"(e) This section does not apply to:

(1) A prohibited place specifically listed in § 5-73-306(1)—(18);

(2) Property owned or controlled by a person other than the employer that is subject to a valid, unexpired oil, gas, or other mineral lease that contains a provision prohibiting the possession of a handgun on the property; or

(3) Property owned or leased:

(A) By a chemical manufacturer or oil and gas refiner; and

(B) On which the primary business conducted is the manufacture, use, storage, or transportation of hazardous, combustible, or explosive materials.

(f)(1) Except in cases of gross negligence, a public or private employer or the employer's principal, officer, director, employee, or agent is not liable in a civil action for personal injury, death, property damage, or any other damages resulting from or arising out of an occurrence involving a handgun that the public or private employer is required to allow on the public or private employer's property under this section.

(2) The presence of a handgun on a public or private employer's property under this section does not by itself constitute a failure by the public or private employer to provide a safe workplace.

(g) Under this section, a public or private employer or the public or private employer's principal, officer, director, employee, or agent does not have a duty:

(1) To patrol, inspect, or secure:

(A) A parking lot, parking garage, or other parking area the public or private employer provides for employees; or

(B) A privately owned motor vehicle located in a parking lot, parking garage, or other parking area; or

(2) To investigate, confirm, or determine an employee's compliance with laws related to the ownership or possession of a handgun or the transportation and storage of a handgun.

(h) This section does not limit or alter the personal liability of:

(1) A person who causes harm or injury by using a handgun;

(2) A person who aids, assists, or encourages another person to cause harm or injury by using a handgun; or

(3) An employee who transports or stores a handgun on the property of the employee's employer but who fails to comply with the requirements of this section."
