"SECTION 1. Arkansas Code Title 22, Chapter 9, is amended to add an additional subchapter to read as follows:

Subchapter 8 — Arkansas Buy American Act

22-9-801. Title.

This subchapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Arkansas Buy American Act".

22-9-802. Legislative findings — Policy.

(a) The General Assembly finds that:

(1) There are over one hundred (100) steel mills in the United States owned by different companies that engage in extremely stiff price competition to provide steel for the domestic construction industry;

(2) These United States steel mills operate in compliance with rigorous environmental laws and extensive government regulation and pay wages that are well in excess of steel mills operating outside the United States;

(3) Many steel mills operating outside the United States are heavily subsidized by foreign governments, receive the unfair benefit of currency manipulation, and use price manipulation to dump steel products into United States markets at artificially low prices to undercut fair competition;

(4) The production of iron, steel, and construction material consisting wholly or predominantly of iron or steel provides jobs and family income to many individuals in the state and to millions of persons in the United States;

(5) The taxes paid to the state and its political subdivisions by employers and employees engaged in the production and sale of iron, steel, and construction material consisting wholly or predominantly of iron or steel are a large source of public revenues for the state;

(6) The economy and general welfare of the state and its people and the economy and general welfare of the United States are inseparably linked to the preservation and development of manufacturing industries in this state as well as all the other states of this nation; and

(7) The state's procurement policies should reflect this state's and the nation's principles, ensuring that the products of these companies and the workers who abide by the state's workplace safety and environmental laws and regulations are rewarded with a preferential consideration in government contracting.

(b) It is therefore declared to be the policy of the state that all public officers and public entities should aid and promote the economy of the state and the United States by requiring a preference for the procurement of iron, steel, and construction material consisting wholly or predominantly of iron or steel produced in the United States in all contracts for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or improvement of public buildings and public works.

22-9-803. Definitions.

As used in this subchapter:

(1) "Executive head" means the senior elected or appointed management official of a public entity;

(2) "Manufactured in the United States" means that:

(A) The construction material is assembled or processed into its final form in the United States; and

(B) Substantially all of the iron and steel included in the construction material is produced in the United States regardless of the origin of the elements of the iron or steel or where any metallurgical processes involving the refinement of steel additives occur;

(3) "Predominantly" means more than fifty percent (50%) of the materials subject to this subchapter based on cost;

(4) "Produced in the United States" means that:

(A) The iron and steel is melted and poured in the United States; and

(B) All subsequent processing of the iron and steel takes place in the United States, including without limitation casting, rolling, pickling, oiling, annealing, and coating with value-added materials;

(5)(A) "Public building or public works" means a structure, building, highway, waterway, street, bridge, transit system, municipal utility system, airport, or other betterment, work, or improvement regardless of whether it is of a permanent or temporary nature and whether it is for governmental or proprietary use.

(B) "Public building or public works" includes without limitation a railway, street railway, subway, elevated and monorail passenger rolling stock, passenger and rail rolling stock, self-propelled car, gallery car, locomotive, passenger bus, rail, track, roadbed, guide way, elevated structure, building, school, hospital, station, terminal, dock, shelter, and wire, pole, and other equipment for the electrification of a transit system, carried out directly by a public entity or carried out with funding provided by a public entity to serve the interest of the general public;

(6) "Public entity" means the state, a department, agency, board, and commission of the state, and a political subdivision of the state, including without limitation a city, county, institution of higher education, and school district;

(7) "Substantially all" means at least eighty percent (80%) of the materials subject to this subchapter based on cost; and

(8) “United States” means the United States of America and all territory, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States of America.

22-9-804. Requirement that products used in public buildings or public works be manufactured in the United States — Exceptions — Notice.

(a) Each contract for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or improvement of a public building or public works made by a public entity shall require that construction materials comprised wholly or predominantly of iron or steel, or both, that are used or supplied in the performance of the contract or a subcontract of the contract be manufactured in the United States.

(b) The requirement stated in subsection (a) of this section may be waived if the executive head finds that:

(1) The application of subsection (a) of this section would not be in the best interests of the state because it would not serve the policy of the state under § 22-9-802;

(2) The construction materials comprised wholly or predominantly of iron or steel, or both, are not produced in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available quantities of a satisfactory quality; or

(3) Inclusion of construction materials comprised wholly or predominantly of iron or steel, or both, that are manufactured in the United States will increase the cost of the construction materials comprised wholly or predominantly of iron or steel, or both, by more than twenty-five percent (25%).

