the Arkansas Department of Human Services, by Counsel, moves that this Commission exclude Bob Bowen from testifying as a "expert" witness, whether in Claimant's case in chief or in rebuttal. The parties deposed each other's named experts and, whether intentional or inadvertent, Mr. Bowen was not one of the ones named for desposition.

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services
By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, Bar No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203

501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

Certificate of Service

On February 27, 2023, a copy of the above motion to exclude was served via electronic mail and mailed to:

Joshua D. Gillespie, Esquire — josh@greenandgillispie.com
GREEN & Gillespie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72214

Richard Rosen

BEFORE THE CLAIMS COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE,
AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF
THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPT. OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

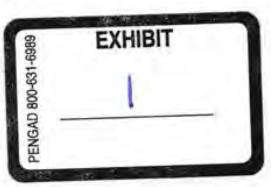
FIRST SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSES TO RESPONDENT'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION



Interrogatories

COMES NOW the Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Supplemental Responses to DHS's First Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production, states as follows:

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please identify by name, address and telephone number, each and every person that you expect and/or will call as an expert witness at the trial of this claim and for each and every such person, please state the subject matter on which he or she is expected to testify, and state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and give a summary of the grounds for each such opinion.

ANSWER: Plaintiff has not yet formally retained an expert witness, but she will be doing so soon and will supplement this response at that time. It is likely that one or more of the Disability Rights Arkansas advocates who have previously investigated BHDC will be called to testify concerning DRA's findings and conclusions, including those findings contained in their 2015 Report, 2016 Report, and their Investigative Report on David Cains' death. These reports, which are being produced herein, speak for themselves.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Janice L. LeBel, EdD/PhD, ABPP. Dr. LeBel's CV and Fee Schedule are provided herein, which contain her contact information. Dr. LeBel, as reflected in her CV, is a psychologist and an expert in field of behavioral health services and residential care for vulnerable populations, including the disabled, mentally ill, and children. Dr. LeBel has published extensively on the use of restraints in these settings. She is expected to testify concerning the standard of care for a facility such as BHDC, and whether there were breaches of that standard that lead to Cains's death. Dr. LeBel can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant. At this time there is no written report to share with Defendant.

Request for Production of Documents

1. Copies of all exhibits that you will introduce at the trial of this matter, including but not limited to all documents, reports, photographs, videotapes, digital recordings, records, bills, invoices, statements, accounts, receipts, x-rays, ultrasounds, and medical records.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff reserves the right to amend this response. Plaintiff will timely supplement this response as exhibits are identified and obtained throughout discovery. At this time, Plaintiff reserves the right to use any document produced or identified by either party throughout this discovery, including but not limited to Plaintiff's medical records, medical bills, funeral bills, various photos of David Cains, coroner reports, expert reports, including those already written and produced by Arkansas Disability Rights, and any rules and regulations or policies that Defendant was required to adhere to, including those required for Medicare/Medicaid reimbursement. Many, if not most, of the exhibits Plaintiff will use are currently in Defendant's possession, not Plaintiff's, including but not limited to Individual Program Plans, Behavior Programs, Behavior Plans, Resident Behavior Reports, Restraint Incident Debriefing Forms, Restraint Logs, Emergency Restraints, and records reflecting personal, chemical, or mechanical restraints used on David Cains throughout his time at BHDC, written communications to or from you related to the restraint and death of David Cains, policies, rules, procedures, or guidelines in effect at BHDC at the time of David Cains' death, including but not limited to those pertaining in any way to the use of restraints, such as Use and Documentation Procedures to Manage Behavior and Documentation of and Response to Maladaptive Behaviors.

Plaintiff is producing with these responses the following documents currently in her possession, which have been bates stamped and mailed to Defendant's counsel on a flash drive:

- 2015 DRA Report on BHDC
- 2016 DRA Report on BHDC
- DRA Final Investigative Report on Cain's Death
- Cains' medical records from Booneville Mercy
- 11 photos of David Cains taken prior to his death.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE:

- Ambulance bill
- Ambulance records
- Headstone bill
- Funeral services bill

3. Copies of the C.V./ resume of each and every expert that may testify at the hearing on this claim.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff has not yet formally retained an expert witness, but she will be doing so soon and will supplement this response at that time.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Provided herein, the CV of Dr. LeBel.

4. Copies of all bills, statements, and invoices itemizing the financial damages claimed herein.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff will produce these upon receipt. However, these are not likely to be substantial, most likely consisting of funeral/burial expenses, the ambulance bill, and the hospital bill from the date of David Cains's death.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Provided herein, ambulance bill, funeral services bill, and headstone bill.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
Attorneys at Law
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was transmitted via electronic mail and US Mail on this 20th day of January 2022.

Eric M. Collins, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
Eric.Collins@dhs.arkansas.gov

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

BEFORE THE CLAIMS COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE,
AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF
THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPT. OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSES TO RESPONDENT'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

Interrogatories

COMES NOW the Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Second Supplemental Responses to DHS's First Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production, states as follows:

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please identify by name, address and telephone number, each and every person that you expect and/or will call as an expert witness at the trial of this claim and for each and every such person, please state the subject matter on which he or she is expected to testify, and state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and give a summary of the grounds for each such opinion.

ANSWER: Plaintiff has not yet formally retained an expert witness, but she will be doing so soon and will supplement this response at that time. It is likely that one or more of the Disability Rights Arkansas advocates who have previously investigated BHDC will be called to testify concerning DRA's findings and conclusions, including those findings contained in their 2015 Report, 2016 Report, and their Investigative Report on David Cains' death. These reports, which are being produced herein, speak for themselves.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Janice L. LeBel, EdD/PhD, ABPP. Dr. LeBel's CV and Fee Schedule are provided herein, which contain her contact information. Dr. LeBel, as reflected in her CV, is a psychologist and an expert in field of behavioral health services and residential care for vulnerable populations, including the disabled, mentally ill, and children. Dr. LeBel has published extensively on the use of restraints in these settings. She is expected to testify concerning the standard of care for a facility such as BHDC, and whether there were breaches of that standard that lead to Cains's death. Dr. LeBel can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant. At this time there is no written report to share with Defendant.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD. Dr. Brown-Forestiere's CV is provided herein. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is an Emergency Medicine Physician and an expert in her field of emergency medical services. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is board certified in Emergency Medicine. She is expected to testify concerning the cause of David Cains' death. Dr. Brown-Forestiere can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant.

Request for Production of Documents

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION 3. Copies of the C.V./ resume of each and every expert that may testify at the hearing on this claim.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff has not yet formally retained an expert witness, but she will be doing so soon and will supplement this response at that time.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Provided herein, the CV of Dr. LeBel.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Provided herein, the CV of Dr. Brown-Forestiere.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
Attorneys at Law
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was transmitted via electronic mail and US Mail on this 1st day of July, 2022.

Eric M. Collins, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
Eric.Collins@dhs.arkansas.gov

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD

[redacted]

EMPLOYMENT

1/2022-Present	Lakeland Regional Hospital Emergency Medicine Physician Department Chair: James Melton, MD	Lakeland, FL
8/2021-Present	HCA - Florida Brandon Hospital Emergency Medicine Physician Supervising Faculty - Emergency Medicine Residency Department Chair: Victor Sasson, MD	Brandon, FL
7/2018-6/2021	Brandon Regional Hospital Emergency Medicine Resident Program Director: Anthony Furiato, DO	Brandon, FL
1/2015-4/2017	Acute Care Solutions Providence Hospital, Emergency Department Physician Assistant, PRN Department Chair: Nicholas Steinour, MD	Waco, TX
6/2013-9/2014	Dell Seton Medical Center at The University of Texas Physician Assistant, Orthopedic Trauma Surgery Department Chair: Drake Borer, MD	Austin, TX

EDUCATION/TRAINING

7/2018-6/2021	Brandon Regional Hospital - University Southern Florida Emergency Medicine Residency	Brandon, FL
9/2014-4/2018	University of Science, Arts and Technology Doctor of Medicine	Montserrat, West Indies
7/2009-11/2011	Touro University Master of Science, Physician Assistant Studies	Henderson, NV
5/2005-12/2007	Northeastern Illinois University Bachelor of Science, Biology and Chemistry	Chicago, IL
8/2003-6/2005	Oakton Community College Major: Biology	Niles, IL
8/2001-5/2002	Michigan State University Major: Theater	East Lansing, MI

Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD

[redacted]

HONORS

04/2018	Graduated Magna Cum Laude Department of Medicine, University of Science, Arts and Technology	Montserrat, West Indies
12/2007	Graduated Summa Cum Laude, Department of Science Northeastern Illinois University	Chicago, IL

BOARD CERTIFICATION

2021	Emergency Medicine Physician - Oral boards pending
2018	Educational Commission For Foreign Medical Graduates ID: 09658394
2012	The National Commision on Certification of Physician Assistant ID: 110245

CERTIFICATIONS

ATLS, ACLS, PALS, BLS, USMLE I, USMLE 2CK, USMLE 2CS, USMLE 3

LICENSURE

4/21-Present	DEA: FB0133330
2/2021-Present	Florida Medical License ID: ME149105
7/2018-6/2022	Florida Training Physician Medical License ID: TRN27408
10/2017-12/2018	California Physician Assistant Board ID: 54991
8/2012-2/2018	Texas Medical Board; Physician Assistant, ID: PA07947

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2020	Brown-Forestiere R, Furiato A, Foresteire N P, et al. (May 11, 2020) Acute Appendicitis: Clinical Clues and Conundrums Related to the Greatest Misses. Cureus 12(5): e8051. DOI 10.7759/cureus.8051
2005-2007	Synthetic pathways and variations in feedstock for production of Biodiesel Ana Fraiman, PhD, Veronica Palmer, PhD, Northeastern University, Chicago, IL
2006-2007	Effects of Melatonin on rapidly dividing, HPV+ cervical cancer derived HeLa cells Terrance Puryear, PhD, Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago, IL

ABSTRACT PRESENTATION

2007	Brown R, Anderson M, Stoyan A, Puryear T, PhD. "Effects of Melatonin on rapidly dividing, HPV+ cervical cancer derived HeLa cells. Poster & Podium at Northeastern Illinois University Student Research Symposium, Chicago, IL. April 24, 2007

LEADERSHIP

2022	ACEP Leadership & Advocacy Conference -Lobby senators: Physician and patient centered policy -Political Affairs Focus Groups	Washington DC
2021-Present	Supervising faculty - Emergency Medicine Residency	Brandon, FL

Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD

[redacted]

LEADERSHIP

2019-2021	Brandon Regional Hospital - Emergency Residency - Resident Mentor	Brandon, FL
2013-2018	University of Science, Arts and Technology - Student Mentor	Montserrat, West Indies
2013-2015	Central Texas Physician Assistant Society - Physician Assistant Student Preceptor	Waco, TX
2009-2011	Touro University - Student Council: Class President, Physician Assistant	Henderson, NV
2005-2007	Northeastern Illinois University - Student Council: Treasurer	Chicago, IL
2006-2007	Northeastern Illinois University - Student Council: Volunteer Event Coordinator	Chicago, IL
1999-2001	Niles West High School - Gymnastics Team Captain	Skokie, IL

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

2020	Brandon Regional Hospital EMS: Fundamentals, Fellowship, Future	Brandon,FL
2018	Brandon Regional Hospital Toxicology Lecture: Cocaine and Other Sympathomimetics	Brandon, FL
2018	EM Clerkship Podcast Episode Summary Guide
2016	University of Science, Arts and Technology Anatomy Lab Assistant	Miami, FL
2014	University of Science, Arts and Technology Renal Lecture: Renin Angiotensin Aldosterone System Renal Lecture: Diuretic Pharmacology	Dallas, TX
2005-2007	Northeastern Illinois University Organic & Inorganic Chemistry Biweekly Review Lectures	Chicago, IL
2005-2006	Northeastern Illinois University Organic Chemistry Lab Assistant	Chicago, IL
2004-2005	Oakton Community College - Inorganic Chemistry Lab Assistant	Chicago, IL

ADMINISTRATIVE

2016	University of Science, Arts and Technology - University Web Design Team: Content	Montserrat, West Indies
2010-2011	Touro University - Student Clinical Coordinator	Henderson, NV
2009-2011	Touro University - Curriculum Develop Committee	Henderson, NV

Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD

[redacted]

VOLUNTEER

2013	Balinese Women's Higher Education Fund - Founder	Candidasa, Bali
2012-2013	Livestrong Cancer Research Challenge	Austin, TX
2012	Gedong Gandhi Ashram Urgent Care Clinic	Candidasa, Bali
2010-2011	Multiple Sclerosis Society - Bike MS 150	San Diego, CA
2010	Justin Timberlake PGA Shriners Children Hospital	Henderson, NV
2010	Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Walk	Las Vegas, NV
2010	Adolescent Heart & EKG Screening	Henderson, NV
2009-2010	Boys and Girl Club - Health Fair Coordinator	Henderson, NV
2009-Present	Visual Impact - Coordinator & Pediatric Vision Screening	Los Angeles, CA
2005-2007	Red Cross Blood Drive	Chicago, IL
1996-2001	March of Dimes - Finish Line Food Distributor	Chicago, IL

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

2018-Present	Physician's for Patient Protection
2019-Present	National Emergency Medicine Political Action Committee (NEMPAC)
2015-Present	American College of Emergency Medicine (ACEP) -Physician Member -Former Resident/Student Member
2018-Present	Emergency Medicine Residents Association (EMRA) -Former Resident Member
2013-Present	Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates -Certified Physician Member - Former Resident Member
2013-Present	Central Texas Physician Assistant Society - Physician Assistant Student Preceptor - High School Student Observation Preceptor

HOBBIES: Patient advocacy, Emergency physician advocacy, Yoga, National Parks, International Travel

REFERENCES

1) Victor Sasson, MD
   Emergency Department Chair, HCA Brandon Regional Hospital, FL
   [redacted]

2) Anthony Furiato, DO
   Residency Program Director, HCA Brandon Regional Hospital, FL
   [redacted]

3) Kelly Grabbe, DO
   Residency Assistant Program Director, HCA Brandon Regional Hospital, FL
   [redacted]

Rich Rosen

From:	Rich Rosen
Sent:	Tuesday, August 30, 2022 9:01 AM
To:	Joshua Gillispie
Cc:	Rich Rosen; Eric Collins
Subject:	McAuliffe/Cains v. Ark DHS - Ark Claims Commission No/ 220374
Attachments:	LT-discovery(8-30-22).pdf

Dear Mr. Gillespie-

Please see the attached letter regarding Claimant's discovery responses. The paper copy will be mailed to you today.

Rich

Richard Rosen
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334 Fax: 501-682-1390

email address is: rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

SENSITIVE

Confidentiality Notice: The information contained in this email message and any attachment(s) is the property of the State of Arkansas and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to whom this email is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying or distributing this transmission is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. The sender has not waived any applicable privilege by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260, Little Rock, AR 72203-1437
P: 501.396.6168 F: 501.682.8009 TDD: 501.682.8933

August 30, 2022

Via USPS and email to josh@greenandgillespie.com

Joshua Gillespie, Esquire
GREEN & GILLESPIE
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114

Re: McAuliffe/Cains v. Ark. DHS
Arkansas State Claims Commission
Case # 220374

Dear Mr. Gillespie:

I am following up on Claimant's responses to DHS's first set of interrogatories and request for production of documents, Claimant's First Supplemental Responses, and Claimant's Second Supplemental Responses to the DHS discovery. In particular, DHS is seeking responsive answers to several interrogatories which, although supplemented, do not provide the relevant information and documents expressly requested.

As DHS prepares to schedule depositions, including depositions of Claimant, the heirs, and other potential witnesses, DHS is formally requesting that Claimant promptly supplement her prior responses to Interrogatory Numbers 1, 8, and 13, and Requests for Production of Documents Nunbers 2 and 4, both of which relate to Claimant's expert witnesses.

Consequently, DHS formally requests that Claimant promptly supplement her responses:

1. To DHS Interrogatory No. 1:

(a) With the specific name and current address of each Disability Rights Arkansas advocate who previously investigated BHDC and who will testify in this matter as to the "findings and conclusions" contained in DRA's:

- 2015 Report (Bates numbered 0832-0852);
- 2016 Report (Bates numbered 0804-0831); and
- Investigative Report, (Bates numbered 0797-0803).

The names of the advocates who investigated the 2015 Report and the 2016 Report were not provided to DHS and the names of the names and current addresses of the

5. To Request for Production No. 4 which requested copies of all bills, statements, and invoices itemizing the financial damages claimed. Although Claimant's response stated that she will produce these documents "upon receipt," the requested documents have not yet been provided to DHS and will be a necessary area of inquiry during DHS's depositions of the Claimant, the heirs, and others.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. This information and documentation was requested by DHS in December, 2021 and is needed before DHS proceeds with any depositions or cross-examination of Claimant, the heirs, and other witnesses. Please provide Claimant's supplemental answers to discovery on or before September 9, 2022.

Sincerely,

Rich Rosen
Counsel for DHS

Rich Rosen

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Wednesday, September 7, 2022 11:39 PM
To: Rich Rosen
Cc: Eric Collins
Subject: Re: McAuliffe/Cains v. Ark DHS - Ark Claims Commission No/ 220374
Attachments: P's Third Supplemental Response to Respondent's First Set of Discovery.pdf

[EXTERNAL SENDER]
Rich:

Attached please find our Third Supplemental Responses, in response to your good faith letter.

Dr. Brown-Forestiere has offered October 19th and 21st for deposition dates. Please let me know at your very earliest convenience if we can agree on one of those or if we need to look for other possibilities; her schedule fills quickly.

Dr. LeBel is a little easier to pin down, but I would ask that you go ahead and offer some dates for her as well that I can take back to her.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 30, 2022 at 11:18 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:
Rich,

Received. I will do my best to respond in short order. Please note that my name is spelled "Gill*i*spie."

Thanks,

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114

EXHIBIT
4
PENGAD 800-631-6989

(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 30, 2022 at 9:01 AM Rich Rosen <Rich.Rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov> wrote:

Dear Mr. Gillespie-

Please see the attached letter regarding Claimant's discovery responses. The paper copy will be mailed to you today.

Rich

Richard Rosen

Arkansas Department of Human Services

Office of Chief Counsel

P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260

Little Rock, AR 72203

501-320-6334 Fax: 501-682-1390

email address is: rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

SENSITIVE

Confidentiality Notice: The information contained in this email message and any attachment(s) is the property of the State of Arkansas and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to whom this email is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying or distributing this transmission is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. The sender has not waived any applicable privilege by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

BEFORE THE CLAIMS COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE,
AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF
THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPT. OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

THIRD SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSES TO RESPONDENT'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

Interrogatories

COMES NOW the Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Third Supplemental Responses to DHS's First Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production, states as follows:

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please identify by name, address and telephone number, each and every person that you expect and/or will call as an expert witness at the trial of this claim and for each and every such person, please state the subject matter on which he or she is expected to testify, and state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and give a summary of the grounds for each such opinion.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff has not yet formally retained an expert witness, but she will be doing so soon and will supplement this response at that time. It is likely that one or more of the Disability Rights Arkansas advocates who have previously investigated BHDC will be called to testify concerning DRA's findings and conclusions, including those findings contained in their 2015 Report, 2016 Report, and their Investigative Report on David Cains' death. These reports, which are being produced herein, speak for themselves.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Janice L. LeBel, EdD/PhD, ABPP. Dr. LeBel's CV and Fee Schedule are provided herein, which contain her contact information. Dr. LeBel, as reflected in her CV, is a psychologist and an expert in field of behavioral health services and residential care for vulnerable populations, including the disabled, mentally ill, and children. Dr. LeBel has published extensively on the use of restraints in these settings. She is expected to testify concerning the standard of care for a facility such as BHDC, and whether there were breaches of that standard that lead to Cains's death. Dr. LeBel can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant. At this time there is no written report to share with Defendant.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD. Dr. Brown-Forestiere's CV is provided herein. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is an Emergency Medicine Physician and an expert in her field of emergency medical services. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is board certified in Emergency Medicine. She is expected to testify concerning the cause of David Cains' death. Dr. Brown-Forestiere can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant.

THIRD SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE:

(a) Claimant will not be utilizing DRA advocates as expert witnesses in this matter. Claimant will reference the three DRA Reports in her pre-trial brief, reference them at the hearing, and likely submit copies to the Commission. Thomas Nichols, DRA's

Managing Attorney, has agreed to provide authentication and foundation, in the event DHS cannot stipulate to same and those steps are in fact necessary.

Thomas W. Nichols
Managing Attorney
Disability Rights Arkansas
400 West Capitol, Suite 1200
Little Rock AR 72201
Phone: 501.492.5776

(b)

Dr. Janice LeBel

The following statement describing the substance of facts and opinions and grounds for those opinions should not be construed as exhaustive. This supplementation is Claimant's best effort to provide a thorough response to DHS based on the information currently available and what Claimant expects. Note that Dr. LeBel has not authored or produced to Claimant a written report concerning her opinions. Claimant reserves the right to amend and/or supplement this response where required.

That said, Dr. Janice LeBel is a liability expert, expected to testify that the physical restraint and physical ground restraint, and the circumstances surrounding the restraint, performed by three direct care workers at BHDC, [redacted] fell below the standard of care for facilities caring for the intellectually disabled and that his death was a foreseeable consequence of Respondent's negligence, as evidenced by the acknowledged violations of BHDC's own rules and regulations and those of DDS, by the fact that the death restraint was unnecessary and unjustified, that it was not the least restrictive intervention available and not used for the least amount of time, that it was not an approved NCI method of restraint taught or authorized by DHS or BHDC, that it was medically contradicted for multiple reasons (see [redacted] for one), that it was not identified in any policies or in David's IPP as a potential form of restraint that could ever be used, that its form and repeated use by the facility was substandard, that it occurred as the result of substandard training and substandard oversight of direct care staff, that the large number of physical restraints used by BHDC staff on David Cains over the years and the facility's history of over-reliance on physical restraints in general was substandard practice and suggests a culture within the facility standing in opposition to commonly accepted norms and best practices for such facilities, that undertrained and/or underqualified direct care staff were allowed to use their own subjective discretion for when to use physical restraints with little to no oversight by supervisors and in ways often anathema to the training professed to have been provided them and the Respondent's own written rules, that the direct care staff's training and knowledge as regards first aid and basic lifesaving procedures was substandard (see [redacted]), that BHDC in general failed to implement a functioning system of accountability for and oversight of staff designed to ensure staff were adhering to their training with regards de-escalation techniques and other nonviolent interventions, and that all of these ways in which BHDC fell below the standard of care directly led to and caused David Cains' untimely death – a foreseeable tragedy given the facility's historical refusal to reduce its reliance on physical restraints that are themselves inherently dangerous, particularly physical restraints performed on the ground like the one that killed David and which staff had been utilizing commonly and frequently in the months and years leading up to David's death despite the fact such ground restraints were at all relevant times unauthorized and prohibited. Dr. LeBel's CV (previously produced) speaks for itself as to her expertise, experience, and qualifications. Her grounds for providing these opinions include the application of her expertise in this precise field to the facts and evidence of this case, including deposition transcripts, records, witness statements, relevant policies and procedures binding BHDC, and other documents produced in discovery.

Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere

The following statement describing the substance of facts and opinions and grounds for those opinions should not be construed as exhaustive. This supplementation is Claimant's best effort to provide a thorough response to DHS based on the information currently available. Note that Dr. Brown-Forestiere has not issued a formal written opinion or report on this matter. Claimant reserves the right to amend and/or supplement this response where required.

That said, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere is a causation expert and partial damages expert (with respect only to Claimant's claim for damages based on David Cains' conscious pain and suffering prior to death), expected to testify that, but for the restraint and ground restraint in question, David Cains would not have died. [redacted] More specifically:

There was increased intrathoracic pressure with increased breath during the struggle. There was increased constriction of the chest muscles with the struggle constricting the rib cage further increasing the pressure of the intrathoracic cavity. [redacted]

The stomach is located on the left side of the body. Laying David on his left side caused a mechanical obstruction to the left side of the stomach. The right side is pressured by the liver and soft tissue due to gravity. The top of the stomach is adjacent to the diaphragm, which is under increased pressure due to the increase in intrathoracic pressure from the struggle. The bottom of the stomach also had increased pressure on it from Tyler Mattson's hand on Cains' abdomen while attempting to restrain him. That put pressure on his abdomen where the intestines live and they in turn put pressure on the bottom of the stomach.

All areas of pressure place eccentric pressure on the [redacted] and this is the perfect storm to cause vomiting.

[redacted]

Dr. Brown-Forestiere's grounds for providing these opinions include the application of her expertise in emergency medicine to the facts and evidence of this case, including deposition transcripts, medical records, witness statements, relevant policies and procedures binding BHDC, and other documents produced in discovery.

INTERROGATORY NO. 8: Please identify and itemize by nature, amount, and factual grounds/basis all damages sought herein, including financial damages, compensatory damages, consequential damages, punitive damages, and all other damages which are asserted and sought in this claim.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at this early stage of the litigation, but, without waiving her objection, Plaintiff would direct Defendant to the Complaint, which provides a detailed factual basis for all damages sought, which include without limitation the following:

Damages of the Estate of David Cains

Loss of life of David Cains, commencing at death and ending at life expectancy;

Conscious pain and suffering of David Cains prior to death;

Medical care and expenses incurred as a result of David Cains' death (bills to be provided herein or upon receipt by Plaintiff's counsel); and

Funeral expenses incurred as a result of David Cains' death (bills to be provided herein or upon receipt by Plaintiff's counsel).

Damages of Cains' Statutory Beneficiaries

Mental anguish and emotional distress, including grief and despair, suffered up to the present time; and

Mental anguish and emotional distress, including grief and despair, that will continue well into the future.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff reserves the right to supplement, if necessary, but identifies the below elements of damages, as found in the Arkansas Model Civil Jury Instructions.

Damages of the Estate of David Cains

- Loss of life of David Cains, commencing at death and ending at life expectancy. "Loss of life" damages are recoverable by the estate as an independent element of damage. These are the damages that would compensate a decedent for the loss of the value that a decedent would have placed on his or her own life. Durham v. Marberry, 356 Ark. 481, 156 S.W.3d 242 (2004). Subject to revision as discovery continues: $2,000,000.00.
- Conscious pain and suffering of David Cains prior to death. For cases involving conscious pain and suffering prior to death, see New Prospect Drilling Co. v. First Commercial Trust, N.A., 332 Ark. 466, 966 S.W.2d 233 (1998); Chambliss v. Brinton, 229 Ark. 526, 317 S.W.2d 143 (1958). Subject to revision as discovery continues: $1,000,000.00.
- Funeral expenses incurred because of David Cains' death (bills previously provided in Claimant's First Supplemental Responses).

- Medical bills incurred, which here includes only the Ambulance bill, which has been produced in Claimant's First Supplemental Responses.

Damages of Cains' Statutory Beneficiaries (which include Claimant, David's sister, and Charlene Robinson, David's mother)

- Mental anguish and emotional distress, including grief and despair, suffered up to the present time; and
- Mental anguish and emotional distress, including grief and despair, that will continue for the remainder of each of their lives. "Future mental anguish is recoverable." Knoles v. Salazar, 298 Ark. 281, 766 S.W.2d 613 (1989). Subject to revision as discovery continues: $2,000,000.00 for Claimant and $2,000,000.00 for David's mother.

There is no amount of money that could ever fully compensate Claimant and Charlene Robinson for their mental anguish over the loss of their beloved brother and son. There is likewise no amount of money that could serve as an appropriate value on David's life and, therefore, his loss of life. Any one of these three elements of damages could by itself more than justify the current demand of $7,000,000.00. David's conscious pain and suffering that he experienced while he died choking to death while being pinned to the ground by three direct care staff is also, in and of itself, an element of damages a reasonable person would likely say is worth millions of dollars. Anyone who has ever choked for even a moment knows the intense pain and panic that comes with that. Any funeral and medical bills are negligible and not something Claimant intends to even present.

INTERROGATORY NO. 13: Please state and explain all injuries suffered as a result of the death of Mr. Cains and by whom.

ANSWER: Plaintiff objects to this request as vague, as well as overly broad and unduly burdensome at this early stage of the litigation, but, without waiving her objection, Plaintiff would direct Defendant to her response to Interrogatory 8.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Claimant directs Respondent to her response and supplemental response to Interrogatory No. 8.

Request for Production of Documents

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION 2. Copies of all expert opinions, reports, summaries and similar types of documents by the experts that will testify on behalf of the Claimant at the trial of this matter.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates she will be supplementing with further expert reports, but at this time is producing those currently in her possession, which include:

2015 DRA Report on BHDC
2016 DRA Report on BHDC
DRA Final Investigative Report on Cain's Death

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Neither Dr. LeBel nor Dr. Brown-Forestiere have provided written opinions or expert reports at this time. Dr. Brown Forestiere has shared with Claimant an informal summary of conclusions based on what she has reviewed thus far, which was produced in its entirety above, but will be copied below as well. Note again Claimant's reservation of her right to amend where necessary as discovery progresses:

There was increased intrathoracic pressure with increased breath during the struggle. There was increased constriction of the chest muscles with the struggle constricting the rib cage further increasing the pressure of the intrathoracic cavity. [redacted]

The stomach is located on the left side of the body. Laying David on his left side caused a mechanical obstruction to the left side of the stomach. The right side is pressured by the liver and soft tissue due to gravity. The top of the stomach is adjacent to the diaphragm, which is under increased pressure due to the increase in intrathoracic pressure from the struggle. The bottom of the stomach also had increased pressure on it from Tyler Mattson's hand on Cains' abdomen while attempting to restrain him. That put pressure on his abdomen where the intestines live and they in turn put pressure on the bottom of the stomach.

All areas of pressure place eccentric pressure on the stomach [redacted] and this is the perfect storm to cause vomiting.

[redacted]

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION 4. Copies of all bills, statements, and invoices itemizing the financial damages claimed herein.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff will produce these upon receipt. However, these are not likely to be substantial, most likely consisting of funeral/burial expenses, the ambulance bill, and the hospital bill from the date of David Cains's death.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Provided herein, ambulance bill, funeral services bill, and headstone bill.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Claimant has nothing further to produce beyond the ambulance bill, funeral services bill, and headstone bill previously produced in Claimant's First Supplemental Responses.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
Attorneys at Law
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was transmitted via electronic mail 7th day of September, 2022.

Eric M. Collins, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel

Rich Rosen, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
Rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

Rich Rosen

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Friday, December 30, 2022 2:04 PM
To: Rich Rosen
Cc: Brent Gasper; Chad
Subject: Re: McAuliffe-Cains v DHS
Attachments: LeBel - Provisional Summary of Opinions.pdf

[EXTERNAL SENDER]
Rich:

Attached is Dr. LeBel's provisional report. I am on a family vacation but I will formally supplement discovery responses with this next week, but this is the report. I wanted you to have it asap.

Please let me know what date you want for her depo: 01/09 9-1 CST or 01/16 11-3 CST

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Dec 29, 2022 at 9:25 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:
Rich:

Dr. LeBel is available on these dates. Both Mondays. Do you have a strong preference?

01/09 10-2 eastern = 9-1 central

01/16 12 – 4 eastern = 11 – 3 central

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

EXHIBIT
5A
PENGAD 800-631-6989

On Thu, Dec 22, 2022 at 10:15 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:
Rich-

Here is the Second Set of Discovery, propounded only for purposes of Dr. Kastner.

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Dec 22, 2022 at 9:38 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:
Rich-

I think that all sounds good. Dr. LeBel is reviewing the most recent depo transcripts to see if any changes need to be made to her written report, but an exchange next week will be perfect. I will get back to you today or tomorrow on a specific date for her deposition that week.

Have a merry christmas.

I am also having to send a brief set of discovery (again, trying to keep as short and simple as reasonably possible) related to Dr. Kastner. I will get that out today or tomorrow, but the Jan 19th deposition date would be a little less than 30 days, so I would hope you could get me responses before the 19th.

Thanks,

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Dec 22, 2022 at 8:35 AM Rich Rosen <Rich.Rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov> wrote:

Josh-

Rich Rosen

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Tuesday, January 3, 2023 4:44 PM
To: ASCC Pleadings
Cc: Chad; Daiquiri Carter; Rich Rosen
Subject: CC 220374
Attachments: Claimant's Fourth Supplemental Response to Respondent's First Set of Discovery.pdf; LeBel - Provisional Summary of Opinions.pdf

[EXTERNAL SENDER]
Dear Commission:

Please find Claimant's Fourth Supplemental Responses to DHS's First Set of Interrogatories & RFP.

Best Regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

BEFORE THE CLAIMS COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE,
AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF
THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPT. OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

FOURTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSES TO RESPONDENT'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

COMES NOW the Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Fourth Supplemental Responses to DHS's First Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production, states as follows:

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please identify by name, address and telephone number, each and every person that you expect and/or will call as an expert witness at the trial of this claim and for each and every such person, please state the subject matter on which he or she is expected to testify, and state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and give a summary of the grounds for each such opinion.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff has not yet formally retained an expert witness, but she will be doing so soon and will supplement this response at that time. It is likely that one or more of the Disability Rights Arkansas advocates who have previously investigated BHDC will be called to testify concerning DRA's findings and conclusions, including those findings contained in their 2015 Report, 2016 Report, and their Investigative Report on David Cains' death. These reports, which are being produced herein, speak for themselves.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Janice L. LeBel, EdD/PhD, ABPP. Dr. LeBel's CV and Fee Schedule are provided herein, which contain her contact information. Dr. LeBel, as reflected in her CV, is a psychologist and an expert in field of behavioral health services and residential care for vulnerable populations, including the disabled, mentally ill, and children. Dr. LeBel has published extensively on the use of restraints in these settings. She is expected to testify concerning the standard of care for a facility such as BHDC, and whether there were breaches of that standard that lead to Cains's death. Dr. LeBel can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant. At this time there is no written report to share with Defendant.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD. Dr. Brown-Forestiere's CV is provided herein. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is an Emergency Medicine Physician and an expert in her field of emergency medical services. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is board certified in Emergency Medicine. She is expected to testify concerning the cause of David Cains' death. Dr. Brown-Forestiere can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant.

THIRD SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE:

(a) Claimant will not be utilizing DRA advocates as expert witnesses in this matter. Claimant will reference the three DRA Reports in her pre-trial brief, reference them at the hearing, and likely submit copies to the Commission. Thomas Nichols, DRA's

Managing Attorney, has agreed to provide authentication and foundation, in the event DHS cannot stipulate to same and those steps are in fact necessary.

Thomas W. Nichols
Managing Attorney
Disability Rights Arkansas
400 West Capitol, Suite 1200
Little Rock AR 72201
Phone: 501.492.5776

(b)

Dr. Janice LeBel

The following statement describing the substance of facts and opinions and grounds for those opinions should not be construed as exhaustive. This supplementation is Claimant's best effort to provide a thorough response to DHS based on the information currently available and what Claimant expects. Note that Dr. LeBel has not authored or produced to Claimant a written report concerning her opinions. Claimant reserves the right to amend and/or supplement this response where required.

That said, Dr. Janice LeBel is a liability expert, expected to testify that the physical restraint and physical ground restraint, and the circumstances surrounding the restraint, performed by three direct care workers at BHDC, which caused David to vomit and then choke to death on his vomit, fell below the standard of care for facilities caring for the intellectually disabled and that his death was a foreseeable consequence of Respondent's negligence, as evidenced by the acknowledged violations of BHDC's own rules and regulations and those of DDS, by the fact that the death restraint was unnecessary and unjustified, that it was not the least restrictive intervention available and not used for the least amount of time, that it was not an approved NCI method of restraint taught or authorized by DHS or BHDC, that it was medically contradicted for multiple reasons (see [redacted] for one), that it was not identified in any policies or in David's IPP as a potential form of restraint that could ever be used, that its form and repeated use by the facility was substandard, that it occurred as the result of substandard training and substandard oversight of direct care staff, that the large number of physical restraints used by BHDC staff on David Cains over the years and the facility's history of over-reliance on physical restraints in general was substandard practice and suggests a culture within the facility standing in opposition to commonly accepted norms and best practices for such facilities, that undertrained and/or underqualified direct care staff were allowed to use their own subjective discretion for when to use physical restraints with little to no oversight by supervisors and in ways often anathema to the training professed to have been provided them and the Respondent's own written rules, that the direct care staff's training and knowledge as regards first aid and basic lifesaving procedures was substandard (see [redacted]), that BHDC in general failed to implement a functioning system of accountability for and oversight of staff designed to ensure staff were adhering to their training with regards de-escalation techniques and other nonviolent interventions, and that all of these ways in which BHDC fell below the standard of care directly led to and caused David Cains' untimely death – a foreseeable tragedy given the facility's historical refusal to reduce its reliance on physical restraints that are themselves inherently dangerous, particularly physical restraints performed on the ground like the one that killed David and which staff had been utilizing commonly and frequently in the months and years leading up to David's death despite the fact such ground restraints were at all relevant times unauthorized and prohibited. Dr. LeBel's CV (previously produced) speaks for itself as to her expertise, experience, and qualifications. Her grounds for providing these opinions include the application of her expertise in this precise field to the facts and evidence of this case, including deposition transcripts, records, witness statements, relevant policies and procedures binding BHDC, and other documents produced in discovery.

Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere

The following statement describing the substance of facts and opinions and grounds for those opinions should not be construed as exhaustive. This supplementation is Claimant's best effort to provide a thorough response to DHS based on the information currently available. Note that Dr. Brown-Forestiere has not issued a formal written opinion or report on this matter. Claimant reserves the right to amend and/or supplement this response where required.

That said, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere is a causation expert and partial damages expert (with respect only to Claimant's claim for damages based on David Cains' conscious pain and suffering prior to death), expected to testify that, but for the restraint and ground restraint in question, David Cains would not have died. David died because the physical restraint and ground restraint caused a struggle and that struggle induced vomiting upon which David choked to death. More specifically:

There was increased intrathoracic pressure with increased breath during the struggle. There was increased constriction of the chest muscles with the struggle constricting the rib cage further increasing the pressure of the intrathoracic cavity. [redacted]

The stomach is located on the left side of the body. Laying David on his left side caused a mechanical obstruction to the left side of the stomach. The right side is pressured by the liver and soft tissue due to gravity. The top of the stomach is adjacent to the diaphragm, which is under increased pressure due to the increase in intrathoracic pressure from the struggle. The bottom of the stomach also had increased pressure on it from Tyler Mattson's hand on Cains' abdomen while attempting to restrain him. That put pressure on his abdomen where the intestines live and they in turn put pressure on the bottom of the stomach.

All areas of pressure place eccentric pressure on the stomach [redacted] and this is the perfect storm to cause vomiting.

[redacted]

Dr. Brown-Forestiere's grounds for providing these opinions include the application of her expertise in emergency medicine to the facts and evidence of this case, including deposition transcripts, medical records, witness statements, relevant policies and procedures binding BHDC, and other documents produced in discovery.

FOURTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE:

Please find attached the Provisional Summary of Opinions of Dr. Janice LeBel, supplemental to previous responses concerning Dr. LeBel.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
Attorneys at Law
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was transmitted via electronic mail 3rd day of January, 2023.

Rich Rosen, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
Rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

Rich Rosen

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Monday, February 13, 2023 6:27 PM
To: Rich Rosen
Cc: Brent Gasper; Chad
Subject: Re: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374
Attachments: Bob Bowen CV 2023 .pdf; Claimant's Sixth Supplemental Response to Respondent's First Set of Discovery.pdf

[EXTERNAL SENDER]
Rich:

Attached is a courtesy copy of our Sixth Supplemental Responses, which contains the disclosure of Mr. Bob Bowen as a rebuttal witness. I think you already have this, but I am attaching his CV as well.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Sat, Feb 11, 2023 at 1:28 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:
Rich:

Attached are six more documents that may be used at the hearing of this matter. They are each specifically labeled. Please consider this supplemental production.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Wed, Feb 8, 2023 at 1:48 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

EXHIBIT
6A
PENGAD 800-631-6989

BEFORE THE CLAIMS COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE,
AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF
THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

VS. CLAIM NO. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPT. OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

SIXTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSES TO RESPONDENT'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

COMES NOW the Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Sixth Supplemental Responses to DHS's First Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production, states as follows:

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please identify by name, address and telephone number, each and every person that you expect and/or will call as an expert witness at the trial of this claim and for each and every such person, please state the subject matter on which he or she is expected to testify, and state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and give a summary of the grounds for each such opinion.

RESPONSE: Plaintiff has not yet formally retained an expert witness, but she will be doing so soon and will supplement this response at that time. It is likely that one or more of the Disability Rights Arkansas advocates who have previously investigated BHDC will be called to testify concerning DRA's findings and conclusions, including those findings contained in their 2015 Report, 2016 Report, and their Investigative Report on David Cains' death. These reports, which are being produced herein, speak for themselves.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Janice L. LeBel, EdD/PhD, ABPP. Dr. LeBel's CV and Fee Schedule are provided herein, which contain her contact information. Dr. LeBel, as reflected in her CV, is a psychologist and an expert in field of behavioral health services and residential care for vulnerable populations, including the disabled, mentally ill, and children. Dr. LeBel has published extensively on the use of restraints in these settings. She is expected to testify concerning the standard of care for a facility such as BHDC, and whether there were breaches of that standard that lead to Cains's death. Dr. LeBel can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant. At this time there is no written report to share with Defendant.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Plaintiff anticipates calling Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere, MD. Dr. Brown-Forestiere's CV is provided herein. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is an Emergency Medicine Physician and an expert in her field of emergency medical services. Dr. Brown-Forestiere is board certified in Emergency Medicine. She is expected to testify concerning the cause of David Cains' death. Dr. Brown-Forestiere can be made available for deposition upon request from Defendant.

THIRD SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE:

(a) Claimant will not be utilizing DRA advocates as expert witnesses in this matter. Claimant will reference the three DRA Reports in her pre-trial brief, reference them at the hearing, and likely submit copies to the Commission. Thomas Nichols, DRA's

Managing Attorney, has agreed to provide authentication and foundation, in the event DHS cannot stipulate to same and those steps are in fact necessary.

Thomas W. Nichols
Managing Attorney
Disability Rights Arkansas
400 West Capitol, Suite 1200
Little Rock AR 72201
Phone: 501.492.5776

(b)

Dr. Janice LeBel

The following statement describing the substance of facts and opinions and grounds for those opinions should not be construed as exhaustive. This supplementation is Claimant's best effort to provide a thorough response to DHS based on the information currently available and what Claimant expects. Note that Dr. LeBel has not authored or produced to Claimant a written report concerning her opinions. Claimant reserves the right to amend and/or supplement this response where required.

That said, Dr. Janice LeBel is a liability expert, expected to testify that the physical restraint and physical ground restraint, and the circumstances surrounding the restraint, performed by three direct care workers at BHDC, which caused David to vomit and then choke to death on his vomit, fell below the standard of care for facilities caring for the intellectually disabled and that his death was a foreseeable consequence of Respondent's negligence, as evidenced by the acknowledged violations of BHDC's own rules and regulations and those of DDS, by the fact that the death restraint was unnecessary and unjustified, that it was not the least restrictive intervention available and not used for the least amount of time, that it was not an approved NCI method of restraint taught or authorized by DHS or BHDC, that it was medically contradicted for multiple reasons (see [redacted] for one), that it was not identified in any policies or in David's IPP as a potential form of restraint that could ever be used, that its form and repeated use by the facility was substandard, that it occurred as the result of substandard training and substandard oversight of direct care staff, that the large number of physical restraints used by BHDC staff on David Cains over the years and the facility's history of over-reliance on physical restraints in general was substandard practice and suggests a culture within the facility standing in opposition to commonly accepted norms and best practices for such facilities, that undertrained and/or underqualified direct care staff were allowed to use their own subjective discretion for when to use physical restraints with little to no oversight by supervisors and in ways often anathema to the training professed to have been provided them and the Respondent's own written rules, that the direct care staff's training and knowledge as regards first aid and basic lifesaving procedures was substandard (see [redacted]), that BHDC in general failed to implement a functioning system of accountability for and oversight of staff designed to ensure staff were adhering to their training with regards de-escalation techniques and other nonviolent interventions, and that all of these ways in which BHDC fell below the standard of care directly led to and caused David Cains' untimely death – a foreseeable tragedy given the facility's historical refusal to reduce its reliance on physical restraints that are themselves inherently dangerous, particularly physical restraints performed on the ground like the one that killed David and which staff had been utilizing commonly and frequently in the months and years leading up to David's death despite the fact such ground restraints were at all relevant times unauthorized and prohibited. Dr. LeBel's CV (previously produced) speaks for itself as to her expertise, experience, and qualifications. Her grounds for providing these opinions include the application of her expertise in this precise field to the facts and evidence of this case, including deposition transcripts, records, witness statements, relevant policies and procedures binding BHDC, and other documents produced in discovery.

Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere

The following statement describing the substance of facts and opinions and grounds for those opinions should not be construed as exhaustive. This supplementation is Claimant's best effort to provide a thorough response to DHS based on the information currently available. Note that Dr. Brown-Forestiere has not issued a formal written opinion or report on this matter. Claimant reserves the right to amend and/or supplement this response where required.

That said, Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere is a causation expert and partial damages expert (with respect only to Claimant's claim for damages based on David Cains' conscious pain and suffering prior to death), expected to testify that, but for the restraint and ground restraint in question, David Cains would not have died. David died because the physical restraint and ground restraint caused a struggle and that struggle induced vomiting upon which David choked to death. More specifically:

There was increased intrathoracic pressure with increased breath during the struggle. There was increased constriction of the chest muscles with the struggle constricting the rib cage further increasing the pressure of the intrathoracic cavity. [redacted]

The stomach is located on the left side of the body. Laying David on his left side caused a mechanical obstruction to the left side of the stomach. The right side is pressured by the liver and soft tissue due to gravity. The top of the stomach is adjacent to the diaphragm, which is under increased pressure due to the increase in intrathoracic pressure from the struggle. The bottom of the stomach also had increased pressure on it from Tyler Mattson's hand on Cains' abdomen while attempting to restrain him. That put pressure on his abdomen where the intestines live and they in turn put pressure on the bottom of the stomach.

All areas of pressure place eccentric pressure on the stomach [redacted] and this is the perfect storm to cause vomiting.

[redacted]

Dr. Brown-Forestiere's grounds for providing these opinions include the application of her expertise in emergency medicine to the facts and evidence of this case, including deposition transcripts, medical records, witness statements, relevant policies and procedures binding BHDC, and other documents produced in discovery.

FOURTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE:

Please find attached the Provisional Summary of Opinions of Dr. Janice LeBel, supplemental to previous responses concerning Dr. LeBel.

FIFTH SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE: Bob Bowen. CV attached. Mr. Bowen is expected to testify as a rebuttal witness to Respondent's expert Dr. Kastner. The substance of and grounds for his testimony and opinions will be dependent upon Dr. Kastner's live testimony. The subject matter of his testimony is expected to be the federal CMS regulations, also known as ICF-IID regulations, contained within Appendix J of the State Operations Manual (the federal regulations), and whether the Booneville Human Development Center violated those regulations in the case of David Cains.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
Attorneys at Law

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was transmitted via electronic mail 13th day of February, 2023.

Rich Rosen, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
Rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

From:	Joshua Gillispie
To:	ASCC Pleadings
Cc:	Daiquiri Carter; Rich Rosen; Chad; Kathryn Irby
Subject:	Re: CC # 220374
Date:	Monday, March 6, 2023 3:42:14 PM
Attachments:	image001.png image002.png Claimant"s Response to Motion to Exclude Witness Mr. Bowen (1).pdf

Dear Commission:

Please find attached Claimant's Response to Motion to Exclude Witness Mr. Bob Bowen.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Mon, Feb 27, 2023 at 12:39 PM ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Received.
>
> ---
>
> From: Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Sent: Monday, February 27, 2023 10:37 AM
> To: ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov>; Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; Rich Rosen <Rich.Rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Cc: Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Subject: CC # 220374
>
> Please find attached DHS' Motion to Exclude Witness and Exhibits. I have copied Claimant's attorney on this email.
>
> Thank you,

Daiquiri D. Carter, M.Ed.

Legal Services Specialist

Office of Chief Counsel

PO Box 1437, Slot S260

Little Rock, AR 72203-1437

501-320-6338 phone

501-682-6720 fax

Daiquiri.carter@dhs.arkansas.gov

□□□

NOTE - This email may contain sensitive or confidential information.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: The information contained in this email message and any attachment(s) is the property of the State of Arkansas and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to which this email is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying or distribution this transmission is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. The sender has not waived any applicable privilege by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe,
as Special Administrator of the Estate
of David Cains CLAIMANT

V. Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE
HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

CLAIMANT'S RESPONSE TO MOTION TO EXCLUDE WITNESS MR. ROBERT BOWEN

COMES NOW the Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Response, states the following:

Respondent hired Bob Bowen as its own expert consultant in 2022 for the purpose of reviewing restraint usage at the five Human Development Centers, including the Booneville Human Development Center, and to author a written report which DHS is currently using to attempt its stated goal of reducing restraint usage at BHDC and the other HDCs. DHS hid from Claimant the existence of Bowen's "Consultant Report," completed in September of 2022, a report Bowen coauthored with two other expert consultants hired by DHS, one of whom is Dr. Ted Kastner, DHS's expert witness in this case. One of the findings in this report was that, at the time of David Cains' restraint-related death, residents of the Booneville Human Development Center were, on average, subjected to physical restraint seven times more frequently than residents at the other HDCs. Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022," pgs. 25-34.

Claimant committed no discovery violations. It was in fact DHS's violations of the discovery rules and likely the Arkansas Freedom of Information Act, as described further herein, that prevented Claimant from learning of the existence of Bob Bowen and the written report he coauthored for DHS until on or about January 18, 2023, when Claimant's counsel received a copy of the report from an independent source not associated with DHS. Claimant, in reviewing the report, meeting with Mr. Bowen and then disclosing Mr. Bowen as a witness on February 13, 2023, before the February 16 deadline, obviously acted with all reasonable haste in doing so. Further, there was nothing preventing DHS from taking Mr. Bowen's deposition at any point after the February 13 disclosure; Respondent simply chose not to do so.

Here is the background. Shortly after David Cains' death, Respondent DHS formed the "DDS Behavioral Consultation Committee" to work on reducing restraint usage at the Booneville Human Development Center (BHDC) and the other four Human Development Centers (HDCs). See Hearing Exhibit 32, Deposition of DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 35. This Behavioral Consultation Committee, led by Ms. Weatherton, hired a team of expert consultants in 2022 to "systematically review restraint usage and practices at five public-operated Human Developmental Centers (HDCs) including Arkadelphia, Booneville, Conway, Jonesboro and SEAHDC (Warren)," and to produce a report of their findings. See Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022." The three expert consultants hired by DHS were Dr. Kastner, Kevin K. Walsh, Ph. D, and Robert Bowen, the very same Bob Bowen who DHS now seeks to prevent from testifying as an expert witness and whose qualifications DHS has the audacity to now challenge.

Respondent literally hired Mr. Bowen in 2022 to review restraint usage at BHDC and produce a report on which the DDS Behavioral Consultation Committee is to rely upon in implementing its goal of reducing restraint usage at BHDC, where David Cains was killed during an unauthorized ground restraint on June 13, 2020. As stated in the "Consultant Report":

4. Consultant Team
The authors of this report were engaged as a team to carry out this independent review of restraint practices in the HDCs. The consultants are: Theodore A. Kastner, MD, MS; Robert Bowen; and Kevin K. Walsh, PhD. Drs. Kastner and Walsh are familiar with Arkansas DDS and the five HDCs having carried out several contracted behavioral consultations and staff training activities in all five HDCs. Mr. Bowen is a behavioral consultant and trainer with over 40 years' experience in the United States, Canada, and Australia. He was the CEO of a company that taught the prevention and, if needed, use of restraint for 13 years and has provided expert witness reports on the inappropriate use of restraint in the state of Victoria in Australia and the state of Iowa in the US. He is a published author and an internationally-known presenter. Mr. Bowen has been a university professor, and has held several advocacy and professional positions in the field of disabilities. Full listings of the consultants' experience and qualifications relative to this project are shown in Appendix A.

See Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022," p. 8 (emphasis added).

The consultants' investigation and report did not review or address individual incidents, such as David Cains' death; rather, it was a general review of how the stated restraint policies formally in place at each of the HDCs, on their face, complied with regulations and the department's stated goal of reducing restraints. DHS intentionally hid from Claimant the existence of this "Consultant Report," published in September 2022, despite Claimant repeatedly requesting production of any reports of this nature throughout the pendency of this litigation.

Claimant propounded discovery to Respondent DHS seeking the disclosure of their expert witnesses on January 13, 2022. See Claimant's First Set of Discovery Propounded to Respondent, Exhibit A. Claimant specifically requested copies of any documents authored by any person DHS intended to call as an expert. Exhibit A, Request for Production No. 16. Claimant specifically requested "copies of any and all reports, correspondence, notes, documents, writings, diagrams, charts, records, photographs, video, or audio recordings of any type, computer files, e-mails, or tangible items of any kind that any expert witness has provided to the defendant, attorneys for defendant, or any representative of defendant's attorneys."

Exhibit A, Request for Production No. 17. At no time has DHS ever produced the "Consultant Report" its Dr. Kastner coauthored with Mr. Bowen.

Not only did DHS fail to produce the "Consultant Report" which its Dr. Kastner coauthored for DHS in September of 2022, DHS did not disclose the identity of its expert witness, Dr Kastner, until December 1, 2022, on the heels of Kastner having completed his expert consultant work for the DDS Behavioral Consultation Committee. See DHS' Second Supplemental Responses, Exhibit B. DHS did not provide any of Dr. Kastner's opinions until January 5, 2023; DHS did not provide his opinions concerning standard of care, the focus of Mr. Bowen's likely rebuttal testimony, until January 10, 2023. See Email Disclosure of 1/10/23, Exhibit C. Again, at no time has DHS ever produced the "Consultant Report" its Dr. Kastner coauthored with Mr. Bowen.

Claimant propounded to DHS a Second Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production on December 22, 2022, following Respondent's disclosure of Dr. Kastner. See Exhibit D, Claimant's Second Set of Discovery Propounded to Respondent. Here, Claimant specifically requested this very type of document yet again and with even greater specificity:

> REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 2: Please produce all documents related to Dr. Theodore Kastner's, Developmental Disabilities Health Management's, or any other Kastner entity's previous work for the Arkansas Department of Human Services since the year 2000. This includes but is not limited to Kastner's or DDHM's or any other Kastner entity's proposal when bidding on the Alexander Human Development Center, and all written findings, recommendations, reports, opinions, and any other document related to their work, consulting work other otherwise, at AHDC.

Exhibit D, Request for Production No. 2. And:

> REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 3: Please produce all findings, recommendations, reports, opinions, or any other document authored by Kastner (or any entity with which Kastner was involved) that in any way relate to the Arkansas Department of Human Services since the year 2000.

Exhibit D, Request for Production No. 3. Once again, DHS failed to produce the "Consultant Report" its Dr. Kastner coauthored with Mr. Bowen. See Exhibit E, DHS' Responses to Claimant's Second Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production.

Claimant was aware Dr. Kastner had been employed by DHS on numerous occasions throughout the years dating back to at least 2010, when DHS apparently paid Dr. Kastner a fee of $900,420.00 for consulting work to be performed at the now defunct Alexander Human Development Center. See Exhibit F, 2010 DDS Services Contract with Kastner. Claimant assumed there must be documents generated by Kastner in DHS's possession. Since these were not being provided in discovery, Claimant's counsel resorted to an FOI request on January 12, 2023 (DHS FOI Request 23-49), which read as follows:

1. For 2009 through the present, all written correspondence, including emails, with Theodore Kastner, Ted Kastner, or Dr. Theodore Kastner at any email address used by Kastner. A likely email address is TKASTNER@DDHA.COM.
2. For 2009 through the present, all written correspondence, including emails, with Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc. Please let this also include any person whose email address ends in @DDHA.COM
3. For 2009 through the present, all records concerning money or fees paid to Theodore Kastner, Ted Kastner, or Dr. Theodore Kastner.
4. For 2009 through the present, all records concerning money or fees paid to Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc.
5. For 2009 through the present, all records concerning money or fees paid to Disability Service Centers of Arkansas.
6. For 2009 through the present, all written reports, opinions, recommendations, proposals, bids, or other memorandum authored by Theodore Kastner, Ted Kastner, or Dr. Theodore Kastner.
7. For 2009 through the present, all written reports, opinions, recommendations, proposals, bids, or other memorandum authored by Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc. or an agent thereof.
8. For 2009 through the present, all written reports, opinions, recommendations, proposals, bids, or other memorandum authored by Disability Service Centers of Arkansas or an agent thereof.
9. For 2009 through the present, all contracts or other written agreements with Theodore Kastner, Ted Kastner, or Dr. Theodore Kastner.
10. For 2009 through the present, all contracts or other written agreements with Developmental Disabilities Health Alliance, Inc.
11. For 2009 through the present, all contracts or other written agreements with Disability Service Centers of Arkansas.

DHS's response to the FOI request did not include the "Consultant Report" its Dr. Kastner coauthored with Mr. Bowen or any other Kastner report, likely a violation of the Arkansas Freedom of Information Act.

Claimant can only assume DHS did not want Claimant to see the Report's finding that, at the time of Davie's restraint-related death, residents of the Booneville Human Development Center were, on average, subjected to physical restraint seven times more frequently than residents at the other HDCs. Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022," pgs. 25-34. Kastner and Bowen found that, at Booneville, residents were subjected to physical restraint (what the HDCs prefer to call "personal restraint") at a rate of "7.3" times per person for 2020. Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022," p. 28. Whereas at the Jonesboro HDC residents were subjected to physical restraint at a rate of ".75" times per person. Id, p. 33. At Arkadelphia it was "1.01" physical restraints per resident. Id, p. 27. And at the Warren HDC it was ".88" physical restraints per resident. Id, p. 34. The consultants found that the Conway HDC, which has a much larger population than the other four, uses a different restraint system that did not allow them to identify the yearly per person rate of restraint.

Or perhaps DHS was uncomfortable with the fact that Kastner's and Bowen's Report recommended the HDCs consider implementing "the six core strategies promulgated by the National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors (nasmhpd.org)," Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022," p. 37. These are the very same "six core strategies" that were developed by Claimant's other liability expert, Dr. Janice LeBel, along with her colleague Dr. Kevin Huckshorn. See Hearing Exhibit 23, Deposition of Dr. Janice LeBel.

Whatever DHS's reason for withholding this document, the department is entirely responsible for the fact that Claimant did not learn of Bob Bowen and the "Consultant Report" sooner. And now DHS has the temerity to challenge Mr. Bowen's qualifications, whose expertise in this area is overwhelming and who DHS literally hired for his expertise in this precise area only months ago, as made clear in the Report he coauthored for DHS:

> Bob Bowen is a behavioral consultant and trainer with Prag Consulting in Melbourne, Australia. He has over 40 years of experience supporting individuals with complex behavioral needs in the United States, Canada, and Australia. He has provided keynote and plenary presentations at conferences in the United Kingdom, Ireland, Norway, Australia, Hong Kong, Canada and the United States. Bob is the developer of The Matrix of Needs, an innovative approach to understanding human needs. he has published over 20 peer and scientifically reviewed articles, three book chapters, and presented hundreds of workshops on the prevention of workplace violence, while improving the quality of life for people affected by disabilities, and the staff who support them.
>
> During his career in human services, Bob has held positions ranging from direct support professional to CEO and almost everything in between. He was the CEO of The Mandt System, Inc., an organization providing training in the prevention and, if needed, use of restraint. In this role he was the primary author of the curriculum used to teach preventative measures, and wrote the chapters on Trauma Informed Services and Positive Behavior Support. He has also served as an adjunct assistant professor of psychiatry at the University of Rochester in New York for eleven years, and also has experience teaching at Walsh University in North Canton, Ohio, and at Hawkeye Community College in Waterloo, Iowa. Additionally, Bob was a field placement supervisor for the Malone University Department of Social Work in Canton, Ohio, and is currently a member of the Department of Social Work Community Advisory Board at Malone.
>
> Bob is a member of the Australasian Society for Intellectual Disability, the Restraint Reduction Network in the United Kingdom, the National Association of Social Workers, the National Organization of Human Services, the Association for Positive Behaviour Support, and the National Association of Qualified Intellectual Disability Professionals. Bob is certified in trauma treatment through the National Institute for the Clinical Application of Behavioral Medicine, and the Trauma Research Foundation.

Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022," p. 42-43. Mr. Bowen's CV, submitted as Hearing Exhibit 70, further burnishes his credentials as an expert in the specific area of the ICF/IID federal regulations. In fact, Mr. Bowen's expertise in the ICF/IID federal regulations, often referred to as Appendix J or CMS regulations, was acknowledged by his two coauthors as being superior, since it was Mr. Bowen who the team tasked with drafting the specific portion of the "Consultant Report" comparing the HDC restraint policies against the mandates of Appendix J:

> 4. Comparison of Policy to Appendix J
> As a basic foundation to other work, one member of our team (RB) carried out a comparison of the DDS and HDC restraint policy statements provided to us with the Medicaid standards as contained in Appendix J of the Medicaid Survey Procedures and Interpretive Guidelines (known generally as "Appendix J").
> The comparison was restricted to specific areas of Appendix J regulations. This comparison determined the most fundamental requirements for the system.
> A separate document/report detailing this review appears in the Appendices to this report (Appendix E) and it titled: A Rule Comparison: ICF/IID Regulations Appendix J and Arkansas DDS.

Hearing Exhibit 64, "Consultant Report - September 2022," p. 11.

DHS's Dr. Kastner is likely to testify there was no violation of Appendix J connected to David Cains' death. Mr. Bowen vehemently disagrees, and he should be allowed to offer testimony rebutting Dr. Kastner's opinions with regards to violations of the standard of care, which in this case is largely synonymous with violations of Appendix J (both parties agree that state DDS policies and BHDC's facility regulations also inform the standard of care). Because of DHS's own misconduct Claimant could not possibly have advanced the testimony or opinions of Mr. Bowen any sooner than she did. The Arkansas Supreme Court allows for rebuttal evidence in this scenario, even where the evidence was not listed in pre-trial discovery, so long as the party seeking to advance rebuttal evidence has not knowingly concealed the evidence in violation of ARCP Rule 26, which mandates a party to seasonably amend or supplement a prior response. Phillips v. McAuley, 297 Ark. 563, 565, 764 S.W.2d 424, 425 (1989). Here, Claimant did actually identify Mr. Bowen in pre-hearing discovery, and she did so not only seasonably but as quickly as she could reasonably be expected to have done.

WHEREFORE, the Claimant prays for the Arkansas Claims Commission to deny Respondent's Motion to Exclude Mr. Bowen from testifying as a rebuttal witness, and for all other proper relief which she may be entitled.

Respectfully submitted by:

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
ABA # 2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
1 Riverfront Pl., Ste. 605
Little Rock, AR 72201
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020, fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was filed via email with the Arkansas Claims Commission on this 6th day of March, 2023, and service shall be accomplished via email to counsel of record.

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe,
as Special Administrator of the Estate
of David Cains CLAIMANT

V. Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

PLAINTIFF'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION PROPOUNDED TO DEFENDANT

COMES now Plaintiff, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and propounds to Defendant the following Interrogatories and Requests for Production, to be answered in accordance with the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure and other applicable laws:

DEFINITIONS

1. "And" and "or" shall be individually interpreted in every instance as meaning "and/or" and shall not be interpreted to exclude any information within the scope of these requests.

2. "DHS" or "Defendant" or "You," as used herein, refers to all departments, offices, and facilities within the Arkansas Department of Human Services, including but not limited to the Booneville Human Development Center (referred to herein as "BHDC"), as well as all agents, employees, and officers.

3. Communication" or "Communications" refer to oral conversations, written correspondence, memoranda, telephone conversations, text messages, correspondence, notes, electronic mail, social media posts or messages, voice mails, answering machine messages, letters, notes, or cards, whether as a sender, recipient, cc, or bcc. "Communication" means any disclosure, transfer, or exchange of information or opinion, however made.

4. "Correspondence" refers to all forms of writings, electronic or otherwise, including but not limited to, letters, books, emails, text messages, computer tapes, discs, printouts, keypunch cards, memoranda, diaries, notes, reports, bulletins, printed forms, telegraphic communications, telexes, telegrams, telecopies, facsimile reproductions, minutes, microfilm, microfiche, films, videotape, and computer discs.

5. "Document" or "Documents" mean the original, or a copy when the original is not available, and each non-identical copy, including those which are non-identical by reason of notations or markings, of: papers, writings, records, notes, tapes, discs, or other substances on which communications, data, or information is recorded or stored, whether made by manual, mechanical, photographic, or electronic process. This definition includes all drafts or superseded revisions of each document. As used herein, "document(s)" includes, but is not limited to:

> Electronically Stored Information, books, pamphlets, periodicals, letters, reports, memoranda, handwritten notes, notations, messages, telegrams, cables, records, drafts, diaries, studies, analyses, summaries, magazines, circulars, bulletins, instructions, minutes, photographs, purchase orders, bills, checks, tabulations, desk or pocket calendars, charge slips, questionnaires, surveys, drawings, sketches, working papers, charts, graphs, indexes, taped correspondence, records of purchase of sale, contracts, agreements, leases, invoices, expense records, trip reports, releases, appraisals, valuations, estimates, opinions, financial statements, accounting records, income statements, electronic or other transcriptions or taping of telephone or personal conversations or conferences or any and all other written, printed, typed, punched, taped, filed or graphic matter or tangible thing, of whatever description, however produced or reproduced (including computer stores or generated data, together with instructions and programs necessary to search or retrieve such data), and shall include all attachments and enclosures to any requested item, which shall not be separated from the item to which they are attached or enclosed.

6. A document or communication "relating to," "related to," or "concerning" a given subject means any document that constitutes, contains, embodies, comprises, reflects, identifies, states, refers to, deals with, comments on, responds to, describes, or is otherwise pertinent to that subject, including without limitation documents concerning the presentation of other documents.

7. "Person" and "entity" mean the singular as well as the plural and include any natural person, partnership, corporation, association, joint venture, proprietorship, firm, agency, or other legal or business entity, and its agents and employees.

8. "Identify" and "identity":

a. When used in reference to a natural person, require his or her full name, present or last known business and home addresses, business, mobile, and home telephone numbers, and email addresses, if any;

b. When used in reference to a document, require Bates numbers and, in the alternative, the present location and the custody of the original thereof or, if unknown, the present custodian of any copy thereof, and the manner and date of disposition of any document that was, but is no longer, in your possession or subject to your control;

c. When used in reference to communications, require the substance thereof, the identity of the person who made the communication and the person to whom it was made, and the persons who participated in such communication or were present at the time same was made, the date and place thereof, whether the communication was oral, in writing, and/or exists in an electronic medium, and, if such communication has been reduced to writing, or otherwise exists in an electronic medium, includes identifying such document or ESI.

9. The singular of each word shall be construed to include its plural and vice-versa, and the root word and all derivations (i.e., "ing," "ed," etc.) shall be construed to include each other.

10. The words "and" as well as "or" shall be construed both conjunctively as well as disjunctively.

11. The word "each" shall be construed to include "every" and vice-versa.

12. The word "any" shall be construed to include "all" and vice-versa.

13. The present tense shall be construed to include the past tense and vice-versa.

14. The masculine shall be construed to include the feminine and vice-versa.

15. The words "knowledge," "information," "possession," "custody," and "control" of a person shall be construed to include such person's agents, representatives, and attorneys.

16. The word "including" shall have its ordinary meaning and shall mean "including but not limited to" and shall not indicate limitation to the examples or items mentioned.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. In answering each of these interrogatories, please furnish all information that is available to you and any to which you have access, including information in your possession, custody, or control, or in that of any agent, servant, or employee, including doctors, attorneys, investigators, examiners, testers, and evaluators contracted by you or on your behalf.

2. In the event you are unable to fully answer one or more of the following interrogatories after exercising due diligence to secure the necessary information, provide the most complete answer possible and specify the reason(s) for the inability to provide a complete response at the present time

3. Should a privilege, confidentiality agreement, protective order, or other privilege/exemption from discovery be asserted with respect to any part of any discussion, document, or other communication concerning information requested by any of the following interrogatories or requests for production, you are requested to answer the interrogatories or request in the manner indicated herein, except that the contents of the part deemed privileged need not be summarized. Instead, indicate that a privilege is claimed for such part and state the nature of the privilege claimed and the facts upon which such claim is based in sufficient detail to permit the Court to adjudicate the validity of the privilege claim.

INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please identify each person who may have knowledge or discoverable information relating to the claims or defenses in this lawsuit and state briefly the nature of the knowledge or discoverable information had by each such person. (For this and the below interrogatories requiring identification of individuals, please note the definition of "identify" in Definition 8.)

INTERROGATORY NO. 2: Please identify each person from whom information or documents were obtained to respond to Plaintiff's written discovery requests, or who assisted in preparing the responses and objections to said discovery requests.

INTERROGATORY NO. 3: Please identify any and all methods and devices you, your officers, agents, or employees used to exchange electronic communications referring or relating to Plaintiff or the allegations in Plaintiff's Complaint from June 13, 2020 to the present, including but not limited to: email, instant messaging, paging, text messaging, posting on social media, or faxing. "Identify" in this interrogatory means to specify: the device or devices (i.e. Blackberries, cellular phones, laptops, desktop computers, iPads, etc.); the email account(s), social media username(s), or telephone number(s) used, and the name, address, and telephone number of the person in whose name the account was held.

INTERROGATORY NO. 4: Please identify all persons with whom you have communicated concerning the allegations in the Plaintiff's Complaint or Defendant's Answer thereto (exclusive of communications with counsel in the instant action).

INTERROGATORY NO. 5: Please identify each person who was employed at BHDC on June 13, 2020. (For this and the below interrogatories requiring identification of individuals, please note the definition of "identify" in Definition 8.)

INTERROGATORY NO. 6: Please state every injury which David Cains has caused to another person at BHDC in all the years he resided there. For each such injury caused by David Cains, please provide the following:

a. the name of the person he injured;

b. how David caused the injury;

c. the nature and severity of the injury;

d. the date of the injury; and

e. identify all documents regarding the injury incident.

INTERROGATORY NO. 7: Please identify the person responsible for conducting the Adult Maltreatment Investigation into David Cains' death, and state whether that person was at the time employed at BHDC.

INTERROGATORY NO. 8: Please identify each person involved in the care, supervision, or treatment of David Cains from January 1, 2018 until his death on or about June 13, 2020. As to each person please set forth the nature of each person's involvement and the time frame during which the person was involved in the care, supervision, evaluation, or treatment of Cains.

INTERROGATORY NO. 9: Do you contend that any person or entity (including any party to this lawsuit or Mr. Cains) negligently or intentionally committed an act or omission which caused or contributed to Cains' death, and if so, state the nature of the act or omission, and identify the person or entity in question.

INTERROGATORY NO. 10: Please identify all sets of regulations or standards you were required to comply with at the time of Cain's death, including but not limited to those required for Medicaid reimbursement.

INTERROGATORY NO. 11: Please provide the name, address, and telephone number of each expert who may be called as a witness, and for each such expert provide:

(a) the subject matter on which the witness is expected to testify;

(b) the materials reviewed by each expert;

(c) the facts known to the expert which relate to or form the basis of the mental impressions and opinions held by the expert; and

(d) the dates of all reports rendered by such experts, and the names and addresses of the persons having custody of same.

INTERROGATORY NO. 12: Please provide the name, address, and telephone number of all lay witness whom you may call at trial of this matter and for those persons identified, please state the anticipated subject matter of their testimony.

INTERROGATORY NO. 13: Please identify by title, author, editor, edition, publisher, date of publication and section, portion, page or pages of each and every book, treatise, periodical and/or pamphlet:

(a) established, or to be established, as a reliable authority by the testimony of any expert witness you have identified or will identify; and

(b) to be referred to during the trial testimony of any expert witness you have identified or will identify.

INTERROGATORY NO. 14: Do you contend there was an imminent risk of serious physical injury or serious property damage posed by David Cains on the date of his death? If so, please describe the nature of any imminent risk of serious physical injury or serious property damage.

INTERROGATORY NO. 15: Please describe how the behavior of David Cains that led to his personal restraint on the day of his death constituted an "emergency situation."

INTERROGATORY NO. 16: Please describe with specificity what led to David Cains becoming upset just prior to the personal restraint on the date of his death (why it is DHS believes Cains' behavior escalated on this occasion or what precipitating factors or events appeared to have caused David Cains to become distressed and agitated prior to the restraint).

INTERROGATORY NO. 17: Please describe with specificity all efforts made by staff to deescalate the behavioral situation that led to the personal restraint used on David Cains on the date of his death.

INTERROGATORY NO. 18: Please state whether BHDC staff members Tyler Mattson, Ryann Campos, and Amy "Mandy" Jones were Certified Nursing Assistants (CNAs) on the date of David Cains' death.

INTERROGATORY NO. 19: Please identify David Cains' Interdisciplinary Team (IDT) for the time period of January 1, 2019 through the date of his death.

