20-77-125. IndependentChoices caregiver drug tests and criminal background checks.

(a) As used in this section, "caregiver" means an individual who has responsibility for the protection, care, or custody of an IndependentChoices Program enrollee as a result of assuming the responsibility by contract or through employment.

(b)(1) A caregiver shall submit to a drug screen that tests for the use of illegal drugs through a program established by the Department of Human Services.

(2) A drug screen under this section shall be administered to:

(A) A caregiver on or after September 1, 2013; and

(B)(i) A random sampling of caregivers on or after September 1, 2013.

(ii) The random sampling shall be designed to ensure that each caregiver is tested for illegal drug use under this section at least one (1) time every five (5) years.

(3)(A) A caregiver who refuses to submit to a drug screen required under this section or who tests positive for the use of illegal drugs in a drug screen required under this section shall be ineligible for employment under the IndependentChoices Program for six (6) months after the date of the refusal or the date of the positive test result.

(B)(i) After the six-month period under subdivision (b)(3)(A) of this section, the caregiver may volunteer to undergo a new test for the use of illegal drugs under this section.

(ii) If the caregiver tests positive for the use of illegal drugs in a voluntary drug screen under this section, the caregiver shall be ineligible for future employment under the IndependentChoices Program.

(c)(1) The Department of Human Services shall require a state and federal criminal background check of a caregiver and of an applicant to become a caregiver by the Identification Bureau of the Department of Arkansas State Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation that conforms to the applicable standards and includes the taking of fingerprints.

(2) A caregiver or an applicant to become a caregiver shall pay for the payment of any fee associated with the criminal records check under this subsection.

(3) Before a criminal background check is performed, a caregiver or an applicant to become a caregiver shall sign a release authorizing the background check.

(4) Upon completion of the criminal background check, the Identification Bureau of the Department of Arkansas State Police shall forward to the Department of Human Services information obtained concerning the caregiver or applicant to become a caregiver that indicates that the caregiver or applicant to become a caregiver has pleaded guilty or nolo contendere to or has been found guilty of a felony or crime involving moral turpitude or dishonesty.

(5) The results of the background check shall be used by the Department of Human Services to determine the suitability of:

(A) An applicant to become a caregiver under the IndependentChoices Program; or

(B) A caregiver for continued employment under the IndependentChoices Program.

(6) A caregiver or applicant to become a caregiver who has pleaded guilty or nolo contendere to or has been found guilty of a felony or crime involving moral turpitude or dishonesty shall not be employed in the IndependentChoices Program.

(7) The criminal background information of a caregiver or applicant to become a caregiver is confidential.

(d)(1) The Department of Human Services shall adopt rules to implement this section.

(2) If necessary, the Department of Human Services shall seek a waiver from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services for approval of the rules adopted under this section."

STATE OF ARKANSAS

MIKE BEEBE

GOVERNOR

February 26, 2013

Dear Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives:

In accordance with Article 6, Section 15 of our Constitution, I write to inform you that today I have vetoed HOUSE BILL NO. 1037. I have done so for several reasons.

First, if it became law in its present form, it would violate the United States Constitution. In Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973), the Supreme Court held that women have a right under the United States Constitution to choose to terminate their pregnancies, and that the Constitution places restraints on government's ability to prohibit or regulate the exercise of that right. In Planned Parenthood v. Casey, 505 U.S. 833 (1992), the Court held that "the essential holding of Roe v. Wade should be retained and once again reaffirmed." The "essential holding" reaffirmed in Casey included "a recognition of the right of the woman to choose to have an abortion before viability and to obtain it without undue interference from the State. Casey, at 846. "Viability marks the earliest point at which the State's interest in fetal life is constitutionally adequate to justify a legislative ban on nontherapeutic abortions." Id. at 860.

Under prevailing case law, "viability" is the stage of fetal development at which, in the judgment of the attending physician, there "is reasonable likelihood of the fetus' sustained survival outside the womb, with or without artificial life support." Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. 379, 388-89 (1979). HOUSE BILL NO. 1037, with certain narrowly-drawn exceptions, purports to prohibit abortions after 20 weeks from the time of fertilization, regardless of fetal viability. Current case law indicates that "viability" occurs somewhere between approximately 23 or 24 weeks. None of the legislative findings recited in the bill address viability, as that term is used in the relevant case law.

It has been suggested that the "essential holding" of Roe, reaffirmed in Casey, was rejected or modified by the Court in Gonzales v. Carhart, 550 U.S. 124 (2007). I do not think that the Gonzales decision did any such thing, especially when Gonzales is viewed in tandem with the Court's earlier decision in Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000). At issue in both Gonzales and Stenberg was the validity of legislation that purported to ban so-called "Partial-Birth" abortions, regardless of whether the procedure was employed before or after viability. Stenberg held that Nebraska's statute was unconstitutional because, among other things, the statutory language prohibited not just a specific, narrowly-defined, rarely-used, late-term abortion procedure, but also banned the most commonly used method for safely performing previability second-trimester abortions. Stenberg, at 945-46. Gonzales arose from a facial challenge to a much more narrowly-drawn federal statute. The Court in Gonzales upheld the federal law only after the Court was satisfied that the statute was sufficiently narrowly drafted to permit, and not prohibit, the use of other safe, commonly-used procedures for performing second-trimester, previability abortions. In context, then, Gonzales simply cannot be read to sanction a legislature's ban, or even a substantial limitation, on a woman's right to choose a previability abortion. Indeed, the Court in Gonzales clearly stated that its decision assumed the principle that "[b]efore viability, a State 'may not prohibit any woman from making the ultimate decision to terminate her pregnancy.'" Gonzales, at 146 (quoting Casey).

In short, because it would impose a ban on a woman's right to choose an elective, nontherapeutic, abortion before viability, HOUSE BILL NO. 1037, if it became law, would squarely contradict Supreme Court precedent. When I was sworn in as Governor I took an oath to preserve, protect, and defend both the Arkansas Constitution and the Constitution of the United States. I take that oath seriously.

Second, the adoption of unconstitutional laws can be very costly to the taxpayers of our State. It has been suggested that outside groups or others might represent the State for free in any litigation challenging the constitutionality of HOUSE BILL NO. 1037, but even if that were to happen, that would only lessen the State's own litigation costs. Lawsuits challenging unconstitutional laws also result in the losing party - in this case, the State - having to pay the costs and attorneys' fees incurred by the litigants who successfully challenge the law. Those costs and fees can be significant. In the last case in which the constitutionality of an Arkansas abortion statute was challenged, Little Rock Family Planning Services v Jegley, the State was ordered to pay the prevailing plaintiffs and their attorneys nearly $119,000 for work in the trial court, and an additional $28,900 for work on the State's unsuccessful appeal. Those fee awards were entered in 1999, and litigation fees and costs have increased extensively since then. The taxpayers' exposure, should HOUSE BILL NO. 1037 become law, will be significantly greater.

While I must therefore veto HOUSE BILL NO. 1037, I wish to express my appreciation to its principal sponsor, Representative Mayberry, for his candor and for his respect for the Governor's role in the legislative process.

Sincerely,

/s/ Mike Beebe