(c) If an executive head issues a waiver under subsection (b) of this section, the executive head shall publish a detailed justification for the waiver that:

(1) Summarizes the information available to the executive head concerning the request, including without limitation whether the request is being made under subdivision (b)(1), subdivision (b)(2), or subdivision (b)(3) of this section;

(2) Is published prominently on the official public website of the public entity;

and

(3) Is provided by electronic means to each person or legal entity that has submitted a written or electronic request to the public entity for notice of waiver actions by the executive head within five (5) years before the date of notice.

(d) This section does not apply to the following:

(1) A construction material or manufactured product that does not consist wholly or predominantly of iron or steel, or both; or

(2) A contract for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or improvement of a public building or public works made by a public entity in an amount less than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000).

(e) This section:

(1) Does not apply to the extent it is in conflict with any applicable treaty, law, agreement, or regulation of the United States; and

(2) Shall be applied in a manner consistent with the state’s obligations under any existing international agreement pertaining to government procurement.

22-9-805. Violations — Penalties.

(a) It is a violation of this subchapter if a contractor who is awarded a contract that is subject to the requirements of this subchapter intentionally:

(1) Affixes a label bearing a “Made in America” inscription, or any inscription with the same meaning, to iron, steel, or construction material consisting wholly or predominantly of iron or steel that was:

(A) Used in a project to which this subchapter applies; and

(B) Not manufactured in the United States; or

(2) Misrepresents that the iron, steel, or construction material consisting wholly or predominantly of iron or steel, or both, used in a project to which this subchapter applies was manufactured in the United States.

(b) A contractor does not violate this subchapter if the contractor in good faith:

(1) Relies on a written bid submitted by a subcontractor or supplier certifying that materials included the bid comply with this subchapter; or

(2) Uses the materials specified in the bid in performing the contract.

(c) If a public entity determines that a contractor violated this subchapter under subsection (a) of this section, the public entity may invoke one (1) or more of the following remedies after reasonable notice to the contractor and opportunity for the contractor to have a hearing in accordance with the hearing procedures under the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq., or any other hearing procedures that apply to administrative adjudications by the public entity:

(1) Require the removal and replacement of the unauthorized foreign iron or steel;

(2) Reduce the amount paid on the contract by the cost of the unauthorized foreign iron or steel;

(3) Suspend the contractor for a period not exceeding one (1) year;

(4) Void the contract; and

(5) Pursue any other remedy provided by law.

22-9-806. Promulgation of rules — Authorization — Scope.

(a) The following may each promulgate rules necessary to implement this subchapter with respect to contracts for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or improvement of public buildings or public works that are subject to their respective jurisdictions:

(1) Arkansas State Highway and Transportation Department;

(2) Arkansas State Game and Fish Commission;

(3) Arkansas Teacher Retirement System;

(4) Arkansas Building Authority; and

(5) Division of Public Schools Academic Facilities and Transportation.

(b) The Office of State Procurement may promulgate rules necessary to implement this subchapter with respect to contracts for commodity purchases that are subject to its jurisdiction.

(c) The following may adopt policies and procedures to implement this subchapter with respect to contracts for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, or improvement of public buildings or public works, to the extent practicable, providing substantial uniformity between similar public entities:

(1) Governing boards of public institutions of higher education; and

(2) Other public entities subject to this subchapter."

"(3)(A) School resource officers who are qualified under this subdivision and elect to participate in the system on or after July 1, 2013.

(B) To participate in the system, a school resource officer shall be:

(i) An Arkansas certified law enforcement officer; and

(ii) Employed primarily to provide services at a system employer.

(C) A school resource officer shall not receive retirement credit for the same service or salary in another public retirement system in Arkansas.

(D)(i) A system employer may authorize a school resource officer who is indirectly paid by the system employer to participate as a member of the system by adopting a resolution.

(ii) A resolution adopted by the system employer shall:

(a) Authorize a school resource officer employed by the system employer to participate as a member of the system; and

(b) State the employer's agreement to act as the system employer for the purpose of reporting service, paying contributions to the system on behalf of a school resource officer, and performing all member services as if the school resource officer were directly employed by the system employer.

(iii) A school resource officer paid indirectly by a system employer is not eligible to participate as a system member unless the system employer explicitly authorizes such participation by resolution.

(E)(i) The salary and service used to determine contributions and benefits in the system shall be based on the salary paid to the school resource officer for performing the services of a school resource officer for the system employer.

(ii) If an employer reimburses another public entity for the payment of the school resource officer's salary and salary related costs, the employer receiving the employment services of the school resource officer shall be the system employer for the purpose of system participation and not the direct public employer.