INTERROGATORY NO. 20: Please state the last known addresses and phone numbers for the following former employees of BHDC who were involved in David Cains' care:

Sue Roberson (first case manager)

Jennifer Berry (dorm supervisor in the early years)

Vickie Bradford (dorm staff and supervisor in the early years)

Ruth Freeman (case manager circa 2011)

Janet Campbell (nurse) circa 2011/12

Neil Berry (case manager)

Mary Nicholson (case manager circa 2014)

Ronnie Ledford (case manager circa 2015)

Audra Delay (David's work supervisor)

INTERROGATORY NO. 21: Please identify any rules, policies, or procedures at BHDC have changed since the death of David Cains, including but not limited to policies regarding calling 911.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 1: All documents you consulted in responding to these interrogatories.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 2: All documents written, signed, or recorded by any party or witness relating to the allegations of Plaintiff's Complaint and Defendant's Answer and defenses thereto.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 3: Your privilege log, in accordance with Instruction No. 3.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 4: All documentation regarding any injury to another person caused by David Cains.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 5: Please provide a copy of any organizational chart or flow sheet setting forth the departmental organization and hierarchy of the BHDC as such existed at the time of the events set forth in Plaintiff's complaint.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 6: All documents, including communications to or from you, related to the death of David Cains.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 7: All documents, including communications to or from you, related to the restraint incident involving David Cains on the day of his death.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 8: All communications between you and anyone else, including your employees, servants, and agents, that are related to the allegations of Plaintiff's Complaint and Defendant's Answer and defenses thereto.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 9: All documents BHDC provided to its employees, who were employed at the time of Cains' death, regarding the terms and conditions of their employment, including all employee manuals and rules.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 10: Please provide copies of any policies, rules, procedures, or guidelines in effect at BHDC at the time of David Cains' death, including but not limited to those pertaining in any way to the use of restraints, such as Use and Documentation Procedures to Manage Behavior and Documentation of and Response to Maladaptive Behaviors.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 11: Please provide copies of any written or recorded statements DHS or its agents or employees have obtained from the Plaintiff or any other family member of David Cains.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 12: Please provide copies of any audio, photographic and video footage that concerns the occurrences identified in Plaintiff's complaint, including all photographs of David Cains taken at any point over his roughly 13 years stay at BHDC.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 13: Please provide reports and any other documents from all investigations, including internal investigations, conducted by DHS or any DHS entity, including but not limited to maltreatment investigations, including but not limited to reports and any other documents from any review or investigation performed by the Division of Provider Services and Quality Assurance (DPSQA), the Office of Long-Term Care (OLTC), the Mortality Review Committee (MRC), or DDS.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 14: Please produce a copy of all training materials that were provided to BHDC staff employed at the time of Cains' death on or about June 13, 2020.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 15: Please provide copies of all medical articles or medical treatises which you plan to introduce into evidence, to use in any manner at the trial of this case or to use at any deposition.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 16: Please provide copies of any letters, documents or medical opinions which have been written by any experts, treating physicians or other physicians, or medical professionals whom you or your attorney plan on calling as expert witnesses to offer testimony at the trial of this case.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 17: The Defendant is requested to produce the following materials with respect to each expert witness it may call at the trial of this case:

(a) A copy of the witness's most recent curriculum vitae,

(b) A complete list of all books, texts, treatises, articles, statutes, rules, regulations, guidelines or any material which has been or may be referred to or relied upon by any expert witness in forming or explaining his or her opinions in connection with this case, together with citations to specific passages or sections relied upon,

(c) A list of any computer programs, spreadsheets, analytical programs, statistical programs of any other computer-based tool utilized by any expert witness in any manner with regard to his/her opinions in this case,

(d) Copies of each spreadsheet, program, algorithm, statistical model, macro program, or other computer-based files created by or at the direction of any expert witness which has been utilized in any manner regarding his or her opinions in this case,

(e) Copies of any and all reports, correspondence, notes, documents, writings, diagrams, charts, records, photographs, video or audio recordings of any type, computer files, e-mails or tangible items of any kind that have been supplied to any expert witness by defendant, attorneys for defendant, or any representative of the defendant or defendant's attorneys,

(f) Copies of any and all reports, correspondence, notes, documents, writings, diagrams, charts, records, photographs, video, or audio recordings of any type, computer files, e-mails, or tangible items of any kind that any expert witness has provided to the defendant, attorneys for defendant, or any representative of defendant's attorneys,

(g) Copies of any and all reports, correspondence, notes, documents, writings, diagrams, charts, records, photographs, video or audio recordings of any type, computer files, e-mails, or tangible items of any kind made or prepared by any expert witness in connection with this case regardless of whether such materials were provided to any other person,

(h) Any and all billing records, bills or invoices any expert witness has prepared or provided in connection with this case.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 18: Please provide copies of all documents which you plan to use at the trial of this case, including, but not limited to, documents which you plan on introducing into evidence and documents which you plan to or will use in the direct examination and cross-examination of witnesses at the trial of this case.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 19: Please provide your entire unredacted file on David Cains, including but not limited to all Individual Program Plans, Behavior Programs, Behavior Plans, Resident Behavior Reports, Social History Assessment, Dysphasia Disorder

Survey, Restraint Incident Debriefing Forms, Restraint Logs, Emergency Restraints, and records reflecting personal, chemical, or mechanical restraints used on David Cains throughout his time at BHDC.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 20: Please produce all minutes of the meetings of the BHDC Human Rights Committee from the time period of January 1, 2017 through January 1, 2021, as well as any reports produced by the Human Rights Committee during this time period.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 21: Please produce the Human Development Center Monthly Statistical Reports provided to the DDS Board for the time period of January 1, 2017 through January 1, 2021.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 22: Please produce the complete personnel files of Tyler Mattson, Amy "Mandy" Jones, and Ryann Campos.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 23: Please produce copies of any policies, rules, procedures, or guidelines at BHDC that have been modified or altered in any way since David Cains's death, including but not limited to those pertaining to calling 911.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 24: Please produce copies of any recorded statements that any BHDC staff or former BHDC staff have given concerning the death of David Cains, including but not limited to recorded statements given to Disability Rights Arkansas.

INTERROGATORY NO. 22: Please treat the foregoing interrogatories as continuing and furnish to Plaintiffs, in writing, any additional information received by you subsequent to the date of your answers hereto that would modify or supplement your answers, such additional information to be furnished as soon as reasonably possible after receipt by you and within a reasonable time prior to the assigned trial date in order to permit appropriate discovery procedure. Will you do so?

VERIFICATION

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
Attorneys at Law
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was transmitted via electronic mail on this 13th day of January, 2022.

Eric M. Collins, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
Eric.Collins@dhs.arkansas.gov

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe,
as Special Administrator of the Estate
of David Cains — CLAIMANT

V. — Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) — RESPONDENT

DHS' Second Supplemental Responses Response To Plaintiff's First Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production of Documents

COMES now Respondent, by and through its attorney, Rich Rosen, and for its Second Supplemental Responses to Claimant's First set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production, states as follows:

INTERROGATORY NO. 11: Please provide the name, address, and telephone number of each expert who may be called as a witness, and for each such expert provide:

(a) the subject matter on which the witness is expected to testify;

(b) the materials reviewed by each expert;

(c) the facts known to the expert which relate to or form the basis of the mental impressions and opinions held by the expert; and

(d) the dates of all reports rendered by such experts, and the names and addresses of the persons having custody of same.

SUPPLEMENTAL ANSWER:

Respondent will call Theodore A. Kastner, M.D., M.S. as an expert witness. Dr. Kastner has years of medical experience working with and treating Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities, and has authored 70 peer-reviewed original articles in medical and professional journals, the vast majority of which are related to the health, care, and treatment of individuals with developmental disabilities. Dr. Kastner has received significant grant support for over 30 years; the majority of which for work related to individuals with developmental disabilities. In addition, Dr. Kastner has authored over 40 invited articles related to developmental disabilities and has presented at over 150 conferences and meetings on health care, many of which were related to the treatment or care of individuals with developmental disabilities. Dr. Kastner has had numerous academic appointments including appointments at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, the University of New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry, and Columbia University College of Medicine. Dr. Kastner has served on the boards and committees of dozens of national and regional medical and professional associations related to the care and treatment of individuals with developmental disabilities.

Dr. Kastner is familiar with the BHDC, its campus, population and, with regard to David Cains, his 2018 and 2019 IPPs, 2018 and 2019 choking risk assessments showing a low risk of choking, his dysphagia risk assessments, and review various deposition transcripts. Dr. Kastner will testify, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, as to the cause of death of David Cains. Dr. Kastner will further testify, to reasonable degree of medical certainty and based on his extensive experience and knowledge related to the care and treatment of individuals with developmental disabilities and, including his familiarity of developmental disable individuals with aggressive behaviors, that the staff of the BHDC met the applicable standard of care when addressing David Cains' behavior on 06/13/2020 and application the emergency hold for safety, which was within the scope of the IPP, physician orders, BHDC policies, and staff training.

The facts known to Dr. Kastner and the substance of his expert opinions will be provided shortly. A copy of Dr. Kastner's Curriculum Vitae is attached.

INTERROGATORY NO. 13: Please identify by title, author, editor, edition, publisher, date of publication and section, portion, page or pages of each and every book, treatise, periodical and/or pamphlet:

(a) established, or to be established, as a reliable authority by the testimony of any expert witness you have identified or will identify; and

(b) to be referred to during the trial testimony of any expert witness you have identified or will identify.

SUPPLEMENTAL ANSWER:

See Dr. Kastner's Curriculum Vitae, a copy of which is attached.

INTERROGATORY NO. 14: Do you contend there was an imminent risk of serious physical injury or serious property damage posed by David Cains on the date of his death? If so, please describe the nature of any imminent risk of serious physical injury or serious property damage.

ANSWER:

Yes, there was an imminent risk of serious physical injury posed by Mr. Cains. The incident occurred in the lobby of the Commons building with other employees and clients were nearby. The canteen, restroom, medication window, recreation room are accessed from the lobby as well as the main entrance into commons and then into the dining room. Mr. Cains exhibited dangerous behavior which posed an imminent risk to himself, other clients, employees, and property. Mr. Cains became verbally and then physically aggressive during the incident. Mr. Cains destroyed property, spit at Mr. Mattson, and advanced on and attempted to strike Mr. Mattson.

SUPPLEMENTAL ANSWER:

In addition to above, please see the deposition testimony of Tyler Matteson, Ryann Campos, and Amy Jones for further facts and details of David Cains' aggressive behavior requiring emergency intervention of safety. See also the behavior reports previously provided which are bates numbered pages CM 00539 – CM 00806, and deposition testimony of Claimant and Ms. Robinson on David Cains' history of physical aggression behaviors.

INTERROGATORY NO. 15: Please describe how the behavior of David Cains that led to his personal restraint on the day of his death constituted an "emergency situation."

ANSWER:

On June 13, 2020, Mr. Cains went to the Commons Building on BHDC's campus for his medication and lunch. Mr. Cains is visually monitored outside of his living area and any intake is supervised due to seizure precaution orders. Mr. Cains took his medication before he ate lunch. Tyler Mattson, RCT, monitored Mr. Cains during lunch. When Mr. Cains was finished with his meal, he told Mr. Mattson he needed to go to the bathroom. Mr. Mattson noted Mr. Cains seemed to be irritated and Mr. Mattson accompanied Mr. Cains to the bathroom.

Mr. Cains came out of the restroom and asked if he could sit down in the lobby to calm down. Mr. Mattson told Mr. Cains that that would be okay, and Mr. Cains sat down. Mr. Cains sat down and began screaming, cussing and ripped paper of the wall. Mr. Cains then jumped up, began spitting and attempted to hit Mr. Mattson. Mr. Mattson placed Mr. Cains in an emergency personal hold by holding Mr. Cains arms. Mr. Cains fell to the ground and Mr. Mattson fell with him. While on the floor, Mr. Cains continued to try and strike Mr. Mattson.

SUPPLEMENTAL ANSWER:

In addition to above, please see the deposition testimony of Tyler Matteson.

INTERROGATORY NO. 19: Please identify David Cains' Interdisciplinary Team (IDT) for the time period of January 1, 2019 through the date of his death.

ANSWER:

Respondent reserves the right to supplement this response as additional information becomes available. Respondent objects to the inclusion and production of personal information unrelated to the identified individual's professional capacity. Such information is an unwarranted invasion of privacy and is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Without waiving the objections, Respondent can provide the following:

Charlene Robinson, Mother and Guardian
Chrissie McAuliffe, Sister and Advocate
Justin Jobb, Program Coordinator/QIDP
Brenda Jarrad, Team RN
Caleb Murray, Program Coordinator/Social Service Worker
Michael Alvis, Psychological Examiner
Gene Dobson, RCS
Chad Bokker, RCSS
Ashton Cobb, RCS
Nakita Martin
Chuck Hayes, RCT
Angela Yancy, RI
Audra Delay, RI
Caryn Roberts, RI
Kim Hunt, RI

John Harbison, RI

SUPPLEMENTAL ANSWER: See the 2018 IPP and 2019 IPP which identifies all persons on the Interdisciplinary Team (IDT) and all persons who contributed to the development of the 2018 and 2019 IPPs, including individuals present at the annuals reviews who were not directly on the IDT.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 4: All documentation regarding any injury to another person caused by David Cains.

Response: Please see included behavioral reports within RFP 1. Respondent objects to further production of records on the basis of client confidentiality and HIPAA.

Supplemental Response:

In addition to above, please see the deposition testimony of Tyler Matteson, Ryann Campos, and Amy Jones for further facts and details of David Cains' aggressive behavior requiring emergency intervention of safety. See also the behavior reports previously provided which are bates numbered pages CM 00539 – CM 00806, and deposition testimony of Claimant and Ms. Robinson on David Cains' history of aggression and violent behaviors.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 11: Please provide copies of any written or recorded statements DHS or its agents or employees have obtained from the Plaintiff or any other family member of David Cains.

Response: Respondent has not identified any documents to produce at this time, if any such documents are discovered, this response will be supplemented.

Supplemental Response: Please see the deposition transcripts of Claimant, Charlene

Robinson, and Sarah Ashley.

Respectfully Submitted,
Arkansas Department of Human Services

By: Richard Rosen
Richard Rosen, Bar No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334
rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

Certificate of Service

On December 1, 2022, a copy of the above 2nd Supplemental Response was served via electronic mail to Josh Gillispie at:

josh@greenandgillispie.com

Richard Rosen

Gmail

Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>

McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS, Claims Commission #220374

Rich Rosen <Rich.Rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov> Tue, Jan 10, 2023 at 4:03 PM
To: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>, Chad <chad@greenandgillispie.com>
Cc: Rich Rosen <Rich.Rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov>, Brent Gasper <Brent.Gasper@dhs.arkansas.gov>

Please see the attached report of Dr. Kastner – Part 2 – with regard to the standard of care for restraint use and the 911 response.

Rich

Richard Rosen

Arkansas Department of Human Services

Office of Chief Counsel

P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260

Little Rock, AR 72203

501-320-6334 Fax: 501-682-1390

email address is: rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

SENSITIVE

Confidentiality Notice: The information contained in this email message and any attachment(s) is the property of the State of Arkansas and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to whom this email is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying or distributing this transmission is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. The sender has not waived any applicable privilege by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

Kastner Part 2-001.pdf
1032K

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe,
as Special Administrator of the Estate
of David Cains CLAIMANT

V. Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

CLAIMANT'S SECOND SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION PROPOUNDED TO RESPONDENT

COMES now Plaintiff, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and propounds to Respondent the following Interrogatories and Requests for Production, to be answered in accordance with the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure and other applicable laws:

DEFINITIONS

1. "And" and "or" shall be individually interpreted in every instance as meaning "and/or" and shall not be interpreted to exclude any information within the scope of these requests.

2. "DHS" or "Defendant" or "You," as used herein, refers to all departments, offices, and facilities within the Arkansas Department of Human Services, including but not limited to the Booneville Human Development Center (referred to herein as "BHDC"), as well as all agents, employees, and officers.

3. Communication" or "Communications" refer to oral conversations, written correspondence, memoranda, telephone conversations, text messages, correspondence, notes, electronic mail, social media posts or messages, voice mails, answering machine messages, letters, notes, or cards, whether as a sender, recipient, cc, or bcc. "Communication" means any disclosure, transfer, or exchange of information or opinion, however made.

4. "Correspondence" refers to all forms of writings, electronic or otherwise, including but not limited to, letters, books, emails, text messages, computer tapes, discs, printouts, keypunch cards, memoranda, diaries, notes, reports, bulletins, printed forms, telegraphic communications, telexes, telegrams, telecopies, facsimile reproductions, minutes, microfilm, microfiche, films, videotape, and computer discs.

5. "Document" or "Documents" mean the original, or a copy when the original is not available, and each non-identical copy, including those which are non-identical by reason of notations or markings, of: papers, writings, records, notes, tapes, discs, or other substances on which communications, data, or information is recorded or stored, whether made by manual, mechanical, photographic, or electronic process. This definition includes all drafts or superseded revisions of each document. As used herein, "document(s)" includes, but is not limited to:

> Electronically Stored Information, books, pamphlets, periodicals, letters, reports, memoranda, handwritten notes, notations, messages, telegrams, cables, records, drafts, diaries, studies, analyses, summaries, magazines, circulars, bulletins, instructions, minutes, photographs, purchase orders, bills, checks, tabulations, desk or pocket calendars, charge slips, questionnaires, surveys, drawings, sketches, working papers, charts, graphs, indexes, taped correspondence, records of purchase of sale, contracts, agreements, leases, invoices, expense records, trip reports, releases, appraisals, valuations, estimates, opinions, financial statements, accounting records, income statements, electronic or other transcriptions or taping of telephone or personal conversations or conferences or any and all other written, printed, typed, punched, taped, filed or graphic matter or tangible thing, of whatever description, however produced or reproduced (including computer stores or generated data, together with instructions and programs necessary to search or retrieve such data), and shall include all attachments and enclosures to any requested item, which shall not be separated from the item to which they are attached or enclosed.

6. A document or communication "relating to," "related to," or "concerning" a given subject means any document that constitutes, contains, embodies, comprises, reflects, identifies, states, refers to, deals with, comments on, responds to, describes, or is otherwise pertinent to that subject, including without limitation documents concerning the presentation of other documents.

7. "Person" and "entity" mean the singular as well as the plural and include any natural person, partnership, corporation, association, joint venture, proprietorship, firm, agency, or other legal or business entity, and its agents and employees.

8. "Identify" and "identity":

a. When used in reference to a natural person, require his or her full name, present or last known business and home addresses, business, mobile, and home telephone numbers, and email addresses, if any;

b. When used in reference to a document, require Bates numbers and, in the alternative, the present location and the custody of the original thereof or, if unknown, the present custodian of any copy thereof, and the manner and date of disposition of any document that was, but is no longer, in your possession or subject to your control;

c. When used in reference to communications, require the substance thereof, the identity of the person who made the communication and the person to whom it was made, and the persons who participated in such communication or were present at the time same was made, the date and place thereof, whether the communication was oral, in writing, and/or exists in an electronic medium, and, if such communication has been reduced to writing, or otherwise exists in an electronic medium, includes identifying such document or ESI.

9. The singular of each word shall be construed to include its plural and vice-versa, and the root word and all derivations (i.e., "ing," "ed," etc.) shall be construed to include each other.

10. The words "and" as well as "or" shall be construed both conjunctively as well as disjunctively.

11. The word "each" shall be construed to include "every" and vice-versa.

12. The word "any" shall be construed to include "all" and vice-versa.

13. The present tense shall be construed to include the past tense and vice-versa.

14. The masculine shall be construed to include the feminine and vice-versa.

15. The words "knowledge," "information," "possession," "custody," and "control" of a person shall be construed to include such person's agents, representatives, and attorneys.

16. The word "including" shall have its ordinary meaning and shall mean "including but not limited to" and shall not indicate limitation to the examples or items mentioned.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. In answering each of these interrogatories, please furnish all information that is available to you and any to which you have access, including information in your possession, custody, or control, or in that of any agent, servant, or employee, including doctors, attorneys, investigators, examiners, testers, and evaluators contracted by you or on your behalf.

2. In the event you are unable to fully answer one or more of the following interrogatories after exercising due diligence to secure the necessary information, provide the most complete answer possible and specify the reason(s) for the inability to provide a complete response at the present time

3. Should a privilege, confidentiality agreement, protective order, or other privilege/exemption from discovery be asserted with respect to any part of any discussion, document, or other communication concerning information requested by any of the following interrogatories or requests for production, you are requested to answer the interrogatories or request in the manner indicated herein, except that the contents of the part deemed privileged need not be summarized. Instead, indicate that a privilege is claimed for such part and state the nature of the privilege claimed and the facts upon which such claim is based in sufficient detail to permit the Court to adjudicate the validity of the privilege claim.

INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please state whether Dr. Theodore Kastner has ever provided testimony as an expert witness at a trial or deposition. If so, for each expert, please state:

(a) The style of the case, including the names of parties, venue and case number;

(b) Whether testimony was provided for the Plaintiff or Defendant; and

(c) A brief summary of the expert testimony provided in the particular case.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 1: Please produce for inspection and copying any and all most recent curriculum vitaes or written statements and reports by Dr. Theordore Kastner that you may call at the hearing of this matter and a list of any such expert's publications or other writings. In addition, please produce a copy of the transcript for any and all testimony provided by Dr. Kastner at any previous trial, hearing and/or deposition.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 2: Please produce all documents related to Dr. Theodore Kastner's, Developmental Disabilities Health Management's, or any other Kastner entity's previous work for the Arkansas Department of Human Services since the year 2000. This includes but is not limited to Kastner's or DDHM's or any other Kastner entity's proposal when bidding on the Alexander Human Development Center, and all written findings, recommendations, reports, opinions, and any other document related to their work, consulting work other otherwise, at AHDC.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 3: Please produce all findings, recommendations, reports, opinions, or any other document authored by Kastner (or any entity with which Kastner was involved) that in any way relate to the Arkansas Department of Human Services since the year 2000.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 4: Please produce all documents reflecting amounts paid by the state of Arkansas or by DHS or by DDS or by any other branch of state government to Dr. Theodore Kastner or to any company with which he was affiliated, including without limitation Developmental Disabilities Health Management or Disability Service Centers of Arkansas or any of Kastner's other companies. These documents should include, without limitation, contracts, invoices, proposals, bids, receipts, or any other item reflecting amounts paid to Kastner or a Kastner entity by Arkansas since the year 2000 and through the present date.

INTERROGATORY NO. 2: Please treat the foregoing interrogatories as continuing and furnish to Plaintiffs, in writing, any additional information received by you subsequent to the date of your answers hereto that would modify or supplement your answers, such additional information to be furnished as soon as reasonably possible after receipt by you and within a reasonable time prior to the assigned trial date in order to permit appropriate discovery procedure. Will you do so?

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
GREEN & GILLISPIE
Attorneys at Law
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
josh@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was transmitted via electronic mail on this 22nd day of December, 2022.

Rich Rose, Esq.
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel
Rich.rosen@dhs.arkansas.gov

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe,
as Special Administrator of the Estate
of David Cains CLAIMANT

V. Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

DHS' RESPONSES TO CLAIMANT'S SECOND SET OF INTERROGATORIES AND REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

COMES now DHS, by counsel, and is response to Claimant's Second Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production, States as follows:

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please state whether Dr. Theodore Kastner has ever provided testimony as an expert witness at a trial or deposition. If so, for each expert, please state:

(a) The style of the case, including the names of parties, venue and case number;

(b) Whether testimony was provided for the Plaintiff or Defendant; and

(c) A brief summary of the expert testimony provided in the particular case.

ANSWER: Yes. Dr. Kastner has qualified as an expert medical witness in several cases and by several courts, including the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas:

1. United States v. Arkansas, 794 F. Supp 2d 935 (E.D. Ark. 2011) (case No. 4:09-CV-0033);
2. United States v. Arkansas, #4:10-CV-00327 JLH, 2011 U.S. Dist. 7231.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 1: Please produce for inspection and copying any and all most recent curriculum vitaes or written statements and reports by Dr. Theodore Kastner that you may call at the hearing of this matter and a list of any such expert's publications or other writings. In addition, please produce a copy of the transcript for any and all testimony provided by Dr. Kastner at any previous trial, hearing and/or deposition.

ANSWER: Dr. Kastner's C.V. has previously been provided. Dr. Kastner's publications are identified on his C.V. DHS does not have possession of Dr, Kastner's publications. In addition, two written reports have previously been provided reflecting Dr. Kastner's expert opinions and the facts in this matter, including the bases and grounds for his opinions. DHS has no transcripts of any testimony previously provided by Dr. Kastner or any of his prior publications identified on Dr. Kastner's C.V. Dr. Kastner is a medical and restraint expert with vast and extensive experience in the provision of health care and services to individuals with intellectual disabilities and developmental delays, including application of the standards of care applied to facilities and staff within the United States, restraint use in compliance with federal regulations and CMS Operations manuals and state rules/policies applicable to Intermediate care facilities for individuals with intellectual disabilities, such as the Booneville Human Development Center. Dr. Kastner is an expert witness retained by DHS. He is not a DHS employee.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 2: Please produce all documents related to Dr. Theodore Kastner's, Developmental Disabilities Health Management's, or any other Kastner entity's previous work for the Arkansas Department of Human Services since the year 2000. This includes but is not limited to Kastner's or DDHM's or any other Kastner entity's proposal when bidding on the Alexander Human Development Center, and all written findings, recommendations, reports, opinions, and any other document related to their work, consulting work other otherwise, at AHDC.

ANSWER: To the extent that any of these documents are in the possession of DHS related to the former AHDC, these documents have been provided. If additional documents are discovered in DHS possession, this response will be supplemented.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 3: Please produce all findings, recommendations, reports, opinions, or any other document authored by Kastner (or any entity with which Kastner was involved) that in any way relate to the Arkansas Department of Human Services since the year 2000.

ANSWER: Documents responsive to this request were previously provided to Claimant pursuant to its FOIA request and pursuant to discovery. See response to Request for Production No. 1 above.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENT NO. 4: Please produce all documents reflecting amounts paid by the state of Arkansas or by DHS or by DDS or by any other branch of state government to Dr. Theodore Kastner or to any company with which he was affiliated, including without limitation Developmental Disabilities Health Management or Disability Service Centers of Arkansas or any of Kastner's other companies. These documents should include, without limitation, contracts, invoices, proposals, bids, receipts, or any other item reflecting amounts paid to Kastner or a Kastner entity by Arkansas since the year 2000 and through the present date.

ANSWER: Documents responsive to this request were previously provided to Claimant pursuant to its FOIA request. If any further documents are discovered within the possession of DHS, this response will be supplemented.

INTERROGATORY NO. 2: Please treat the foregoing interrogatories as continuing and furnish to Plaintiffs, in writing, any additional information received by you subsequent to the date of your answers hereto that would modify or supplement your answers, such additional information to be furnished as soon as reasonably possible after receipt by you and within a reasonable time prior to the assigned trial date in order to permit appropriate discovery procedure. Will you do so?

ANSWER: Yes, to the extent required by the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure.

