(1) Composite mortality tables to determine:

- (A) Minimum reserve liabilities;
- (B) Minimum cash surrender values; and
- (C) Amounts of paid-up nonforfeiture benefits;

(2) Smoker and nonsmoker mortality tables to determine the valuation net premiums and additional minimum reserves, if any, required by Arkansas Code § 23-84-110 and use composite mortality tables to determine the:

- (A) Minimum reserve liabilities;
- (B) Minimum cash surrender values; and
- (C) Amounts of paid-up nonforfeiture benefits.

(b) For plans of insurance without separate rates for smokers and nonsmokers, the composite mortality tables shall be used.

(c) For the purpose of determining minimum reserve liabilities and minimum cash surrender values and amounts of paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, the 2001 CSO Mortality Table may, at the option of the company for each plan of insurance, be used in its ultimate or select and ultimate form, subject to the restrictions of 23 CAR § 33-105 and Valuation of Life Insurance Policies, 23 CAR pt. 104, relative to use of the select and ultimate form.

(d)(1) When the 2001 CSO Mortality Table is the minimum reserve standard for any plan for a company, the actuarial opinion in the annual statement filed with the Insurance Commissioner shall be based on an asset adequacy analysis as specified in Subparts 2 – 8 of Actuarial Opinion and Memorandum — Single State, 23 CAR pt. 23.

(a) The 2001 CSO Mortality Table may be used in applying Valuation of Life Insurance Policies, 23 CAR pt. 104, in the following manner, subject to the transition dates for use of the 2001 CSO Mortality Table in 23 CAR § 33-103 (unless otherwise noted, the references in this section are to 23 CAR pt. 104, Valuation of Life Insurance Policies):

(1) Section 104-102(a)(2)(B). The net level reserve premium is based on the ultimate mortality rates in the 2001 CSO Mortality Table;

(2)(A) Section 104-103(3)(A) – (C). All calculations are made using the 2001 CSO Mortality Rate, and, if elected, the optional minimum mortality standard for deficiency reserves stipulated in subdivision (a)(4) of this section.

(B) The value of " $qx+k+t-1$ " is the valuation mortality rate for deficiency reserves in policy year $k+t$, but using the unmodified select mortality rates if modified select mortality rates are used in the computation of deficiency reserves;

(3) Section 104-104(a). The 2001 CSO Mortality Table is the minimum standard for basic reserves;

(4)(A) Section 104-104(b). The 2001 CSO Mortality Table is the minimum standard for deficiency reserves.

(B) If select mortality rates are used, they may be multiplied by X percent for durations in the first segment, subject to the conditions specified in 23 CAR § 104-104(b)(3)(B)(iii)(a) – (i).

(C) In demonstrating compliance with those conditions, the demonstrations may not combine the results of tests that utilize the 1980 CSO Mortality Table with those tests that utilize the 2001 CSO Mortality Table, unless the combination is explicitly required by regulation or necessary to be in compliance with relevant Actuarial Standards of Practice;

(5) Section 104-105(c). The valuation mortality table used in determining the tabular cost of insurance shall be the ultimate mortality rates in the 2001 CSO Mortality Table;

(6) Section 104-105(e)(4). The calculations specified in 23 CAR § 104-105(e) shall use the ultimate mortality rates in the 2001 CSO Mortality Table;

(8) Section 104-105(g)(2). The calculations specified in 23 CAR § 104-105(g) shall use the ultimate mortality rates in the 2001 CSO Mortality Table; and

(9) Section 104-105(a)(1)(B). The one-year valuation premium shall be calculated using the ultimate mortality rates in the 2001 CSO Mortality Table.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to expand the applicability of 23 CAR pt. 104 to include life insurance policies exempted under 23 CAR § 104-102(b).

(2) No change in minimum valuation standards is implied by this subsection.

(b) The company may choose from among the blended tables developed by the American Academy of Actuaries CSO Task Force and adopted by the NAIC in December 2002.

(c) It shall not, in and of itself, be a violation of the Trade Practices Act, Arkansas Code § 23-66-201 et seq., for an insurer to issue the same kind of policy of life insurance on both a sex-distinct and sex-neutral basis.

Authority. Arkansas Code §§ 23-61-108, 23-84-113.