(iii) If a system employer pays all or part of a school resource officer's salary indirectly by reimbursing a law enforcement agency in Arkansas, the system shall treat all salary indirectly paid by the system employer to the school resource officer as if it had been paid by the system employer directly.

(F) If a school resource officer becomes a member of the system and his or her salary is paid indirectly by a system employer, then the only contribution due on the salary shall be the employer contribution payable to the system.

(G) Service as a school resource officer rendered before July 1, 2013, shall not be purchased."

STATE OF ARKANSAS
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
State Capitol
Little Rock 72201

March 4, 2013

Dear Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

In accordance with Article 6, Section 15 of our Constitution, I write to inform you that today I have vetoed Senate Bill 134.

If passed into law, Senate Bill 134 would blatantly violate the United States Constitution. In Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973), the Supreme Court held that women have a right under the United States Constitution to choose to terminate their pregnancies, and that the Constitution places restraints on government's ability to prohibit or regulate the exercise of that right. In Planned Parenthood v. Casey, 505 U.S. 833 (1992), the Court held that "the essential holding of Roe v. Wade should be retained and once again reaffirmed." The "essential holding" reaffirmed in Casey included "a recognition of the right of the woman to choose to have an abortion before viability and to obtain it without undue interference from the State" Casey, at 846.

Under prevailing case law, "viability" is the stage of fetal development at which, in the judgment of the attending physician, there "is reasonable likelihood of the fetus' sustained survival outside the womb, with or without artificial life support." Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. 379, 388-89 (1979). Current case law indicates that "viability" occurs at a gestational age somewhere between approximately 23 or 24 weeks. Senate Bill 134, with certain narrowly-drawn exceptions, would ban abortions after the fetus reaches a gestational age of 12 weeks. The State's interest in protecting fetal life is simply not strong enough at such a point to trump the constitutional rights of the mother. As the Court stated in Casey, "[v]iability marks the earliest point at which the State's interest in fetal life is constitutionally adequate to justify a legislative ban on non-therapeutic abortions." Casey. 505 U.S. at 860.

It has been suggested that the Court's decision in Gonzales v. Carhart, 550 U.S. 124 (2007) cleared the way for states to ban non-therapeutic, previability abortions. Gonzales did no such thing; this is clear when Gonzales is considered in tandem with the Court's earlier decision in Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000). At issue in both Gonzales and Stenberg was the validity of legislation that purported to ban a particular abortion procedure, so-called "Partial-Birth" abortion, regardless of whether the procedure was employed before or after the fetus attained viability. Stenberg held that Nebraska's statute was unconstitutional because the statutory language prohibited not just a specific, narrowly-defined, and rarely-used late-term abortion procedure, but also banned the most commonly used method for safely performing previability second-trimester abortions. Stenberg, at 945-46. Gonzales arose from a facial challenge to a much more narrowly-drawn federal statute. The Court in Gonzales upheld the federal law only after the Court was satisfied that the statutory language was sufficiently precise so that it did not prohibit the use of other safe, commonly-used procedures for performing second-trimester, previability abortions. Gonzales simply cannot be stretched to sanction a legislative ban on a woman's right to choose to terminate her pregnancy after 12 weeks. Indeed, the Court in Gonzales clearly stated that its decision assumed the principle that "[b]efore viability, a State 'may not prohibit any woman from making the ultimate decision to terminate her pregnancy.'" Gonzales, at 146 (quoting Casey).

In short, because it would impose a ban on a woman's right to choose an elective, nontherapeutic abortion well before viability, Senate Bill 134 blatantly contradicts the United States Constitution, as interpreted by the Supreme Court. When I was sworn in as Governor I took an oath to preserve, protect, and defend both the Arkansas Constitution and the Constitution of the United States. I take that oath seriously.

The adoption of blatantly unconstitutional laws can be very costly to the taxpayers of our State. It has been suggested that outside groups might represent the State for free in any litigation challenging the constitutionality of Senate Bill 134, but even if that were to happen, that would only lessen the State's own litigation costs. Lawsuits challenging unconstitutional laws also result in the losing party - in this case, the State - being ordered to pay the costs and attorneys' fees incurred by the litigants who successfully challenge the law. Those costs and fees can be significant. In the last case in which the constitutionality of an Arkansas abortion statute was challenged, Little Rock Family Planning Services v. Jegley, the State was ordered to pay the prevailing plaintiffs and their attorneys nearly $119,000 for work in the trial court, and an additional $28,900 for work on the State's unsuccessful appeal. Those fee awards were entered in 1999, and litigation fees and costs have increased extensively since then. The taxpayers' exposure, should Senate Bill 134 become law, will likely be significantly greater.

Sincerely,

(SIGNED) MIKE BEEBE
Governor