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services,

By: /s/ Richard Rosen
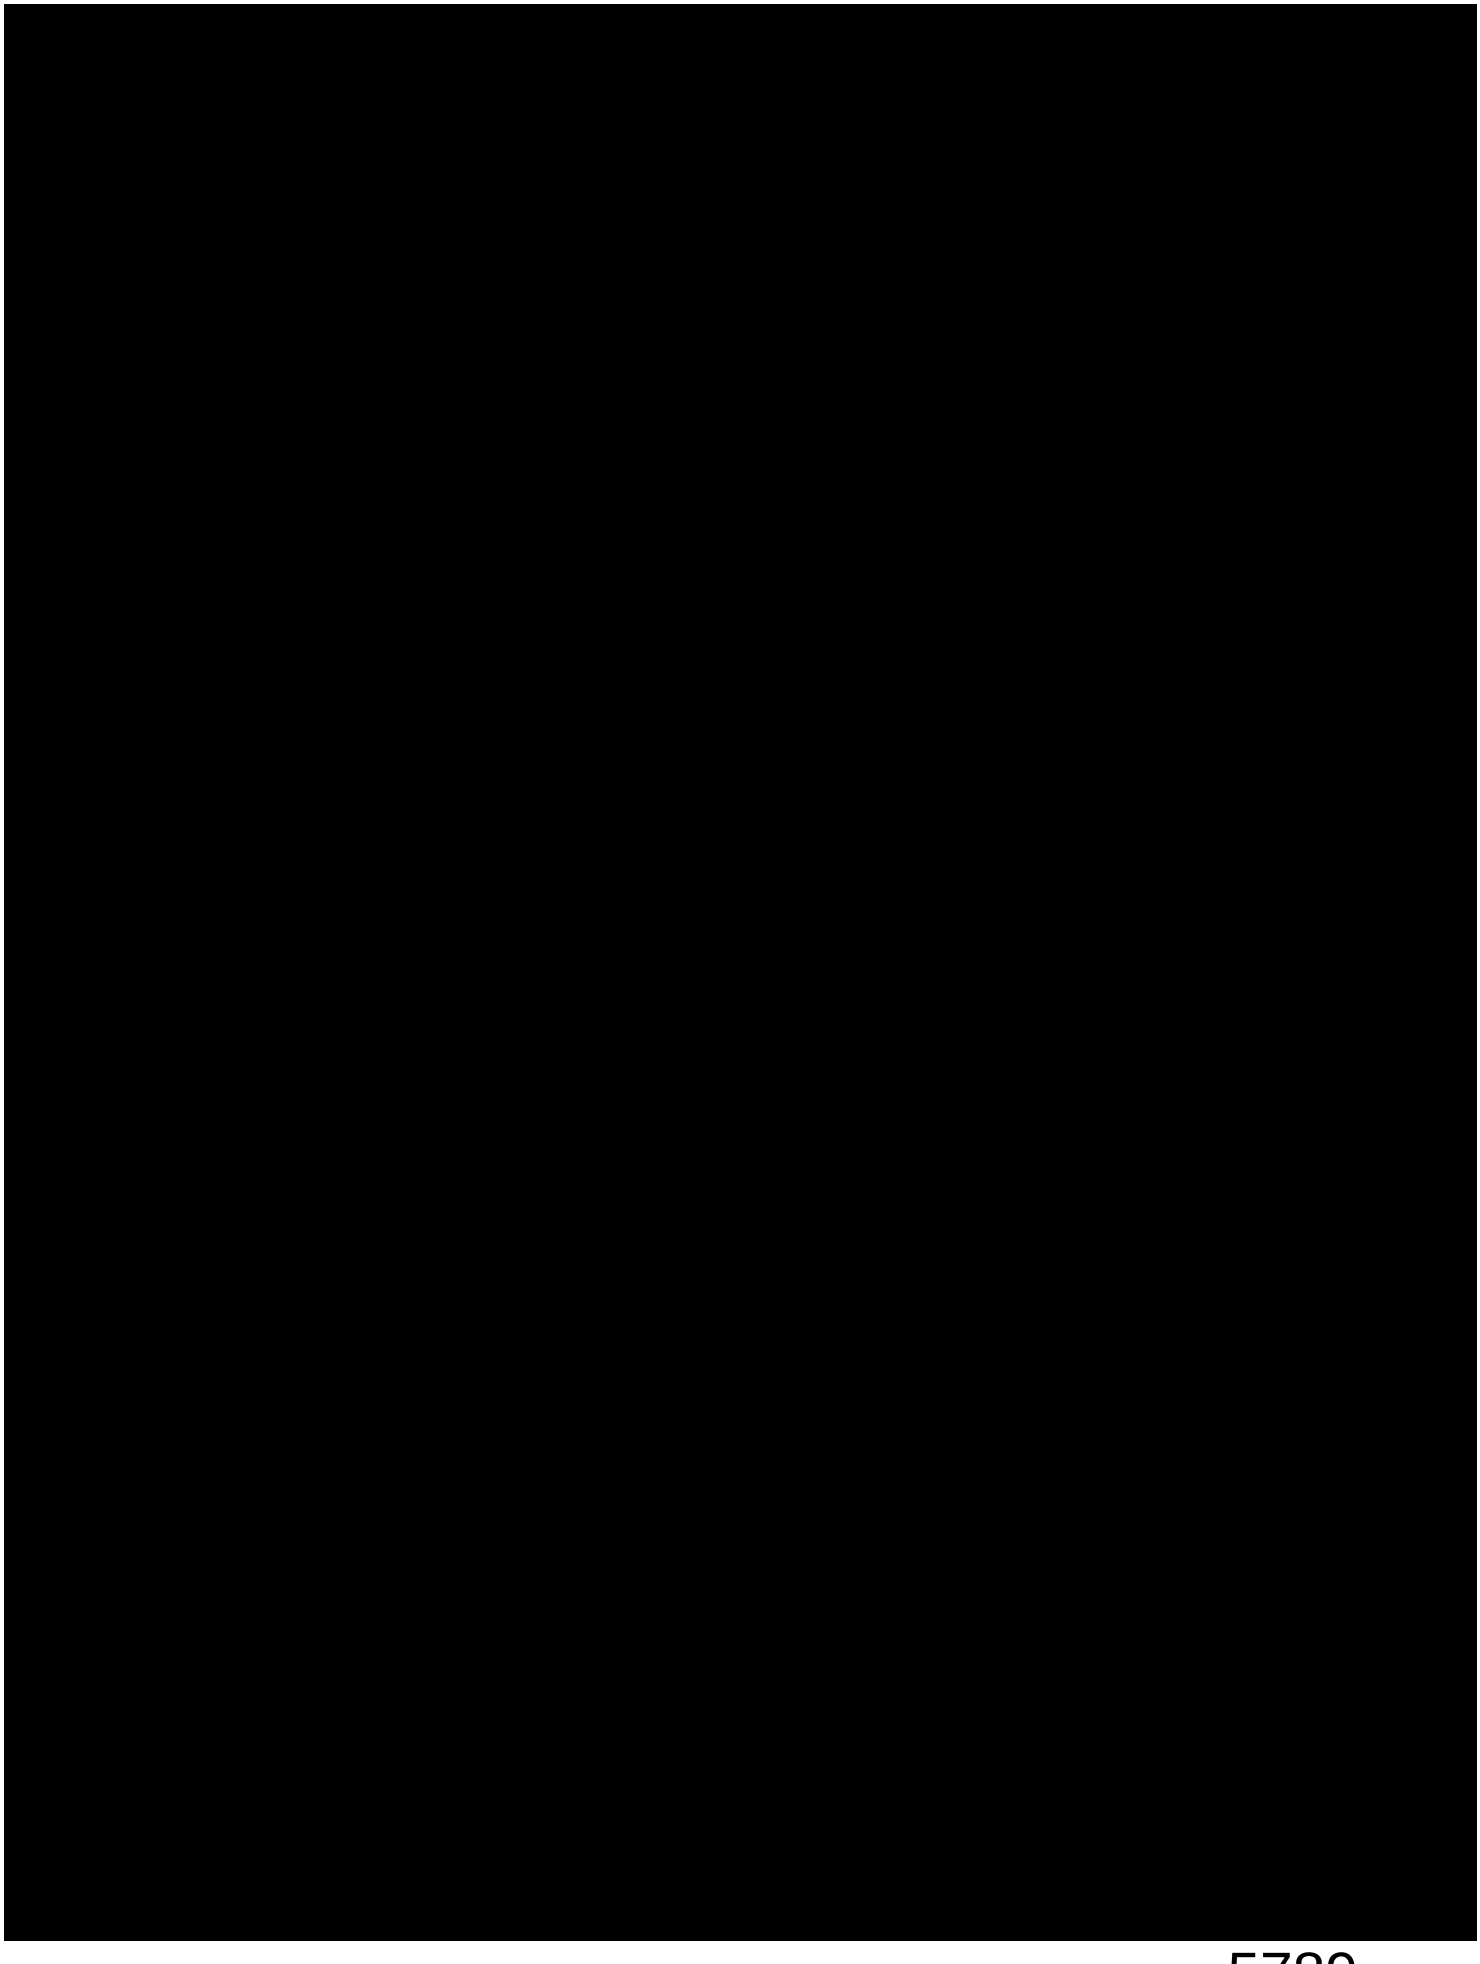
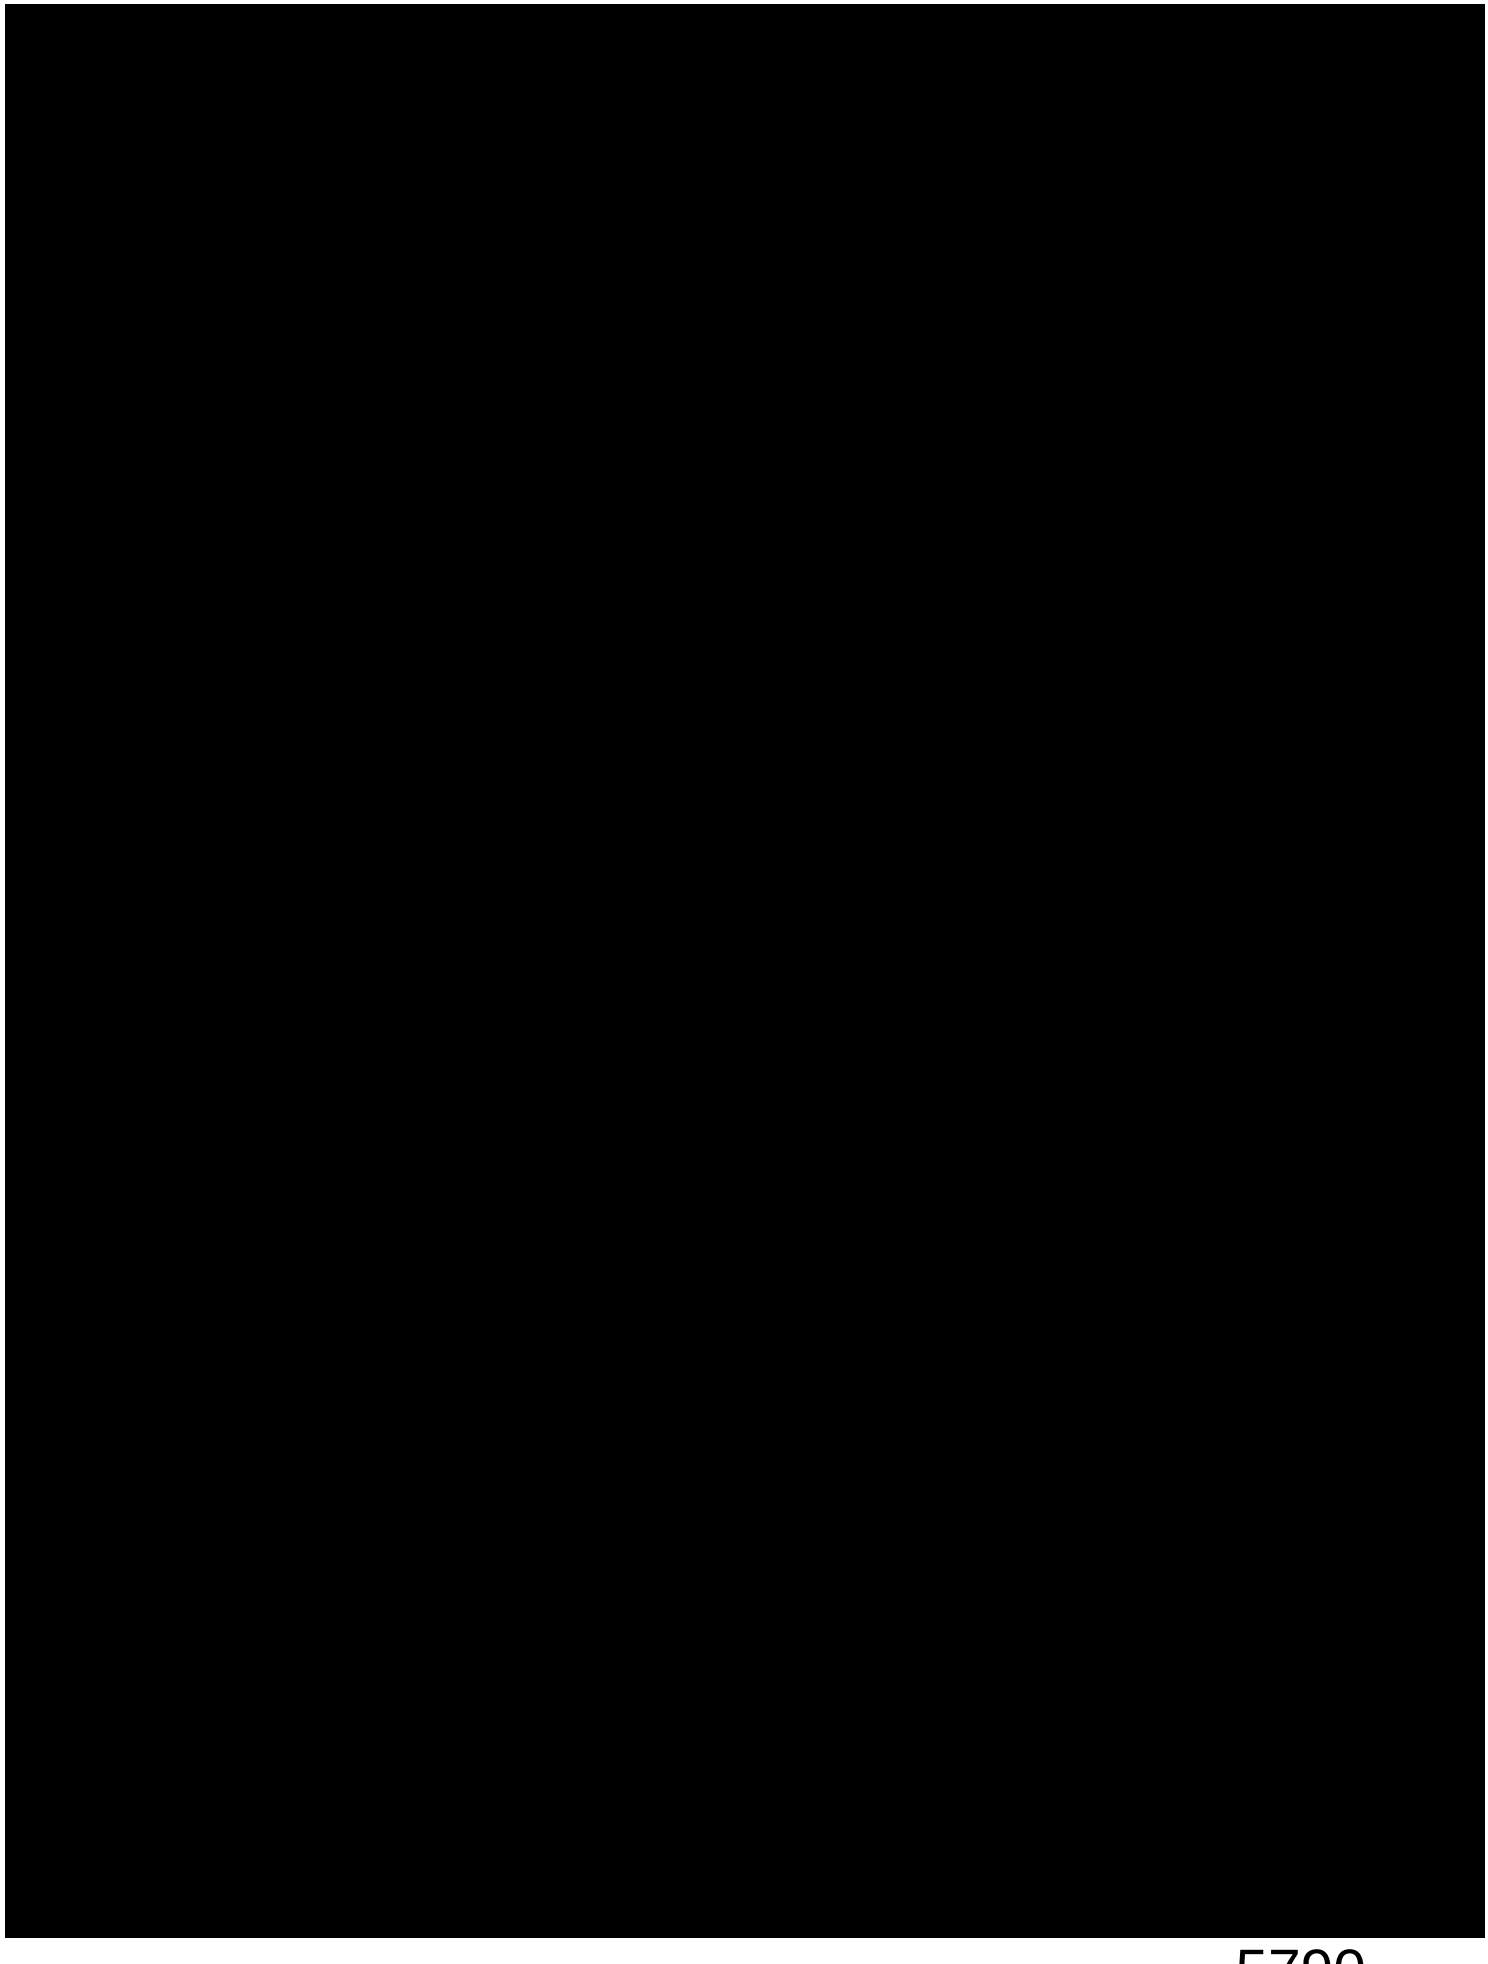
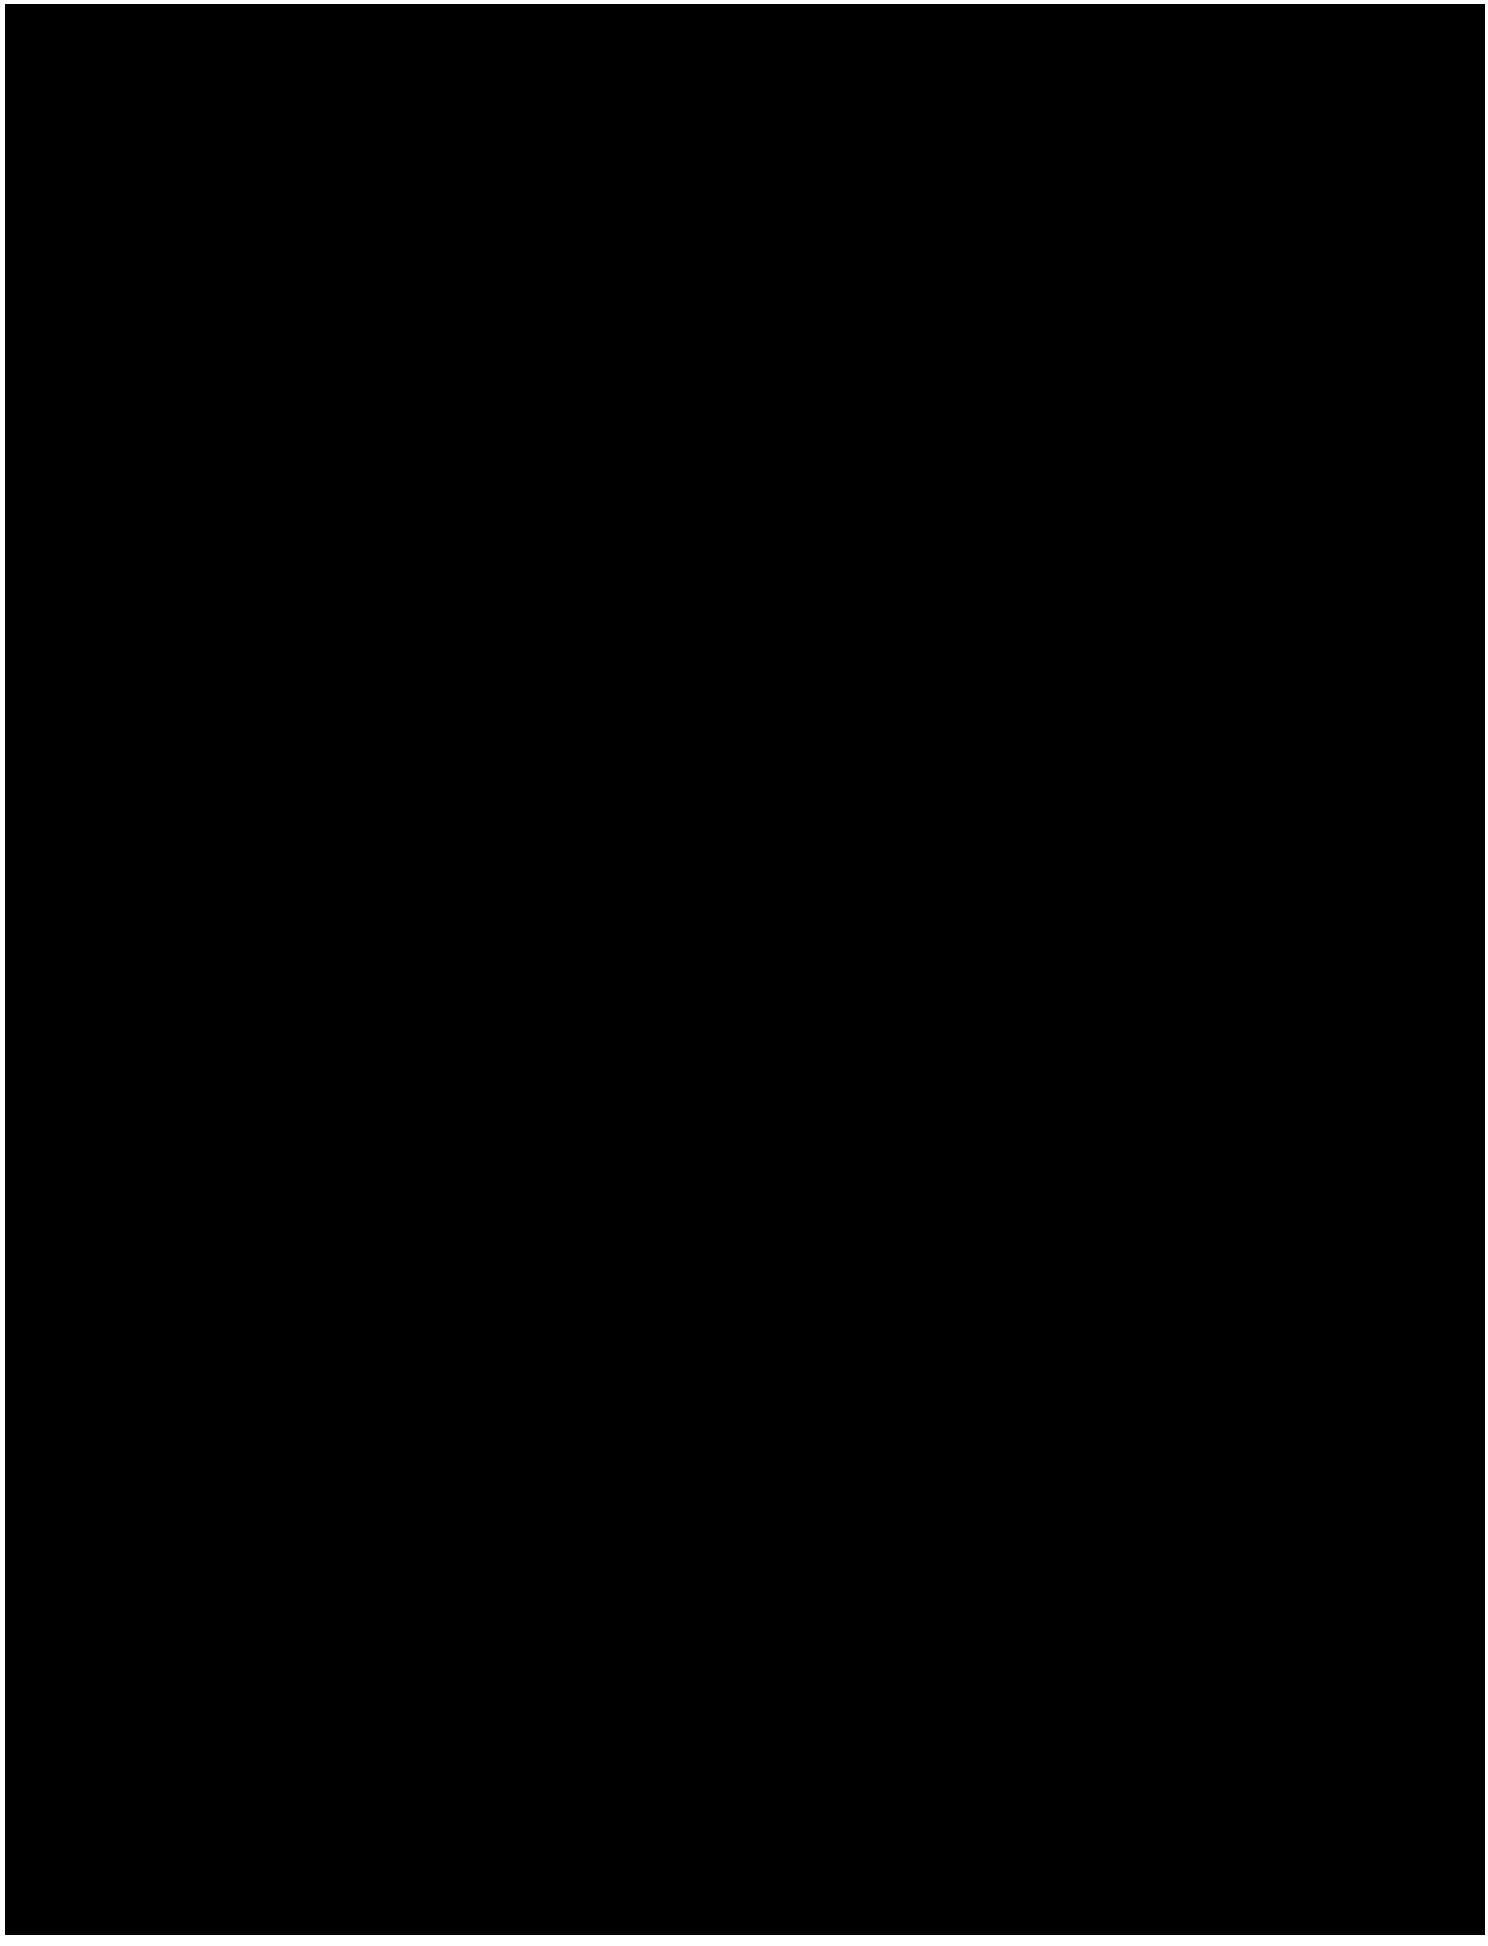
Richard Rosen, Bar No. 97164
Office of Chief Counsel
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
501-320-6334



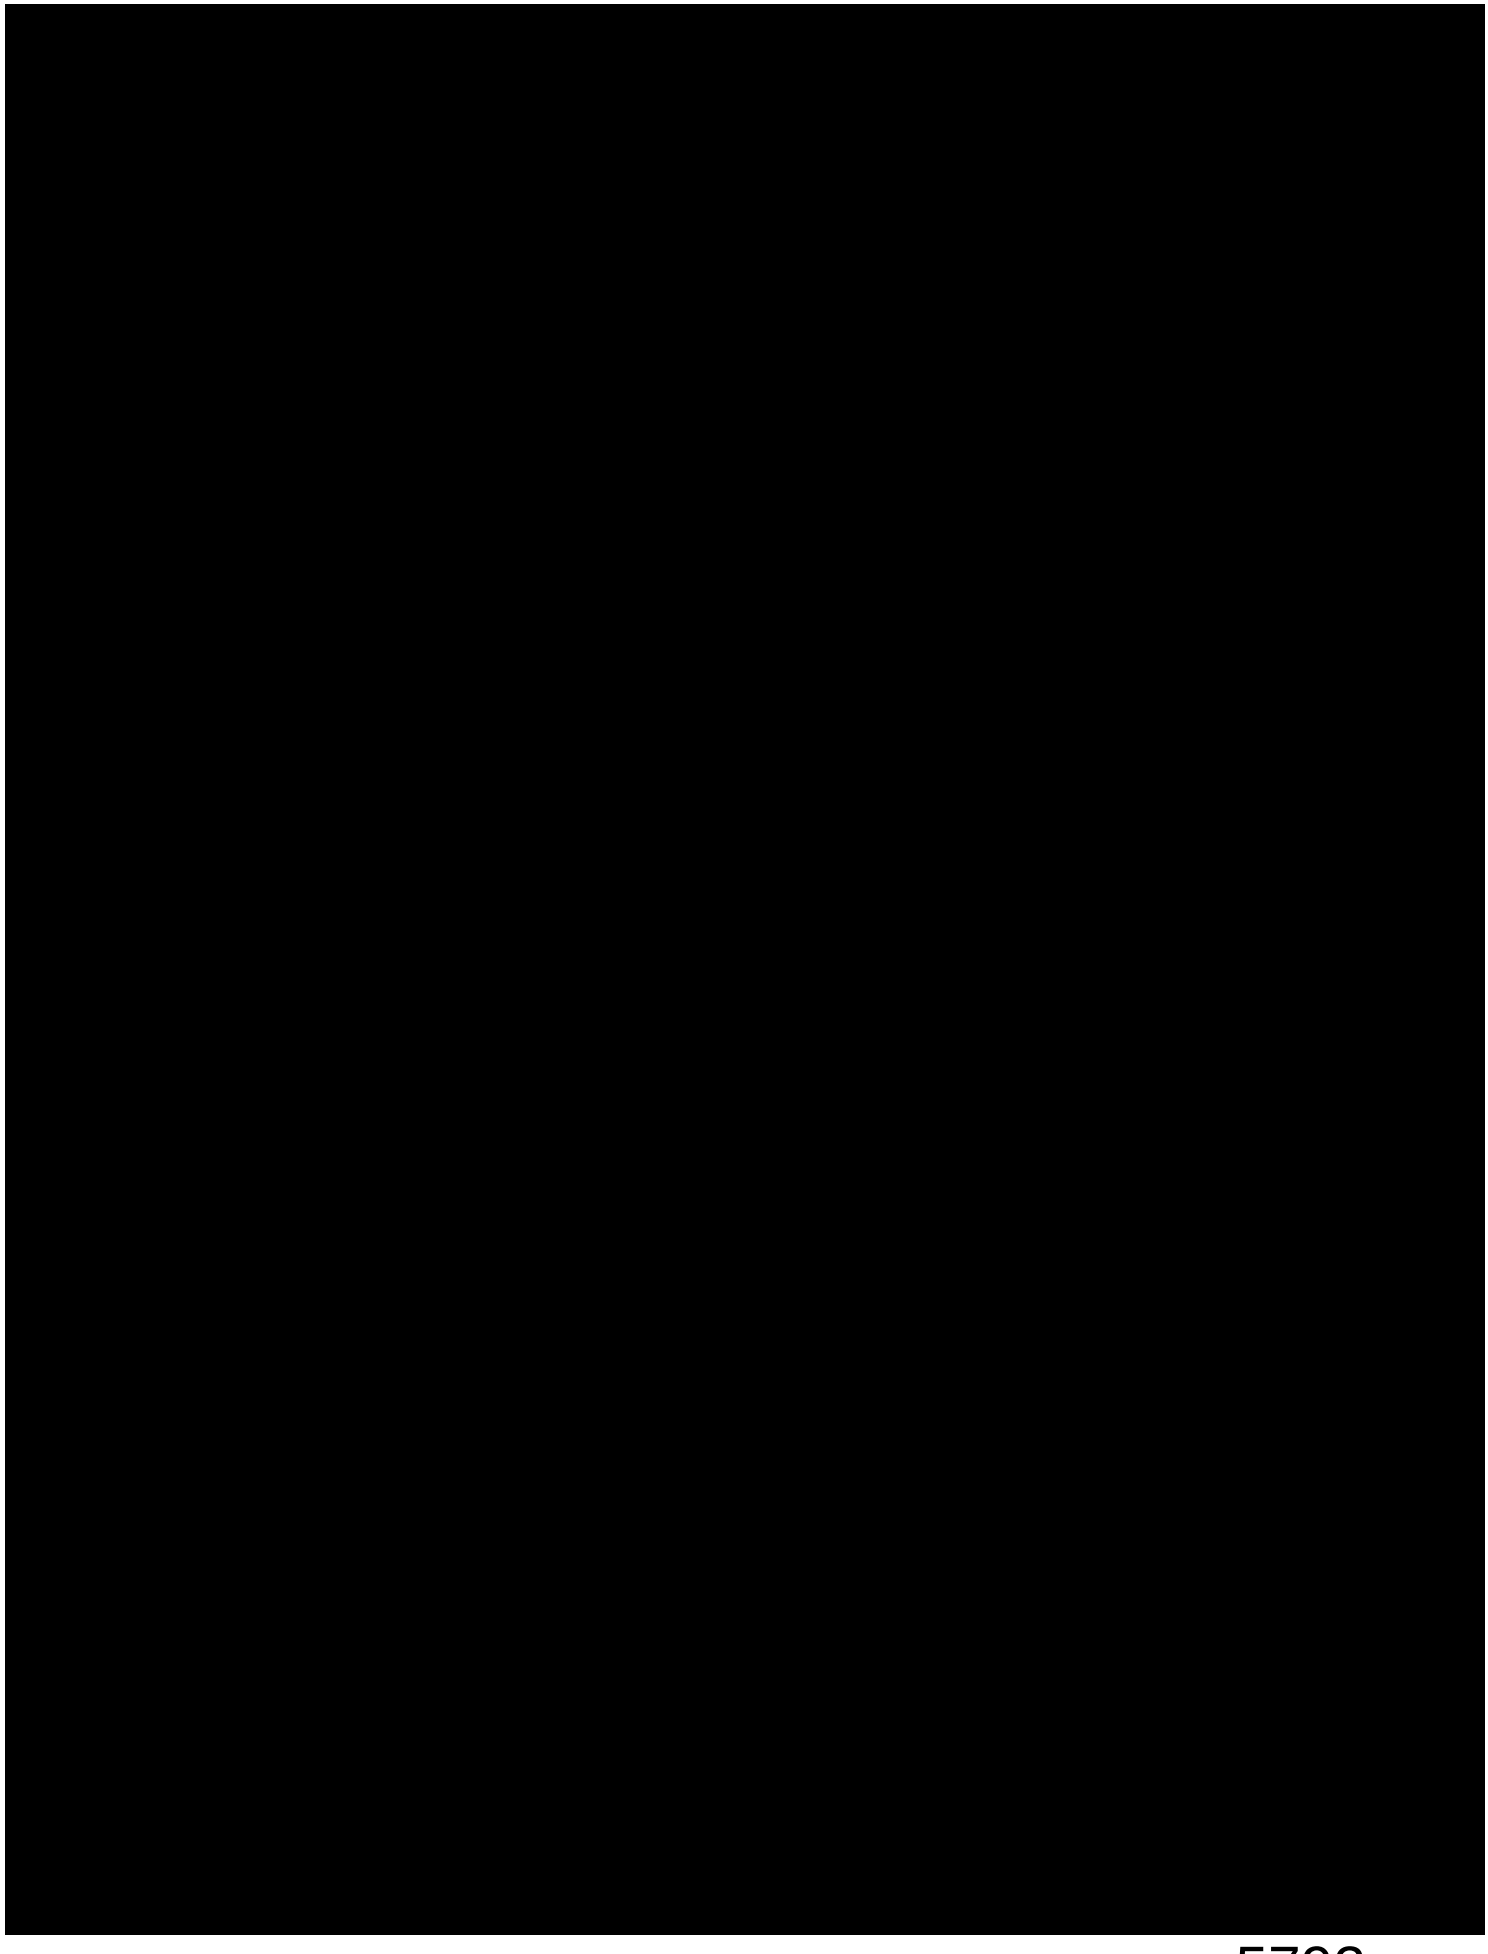
Certificate of Service



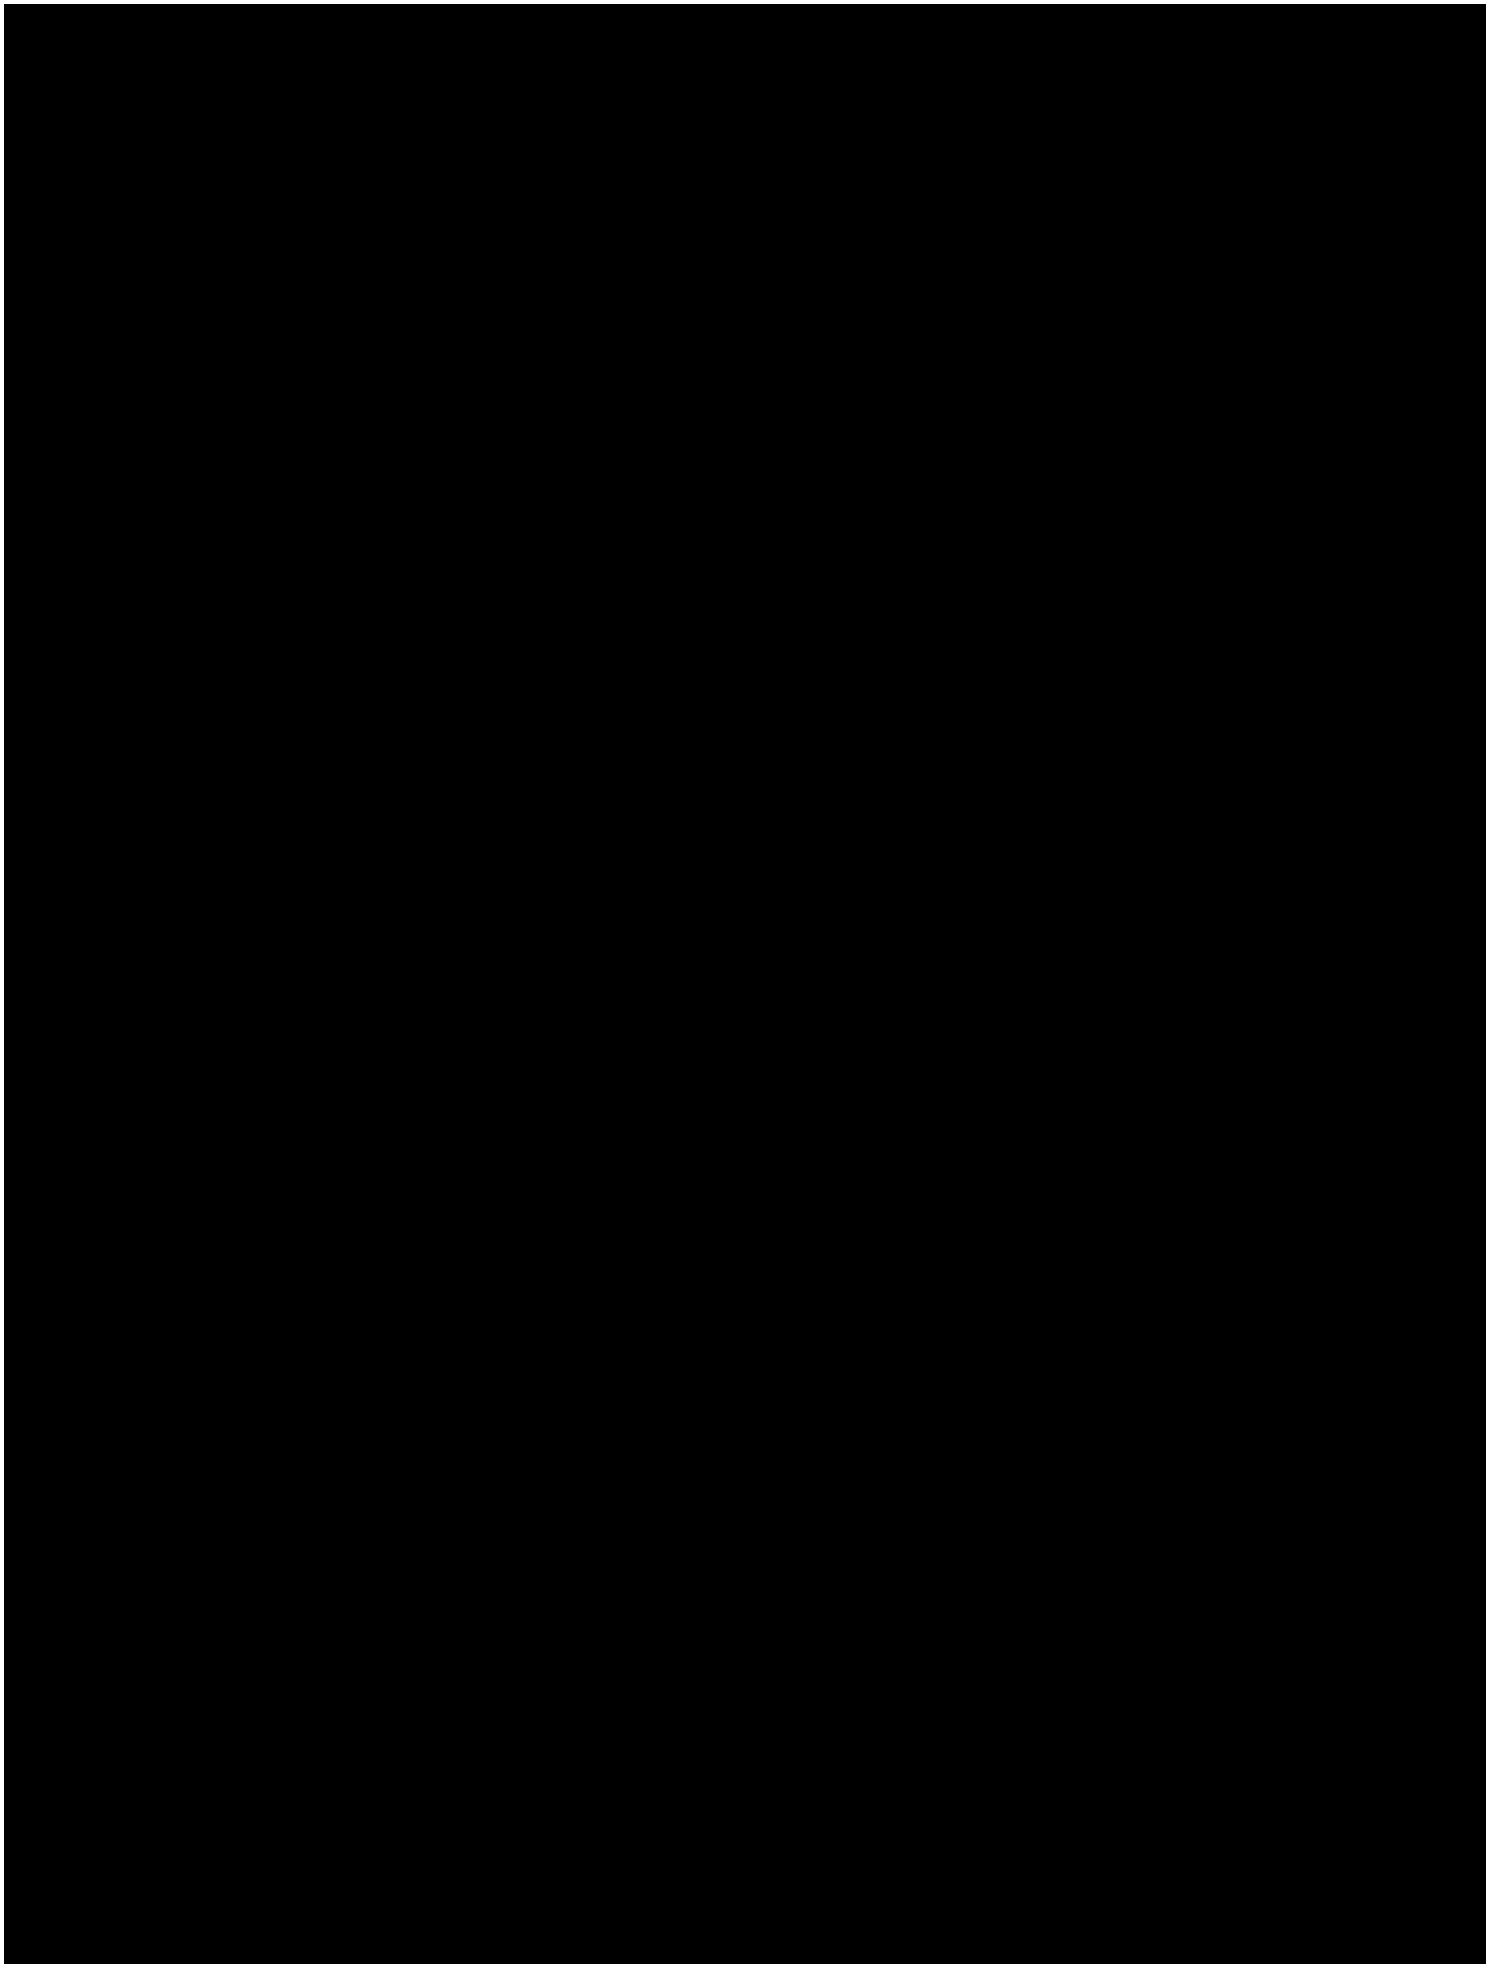
On January 23 2023, a copy of the above discovery response was served via email to



josh@greenandgillispie.com



chad@greenandgillispie.com



/s/ Richard Rosen

From: Chad
To: Kathryn Irby
Subject: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Tuesday, March 21, 2023 3:02:42 PM

Kathryn,

We met at the recent hearing in the above case. I am Josh Gillispie's law partner. I just wanted to make sure you had my email address so that I will receive any communications from you or the commission, including the commission's final decision. I know it will be a while before they issue a decision, but I wanted to make sure you added my email to the chain of people to be notified.

Thank you for all of your help,
Chad M. Green

Green & Gillispie
Attorneys at Law
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
501-244-0700
501-244-2020 (fax)
chad@greenandgillispie.com

This communication is only intended for the addressee(s) and may contain attorney-client protected materials. Please contact Green & Gillispie, Attorneys at Law, if you received this communication by mistake and delete and destroy any copies. This communication does not create an attorney-client relationship.

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: Misty Scott
Subject: Re: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374
Date: Friday, May 12, 2023 1:28:55 PM

Great, thanks! I was told that by another attorney that has been through the process, but figured I'd make sure.

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Fri, May 12, 2023 at 1:24 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, not a dumb question at all. The answer is yes. As soon as the Commission enters an order, you and Rich Rosen will receive a copy by email.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
> Sent: Friday, May 12, 2023 12:56 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: Misty Scott <Misty.Scott@arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374
>
> Kathryn-
>
> Hope you are doing well. Probably a dumb question, but will it be by email that I will be notified once there is a decision in the Cains case? I was thinking that was the case, but it occurred to me that I never actually asked.

Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Feb 21, 2023 at 3:14 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, thanks for this information.
>
> Misty, will you replace the old binders with the new ones that Mr. Gillispie dropped off?
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
> Sent: Tuesday, February 21, 2023 2:37 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Subject: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374
>
> Kathryn-
>
> I just wanted to let you know that I stopped by your office today to drop of four flash drives containing everything that we filed in physical form on Thursday - including the Brief, Witness List, Exhibit List, Kastner Section, Deposition Summaries, Deposition Transcripts, and other Exhibits. It occurred to me that, while you only required physical copies, these might make things more convenient for your staff.

Additionally, I dropped off four additional physical copies of just the Pre-hearing Brief. The reason for this is that Exhibit citations in the copies provided on Thursday (in Volume 1 of the binders) printed in a very light ink that is a strain on the eyes. By Exhibit citations, I mean the words identifying what each exhibit is. This was the result of me using the color green for these descriptions when I was writing it on word; somehow that caused it to print funny. I want to make clear that absolutely nothing was changed, corrected or altered in any way, other than removing the color green and reprinting, causing the Exhibit citations to appear in normal ink. A quick comparison of the documents will bear that out. I just didn't want the Commissioners to have to struggle when reading.

I explained all of this to Kaitlyn in your office and she was very nice and helpful, but I thought it necessitated a follow up email to you.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: Misty Scott
Subject: Re: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374
Date: Friday, June 16, 2023 11:43:54 AM

Kathryn-

I hate to ask because I don't want to be a bother, but I was wondering if there is any kind of update that you might be able to share with me. Thank you very much!

If you'd rather call, my cell is [redacted].

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Fri, May 12, 2023 at 1:28 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Great, thanks! I was told that by another attorney that has been through the process, but figured I'd make sure.
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> www.greenandgillispie.com
>
> On Fri, May 12, 2023 at 1:24 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:
>
> > Josh, not a dumb question at all. The answer is yes. As soon as the Commission enters an order, you and Rich Rosen will receive a copy by email.
> >
> > Thanks,
> >
> > Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Friday, May 12, 2023 12:56 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Misty Scott <Misty.Scott@arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374

Kathryn-

Hope you are doing well. Probably a dumb question, but will it be by email that I will be notified once there is a decision in the Cains case? I was thinking that was the case, but it occurred to me that I never actually asked.

Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Feb 21, 2023 at 3:14 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, thanks for this information.
>
> Misty, will you replace the old binders with the new ones that Mr. Gillispie dropped off?

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Tuesday, February 21, 2023 2:37 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Subject: McAuliffe/Cains v. DHS Claims Commission No. 22-0374

Kathryn-

I just wanted to let you know that I stopped by your office today to drop of four flash drives containing everything that we filed in physical form on Thursday - including the Brief, Witness List, Exhibit List, Kastner Section, Deposition Summaries, Deposition Transcripts, and other Exhibits. It occurred to me that, while you only required physical copies, these might make things more convenient for your staff.

Additionally, I dropped off four additional physical copies of just the Pre-hearing Brief. The reason for this is that Exhibit citations in the copies provided on Thursday (in Volume 1 of the binders) printed in a very light ink that is a strain on the eyes. By Exhibit citations, I mean the words identifying what each exhibit is. This was the result of me using the color green for these descriptions when I was writing it on word; somehow that caused it to print funny. I want to make clear that absolutely nothing was changed, corrected or altered in any way, other than removing the color green and reprinting, causing the Exhibit citations to appear in normal ink. A quick comparison of the documents will bear that out. I just didn't want the Commissioners to have to struggle when reading.

I explained all of this to Kaitlyn in your office and she was very nice and helpful, but I thought it necessitated a follow up email to you.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

From: Caitlin McDaniel
To: Kathryn Irby
Subject: Request for Callback -
Date: Friday, June 23, 2023 1:20:00 PM

Josh Gillespie called to speak with you. It is regarding claim no. 22-0374-CC.

Callback # : 501-244-0700

Caitlin McDaniel
Administrative Specialist II
Arkansas State Claims Commission
101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
(501) 682-1619

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES RESPONDENT

ORDER

Now before the Arkansas State Claims Commission (the "Commission") is the claim of Christine McAuliffe, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains (collectively referred to herein as the "Claimant") against the Arkansas Department of Human Services (the "Respondent" or "DHS"). At the hearing held March 9, 2023, Claimant was represented by Joshua Gillispie and Chad Green. Rich Rosen appeared on behalf of Respondent.

Procedural History, Prehearing Matters, and Witness Testimony

1. Claimant filed this claim against Respondent on September 30, 2021, seeking $7,000,000.00 in damages related to the June 13, 2020, death of David Cains (the "Decedent"). The Decedent died while being physically restrained by employees of the Booneville Human Development Center (the "Center").

2. Respondent filed an Answer denying liability.

3. The Commission previously entered two orders in this claim: (1) an August 3, 2022, order granting Claimant's unopposed motion requesting that Respondent release certain documents to Claimant; and (2) an August 8, 2022, agreed protective order. Claimant also withdrew a motion to compel, such that no order was required.

4. The Commission notes that Respondent filed a motion to exclude testimony from Bob Bowen, which Claimant opposed. The Commission finds that this motion is moot, as Claimant did not call Mr. Bowen as a witness at the hearing or submit a deposition transcript.

5. The witnesses were sworn in by the chair commissioner.

6. In opening, Claimant's counsel stated that the Center negligently caused the Decedent's death. Restraints are only permitted in the extraordinary circumstances involving a risk of serious bodily injury or death and that the Center's supervisor admitted that the restraints used on the Decedent were not the "least restrictive" option, as required by state regulations, federal regulations, and the Center's written policy. Additionally, under the Center's written policies, the employees were only permitted to call the Center's medical personnel and could not call 911. Following the Decedent's death, the Center's employees lied about the use of restraints to the Decedent's family and falsified information stating that the Decedent was found in a hallway following his lunch. Claimant's counsel noted a "pervasive indifference" on the part of the Center to the restraint regulation.

7. Upon a question from a commissioner, Claimant's counsel specified that Claimant's damages include:

- $700,000 for the Decedent's pain and suffering,
- $1,500,000 to the Decedent's mother for mental anguish,
- $1,500,000 to the Decedent's sister for mental anguish,
- $300,000 to the Decedent's half-sister for mental anguish, and
- $3,000,000 for the Decedent's loss of life.

8. In opening, Respondent's counsel stated that this claim is about foreseeability and proximate cause. Respondent's deposition summaries include facts to debunk Claimant's allegations. The Decedent lived at the Center for thirteen years and had documented physical aggression issues. [redacted]

[redacted]. Referring to Dr. Hamid's deposition, Respondent's counsel stated that the parties agree that the Decedent ended up on the ground following a struggle. The regulations require the restrained person to be released from restrained as quickly as possible once the restrained person has calmed. It took emergency medical personnel thirteen minutes to arrive following the 911 call.

Testimony of Christine McAuliffe

9. Claimant called Christine McAuliffe to testify.

10. Ms. McAuliffe is the Decedent's younger sister. She grew up in Russellville, Arkansas, and lived there until 2016, when she moved to Vermont.

11. She was close with the Decedent. She was very protective of him. The Decedent was her best friend when she was a child. He was also like her child.

12. Their father was murdered when the Decedent was fourteen years old and Ms. McAuliffe was eleven years old. Following that event, the Decedent lived with families that were able to watch him continuously. He began living at the Center in 2007. The Center was a good fit for him because he was very social and outgoing.

13. The Decedent loved the Monkees, the Dukes of Hazzard, and the Arkansas Razorbacks. He was very social and outgoing. He liked to tease people.

14. Ms. McAuliffe saw him about every two to three months for holidays and his birthday. This continued after she moved to Vermont. The Decedent would come home for holidays.

15. The Decedent dealt with behavioral issues but was not violent. Ms. McAuliffe was never afraid of her brother. He never hurt her. He would move his arms out to the side when he was having a tantrum. He did not have the physical capability to lunge at another person. He was attacked by another resident in 2012, and his instinct was to curl up, not to fight back.

16. The Decedent was involved in the Special Olympics his whole life. He was very proud when he won a race, even though he was not gifted at athletics.

17. Following the Decedent's death, Ms. McAuliffe's mother was notified that the Decedent choked while eating lunch. Ms. McAuliffe understood that the Decedent was never a choking hazard. The Decedent's case manager, Caleb Murray, told Ms. McAuliffe that he did not know what happened because he was not there when the Decedent passed away.

18. Mr. Murray and other Center staff members came to the Decedent's funeral. At the funeral, Mr. Murray said that the investigation was concluded and that they would receive something in the mail.

19. Ms. McAuliffe reviewed the letter she received from the Center following the investigation, which was the first time Ms. McAuliffe became aware that the Decedent was restrained at the time of his death. Ms. McAuliffe called Mr. Murray for more information, and she was told to contact Jeff Gonyea.

20. Prior to this incident, Ms. McAuliffe had always been notified when a behavioral incident occurred. She understood that "personal restraints" meant that one or both arms were held. She did not understand that the Decedent could be restrained on the ground. Mr. Gonyea refused to give her any other information regarding the investigation and directed her to contact Tammy Bimbrook at DHS to request documents. Ms. McAuliffe confirmed that she received approximately 300 pages within a week.

21. After reading the statements, Ms. McAuliffe was appalled. She contacted the Office of Long Term Care (OLTC) to request an investigation. She later received an email stating that nothing was found and that, because the Decedent was deceased, her mother's guardianship was concluded and that she would have to contact a lawyer to become the executor of the Decedent's estate. Ms. McAuliffe's uncle contacted the Logan County Sheriff's Office, but nothing came of that, and they could not obtain an investigation report. Ms. McAuliffe sent emails to her representatives and eventually got a lawyer as a last resort.

22. Ms. McAuliffe learned of the Decedent's death as she was driving home from the grocery store. She was very upset. Three weeks later, the family celebrated the Decedent's birthday without him and told stories about him.

23. The Decedent enjoyed his life and was a happy, funny guy. He enjoyed living at the Center. He loved his family. He had his own friends at the Center. His life mattered to him. Ms. McAuliffe feels like his life was taken away from him.

24. The Decedent relied upon the Center's staff members and his family to be his voice. He was unable to be his own voice.

25. On cross-examination, Ms. McAuliffe confirmed that the Decedent was at the Center because Ms. McAuliffe's mother wanted him to be there. Ms. McAuliffe disagreed with the portion of her mother's deposition stating that Ms. McAuliffe only came back to Arkansas once or twice a year after she moved to Vermont. She is aware that Respondent's internal investigation, the OLTC investigation, and the investigation by the Logan County Sheriff's Office did not yield any findings of wrongdoing. Ms. McAuliffe agreed that a death investigation would take some time. She agreed that this event preceding the Decedent's death was unusual compared to prior behavior events. The Decedent was removed from the family that he lived with prior to moving to the Center due to abuse or neglect. Referring to Respondent's Exhibit No. 10, which is the Decedent's 2019 Individual Program Plan (IPP), Ms. McAuliffe agreed that restraints were specifically referenced and that the Decedent's mother signed it. She was aware that restraints could include chemical restraints, a papoose board, or personal restraints. [redacted]

[redacted]. Ms. McAuliffe's mother relied on her Catholic faith to help her cope with the Decedent's death. Ms. McAuliffe assumed that the emergency response from 911 at the Center would take longer due to its rural location.

26. On redirect, Ms. McAuliffe stated that staff members told her how much they loved the Decedent. During the IPP meeting or afterwards, discussions were had about [redacted]

27. On re-cross, Ms. McAuliffe agreed with her deposition when she stated that the Decedent did not vomit often.

Testimony of Charlene Robinson

28. Claimant called Charlene Robinson to testify.

29. Ms. Robinson is the Decedent's mother. Ms. Robinson shared stories from the Decedent's childhood. The Decedent loved Christmas and believed in Santa his whole life. He loved going to Walmart after having lunch with Ms. Robinson. He was very proud of the money that he earned at his job taking apart books at the Center.

30. The Decedent was very close with Ms. McAuliffe. He would always ask Ms. Robinson about her.

31. Ms. Robinson worked full-time in varied jobs until she was 69 years old. She had multiple jobs at certain times. It would have been impossible for Ms. Robinson to take care of the Decedent after the Decedent's father passed away. She sought out help from Friendship Services, which is how the Decedent was placed with the [redacted] and [redacted] and placed at the Center. Ms. Robinson looked at other options but determined that the Center was the best fit for the Decedent so that he could be around his peers.

32. When Ms. Robinson received a call from the Center on the day of the Decedent's death, Ms. Robinson was told that the Decedent was in critical condition after choking at lunch.

33. The Decedent was not a dangerous or violent individual. Ms. Robinson was not afraid of him. The Decedent did not have the physical strength or dexterity to attack a grown man. He could not open a jar of pickles or a soda bottle.

34. Ms. Robinson did not learn that the Decedent died while restrained until ten days after his death. When she asked Mr. Murray whether there had been any behavior issues that week, she was told that there were not. Ms. Robinson did not receive any condolences from employees from the Center.

35. Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, Ms. Robinson was not able to visit the Decedent. The last time she saw him was on February 16, 2020. She talked to him on Monday afternoons.

36. Ms. Robinson talked about how much she misses the Decedent and how holidays are not the same.

37. On cross-examination, Ms. Robinson stated that she relied upon her church following the Decedent's death and [redacted]. Staff members from the Center came to the Decedent's funeral. She was aware of the Decedent's physical aggression issues. Referring to Respondent's Exhibit No. 11A, which is a behavior report from the Center stating that the Decedent "hit mom" on December 26, 2019, Ms. Robinson disagreed that she was hit by the Decedent. She never received a written report about the Decedent throwing a fire extinguisher.

Testimony of Kris Stewart

38. Claimant called Kris Stewart to testify. Ms. Stewart works with Disability Rights Arkansas (DRA) as an advocate. She monitors facilities for abuse and neglect.

39. Ms. Stewart is a co-author of the report found at Claimant's Exhibit No. 1.

40. DRA was contacted by Ms. McAuliffe following the Decedent's death. In its investigation, DRA reviewed the Center's investigation report, the OLTC investigation, and the hospital and coroner reports. DRA also interviewed several people associated with Respondent and the Center.

41. Referring to Claimant's Exhibit No. 1 at CM004527, Ms. Stewart stated that the Decedent [redacted]. Crisis Prevention Institute (CPI) does not support the on-the-floor restraints used on the Decedent.

42. Ms. Stewart found in her investigation that there were a lot of inconsistencies and that the investigation done by Respondent did not resolve those inconsistencies. There was a lot of information left out of the reports, including that the Decedent was restrained. Ms. Stewart noted inconsistencies between written reports and the employee interviews, including how the Decedent was laying on the ground and whether a staff member was holding his head. Ms. Stewart had concerns about Tyler Matson's credibility. Ms. Stewart stated that the least restrictive way to handle the Decedent would have been to back away and see if the Decedent calmed down.

43. Ms. Stewart has not been paid to give her report or to testify at the hearing.

44. Regarding the Center's 911 policy, Ms. Stewart stated that, per Jeff Gonyea, only medical personnel are permitted to call 911 to keep staff members from calling 911 unnecessarily.

Ms. Stewart interviewed Tyler Matson and was told that Mr. Matson initiated contact with the Decedent when the Decedent came toward him.

45. Following this incident, the Center did not change its policies. Ms. Stewart stated that because the Decedent died, she has a hard time believing that nothing could be done better or differently in the future to avoid a similar situation.

46. DRA is federally mandated and federally funded to do these investigations.

47. Ms. Stewart stated that there were no cameras at the Center.

48. On cross-examination, Ms. Stewart stated that DRA is mandated to investigate abuse and neglect situations. Ms. Stewart agreed that not every death involves abuse and neglect. Ms. Stewart is not certified or licensed to do investigations by any federal entity or any Arkansas board or commission. DRA was told that the Logan County Sheriff's Office does not investigate deaths at the Center. Ms. Stewart did not speak to anyone from OLTC. Ms. Stewart talked to Mr. Scow, who had heard from the nurses. [redacted], that would be correct based on what they saw. Referring to Respondent's Exhibit No. 13, Mr. Matson's statement includes references to the Decedent fighting Mr. Matson. Ms. Stewart is not aware of Ark. Code Ann. § 12-12-1718, which prohibits disclosure of pending maltreatment report. Ms. Stewart did not speak to [redacted] She is familiar with the Center's restraint policy.

49. Upon a question from a commissioner, Ms. Stewart stated that the biggest problem with the restraints here was that the Decedent died while he was restrained on the floor. Mr. Matson could have gotten up and moved away from the Decedent once Mr. Matson moved the Decedent onto his side.

Testimony of Dr. Ricki Brown-Forestiere

50. Claimant called Dr. Ricki Brown-Forester to testify. She works at Lakeland Regional Hospital, which is the second busiest emergency room in the country. She is a board-certified emergency medicine physician. She is the program director for the residency program at the hospital.

51. Dr. Brown-Forester testified that a person is more likely to suffocate on vomit if laying on ground. When laying flat on ground, gravity causes the vomit to settle at its lowest point, which is the back of the throat. [redacted].

52. Dr. Brown-Forester is familiar with [redacted]

53. In her opinion, being restrained is a stressful situation, and the Decedent was known to have vomiting issues when stressed.

Deposition Testimony Submitted by the Parties

54. The Commission reviewed the following depositions submitted by the parties:

i. Mark Hise (Claimant's Exhibit No. 2)
ii. Jeff Gonyea (Claimant's Exhibit No. 3)
iii. Sandy Evans (Claimant's Exhibit No. 6)
iv. Tyler Mattson (Claimant's Exhibit No. 9)
v. Ryann Campos (Claimant's Exhibit No. 10)
vi. Kelly King (Claimant's Exhibit No. 11)
vii. Amanda Schmitt (Claimant's Exhibit No. 12)
viii. Don Carter (Claimant's Exhibit No. 13)
ix. Mike Alvis (Claimant's Exhibit No. 14)
x. Caleb Murray (Claimant's Exhibit No. 15)

xi. Christine McAuliffe (Claimant's Exhibit No. 16)
xii. Amy Amanda Jones (Claimant's Exhibit No. 18)
xiii. Carrie Johnson-Miller (Claimant's Exhibit No. 19)
xiv. Justin Jobb (Claimant's Exhibit Nos. 20, 56)
xv. Dian Elliott (Claimant's Exhibit No. 21, Respondent's Exhibit No. 16B)
xvi. Janice LeBel (Claimant's Exhibit No. 23) xvii. Jennifer Berry (Claimant's Exhibit No. 24, Respondent's Exhibit No. 14B) xviii. Dr. Syed Hamid (Claimant's Exhibit No. 25, Respondent's Exhibit No. 17B)
xix. Jonathan McCutcheon (Claimant's Exhibit No. 26)
xx. Kris Stewart (Claimant's Exhibit No. 30)
xxi. Melissa Weatherton (Claimant's Exhibit No. 32)
xxii. Samuel Scow (Claimant's Exhibit No. 40)
xxiii. Dr. Rickie Brown-Forestiere (Claimant's Exhibit No. 42)
xxiv. Rhonda Harris (Claimant's Exhibit No. 49)
xxv. Charlene Robinson (Claimant's Exhibit No. 54)
xxvi. Ashley Cains (Claimant's Exhibit No. 55)
xxvii. Dr. Theodore Kastner (Respondent's Exhibit No. 15B)

Closing Arguments

55. In closing, Claimant's counsel argued that Mr. Mattson should have been terminated before this incident [redacted]. Two weeks before the Decedent's death, Mr. Mattson put the Decedent in restraints because the Decedent threatened to throw a thermometer, which was not an emergency situation. Ms. Johnson-Miller should have flagged Mr. Mattson for another incident in March 2020, as well. The fact that Mr. Mattson was known to use restraints improperly indicates foreseeability. When the Decedent was restrained on June 13, 2020, the restraint caused him to vomit, and he suffocated while restrained. The fact that the Decedent vomited when anxious also goes to the issue of foreseeability. Even if the Decedent had charged at Mr. Mattson, the training applies, as discussed by Mr. Hise. There should have been a violation found in the OLTC investigation.

56. Upon a question from a commissioner, Claimant's counsel confirmed that being swung at by a client is not unusual and that the staff is trained to block and pivot away.

57. Upon a question from a commissioner, Claimant's counsel stated that one of the estimated 120 restraint issues involved vomiting.

58. In closing, Respondent argued that the Decedent was only on the ground because he was trying to fight Mr. Mattson. This is a tragic situation. However, the fact that an accident occurs does not mean that there was negligence. Dr. Kastner provided his opinions at the beginning of his expert report, and then explained the scientific and medical reasons for each opinion. Negligence cannot be assumed. The Decedent was restrained many times over the years, and that was necessary. Regarding the allegation against Mr. Mattson, the fact that an allegation was made does not mean that the allegation is correct. Negligence cannot be predicated on a failure to anticipate the unforeseen. To demonstrate foreseeability, the harm must be within the range of probability, more than merely possible.

Relevant Caselaw, Regulations, and Policies

59. The elements of a negligence claim are duty, breach of duty, and damages proximately caused by the breach. See Union Pac. R. Co. v. Sharp, 330 Ark. 174, 180, 952 S.W.2d 658, 661 (1997).

60. Negligence can be "defined as the failure to do something that a reasonably careful person would do, or the doing of something that a reasonably careful person would not do, under the circumstances." Ethyl Corp. v. Johnson, 345 Ark. 476, 481, 49 S.W.3d 644, 648 (2001). As the Arkansas Supreme Court held, "negligence cannot be predicated on a failure to anticipate the unforeseen." Id. (quoting Keck v. Am. Emp. Agency, Inc., 279 Ark. 294, 652 S.W.2d 2 (1983)). The court further held that "Arkansas law has long since recognized that there is no duty to guard against merely possible, as opposed to likely or probable, harm." Id. at 482, 49 S.W.3d at 648.

61. The standard for clients' rights in 42 CFR § 483.420(a)(6) states that clients should be "free from unnecessary . . . physical restraints. . . ." Claimant's Exhibit No. 5.

62. 42 CFR § 483.450(b)(1)(iv)(B) requires the Center to have a policy addressing the use of physical restraints. Claimant's Exhibit No. 5.

63. 42 CFR § 483.450(d)(1)(ii) states that physical restraints may be used as an emergency measure "if absolutely necessary to protect the client or others from injury." Claimant's Exhibit No. 5. Subsection (d)(5) specifies that the restraint should not cause physical injury to the client. See id.

64. DDS Policy 3011-D requires that "an individual's actions that are aggressive, disruptive and/or present a danger to the individual or to others are managed with the least restrictive method." Claimant's Exhibit No. 4.

65. Section 6 of DDS Policy 3011-D provides that:

> Nothing in this policy prohibits the use of emergency restraints (mechanical or personal) . . . This includes the use of restraint procedures in the course of an established program, when the individual becomes a danger to him/herself or others, prior to staff being able to implement a lesser restrictive hierarchy. However, it is emphasized that emergency procedures may not be used at frequent intervals, becoming a routine method of intervention. If emergency procedures are utilized three times in a six-month period, the IDT will meet to conduct a functional analysis and develop an appropriate plan of action. . . .

Claimant's Exhibit No. 4.

Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Based upon a review of the pleadings, testimony, evidence, and the law of the State of Arkansas, the Commission unanimously finds as follows:

66. The Commission has jurisdiction to hear this claim pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-204.

67. The Commission finds that Claimant's claim is based upon alleged negligence in the treatment of the Decedent. Claimant alleges that this negligence was the cause of the Decedent's death.

68. The Commission finds that the Decedent was a resident at the Center at the time of his death on June 13, 2020. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 24 at p. 111. The Decedent lived at the Center from 2007 until his death. See id.

69. The Commission finds that the Center is an intermediate care facility for adults with intellectual disabilities. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 24 at p. 8. The Center trains its residents in "independent living skills, pre-vocational skills, and behavior management." See id. The Center is one of five human development centers in Arkansas, all of which are under Respondent's Division of Disability Services (DDS). See id. at pp. 8–9. The Center is licensed through Respondent's Office of Long Term Care (OLTC), which is the state's regulatory body for these types of facilities. See id. at pp. 12, 14. Ninety percent or more of the Center's population is "dually diagnosed," meaning that a resident has a mental illness diagnoses in addition to an intellectual disability. See id. at pp. 49–51. The Center has a "higher population of behavioral problems" than the state's other human development centers because the dual diagnosis patients are "funneled" to the Center. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 24 at p. 50.

70. The Commission finds that federal regulations, DDS policy, and the Center's policies permit the use of personal restraints in emergency situations. 42 CFR § 483.450(d)(1)(ii); DDS Policy 3011-D at Section 6; see also Claimant's Exhibit No. 6 at p. 38 and Claimant's Exhibit No. 3 at p. 41. A "personal restraint" is defined as "an emergency procedure limiting movement by the holding of a hand or limb." See Claimant's Exhibit No. 6 at pp. 39–40.

71. The Commission finds that the Decedent's July 18, 2019, IPP was in effect on the date of the Decedent's death. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 24 at pp. 55–56. The IPP listed the following [redacted]. See id. at p. 58. The IPP included the Decedent's history of physical aggression, noncompliance, and destruction of property (televisions, radios, DVD player, windows). See id. As part of the Decedent's IPP, his television was placed in a plexiglass box, and a shatter-proof mirror was installed in his room. See id. at p. 59. The IPP specified that where the Decedent was physically aggressive, the Center's staff could employ "category one procedures" (as part of DDS' 3011-D Policy), "TACT procedures" (as part of the Nonviolent Crisis Intervention (NCI) protocol), and other emergency procedures if necessary to protect from injury to client or others. See id. at p. 61, 105.

72. The Commission finds that extensive evidence[1] was presented regarding the Decedent's history of physical aggression in the year preceding the Decedent's death. The

[1] See Claimant's Exhibit No. 24 at pp. 70-80 and exhibits to deposition; see also Claimant's Exhibit No. 9 at pp. 76–77. May 20, 2019 (Decedent threw fire extinguisher into wall); June 25, 2019 (Decedent hit windows with hands); August 8, 2019 (Decedent hit staff member, tried to bite himself, did bite staff member); October 15, 2019 (Decedent tried to hit staff members); October 31, 2019 (Decedent tried to hit resident, hit a staff member); October 31, 2019 (Decedent screamed, bit himself); November 2, 2019 (Decedent threw table at staff); November 16, 2019 (Decedent tried to bite himself); November 21, 2019 (Decedent flipped a table over); December 2, 2019 (Decedent threw object at staff); December 18, 2019 (Decedent spit on staff, slapped staff and hit staff with his hat); December 18, 2019 (Decedent bit himself, threw an object); December 19, 2019 (Decedent threw objects, bit himself, pushed over table); December 26, 2019 (Decedent hit his mother, flipped a table); January 29, 2020 (Decedent turned over a trash can, threw juice at staff); February 5, 2020 (Decedent threw object at staff); February 8, 2020 (Decedent spit at and scratched staff member, threw objects at staff); February 18, 2020 (Decedent bit himself); February 18, 2020 (Decedent spit at and attempted to hit staff); February 25, 2020 (Decedent grabbed a broom and hit the windows); March 6, 2020 (Decedent threw trash can, threw object at staff); March 20, 2020 (Decedent kicked laundry basket, tried to spit at and hit staff, continued to fight once restrained); April 20, 2020 (Decedent grabbed staff member's glasses and threw them); April 20, 2020 (Decedent threw rock at Center's vehicle); April 27, 2020 (Decedent threw objects, hit staff with hat, acted as though he would hit staff with broom); April 28, 2020 (Decedent threw chair at staff, hit windows); May 29, 2020 (Decedent tried to pull fire alarm, tried to hit staff member).

Decedent had 187 aggressive incidents at the Center prior to June 2020, of which 77 incidents involved mechanical restraints (on a papoose board) and 43 involved personal restraints. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 2A at p. 6. Of those 187 aggressive incidents, there was only one episode of vomiting while restrained (approximately eight years before the Decedent's death). See id.

73. The Commission finds that, on June 13, 2020, Mr. Mattson's report and testimony confirm that the Decedent initiated the behavioral incident by aggressively moving toward Mr. Mattson. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 9.

74. The Commission finds that, while Claimant [redacted] See Claimant's Exhibit No. 25 at pp. 15–16. [redacted] See Claimant's Exhibit No. 24. As noted by Dr. Kastner, there is no evidence that [redacted] See Respondent's Exhibit No. 15B at pp. 49–50. Dr. Kastner also noted that Dr. Hamid did not put any qualifications on the Center's use of the papoose board—which required the Decedent to be prone—[redacted]. See id. at pp. 60–61.

75. Given Dr. Hamid's and Dr. Kastner's testimony [redacted] as well as the fact that the Decedent had only vomited once while restrained (out of 120 times), the Commission finds that it was not foreseeable that the Decedent would vomit while restrained on June 13, 2020. See Ethyl Corp., 345 Ark. at 481, 49 S.W.3d at 648. The Commission finds Dr. Kastner's opinions, explanations, and testimony regarding this issue to be persuasive, especially given his vast experience in the treatment of individuals with intellectual disabilities. See Respondent's Exhibit Nos. 2A, 15B. The Commission finds that Dr.

Brown-Forestiere's testimony was too speculative on this issue to be persuasive, especially regarding the assumptions as to whether the Decedent was "fighting for [his] . . . life" and whether that was the cause of Decedent vomiting. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 42 at pp. 13-15. The Commission also notes the very short period of time since Dr. Brown-Forestiere completed her residency. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 44 at p. 1.

76. However, the Commission finds that the Center was in violation of Section 6 of DDS Policy 3011-D, given the number of times that the Decedent was put into restraints within the six-month period prior to his death without a plan of action created to address this frequent issue. The behavior reports from that six-month period indicate that personal restraints were used on the Decedent on February 8, 2020; February 18, 2020; February 25, 2020; March 6, 2020; April 28, 2020; and May 29, 2020. See Claimant's Exhibit No. 24. As stated in 3011-D, "emergency procedures may not be used at frequent intervals, becoming a routine method of intervention." Claimant's Exhibit No. 4. Given that the Center was required under 3011-D to develop an "appropriate plan of action" to address this continual need for "emergency procedures," the Commission finds that it was foreseeable that routinely using emergency personal restraints on the Decedent could result in a negative outcome. By not creating a plan of action to address the routine, frequent use of restraints, the Commission finds that the Center breached its duty to the Decedent and that the breach tragically resulted in the Decedent's death. The Commission also notes its concerns with the Center's policy that only medical staff was allowed to call 911.

77. However, pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 16-64-122, the Commission must also consider the fault of the Decedent. The plain language of Ark. Code Ann. § 16-64-122 states that it applies to "… all actions for damages for … wrongful death … in which recovery is predicated upon fault." (emphasis added). The Arkansas Court of Appeals discussed the applicability of the "broad language" in this statute in Bishop v. Tariq, 2011 Ark. App. 445, 384 S.W.3d 659. In the instant claim, the Decedent initiated the behavioral situation that led to Mr. Mattson putting the Decedent into personal restraints. While the Decedent had the mental capacity of a child, Arkansas law states that "an infant is liable for his torts in the same manner as an adult." Farm Bureau Mut. Ins. Co. of Ark., Inc. v. Henley, 275 Ark. 122, 126, 628 S.W.2d 301, 303 (1982) (citing Moore v. Wilson, 180 Ark. 41, 20 S.W.2d 310 (1929)).

78. As such, the Commission assigns fault as follows:

(a) Decedent: 40%

(b) Respondent: 60%

79. As for damages, the Commission must consider the damages for the Decedent's estate as well as the mental anguish damages for the Decedent's wrongful death beneficiaries (his mother, sister, and half-sister).

80. Regarding the Decedent's estate, the Commission finds that, considering the persuasive testimony of the Decedent's family members regarding how the Decedent valued his life, the Claims Commission finds that the damages associated with the Decedent's loss of life are $350,000.00. Additionally, the Commission finds that the estate is entitled to $100,000.00 for the Decedent's pain and suffering. As such, the Claims Commission finds that the Decedent's estate's total damages are $450,000.00, of which Respondent is liable for 60 percent, equaling $270,000.00.

81. Regarding the Decedent's mother, Ms. Robinson, and the Decedent's sister, Ms. McAuliffe, the Commission finds their testimony regarding the mental anguish experienced following the Decedent's death to be persuasive. As such, the Commission finds that Ms. Robinson and Ms. McAuliffe should each be awarded mental anguish damages of $75,000.00, of which Respondent is liable for 60%, equaling $45,000.00 to each.

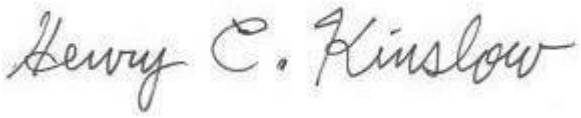
82. Regarding the Decedent's half-sister, Ms. Cains, the Commission finds her testimony regarding the mental anguish experienced following the Decedent's death to be persuasive. As such, the Commission finds that Ms. Cains should be awarded mental anguish damages of $50,000.00, of which Respondent is liable for 60%, equaling $30,000.00.



Conclusion

83. The Claims Commission AWARDS the Estate of David Cains $270,000.00. The Claims Commission further AWARDS Charlene Robinson and Christine McAuliffe $45,000.00 each and Ashley Cains $30,000.00. Pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-215(b), the Claims Commission refers this total award of $390,000.00 to the General Assembly for review, approval, and, if approved, placement on an appropriations bill.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
Courtney Baird

ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
Henry Kinslow, Chair

ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
Sylvester Smith

DATE: July 21, 2023

Notice(s) which may apply to your claim

(1) A party has forty (40) days from the date of this Order to file a Motion for Reconsideration or a Notice of Appeal with the Claims Commission. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a)(1). If a Motion for Reconsideration is denied, that party then has twenty (20) days from the date of the denial of the Motion for Reconsideration to file a Notice of Appeal with the Claims Commission. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a)(1)(B)(ii). A decision of the Claims Commission may only be appealed to the General Assembly. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a)(3).

(2) If a Claimant is awarded less than $15,000.00 by the Claims Commission at hearing, that claim is held forty (40) days from the date of disposition before payment will be processed. See Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a). Note: This does not apply to agency admissions of liability and negotiated settlement agreements.

(3) Awards or negotiated settlement agreements of $15,000.00 or more are referred to the General Assembly for approval and authorization to pay. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-215(b).

From:	Kathryn Irby
To:	Joshua Gillispie
Cc:	Daiquiri Carter; Rich Rosen; Chad
Subject:	ORDER: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date:	Friday, July 21, 2023 1:19:00 PM
Attachments:	McAuliffe -- hearing -- 220374 -- order.pdf

Mr. Gillispie and Mr. Rosen, please see attached order entered by the Commission.

Thanks,
Kathryn Irby

Kathryn Irby
Arkansas State Claims Commission
101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
(501) 682-2822

From:	Kathryn Irby
To:	"Joshua Gillispie"
Cc:	SaBreana Hyche
Subject:	RE: Additional opinions requested
Date:	Thursday, August 10, 2023 11:34:00 AM

Josh, thanks for this information. The permitted for the filing of a motion for reconsideration can be found in statute and in the text box at the end of the order.

Thanks,
Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Wednesday, August 9, 2023 11:57 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: SaBreana Hyche <SaBreana.Hyche@arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: Additional opinions requested

Kathryn-

You and your staff have been so gracious and helpful to me, so I wanted to do you the courtesy of letting you know that we have decided to file a Motion for Reconsideration rather than immediately appeal, in case knowing that is in any way helpful to you and your team.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 8, 2023 at 9:51 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, when a notice of appeal is filed with the Commission, I transmit a copy of the claim file to the Legislature. I do not transmit the claim file until the end of the 40-day period allowed for the parties to file a motion for reconsideration or to appeal. There is no briefing. Once the claim is added to a meeting agenda of the Claims Review Subcommittee, the parties will receive notice from the Bureau of Legislative Research. Typically, the parties are only given an opportunity to speak if a member of the Subcommittee has a question for a party.

Given that the 40-day period will not run until the end of August, I would be very surprised if that hypothetical appeal could be added to the September meeting, but that is not the Commission's decision. If an appeal is filed, and I transmit the claim file, BLR works with the CRS to set the agenda.

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Sunday, August 6, 2023 4:08 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: SaBreana Hyche <SaBreana.Hyche@arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: Additional opinions requested

Kathryn,

Can you please let me know briefly what the process would be in the event I filed a notice of appeal? I reviewed the statute, but it's still unclear to me what happens after the Commission notifies the Legislature of the appeal. For instance, is there a briefing requirement or do we just make our appeal directly to the Committee?

I see that the Committee next meets on September 11. Is it possible our appeal could be heard then?

Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 1, 2023 at 10:03 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Kathryn-
>
> I appreciate all of this. Thanks very much.
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 1, 2023 at 7:32 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, please see attached.
>
> On the Elizabeth Gilbert order that I sent you yesterday, that was not a final order. We have asked the State Archives to search for a final order in that matter. If they can find one, we will send it along to you.
>
> Thanks,
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
> (501) 682-2822

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: SaBreana Hyche
Subject: Re: Additional opinions requested
Date: Tuesday, August 29, 2023 9:12:05 AM

Thanks, Kathryn. That's very helpful.

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 29, 2023 at 9:03 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh,
>
> As to your first question, Ark. Code Ann. 19-10-211(a)(1)(B)(ii)(a) specifies that when a motion for reconsideration is denied, a party can file a notice of appeal "within twenty (20) days of the commission's transmitting the order denying the motion for reconsideration."
>
> As to your second question, if you're filing a motion for reconsideration, the Commission will consider it.
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
> Sent: Monday, August 28, 2023 10:00 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: SaBreana Hyche <SaBreana.Hyche@arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: Additional opinions requested
>
> Kathryn-

In light of reading Rule 7.1, I am trying to decide what to do. The Motion for Reconsideration I have drafted does not utilize any brand new evidence not previously available.

As you know, there was an extraordinary amount of evidence submitted to the Commission. My Motion focuses on a few pieces of evidence that, based on the Order, the Commission might not have had a chance to look at closely and that I was not able to focus on at the hearing given the time limitations placed on me.

My questions are, (1), if filed would such a Motion for Reconsideration even toll the time for filing a Notice of Appeal, OR would it be considered deficient and therefore treated as if nothing at all was filed, thereby preventing the timely filing of a Notice of Appeal?

And (2), is the portion of 7.1 stating that "Petitions for Re-Hearing and/or Motions for Reconsideration will only be entertained if they set forth new or additional evidence which was not available to the moving party at the time of the scheduled hearing" strictly enforced OR can the Commission still consider my Motion if they want?

Thanks,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Mon, Aug 28, 2023 at 11:39 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, I cannot calculate your deadline for you. I can, however, point you to Commission

Rules 7.1 and 8.1. https://arclaimscommission.arkansas.gov/rules/

Thanks,

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Monday, August 28, 2023 9:54 AM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: SaBreana Hyche <SaBreana.Hyche@arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: Additional opinions requested

Kathryn-

Can you please confirm for me that my Motion for Reconsideration is due tomorrow? 40 days from release of Order on July 21. That would be the case were this in state court, but I want to be sure you do not calculate differently.

Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Aug 10, 2023 at 11:34 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

Josh, thanks for this information. The permitted for the filing of a motion for reconsideration can be found in statute and in the text box at the end of the order.

Thanks,

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Wednesday, August 9, 2023 11:57 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: SaBreana Hyche <SaBreana.Hyche@arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: Additional opinions requested

Kathryn-

You and your staff have been so gracious and helpful to me, so I wanted to do you the courtesy of letting you know that we have decided to file a Motion for Reconsideration rather than immediately appeal, in case knowing that is in any way helpful to you and your team.

Best regards,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 8, 2023 at 9:51 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, when a notice of appeal is filed with the Commission, I transmit a copy of the claim file to the Legislature. I do not transmit the claim file until the end of the 40-day period allowed for the parties to file a motion for reconsideration or to appeal. There is no briefing. Once the claim is added to a meeting agenda of the Claims Review Subcommittee, the parties will receive notice from the Bureau of Legislative Research. Typically, the parties are only given an opportunity to speak if a member of the Subcommittee has a question for a party.
>
> Given that the 40-day period will not run until the end of August, I would be very surprised if that hypothetical appeal could be added to the September meeting, but that is not the Commission's decision. If an appeal is filed, and I transmit the claim file, BLR works with the CRS to set the agenda.
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
> Sent: Sunday, August 6, 2023 4:08 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: SaBreana Hyche <SaBreana.Hyche@arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: Additional opinions requested
>
> Kathryn,
>
> Can you please let me know briefly what the process would be in the event I filed a notice of appeal? I reviewed the statute, but it's still unclear to me what happens after the Commission notifies the Legislature of the appeal. For instance, is there a briefing requirement or do we just make our appeal directly to the Committee?
>
> I see that the Committee next meets on September 11. Is it possible our appeal could be heard then?
>
> Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 1, 2023 at 10:03 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Kathryn-
>
> I appreciate all of this. Thanks very much.
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 1, 2023 at 7:32 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, please see attached.

On the Elizabeth Gilbert order that I sent you yesterday, that was not a final order. We have asked the State Archives to search for a final order in that matter. If they can find one, we will send it along to you.

Thanks,

Kathryn Irby

Kathryn Irby

Arkansas State Claims Commission

101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410

Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

(501) 682-2822

From:	Joshua Gillispie
To:	ASCC Pleadings
Cc:	Kathryn Irby; Rich Rosen; Chad; Brent Gasper
Subject:	McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date:	Tuesday, August 29, 2023 10:58:13 AM
Attachments:	Motion for Reconsideration.pdf

Dear Claims Commission:

Please find attached Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration.

Best Regards,

Josh Gillispie

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains	CLAIMANT
V.	Claim No. 220374
THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER)	RESPONDENT

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

COMES NOW Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Motion for Reconsideration submits the following:

INTRODUCTION

This Honorable Commission entered its Order on July 21, 2023. Claimant Christine McAuliffe, and her undersigned counsel, wish to thank Commission Chairperson Henry Kinslow, Commissioner Courtney Baird, and Commissioner Sylvester Smith for their hard work and valuable time expended in considering this claim, and wish to recognize that their job was not an easy one given the amount of evidence, particularly the number of deposition transcripts, submitted in this case. This Motion for Reconsideration seeks to respectfully address two specific findings: (1) the apportionment of 40% fault to David Cains, and (2) the $350,000.00 award for damages associated with David Cains' "loss of life."

The purpose of this Motion for Reconsideration is to address more fully these two issues under Arkansas law to show the Commission why it should decrease the percentage of fault assigned to Davie and increase the award for damages associated with Davie's loss of life.

Central to both analyses is that David Cains possessed the mind of an approximately four-year-old child.[1]

I. APPORTIONMENT OF FAULT

1. Respectfully, the Commission erred in apportioning forty percent fault to David Cains, given the large amount of evidence proving foreseeability on Respondent and given [redacted], which requires an analysis for attributing fault to consider only how a reasonably careful person of David's maturity and intelligence would act under the circumstances.

Furthermore, and significantly, the Director of Developmental Disabilities Services for the Arkansas Department of Human Services, Respondent's highest-ranking official to give testimony in this case, testified in crystal clear terms that Davie was not at fault for this death.

> Q Is it your position that Mr. Cains was responsible for his own death?
> A I didn't say that.
> Q I didn't say you did. It's a question I have to ask.
> A No.
> Q Okay.
> A No, of course not.

Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 85.

A. FORSEEABILITY COUNTERBALANCES THE FAULT APPORTIONED DAVIE

Davie's death, the result of vomiting and then choking on his vomit while being restrained on the ground shortly after lunch, was foreseeable to Respondent. There was a great deal of testimony and other evidence submitted that conclusively proves this foreseeability. This

[1] Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 24, p. 29: 20-25, p. 30: 1-10 (testified that Davie's mental functioning was likely that of a four-year-old's).

foreseeability, [redacted], counterbalances any potential fault that could be apportioned to Davie, who, again, [redacted]

Respondent knew that physical restraint increased the likelihood of injury to Davie and other clients, and Respondent knew specifically that physical restraints on the ground were even more likely to do so, hence the facility's prohibition on their use.[2] Respondent also had good reason to anticipate that Davie would vomit, given that he vomited so frequently following lunch that his pre-vocational trainers at BHDC kept a puke bucket next to his workstation.[3] Add to this the fact Respondent did not call 911 until it was too late, because of an inherently dangerous policy forbidding staff to do so, there should be little, if any, fault apportioned to Davie.[4] [5] And add to this that Sandy Evans, BHDC's own Director of Residential

---

[2] Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 12: 1-22, p. 21: 8-25, p. 22: 1-25 (There is no on-the-ground personal hold allowed at BHDC), p. 23: 1-8 (An on-the-ground personal hold is not an approved NCI method; it should not be done.), p. 27: 16-25, p. 28: 1-6, p. 32: 9-22 (Ground restraint is dangerous), p. 35: 5-17 (The contact Tyler Mattson made with DC after he was already on the ground was unnecessary), p. 42: 5-10. Other staff members, including even restraint participant Amy Jones, agreed the ground restraint used on Davie was not allowed. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 35: 14-23 (expressly prohibited from putting a client on the ground for personal restraint); p. 43: 8-18, p. 44: 9-17; Exhibit 25, Dr. Syed Hamid, p. 78: 12-24; Exhibit 20, BHDC QIDP/Program Manager Justin Jobb Part II, p. 8. Staff are not authorized to hold a client on the ground even where a client puts himself on the ground during an aggressive episode. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 45: 1-9.

[3] Exhibit 49, BHDC Prevocational Trainer Rhonda Harris, p. 10, p. 11, p. 13, p. 14.

[4] [redacted] BHDC policy forbade them from doing so; at BHDC, only medical staff are authorized to call for emergency medical help, while all other staff are only allowed to alert the facility's medical department. Exhibit 34, BHDC First Aid Guidelines – Policy IV-B-10; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 51: 7-25, p. 52: 1-25; Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 78: 22-25, p. 79: 1-11 ("I would have like to" been able to call 911 for David); p. 123: 8-17 ("We're not allowed to" call 911); Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 57: 9-25 (…it don't really make sense that we couldn't call them [medical department] and then call 9-1-1 as well."), p. 115: 5-17 (wishes she had violated the policy and called 911 right away for Davie); Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p.20: 16-19; Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker Caleb Murry, p. 56; Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 54: 14-18, p. 65: 22-25, p. 66: 1-22 (everyone she interviewed at BHDC confirmed there was a policy forbidding nonmedical staff from calling 911 in the event a resident has a medical emergency) (Gonyea told her they did not trust staff to recognize a medical emergency, feared 911 might be called unnecessarily), p. 67: 1-10 ; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 22: 16-23, p. 23: 9-22 (There were "no exceptions" to the rule), p. 26: 11-25.

[5] The evidence strongly suggests at least five and maybe as many as ten minutes elapsed between the time Davie began choking and when BHDC called 911. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 120: 1-5; Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 46: 1-8; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 35: 6-24, p. 36: 1-3; Exhibit 40, Paramedic Samuel Scow, p. 8: 14-21, p. 10: 19-25 (determined, based on the 911 call coming in at 11:37 am, that it was eight minutes from the time Davie stopped breathing and when the facility called 911); Exhibit 41, Logan County EMS Report.

Services, and the person who conducted the facility's internal investigation into Davie's death, admitted under oath that the restraint was not the least restrictive method available and was in fact a violation of policy that required staff to be retrained, and it makes it difficult to see how forty percent fault could be apportioned to Davie, [redacted].[6] [7]

If Davie had been standing or seated when he vomited, he would not have choked to death, regardless of what caused the vomiting; he was on the ground when he vomited because staff were holding him on the ground in violation of policy, regardless of how he got to the ground. Staff were not authorized to hold clients on the ground, not trained to do so, and were in violation of policy in doing so. But for these policy violations, Davie would be alive. It is important to also remember that, under Arkansas law, violation of a statute, ordinance, or regulation is itself evidence of negligence. ARK. MODEL JURY INSTRUCTION 601; McMickle v. Griffin, 369 Ark. 318, 254 S.W.3d 729 (2007).

---

[6] Even if this had been an emergency situation, staff were required to use only the "least restrictive" approved method possible. Exhibit 17, DDS 3011-D (3); Exhibit 5, Federal ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(iii), [W278], Bates 1754 (the least restrictive appropriate technique possible); Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(4), [W289], Bates 1760; Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(ii), [W277], Bates 1753; Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 30, p. 37: 5-9; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 26: 24-25, p. 27: 1-3, p. 34; Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 113: 3-17; Exhibit 19, BHDC Residential Services Manager Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 43: 17-25, p. 44: 1-4; Exhibit 20, BHDC QIDP/Program Manager Justin Jobb Part II, p. 49, p. 50; Exhibit 21, OLTC Surveyor Dian Elliot, p. 123: 5-12, p. 133: 23-25, p. 134: 1-4; Exhibit 22, Dr. Janice LeBel – Summary of Expert Opinions; Exhibit 37, Dr. Janice LeBel – CV; Exhibit 23, Dr. Janice LeBel Deposition Transcript. BHDC's written policy states: "Emergency Restraint is defined as the use of the least restrictive procedure and for the least time necessary to control severely aggressive or destructive behaviors" [emphasis added]. Exhibit 4, BHDC Policy I-D-4 (2)(a).

[7] Sandy Evans admitted at deposition that the restraint used on Davie at the time of his death was not the least restrictive option available. Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 50: 1-7, p. 47: 5-25 (they never gave Davie a chance to calm down and collect himself on the ground unrestrained), p. 48: 1-13, p. 49: 11-25 (it was an inappropriate use in violation of policy, requiring retraining, but in her opinion did not rise to the level of maltreatment). Amy Jones and Ryann Campos, the two staff members who helped Tyler Mattson perform the restraint, made similar admissions at deposition. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 115: 5-17 (acknowledging she probably should have made Tyler let Davie up right away); Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 80: 17-21, 81: 2-6 ("there were less restrictive ways that the situation could have been handled").

The Commission relied upon Ethyl Corp. v. Johnson to support finding it was not foreseeable Davie would vomit while restrained on June 13, 2020. The Court in Ethyl held it is not negligent to fail to guard against a danger for which there is no reason to anticipate, or against a danger that is merely possible. 345 Ark. 476, 481, 49 S.W.3d 644, 648 (2001). Obviously, anything is possible, and there must be some knowable reason for guarding against a particular danger before the failure to do so rises to negligence. However, Ethyl was also careful to reiterate that it is "not necessary, however, that the actor foresee the particular injury that occurred, only that he or she reasonably foresee an appreciable risk of harm to others." Id, at 482, 648 (quoting Wallace v. Broyles, 331 Ark. 58, 961 S.W.2d 712, 715 (1998)) (emphasis added). In other words, if it is reasonably foreseeable that doing a given thing could cause physical harm to a person, it does not matter what particular type of physical harm results.

Furthermore, the remote danger at issue in Ethyl was far different than here. The Ethyl plaintiff injured himself while trying to singlehandedly move a 2,000-pound metal trash bin situated at the edge of a parking lot, a parking lot nobody intended or expected him to take his big rig, so that his 18-wheeler could make a U-turn without the rear wheels hitting the bin. Id, at 480, 647. Stated Ethyl:

> It was not foreseeable that an invitee would injure himself by attempting to manually move the 2,180 pound container on his own. Appellants' only duty under the circumstances was to provide reasonable care to guard against any harm that appeared "likely in the ordinary course of events." Burns, 186 Ark. at 925, 56 S.W.2d at 1028. Appellants simply had no duty to take added precautions to guard against the remote chance that someone would injure himself by attempting to move the heavy container. Indeed, it was undisputed that there had never been any previous incidents, within the fourteen years that the container was on Appellants' property, in which anyone, employee or otherwise, had been injured in conjunction with the container.

Id, at 483, 649. Compare that to Davie's case, in which BHDC staff had severely injured clients during restraints in the year before Davie's death. See the 2019 BHDC incident in which a staff member broke a client's arm during a restraint, and also the BHDC incident in which a staff member choked a client unconscious during a restraint. Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 67, 68; Exhibit 50, 1.31.21 Dem-Gaz Article (also Exhibit 5 to Weatherton deposition). Nobody expects trash bins to cause injury; everybody knows physical restraints often result in injury, and if a person performs one in violation of training and policy and it results in a person's death, that is textbook negligence, if not worse.

It is worth repeating that while negligence requires an appreciable risk of harm to others a reasonably careful person would recognize, "it is not necessary that the actor foresee the particular injury which occurred, only that the actor reasonably foresee an appreciable risk of harm to others" [emphasis added]. Wallace v. Broyles, 331 Ark. 58, 961 S.W.2d 712, 715 (1998). Proximate cause in a negligence action may be shown from circumstantial evidence, and such evidence is sufficient to show proximate cause if the facts proved are of such a nature and are so connected and related to each other that the conclusion therefrom may be fairly inferred. Id. In other words, Respondent's foreseeability did not require them to have reason to think Davie would vomit while restrained. Rather, it required only that Respondent be aware that a restraint, and in this case a prohibited ground restraint that violated the facility's own policies, increased the likelihood of harm to the person being restrained.

It is an incontrovertible truth that Respondent was aware that the use of restraints increased the likelihood of injury; it's literally stated in their own policy documents:

> "The Booneville Human Development Center is dedicated to the reduction of restraint use at the facility. The use of restraints is proven to be dangerous for both staff and clients, *with the occurrence of injuries dramatically increasing when restraint is used. All efforts must be made to deescalate behavioral situations so that they do not result in restraint. All restraint at the facility is to be > for emergency use only when a very real risk of personal injury or severe property damage is imminent."

Exhibit 61, BHDC Restraint Incident Debriefing Form (emphasis added).

The DDS Director, Respondent's highest-ranking official to give testimony in this case, testified to being aware that any time a restraint is used there is an increased risk of danger:

> Q But would you agree with me that it's a goal of your organization to reduce restraints as much as possible?
> A Absolutely.
> Q And is that because, whenever someone has to be restrained, it increased the risk of danger to that client and to staff and to potentially others?
> A Yes.

Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 30.

As previously mentioned, there had been other serious injuries caused by restraints at BHDC just prior to Davie's death. See the 2019 BHDC incident in which a staff member broke a client's arm during a restraint, and also the BHDC incident in which a staff member choked a client unconscious during a restraint. Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 67, 68; Exhibit 50, 1.31.21 Dem-Gaz Article (also Exhibit 5 to Weatherton deposition).

Disability Rights Arkansas published a report in January of 2016 literally titled "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraint at the Booneville Human Development Center," which revealed, among other things, that restraint use at BHDC was "approximately twenty-five times higher" than at the other four Human Development Centers in Arkansas, that this had already led to injuries, and that it was going to lead to more injuries unless the problem was addressed. Exhibit 51, DRA 2016 Report – "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraints at Booneville Human Development Center." Concluded the report:

> According to the data collected and maintained by Booneville HDC and the State, residents at Booneville live in an environment in which restraint is used excessively, far more frequently than at the Arkadelphia, Jonesboro, or Warren HDCs. Booneville HDC fails to ensure that staff utilize effective tools to de-escalate > situations, leading to the use of restraints when other interventions, if implemented sooner, could eliminate the need for restraint. The Department of Human Services and its Division of Developmental Disabilities Services has failed to provide the oversight and training to ensure that residents at Booneville HDC are not subjected to unnecessary and excessive restraints. Residents and staff have already been injured due to the current restraint practice at Booneville HDC.

>
> All HDC residents are entitled to live in an environment in which restraints are used as a last resort after other interventions have failed. The residents at Booneville HDC have a right to be treated with dignity and respect, to not be subjected to unnecessary and harmful restraint, and to receive active treatment based on evidence-based best practices. DRA urges the State to take immediate action to address the culture at Booneville HDC and to instruct Booneville HDC to stop this inherently dangerous practice. The individuals with disabilities residing at Booneville HDC deserve better.

Exhibit 51, DRA 2016 Report – "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraints at Booneville Human Development Center," p. 13 (emphasis added). This report was published four years prior to Davie's death, Respondent ignored it, and Davie died as a result. The Commission, in its Order, noted that 187 behavioral incidents requiring restraint had occurred prior to Davie's death, which understandably suggested to the Commission that Davie was the problem, but these 187 restraint incidents are actually much more indicative of BHDC's overreliance on and unnecessary use of physical restraints, failure to utilize non-violent de-escalation techniques, and Respondent's failures in training and oversight for BHDC staff – all the things identified by Disability Rights Arkansas in "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraints at Booneville Human Development Center." Recall that Davie never injured anyone at BHDC.[8]

[8] Davie was not dangerous. Davie never caused injury to anyone at BHDC. Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 50, p. 52; Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 66; Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 49; Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p. 7, p. 10; Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 22, p. 24, p. 28; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 8; Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 59; Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker Caleb Murry, p. 28; Exhibit 16, Claimant Christine McAuliffe, p. 21, 22.

RESPONDENT KNEW DAVIE WAS A VOMIT RISK

All of this notwithstanding, it actually was foreseeable to Respondent that this particular injury could occur, because they knew Davie vomited nearly every day, particularly after lunch. Respondent knew that Davie was highly prone to vomiting, particularly after lunch. [redacted].[9] [redacted].

Rhonda Harris was Davie's Prevocational Trainer (work supervisor) at BHDC, working with him nearly every afternoon for at least five years prior to this death. Exhibit 49, BHDC Prevocational Trainer Rhonda Harris, p. 5, 6, 19. Rhonda Harris's testimony, as seen below, firmly establishes that it was much more than a mere possibility Davie would vomit right after lunch during a ground restraint. Harris testified that everyone who worked there knew Davie had [redacted] and knew to keep him facedown when restraining him on the ground:

> Q And that's specifically because he was a known vomiting threat?
> A. Yes. He had medical issues going on. I still to this day don't know if the nurses ever found out what exactly was wrong with him, but everybody that worked around him knew that, you know, so you always – we always -- where I worked, you know, we had the understanding, you know, if you ever took him down, make sure he was face down. That way if he started to, you know, vomit -- because I don't know -- at first, we thought he just was like -- you know, he could do it, you know, on his own, like just make himself throw up, but then it's become like it happened, you know, regularly, you know, where we were constantly calling the nurses, you know, or medical to have them come evaluate him because that's not normal, you know, for anybody to do.

[9] By holding Davie down on the ground just after his lunch, BHDC staff ignored Davie's known [redacted]. Exhibit 46, Physician Orders at Discharge 6.19.20; Exhibit 47, Physician Orders 6.1.20; Exhibit 48 Physician Orders 3.1.19. [redacted] See Exhibit 43, "Prevention of Choking and Aspiration" – New York Office of People with Developmental Disabilities, pgs. 3-4. This is noteworthy because Respondent's expert witness, Dr. Kastner, was recently the head of this office in New York, under former Governor Andrew Cuomo; some of Dr. Kastner's expert opinions in this case are in direct conflict with the contents of this document [redacted].

Exhibit 49, BHDC Prevocational Trainer Rhonda Harris, p. 9, 10. Harris testified that everyone who worked with Davie was well aware of how often he vomited:

Q So everybody that was accustomed to David or had been around David and knew David was aware that there was a risk of him vomiting?
A Yes
Q I think you said at first, you know, you couldn't tell if he was doing this on purpose.
A Yeah, purposefully or not, but, you know, as time went on, you know, and it continued -- and I'm telling you it was months, you know, of this, that he was doing this. They sent him to the doctor, you know, to have tests run and stuff like that, you know, to figure out what was causing him.
Q You eventually determined that this is more likely some sort of medical thing that's going on with him?
A Yeah, because anytime he would drink red – you know, anything with red in it, he would throw up. You know, within a little bit after that, he would be vomiting.

Id, p. 10, 11. Harris testified that Davie was vomiting three or four times a week and that it always happened right after lunch:

I mean, this went on for a while before -- we just got to where we would call them every single day, you know, because, I mean, it turned into at least three, sometimes four times a week that he would throw up because we would always get him after he had just freshly ate lunch, you know.

Id, p. 13, 22. Harris testified that Davie vomited so much they kept a trash can right next to him at his job, as his own vomit bucket:

You know, we always gave him a trash can beside him. You know, that way if he needed to throw up, he – you know, we always told him here's your trash can.

Id, p. 14. All the direct care staff would have been aware of this risk:

Q Would all the direct care staff that had been there for any length of time and spent time with him directly -- would all of them have been aware of this, the vomit risk?
A Yeah.

Id, p. 14. Furthermore, written warnings about Davie's vomit risk were sent out to all staff:

> Q Do you know if there was ever any formal or written or any form of notification provided to all > staff warning them of this issue with David, this vomiting issue with David?
> A Yeah, they sent out e-mails and memos, like we get memos, you know, and e-mails that goes to like my supervisor. When we come in the morning, he would have them laid out on the table, you know, and everybody has to initial it. You know, all the staff that works in that area, you know, we all had to initial at the bottom, you know, that we read, you know, the memo of what it was.
> Q Those were e-mails that would come from supervisors?
> A No, like medical. You know, on something like that, medical. Like Stacy would send out an e-mail, > you know, to all the supervisors, you know, and then the supervisors would make sure that all their staff, you know, read it and then you initialed it at the bottom, you know, letting them know that you read it, so you were aware.
> Q Do you recall there being a memo from Stacy on this issue that we're talking about?
> A Yeah, I believe there was.

Id, p. 23, 24. Harris testified she specifically recalled discussing the vomiting issue with several nurses prior to Davie's death, including Amanda Schmidt, Kelly King, Deborah Noah, and Stacy Weinbrenner. Id, p. 16. The vomiting occurred nearly every day, according to Harris, but was not taken seriously by the nurses:

> [redacted]
> And they would say it was a behavior.

Id, p. 18.

Other BHDC staff members also testified to [redacted]

[redacted] Nurse Amanda Schmitt testified to this:

> And, when David would have a behavior, he would often vomit. That was sometimes the whole of his behavior. Sometimes he would become upset and just vomit and then start to cry. It wasn't always a violent outburst. But he did vomit during times of stress often. And I believe very strongly that that's what happened, that he had a behavior, he was being restrained, and he -- he vomited.

Exhibit 12, Nurse Amanda Schmitt, p. 61. Carrie Johnson-Miller, the Residential Services Manager, also testified that Davie had an issue with vomiting when he got upset during a behavior episode. Exhibit 19, Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 45. Even Respondent's own expert witness commented on the frequency with which Davie was vomiting when upset:

[redacted]

Dr. Kastner Written Report Pt. 1, p. 21.

B. [redacted]

The analysis for attributing fault must look at how a reasonably careful person of David's maturity and intelligence would act under the circumstances, not how an adult would act. The standard of care for a minor is fixed by "the maturity and capacity of the child, and this is to be determined in each case by the circumstances of that case." Garrison v. St. Louis, I. M. & S. Ry. Co., 92 Ark. 437, 443, 123 S.W. 657, 660 (1909).

A minor is not held to the same standard of care as an adult. "Ordinary care," with respect to a minor, means that degree of care which a reasonably careful minor of his age and intelligence would use under circumstances similar to those shown by the evidence in the case. ARK. MODEL JURY INSTRUCTION 304. In Garrison v. St. Louis, I.M. & S. RY. CO., where a 16-year-old boy known to be of "inferior intelligence" was injured by an oncoming train while trying to drive his wagon across the tracks, the Arkansas Supreme Court made clear that what is contributory negligence for an adult is not the same for a minor:

> The standard for judging the conduct of minor is not the care and prudence that would be exercised by an adult, but only that of one of his age, intelligence, and discretion; and it cannot be said as a matter of law that a minor is guilty of contributory negligence under circumstances that would declare an adult to be guilty of such negligence.

92 Ark. 437, 443 123 S.W. 657, 660 (1909). The Court in Garrison, citing with approval the Supreme Court of Georgia, noted that it is capacity, not necessarily age, that matters:

> Capacity is the main thing. Age is of no significance except as a mark or sign of capacity. The study of these and other like cases will lead to two conclusions: First, that no court can hold that childhood and manhood are bound to observe the same degree of diligence; secondly, that, while the same ordinary care is frequently applied to the diligence exacted by law of a child, there is little propriety in so doing. Due care is always the better and more accurate description. Due care on the part of the boy might fall far short of that of a prudent man.

Id.

Davie's own fault appears to have been improperly analyzed by holding him to the same standard as that of adults, which is not true except in situations where children are engaging in an inherently dangerous activity, like driving a car or operating heavy machinery. His fault must be analyzed by comparing what Davie did with what a child of [redacted] would do under the same circumstances.[10] Therefore, the question is whether it would be negligent for [redacted] to become upset and then move towards an adult in an aggressive manner. And if such an act would indeed be negligence for [redacted] is it of such an extreme degree of negligence as to make that [redacted] forty percent responsible for his own death?

Lastly, the Commission did find in this case that Respondent failed to have a plan in place to manage Davie's behavior, which is true. However, Davie was not in any way responsible for his own behavior plan. Given that, is it still fair to say he is forty percent at fault for his death?

II. LOSS OF LIFE DAMAGES

1. The value placed by the Commission on David Cains' "Loss of Life" damages was too low, relative to the evidence presented and relative to prior valuations by the Commission on claims for "loss of life."

"Loss-of-life" damages are those that would compensate a decedent for the loss of the value that a decedent would have placed on his or her own life. Durham v. Marberry, 356 Ark. 481, 492, 156 S.W.3d 242, 248 (2004). It is an inherently subjective element of damages, to be measured from the point of view of the decedent, to the extent the decedent's point of view on this matter can be proved after his death. Loss-of-life damages are a separate and independent element in addition to all other elements of damage already allowed by law. Id; ARK. CODE ANN. § 16-62-101(b). "Loss-of-life" damages are awarded to compensate the decedent's estate for the destruction of the decedent's capacity to carry on and enjoy life's activities in a way he would have done had he lived. See Durham, at 491, 247. An estate seeking "loss-of-life" damages must present some evidence that the decedent valued his or her life, from which a jury could infer and derive that value and on which it could base an award of damages. One Nat. Bank v. Pope, 372 Ark. 208, 214, 272 S.W.3d 98, 102 (2008). Circumstantial evidence is all that is required. Id, at 214, 103.

[10] Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 24, p. 29: 20-25, p. 30: 1-10 (testified that Davie's mental functioning was likely that of a four-year-old's).

Another component of loss-of-life damages that can potentially be taken into consideration is the decedent's lost earning capacity, but only where damages for the decedent's lost earning capacity is not also awarded to surviving beneficiaries as wrongful death compensation. See Durham, at 491, 247.

Here, Claimant presented substantial direct evidence in addition to circumstantial evidence in support of the fact that Davie's life held great value to him, and that his untimely death deprived him of happy and joyous experiences that, based on substantial witness testimony, we can be reasonably certain he would have experienced had he survived. Davie had [redacted]. Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 24, p. 29: 20-25, p. 30: 1-10. From his point of view, the things that brought him joy, like Halloween and music, were every bit as meaningful as things like money or a romantic relationship might be to a [redacted] And because "loss of life" damages by their very nature require subjectivity, it is entirely appropriate to analyze the value Davie placed on his own life from a subjective viewpoint relative to his intellectual age – [redacted].

Claimant presented evidence proving Davie experienced incredible joy from those things a typical [redacted] loves, including family, friends, music, food, laughter, and holidays, particularly Halloween and Christmas. Christmas was his favorite; he still believed in Santa Claus and every Christmas Eve he would fall asleep next to the tree in his mother's home waiting for Santa to arrive with his presents.

An award of only $350,000.00 suggests that the value of his life was not analyzed, subjectively, from the point of view of a [redacted] but rather from the perspective of the [redacted] and how he might value his life, which is an objective approach. In other words, had Davie been a [redacted], who also happened to live in the Booneville Human Development Center (BHDC) under the same external circumstances, then $350,000.00 might be an appropriate value. But Davie was [redacted] who experienced joy just as intensely from listening to the Monkees or playing with toys or having MacDonald's for lunch as [redacted] ty might from a romantic encounter or from winning a large sum of money at a casino.

Just last year, in Brown, et al. v. Arkansas Department of Transportation, Claim No. 200809 (2022), this Commission awarded $2,500,000.00 in loss-of-life damages to a young man tragically killed in a car crash: "Additionally, considering the persuasive testimony of the Decedent's family members regarding how the Decedent valued his life, the Claims Commission finds that the damages associated with the Decedent's loss of life are $2,500,000.00." Brown, p. 37.

Like the present matter, the Brown Commission heard evidence that Mr. Brown valued his life. This included testimony from Mr. Brown's mother that her son was well-liked and a good student. Brown, p. 5. Here, Claimant also submitted evidence that Davie was well-liked, not just by his family but by people at the BHDC. For example, one of the facility's nurses testified to this:

> But he was -- he was such a fun guy. He played the tambourine and loved the Monkees. And he had a Mr. Potato Head. That was kind of mine and his thing, is he had this Mr. Potato Head and I'd always tell him I was going to take the eyes from his Mr. Potato Head and put it where the nose goes and the nose where the eyes go; and he would just get like all kinds of excited about it. And he moved it on a top shelf to show me that I couldn't reach it to move his eyes. And he was -- he was a really cool guy. We had a pretty good relationship.

Exhibit 12, Nurse Amanda Schmitt, p. 22.

> Kelly King and I were probably the two nurses that were the closest to David. He -- he'd always say Kelly's a big fat witch; and she's like this little bitty, tiny, skinny thing. And so I taught him to say that Kelly's a big fat witch and Amanda's a pretty, pretty princess. I mean, like we played with him. We had a good relationship with him. And he was -- he was one we were especially close to.

Exhibit 12, Nurse Amanda Schmitt, p. 59 (emphasis added).

Unlike here, the Brown Commission also heard expert testimony evidencing the decedent's lost earning capacity, and the Commission noted that the $2,500,000.00 loss-of-life award, which was, ostensibly, based on persuasive testimony from family members regarding how decedent valued his life, was consistent with that expert's conclusions. Brown, p. 37. Claimant in the present matter, for obvious reasons, did not seek damages related to Davie's lost earning capacity. [That notwithstanding, Claimant did present uncontroverted testimony that Davie worked a few hours most days in the BHDC recycling center tearing books, for which he earned nominal wages. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 50.]

Claimant is not suggesting the Commissioners should be required to forfeit common sense. And Claimant is certainly not suggesting that all deaths caused by the state must be valued identically. Clearly, the Brown decedent's life was very different from Davie's. That young man's earning potential greatly outweighed Davie's, and, objectively speaking, that young man was likely to have enjoyed a fuller life than Davie could have hoped for, at least in terms of what most adults of normal intellectual functioning would value. But the Brown decedent's award of $2,500,000.00 is more than seven times the $350,000.00 awarded Davie. That disparity is extreme, particularly given that this particular element of damages must be analyzed from the subjective point of view of the decedent. It also sends a devastating and potentially dangerous message to Arkansas' intellectually disabled citizens. In Yang, et al. v. Arkansas Department of Emergency Management, Claim No. 16-0496-CC (2020), this Commission included in its Order this statement: "The Claims Commission is the conscience of the State of Arkansas." Yang, p. 3.

No, Davie was not going to ever get married and have children. No, he was never going to earn a high income. No, he was never going to support another person financially. No, he was never going read Dostoyevsky and he was never going to understand quantum physics.

However, for the same reasons, Davie existed largely unburdened by things like pride, ego, greed, lust, depression, existential dread, crises of faith, the nature of his existence, or the inherent terror of an unknowable future that plagues most of us to some degree in our daily lives.

But he absolutely did experience love and joy, and in their purest forms, as perhaps only small children can. We all know that little spark of joy when we turn on our car and our favorite song is playing on the radio. Davie knew that feeling, experienced the joy that comes from that every time he put on his headphones to listen to the Monkees sing "Last Train to Clarksville."

We all know the joy we feel when we see one of the people we love most in the world after an absence. Davie knew that feeling well. He experienced it every single day when he encountered any of the people who he loved and cared about, and there were many, as shown by the evidence. Davie knew laughter. He knew it better than most of us because more things and simpler things made him laugh. We all remember being a kid a Christmas or seeing our own children at Christmas, that pure, unbridled joy on Christmas Eve knowing that when they wake up Santa will have left them something special. Davie experienced Christmas in a way only small children can every year of his life up until his death at 42.

From Davie's [redacted] perspective, subjectively, his life was worth all the money in the world. The following is only a portion of the evidence presented to the Commission in support of how much Davie valued his own life:

> "Throughout his life he always participated in Special Olympics, and actually one of the last years that he was there, it's one of my favorite memories of him, I didn't tell him I was coming, it was at the Booneville High School. And because if I couldn't make it, I didn't want him to be upset. So, I get there and I'm in the stands, and I don't know how he saw me, but in the middle of the field, somehow he saw me and yelled, '"Yeehaw,"' like he was taking a hat off, which he didn't have on. And he said, '"There's my sister, there's my sister."' He yelled it. But so, it was just really funny." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 116.

> "But that particular year is the only time I remember he actually won a race. And I have a picture of that. It's one of my favorite ones, because he came up to me afterwards and he was so proud. And he said, "Look, did you see me, Chrissie, I ran fast as hell." And I mean, he was just -- but like I said, his whole life, he was in his 30s and he – you know, he participated, but he never -- you know, he wasn't really good at it." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 117. "That's probably one of my favorite memories, just because he was so happy and so proud of himself. Because he literally never, I don't think ever, won anything." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 117.

> "David likes his job and takes great pride in working and talking about his work and earning money. David does want to be around his family, including his mother, his sister Chrissie, his half-sister Ashley, his uncle Patrick, and his grandparents. David does not like to be alone; he is very engaging with others and gets along with most of his peers. David wants to have friends and spend time with them and go places with them. (He expressed that even though he liked picking up trash when he lived on the campgrounds, he likes going to the movies with his friends at BHDC.) David likes to have his own possessions around him and he likes to have new and clean clothing. He has been very happy at BHDC and would like to stay here." BHDC Social History, p. 7.

> Davie was a wonderful guy, a wonderful person, and fun to be around. Exhibit 10, Ryann Campos, p. 65.

> Davie was funny and playful. Exhibit 11, Kelly King, p. 6.

But, a lot of times, I remember specifically with him, he'd be listening and dancing and singing to the Monkees -- Exhibit 20, Justin Jobb II, p. 62.

A He just -- he loved music. Everybody that has been around him for five minutes knows he loved the Monkees, because he would listen to it 24/7 every day. That's not even an exaggeration. I'm sure the people at Booneville would tell you that. But, you know, ever since he was a little kid--
Q And how did he come to love the Monkees? Being, you know, born in the late '70s, he was -- the Monkees were around in the '60s. How did he discover the Monkees?
A Me and my brother, when we were kids, we watched Nick At Nite all the time. We didn't-- you know, that's about all we watched. So, I remember me and him, we watched things like I Love Lucy, The Monkees, Leave It To Beaver, those types of shows. And for whatever reason, he just -- he just latched onto the Monkees and the rest is -- you know, he never stopped. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 122-123.

He had Monkees CDs, tapes, vinyl records, DVDs. His two favorite tracks were "Not Your Stepping Stone" and "Last Train to Clarksville." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 123.

And actually, thankfully, I have a few videos of him, he would play tambourine, and he had some maracas I had gotten him from Central America, and I actually have a few videos of him playing those, and one of my friends playing them with him, which he did all the time, you know. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 123.

He loved the Dukes of Hazzard. He had the DVDs and he would watch on repeat, except for the one season when Bo and Luke were replaced by Coy and Vance. He really didn't like that. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 124.

"Yeah. So, I mean, he loved music, he loved, you know, DVDs, watching TV, he loved food, he loved --really, he loved -- he was very social. He loved making people laugh and being around people. He didn't like being alone, he didn't like silence. He just -- I don't know. He just -- he loved those things, he loved being a part of something, you know. I feel like, you know, being part of - - he had friends. I don't know how to explain it." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 124-125.

CONCLUSION

This specific harm that resulted in Davie's life was abundantly foreseeable to Respondent. But it was not foreseeable to Davie Cains, [redacted] Given this, it seems harsh to hold Davie forty percent at fault for his death.

Davie valued his own life more than $350,000.00. He loved life, and it was taken away from him from him by Respondent's overwhelmingly negligent actions.

Claimant, for the reasons stated herein, respectfully asks this Honorable Commission to reconsider its findings as they pertain to apportionment of fault and loss-of-life damages.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
Green & Gillispie Law Firm
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 facsimile
jdgillispie@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was filed via email with the Arkansas Claims Commission on this 29th day of August, 2023, and service shall be accomplished via email to counsel of record.

/s/__Joshua D. Gillispie___
Joshua D. Gillispie

From:	Daiquiri Carter
To:	ASCC Pleadings; josh@greenandgillispie.com; Abbey Trussell
Cc:	Daiquiri Carter
Subject:	CC # 220374
Date:	Friday, September 8, 2023 2:44:41 PM
Attachments:	Response to Mtn for Recon_McAuliffe v DHS CC 220374.pdf image001.png image002.png Entry of Appearance_McAuliffe v DHS CC 220374.pdf

Please find attached Respondent's Response to Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration. Also attached is Abbey Trussell's Entry of Appearance. I have copied Claimant's attorney on this email.

Thank you,

Daiquiri D. Carter, M.Ed.
Legal Services Specialist
Office of Chief Counsel
PO Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203-1437
501-320-6338 phone
501-682-6720 fax
Daiquiri.carter@dhs.arkansas.gov

NOTE - This email may contain sensitive or confidential information.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: The information contained in this email message and any attachment(s) is the property of the State of Arkansas and may be protected by state and federal laws governing disclosure of private information. It is intended solely for the use of the entity to which this email is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that reading, copying or distribution this transmission is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. The sender has not waived any applicable privilege by sending the accompanying transmission. If you have received this transmission in error, please notify the sender by return and delete the message and attachment(s) from your system.

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, AS SPECIAL ADMINSTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES RESPONDENT

ENTRY OF APPEARANCE

Comes now the undersigned, Abbey Trussell, and enters her appearance as attorney of record for Respondent, Arkansas Department of Human Services.

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel

/s/ Abbey Trussell
Abbey Trussell, AR Bar No. 2020235
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
P: (501) 534-4149
F: (501) 682-6720
abbey.trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I, undersigned, do hereby certify that on September 8, 2023 a true and correct copy of the foregoing was sent via email to the following:

Joshua D. Gillespie, Esquire
Green & Gillespie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72214
josh@greenandgillispie.com

/s/ Abbey Trussell
Abbey Trussell

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, AS SPECIAL ADMINSTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES RESPONDENT

RESPONSE TO MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION AND BRIEF IN SUPPORT

Comes now Respondent, Arkansas Department of Human Services (hereinafter "DHS"), by and through its counsel, Abbey Trussell, and for its Response to Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration states as follows:

1. This matter was heard on March 9, 2023 and the Commission entered its Order on July 21, 2023.

2. Notwithstanding extensive discovery, many depositions, thousands of pages of documentation, lengthy briefs by both parties, and a determination in Claimant's favor, Claimant now seeks Reconsideration by the Commission.

3. Arkansas State Claims Commission Rule 7.1 states,

> Petitions for Re-Hearing and/or Motions for Reconsideration will only be entertained if they set forth new or additional evidence which was not available to the moving party at the time of the scheduled hearing. Such petitions for Re-Hearing or Motions for Reconsideration shall be filed with the Commission within 40 days from the date of the assumed receipt by parties to the claim of the Commission's findings and determinations. No claim which was contested at hearing and requires subsequent action by the General Assembly will be forward to that body within the aforementioned 40 day period without the written approval of the Claimant(s) and Respondent(s).

Rule 7.1 Re-Hearing/Reconsideration. Emphasis added. As stated in the relevant Rule, to prevail on a Motion for Reconsideration, Claimant must assert that there is new or additional evidence which was unavailable to her at the time of hearing.

4. In Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration, she states that her Motion "seeks to respectfully address two specific findings: (1) the apportionment of 40% fault to David Cains, and (2) the $350,000.00 award for damages associated with David Cains' 'loss of life.'" The Motion and Brief in Support then proceeds only to argue that the Commission erred in its determinations. This is not an assertion that there is new or additional evidence not available to her at the time of the scheduled hearing.

5. A Motion for Reconsideration is not proper where Claimant seeks only to reformat her argument in hopes for a better outcome. The Motion and Brief in Support submitted by Claimant cites only to evidence that was available to her at the time of hearing on March 9, 2023; in fact, Claimant's evidentiary citations in her Motion and Brief in Support are exclusively to Exhibits introduced by the parties at hearing. Claimant does not contend that there is new testimony available, nor does Claimant contend that there is new documentary evidence available. Claimant only asserts that the Commission erred in making the determination it did after arguments and when considering all the available evidence. A new or reformatted argument based on the same evidence is not the purpose of Reconsideration or Re-Hearing under Rule 7.1. Both Claimant and Respondent were afforded the opportunity to fully argue their side of the issue before the Commission on March 9, 2023. A Motion for Reconsideration to obtain a second chance at arguments is improper under the relevant Rules.

6. At no point in Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration does she assert that there is new or additional evidence, nor does Claimant cite to any evidence not previously available to the Commission or to the parties. Instead, Claimant has written a twenty-one page brief that attempts to re-litigate the matter with no new or additional evidence. Claimant's dissatisfaction or disagreement with the outcome is irrelevant. Disagreement with the findings and determinations of the Commission and the amounts awarded by the Commission is not grounds for Reconsideration under Rule 7.1.

7. While Respondent DHS disagrees with the ultimate outcome due the lack of proximate cause and foreseeability, DHS respects the decision of this Commission and its Rules by which all parties are bound. There is no new or additional evidence that was unavailable to the parties at the time of hearing and therefore there are no grounds for reconsideration or re-hearing under Arkansas State Claims Commission Rule 7.1.

8. A reformatted or redone argument is not new or additional evidence. Claimant has not presented any new evidence, nor has Claimant even asserted that new or additional evidence exists.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons stated herein, Respondent DHS respectfully requests that the Commission deny Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration.

Respectfully Submitted,

Arkansas Department of Human Services
Office of Chief Counsel

/s/ Abbey Trussell
Abbey Trussell, AR Bar No. 2020235
P.O. Box 1437, Slot S260
Little Rock, AR 72203
P: (501) 534-4149
F: (501) 682-6720
abbey.trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I, undersigned, do hereby certify that on September 8, 2023 a true and correct copy of the foregoing was sent via email to the following:

Joshua D. Gillespie, Esquire
Green & Gillespie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72214
josh@greenandgillispie.com

/s/ Abbey Trussell
Abbey Trussell

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: ASCC Pleadings
Cc: Kathryn Irby; Abbey Trussell; Daiquiri Carter
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Monday, September 11, 2023 2:31:35 PM
Attachments: Reply on Claimant"s Motion for Reconsideration.pdf

---

Dear Commission:

Please find Claimant's Reply to Respondent's Response to her Motion for Reconsideration.

Best Regards,

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 29, 2023 at 10:57 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Dear Claims Commission:
>
> Please find attached Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration.
>
> Best Regards,
>
> Josh Gillispie
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> www.greenandgillispie.com

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains	CLAIMANT
V.	Claim No. 220374
THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER)	RESPONDENT

REPLY TO RESPONDENT'S RESPONSE TO CLAIMANT'S MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

COMES NOW Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Reply, submits the following:

Respondent is correct that Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration does not set forth new or additional evidence which was not available at the time of hearing. However, to the best of Claimant's knowledge, no Rule of Practice and Procedure or Arkansas statute denies the Commission the discretion to consider Claimant's Motion if it so chooses. In fact, Rule 1.2 of the General Rules of Practice and Procedure Before the Arkansas State Claims Commission states the Commission's rules, including Rule 7.1, are to be liberally construed: "These rules and regulations shall be liberally construed to secure a simple, just and expeditious method for the consideration of claims against the State that because of the provisions of Article 5, Section 20 of the State Constitution cannot be determined in the regular courts of the State; and to provide for proceedings in which the State has a special interest" (emphasis added).

The enormous amount of evidence submitted in this case, combined with the understandably limited time that could be afforded Claimant at the hearing, created for the Commissioners a herculean task. Claimant again sincerely thanks each of them for their time and consideration. Her Motion for Reconsideration humbly asks the Commissioners to reconsider two issues, apportionment of fault and loss-of-life damages, while taking into consideration important evidence that might, understandably, have been lost in the shuffle, given the unusual amount of evidence and documentation submitted.

Claimant, therefore, humbly begs to the Commission to exercise its discretion and to consider her Motion for Reconsideration.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
Green & Gillispie Law Firm
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 facsimile
jdgillispie@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was filed via email with the Arkansas Claims Commission on this 11th day of September, 2023, and service shall be accomplished via email to counsel of record.

/s/__Joshua D. Gillispie___
Joshua D. Gillispie

From:	Kathryn Irby
To:	Joshua Gillispie
Cc:	OCC Claims Commission Cases; Abbey Trussell; Daiquiri Carter
Subject:	HEARING SCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date:	Thursday, October 5, 2023 12:16:00 PM
Attachments:	McAuliffe v. DHS -- 220374 -- hearing ltr.pdf

Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, please see attached hearing letter and Zoom invitation.

Thanks,
Kathryn Irby

Kathryn Irby
Arkansas State Claims Commission
101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
(501) 682-2822

ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

(501) 682-1619
FAX (501) 682-2823

KATHRYN IRBY
DIRECTOR

101 EAST CAPITOL AVENUE
SUITE 410
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS
72201-3823

October 5, 2023

Mr. Joshua D. Gillispie (via email)
Green & Gillispie Law Firm
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, Arkansas 72114

Ms. Abbey Trussell (via email)
Arkansas Department of Human Services
Post Office Box 1437
Little Rock, Arkansas 72203

RE: Christine McAuliffe, as special administrator of the Estate of David Cains v. Arkansas Department of Human Services
Claim No. 220374

Dear Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell,

The Commission has scheduled a hearing on Mr. Gillispie's motion for reconsideration for Friday, February 23, 2024, beginning at 9:00 a.m. All parties will attend virtually via Zoom. The Zoom invitation is enclosed herein.

As this is a motion hearing, no prehearing materials are requested.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact my office.

Sincerely,

Kathryn Irby

ES: kmirby

Kathryn Irby -- Claims Commission is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.

Topic: Claims Commission -- hearings
Time: Feb 23, 2024 09:00 AM Central Time (US and Canada)

Join Zoom Meeting
https://us06web.zoom.us/j/82875819369?pwd=sAx2mzuxWUxcBcDIqyfpWzDupBsI6k.1

Meeting ID: 828 7581 9369
Passcode: 2bnrVV

One tap mobile
+13126266799,,82875819369#,,,,*978668# US (Chicago)
+16469313860,,82875819369#,,,,*978668# US

Dial by your location
• +1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
• +1 646 931 3860 US
• +1 929 436 2866 US (New York)
• +1 301 715 8592 US (Washington DC)
• +1 305 224 1968 US
• +1 309 205 3325 US
• +1 689 278 1000 US
• +1 719 359 4580 US
• +1 253 205 0468 US
• +1 253 215 8782 US (Tacoma)
• +1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
• +1 360 209 5623 US
• +1 386 347 5053 US
• +1 507 473 4847 US
• +1 564 217 2000 US
• +1 669 444 9171 US
• +1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)

Meeting ID: 828 7581 9369
Passcode: 978668

Find your local number: https://us06web.zoom.us/u/kee3X5Hij7

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: Joshua Gillispie; OCC Claims Commission Cases; Abbey Trussell; Daiquiri Carter
Subject: Re: HEARING SCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Thursday, October 5, 2023 12:26:02 PM

You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Received. Thanks.

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Oct 5, 2023 at 12:16 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, please see attached hearing letter and Zoom invitation.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
>
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
>
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
>
> (501) 682-2822

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: Joshua Gillispie; OCC Claims Commission Cases; Abbey Trussell; Daiquiri Carter
Subject: Re: HEARING RESCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Tuesday, February 20, 2024 10:35:03 PM

You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Thank you, Kathryn. We will be ready.

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Tue, Feb 20, 2024 at 1:49 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, thanks for this information.
>
> Josh and Abbey, please see the new Zoom invitation below. There are two, maybe three, matters being rescheduled for March 1. I think this one can be heard first, though.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn
>
> Kathryn Irby -- Claims Commission is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.
>
> Topic: Hearings
>
> Time: Mar 1, 2024 12:00 PM Central Time (US and Canada)

Join Zoom Meeting

https://us06web.zoom.us/j/81455874969?pwd=axA0lk8n5OUZ6IgTp4iKB3CZ3K1oGO.1

Meeting ID: 814 5587 4969

Passcode: kbe7x4

One tap mobile

+13126266799,,81455874969#,,,,*111734# US (Chicago)

+16469313860,,81455874969#,,,,*111734# US

Dial by your location

• +1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)

• +1 646 931 3860 US

• +1 929 436 2866 US (New York)

• +1 301 715 8592 US (Washington DC)

• +1 305 224 1968 US

• +1 309 205 3325 US

• +1 386 347 5053 US

• +1 507 473 4847 US

• +1 564 217 2000 US

• +1 669 444 9171 US

• +1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)

• +1 689 278 1000 US

• +1 719 359 4580 US

• +1 253 205 0468 US

• +1 253 215 8782 US (Tacoma)

• +1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)

• +1 360 209 5623 US

Meeting ID: 814 5587 4969

Passcode: 111734

Find your local number: https://us06web.zoom.us/u/kcwKghuaW

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Tuesday, February 20, 2024 1:38 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Kathryn-

Assuming the only workable options in the near future are March 1 and April 11, we will take March 1. I believe you said that would be at noon.

Thank you,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 3:18 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com> wrote:

> Kathryn-
>
> May I please have until tomorrow to get back to you on whether to keep March 1 or move to April 11? I am tentatively scheduled to be in DC for a conference April 11. If any other possible dates are available please let me know.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
>
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
>
> https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 3:01 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

I can also move this hearing to Thursday, April 11.

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Monday, February 19, 2024 2:50 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

Kathryn-

I don't want to cancel my plans for my kids' 4th bday unless the delay in having this hearing is going to be extreme, as in months not weeks.

Thank you,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 2:45 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, I'm not sure. If March 1 doesn't work, then I'll go back to the panel and find out the next possible day. The hope is that we'll be able to coordinate a date in the next couple of weeks, but I can't promise anything.
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
> Sent: Monday, February 19, 2024 2:30 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
>
> > You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important
>
> Kathryn-
>
> I was planning on taking March 1 off for my twins' birthday, but I also don't want to push this too far down the road. If I could not do March 1, what would the next available option be?
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
>
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700

(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 2:07 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, my panel for next Friday has had some unexpected conflicts arise on that day, such that I will not have a quorum at the hearing. However, my panel can be available the following week on Friday, March 1 beginning at noon. I am moving this hearing to that date. Please advise ASAP if that date will not work (although I realize that today is a state holiday, so I am not expecting anyone to respond today). Apologies for this inconvenience.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
>
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
>
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
>
> (501) 682-2822

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Thursday, October 5, 2023 12:25 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>

Subject: Re: HEARING SCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Received. Thanks.

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Oct 5, 2023 at 12:16 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, please see attached hearing letter and Zoom invitation.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
>
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
>
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

(501) 682-2822

From: Kathryn Irby
To: Joshua Gillispie
Cc: OCC Claims Commission Cases
Subject: RE: HEARING RESCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Tuesday, April 16, 2024 8:53:00 AM

Josh, your motion is not deemed denied. We just have a backlog from a huge influx of claims that have been filed in the last few months. When the Commission enters an order regarding the motion for reconsideration, I will transmit it to the parties.

Thanks,
Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Monday, April 15, 2024 4:48 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING RESCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Kathryn-

Can you please confirm whether my motion for reconsideration has been deemed denied at this point? I know that under the rules of civil procedure (see Rule 59) similar motions are deemed denied if not granted or denied after 30 days.

Thx,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Tue, Feb 20, 2024 at 10:34 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com> wrote:

> Thank you, Kathryn. We will be ready.

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Tue, Feb 20, 2024 at 1:49 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, thanks for this information.
>
> Josh and Abbey, please see the new Zoom invitation below. There are two, maybe three, matters being rescheduled for March 1. I think this one can be heard first, though.
>
> Thanks,
> Kathryn
>
> Kathryn Irby -- Claims Commission is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.
>
> Topic: Hearings
> Time: Mar 1, 2024 12:00 PM Central Time (US and Canada)
>
> Join Zoom Meeting
> https://us06web.zoom.us/j/81455874969?pwd=axA0lk8n5OUZ6IgTp4iKB3CZ3K1oGO.1
>
> Meeting ID: 814 5587 4969
> Passcode: kbe7x4
>
> ---
>
> One tap mobile
> +13126266799,,81455874969#,,,,*111734# US (Chicago)
> +16469313860,,81455874969#,,,,*111734# US
>
> ---
>
> Dial by your location
> • +1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)
> • +1 646 931 3860 US

- +1 929 436 2866 US (New York)
- +1 301 715 8592 US (Washington DC)
- +1 305 224 1968 US
- +1 309 205 3325 US
- +1 386 347 5053 US
- +1 507 473 4847 US
- +1 564 217 2000 US
- +1 669 444 9171 US
- +1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)
- +1 689 278 1000 US
- +1 719 359 4580 US
- +1 253 205 0468 US
- +1 253 215 8782 US (Tacoma)
- +1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)
- +1 360 209 5623 US

Meeting ID: 814 5587 4969
Passcode: 111734

Find your local number: https://us06web.zoom.us/u/kcwKghuaW

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Tuesday, February 20, 2024 1:38 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Kathryn-

Assuming the only workable options in the near future are March 1 and April 11, we will take March 1. I believe you said that would be at noon.

Thank you,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114

(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 3:18 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com> wrote:

> Kathryn-
>
> May I please have until tomorrow to get back to you on whether to keep March 1 or move to April 11? I am tentatively scheduled to be in DC for a conference April 11. If any other possible dates are available please let me know.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> https://gillispielawfirm.com/
>
> On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 3:01 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:
>
> > I can also move this hearing to Thursday, April 11.
> >
> > Kathryn
> >
> > ---
> >
> > From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
> > Sent: Monday, February 19, 2024 2:50 PM
> > To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> > Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> > Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
> >
> > Kathryn-
> >
> > I don't want to cancel my plans for my kids' 4th bday unless the delay in having this hearing is going to be extreme, as in months not weeks.

Thank you,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 2:45 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, I'm not sure. If March 1 doesn't work, then I'll go back to the panel and find out the next possible day. The hope is that we'll be able to coordinate a date in the next couple of weeks, but I can't promise anything.
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
> Sent: Monday, February 19, 2024 2:30 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
>
> > You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important
>
> Kathryn-
>
> I was planning on taking March 1 off for my twins' birthday, but I also don't want to push this too far down the road. If I could not do March 1, what would the next available option be?
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114

(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 2:07 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, my panel for next Friday has had some unexpected conflicts arise on that day, such that I will not have a quorum at the hearing. However, my panel can be available the following week on Friday, March 1 beginning at noon. I am moving this hearing to that date. Please advise ASAP if that date will not work (although I realize that today is a state holiday, so I am not expecting anyone to respond today). Apologies for this inconvenience.
>
> Thanks,
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
> (501) 682-2822

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Thursday, October 5, 2023 12:25 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING SCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Received. Thanks.

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700

(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Oct 5, 2023 at 12:16 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, please see attached hearing letter and Zoom invitation.
>
> Thanks,
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
> (501) 682-2822

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: OCC Claims Commission Cases
Subject: Re: HEARING RESCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Thursday, July 11, 2024 2:19:07 PM

Oh my gosh. That's crazy. Hang in there! And thanks for letting me know.

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Thu, Jul 11, 2024 at 2:13 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, the delay is on my end due to a record-breaking year on the number of claims filed at the Commission (we had almost 400 additional claims filed in FY24 over FY23). It has everything delayed. I expect to have an order transmitted to the parties later this month.
>
> Thanks,
> Kathryn
>
> Get Outlook for iOS
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
> Sent: Thursday, July 11, 2024 1:59:28 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: HEARING RESCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
>
> > You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important
>
> Hi Kathryn-
>
> Sorry to bother you, but I was wondering if there was any update on the Motion for Reconsideration heard on March 1 in McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374.
>
> Thank you,
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Wed, Apr 17, 2024 at 10:53 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com> wrote:

> Okay. Thank you.
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> https://gillispielawfirm.com/
>
> On Tue, Apr 16, 2024 at 8:53 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:
>
> > Josh, your motion is not deemed denied. We just have a backlog from a huge influx of claims that have been filed in the last few months. When the Commission enters an order regarding the motion for reconsideration, I will transmit it to the parties.
> >
> > Thanks,
> >
> > Kathryn
> >
> > ---
> >
> > From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
> > Sent: Monday, April 15, 2024 4:48 PM
> > To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> > Cc: OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> > Subject: Re: HEARING RESCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
> >
> > > You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important
> >
> > Kathryn-

Can you please confirm whether my motion for reconsideration has been deemed denied at this point? I know that under the rules of civil procedure (see Rule 59) similar motions are deemed denied if not granted or denied after 30 days.

Thx,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Tue, Feb 20, 2024 at 10:34 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com> wrote:

> Thank you, Kathryn. We will be ready.
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
>
> North Little Rock, AR 72114

(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Tue, Feb 20, 2024 at 1:49 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, thanks for this information.
>
> Josh and Abbey, please see the new Zoom invitation below. There are two, maybe three, matters being rescheduled for March 1. I think this one can be heard first, though.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn
>
> Kathryn Irby -- Claims Commission is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.
>
> Topic: Hearings
>
> Time: Mar 1, 2024 12:00 PM Central Time (US and Canada)
>
> Join Zoom Meeting
>
> https://us06web.zoom.us/j/81455874969?pwd=axA0lk8n5OUZ6IgTp4iKB3CZ3K1oGO.1
>
> Meeting ID: 814 5587 4969
>
> Passcode: kbe7x4

One tap mobile

+13126266799,,81455874969#,,,,*111734# US (Chicago)

+16469313860,,81455874969#,,,,*111734# US

Dial by your location

• +1 312 626 6799 US (Chicago)

• +1 646 931 3860 US

• +1 929 436 2866 US (New York)

• +1 301 715 8592 US (Washington DC)

• +1 305 224 1968 US

• +1 309 205 3325 US

• +1 386 347 5053 US

• +1 507 473 4847 US

• +1 564 217 2000 US

• +1 669 444 9171 US

• +1 669 900 6833 US (San Jose)

• +1 689 278 1000 US

• +1 719 359 4580 US

• +1 253 205 0468 US

• +1 253 215 8782 US (Tacoma)

• +1 346 248 7799 US (Houston)

• +1 360 209 5623 US

Meeting ID: 814 5587 4969

Passcode: 111734

Find your local number: https://us06web.zoom.us/u/kcwKghuaW

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Tuesday, February 20, 2024 1:38 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Kathryn-

Assuming the only workable options in the near future are March 1 and April 11, we will take March 1. I believe you said that would be at noon.

Thank you,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114

(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 3:18 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com> wrote:

> Kathryn-
>
> May I please have until tomorrow to get back to you on whether to keep March 1 or move to April 11? I am tentatively scheduled to be in DC for a conference April 11. If any other possible dates are available please let me know.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
>
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
>
> https://gillispielawfirm.com/
>
> On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 3:01 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:
>
> > I can also move this hearing to Thursday, April 11.

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Monday, February 19, 2024 2:50 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

Kathryn-

I don't want to cancel my plans for my kids' 4th bday unless the delay in having this hearing is going to be extreme, as in months not weeks.

Thank you,

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 2:45 PM Kathryn Irby

<Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, I'm not sure. If March 1 doesn't work, then I'll go back to the panel and find out the next possible day. The hope is that we'll be able to coordinate a date in the next couple of weeks, but I can't promise anything.
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
> Sent: Monday, February 19, 2024 2:30 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: HEARING DATE CHANGE: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
>
> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important
>
> Kathryn-
>
> I was planning on taking March 1 off for my twins' birthday, but I also don't want to push this too far down the road. If I could not do March 1, what would the next available option be?
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
>
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Feb 19, 2024 at 2:07 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, my panel for next Friday has had some unexpected conflicts arise on that day, such that I will not have a quorum at the hearing. However, my panel can be available the following week on Friday, March 1 beginning at noon. I am moving this hearing to that date. Please advise ASAP if that date will not work (although I realize that today is a state holiday, so I am not expecting anyone to respond today). Apologies for this inconvenience.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
>
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
>
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
>
> (501) 682-2822

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Thursday, October 5, 2023 12:25 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>; OCC Claims Commission Cases <OCC.ClaimsCommCases@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.Carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: HEARING SCHEDULED: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No.

220374

> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Received. Thanks.

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Thu, Oct 5, 2023 at 12:16 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, please see attached hearing letter and Zoom invitation.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> Arkansas State Claims Commission
>
> 101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
>
> Little Rock, Arkansas 72201

(501) 682-2822

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION

CHRISTINE MCAULIFFE, AS SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF DAVID CAINS CLAIMANT

V. CLAIM NO. 220374

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES RESPONDENT

ORDER

Now before the Arkansas State Claims Commission (the "Commission") is the motion filed by Christine McAuliffe, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains (collectively referred to herein as the "Claimant") for reconsideration of the Commission's July 21, 2023, order awarding a total of $390,000 in Claimant's claim against the Arkansas Department of Human Services (the "Respondent" or "DHS"). At the hearing held March 1, 2024, Claimant was represented by Joshua Gillispie. Abbey Trussell appeared on behalf of Respondent.

1. Claimant filed this claim against Respondent on September 30, 2021, seeking $7,000,000.00 in damages related to the June 13, 2020, death of David Cains (the "Decedent").

2. Respondent filed an Answer denying liability.

3. Following a claim hearing, the Commission found negligence on the part of Respondent related to Respondent's failure to create a plan of action regarding the frequent need to restrain the Decedent. The Commission also found that the Decedent initiated the behavioral situation that led to Respondent's staff member putting the Decedent into restraints. The Commission apportioned 60 percent of the fault to Respondent and 40 percent to the Decedent. The Commission awarded $450,000 in damages to the Estate of David Cains for loss of life and pain and suffering, of which Respondent was liable for 60 percent, or $270,000. The Commission also awarded $75,000 each to the Decedent's mother and sister for mental anguish, of which Respondent was liable for 60 percent, or $45,000 each. Lastly, the Commission awarded $50,000 to the Decedent's half-sister for mental anguish, of which Respondent was liable for 60 percent, or $30,000.

4. Claimant subsequently filed the instant motion for reconsideration, arguing that the apportionment of fault to the Decedent was improper, as was the amount of the loss of life damages awarded by the Commission.

5. Respondent responded to the motion, arguing that Claimant is attempting to re-litigate the hearing in the motion for reconsideration and that Claimant did not present any new or additional evidence as required under Commission Rule 7.1.

6. Claimant argued in reply that the Commission rules are to be liberally construed under Commission Rule 1.2 and that the Commission should reconsider these two issues to consider evidence that might have been "lost in the shuffle, given the unusual amount of evidence and documentation submitted." (emphasis omitted).

7. At the hearing, Claimant argued that, when the Commission assigned forty percent fault to the Decedent, the Commission did not consider that a minor's fault must be considered based on the minor's capacity. Claimant argued that [redacted] got a gun and shot someone, no one would be blaming the [redacted]. Claimant re-argued the issues of foreseeability, the delayed 911 call, the frequency of the Decedent's vomiting, and how the Decedent valued his life. Claimant referred to the Commission's award as a "slap on the wrist" for Respondent.

8. Respondent argued that there are no grounds for this matter to be reheard. Respondent also stated that, while Respondent disagrees with the ultimate outcome of the claim hearing, there is no new evidence for the Commission to consider, and Respondent respects the decision of the Commission.

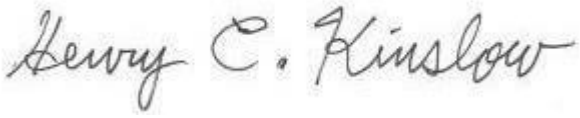
9. Commissioner Graves noted that all of Claimant's arguments were addressed in the Commission's order. He took issue with Claimant's characterization of the award as a "slap on the wrist" and asked Claimant why the Henley[1] case is not on point. In response, Claimant agreed that Henley correctly states the law but argued that it would be impossible for the Commission to apportion forty percent of the fault to the Decedent if the Commission was using the perspective of a [redacted].

10. Upon a question from Commissioner Graves, Claimant argued that other policy violations should have been part of the Commission's findings, including that the Decedent should not have been restrained on the ground and that only doctors were allowed to call 911.

11. Commissioner Smith stated that the Commission considered all the evidence presented and that the Commission must be good stewards of the authority granted by the Legislature. He noted that the Commission considered [redacted] when making its decision.

12. In analyzing a motion for reconsideration, Rule 7.1 of the Commission Rules and Regulations states that motions for reconsideration "will only be entertained if they set forth new or additional evidence which was not [previously] available . . . ."



13. The Commission finds that Claimant's motion does not set forth new or additional evidence not previously available, that the Commission considered all of the evidence and testimony submitted by the parties, and that the Commission's July 21, 2023, order should remain in effect. As such, the Commission denies Claimant's motion for reconsideration.

[1] Farm Bureau Mut. Ins. Co. of Ark., Inc. v. Henley, 275 Ark. 122, 126, 628 S.W.2d 301, 303 (1982) (holding that "an infant is liable for his torts in the same manner as an adult").

IT IS SO ORDERED.

ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
Solomon Graves

ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
Henry Kinslow, Chair

ARKANSAS STATE CLAIMS COMMISSION
Sylvester Smith

DATE: July 24, 2024

Notice(s) which may apply to your claim

(1) A party has forty (40) days from transmission of this Order to file a Motion for Reconsideration or a Notice of Appeal with the Claims Commission. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a)(1). If a Motion for Reconsideration is denied, that party then has twenty (20) days from transmission of the denial of the Motion for Reconsideration to file a Notice of Appeal with the Claims Commission. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a)(1)(B)(ii). A decision of the Claims Commission may only be appealed to the General Assembly. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a)(3).

(2) If a Claimant is awarded less than $15,000.00 by the Claims Commission at hearing, that claim is held forty (40) days from the date of disposition before payment will be processed. See Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-211(a). Note: This does not apply to agency admissions of liability and negotiated settlement agreements.

(3) Awards or negotiated settlement agreements of $15,000.00 or more are referred to the General Assembly for approval and authorization to pay. Ark. Code Ann. § 19-10-215(b).

From:	Kathryn Irby
To:	Joshua Gillispie; Abbey Trussell
Cc:	OCC Claims Commission Cases
Subject:	ORDER: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date:	Wednesday, July 24, 2024 2:28:00 PM
Attachments:	McAuliffe -- hearing -- 220374 -- order re M4R.pdf

Mr. Gillispie and Ms. Trussell, please see attached order entered by the Commission.

Thanks,
Kathryn Irby

Kathryn Irby
Arkansas State Claims Commission
101 East Capitol Avenue, Suite 410
Little Rock, Arkansas 72201
(501) 682-2822

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: ASCC Pleadings
Cc: Kathryn Irby; Abbey Trussell
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Monday, July 29, 2024 4:09:41 PM
Attachments: Notice of Appeal.pdf

You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Dear Commission-

Please accept for filing this Notice of Appeal in McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374.

Best regards,

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Fri, Sep 15, 2023 at 10:17 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Thank you!
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> www.greenandgillispie.com
>
> On Fri, Sep 15, 2023 at 9:10 AM ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov> wrote:
>
> > Received on 9-11-23.

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
Sent: Thursday, September 14, 2023 4:12 PM
To: ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

Just making sure the Commission received my Reply filed on 9/11. Typically I get a "received" message back. Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Mon, Sep 11, 2023 at 2:30 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Dear Commission:
>
> Please find Claimant's Reply to Respondent's Response to her Motion for Reconsideration.
>
> Best Regards,
>
> Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 29, 2023 at 10:57 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Dear Claims Commission:
>
> Please find attached Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration.
>
> Best Regards,
>
> Josh Gillispie
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> www.greenandgillispie.com

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe,
as Special Administrator of the Estate
of David Cains CLAIMANT

V. Claim No. 220374

THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF
HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER) RESPONDENT

NOTICE OF APPEAL

COMES NOW Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Notice of Appeal submits the following:

1. That she hereby appeals to the General Assembly from the Order of July 21, 2023.

2. That Claimant previously filed with the Commission a Motion for Reconsideration of the Order of July 21, 2023, which the Commission denied on July 24, 2024.

3. That she hereby designates the entire record in this matter.

4. That her basis for appeal is set out with particularity in her Motion for Reconsideration previously filed with the Claims Commission, and attached hereto as "Exhibit 1" to this Notice of Appeal.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar # 2010131
GILLISPIE LAW FIRM
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
501-244-0700
501-244-2020 (fax)
josh@gillispielawfirm.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was filed on this 29th day of July, 2024, with service provided to all counsel of record.

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie

EXHIBIT 1

BEFORE THE ARKANSAS CLAIMS COMMISSION

Christine McAuliffe, as Special Administrator of the Estate of David Cains	CLAIMANT
V.	Claim No. 220374
THE ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES (BOONEVILLE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CENTER)	RESPONDENT

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

COMES NOW Claimant, Christine McAuliffe, by and through her attorney, Joshua D. Gillispie, and for her Motion for Reconsideration submits the following:

INTRODUCTION

This Honorable Commission entered its Order on July 21, 2023. Claimant Christine McAuliffe, and her undersigned counsel, wish to thank Commission Chairperson Henry Kinslow, Commissioner Courtney Baird, and Commissioner Sylvester Smith for their hard work and valuable time expended in considering this claim, and wish to recognize that their job was not an easy one given the amount of evidence, particularly the number of deposition transcripts, submitted in this case. This Motion for Reconsideration seeks to respectfully address two specific findings: (1) the apportionment of 40% fault to David Cains, and (2) the $350,000.00 award for damages associated with David Cains' "loss of life."

The purpose of this Motion for Reconsideration is to address more fully these two issues under Arkansas law to show the Commission why it should decrease the percentage of fault assigned to Davie and increase the award for damages associated with Davie's loss of life.

Central to both analyses is that David Cains possessed the mind of an approximately four-year-old child.[1]

I. APPORTIONMENT OF FAULT

1. Respectfully, the Commission erred in apportioning forty percent fault to David Cains, given the large amount of evidence proving foreseeability on Respondent and given [redacted], which requires an analysis for attributing fault to consider only how a reasonably careful person of David's maturity and intelligence would act under the circumstances.

Furthermore, and significantly, the Director of Developmental Disabilities Services for the Arkansas Department of Human Services, Respondent's highest-ranking official to give testimony in this case, testified in crystal clear terms that Davie was not at fault for this death.

> Q Is it your position that Mr. Cains was responsible for his own death?
> A I didn't say that.
> Q I didn't say you did. It's a question I have to ask.
> A No.
> Q Okay.
> A No, of course not.

Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 85.

A. FORSEEABILITY COUNTERBALANCES THE FAULT APPORTIONED DAVIE

Davie's death, the result of vomiting and then choking on his vomit while being restrained on the ground shortly after lunch, was foreseeable to Respondent. There was a great deal of testimony and other evidence submitted that conclusively proves this foreseeability. This

[1] Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 24, p. 29: 20-25, p. 30: 1-10 (testified that Davie's mental functioning was likely that of a four-year-old's).

foreseeability, [redacted], counterbalances any potential fault that could be apportioned to Davie, who, again, [redacted]

Respondent knew that physical restraint increased the likelihood of injury to Davie and other clients, and Respondent knew specifically that physical restraints on the ground were even more likely to do so, hence the facility's prohibition on their use.[2] Respondent also had good reason to anticipate that Davie would vomit, given that he vomited so frequently following lunch that his pre-vocational trainers at BHDC kept a puke bucket next to his workstation.[3] Add to this the fact Respondent did not call 911 until it was too late, because of an inherently dangerous policy forbidding staff to do so, there should be little, if any, fault apportioned to Davie.[4] [5] And add to this that Sandy Evans, BHDC's own Director of Residential

---

[2] Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 12: 1-22, p. 21: 8-25, p. 22: 1-25 (There is no on-the-ground personal hold allowed at BHDC), p. 23: 1-8 (An on-the-ground personal hold is not an approved NCI method; it should not be done.), p. 27: 16-25, p. 28: 1-6, p. 32: 9-22 (Ground restraint is dangerous), p. 35: 5-17 (The contact Tyler Mattson made with DC after he was already on the ground was unnecessary), p. 42: 5-10. Other staff members, including even restraint participant Amy Jones, agreed the ground restraint used on Davie was not allowed. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 35: 14-23 (expressly prohibited from putting a client on the ground for personal restraint); p. 43: 8-18, p. 44: 9-17; Exhibit 25, Dr. Syed Hamid, p. 78: 12-24; Exhibit 20, BHDC QIDP/Program Manager Justin Jobb Part II, p. 8. Staff are not authorized to hold a client on the ground even where a client puts himself on the ground during an aggressive episode. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 45: 1-9.

[3] Exhibit 49, BHDC Prevocational Trainer Rhonda Harris, p. 10, p. 11, p. 13, p. 14.

[4] [redacted] BHDC policy forbade them from doing so; at BHDC, only medical staff are authorized to call for emergency medical help, while all other staff are only allowed to alert the facility's medical department. Exhibit 34, BHDC First Aid Guidelines – Policy IV-B-10; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 51: 7-25, p. 52: 1-25; Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 78: 22-25, p. 79: 1-11 ("I would have like to" been able to call 911 for David); p. 123: 8-17 ("We're not allowed to" call 911); Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 57: 9-25 (…it don't really make sense that we couldn't call them [medical department] and then call 9-1-1 as well."), p. 115: 5-17 (wishes she had violated the policy and called 911 right away for Davie); Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p.20: 16-19; Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker Caleb Murry, p. 56; Exhibit 30, DRA Advocate Kris Stewart, p. 54: 14-18, p. 65: 22-25, p. 66: 1-22 (everyone she interviewed at BHDC confirmed there was a policy forbidding nonmedical staff from calling 911 in the event a resident has a medical emergency) (Gonyea told her they did not trust staff to recognize a medical emergency, feared 911 might be called unnecessarily), p. 67: 1-10 ; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 22: 16-23, p. 23: 9-22 (There were "no exceptions" to the rule), p. 26: 11-25.

[5] The evidence strongly suggests at least five and maybe as many as ten minutes elapsed between the time Davie began choking and when BHDC called 911. Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 120: 1-5; Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 46: 1-8; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 35: 6-24, p. 36: 1-3; Exhibit 40, Paramedic Samuel Scow, p. 8: 14-21, p. 10: 19-25 (determined, based on the 911 call coming in at 11:37 am, that it was eight minutes from the time Davie stopped breathing and when the facility called 911); Exhibit 41, Logan County EMS Report.

Services, and the person who conducted the facility's internal investigation into Davie's death, admitted under oath that the restraint was not the least restrictive method available and was in fact a violation of policy that required staff to be retrained, and it makes it difficult to see how forty percent fault could be apportioned to Davie, [redacted][6] [7]

If Davie had been standing or seated when he vomited, he would not have choked to death, regardless of what caused the vomiting; he was on the ground when he vomited because staff were holding him on the ground in violation of policy, regardless of how he got to the ground. Staff were not authorized to hold clients on the ground, not trained to do so, and were in violation of policy in doing so. But for these policy violations, Davie would be alive. It is important to also remember that, under Arkansas law, violation of a statute, ordinance, or regulation is itself evidence of negligence. ARK. MODEL JURY INSTRUCTION 601; McMickle v. Griffin, 369 Ark. 318, 254 S.W.3d 729 (2007).

---

[6] Even if this had been an emergency situation, staff were required to use only the "least restrictive" approved method possible. Exhibit 17, DDS 3011-D (3); Exhibit 5, Federal ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(iii), [W278], Bates 1754 (the least restrictive appropriate technique possible); Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(4), [W289], Bates 1760; Exhibit 5, ICF-IID Reg. § 483.450(b)(1)(ii), [W277], Bates 1753; Exhibit 3, BHDC Superintendent Jeff Gonyea, p. 30, p. 37: 5-9; Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 26: 24-25, p. 27: 1-3, p. 34; Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 113: 3-17; Exhibit 19, BHDC Residential Services Manager Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 43: 17-25, p. 44: 1-4; Exhibit 20, BHDC QIDP/Program Manager Justin Jobb Part II, p. 49, p. 50; Exhibit 21, OLTC Surveyor Dian Elliot, p. 123: 5-12, p. 133: 23-25, p. 134: 1-4; Exhibit 22, Dr. Janice LeBel – Summary of Expert Opinions; Exhibit 37, Dr. Janice LeBel – CV; Exhibit 23, Dr. Janice LeBel Deposition Transcript. BHDC's written policy states: "Emergency Restraint is defined as the use of the least restrictive procedure and for the least time necessary to control severely aggressive or destructive behaviors" [emphasis added]. Exhibit 4, BHDC Policy I-D-4 (2)(a).

[7] Sandy Evans admitted at deposition that the restraint used on Davie at the time of his death was not the least restrictive option available. Exhibit 6, BHDC Residential Services Director Sandy Evans, p. 50: 1-7, p. 47: 5-25 (they never gave Davie a chance to calm down and collect himself on the ground unrestrained), p. 48: 1-13, p. 49: 11-25 (it was an inappropriate use in violation of policy, requiring retraining, but in her opinion did not rise to the level of maltreatment). Amy Jones and Ryann Campos, the two staff members who helped Tyler Mattson perform the restraint, made similar admissions at deposition. Exhibit 18, BHDC Shift Supervisor Amy Jones, p. 115: 5-17 (acknowledging she probably should have made Tyler let Davie up right away); Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 80: 17-21, 81: 2-6 ("there were less restrictive ways that the situation could have been handled").

The Commission relied upon Ethyl Corp. v. Johnson to support finding it was not foreseeable Davie would vomit while restrained on June 13, 2020. The Court in Ethyl held it is not negligent to fail to guard against a danger for which there is no reason to anticipate, or against a danger that is merely possible. 345 Ark. 476, 481, 49 S.W.3d 644, 648 (2001). Obviously, anything is possible, and there must be some knowable reason for guarding against a particular danger before the failure to do so rises to negligence. However, Ethyl was also careful to reiterate that it is "not necessary, however, that the actor foresee the particular injury that occurred, only that he or she reasonably foresee an appreciable risk of harm to others." Id, at 482, 648 (quoting Wallace v. Broyles, 331 Ark. 58, 961 S.W.2d 712, 715 (1998)) (emphasis added). In other words, if it is reasonably foreseeable that doing a given thing could cause physical harm to a person, it does not matter what particular type of physical harm results.

Furthermore, the remote danger at issue in Ethyl was far different than here. The Ethyl plaintiff injured himself while trying to singlehandedly move a 2,000-pound metal trash bin situated at the edge of a parking lot, a parking lot nobody intended or expected him to take his big rig, so that his 18-wheeler could make a U-turn without the rear wheels hitting the bin. Id, at 480, 647. Stated Ethyl:

> It was not foreseeable that an invitee would injure himself by attempting to manually move the 2,180 pound container on his own. Appellants' only duty under the circumstances was to provide reasonable care to guard against any harm that appeared "likely in the ordinary course of events." Burns, 186 Ark. at 925, 56 S.W.2d at 1028. Appellants simply had no duty to take added precautions to guard against the remote chance that someone would injure himself by attempting to move the heavy container. Indeed, it was undisputed that there had never been any previous incidents, within the fourteen years that the container was on Appellants' property, in which anyone, employee or otherwise, had been injured in conjunction with the container.

Id, at 483, 649. Compare that to Davie's case, in which BHDC staff had severely injured clients during restraints in the year before Davie's death. See the 2019 BHDC incident in which a staff member broke a client's arm during a restraint, and also the BHDC incident in which a staff member choked a client unconscious during a restraint. Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 67, 68; Exhibit 50, 1.31.21 Dem-Gaz Article (also Exhibit 5 to Weatherton deposition). Nobody expects trash bins to cause injury; everybody knows physical restraints often result in injury, and if a person performs one in violation of training and policy and it results in a person's death, that is textbook negligence, if not worse.

It is worth repeating that while negligence requires an appreciable risk of harm to others a reasonably careful person would recognize, "it is not necessary that the actor foresee the particular injury which occurred, only that the actor reasonably foresee an appreciable risk of harm to others" [emphasis added]. Wallace v. Broyles, 331 Ark. 58, 961 S.W.2d 712, 715 (1998). Proximate cause in a negligence action may be shown from circumstantial evidence, and such evidence is sufficient to show proximate cause if the facts proved are of such a nature and are so connected and related to each other that the conclusion therefrom may be fairly inferred. Id. In other words, Respondent's foreseeability did not require them to have reason to think Davie would vomit while restrained. Rather, it required only that Respondent be aware that a restraint, and in this case a prohibited ground restraint that violated the facility's own policies, increased the likelihood of harm to the person being restrained.

It is an incontrovertible truth that Respondent was aware that the use of restraints increased the likelihood of injury; it's literally stated in their own policy documents:

> "The Booneville Human Development Center is dedicated to the reduction of restraint use at the facility. The use of restraints is proven to be dangerous for both staff and clients, *with the occurrence of injuries dramatically increasing when restraint is used. All efforts must be made to deescalate behavioral situations so that they do not result in restraint. All restraint at the facility is to be > for emergency use only when a very real risk of personal injury or severe property damage is imminent."

Exhibit 61, BHDC Restraint Incident Debriefing Form (emphasis added).

The DDS Director, Respondent's highest-ranking official to give testimony in this case, testified to being aware that any time a restraint is used there is an increased risk of danger:

> Q But would you agree with me that it's a goal of your organization to reduce restraints as much as possible?
> A Absolutely.
> Q And is that because, whenever someone has to be restrained, it increased the risk of danger to that client and to staff and to potentially others?
> A Yes.

Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 30.

As previously mentioned, there had been other serious injuries caused by restraints at BHDC just prior to Davie's death. See the 2019 BHDC incident in which a staff member broke a client's arm during a restraint, and also the BHDC incident in which a staff member choked a client unconscious during a restraint. Exhibit 32, DDS Director Melissa Weatherton, p. 67, 68; Exhibit 50, 1.31.21 Dem-Gaz Article (also Exhibit 5 to Weatherton deposition).

Disability Rights Arkansas published a report in January of 2016 literally titled "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraint at the Booneville Human Development Center," which revealed, among other things, that restraint use at BHDC was "approximately twenty-five times higher" than at the other four Human Development Centers in Arkansas, that this had already led to injuries, and that it was going to lead to more injuries unless the problem was addressed. Exhibit 51, DRA 2016 Report – "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraints at Booneville Human Development Center." Concluded the report:

> According to the data collected and maintained by Booneville HDC and the State, residents at Booneville live in an environment in which restraint is used excessively, far more frequently than at the Arkadelphia, Jonesboro, or Warren HDCs. Booneville HDC fails to ensure that staff utilize effective tools to de-escalate > situations, leading to the use of restraints when other interventions, if implemented sooner, could eliminate the need for restraint. The Department of Human Services and its Division of Developmental Disabilities Services has failed to provide the oversight and training to ensure that residents at Booneville HDC are not subjected to unnecessary and excessive restraints. Residents and staff have already been injured due to the current restraint practice at Booneville HDC.

>
> All HDC residents are entitled to live in an environment in which restraints are used as a last resort after other interventions have failed. The residents at Booneville HDC have a right to be treated with dignity and respect, to not be subjected to unnecessary and harmful restraint, and to receive active treatment based on evidence-based best practices. DRA urges the State to take immediate action to address the culture at Booneville HDC and to instruct Booneville HDC to stop this inherently dangerous practice. The individuals with disabilities residing at Booneville HDC deserve better.

Exhibit 51, DRA 2016 Report – "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraints at Booneville Human Development Center," p. 13 (emphasis added). This report was published four years prior to Davie's death, Respondent ignored it, and Davie died as a result. The Commission, in its Order, noted that 187 behavioral incidents requiring restraint had occurred prior to Davie's death, which understandably suggested to the Commission that Davie was the problem, but these 187 restraint incidents are actually much more indicative of BHDC's overreliance on and unnecessary use of physical restraints, failure to utilize non-violent de-escalation techniques, and Respondent's failures in training and oversight for BHDC staff – all the things identified by Disability Rights Arkansas in "Bound to the Past: The Excessive Use of Restraints at Booneville Human Development Center." Recall that Davie never injured anyone at BHDC.[8]

[8] Davie was not dangerous. Davie never caused injury to anyone at BHDC. Exhibit 2, BHDC Staff Development Coordinator Mark Hise, p. 50, p. 52; Exhibit 9, BHDC Staff Tyler Mattson, p. 66; Exhibit 10, BHDC Staff Ryann Campos, p. 49; Exhibit 11, BHDC LPN Kelly King, p. 7, p. 10; Exhibit 12, BHDC LPN Amanda Schmitt, p. 22, p. 24, p. 28; Exhibit 13, Former BHDC Staff Don Carter, p. 8; Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 59; Exhibit 15, BHDC Social Services Worker Caleb Murry, p. 28; Exhibit 16, Claimant Christine McAuliffe, p. 21, 22.

RESPONDENT KNEW DAVIE WAS A VOMIT RISK

All of this notwithstanding, it actually was foreseeable to Respondent that this particular injury could occur, because they knew Davie vomited nearly every day, particularly after lunch. Respondent knew that Davie was highly prone to vomiting, particularly after lunch.

[redacted]

Rhonda Harris was Davie's Prevocational Trainer (work supervisor) at BHDC, working with him nearly every afternoon for at least five years prior to this death. Exhibit 49, BHDC Prevocational Trainer Rhonda Harris, p. 5, 6, 19. Rhonda Harris's testimony, as seen below, firmly establishes that it was much more than a mere possibility Davie would vomit right after lunch during a ground restraint. Harris testified that everyone who worked there knew Davie had [redacted] and knew to keep him facedown when restraining him on the ground:

> Q And that's specifically because he was a known vomiting threat?
> A. Yes. He had medical issues going on. I still to this day don't know if the nurses ever found out what exactly was wrong with him, but everybody that worked around him knew that, you know, so you always – we always -- where I worked, you know, we had the understanding, you know, if you ever took him down, make sure he was face down. That way if he started to, you know, vomit -- because I don't know -- at first, we thought he just was like -- you know, he could do it, you know, on his own, like just make himself throw up, but then it's become like it happened, you know, regularly, you know, where we were constantly calling the nurses, you know, or medical to have them come evaluate him because that's not normal, you know, for anybody to do.

[9] By holding Davie down on the ground just after his lunch, BHDC staff ignored Davie's known [redacted] Exhibit 46, Physician Orders at Discharge 6.19.20; Exhibit 47, Physician Orders 6.1.20; Exhibit 48 Physician Orders 3.1.19. [redacted] See Exhibit 43, "Prevention of Choking and Aspiration" – New York Office of People with Developmental Disabilities, pgs. 3-4. This is noteworthy because Respondent's expert witness, Dr. Kastner, was recently the head of this office in New York, under former Governor Andrew Cuomo; some of Dr. Kastner's expert opinions in this case are in direct conflict with the contents of this document [redacted].

Exhibit 49, BHDC Prevocational Trainer Rhonda Harris, p. 9, 10. Harris testified that everyone who worked with Davie was well aware of how often he vomited:

Q So everybody that was accustomed to David or had been around David and knew David was aware that there was a risk of him vomiting?
A Yes
Q I think you said at first, you know, you couldn't tell if he was doing this on purpose.
A Yeah, purposefully or not, but, you know, as time went on, you know, and it continued -- and I'm telling you it was months, you know, of this, that he was doing this. They sent him to the doctor, you know, to have tests run and stuff like that, you know, to figure out what was causing him.
Q You eventually determined that this is more likely some sort of medical thing that's going on with him?
A Yeah, because anytime he would drink red – you know, anything with red in it, he would throw up. You know, within a little bit after that, he would be vomiting.

Id, p. 10, 11. Harris testified that Davie was vomiting three or four times a week and that it always happened right after lunch:

I mean, this went on for a while before -- we just got to where we would call them every single day, you know, because, I mean, it turned into at least three, sometimes four times a week that he would throw up because we would always get him after he had just freshly ate lunch, you know.

Id, p. 13, 22. Harris testified that Davie vomited so much they kept a trash can right next to him at his job, as his own vomit bucket:

You know, we always gave him a trash can beside him. You know, that way if he needed to throw up, he – you know, we always told him here's your trash can.

Id, p. 14. All the direct care staff would have been aware of this risk:

Q Would all the direct care staff that had been there for any length of time and spent time with him directly -- would all of them have been aware of this, the vomit risk?
A Yeah.

Id, p. 14. Furthermore, written warnings about Davie's vomit risk were sent out to all staff:

> Q Do you know if there was ever any formal or written or any form of notification provided to all > staff warning them of this issue with David, this vomiting issue with David?
> A Yeah, they sent out e-mails and memos, like we get memos, you know, and e-mails that goes to like my supervisor. When we come in the morning, he would have them laid out on the table, you know, and everybody has to initial it. You know, all the staff that works in that area, you know, we all had to initial at the bottom, you know, that we read, you know, the memo of what it was.
> Q Those were e-mails that would come from supervisors?
> A No, like medical. You know, on something like that, medical. Like Stacy would send out an e-mail, > you know, to all the supervisors, you know, and then the supervisors would make sure that all their staff, you know, read it and then you initialed it at the bottom, you know, letting them know that you read it, so you were aware.
> Q Do you recall there being a memo from Stacy on this issue that we're talking about?
> A Yeah, I believe there was.

Id, p. 23, 24. Harris testified she specifically recalled discussing the vomiting issue with several nurses prior to Davie's death, including Amanda Schmidt, Kelly King, Deborah Noah, and Stacy Weinbrenner. Id, p. 16. The vomiting occurred nearly every day, according to Harris, but was not taken seriously by the nurses:

> [redacted]
> And they would say it was a behavior.

Id, p. 18.

Other BHDC staff members also testified to [redacted]

[redacted] Nurse Amanda Schmitt testified to this:

> And, when David would have a behavior, he would often vomit. That was sometimes the whole of his behavior. Sometimes he would become upset and just vomit and then start to cry. It wasn't always a violent outburst. But he did vomit during times of stress often. And I believe very strongly that that's what happened, that he had a behavior, he was being restrained, and he -- he vomited.

Exhibit 12, Nurse Amanda Schmitt, p. 61. Carrie Johnson-Miller, the Residential Services Manager, also testified that Davie had an issue with vomiting when he got upset during a behavior episode. Exhibit 19, Carrie Johnson-Miller, p. 45. Even Respondent's own expert witness commented on the frequency with which Davie was vomiting when upset:

[redacted]

Dr. Kastner Written Report Pt. 1, p. 21.

B. [redacted]

The analysis for attributing fault must look at how a reasonably careful person of David's maturity and intelligence would act under the circumstances, not how an adult would act. The standard of care for a minor is fixed by "the maturity and capacity of the child, and this is to be determined in each case by the circumstances of that case." Garrison v. St. Louis, I. M. & S. Ry. Co., 92 Ark. 437, 443, 123 S.W. 657, 660 (1909).

A minor is not held to the same standard of care as an adult. "Ordinary care," with respect to a minor, means that degree of care which a reasonably careful minor of his age and intelligence would use under circumstances similar to those shown by the evidence in the case. ARK. MODEL JURY INSTRUCTION 304. In Garrison v. St. Louis, I.M. & S. RY. CO., where a 16-year-old boy known to be of "inferior intelligence" was injured by an oncoming train while trying to drive his wagon across the tracks, the Arkansas Supreme Court made clear that what is contributory negligence for an adult is not the same for a minor:

> The standard for judging the conduct of minor is not the care and prudence that would be exercised by an adult, but only that of one of his age, intelligence, and discretion; and it cannot be said as a matter of law that a minor is guilty of contributory negligence under circumstances that would declare an adult to be guilty of such negligence.

92 Ark. 437, 443 123 S.W. 657, 660 (1909). The Court in Garrison, citing with approval the Supreme Court of Georgia, noted that it is capacity, not necessarily age, that matters:

> Capacity is the main thing. Age is of no significance except as a mark or sign of capacity. The study of these and other like cases will lead to two conclusions: First, that no court can hold that childhood and manhood are bound to observe the same degree of diligence; secondly, that, while the same ordinary care is frequently applied to the diligence exacted by law of a child, there is little propriety in so doing. Due care is always the better and more accurate description. Due care on the part of the boy might fall far short of that of a prudent man.

Id.

Davie's own fault appears to have been improperly analyzed by holding him to the same standard as that of adults, which is not true except in situations where children are engaging in an inherently dangerous activity, like driving a car or operating heavy machinery. His fault must be analyzed by comparing what Davie did with what a child of [redacted] would do under the same circumstances.[10] Therefore, the question is whether it would be negligent for [redacted] to become upset and then move towards an adult in an aggressive manner. And if such an act would indeed be negligence for [redacted], is it of such an extreme degree of negligence as to make that [redacted] forty percent responsible for his own death?

Lastly, the Commission did find in this case that Respondent failed to have a plan in place to manage Davie's behavior, which is true. However, Davie was not in any way responsible for his own behavior plan. Given that, is it still fair to say he is forty percent at fault for his death?

II. LOSS OF LIFE DAMAGES

1. The value placed by the Commission on David Cains' "Loss of Life" damages was too low, relative to the evidence presented and relative to prior valuations by the Commission on claims for "loss of life."

"Loss-of-life" damages are those that would compensate a decedent for the loss of the value that a decedent would have placed on his or her own life. Durham v. Marberry, 356 Ark. 481, 492, 156 S.W.3d 242, 248 (2004). It is an inherently subjective element of damages, to be measured from the point of view of the decedent, to the extent the decedent's point of view on this matter can be proved after his death. Loss-of-life damages are a separate and independent element in addition to all other elements of damage already allowed by law. Id; ARK. CODE ANN. § 16-62-101(b). "Loss-of-life" damages are awarded to compensate the decedent's estate for the destruction of the decedent's capacity to carry on and enjoy life's activities in a way he would have done had he lived. See Durham, at 491, 247. An estate seeking "loss-of-life" damages must present some evidence that the decedent valued his or her life, from which a jury could infer and derive that value and on which it could base an award of damages. One Nat. Bank v. Pope, 372 Ark. 208, 214, 272 S.W.3d 98, 102 (2008). Circumstantial evidence is all that is required. Id, at 214, 103.

[10] Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 24, p. 29: 20-25, p. 30: 1-10 (testified that Davie's mental functioning was likely that of a four-year-old's).

Another component of loss-of-life damages that can potentially be taken into consideration is the decedent's lost earning capacity, but only where damages for the decedent's lost earning capacity is not also awarded to surviving beneficiaries as wrongful death compensation. See Durham, at 491, 247.

Here, Claimant presented substantial direct evidence in addition to circumstantial evidence in support of the fact that Davie's life held great value to him, and that his untimely death deprived him of happy and joyous experiences that, based on substantial witness testimony, we can be reasonably certain he would have experienced had he survived. Davie had [redacted]. Exhibit 14, BHDC Psychological Examiner Mike Alvis, p. 24, p. 29: 20-25, p. 30: 1-10. From his point of view, the things that brought him joy, like Halloween and music, were every bit as meaningful as things like money or a romantic relationship might be to a [redacted] And because "loss of life" damages by their very nature require subjectivity, it is entirely appropriate to analyze the value Davie placed on his own life from a subjective viewpoint relative to his intellectual age – [redacted]

Claimant presented evidence proving Davie experienced incredible joy from those things a typical [redacted] loves, including family, friends, music, food, laughter, and holidays, particularly Halloween and Christmas. Christmas was his favorite; he still believed in Santa Claus and every Christmas Eve he would fall asleep next to the tree in his mother's home waiting for Santa to arrive with his presents.

An award of only $350,000.00 suggests that the value of his life was not analyzed, subjectively, from the point of view of [redacted], but rather from the perspective of the [redacted] and how he might value his life, which is an objective approach. In other words, had Davie been a [redacted], who also happened to live in the Booneville Human Development Center (BHDC) under the same external circumstances, then $350,000.00 might be an appropriate value. But Davie was [redacted] who experienced joy just as intensely from listening to the Monkees or playing with toys or having MacDonald's for lunch as [redacted] might from a romantic encounter or from winning a large sum of money at a casino.

Just last year, in Brown, et al. v. Arkansas Department of Transportation, Claim No. 200809 (2022), this Commission awarded $2,500,000.00 in loss-of-life damages to a young man tragically killed in a car crash: "Additionally, considering the persuasive testimony of the Decedent's family members regarding how the Decedent valued his life, the Claims Commission finds that the damages associated with the Decedent's loss of life are $2,500,000.00." Brown, p. 37.

Like the present matter, the Brown Commission heard evidence that Mr. Brown valued his life. This included testimony from Mr. Brown's mother that her son was well-liked and a good student. Brown, p. 5. Here, Claimant also submitted evidence that Davie was well-liked, not just by his family but by people at the BHDC. For example, one of the facility's nurses testified to this:

> But he was -- he was such a fun guy. He played the tambourine and loved the Monkees. And he had a Mr. Potato Head. That was kind of mine and his thing, is he had this Mr. Potato Head and I'd always tell him I was going to take the eyes from his Mr. Potato Head and put it where the nose goes and the nose where the eyes go; and he would just get like all kinds of excited about it. And he moved it on a top shelf to show me that I couldn't reach it to move his eyes. And he was -- he was a really cool guy. We had a pretty good relationship.

Exhibit 12, Nurse Amanda Schmitt, p. 22.

> Kelly King and I were probably the two nurses that were the closest to David. He -- he'd always say Kelly's a big fat witch; and she's like this little bitty, tiny, skinny thing. And so I taught him to say that Kelly's a big fat witch and Amanda's a pretty, pretty princess. I mean, like we played with him. We had a good relationship with him. And he was -- he was one we were especially close to.

Exhibit 12, Nurse Amanda Schmitt, p. 59 (emphasis added).

Unlike here, the Brown Commission also heard expert testimony evidencing the decedent's lost earning capacity, and the Commission noted that the $2,500,000.00 loss-of-life award, which was, ostensibly, based on persuasive testimony from family members regarding how decedent valued his life, was consistent with that expert's conclusions. Brown, p. 37. Claimant in the present matter, for obvious reasons, did not seek damages related to Davie's lost earning capacity. [That notwithstanding, Claimant did present uncontroverted testimony that Davie worked a few hours most days in the BHDC recycling center tearing books, for which he earned nominal wages. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 50.]

Claimant is not suggesting the Commissioners should be required to forfeit common sense. And Claimant is certainly not suggesting that all deaths caused by the state must be valued identically. Clearly, the Brown decedent's life was very different from Davie's. That young man's earning potential greatly outweighed Davie's, and, objectively speaking, that young man was likely to have enjoyed a fuller life than Davie could have hoped for, at least in terms of what most adults of normal intellectual functioning would value. But the Brown decedent's award of $2,500,000.00 is more than seven times the $350,000.00 awarded Davie. That disparity is extreme, particularly given that this particular element of damages must be analyzed from the subjective point of view of the decedent. It also sends a devastating and potentially dangerous message to Arkansas' intellectually disabled citizens. In Yang, et al. v. Arkansas Department of Emergency Management, Claim No. 16-0496-CC (2020), this Commission included in its Order this statement: "The Claims Commission is the conscience of the State of Arkansas." Yang, p. 3.

No, Davie was not going to ever get married and have children. No, he was never going to earn a high income. No, he was never going to support another person financially. No, he was never going read Dostoyevsky and he was never going to understand quantum physics.

However, for the same reasons, Davie existed largely unburdened by things like pride, ego, greed, lust, depression, existential dread, crises of faith, the nature of his existence, or the inherent terror of an unknowable future that plagues most of us to some degree in our daily lives.

But he absolutely did experience love and joy, and in their purest forms, as perhaps only small children can. We all know that little spark of joy when we turn on our car and our favorite song is playing on the radio. Davie knew that feeling, experienced the joy that comes from that every time he put on his headphones to listen to the Monkees sing "Last Train to Clarksville."

We all know the joy we feel when we see one of the people we love most in the world after an absence. Davie knew that feeling well. He experienced it every single day when he encountered any of the people who he loved and cared about, and there were many, as shown by the evidence. Davie knew laughter. He knew it better than most of us because more things and simpler things made him laugh. We all remember being a kid a Christmas or seeing our own children at Christmas, that pure, unbridled joy on Christmas Eve knowing that when they wake up Santa will have left them something special. Davie experienced Christmas in a way only small children can every year of his life up until his death at 42.

From Davie's [redacted] perspective, subjectively, his life was worth all the money in the world. The following is only a portion of the evidence presented to the Commission in support of how much Davie valued his own life:

> "Throughout his life he always participated in Special Olympics, and actually one of the last years that he was there, it's one of my favorite memories of him, I didn't tell him I was coming, it was at the Booneville High School. And because if I couldn't make it, I didn't want him to be upset. So, I get there and I'm in the stands, and I don't know how he saw me, but in the middle of the field, somehow he saw me and yelled, '"Yeehaw,"' like he was taking a hat off, which he didn't have on. And he said, '"There's my sister, there's my sister."' He yelled it. But so, it was just really funny." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 116.

> "But that particular year is the only time I remember he actually won a race. And I have a picture of that. It's one of my favorite ones, because he came up to me afterwards and he was so proud. And he said, "Look, did you see me, Chrissie, I ran fast as hell." And I mean, he was just -- but like I said, his whole life, he was in his 30s and he – you know, he participated, but he never -- you know, he wasn't really good at it." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 117. "That's probably one of my favorite memories, just because he was so happy and so proud of himself. Because he literally never, I don't think ever, won anything." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 117.

> "David likes his job and takes great pride in working and talking about his work and earning money. David does want to be around his family, including his mother, his sister Chrissie, his half-sister Ashley, his uncle Patrick, and his grandparents. David does not like to be alone; he is very engaging with others and gets along with most of his peers. David wants to have friends and spend time with them and go places with them. (He expressed that even though he liked picking up trash when he lived on the campgrounds, he likes going to the movies with his friends at BHDC.) David likes to have his own possessions around him and he likes to have new and clean clothing. He has been very happy at BHDC and would like to stay here." BHDC Social History, p. 7.

> Davie was a wonderful guy, a wonderful person, and fun to be around. Exhibit 10, Ryann Campos, p. 65.

> Davie was funny and playful. Exhibit 11, Kelly King, p. 6.

But, a lot of times, I remember specifically with him, he'd be listening and dancing and singing to the Monkees -- Exhibit 20, Justin Jobb II, p. 62.

A He just -- he loved music. Everybody that has been around him for five minutes knows he loved the Monkees, because he would listen to it 24/7 every day. That's not even an exaggeration. I'm sure the people at Booneville would tell you that. But, you know, ever since he was a little kid--
Q And how did he come to love the Monkees? Being, you know, born in the late '70s, he was -- the Monkees were around in the '60s. How did he discover the Monkees?
A Me and my brother, when we were kids, we watched Nick At Nite all the time. We didn't-- you know, that's about all we watched. So, I remember me and him, we watched things like I Love Lucy, The Monkees, Leave It To Beaver, those types of shows. And for whatever reason, he just -- he just latched onto the Monkees and the rest is -- you know, he never stopped. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 122-123.

He had Monkees CDs, tapes, vinyl records, DVDs. His two favorite tracks were "Not Your Stepping Stone" and "Last Train to Clarksville." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 123.

And actually, thankfully, I have a few videos of him, he would play tambourine, and he had some maracas I had gotten him from Central America, and I actually have a few videos of him playing those, and one of my friends playing them with him, which he did all the time, you know. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 123.

He loved the Dukes of Hazzard. He had the DVDs and he would watch on repeat, except for the one season when Bo and Luke were replaced by Coy and Vance. He really didn't like that. Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 124.

"Yeah. So, I mean, he loved music, he loved, you know, DVDs, watching TV, he loved food, he loved --really, he loved -- he was very social. He loved making people laugh and being around people. He didn't like being alone, he didn't like silence. He just -- I don't know. He just -- he loved those things, he loved being a part of something, you know. I feel like, you know, being part of - - he had friends. I don't know how to explain it." Exhibit 16, Christine McAuliffe, p. 124-125.

CONCLUSION

This specific harm that resulted in Davie's life was abundantly foreseeable to Respondent. But it was not foreseeable to Davie Cains, [redacted] Given this, it seems harsh to hold Davie forty percent at fault for his death.

Davie valued his own life more than $350,000.00. He loved life, and it was taken away from him from him by Respondent's overwhelmingly negligent actions.

Claimant, for the reasons stated herein, respectfully asks this Honorable Commission to reconsider its findings as they pertain to apportionment of fault and loss-of-life damages.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joshua D. Gillispie
Joshua D. Gillispie
Ark. Bar #2010131
Green & Gillispie Law Firm
1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 facsimile
jdgillispie@greenandgillispie.com

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

The undersigned hereby certifies that a true and correct copy of the foregoing was filed via email with the Arkansas Claims Commission on this 29th day of August, 2023, and service shall be accomplished via email to counsel of record.

/s/__Joshua D. Gillispie___
Joshua D. Gillispie

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: ASCC Pleadings; Abbey Trussell
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Tuesday, July 30, 2024 8:44:00 AM

You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Gotcha. Thanks.

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Tue, Jul 30, 2024 at 7:29 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, the Legislature will receive an unredacted copy. But they also require that I submit a copy with personal contact information, medical records, etc. redacted.
>
> Thanks,
>
> Kathryn
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
> Sent: Monday, July 29, 2024 9:41 PM
> To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
>
> Kathryn-
>
> Okay. What kind of things do you normally redact? I would be fine with no redactions, unless I'm missing something.

Thanks,

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Jul 29, 2024 at 9:11 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, it will take me several weeks to get this claim file ready to go to the Legislature. I am required to submit an unredacted copy and a redacted copy. I will let you and Ms. Trussell review my proposed redactions before I send it over.
>
> We are not under any time constraints because this appeal will not be on the August 19 Claims Review agenda, and we don't have another meeting set yet. I expect there will be one more before the end of the year, though.
>
> Kathryn Irby
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>

Sent: Monday, July 29, 2024 4:09 PM
To: ASCC Pleadings <asccpleadings@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

Dear Commission-

Please accept for filing this Notice of Appeal in McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374.

Best regards,

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Fri, Sep 15, 2023 at 10:17 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Thank you!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Fri, Sep 15, 2023 at 9:10 AM ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Received on 9-11-23.
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>
> Sent: Thursday, September 14, 2023 4:12 PM
> To: ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov>
> Cc: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
> Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
>
> Just making sure the Commission received my Reply filed on 9/11. Typically I get a "received" message back. Thanks!
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700

(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Mon, Sep 11, 2023 at 2:30 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Dear Commission:
>
> Please find Claimant's Reply to Respondent's Response to her Motion for Reconsideration.
>
> Best Regards,
>
> Josh
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
>
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 29, 2023 at 10:57 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Dear Claims Commission:

Please find attached Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration.

Best Regards,

Josh Gillispie

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

From: Joshua Gillispie
To: Kathryn Irby
Cc: ASCC Pleadings; Abbey Trussell
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374
Date: Wednesday, September 25, 2024 1:52:31 PM

> You don't often get email from josh@gillispielawfirm.com. Learn why this is important

Hi Kathryn:

I am writing to find out if there is an update on this claim file being sent to the Legislature. And do you know if the committee has set another meeting for this year yet?

Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Tue, Jul 30, 2024 at 8:43 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com> wrote:

> Gotcha. Thanks.
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
>
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> https://gillispielawfirm.com/
>
> On Tue, Jul 30, 2024 at 7:29 AM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:
>
> > Josh, the Legislature will receive an unredacted copy. But they also require that I submit a copy with personal contact information, medical records, etc. redacted.
> >
> > Thanks,

Kathryn

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Monday, July 29, 2024 9:41 PM
To: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>
Cc: ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

Kathryn-

Okay. What kind of things do you normally redact? I would be fine with no redactions, unless I'm missing something.

Thanks,

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Mon, Jul 29, 2024 at 9:11 PM Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Josh, it will take me several weeks to get this claim file ready to go to the Legislature. I am required to submit an unredacted copy and a redacted copy. I will let you and Ms. Trussell review my proposed redactions before I send it over.
>
> We are not under any time constraints because this appeal will not be on the August 19 Claims Review agenda, and we don't have another meeting set yet. I expect there will be one more before the end of the year, though.
>
> Kathryn Irby

From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@gillispielawfirm.com>
Sent: Monday, July 29, 2024 4:09 PM
To: ASCC Pleadings <asccpleadings@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

Dear Commission-

Please accept for filing this Notice of Appeal in McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374.

Best regards,

Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605

North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax

https://gillispielawfirm.com/

On Fri, Sep 15, 2023 at 10:17 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Thank you!
>
> Joshua D. Gillispie
>
> 1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
> North Little Rock, AR 72114
> (501) 244-0700
> (501) 244-2020 fax
> www.greenandgillispie.com

On Fri, Sep 15, 2023 at 9:10 AM ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov> wrote:

> Received on 9-11-23.
>
> ---
>
> From: Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com>

Sent: Thursday, September 14, 2023 4:12 PM
To: ASCC Pleadings <ASCCPleadings@arkansas.gov>
Cc: Kathryn Irby <Kathryn.Irby@arkansas.gov>; Abbey Trussell <Abbey.Trussell@dhs.arkansas.gov>; Daiquiri Carter <Daiquiri.carter@dhs.arkansas.gov>
Subject: Re: McAuliffe v. DHS, Claim No. 220374

Just making sure the Commission received my Reply filed on 9/11. Typically I get a "received" message back. Thanks!

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Mon, Sep 11, 2023 at 2:30 PM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Dear Commission:
>
> Please find Claimant's Reply to Respondent's Response to her Motion for Reconsideration.
>
> Best Regards,
>
> Josh

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com

On Tue, Aug 29, 2023 at 10:57 AM Joshua Gillispie <josh@greenandgillispie.com> wrote:

> Dear Claims Commission:
>
> Please find attached Claimant's Motion for Reconsideration.
>
> Best Regards,
>
> Josh Gillispie

Joshua D. Gillispie

1 Riverfront Place, Suite 605
North Little Rock, AR 72114
(501) 244-0700
(501) 244-2020 fax
www.greenandgillispie.com